ADVERTISEMENT.

THIS Supplement to a Digest of the Public General Statutes, contains the acts passed in the Parliament of the United Kingdom, during the Third, Fourth, Fifth, and Sixth years of the Reign of King George the Fourth, and takes up the Statutes from the period where the Digest left off. The Digest and Supplement together, thus present a complete view of the statute law, from Magna Charta, A.D. 1224-5, to the 6 Geo. 4., A.D. 1825, inclusive. A List of Titles and four Chronological Tables are prefixed; viz.

1st, A Chronological Table of the Public General Statutes, from 3 G. 4. A. D. 1822, to 6 G. 4. A. D. 1825, both inclusive, showing which are repealed or expired, and referring to those contained in this Supplement.

2d, A like Table of the Public General Statutes from Magna Charta 9 H. 3. circa, A. D. 1224—5, to 6 G. 4. A. D. 1825. inclusive, which are entirely or in part repealed by statutes passed in the third, fourth, fifth, or sixth years of George IV., or which have expired within that period.

3d, A like Table of acts of the Scotch parliaments repealed by acts passed in the parliament of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland in the third, fourth, fifth, and sixth years of George IV., and contained in this Supplement.

4th, A like Table of acts of Irish parliaments repealed by acts passed in the parliament of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland in the third, fourth, fifth, and sixth years of George IV., and contained in this Supplement.

The plan pursued in this Supplement has been strictly that upon which the Digest was constructed; but a variation has been made in the practical part of it, by printing the titles of the different acts digested together in a larger type. The small capital letters by which these titles were distinguished in the Digest, it was considered, did not render them sufficiently conspicuous in rapidly turning over the leaves, and in consequence one of the purposes with which they were introduced, viz. that of showing at one view how every act had been altered, repealed, or amended by any subsequent act or acts, had not been answered, and some very useful information lost. The method now adopted will, it is hoped, obviate this inconvenience, and give additional facility for research into the numerous and complicated provisions of our statute law.

Every Title contained in the original work, the acts digested under which have been in the least degree affected by any act passed in the sessions comprehended in the Supplement, has been carried into the body of the Supplement or the Index, or both, and the particular repeal, alteration, or amendment there properly noticed; where, therefore, any title in the Digest is not found in the Supplement, it may be for the most part taken for granted, that the statutes consolidated under it remain perfectly untouched.

A reference to the title STATUTES, and the Chronological Tables in this work, will at once show the degree of labour thrown on the compilers, by the sweeping repeals made during the Sessions comprised in it, especially in the last two; a labour greatly enhanced by the uncertain language employed to effect these repeals, and which, in very many instances, where the words, "so much of an act intituled, &c. as relates to," were used, resisted every attempt to discover the extent of the repeal, or the particular sections or parts of sections intended to be annulled. Those repeals which simply affected fiscal regulations in this manner, were not of any particular moment, and the difficulty in that case is therefore the less to be regretted; but when they reached provisions of a more public nature, such as Bankrupts, Juries, Weights and Measures, Transportation, Gaols, and many other important titles, it became absolutely necessary to give these general words a definite operation, in order to point out clearly what parts of the old law were still in force. A great delay was thus unavoidably occasioned in the appearance of this work, and which has protracted its publication so long beyond the close of the sixth session; but it is now submitted to the Profession, with the hope it will be found an useful adjunct to the Digest.

SUPPLEMENT

TO

OF THE

PUBLIC GENERAL STATUTES.

ACCESSORY.

1. For the further and more adequate punishment of accessories before the fact to grand larceny and certain other offences, 3 G. 4. c. 38. s. 2, 3. [See s. 1. MANSLAUGHTER, s. 2. SERVANTS.] [See further Stat. Dig. Index, tit. ACCESSORY.]

2. Whereas children, servants, and others are often induced to commit thefts by the persuasion, instigation, or commands of wicked and evil-disposed persons, who, not being present, aiding, and assisting in the commission of such thefts, frequently escape the punishment which so mischievous an offence demands: it is enacted, That from and after the passing of this act [24th June, 1822], if any person or persons shall counsel, hire, procure, or command any other person or persons to commit any larceny whatsoever of the degree of grand larceny, then and in every such case, if the person or persons so counselling, hiring, procuring, or commanding as aforesaid, shall be convicted of felony, and shall be entitled to the benefit of clergy, and by the laws now in force shall be liable to be fined and imprisoned for any term not exceeding one year only, he, she, or they, instead of being so fined and imprisoned as aforesaid, may at the discretion of the Court by or before which any such offender shall be convicted, be ordered and adjudged to be transported beyond the seas for the term of seven years, or to be imprisoned only, or to be imprisoned and kept to hard labour, in the common gaol, house of correction, or penitentiary house, for any term not exceeding three years, 3 G. 4. c. 38. s. 3.

3. And for the due punishment of accessories before the fact to burglary, robbery, and larceny, in cases where the principal offenders shall not have been discovered, or shall be concealed, or not be amenable to justice: it is enacted, That from and after the passing of this act [24th June, 1822], if any person or persons shall counsel, hire, procure, or command any other person or persons to commit any burglary, robbery, or larceny whatsoever, of the degree of grand larceny, then and in any such case (except where the person or persons actually committing any such felony as aforesaid shall have been actually convicted thereof), the person or persons so counselling, hiring, procuring, or commanding as aforesaid, shall be held and deemed guilty of, and may be prosecuted for a misdemeanor, and being convicted thereof shall be liable to be imprisoned only, or to be imprisoned and kept to hard labour, in the common gaol, house of correction, or penimentary house, for any term not exceeding two years, although the principal felon or felons be concealed or be conveyed away, or be not before convicted of any such felony as aforesaid, and whether he, she, or they, is or are amenable to justice or not, any law or statute to the contrary notwithstanding: Provided that any such offender, after having been prosecuted and convicted under this act, shall not for the same offence, be afterwards punished, or liable to be punished, as an accessory before the fact, [sic] the principal felon or felons shall be afterwards convicted, 3 G. 4. c. 38. s. 4.

ADMIRALTY.

1. To enable two or more of the commissioners for executing the office of Lord High Admiral of the U. K. of Great Britain and Ireland, when the number of such commissioners is less than six, to do certain acts heretofore done by three or more of the same commissioners, 3 G. 4. c. 19.

2. Whereas by divers acts certain powers and authorities are given to, and certain duties imposed upon, the Lord High Admiral of the U. K., or the commissioners for executing such office, or any three or more of them; And whereas (H. M. having been pleased to reduce the number of commissioners from seven to five,) it is expedient that two or more of the said commissioners should be enabled to exercise and execute the powers, authorities, and duties, and to perform and do all things which by any of the said acts might or ought to be exercised, executed, performed, or done by three or more of the same commissioners: it is therefore enacted, That from and after the passing of this act [3d April, 1822], whenever the number of commissioners appointed by H. M. for exercising the said office of lord high admiral is or shall be less than six, it shall and may be lawful for any two or more of the said commissioners, and any two or more of the said commissioners are hereby empowered to exercise and execute all authorities and duties, and to perform and do all acts, matters, and things, which by any act or acts of parliament now in force can, may, or ought to be exercised, executed, performed, or done by three or more of the said commissioners; and all such acts, matters, and things done, performed, and executed by two or more of the said commissioners, when their whole number shall be less than six as aforesaid, shall be as valid, and effectual to all intents and purposes, as if done, performed, and executed by three or more of the said commissioners, 3 G. 4. c. 19.

ALEHOUSES.

1. For amending the laws for regulating the manner of licensing alehouses in that part of the U. K. called England, and for the more effectually preventing disturbances therein, 3 G. 4. c. 77. [To continue in force from 26th July, 1822, for three years, and from thence to the end of the then next session, s. 26.]

2. Whereas the several statutes now in force for regulating the manner of licensing persons to keep alehouses, or to sell ale, beer, and other liquors by retail therein, in that part of the U. K. called England, are found to be defective and insufficient, and it is expedient That the laws concerning such alehouses, inns, and victualling-houses, and the licensing thereof, should be amended, and some further provisions made as to the mode of granting such licences: it is enacted, That from the 26th July, 1822, every person to whom the justices of the peace or magistrates shall grant a licence or authority to keep a common inn, alehouse, or victualling-house, or to sell ale, beer, cyder, perry, or other exciseable liquors by retail within England, shall upon such licence, &c. being granted or issued enter into a recognizance to the king in 30*l.*, with one sufficient surety in 20*l.*, or two sureties in 10*l.* each, in the form prescribed in the schedule to this act annexed, marked A; and in case the person applying for such licence shall be hindered through sickness or infirmity or other reasonable cause to attend in person at the meeting of the same justices or magistrates for granting the said licence, &c. then it shall be lawful for them to grant such licence, &c. upon two sureties entering into such recognizance, each surety in the penalty of 30*l.*, for the performance of the condition of the said recognizance, and which recognizance shall be acknowledged in the presence of the majority, and signed by at least two of the justices, &c. present at any such meeting; and the same with the condition thereof shall be at the next general or quarter sessions at farthest after the granting of such licence, &c., sent or returned to the clerk of the peace, or person acting as such for every county, riding, city, liberty, town corporate, or place in England, wherein such licence, &c. is granted, to be by such clerk of the peace, &c. duly entered or filed amongst the records of the sessions; and that every licence, &c. granted without taking such recognizance, and for every such recognizance taken and not returned as aforesaid, every justice, &c. signing such licence, &c. shall forfeit 3*l.* 6*s.* 8*d.*; and every such licence, &c. to be granted by the justices of peace or magistrates after 26th July, 1822, shall be in the form prescribed in the schedule B: Provided always that no police-officer, patrol, constable, or headborough, shall be a surety for any innkeeper, alehouse-keeper, or victualler, under this act, 3 G. 4. c. 77. s. 1.

S. do and shall keep the true assize in uttering and selling bread and other victuals, beer, ale, and other liquors in his, her, or their house, and shall not fraudulently dilute or adulterate the same, and shall not use, in uttering and selling thereof, any pots or other measures that are not of full size, and shall not wilfully or knowingly permit drunkenness or tippling, nor get drunk in his, her, or their house or other premises; nor knowingly suffer any gaming with cards, draughts, dice, bagatelle, or any other sedentary game, in his, her, or their house, or any of the outhouses, appurtenances, or easements thereto belonging, by journeymen, labourers, servants, or apprentices; nor knowingly introduce, permit, or suffer, any bull, bear, or badger-baiting, cock-fighting, or other such sport or amusement, in any part of his, her, or their premises; nor shall knowingly or designedly, and with a view to harbour and entertain such, permit or suffer men or women of notoriously bad fame, or dissolute girls and boys, to assemble and meet together in his, her, or their house, or any of the premises thereto belonging; nor shall keep open his, her, or their house, nor permit or suffer any drinking or tippling in any part of his, her, or their premises during the usual hours of divine service on Sundays; nor shall keep open his, her, or their house or other premises during late hours of the night or early in the morning, for any other purpose than the reception of travellers, but do keep good rule and order therein according to the purport of a licence granted for selling ale, beer, or other liquors by retail in the said house and premises for one whole year, commencing on the tenth day of October next; then this recognizance to be void, or else to remain in full force.

Schedule (B.) Form of Licence to keep an Alehouse.

At a general meeting of H. M.'s justices of the peace, acting in and for the ——— division in the county of ———, holden at ——— within the said division, on the ——— day of ——— one thousand eight hundred and ———, for the purpose of authorising and empowering persons to keep common inns, alehouses, or victualling-houses, we, being ——— of H. M.'s justices of the peace acting in and for the said division and county, assembled at the said meeting, do hereby authorise and empower ——— at the sign of the ——— in ——— in the division and county aforesaid ——— having produced the certificate required by law to keep a common inn, alehouse, or victualling-house, and to utter and sell in the said house wherein ——— now dwelleth, called or known by the sign of the ——— and in the premises thereunto belonging, and not elsewhere, victuals, and all such exciseable liquors as ——— shall be licensed and empowered to sell, under the authority and permission of any excise licence, which shall be duly granted by the commissioners of excise, or persons to be appointed or employed by them for that purpose; provided that the true assize in bread, beer, ale, cyder, and all other liquors, be duly kept; and that the said ——— do not fraudulently dilute or adulterate the same, or sell the same knowing them to have been fraudulently diluted or adulterated, and do not use, in uttering and selling thereof, any pots or other measures that are not of full size, and do not wilfully or knowingly permit drunkenness or tippling, or get drunk in ——— house, or other premises, nor knowingly suffer any gaming with cards, draughts, dice, bagatelle, or any other sedentary game, in ——— house, or any of the outhouses, appurtenances, or easements thereto belonging, by journeymen, labourers, servants, or apprentices; nor knowingly introduce, permit, or suffer any bull, bear, or badger-baiting, cock-fighting, or other such sport or amusement, in any part of ——— premises; nor shall knowingly and designedly, and with a view to harbour and entertain such, permit or suffer men or women of notoriously bad fame, or dissolute girls and boys, to assemble and meet together in ——— house, or any of the premises thereto belonging; nor shall keep open ——— house, nor permit or suffer any drinking or tippling in any part of ——— premises during the hours of divine service, on Sundays; nor shall keep open ——— house or other premises during late hours of the night or early in the morning, for any other purpose than the reception of travellers, but that good order and rule be maintained and kept therein; the authority and power hereby granted to continue in force for one whole year, from the tenth day of October next, and no longer.

Signed.

3. "And for the better preventing the granting of licences or authorities to unfit and improper persons, to keep alehouses or victualling houses, or to sell ale, beer, or other exciseable liquors by retail, and the occurrence of disorderly conduct in such houses;" it is enacted, That no licence or authority for such purposes shall be granted to any person not thereunto licensed or authorised the year preceding, unless such person shall produce, at the general annual meeting of the justices or magistrates to be held for that purpose, a certificate under the hands of the parson, vicar, or curate, or of the major part of the churchwardens, chapelwardens, and overseers of the poor, and of four reputable and substantial householders and inhabitants, or under the hands of eight respectable and substantial householders and inhabitants of the parish or place where the person applying for such licence or authority shall have last inhabited or dwelt for a space of six months; which certificate shall set forth the number of the house, and the name of the street, or other true description of the house, where such person so dwelt, and also whether he or she was there a housekeeper or an inmate, and whether such person, in such last-mentioned parish or place, kept an alehouse or victualling house, and if so, the sign of such house; and shall also set forth, that such person is of good fame, sober life and conversation, and a fit and proper person to be entrusted with a licence for the purposes aforesaid; and it shall be mentioned in every such licence or authority, to be granted to any person not licensed at the last general licensing day, that such certificate was produced; and in case such certificate, in the form and signed in the manner aforesaid, shall not, on the occasions aforesaid, be produced, or the licence to be granted in such last-mentioned cases shall omit to state that such certificate was so produced, such licence or authority shall be null and void; and every such certificate so required to be produced on such occasions as aforesaid, shall be annexed to the recognizance to be entered into by the person receiving or obtaining such licence or authority as aforesaid, and shall with such recognizance be sent or returned to the clerk of the peace, or person acting as such as aforesaid: Provided, that if any person shall forge or counterfeit any certificate, or write any name on any such certificate, to resemble, imitate, or represent the name of any parson, vicar, or curate, or any churchwarden, chapelwarden, overseer of the poor, or other person directed by this act to sign such certificate, with an intent to deceive the justices of the peace granting or having power to grant such licences or authorities, or shall tender or produce any paper with such counterfeit name or writing thereupon, knowing such name or writing to be counterfeit, with intent to deceive the said justices, or shall take or receive any sum of money for signing or procuring signatures to any such certificate, every person so offending, being thereof lawfully convicted, shall be adjudged to be guilty of a misdemeanour, and shall suffer punishment accordingly, 3 G. 4. c. 77. s. 2.

4. The recognizances in the form, and with the sureties hereby [in s. 1. pl. 2.] required to be entered into on granting licences or authorities to persons to keep alehouses or victualling houses, or to sell ale, beer, or other exciseable liquors by retail, and the certificate in the form and with the signatures hereby [in s. 2. pl. 3.] required to be produced by persons not licensed for those purposes the preceding year, shall also be entered into and produced by persons applying for and obtaining such licences, &c. at any special meeting of the justices to be holden for those purposes, pursuant to the 32 G. 3. c. 59. [where licensed persons die or remove see Stat. Dig. tit. ALEHOUSES, pl. 65—77.] 3 G. 4. c. 77. s. 3. [See 3 G. 4. c. 77. s. 6. pl. 7.]

5. The register or calendar required by law [viz. by 26 G. 2. c. 31. s. 5. Stat. Dig. tit. ALEHOUSES, pl. 50.] to be kept by clerks of the peace of recognizances to be taken and returned by justices of the peace on granting such licences as aforesaid, shall contain the names and places of abode of the several sureties who enter into such recognizances; and as well the entries of the names of such sureties as of the other particulars of such recognizances already required to be registered, shall be entered by the respective clerks of the peace, or other persons acting as such, to whom such recognizances shall be returned; and that for every such recognizance there shall be paid by the clerk of the justices taking such recognizance to the clerks of the peace as their fee for filing or recording the said recognizances, and for making such entry thereof, and of the names of the sureties to be thereby bound, and for making and delivering copies of the said register as by law [26 G. 2. c. 31. s. 5. Stat. Dig. tit. ALEHOUSES, pl. 50.] required, the sum of two shillings, and which shall be paid to the clerks of the said justices by the persons licensed, over and above the fees payable by law to the said justices' clerks; and it shall be lawful for any person on application at all reasonable times to see, inspect, and examine every such register, on payment or tender made by the person requiring the same to such clerks of the peace of the sum of one shilling for every such inspection, 3 G. 4. c. 77. s. 4.

6. From and after the 26th July, 1822, it shall be lawful to and for the clerks to the several justices of the peace, to be assembled at any general annual meeting for the purpose of granting licences or authorities to persons to keep ale-houses, or to sell ale, beer, or other exciseable liquors by retail, in that part of the U. K. called England, and also at any special meeting for the like purposes, to be held pursuant to the directions of the 32 G. 3. c. 59. [Dig. tit. ALEHOUSE, pl. 65.] to ask, demand, and receive of and from every person to whom a licence or authority, for the purposes aforesaid, shall be granted, renewed, or continued, as and for the trouble of such clerks in filling up such licence or authority, and taking and returning the recognizance to be so entered into, the sum of 5s. and no more, over and above the fees directed [by s. 4. pl. 5.] to be paid to the several clerks of the peace, for filing such recognizances; and in case any clerk to such justices, or other person acting as such, shall demand, or take, or receive of or from any person to whom such licence or authority as aforesaid shall hereafter be granted, or renewed, or continued, as and for his fee or reward for the trouble of preparing the same, and taking and returning such recognizance as aforesaid, any further or greater fee, or reward, or recompence, than the said sum of 5s.; every person so offending shall, for every such offence, and on conviction on the oath of one credible witness, forfeit and pay the sum of 5l., to be sued for, recovered, levied, and applied in the same manner as any other pecuniary penalty imposed by this act may be sued for, recovered, levied, and applied, 3 G. 4. c. 77. s. 5.

7. From the 26th July, 1822, if any person duly licensed to keep an alehouse or victualling house, or to sell ale, beer, or other exciseable liquors by retail, in any house within that part of the U. K. called England, shall die before the expiration of such licence, or if any person so licensed, or the executors, administrators, or assigns of such person dying so licensed shall remove from or yield up the possession of such house, in which such ale, beer, or other liquors shall by virtue of such licence be sold, and shall assign such licence, or in case any such house shall become empty or unoccupied, the late occupier whereof was duly licensed at the last general meeting previous to the time such house became empty, &c., it shall be lawful for two or more of H. M.'s justices of peace, or persons acting as such for the county, riding, city, liberty, town corporate, or place, at a special day of meeting to be holden within and for the same division or place in which the house shall be situate, to grant a licence or authority to the executors, &c. of the person so dying who shall be possessed of the said house, or to any new tenant or occupier upon any such removal, or upon the house becoming unoccupied as aforesaid, to open and continue open such house as an alehouse, &c. or to sell ale, beer, or other liquors by retail, as aforesaid, therein, till 10th October then next ensuing, so as the person applying for such licence, &c. shall produce such certificate, and enter into such recognizance with such surety as hereinbefore [in s. 1, 2. pl. 2, 3.] directed; and every such recognizance to be taken and entered into at such special day of meeting, and every such certificate so to be produced, shall be returned to the respective clerks of the peace in the same manner as the recognizances and certificates to be taken and produced at the said general annual meetings of the said justices are directed to be returned, 3 G. 4. c. 77. s. 6. [See 32 G. 3. c. 59. s. 1. Dig. tit. ALEHOUSE, pl. 65.]

8. From the 26th July, 1822, all general annual meetings of the justices or magistrates, for the purpose of granting licences to sell ale, beer, and other exciseable liquors by retail, as well in cities and towns corporate as in all other places within that part of the U. K. called England, shall be held in the month of September in each and every year; any local custom or usage to the contrary thereof in any wise notwithstanding, 3 G. 4. c. 77. s. 7.

9. Provided that all persons who hold licences to sell ale, beer, and other liquors by retail, which would expire at a different period of the year from that at which they will expire after the passing of this act, shall be allowed in the payment of their duties, upon the first renewal of their licences under this act, for so much of their current year as shall not have then expired, 3 G. 4. c. 77. s. 8.

10. The 26 G. 2. c. 31. s. 7. [Dig. tit. ALEHOUSES, pl. 52.] so far as relates to forfeitures of the recognizance of any person licensed to keep a common alehouse, or victualling house, or to sell ale, beer, or other exciseable liquors by retail, and the subsequent disability of such party on such adjudication to hold a licence for three years, shall be repealed, and so much of 1 J. 1. c. 9. as relates to penalties and punishments of innkeepers, victuallers, and alehouse-keepers for the offences therein mentioned [viz. s. 2, 3, 4. 6. Dig. tit. ALEHOUSES, pl. 15—15. 17.] and also so much of 7 J. 1. c. 10. [in toto, see tit. id. pl. 18.] and 21 J. 1. c. 7. s. 4. as disables persons to keep an alehouse for three years in the cases therein mentioned [see tit. id. pl. 44.] and so much of 1 Car. 1. c. 4. as relates to the penalty on alehouse-keepers, and victuallers, therein mentioned [viz. s. 1. see tit. id. pl. 38.] and also so much of 30 G. 2. c. 24. as relates to the penalty on persons licensed to sell any sorts of liquors in the cases therein mentioned [s. 14, 15. tit. GAMES AND GAMING, pl. 38, 39.] shall be repealed; and from the 26th July, 1822, every licensed person selling ale, beer, or other exciseable liquors by retail, in that part of the U. K. called England, who shall be lawfully convicted of any offence against the condition of any subsisting recognizance entered into by such licensed person, or against the tenor of any licence granted and now subsisting, or hereafter to be granted, or against the condition of the recognizance by this act [s. 1. pl. 2.] required to be entered into by such licensed person, or against the tenor of the licence to be granted by virtue of this act, shall for every such offence forfeit and undergo the several penalties and punishments and disabilities hereinafter mentioned and provided, instead of the several pecuniary and other punishments and disabilities which they were subject to before the passing of this act, viz. for the first offence a sum not exceeding 5l. with costs and expences of convicting the offenders; and in case the said penalty, with such costs, &c. shall not be paid within fourteen days next after such conviction, then the offender shall suffer imprisonment for one month in the common gaol or house of correction for the county, riding, city, liberty, town corporate, or place, where conviction shall take place, unless the penalty with the costs of conviction and of executing the same be sooner paid; and for the second offence a sum not exceeding 10l. with like costs, &c., and in case the same is not paid within seven days next after such conviction with like power of imprisonment in the common gaol or house of correction for two calendar months unless the penalty, with costs, &c. of conviction, and executing same be sooner paid; and for the third offence against the tenor of such licence or recognizance, it shall be lawful for one justice of peace of any county, riding, &c. wherein such licence shall be granted, and it is hereby required of him on complaint or information on oath that such licensed person hath committed such third offence, to issue a summons under his hand and seal, requiring such person so complained of or informed against for such last-mentioned offence, to appear at the next general or quarter sessions of the peace for the county, riding, &c. wherein the person so complained of or informed against shall reside, then and there to answer to the matter of such complaint and information, and also to bind the person or persons who shall make such complaint or information, or any other person or persons, in a recognizance to appear at such general or quarter session, and give evidence against such person so complained of or informed against; and the justices of peace in their general or quarter sessions shall have power to direct the jury which shall attend at such sessions for the trial of traverses, or some other jury of twelve honest and substantial men, to be then and there impannelled by the sheriff, bailiff, or other chief officer, without fee or reward, to enquire of the misdemeanor charged in the said last-mentioned complaint or information; and if such jury shall find that the person so complained of or informed against hath committed any act against the tenor of the said recognizance, such act being specified in the said complaint or information, and such person so complained of or informed against having been twice previously convicted for offences against the tenor of the said licence and recognizance, it shall and may be lawful for the Court at such general or quarter sessions to adjudge such person guilty of a third offence against the tenor of and a breach of the said recognizance, which verdict and adjudication shall be final to all intents and purposes; and thereupon the said justices shall have power and authority to punish the party so to be convicted by fine, not exceeding the sum of 100*l.*, or at the discretion of the said Court to declare the said recognizance so entered into by the said offender to be forfeited, or immediately to adjudge the licence or authority granted to such offender to be forfeited and void; and on such last-mentioned adjudication on such verdict, such licence shall from thenceforth be void accordingly, and every licence then held by such offender to sell spirituous liquors, cyder, perry, or British sweets, shall thereupon also be void; and the said person, the condition of whose recognizance shall be so adjudged to be broken and forfeited, shall from and after such last-mentioned adjudication be utterly disabled to sell ale, beer, cyder, perry, spirituous liquors, or strong waters, for the space of three years, to be computed from the time of the offence committed for which such adjudication shall be pronounced; and any licence or licences granted or to be granted to such person during such term, to be computed as aforesaid, shall be void and of none effect; provided, that the said justices may, at the request of the prosecutor or party so complained of or informed against, or either of his or her sureties, and upon sufficient cause shewn, adjourn the hearing and trial of the said complaint or information to the then next general or quarter sessions of the peace, when the same shall be finally determined: Provided, that no recognizance under this act shall be declared to be forfeited, unless upon being directed so to be by the said Court of general or quarter sessions, upon such third conviction as aforesaid; and provided also, that if such licensed person or persons so complained of or informed against for such last-mentioned offence, shall not appear at the next general or quarter sessions of the peace pursuant to the summons, it shall be lawful for the justices in their general or quarter sessions assembled, on proof of the service of such summons, to enquire into the matter alleged, and on proof thereof to proceed against the person or persons so summoned and not appearing, in the same manner as if such person or persons had appeared pursuant to his, her, or their recognizance, 3 G. 4. c. 77. s. 9.

11. Provided, that on every such enquiry so directed to be made before a jury as aforesaid, the production of the recognizance entered into by the party complained against, or by his sureties, and filed with the clerk of the peace or person acting as such, shall be sufficient evidence of the fact of such party so complained against being a licensed victualler: Provided that if the jury to be impannelled to try the matter of such complaint or information shall, on such trial, find the party so complained of or informed against not guilty of the offence so laid to his or her charge, or if on the verdict of guilty by such jury the Court shall adjudge the offender to be punished by fine, or by declaring the recognizance to be forfeited, instead of vacating the licence of such offender as aforesaid, the party so holding or possessing such licence shall nevertheless, after such adjudication of not guilty, or punishment by fine on a verdict of guilty, be liable to the same punishment and disability as any other licensed victualler who shall have been twice convicted of offences against the condition of his or her recognizance, on any subsequent complaint or information and enquiry thereon at such court of sessions, for any offence in breach of such recognizance and licence. 3 G. 4. c. 77. s. 10.

12. In all cases where complaint or information shall be made against any person so licensed as aforesaid for a third offence against the tenor of his or her recognizance, the justices of the peace before whom such complaint or information shall be made, shall if they shall deem such offence to amount to a breach of such recognizance, and they are hereby required, to order the subsequent proceedings at the sessions to obtain an adjudication on such complaint or information to be carried on by the clerk, or the person acting as such, to the general annual meetings of the justices for licensing alehouses and victualling-houses for the division or place where such house shall be situated; and such clerk is hereby authorised and required to conduct such prosecution accordingly; and the expences attending such prosecution shall and they are hereby directed to be borne and defrayed out of the rates made and levied, or to be made and levied, for the maintenance of the poor of the parish or place where such offence shall be committed, 3 G. 4. c. 77. s. 11.

13. It shall and may be lawful to and for two justices of the peace for the time being of the county or place where any of the offences against this act, for the commission of which pecuniary penalties are imposed, shall be committed, to hear and determine the same offences in a summary way, which same justices are hereby authorized and required upon any information exhibited or complaint made in that behalf to or before them, to summon the party or parties accused, and also the witnesses on either side, (if they shall be required to summon any such witnesses,) and upon the appearance, or contempt of the party or parties accused, by not appearing, to proceed to examine and hear the matter in a summary way, and also to examine such witnesses upon oath as shall be produced therein (which oath the said justices are hereby empowered to give and administer), and to give their judgment thereon; and in case they shall convict the party or parties so accused or complained against of the offence laid to his, her, or their charge, and such party or parties so convicted shall refuse or neglect to pay the penalty or penalties for which he, she, or they shall stand convicted within the time herein-before [in s. 9. pl. 10.] mentioned for that purpose, together with the costs of such conviction or convictions, to be assessed, settled, and ascertained as aforesaid [in s. 9. pl. 10.], that then and in every such case it shall be lawful for such justices, and they are hereby authorized and required to issue their warrant or warrants under their hands and seals for the apprehending and committing to the common gaol or house of correction as aforesaid every such offender, for such time and in such manner as the nature of the offence shall require, according to the provisions [in s. 9. pl. 10.] aforesaid, and the true intent and meaning of this act, 3 G. 4. c. 77. s. 12.

14. If any person shall be summoned as a witness to give evidence before any such justices of the peace touching any of the matters aforesaid, either on the part of the prosecutor or of the person accused, and shall neglect or refuse to appear at the time and place to be for that purpose appointed, without a reasonable excuse for such his, her, or their neglect or refusal, to be allowed of by such justices of the peace, or appearing shall refuse to be examined on oath and give evidence before such justices before whom the prosecution shall be depending, that then every such person shall forfeit for every such offence the sum of 40*s.*, to be levied and paid in such manner and by such means as are herein-before directed as to other pecuniary penalties, 3 G. 4. c. 77. s. 13.

15. If any person or persons shall think himself, herself, or themselves aggrieved by the judgment or conviction of any justices of the peace for any of the offences aforesaid, for the commission of which a pecuniary penalty is annexed, and shall give security to the satisfaction of such justices of the peace for the payment of the penalty, costs, and expenses to be expressed in the said conviction, within twenty-four hours after the same shall be made, that then and in every such case after such security given, and not otherwise, it shall be lawful for such offender or offenders to appeal from and against such conviction to the justices of the peace assembled at the next general or quarter sessions of the peace to be held for such county, riding, division, liberty, city, town, or place, unless such sessions of the peace shall be held within six days or less next after such conviction shall be so had or made, and in that case to the justices of the peace to be assembled at the next sessions after such first-mentioned sessions, and not afterwards; and that the justices of the peace assembled at such sessions shall thereupon proceed to hear and determine the matter of every such appeal, and their judgment thereon shall be final and conclusive to all intents and purposes whatsoever; and the justices of the peace so assembled at such sessions are hereby authorized and required to award such costs as to them shall appear just and reasonable to be paid by either party, not exceeding in the whole the sum of 5*l.* on any one appeal, 3 G. 4. c. 77. s. 14.

16. In order to prevent frivolous and vexatious appeals, it is enacted, that a conviction in the form or to the effect following, mutatis mutandis, (as the case shall happen to be), shall be good and effectual to all intents and purposes whatsoever, without stating the case, or the facts or evidence in any more particular manner; (that is to say),

Middlesex. } Be it remembered, That on this _____ day of _____ in the year _____ A. B. of _____ was duly convicted before us, C. D. and E. F., two of his Majesty's justices of the peace for the county or city of _____ of an offence against the condition of a recognizance entered into by the said A. B. on _____ obtaining a licence to sell ale, beer, or other exciseable liquors by retail, whereby he, she, or they, has or have forfeited the sum of _____ this being the first [or, second offence, as the case may happen to be] besides the costs and expences of this conviction, which costs and expences we, the said justices of the peace, do hereby ascertain and assess at the sum of _____ pursuant to the statute in such case made and provided. Given under our hands and seals, the day and year above written. 3 G. 4. c. 77. s. 15.

17. That on every such conviction so to be had or made as aforesaid, the justices of the peace before whom the same shall be made, shall return the same to the next quarter sessions of the peace to be holden for such county, riding, division, liberty, city, town corporate, or place, and the record of such conviction shall, unless the same shall be afterwards quashed on appeal as herein-before directed, be evidence against the party thereby convicted in any prosecution to be instituted against him, or her, or them, for a third or other offence, in the nature of a third offence, constituting or to constitute a breach of the condition of his, her, or their recognizance, entered into on obtaining a licence as herein-before directed; and the several clerks of the peace to whom such convictions shall be returned, shall immediately on such return make, or cause to be made, a memorandum or entry of such conviction in the calendar or register to be kept by them, of the names and places of abode, of the several persons so licensed as aforesaid; and shall in such entry state whether such conviction be the first or second or other subsequent conviction of the offending party, 3 G. 4. c. 77. s. 16.

18. And after the 10th October, 1823, no licence or authority shall be granted to any person whatever in that part of the U. K. called England, by the justices of the peace, or persons acting as such, to retail ale, beer, or other exciseable liquors, in any house or place which shall not have been used for such purpose or purposes by virtue of a licence which shall have been granted at a preceding general annual meeting of the justices, unless the person intending to apply for such licence or authority shall give notice in writing to the clerk to the justices at such general meetings, three calendar months prior to the general annual meeting of the justices of the peace for granting licences for the place in which the house shall be situated, for which such licence shall be applied for, and shall affix or cause to be affixed three copies of such notice, written in a fair and legible hand, on the principal door or most conspicuous part of the house for which such licence is intended to be applied for, and on the door of the church of the parish in which such house shall be situated, on three several days within the months of May or June, between the hours of ten of the clock in the forenoon and of four of the clock in the afternoon, and between each of which days of affixing such notices the space of seven days shall elapse; which notice, and the copies thereof so to be affixed, shall be signed by the party interested in such house, and intending to make such application as aforesaid, or his, her, or their agent, thereunto authorised; and every such notice shall state and set forth the situation of the said house in a true and particular manner, together with the rate of building thereof, where any such rate of building exists, or is prescribed, and the name, place of abode, and description of the party so applying, and also the name and place of abode of the person proposed to be licensed therein; and every licence to be granted to sell ale, beer, or other liquors by retail, in such new house or other place, not having been used for any of the purposes aforesaid by virtue of a licence granted the preceding year, without such previous notice having been given as aforesaid, shall be void to all intents and purposes. 3 G. 4. c. 77. s. 17.

19. And whereas it is expedient that persons empowered to grant licences by virtue of this act should not be swayed by interest in the execution of such powers; be it therefore enacted, That no justice of the peace or magistrate in any county, riding, city, liberty, town corporate, or place, in that part of the U. K. called England, who is a brewer, maltster, distiller, or dealer in or retailer of ale, beer, or other exciseable liquors, or is concerned in partnership with any person as a brewer, maltster, distiller, or dealer in or retailer of ale, beer, or other exciseable liquors, or shall be the manager or agent of or for any house, licensed or about to be licensed for any of the purposes aforesaid, at any of the time or times when any of the powers of this act are to be executed, shall act in any of the meetings for granting of any licence or licences, authority or authorities, or shall convict or join in any conviction, or in the determination of any application for a licence or authority to a person to keep any house not before licensed, or in the determination of any appeal directed by this act; and every justice of the peace or magistrate who shall knowingly or wilfully offend in any of the premises, shall for every such offence forfeit and pay the sum of 100*l.*, to be recovered by any person who will sue for the same, within six calendar months after such offence committed, by action of debt or on the case, or by bill, suit, or information, in any of his majesty's courts of record, wherein no essoign, &c. and only one imparlance shall be allowed; which said penalty of 100*l.* shall be paid, one moiety thereof to the person who sues for the same, and the other to the king, 3 G. 4. c. 77. s. 18.

20. From and after the 10th day of October, 1823, all and every person and persons using and exercising, or that hereafter shall use and exercise the trade or business of a licensed victualler or alehousekeeper, or who shall sell ale, beer, or other exciseable liquors by retail, by virtue of any licence or authority, already granted or hereafter to be granted by the justices of the peace in that part of the U. K. called England, for so long as he or they shall use and exercise the said trade or business, or shall hold such licence or authority, and no longer, shall at all times hereafter be disqualified from serving the office of constable, headborough, police-officer, or patrol: and if at any time hereafter any such person or persons using the said trade or business, or holding and using such licence or authority shall be chosen or elected into the office of constable or headborough, that then such person or persons producing such licence or authority, duly issued pursuant to the provisions of this act, or of any other act, law, or charter now in force, to the person or persons by whom he shall be so elected or appointed, or by or before whom he shall be summoned, returned, or required to serve or hold the said office of constable, shall be absolutely discharged from the same: and such nomination, election, return, or appointment, shall be utterly void and of none effect, nor shall any such person using or exercising the said trade or business of a licensed victualler, or to whom any such licence or authority shall be granted for the purposes aforesaid, while he shall so exercise the said trade, or hold and use such licence or authority, take upon himself, or serve, or execute the office of deputy to any constable already chosen, or hereafter to be chosen and elected to that office, within that part of the U. K. called England, on pain of forfeiting, for every act to be done, committed, or executed by him as or in the character of deputy to any such constable as aforesaid, the sum of 10*l.*, to be recovered in manner hereinbefore directed [in s. 12. pl. 13.] 3 G. 4. c. 77. s. 19.

21. From and after the 10th October, 1822, all persons keeping common inns, alehouses, or victualling houses, and retailing ale and beer, shall sell the same in and from their houses by a full ale quart, pint, or half-pint, made of pewter, sized to the standard, and stamped or marked to be of due size according to the standard, either from the exchequer or from some city, town corporate, borough, or market town, where an ale quart, pint, or half-pint, made from the said standard, shall be kept for that purpose; and shall not retail any ale or beer in any other vessels than such stamped pewter ale quarts, pints, and half-pints, unless such ale or beer shall have been first measured in and by such stamped pewter ale quart, pint, or half-pint, in the presence of the guest or customer purchasing the same, under pain of forfeiting for every offence a sum not exceeding 40*s.* (together with the costs of conviction), to be recovered within 30 days next after the committing of such offence, before any two justices of the peace acting for the county or place in which such offence shall have been committed, the one half to be paid to the person who shall prosecute or sue for the same, and the other half to the poor of the parish or place where such offence shall have been committed; and in case of the non-payment thereof, they shall cause the same to be levied upon goods and chattels of the offender, by warrant of distress under their hands and seals, 3 G. 4. c. 77. s. 20. [See 11 & 12 W. 3. c. 15. 12 & 13 W. 3. c. 11. s. 19. Stat. Dig. tit. BEER, & pl. 18. and post, tit. WEIGHTS, &c.]

22. From the 26th July, 1822, if any brewer or wholesale dealer in ale or beer, in that part of the U. K. called England, shall sell and deliver to any innkeeper, alehouse-keeper, victualler, or other person whomsoever, any ale or beer, in barrels, casks, or other vessels which shall not be able to contain the full quantity of ale or beer, for which the said brewer or wholesale dealer in ale or beer shall charge the purchaser thereof, such brewer or wholesale dealer in ale or beer, shall forfeit and pay a sum not exceeding 5*l.* for every such barrel, cask, or other vessel so deficient in size as aforesaid, together with the costs of conviction, to be recovered by information before one justice of the peace, within 30 days next after the making of such charge, who, in case of the non-payment thereof, shall cause the same to be levied upon the goods and chattels of the party so offending, 3 G. 4. c. 77. s. 21. [See 31 El. c. 8. Dig. tit. BEER, pl. 8. 23 H. 8. c. 4. Dig. tit. COOPER, pl. 11. &c. and post, tit. WEIGHTS, &c. 5 G. 4. c. 74. s. 23.]

23. All fines, penalties, and forfeitures imposed by this act, and for which no other means for recovering thereof are hereby provided, may be sued for and recovered by action of debt, bill, plaint, or information, in any of H. M.'s courts of record at Westminster, and one moiety of all and every fine, penalty, or forfeiture by this act imposed, and not expressly directed to be otherwise applied, shall be to H. M. and the other to him or them who shall inform, discover, or sue for the same, 3 G. 4. c. 77. s. 22.

24. Nothing herein contained, shall extend to alter the time of granting licences for keeping common inns or alehouses in the city of London, 3 G. 4. c. 77. s. 23.

25. Nothing in this act contained is intended to repeal any former act of Parliament made in this behalf except only so far as the same or any of the provisos and enactments thereof have been expressly repealed, altered and amended by this act, 3 G. 4. c. 77. s. 24.

26. Nothing in this act shall extend to alter or affect any of the rights or privileges of the Universities of Oxford or Cambridge, or the powers of the chancellors or vice-chancellors of the same as by law possessed under the respective charters of the said universities, 3 G. 4. c. 77. s. 25.

ALIENS.

STATUTES expired.

1. To prevent aliens until 25th March, 1819, from becoming naturalised or being made or becoming denizens, except in certain cases, 58 G. 3. c. 97. [CON. 60 G. 3. c. 12. 1 G. 4. c. 18. and finally till 25th March, 1823, by 3 G. 4. c. 15. now EXP. See Stat. Dig. tit. ALIENS, pl. 71.]

STATUTES in force.

2. To continue for two years the 56 G. 3. c. 86. [Stat. Dig. tit. ALIENS, pl. 47.] for establishing regulations respecting aliens arriving in or resident in this kingdom, in certain cases. 3 G. 4. c. 97. CON. and AMD. 5 G. 4. c. 37.

3. The 56 G. 3. c. 86. as continued by 58 G. 3. c. 96. and 1 G. 4. c. 105. further continued for two years, 3 G. 4. c. 97. and again further continued for two years from the expiration of 3 G. 4. c. 97. by 5 G. 4. c. 37. s. 1.

4. Nothing in 56 G. 3. c. 86. or this act, shall extend to any alien who has been continually residing in this kingdom for a period of seven years, 3 G. 4. c. 37. s. 2.

ANNUITIES (LIFE).

1. To explain 53 G. 3. c. 141. respecting the enrolment of the memorials of grants of annuities, 5 G. 4. c. 92. [Stat. Dig. tit. ANNUITY, pl. 10.]

2. Reciting 53 G. 3. c. 141. s. 2. [Dig. tit. ANNUITY, pl. 11.] and that doubts were entertained whether the addition of the witnesses was not also necessary after their names in memorials enrolled pursuant to the said act, it enacts That by the 53 G. 3. c. 141. no further or other description of the subscribing witness or witnesses, to any deed, bond, instrument or other assurance whereby any annuity or rent-charge is or may be granted, is required in the memorial thereof, besides the names of all such witnesses; and so the said act shall be deemed, construed, and taken, 3 G. 4. c. 92. s. 1.

3. And whereas doubts have also arisen whether under 53 G. 3. c. 141. the omission to enrol a memorial of any one of the assurances for securing any annuity or rent-charge, does not vitiate the whole transaction, be it enacted, that every deed, bond, instrument or other assurance granting any annuity or rent-charge, and of which a memorial shall have been or shall be duly enrolled pursuant to the said act, notwithstanding the omission to enrol any other deed, &c. shall be valid and effectual according to the intent, meaning, and true effect thereof, notwithstanding a memorial of any other deed, &c. for securing the same annuity shall not have been enrolled pursuant to the said act, 3 G. 4. c. 92. s. 2.

4. Provided nothing herein shall extend to give any other force or validity to any deed, &c. of which a memorial has been enrolled, than such deed, &c. would have had, if any deed, &c. for securing the same annuity of which a memorial has not been enrolled, had never been executed, 3 G. 4. c. 92. s. 3.

5. Provided this act shall not extend to revive or give effect to any deed, &c. whereby any annuity or rent-charge hath been already granted, so far as the same hath been adjudged, declared, treated or deemed void by any judgment, decree, action, suit or proceeding at law or in equity, or by any acts or deeds of the parties thereto, or by any other legal or equitable means whatsoever; nor shall this act affect any suit or proceeding at law or in equity commenced on or before 31st May, 1822, and now depending, on the ground of an alleged defect in the memorial thereof in not describing the witnesses otherwise than by their names for avoiding any such deed, &c. 3 G. 4. c. 92. s. 4.

APPRENTICES.

1. To increase the power of magistrates in cases of apprenticeships, 4 G. 4. c. 29.

2. Reciting that by 20 G. 2. c. 19. s. 3. [Stat. Dig. tit. APPRENTICE, pl. 14.] magistrates had certain powers in cases of poor apprentices and of other apprentices upon whose binding no more than 5*l.* was given, and that by 3 G. 3. c. 55. [Stat. Dig. tit. JUSTICES OF PEACE, pl. 127.] certain powers are given to justices of the peace, in case of apprentices put out by the parish, or upon whose binding no greater sum than 10*l.*

was given, on complaints of ill-usage by their masters or mistresses, and that it was expedient to extend the said acts to apprentices upon whose binding a larger sum than 5*l.* or 10*l.* was paid, it enacts That from and after 1st August, 1823, the provisions of the said acts so far as they relate to apprentices, shall be deemed to extend to all apprentices upon whose binding out no larger sum than 25*l.* was or shall be paid, 4 G. 4. c. 29. s. 1.

3. From 1st August, 1823, it shall be lawful for two or more of H. M.'s justices of peace, in any case where they shall direct any apprentice or apprentices to be discharged under the said acts, or this act, to take into consideration the circumstances under which such apprentice was so discharged, and to make order upon the master or mistress of such apprentice to refund all or part of the premium paid upon the binding out of such apprentice, as such justices shall think fit; and in case any sum of money so ordered to be refunded shall be neglected to be paid to the person directed in any such order to receive the same, it shall be lawful for two justices in petty sessions, by warrant under their hands and seals, to levy the same on the goods and chattels of such master or mistress, with the costs of such distress, rendering the overplus to such master or mistress upon demand; and in case there shall not be sufficient goods whereon to levy the same, such justices may commit such offender to the house of correction for not exceeding two months, unless the sum ordered to be refunded with all costs is sooner paid, 4 G. 4. c. 29. s. 2.

4. The recited acts and all the powers and provisions thereof (except such parts are hereby altered or repealed), shall be as good, valid, and effectual for carrying this act in execution, as if here repeated, 4 G. 4. c. 29. s. 3.

5. To enlarge the powers of justices in determining complaints between masters and apprentices, 4 G. 4. c. 34. s. 1. 2. 6. [See the rest of this act, s. 3. 4. 5. tit. LABOURERS.]

6. Reciting the title of 20 G. 2. c. 19. [Dig. tit. APPRENTICES, pl. 14. tit. LABOURERS, pl. 24.] 6 G. 3. c. 25. [tits. id. pl. 20—23. pl. 17, 18.] and 4 G. 4. c. 29. and that it is expedient to extend the powers of the said acts; enacts That it shall be lawful, not only for any master or mistress, but also for his or her steward, manager, or agent, to make complaint upon oath against any apprentice, within the meaning of the said acts, to any justice of peace of the county or place where such apprentice shall be employed, of or for any misdemeanor, misconduct, or ill behaviour of any such apprentice; or if such apprentice shall have absconded, it shall be lawful for any justice of peace of the county or place where such apprentice shall be found, or shall have been employed, and on complaint thereof made on oath by such master, mistress, steward, manager, or agent, which oath the said justice is hereby empowered to administer, to issue his warrant for apprehending every such apprentice; and further, to hear and determine the same complaint, and to punish the offender by abating the whole or any part of his, or her wages, or otherwise by commitment to the house of correction, there to remain and be held to hard labour, for a reasonable time, not exceeding three months, 4 G. 4. c. 34. s. 1.

7. All complaints, differences, and disputes which shall arise between masters or mistresses and their apprentices, within the meaning of the said acts, or any of them, concerning any wages which may be due to such apprentices, may be heard and determined by one or more justices of the peace of the county or place where such apprentice or apprentices shall be employed, which said justice or justices is and are empowered to examine on oath any such master or mistress, apprentice or apprentices, or any witness or witnesses, touching any such complaint, difference, or dispute, and to summon such master or mistress to appear before him or them at a reasonable time to be named in such summons, and to make such order for payment of so much wages to such apprentice or apprentices, as according to the terms of the indentures shall appear to such justice or justices, under all the circumstances of the case, to be justly due (provided that the sum in question do not exceed 10*l.*), the amount of such wages to be paid within such period as the said justice or justices shall think proper, and shall order the same to be paid; and in case of refusal or nonpayment thereof, such justice and justices shall and may issue forth his and their warrant, to levy the same by distress and sale of the goods and chattels of such master or mistress, rendering the overplus to the owners, after payment of the charges of such distress and sale, 4 G. 4. c. 34. s. 2.

8. Nothing in this act shall impeach or lessen the jurisdiction of the chamberlain of the city of London, or of any other court within the said city, touching apprentices, 4 G. 4. c. 34. s. 4.

9. How apprentices shall recover their wages in case of the absence of their masters, &c. On complaint to any justice under 20 G. 2. c. 19 and 31 G. 2. c. 11. s. 3. [Stat. Dig. tit. LABOURERS, pl. 25.] he may order their wages to be paid within any time they think fit, 3 G. 4. c. 34. s. 4. 5. [See the sections at length, post, tit. LABOURERS.]

APOTHECARIES.

1. To amend and explain 55 G. 3. c. 194. [Stat. Dig. this title, pl. 4.] for the better regulating the practice of Apothecaries throughout England and Wales, 6 G. 4. c. 133. [to be in FORCE until 1st August 1826. s. 11. PUBLIC clause, s. 12.]

2. Whereas 55 G. 3. c. 194. was passed: and whereas doubts have arisen as to some of the provisions of the said act: and whereas by the said act [s. 3. pl. 7.] power is given to the master, wardens, and society of the art and mystery of apothecaries of the city of London for the time being, and their successors, or any of the assistants, or any other person properly qualified, to be by the master and wardens nominated to go and enter into any shop of any person whatever, using or exercising the art and mystery of an apothecary in England and Wales, for the purpose of searching, surveying, proving, and determining if the medicines, &c. therein contained, be wholesome, meet, and fit for the cure, health, and ease of H. M.'s subjects: and whereas there is not any form set forth in or provided by the said recited act, according to which such appointment for the purposes aforesaid should be made, and in consequence thereof in some cases the persons appointed by the said master and wardens to go and enter into the shops of persons using the art and mystery of apothecaries have met with difficulty in obtaining admission thereto, and it is expedient that such doubts should be removed: and whereas the said act requires to be amended in other respects, for the more effectually carrying into execution the beneficial purposes thereof: be it enacted That from and after the passing of this act [6th July, 1825], all appointments which shall be made by the master and wardens of the said society of the art and mystery of apothecaries of the city of London, in pursuance of the said recited act, of any persons, to go and enter into the shops of any person or persons using the art and mystery of an apothecary in any part of England and Wales, for the purpose of searching, surveying, and proving whether the medicines, wares, drugs, or any thing or things whatsoever in such shop contained, and belonging to the art or mystery of an apothecary, be wholesome, meet, and fit for the cure, health, and ease of H. M.'s subjects, shall be in the form herein-after stated, and shall be sealed with the common seal of the said society, and shall, on being produced to any person at the shop, or dwelling-house having a shop therein, of any apothecary in any part of England or Wales, by the persons therein appointed, who in pursuance and by virtue thereof shall require to enter such shop for the purpose of examining the medicines, drugs, wares, and other things therein contained, in pursuance of the said recited act, be deemed to be sufficient evidence of the appointment of the persons in such appointment named for the purposes therein expressed, 6 G. 4. c. 133. s. 1.

Form of the Appointment.

'We, A. B., master of the society of the art and mystery of apothecaries of the city of London, and C. D. and E. F., the wardens thereof, do hereby, in pursuance of the power vested in the master and wardens for the time being of the said society of apothecaries, by an act passed in the fifty-fifth year of the reign of His late Majesty King George the Third, intituled an act for better regulating the practice of apothecaries throughout England and Wales; and also, in pursuance of an act passed in the sixth year of the reign of His Majesty King George the Fourth, intituled an act to explain and amend an act passed in the fifty-fifth year of the reign of His late Majesty King George the Third, intituled 'an act for better regulating the practice of Apothecaries throughout England or Wales', appoint G. H. and I. K., being persons duly qualified as required by the said recited act passed in the said fifty-fifth year of the reign of his late Majesty King George the Third as aforesaid, to enter into the shops of such persons as now carry on the art or mystery of an apothecary in ——— and in such other places in England or Wales as they shall think fit, and to examine, search, survey, and prove the medicines, wares, and drugs, and other things in such shops contained, according to the terms, provisions, and powers given and contained in and by the said act of the fifty-fifth of George the Third for that purpose. In witness whereof the common seal of the said society is hereunto affixed, this ——— day of ———.'

3. And whereas doubts have arisen, whether the master, wardens, and court of assistants of the said society of apothecaries, or the major part of them, can appoint or elect any person or persons who are members of the said court of assistants (although they are duly qualified according to the said recited act) to be members of the court of examiners, directed to be from time to time appointed in pursuance of the said recited act: and whereas it would be useful and expedient, that a limited number of persons, being members of the said court of assistants of the said society, duly qualified pursuant to the said recited act, should be eligible to be chosen and appointed to be members of the said court of examiners; be it therefore enacted, That from and after the passing of this act [6th July, 1825], it shall and may be lawful to and for the said master, wardens, and court of assistants of the said society of apothecaries, or the major part of them, from time to time to elect and appoint any member or members of the court of assistants of the said society (not exceeding four persons in the whole), duly qualified according to the said act to be members of the court of examiners, directed in and by the [s. 9. pl. 13.] said recited act to be from time to time appointed: provided nevertheless, that the master and the wardens of the said society for the time being shall be in all cases incapable of being elected as members of the said court of examiners; and any person or persons who shall after his or their election to be a member of the said court of examiners, be chosen and appointed to be either master of the said society of apothecaries, or senior warden or junior warden thereof, shall ipso facto vacate his seat in the said court of examiners, and be incapable of being re-elected, until he shall have ceased to be master or senior or junior warden of the said society. 6 G. 4. c. 133. s. 2.

4. And whereas doubts have arisen whether the oath or affirmation directed by the said recited act [s. 11. pl. 15.] to be taken and subscribed by all persons who shall from time to time, in pursuance of the aforesaid act, be chosen and appointed to be members of the court of examiners, before they can act as examiners, can be administered by the master and wardens of the said society, or whether such oath or affirmation must be administered by the master, wardens, and court of assistants of the said society, or the major part of them; and it would be convenient that power should be given, as well to the master and wardens of the said society of the art and mystery of apothecaries for the time being, or to the master and one of the wardens of the said society for the time being, as to the master, wardens, and court of assistants of the said society, or the major part of them, to administer the said oath or affirmation so directed to be taken and subscribed by all persons who shall be appointed to be members of the said court of examiners, before they can act as examiners; it is therefore enacted, That from and after the passing of this act [6th July, 1825], it shall and may be lawful to and for the master and wardens of the said society for the time being, or for the master and one of the wardens, and court of assistants of the said society, or the major part of them, and they are hereby respectively authorised, required, and empowered, to administer to all persons who shall from time to time be, by the master, wardens, and court of assistants of the said society, or the major part of them, chosen and appointed to be members of the said court of examiners, by virtue of the said recited act, the oath or affirmation directed by the said act to be taken by all persons who shall in pursuance of that act be from time to time appointed to be members of the court of examiners, before they can act as examiners, 6 G. 4. c. 133. s. 3.

5. And whereas many persons who have heretofore held, and now do or who hereafter shall hold commissions in H. M.'s service as surgeons, either in H. M.'s navy, or as surgeons or apothecaries in H. M.'s army, cannot commence practice as apothecaries in any part of England or Wales, without being examined by the court of examiners appointed in pursuance of the aforesaid recited act, or being liable to the penalties thereby imposed on persons who, not having been in practice as apothecaries on the 1st August, 1815, shall commence to act or practise as apothecaries without having been examined, and received certificates of their qualification, pursuant to the said recited act: and whereas it is expedient to provide a remedy in that behalf; it is therefore enacted, That every person who heretofore has held, or who now holds, or hereafter shall hold a commission or warrant as surgeon or assistant surgeon in H. M.'s navy, or as surgeon or assistant surgeon or apothecary in H. M.'s army, or as surgeon or assistant surgeon in the service of the Honorable the East India Company, shall be entitled to practise as an apothecary in any part of England or Wales, without having undergone any such examination, or received any such certificate, as by the said recited act [s. 14. 20. pl. 18. 24.] is directed, and without being liable to any penalty or disability whatsoever imposed by the said recited act on persons who, not having been in practice as apothecaries on the said 1st August, 1815, without having been examined, and received certificates in the manner directed by the said recited act, commenced practice as apothecaries in any part of England or Wales; and no such person shall be obliged, in order to recover in a court of law any charges claimed by him as an apothecary, to prove that he was in practice as an apothecary on the said 1st August, 1815, otherwise than as holding a commission or warrant as surgeon or assistant surgeon in H. M.'s navy, or as surgeon or assistant surgeon or apothecary in H. M.'s army, or as surgeon or assistant surgeon in the service of the Honorable the East India Company; any thing in the said recited act contained to the contrary notwithstanding, 6 G. 4. c. 133. s. 4.

6. And whereas by the said recited act it is [s. 14. pl. 18.] enacted, that from and after the 1st August, 1815, it shall not be lawful for any person (except persons already in practice as such) to practise as an apothecary in any part of England or Wales, unless he shall have been examined in the manner, and received such certificate of qualification as by the said recited act is directed: And whereas it is also thereby enacted [as in s. 20. pl. 24. is mentioned]: And it is also further enacted [as in s. 21. pl. 25. is mentioned]: And by the said recited act it is also enacted [as in s. 29. pl. 32. is mentioned with regard to persons in practice prior to 1st August, 1815]: And whereas it is expedient that the several terms or periods in the said act mentioned, after which persons not being at such times or periods in practice as apothecaries are required by the said recited act to be examined, or are thereby made subject to the penalties by the said act imposed on persons commencing practice as apothecaries, or assistants to apothecaries, contrary to the provisions thereof, or to prove their exemption from such penalties, should be accurately defined; it is therefore enacted, That the first mentioned exception contained in the said act shall be deemed and construed to extend to such persons only who were in actual practice as apothecaries on or before the said 1st August, 1815; and that the exception contained in the said act from the penalty of twenty pounds thereby imposed shall in like manner be construed to extend only to persons who were in actual practice as apothecaries on or before the said 1st August, 1815; and that the exception contained in the said recited act from the penalty of five pounds thereby imposed shall in like manner be construed to extend only to persons who were on or before the said 1st August, 1815, acting as assistants to apothecaries therein mentioned, or who have actually served an apprenticeship of five years to an apothecary; and that in like manner the day on which any apothecary claiming to recover any charges in any court of law or equity in England or Wales shall be obliged to prove himself to have been in practice, so as to entitle him to recover such charges without shewing that he has received a certificate of his qualification from the said court of examiners appointed in pursuance of the said recited act, shall be construed to be the said 1st August, 1815; and that the saving right contained in the said act in favour of persons who have exercised the practice of apothecaries shall be construed to extend only to and in favour of such persons who were in actual practice as apothecaries on the said 1st August, 1815, 6 G. 4. c. 133. s. 5.

7. And whereas by the said act it is enacted [as in s. 15. pl. 18. is mentioned]: And whereas many persons who served an apprenticeship of the like period to surgeons have received a full and competent education to enable them to practise as apothecaries, but the said court of examiners have not any power to examine such persons: it is therefore enacted, That from and after the passing of this act [6th July, 1825], it shall and may be lawful to and for the said court of examiners to examine such persons as to their fitness for or qualification to act as apothecaries, who shall produce proof of having served an apprenticeship of not less than five years to a member of the royal colleges of surgeons in London, in Edinburgh, or in Dublin, or to a surgeon in H.M.'s army or navy, together with proof to the satisfaction of the said court of examiners, of a sufficient medical education, and of good moral conduct, in like manner as by the said act is provided with regard to persons who have served an apprenticeship of not less than five years to an apothecary, 6 G. 4. c. 133. s. 6.

8. And whereas the authenticating the certificates of qualification of such persons as have been or as shall be examined by the court of examiners in pursuance of the aforesaid act has been attended with considerable expence, and might often be difficult of proof, if such certificates were required to be authenticated in different parts of England at the same time in different actions; for remedy whereof it is enacted, that from and after the passing of this act [6th July, 1825], the common seal of the said society of the art and mystery of apothecaries of the city of London shall be deemed to be and shall be received in every court of law or equity in any part of England or Wales as sufficient proof of the authenticity of the certificate to which such seal shall be affixed, and that the person therein named is duly qualified to practise as an apothecary in any part of England or Wales, 6 G. 4. c. 133. s. 7.

9. And whereas many persons who have been examined as to their fitness and qualification to act as apothecaries in pursuance of the said recited act by the court of examiners appointed under and by virtue thereof, have been rejected upon the first and also upon the second examination of such persons: And whereas there is not any power expressly given by the said act to the said court of examiners to admit persons who have been rejected upon their second examination: And whereas several persons who have been upon their first and second examinations deemed unfit to receive a certificate of qualification to act as apothecaries, have upon a subsequent examination received certificates of their qualification to act as apothecaries, and it would be expedient to provide a remedy in that behalf; it is therefore enacted, That from and after the passing of this act [6th July, 1825], it shall and may be lawful to and for the court of examiners who shall be appointed from time to time in pursuance of the said recited act, or the major part of them, to examine any person who has been rejected by the said court of examiners, on the second examination of such person, from time to time as often as such person shall apply to be examined, so as such future examinations be from time to time respectively at an interval of not less than six months from the previous examination; and that all persons who have heretofore received from the said court of examiners, certificates of their qualification to act as apothecaries, upon their third or subsequent examination, shall be deemed to have been legally examined; and that the certificates which have been granted to such persons shall be deemed and taken to be as valid as if the same had been granted by the said court of examiners on the first or second examination of such persons, 6 G. 4. c. 133. s. 8. [See 55 G. 3. c. 194. s. 22. pl. 26.]

10. And whereas by the said recited act the penalty of five pounds is imposed on persons who shall commit certain offences in the said act specified: And whereas there are not in the said recited act specified any means whereby the said penalty of five pounds thereby imposed can be recovered; it is enacted, That all penalties of the amount of five pounds, which are imposed by the said recited act, shall be recoverable in the name of the master, wardens, and society of the art and mystery of apothecaries of the city of London, in any of H. M.'s courts of record in England or Wales, in the same manner, and subject to the same rules and regulations in all respects, as are in and by the said recited act declared and provided with regard to the recovery of the penalty of twenty pounds thereby imposed on certain other offences in the said recited act mentioned, 6 G. 4. c. 133. s. 9.

11. Provided that no action or suit shall be brought or prosecuted against any person, or body politic, corporate, or collegiate, for any thing done in pursuance of this act, or the said recited act, after six calendar months next after the fact committed; or in case there shall be a continuation of damages, then after six calendar months next after the doing or committing such damage shall have ceased, and not afterwards, nor until the expiration of twenty one days after notice shall have been given to or left for the person or body against whom such action is intended to be brought, under the hand of the party intending to bring such action, previously to the commencing such action; and every such action or suit shall be laid and brought in the county where the matter in dispute shall arise, and the defendant shall or may, at his election, plead specially, or the general issue, and give this act and the said recited act, and the special matter in evidence, and that the same was done in pursuance and by the authority of this act and the said recited act; and if it shall appear to have been so done, or if any such action or suit shall have been brought before the expiration of twenty one days after notice shall have been given or left as aforesaid, or after sufficient satisfaction shall have been made or tendered, or shall be brought in any other county or place than as aforesaid, then the jury shall find for the defendant; and upon such verdict, or if the plaintiff shall become nonsuit, or shall suffer a discontinuance or non-pros of his action or suit after appearance, or if a verdict shall pass against the plaintiff, or if upon demurrer or otherwise judgment shall be given against him, then the defendant shall have double costs with the usual remedy for recovering the same, 6 G. 4. c. 133. s. 10.

ASSEMBLIES.

For the more effectually preventing seditious meetings and assemblies, 57 G. 3. c. 19. [Stat. Dig. this title, pl. 38.] AMD. 3 G. 4. c. 33., see post, MALICIOUS MISCHIEF.

ATTORNIES AND SOLICITORS.

1. To amend 1 & 2 G. 4. c. 48., [See Stat. Dig. tit. ATTORNIES, &c. pl. 72.] for amending the several acts for the regulation of attornies and solicitors, 3 G. 4. c. 16.

2. Whereas by 1 & 2 G. 4. c. 48. [s. 4. pl. 75.] it is among other things enacted, that nothing in the said act contained shall extend to any person who shall take or shall have taken such degree of bachelor of law as in the said act is contained within eight years after such matriculation as in the said act is mentioned: And whereas by mistake certain words were omitted in the said proviso and enactment, be it enacted, That nothing in the said act contained shall extend or be construed to extend to any person who shall take or shall have taken such degree of bachelor of law as in the said act is mentioned, unless such person shall have taken or shall take such last mentioned degree within eight years after such matriculation as in the said act is mentioned; and that so much of the said recited act shall be repealed whereby it is provided and enacted, that nothing in the said act contained shall extend to any person who shall take or shall have taken such degree of bachelor of law within eight years after such matriculation, 3 G. 4. c. 16.

BANKS OF RIVERS, &c.

To prevent the cutting or breaking down of any river or sea-bank, 6 G.2. c. 37. s. 5. [Stat. Dig. this tit. pl. 1.] REPEALED, and new punishment awarded, 4 G.4. c.46. s.1. see post, OFFENCE, &c.

BANKS FOR SAVINGS.

1. To amend the several acts for the encouragement of Banks for Savings, in England and Ireland, 5 G.4. c.62.

2. Whereas 57 G.3. c.130. [Stat. Dig. tit. BANKS FOR SAVINGS, pl. 1. et seq.] was made, intituled An Act to encourage the establishment of banks for savings in England; and which act was amended by 58 G.3. c.48.; and both the said acts were amended by 1 G.4. c.83. [Dig. same tit. and pl.]; and whereas 57 G.3. c.105. was made, intituled An Act to encourage the establishment of banks for savings in Ireland; and whereas it is expedient that the said last mentioned act should be amended in conformity with 1 G.4. c.83., and that all the said acts should be further amended with relation to the savings banks in England and Ireland: it is therefore enacted, That from and after the 20th Nov. 1824, so much and such parts of the 57 G.3. c.105. [viz. s. 11. 13. 15. 16.], whereby the issuing of any debentures, by or under the authority of the commissioners for the reduction of the national debt, is authorized or required upon the payment of any money into the bank of Ireland to the account of the said commissioners by the trustees of any savings bank, shall, as to any such payments which shall be made into the bank of Ireland at any time after the 20th Nov. 1824, cease and determine, and shall be and the same is and are hereby repealed, 5 G.4. c.62. s. 1.

3. The sections 2-6 are like the sections 2-6 of 1 G.4. c.83. [Stat. Dig. tit. BANKS FOR SAVINGS, pl. 40-44.] except that where the 5 G.4. c.62. speaks of Ireland, or the bank of Ireland, the 1 G.4. c.83. speaks of England, or the bank of England. The 5 G.4. c.62. s. 7. & 8. are like 1 G.4. c.83. s. 8, 9. [tit. id. pl. 46, 47.] with the like exception.

4. Provided, that if at any time between 17th June 1824, and 20th Nov. 1824, the trustees of any savings bank in Ireland shall require any payment to be made in part or on account of any debenture, whether an original debenture or a renewed debenture, it shall be lawful for the said trustees to require, and for the officer of the said commissioners to issue, a receipt for the whole of the principal and interest which shall remain due on any such debenture, after deducting the payment required to be made thereon; and the sum of money specified in such receipt shall be carried to the account of the trustees of such savings banks, in like manner as is herein-before [s. 2. Stat. Dig. tit. BANKS FOR SAVINGS, pl. 40.] provided and directed with respect to receipts to be issued at any time after the said 20th Nov. 1824. 5 G.4. c.62. s. 9.

5. The 5 G.4. c.62. s. 10. is like 1 G.4. c.83. s. 13. with the like exception, as in pl. 3. [Dig. tit. BANKS FOR SAVINGS, pl. 50.]

6. Provided, that it shall not be lawful for the trustees of any savings banks, in England or Ireland, to apply or dispose of any increased stock or property belonging to any such savings bank, to and amongst the depositors therein, under the authority of this act or of 1 G.4. c.83. for amending the acts for the encouragement of banks for savings in England, until after the expiration of ten years from the date of the first institution or establishment of any such savings bank respectively; and that no further application or disposition of such increased stock or property shall be made, until after the expiration of ten years next after the time when any previous application shall have been made; and that before any such application or disposition shall take place, one-half part at least of the amount of such increased stock or property shall be set apart for the purpose of meeting any deficiency which at any time may arise and which may require to be provided for; and that no such application or distribution shall at any time take place, unless notice of the intention of the making such application or division shall be given to the commissioners for the reduction of the national debt, thirty days previous to the making such application or division, stating in such notice the amount intended to be applied or distributed; and such notice shall be given in writing, signed by not less than five of the trustees or managers of the savings bank with respect to which such application or division shall be intended to be made, 5 G.4. c.62. s. 11. [See 1 G.4. c.83. s. 13. Stat. Dig. tit. BANKS FOR SAVINGS, pl. 50.]

7. The 5 G.2. c.62. s. 12. is like 1 G.4. c.83. s. 14. [Stat. Dig. tit. BANKS FOR SAVINGS, pl. 51.] with the like exception as in pl. 3.

8. In case any debenture which shall have been issued under the authority of 57 G.3. c.105. for the establishment of savings banks in Ireland, at any time after the 17th June 1824, shall have been or shall be lost, destroyed, or defaced, it shall be lawful for the said commissioners for the reduction of the national debt, on application by any three trustees on behalf of the savings bank on whose account such debenture was originally issued, and upon proof on oath or otherwise, to the satisfaction of the said commissioners, of the date, contents, and value of such debenture, and of the circumstance of the loss, destruction, or defacing thereof, to direct and order the officer of the said commissioners to issue to the person making such application (upon their giving and entering into such security as shall be required and directed by the said commissioners, in case the said commissioners shall think any such security to be requisite,) a receipt carrying interest as aforesaid, according to the directions contained in this act, for a sum of money equal in amount to the principal and interest due on such debenture so lost, destroyed, or defaced, and in lieu of such debenture and the principal and interest due thereon; and such sum of money shall be subject to all the regulations contained in this act and the said recited act, as the same is altered or amended by this act, 5 G.4. c.62. s. 13.

9. The 5 G.4. c.62. s. 14. is like 1 G.4. c.83. s. 16. [Stat. Dig. tit. BANKS FOR SAVINGS, pl. 25.] with the like exceptions as in pl. 3.

10. From 17th June 1824, it shall be lawful for the trustees of any savings bank in Ireland, to pay into the bank of Ireland any sum of money, not being less than fifty pounds, to the account of the commissioners for the reduction of the national debt, in like manner, and for the like purposes, as such trustees by the 57 G.3. c.105. for the encouragement of such banks in Ireland, are empowered or enabled to pay any sum of money, not being less than 100*l.*, 5 G.3. c.62. s. 15.

11. Provided, that all interest upon any debenture or debentures which shall have been issued in England or Ireland, at any time before the 20th Nov. 1824, under any of the said herein-before recited acts, shall cease and determine on and from the 20th Nov. 1824; and that no sum of money shall be placed to the credit of any savings bank for interest for any time subsequent to such 20th Nov. 1824, upon or in respect of any such debenture or debentures which may be outstanding on 20th Nov. 1824, any thing in the said recited act, or this act, to the contrary notwithstanding, 5 G.4. c.62. s. 16.

12. In case one or more trustee or trustees of any savings bank in England or Ireland respectively, who shall have made, given, signed and executed any appointment under 1 G.4. c.83. s. 4. [Stat. Dig. tit. BANKS FOR SAVINGS, pl. 42.] or of this act, or in case any one or more other trustee or trustees of any such savings bank, shall at any time appear in person at the office of the said commissioners in England or Ireland, and require payment of any sum of money which might be required by the person authorised to receive the same by such appointment, or if any trustee of any savings bank shall appear in person where no such appointment shall have been made, and so appearing shall produce a draft or order signed by two or more trustees in England, or three in Ireland, no such trustee or trustees, being himself or themselves the party or parties who signed the draft, and if the identity of the person of the trustee or trustees so appearing shall be satisfactorily ascertained, it shall be lawful for the officer to direct payment to be made to such trustee or trustees so appearing, of any sum required to be paid by such draft or order, in like manner as if the person or persons authorised by such appointment to receive the same had required such payment, anything in 1 G.4. c.83. or this act to the contrary notwithstanding, 5 G.4. c.62. s. 17.

13. From 17th June 1824, it shall be lawful for the trustees and managers of any savings bank in England or Ireland respectively, to pay any sum of money not exceeding in the whole 20*l.*, exclusive of interest thereon, which any depositor in the funds of any such savings bank shall die possessed of or entitled to, at any time after the decease of any such depositor, in case such trustees shall be satisfied that no will was made and left by such deceased depositor, and that no letters of administration will be taken out of the goods and chattels of such depositor; and such payment shall be made to such person as such trustees are by stat. 57 G.3. c.130. s. 24. [See Stat. Dig. tit. BANKS FOR SAVINGS, pl. 26.] authorised to make payment, if no will shall be proved, or no letter of administration taken out within six calendar months after the death of such depositor, 5 G.4. c.62. s. 18.

14. Whenever any trustees or managers of any savings bank in England or Ireland shall at any time after the decease of any depositor have paid and divided any such sum of money not exceeding 20*l.*, to or amongst any person or persons who shall at the time of such payment appear to such trustees or managers to be entitled to the effects of any deceased intestate depositor, according to the statute of distributions or according to the rules and regulations of any such savings bank, the payment of any such sum or sums of money shall be valid and effectual, with respect to any demand of any other person or persons as next of kin to such deceased intestate depositor, or as the lawful representative or representatives of such depositor, against the funds of such savings bank, or against the treasurers or trustees or managers thereof; but nevertheless such next of kin or representatives shall have remedy for such money so paid as aforesaid against the person or persons who shall have received the same, 5 G.4. c.62. s. 19.

15. From and after 20th Nov. 1824, the 57 G. 3. c. 105. s. 20. 22. Ire. and so much of stat. 57 G. 3. c. 130. [viz. s. 19. Stat. Dig. tit. BANKS FOR SAVINGS, pl. 20.] whereby it is provided, that the amount to be received by any such bank from any one person shall not exceed the sum of 100*l.* in the first year, and 50*l.* in every year afterwards, in the whole from each depositor; and also so much of stat. 58 G. 3. c. 48. [viz. s. 14., see Stat. Dig. tit. id. pl. 36.] whereby it is provided, that the sums paid into any such bank by any such person who shall pay or subscribe any sum by ticket or number or otherwise, shall not exceed the sum of 10*l.* in any one year, shall from and after 20th Nov. 1824, be repealed; and from and after the said 20th Nov. 1824, no sums shall be paid or subscribed into any savings bank in England or Ireland by any person or persons, by ticket or number or otherwise, without disclosing his or her name to the trustees of such savings bank, 5 G. 4. c. 62. s. 20.

16. From 20th Nov. 1824, it shall not be lawful for the trustees of any savings bank in England and Ireland respectively, to receive from any one depositor any sum exceeding 50*l.* in the whole, during the year next ensuing such 20th Nov. 1824, or exceeding 30*l.* in the whole, exclusive of interest, in any one year afterwards ending on the 20th Nov.; nor to receive from any depositor any sum of money whatever which shall make the sum to which such depositor shall be entitled exceed 200*l.* in the whole, exclusive of interest, 5 G. 4. c. 62. s. 21.

17. Provided, that where it shall happen that any depositor, in the course of the year next ensuing 20th Nov. 1824, shall have subscribed any sum or sums not exceeding 50*l.* in the whole, or that any depositor in the course of any year afterwards ending on the 20th Nov. shall have subscribed any sum not exceeding 30*l.*, exclusive of interest, it shall be lawful for such depositor from time to time to withdraw such sum so subscribed, or any part thereof, out of and from such savings bank, and again to deposit in the same savings bank the same or any other sum or sums not exceeding the several amounts aforesaid, at any time during the course of every such year respectively, so nevertheless that such depositor shall not at the end of any such year, or at any one time in the course of any such year, be possessed of or entitled in the whole to more, exclusive of interest, than the several sums by this act allowed to be received from such depositor at the end of such year, 5 G. 4. c. 62. s. 22.

18. It shall be lawful for the trustees of any savings bank in England or Ireland to receive from any person acting as trustee or trustees on behalf of any depositor, any sum not exceeding the annual amount herein-before [s. 21. pl. 16.] mentioned; provided that such trustee or trustees shall make such declaration on the behalf of himself or themselves, and also on behalf of such depositor, and subject to the like conditions as by this act is required in the case of any person making any deposit on his or her own account; and all deposits made by any such trustees shall be inserted in the books of such savings bank, in the joint names of such trustee or trustees, and of the person on whose account such sum shall be so deposited; and the receipt and receipts of such trustee or trustees, or the survivor of them, or the executors or administrators of any sole trustee or surviving trustee, shall be as good and effectual to all intents and purposes as the receipt and receipts of the person on whose account such sum shall be so deposited, 5 G. 4. c. 62. s. 23.

19. From and after 17th June 1824, so much and such part of stat. 1 G. 4. c. 83. [viz. s. 12. Stat. Dig. tit. BANKS FOR SAVINGS, pl. 9.] shall be repealed, whereby it is enacted that it shall be lawful for the trustees of any charitable institution or society in England from time to time to subscribe the whole or any part of the funds of such institution or society into the funds of any savings bank; and so much and such part of the said recited act shall be and the same is hereby repealed accordingly.

20. It shall not be lawful for any person or persons who shall have made any deposit in or any subscription to, or who shall be entitled to any benefit from the funds of any savings bank in England and Ireland, to make any deposit in or to subscribe any sum into the funds of any other savings bank in England or Ireland; and that every person desirous of making any deposit in or any subscription to any savings bank, shall at the time of making the first deposit in any savings bank next after 20th Nov. 1824, and at such other time or times as such depositor shall be required so to do by the trustees or managers of any such savings bank, sign a declaration in such form as shall be directed or approved of by the commissioners for the reduction of the national debt, or their proper officer, that the person or persons, on whose behalf any such first deposit or subscription shall be required to be made, is not or are not entitled to any deposit or any such subsequent deposit or subscription in, or any benefit from, the funds of any savings bank in England or Ireland, other than that into which such deposit or subscription shall be made; and in case any such declaration shall not be true, or if any person shall at any time have or hold or be possessed of any deposit or funds in more than one savings bank within the U. K., every such person shall forfeit and lose all right and title to any deposit in or to any funds of any and every such savings bank, and the managers and trustees of such savings bank shall and they are hereby required in such case to close the account of such depositor, and to cause the sum or sums so forfeited to be forthwith paid into the bank of England or bank of Ireland, as the case may be, to the account of the commissioners for the reduction of the national debt, standing in the books of the governor and company of the said banks respectively, under the title of "The account of the commissioners for applying certain sums of money annually to the reduction of the national debt;" and the cashier and cashiers of the said governor and company is and are hereby required to receive all such sums, and to place the same to the said account, to be applied in like manner as all other money placed to the said account; and every such declaration so made shall be filed and kept and preserved by the trustees of every such savings bank; and a printed notice of such regulation and prohibition shall be affixed in the office or place appointed for the receiving of deposits to any savings bank, in such form as the commissioners for the reduction of the national debt, or their proper officer, shall from time to time direct, or require, or approve, 5 G. 4. c. 62. s. 25.

21. Provided, that at any time after the passing of this act, it shall be lawful for any depositor in any savings bank in England or Ireland to withdraw from such savings bank the whole of his or her deposits at any one time (but not in parts or shares), for the purpose of investing the same in any other savings bank in England or Ireland; and in such case it shall be lawful for the trustees and managers of any such savings bank from which such deposit shall be intended to be withdrawn, or any two or more of them in England, or any three or more of them in Ireland, and they are hereby required to grant to any such depositor a certificate under the hands of such two or three trustees and managers respectively, attested by the secretary or actuary of such savings bank, and such depositor shall also subscribe his or her own name to such certificate in the presence of one or more of the said trustees and managers, and such certificate shall state the whole amount of the deposit of such depositor in such savings bank, and shall be in such form as shall be directed or approved of by the commissioners for the reduction of the national debt, or their officer; and upon the production of such certificate, signed as herein-before directed, to the trustees and managers of the savings bank into which such deposit is intended to be removed, the person applying shall, and he or she is hereby required to indorse his or her name on the back of such certificate in the presence of one or more of the trustees and managers of such savings bank, and such indorsement shall be attested by one of such trustees and managers; and if such trustee or trustees and manager or managers shall be satisfied that such certificate is authentic, and that no abuse is intended thereby, it shall and may be lawful for the trustees and managers of such savings bank to receive the sum specified in such certificate, and to place the same to the account of the person therein described in the books of such savings bank, any thing in the said recited acts or any of them, or in this act, to the contrary thereof in anywise notwithstanding: Provided, that previous to such investment a like declaration shall be made by the person applying to make such deposit, as is required in other cases of making deposits in savings banks according to the provisions contained in this act; and such person shall be considered in all respects as an original subscriber to such savings bank, and shall be liable to all such rules, regulations, and restrictions, as any original subscriber to such bank, as to the amount to be subscribed in any subsequent year, and as to the total amount allowed to be deposited by such subscriber, 5 G. 4. c. 62. s. 26.

22. From and after the 20th day of Nov. 1824, the several sums of money belonging to any savings bank in England or Ireland respectively, which the trustees of such savings banks respectively are authorised to invest under the said recited acts or any of them, or this act, or under any rules or regulations of any such savings banks, shall be paid into and invested in the bank of England or the bank of Ireland, as the case may require, in the names of the commissioners for the reduction of the national debt, according to the provisions of the several acts and this act, enabling such trustees to make investments in the names of the said commissioners; and no such sums shall be paid or laid out by the trustees of such savings bank in any other manner, or upon any other security whatever, any thing in the several herein-before recited acts, or in any of them, to the contrary notwithstanding: Provided, that nothing herein contained shall restrain or prevent any depositor, or any trustee or trustees acting on behalf of any depositor or depositors, or any friendly society, from withdrawing from any such savings bank any sum of money which shall have been deposited by such depositor or friendly society, and investing the same in any other securities, 5 G. 4. c. 62. s. 27.

23. From and after the 20th day of Nov. 1824, every officer or person whosoever receiving any salary or allowance for their services from the funds of any savings banks, who shall be intrusted with the receipt or custody of any sum of money subscribed or deposited for the purposes of any such savings banks, or any interest or dividend from time to time accruing thereby, and all and every other officers or officer receiving salaries or allowances as aforesaid, appointed or employed by or under the trustees or managers of any such savings bank, shall become bound with sureties for the just and faithful execution of such office or trust in a sufficient sum of money; and such security shall be given by bond to the clerk of the peace, and such bond shall and may be proceeded upon in such manner as is directed by 57 G. 3. c. 105. s. 7., and c. 130. s. 7. [Stat. Dig. tit. BANKS FOR SAVINGS, pl. 10.] for establishment of such savings bank in England and Ireland respectively, 5 G. 4. c. 62. s. 28.

24. And for the more effectually ascertaining from time to time the actual and progressive state of the several savings banks in England and Ireland respectively, be it enacted, That from and after the 20th Nov. 1824, the trustees or managers of any savings banks in England and Ireland respectively shall annually cause a general statement of the funds of such savings bank to be prepared, up to 20th Nov. in each year, showing the balance or principal sum due to all the depositors collectively in such savings bank, and stating in whose hands such balance shall then be remaining, and every such annual statement shall be attested by two managers or two trustees, or by one manager and one trustee of such savings bank, and every such annual statement shall be countersigned by the secretary or actuary of such savings bank, and all such annual statements shall be transmitted to the office of the said commissioners for the reduction of the national debt in London or Dublin, as the case may be, within thirty days next after 20th Nov. in each year; and in case the trustees of any such savings bank shall neglect or refuse to make out and transmit such account as aforesaid, or in case any such trustees shall at any time neglect or refuse to obey any orders or directions given by the said commissioners for the reduction of the national debt, or their officer, pursuant to the directions of the said recited acts or this act, it shall be lawful for the said commissioners to close the account of the trustees of such savings bank, and to discontinue the keeping any further account with the trustees of such savings bank, and to direct that no further sum shall be received at the bank of England, or at the bank of Ireland, from the trustees of such savings bank, to the account of the said commissioners, until such time as such commissioners shall think fit: Provided, that it may be lawful for the said commissioners to reopen such account, and to allow the growing interest of such account during the time of such discontinuance, and to authorize the receipt of money at the banks of England or Ireland whenever such commissioners shall think fit so to do, upon such trustees complying with the directions of such commissioners, or their officer, 5 G. 4. c. 62. s. 29.

25. The trustees or managers of every such savings bank shall cause a duplicate of every such annual statement, attested and countersigned as aforesaid, to be publicly affixed and exhibited in some conspicuous part of the office or place where the deposits of such savings bank are usually received, for the information of all persons making deposits therein; and every such duplicate shall from time to time remain so affixed and exhibited, until the ensuing annual statement shall in like manner be affixed and exhibited as aforesaid, 5 G. 4. c. 62. s. 30.

26. And for rendering the accounts of the several savings banks in England and Ireland uniform with the accounts of the commissioners for the reduction of the national debt, it is enacted, That from the 20th Nov. 1824, the interest or dividends due to each depositor in such savings banks shall be computed half yearly to 20th May, or 20th Nov., or yearly to the 20th Nov., or up to such period nearest to the 20th May, or 20th Nov., as such interest shall be payable, according to the rules, &c. of such savings banks respectively, and to no other period, 5 G. 4. c. 62. s. 31.

27. From 17th June 1824, in lieu of the accounts by stats. 57 G. 3. c. 105. s. 19. and c. 120. s. 19. [Stat. Dig. tit. BANKS FOR SAVINGS, pl. 19.] for encouraging the establishment of banks for savings in England and Ireland respectively, required to be annually laid before both houses of parliament by the commissioners for the reduction of the national debt, the following accounts shall be prepared by the said commissioners, and shall be annually laid before both houses of parliament, on or before the 25th March in every year, if parliament shall be sitting; and if parliament shall not be sitting, then within fourteen days after the commencement of the then next session of parliament: that is to say, accounts made up to the 20th Nov. then next preceding, of the gross amount of all sums received and credited, and of all sums paid from the time of the passing of stats. 57 G. 3. c. 105. and c. 130. for the encouraging the establishment of banks for savings in England and Ireland respectively, up to such 20th Nov. by the said commissioners, on account of the trustees of the several savings banks in England and Ireland, and also on account of any friendly societies in England respectively, and of the gross amount of all sums, stocks, funds, and annuities, standing in the names of such commissioners on the 20th Nov.

on account of any such savings banks or friendly societies respectively, and the sums paid for the purchase of such stocks, funds, or securities, and the gross amount of interest or dividends received thereon by the said commissioners, and the gross amount of interest paid by such commissioners up to such 20th Nov. on all debentures or receipts issued to the trustees of any such savings banks or friendly societies in England and Ireland respectively, 5 G. 4. c. 62. s. 32.

28. Whereas it will be advantageous to enable the commissioners for the reduction of the national debt more readily to provide for the making of the several payments required by the said several recited acts or this act to be made to the trustees of savings banks or friendly societies from time to time; it is enacted, That from the 17th June 1824, it shall and may be lawful for the commissioners for the reduction of the national debt, or for the proper officer or officers of the said commissioners, from time to time to make application to the lord high treasurer or to the commissioners of H. M.'s treasury of the U. K., stating and certifying what sum of money may be required for satisfying any demands which shall from time to time be made upon the said commissioners for the reduction of the national debt, by the trustees of any savings bank or friendly society in England or Ireland; and thereupon it shall be lawful for the lord high treasurer or commissioners of the said treasury, or any three of them, in case they shall think fit and proper so to do, by warrant under their hands to cause or direct any number of exchequer bills to be made out at the receipt of H. M.'s exchequer in Great Britain, for such sum of money as shall be from time to time stated and certified in any such application of the said commissioners for the reduction of the national debt, or their officer or officers, under the directions of the said commissioners, or for any part of any such sum or sums; and such exchequer bills shall be made out in like manner, form, and order, and according to the like rules and directions as directed in and by 48 G. 3. c. 1., intituled An Act for regulating the issuing and paying of Exchequer Bills, 5 G. 4. c. 62. s. 33.

28. It shall be lawful for the governor and company of the bank of England and bank of Ireland respectively, from time to time to advance to the said commissioners for the reduction of the national debt such sum or sums of money, on the credit of any such exchequer bill or bills; and at such times as the said commissioners shall from time to time require; any law or statute to the contrary thereof in anywise notwithstanding, 5 G. 4. c. 62. s. 34.

29. That the principal sum of every such exchequer bill upon which any sum of money shall have been so advanced by the governor and company of the banks of England or of Ireland respectively, under [s. 34. of] this act, shall, together with all interest due thereon, be discharged from time to time by the said commissioners for the reduction of the national debt, in such portions as the said commissioners shall deem fit and expedient, with and out of any monies invested from time to time by the trustees of any savings banks or friendly societies in England or Ireland respectively, and carried to the credit of the said commissioners, on account of such savings banks or friendly societies, or with and out of the monies or funds commonly called The Sinking Fund, standing in the names of the said commissioners in the books of the governor and company of the banks of England or Ireland respectively, or by both or either of such means of repayment as the said commissioners shall deem most proper and convenient; and that immediately upon any such payment being made by the said commissioners for the reduction of the national debt, exchequer bills to the amount of the principal sum so paid off and discharged shall be delivered up to the said commissioners by the governor and company of England or bank of Ireland respectively; and the said commissioners shall forthwith cause the said exchequer bills to be delivered to the paymasters of exchequer bills to be cancelled, 5 G. 4. c. 62. s. 35.

30. Whenever the principal sum of any such exchequer bill or bills shall have been discharged and paid off by any sum or sums of money advanced from the sinking fund under the provisions of this act, the said commissioners for the reduction of the national debt shall cause their agent or proper officer to transfer, from any account standing in the names of the said commissioners in the books of the governor and company of the bank of England, or from any accounts standing in their names in the books of the bank of Ireland, under or by virtue of the said recited acts or any of them, or of this act, or of any act or acts relating to friendly societies, as the case may be, into the account standing in the names of the said commissioners in the books of the bank of England or bank of Ireland respectively, under the title of "the account of the commissioners appointed by act of parliament for applying certain sums of money annually to the reduction of the national debt," such an amount of stock as shall produce by computation the principal sum and interest of all such exchequer bills so paid off and discharged; and the said computations shall be made by the proper officer or officers of the said commissioners, according to the price at which such stock shall have been purchased by the said commissioners on the day of transferring the said amount of stock as aforesaid; and upon every such transfer of stock being made as herein-before directed, the accountant-general of the governor and company of the bank of England or bank of Ireland respectively, shall thereupon transmit to the office of the said commissioners for the reduction of the national debt, a certificate of every such transfer, containing the amount and description of stock so transferred, 5 G. 4. c. 62. s. 56.

31. Whenever the sum to be drawn for by the trustees of any savings banks in England or Ireland respectively, or by the trustees of any friendly society in England, shall amount to the sum of 5000*l.* or upwards, the amount of such draft shall not be payable or paid by the officer of the commissioners for the reduction of the national debt until the expiration of twenty-one days next after the day when the draft for such sum shall be produced to the said officer, 5 G. 4. c. 62. s. 37.

32. From 20th Nov. 1824, the schedules annexed to 57 G. 3. c. 105. and 58 G. 3. c. 48. s. 1. [See Stat. Dig. tit. BANKS FOR SAVINGS, pl. 32., and App. No. xlv.] shall be repealed, and that from 20th Nov. 1824, all receipts, orders, certificates, indorsements, accounts, returns, or instruments whatsoever, which shall be required for carrying into execution this act, and the recited acts, shall be in the form and contain such particulars, and be under the regulations from time to time directed or approved of by the commissioners for the reduction of the national debt, or their officer, 5 G. 4. c. 62. s. 38.

33. This act shall be a full and sufficient indemnity and discharge to the commissioners for the reduction of the national debt, and to the governor and company of the bank of England and bank of Ireland respectively, and their officers, for all things to be done or required or permitted to be done, pursuant to the said recited acts or this act, 5 G. 4. c. 62. s. 39.

(STATUTE in force.)

22. To amend the laws relating to bankrupts, 6 G. 4. c. 16.

23. Whereas it is expedient to amend the laws relating to bankrupts, and to simplify the language thereof, and to consolidate the same, so amended and simplified, in one act, and to make other provisions respecting bankrupts; be it therefore enacted, That the 34 & 35 H. 8. c. 4., 13 Eliz. c. 7., 1 J. 1. c. 15., 21 J. 1. c. 19., 15 & 14 Car. 2. c. 24., 10 Ann. c. 15., 7 G. 1. c. 31., 5 G. 2. c. 30., 19 G. 2. c. 32., and also so much of 24 G. 2. c. 57. [s. 9, 10.] as relates to the prevention of frauds by bankrupts, and to some further provisions in relation to the signing of certificates for the discharge of bankrupts; and also 4 G. 3. c. 33., and also so much of 36 G. 3. c. 90. [s. 1, 2.] as relates to trustees in whose names stock shall be standing at the bank becoming bankrupt, and to bankrupts refusing to transfer stock standing in their own right; and also 37 G. 3. c. 124.; and also so much of 45 G. 3. c. 124. [s. 1, 7.] as relates to the execution of certain bonds by traders having privilege of parliament, and to the disobedience by such traders of orders for payment of money; and also 46 G. 3. c. 135., 49 G. 3. c. 121., 56 G. 3. c. 137.; and also so much of 1 G. 4. c. 115. as relates to the punishment of frauds committed by bankrupts; and also 3 G. 4. c. 74., 3 G. 4. c. 81., and 5 G. 4. c. 98. shall be, and are hereby repealed, 6 G. 4. c. 16. s. 1.

24. All bankers, brokers, and persons using the trade or profession of a scrivener, receiving other men's monies or estates into their trust or custody, and persons insuring ships or their freight, or other matters, against perils of the sea, warehousemen, wharfingers, packers, builders, carpenters, shipwrights, victuallers, keepers of inns, taverns, hotels, or coffee-houses, dyers, printers, bleachers, fullers, calenderers, cattle, or sheep salesmen, and all persons using the trade of merchandize by way of bargaining, exchange, bartering, commission, consignment, or otherwise, in gross or by retail; and all persons who, either for themselves or as agents or factors for others, seek their living by buying and selling, or by buying and letting for hire, or by the workmanship of goods or commodities, shall be deemed traders liable to become bankrupt: Provided, that no farmer, grazier, common labourer, or workman for hire, receiver general of the taxes, or member of or subscriber to any incorporated, commercial, or trading companies, established by charter or act of parliament, shall be deemed as such a trader liable by virtue of this act to become bankrupt, 6 G. 4. c. 16. s. 2.

25. If any such trader shall depart this realm, or being out of this realm shall remain abroad, or depart from his dwelling house, or otherwise absent himself, or begin to keep his house, or suffer himself to be arrested for any debt not due, or yield himself to prison, or suffer himself to be outlawed, or procure himself to be arrested, or his goods, money, or chattels to be attached, sequestered, or taken in execution, or make or cause to be made, either within this realm or elsewhere, any fraudulent grant or conveyance of any of his lands, tenements, goods, or chattels, or make or cause to be made any fraudulent surrender of any of his copyhold lands or tenements, or make or cause to be made any fraudulent gift, delivery, or transfer of any of his goods or chattels; every such trader, doing, suffering, procuring, executing, permitting, making, or causing to be made, any of the acts, deeds, or matters aforesaid, with intent to defeat or delay his creditors, shall be deemed to have thereby committed an act of bankruptcy, 6 G. 4. c. 16. s. 3.

26. Where any such trader shall, after this act shall have come into effect, execute any conveyance or assignment, by deed, to a trustee or trustees, of all his estate and effects for the benefit of all the creditors of such trader, the execution of such deed shall not be deemed an act of bankruptcy, unless a commission issue against such trader within six calendar months from the execution thereof by such trader; provided that such deed shall be executed by every such trustee within fifteen days after the execution thereof by the said trader, and that the execution by such trader and by every such trustee be attested by an attorney or solicitor; and that notice be given within two months after the execution thereof by such trader, in case such trader reside in London or within forty miles thereof, in the London Gazette, and also in two London daily newspapers; and in case such trader does not reside within forty miles of London, then in the London Gazette, and also in one London daily newspaper and one provincial newspaper published near to such trader's residence; and such notice shall contain the date and execution of such deed, and the name and place of abode respectively of every such trustee and of such attorney or solicitor, 6 G. 4. c. 16. s. 4.

27. If any such trader, having been arrested or committed to prison for debt, or on any attachment for nonpayment of money, shall, upon such or any other arrest or commitment for debt or nonpayment of money, or upon any detention for debt, lie in prison for twenty-one days, or having been arrested or committed to prison for any other cause, shall lie in prison for twenty-one days, after any detainer for debt lodged against him, and not discharged, every such trader, shall be thereby deemed to have committed an act of bankruptcy; or if any such trader, having been arrested, committed, or detained for debt, shall escape out of prison or custody, every such trader shall be deemed to have thereby committed an act of bankruptcy from the time of such arrest, commitment, or detention: provided, that if any such trader shall be in prison at the time of the commencement of this act, such trader shall not be deemed to have committed an act of bankruptcy by lying in prison, until he shall have lain in prison for the period of two months, 6 G. 4. c. 16. s. 5.

28. If any such trader shall file in the office of the lord chancellor's secretary of bankrupts a declaration in writing, signed by such trader and attested by an attorney or solicitor, that he is insolvent or unable to meet his engagements, the said secretary of bankrupts or his deputy shall sign a memorandum that such declaration hath been filed, which memorandum shall be authority for the printer of the London Gazette to insert an advertisement of such declaration therein; and every such declaration shall, after such advertisement inserted as aforesaid, be an act of bankruptcy committed by such trader at the time when such declaration was filed; but no commission shall issue thereupon, unless it be sued out within two calendar months next after the insertion of such advertisement, and unless such advertisement shall have been inserted in the London Gazette within eight days after such declaration was filed; and no docket shall be struck upon such act of bankruptcy before the expiration of four days next after insertion of such advertisement, in case such commission is to be executed in London, or before the expiration of eight days next after such insertion, in case such commission is to be executed in the country; and the gazette containing such advertisement shall be evidence to be received of such declaration having been filed, 6 G. 4. c. 16. s. 6.

29. No commission under which the adjudication shall be grounded on the act of bankruptcy, being the filing of such declaration, shall be deemed invalid by reason of such declaration having been concerted or agreed upon between the bankrupt and any creditor or other person, 6 G. 4. c. 16. s. 7.

30. If any such trader liable by virtue of this act to become bankrupt, shall, after a docket struck against him, pay to the person who struck the same, money, or give or deliver to any such person any satisfaction or security for his debt, or any part thereof, whereby such person may receive more in the pound in respect of his debts than the other creditors, such payment, gift, delivery, satisfaction, or security, shall be an act of bankruptcy; and if any commission shall have issued upon the docket so struck as aforesaid, the lord chancellor may either declare such commission to be valid, and direct the same to be proceeded in, or may order it to be superseded, and a new commission may issue, and such commission may be supported either by proof of such last-mentioned or of any other act of bankruptcy; and every person so receiving such money, gift, delivery, satisfaction, or security as aforesaid, shall forfeit his whole debt, and also repay or deliver up such money, gift, satisfaction, or security as aforesaid, or the full value thereof, to such person as the commissioners acting under such original commission, or any new commission, shall appoint, for the benefit of the creditors of such bankrupt, 6 G. 4. c. 16. s. 8.

31. If any such trader having privilege of parliament shall commit any of the aforesaid acts of bankruptcy, a commission of bankrupt may issue against him, and the commissioners and all other persons acting under such commission, may proceed thereon in like manner as against other bankrupts, but such persons shall not be subject to be arrested or imprisoned during the time of such privilege, except in cases hereby made felony, 6 G. 4. c. 16. s. 9.

32. If any creditor or creditors of any such trader having privilege of parliament to such amount as is herein-after declared requisite to support a commission, shall file an affidavit or affidavits in any court of record at Westminster, that such debt or debts is or are justly due to him or them respectively, and that such debtor, as he or they verily believe, is such trader as aforesaid, and shall sue out of the same court a summons, or an original bill and summons against such trader, and serve him with a copy of such summons, if such trader shall not, within one calendar month after personal service of such summons, pay, secure, or compound for such debt or debts to the satisfaction of such creditor or creditors, or enter into a bond in such sum, and with two sufficient sureties, as any of the judges of the court out of which such summons shall issue shall approve of, to pay such sum as shall be recovered in such action or actions, together with such costs as shall be given in the same, and within one calendar month next after personal service of such summons cause an appearance or appearances to be entered to such action or actions, in the proper court or courts in which the same shall have been brought, every such trader shall be deemed to have committed an act of bankruptcy from the time of the service of such summons, and any creditor or creditors of such trader to such amount as aforesaid may sue out a commission against him, and proceed thereon in like manner as against other bankrupts, 6 G. 4. c. 16. s. 10.

33. If any decree or order shall have been pronounced in any cause depending in any court of equity, or any order made in any matter of bankruptcy or lunacy against any such trader having privilege of parliament, ordering such trader to pay any sum of money, and such trader shall disobey, the same having been duly served upon him, the person entitled to receive such sum under such decree or order, or interested in enforcing the payment thereof pursuant to such decree or order, may apply to the court by which the same shall have been pronounced to fix a peremptory day for the payment of such money, which shall accordingly be fixed by an order for that purpose; and if such trader being personally served with such last-mentioned order eight days before the day therein appointed for payment of such money, shall neglect to pay the same, he shall be deemed to have committed an act of bankruptcy from the time of the service thereof, and any such creditor as aforesaid may sue out a commission against him, and proceed thereon in like manner as against other bankrupts, 6 G. 4. c. 16. s. 11.

34. The lord chancellor shall have power, upon petition made to him in writing against any trader having committed any act of bankruptcy, by any creditor or creditors of such trader, by commission under the great seal, to appoint such persons as to him shall seem fit, who shall by virtue of this act and of such commission, have full power and authority to take such order and direction, with the body of such bankrupt, as herein-after mentioned, as also with all his lands, tenements, and hereditaments, both within this realm and abroad, as well copy or customaryhold as freehold, which he shall have in his own right before he became bankrupt, as also with all such interest in any such lands, tenements, and hereditaments, as such bankrupt may lawfully depart withall, and with all his money, fees, offices, annuities, goods, chattels, wares, merchandize, and debts, wheresoever they may be found or known, and to make sale thereof in manner herein-after mentioned, or otherwise order the same for satisfaction and payment of the creditors of the said bankrupt, 6 G. 4. c. 16. s. 12.

35. The petitioning creditor shall, before any commission be granted, make an affidavit in writing before a master ordinary or extraordinary in chancery (which shall be filed with the proper officer), of the truth of such his or their [so in act] respective debt or debts; and shall likewise give bond to the lord chancellor in the penalty of two hundred pounds to be conditioned for proving his or their debt or debts, as well before the commissioners as upon any trial at law, in case the due issuing forth of the commission be contested, and also for proving the party to have committed an act of bankruptcy at the time of taking out such commission, and to proceed on such commission; but if such debt or debts shall not be really due, or if after such commission taken out it be not proved that the party had committed an act of bankruptcy at the time of the issuing of the commission, and it shall also appear that such commission was taken out fraudulently or maliciously, the lord chancellor shall and may, upon petition of the party or parties against whom the commission was so taken out, examine into the same, and order satisfaction to be made to him or them for the damages by him or them sustained, and for the better recovery thereof, may assign such bond or bonds to the party or parties so petitioning, who may sue for the same in his and their name or names, 6 G. 4. c. 16. s. 16.

36. The petitioning creditor or creditors shall, at his or their own costs, sue forth and prosecute the commission until the choice of assignees; and the commissioners shall, at the meeting for such choice, ascertain such costs, and by writing under their hands direct the assignees (who are hereby thereto required) to reimburse such petitioning creditor or creditors such costs out of the first money that shall be got in under the commission; and all bills of fees or disbursements of any solicitor or attorney employed under any commission for business done after the choice of assignees, shall be settled by the commissioners, except that so much of such bills as contain any charge respecting any action at law, or suit in equity, shall be settled by the proper officer of the court in which such business shall have been transacted, and the same, so settled, shall be paid by the assignee to such solicitor or attorney; provided that any creditor who shall have proved to the amount of twenty pounds or upwards, if he be dissatisfied with such settlement by the commissioners, may have any such costs and bills settled by a master in chancery, who shall receive for such settlement, and the certificate thereof, twenty shillings, and no more, 6 G. 4. c. 16. s. 14.

37. No such commission shall be issued unless the single debt of such creditor, or of two or more persons being partners, petitioning for the same, shall amount to one hundred pounds or upwards, or unless the debt of two creditors so petitioning shall amount to one hundred and fifty pounds or upwards, or unless the debt of three or more creditors so petitioning shall amount to two hundred pounds or upwards; and that every person who has given credit to any trader upon valuable consideration for any sum payable at a certain time which time shall not have arrived when such trader committed an act of bankruptcy, may so petition or join in petitioning as aforesaid, whether he shall have any security in writing or otherwise for such sum or not, 6 G. 4. c. 16. s. 15.

38. Any creditor or creditors whose debt or debts is or are sufficient to entitle him or them to petition for a commission against all the partners of any firm, may petition for a commission against one or more partners of such firm, and every commission issued upon such petition shall be valid although it does not include all the partners of the firm; and in every commission against two or more persons it shall be lawful for the lord chancellor to supersede such commission as to one or more of such persons, and the validity of such commission shall not be thereby affected as to any person as to whom such commission is not ordered to be superseded, nor shall any such person's certificate be thereby affected, 6 G. 4. c. 16. s. 16.

39. If after a commission issued against two or more members of a firm any other commission or commissions shall be issued against any other member or members of such firm, such other commission or commissions shall be directed to the commissioners to whom the first commission was directed, and immediately after the adjudication under such other commission or commissions the commissioners shall convey and assign all the estate real and personal of such bankrupt or bankrupts to the assignees chosen in the first commission; and after such conveyance all separate proceedings under such other commission or commissions shall be stayed, and such commission or commissions shall, without affecting the validity of the first commission, be annexed to and form part of the same; provided, that the lord chancellor may direct that such other commission or commissions be issued to any other commissioners, or that such other commission or commissions shall proceed either separately or in conjunction with the first commission, 6 G. 4. c. 16. s. 17.

40. If after adjudication the debt or debts of the petitioning creditor or creditors, or any of them, be found insufficient to support a commission, it shall be lawful for the lord chancellor, upon the application of any other creditor or creditors, having proved any debt or debts sufficient to support a commission, (provided such debt or debts has or have been incurred not anterior to the debt or debts of the petitioning creditor or creditors,) to order the said commission to be proceeded in, and it shall by such order be deemed valid, 6 G. 4. c. 16. s. 18.

41. No commission shall be deemed invalid by reason of any act of bankruptcy prior to the debt or debts of the petitioning creditor or creditors, or any of them, provided there be a sufficient act of bankruptcy subsequent to such debt or debts, 6 G. 4. c. 16. s. 19.

42. It shall be lawful for the lord chancellor to direct an auxiliary commission to issue for proof of debts under twenty pounds, and for the examination of witnesses on oath, or for either of such purposes; and the commissioners in every such commission issued for the examination of witnesses shall possess the same powers to compel the attendance of and to examine witnesses, and to enforce both obedience to such examination, and the production of books, deeds, papers, writings, and other documents, as are possessed by the commissioners in any original commission; provided, that all such examinations of witnesses under such commissions shall be taken down in writing, and shall be annexed to and form part of the original commission, 6 G. 4. c. 16. s. 20.

43. No commissioner shall be capable of acting in the execution of any of the powers and authorities given by this act (except the power hereby given of administering the oath next, herein-after mentioned), until he shall have taken an oath in the presence of one or more of the said commissioners, to the effect following; (that is to say),

'I A. B. do swear, That I will faithfully, impartially, and honestly, according to the best of my skill and knowledge, execute the several powers and trusts reposed in me as a commissioner in a commission of bankruptcy against ——— and that without favour or affection, prejudice or malice.

'So help me GOD.'

Which oath the commissioners are hereby empowered and required to administer one to another in the same commission named; and they shall enter and keep a memorial or memorials thereof, signed by them respectively, among the proceedings under each commission, 6 G. 4. c. 16. s. 21.

44. The said commissioners shall receive and be paid the fee of twenty shillings each commissioner for every meeting, and the like sum for every deed of conveyance executed by them, and for the signature of the bankrupt's certificate; and where any commission shall be executed in the country, every commissioner, being a barrister at law, shall receive a further fee of twenty shillings for each meeting; and in case the usual place of residence of such commissioner, being a barrister, is distant seven miles or upwards from the place where such meetings are holden, and he shall travel such distance to any such meeting, he may receive a further sum of twenty shillings for every such meeting; and every commissioner who shall receive from the creditors, or out of the estate of the bankrupt, any further sum than as aforesaid, or who shall eat or drink at the charge of the creditors, or out of the estate of the bankrupt, or order any such expence to be made, shall be disabled for ever from acting in such or any other commission, 6 G. 4. c. 16. s. 22.

45. At every meeting under any commission to be executed in the country, wherein any one or more of the commissioners named may be a barrister or barristers, such barrister or barristers, or as many of them as shall be willing to attend, not exceeding three at each meeting, shall be the acting commissioner or commissioners, and shall be entitled to his or their summonses and fees accordingly, in priority to any of the other commissioners in the said commission named, 6 G. 4. c. 16. s. 23.

46. It shall be lawful for the commissioners, after they shall have taken such oath as aforesaid, by writing under their hands, to summon before them any person whom they shall believe capable of giving any information concerning the trading of or any act or acts of bankruptcy committed by the person or persons against whom such commission is issued, and also to require any person so summoned to produce any books, papers, deeds, and writings, and other documents in his custody, possession, or power, which may appear to the said commissioners to be necessary to establish such trading or act or acts of bankruptcy; and it shall be lawful for the said commissioners to examine any such person upon oath, by word of mouth, or interrogatories in writing, concerning the trade of or any act or acts of bankruptcy committed by the person or persons against whom such commission shall have issued; and every such person so summoned shall incur such danger or penalty for not coming before the commissioners, or for refusing to be sworn and examined, or for not fully answering to the satisfaction of the said commissioners or for refusing to sign or subscribe his examination, or for refusing to produce or for not producing any such book, paper, deed, writing, or document, as is hereby provided as to persons summoned after the adjudication of bankruptcy; and the commissioners, upon proof made before them of the petitioning creditor's debt or debts, and of the trading and act or acts of bankruptcy of the person or persons against whom such commission is issued, shall thereupon adjudge such person or persons bankrupt, 6 G. 4. c. 16. s. 24.

47. The commissioners, after they have so adjudged as aforesaid, shall forthwith cause notice of such adjudication to be given in the London Gazette, and shall thereby appoint three public meetings for the bankrupt to surrender and conform, the last of which meetings shall be on the forty-second day hereby limited for such surrender, 6 G. 4. c. 16. s. 25.

48. No commission shall abate by reason of a demise of the crown, and (if by reason of the death of commissioners, or for any other cause, it become necessary) any commission may be renewed, but only half the fees usually paid upon obtaining commissions shall be paid for the same; and if any bankrupt shall die after adjudication, the commissioners may proceed in the commission as they might have done if he were living, 6 G. 4. c. 16. s. 26.

49. It shall be lawful for any person appointed by the commissioners, by warrant under their hands and seals, to break open any house, chamber, shop, warehouse, door, trunk, or chest of any bankrupt, where such bankrupt or any of his property shall be reputed to be, and seize upon the body or property of such bankrupt; and if the bankrupt be in prison or in custody, it shall be lawful for the person so appointed as aforesaid to seize any property (his necessary wearing apparel only excepted) in the custody or possession of such bankrupt, or of any other person, in any prison or place where such bankrupt is in custody, 6 G. 4. c. 16. s. 27.

50. It shall be lawful for the person so appointed by the commissioner, as aforesaid, to break open any house, chamber, shop, warehouse, door, trunk, or chest of such bankrupt in Ireland, where any of the property of such bankrupt shall be reputed to be, and seize the same; provided such warrant as aforesaid shall have been verified upon oath by the attorney or solicitor suing out the commission, before the mayor or other chief magistrate of the city, borough, or town corporate where or near to which the said commission is executed, and verified under the common seal thereof, or the seal of the office of such mayor or other magistrate; and provided also, that the person thereby appointed shall, before a justice of peace residing in the county where such property shall be reputed to be, depose, upon oath, that he is the person named in such warrant, 6 G. 4. c. 16. s. 28.

51. In all cases where it shall be made to appear to the satisfaction of any justice of peace in England or Ireland, that there is reason to suspect and believe that property of the bankrupt is concealed in any house, premises, or other place not belonging to such bankrupt, such justice of peace is hereby directed and authorized to grant a search warrant to the person so deputed by the commissioners as aforesaid, and it shall be lawful for such person to execute the same in like manner, and such person shall be entitled to the same protection as is allowed by law in execution of a search warrant for property reputed to be stolen and concealed, 6 G. 4. c. 16. s. 29.

52. If in the execution of any warrant of seizure so granted by the commissioners as aforesaid, it shall be necessary to break open any house, chamber, shop, warehouse, door, trunk, or chest of such bankrupt in Scotland, where any of the property of such bankrupt shall be reputed to be, or to seize and get possession of such property; such warrant, after having been verified upon oath as aforesaid [s. 28. pl. 50.], may be backed or indorsed with the name of a judge ordinary or justice of the peace in Scotland, who are hereby required, within their respective jurisdictions, to back or indorse the same; and such warrant so indorsed shall be sufficient authority to the person bringing such warrant, and to all officers of the law in Scotland, to execute the same within the county or burgh wherein it is so indorsed, and in virtue thereof to break open the house, chamber, shop, warehouse, door, trunk, or chest of such bankrupt, and to seize and take possession of such property, to be distributed under the said commission, or otherwise dealt with according to law, 6 G. 4. c. 16. s. 30.

53. No action shall be brought against any person so appointed by the commissioners, for any thing done in obedience to their warrant prior to the choice of assignees, unless demand of the perusal and copy of such warrant hath been made or left at the usual place of abode of such person by the party intending to bring such action, or by his attorney or agent, in writing, signed by the party demanding the same, and unless the same hath been refused or neglected for six days after such demand; and if after such demand and compliance therewith any action be brought against the person so appointed as aforesaid, without making the petitioning creditor or creditors defendant or defendants (if living), on producing and proving such warrant at the trial of such action, the jury shall give their verdict for the defendant, notwithstanding any defect of jurisdiction in the commissioners; and if such action be brought against the petitioning creditor or creditors and the person so appointed as aforesaid, the jury shall, on proof of such warrant, give their verdict for the person so appointed as aforesaid, notwithstanding any such defect of jurisdiction as aforesaid; and if the verdict shall be given against the petitioning creditor or creditors, the plaintiff shall recover his or their costs against him or them, to be taxed so as to include such costs as the plaintiff or plaintiffs are liable to pay to the person so appointed as aforesaid, 6 G. 4. c. 16. s. 31.

54. In any such action so brought as aforesaid against the petitioning creditor or creditors, either alone or jointly with the person so appointed by the commissioners as aforesaid, for any thing done in obedience to their warrant, proof by the plaintiff that the defendant or defendants, or any of them, are petitioning creditors, shall be sufficient for the purpose of making such defendant or defendants liable, in the same manner, and to the same extent, as if the act complained of in such action had been done or committed by such defendant or defendants, 6 G. 4. c. 16. s. 32.

55. After adjudication it shall be lawful for the commissioners, by writing under their hands, to summon before them any person known or suspected to have any of the estate of the bankrupt in his possession, or who is supposed to be indebted to the bankrupt, or any person whom the commissioners believe capable of giving information concerning the person, trade, dealings, or estate of such bankrupt, or concerning any act or acts of bankruptcy committed by him, or any information material to the full disclosure of the dealings of the bankrupt; and it shall be lawful for the said commissioners to require such person to produce any books, papers, deeds, writings, or other documents in his custody or power, which may appear to the commissioners necessary to the verification of the deposition of such person, or to the full disclosure of any of the matters which the commissioners are authorized to inquire into; and if such person so summoned as aforesaid shall not come before the commissioners at the time appointed, having no lawful impediment (made known to the said commissioners at the time of their meeting, and allowed by them), it shall be lawful for the said commissioners, by warrant under their hands and seals, to authorize and direct the person or persons therein named for that purpose, to apprehend and arrest such person, and bring him before them to be examined as aforesaid, 6 G. 4. c. 16. s. 33.

56. Upon the appearance of any person so summoned or brought before the commissioners as aforesaid, or if any person be present at any meeting of the commissioners, it shall be lawful for them to examine ever such person upon oath, either by word of mouth or by interrogatories in writing, concerning the person, trade, dealings, or estate of such bankrupt, or concerning any act or acts of bankruptcy by such bankrupt committed, and to reduce into writing the answers of every such person, and such answers so reduced into writing the party examined is hereby required to sign and subscribe; and if any such person shall refuse to be sworn, or shall refuse to answer any lawful questions put to him by the said commissioners touching any of the matters aforesaid, or shall not fully answer to the satisfaction of the said commissioners any such lawful questions, or shall refuse to sign and subscribe his examination so reduced into writing as aforesaid (not having any lawful objection allowed by the said commissioners), or shall not produce any books, papers, deeds, and writings, and other documents in his custody or power, relating to any of the matters aforesaid, which such person was required by the commissioners to produce, and to the production of which he shall not state any objection allowed by the said commissioners, it shall be lawful for them, by warrant under their hands and seals, to commit him to such prison as they shall think fit, there to remain without bail, until he shall submit himself to them to be sworn, and full answers make to the [so in act, qu. their] satisfaction, to all such lawful questions as shall be put to him, and sign and subscribe such examination, and produce such books, papers, deeds, writings, and other documents as aforesaid, in his custody or power, to the production of which no such objection as aforesaid has been allowed, 6 G. 4. c. 16. s. 34.

57. Where any person known or suspected to have any of the estate of the bankrupt in his possession, or who is supposed to be indebted to the bankrupt, shall be summoned to attend before the said commissioners, every such person shall have such costs and charges as the said commissioners in their discretion shall think fit; and every witness summoned to attend before the commissioners shall have his necessary expences tendered to him, in like manner as is now by law required upon service of a subpoena to a witness in an action at law, 4 G. 4. c. 16. s. 35.

58. It shall be lawful for the commissioners, by writing under their hands, to summon any bankrupt before them, whether such bankrupt shall have obtained his certificate or not; and in case he shall not come at the time by them appointed (having no lawful impediment made known to them at such time and allowed by them), it shall be lawful for the said commissioners, by warrant under their hands and seals, to authorize and direct any person they shall think fit to apprehend and arrest such bankrupt, and bring him before them; and upon the appearance of such bankrupt, or if such bankrupt be present at any meeting of the said commissioners, it shall be lawful for them to examine such bankrupt upon oath, either by word of mouth, or on interrogatories in writing, touching all matters relating either to his trade, dealings, or estate, or which may tend to disclose any secret grant, conveyance, or concealment of his lands, tenements, goods, money, or debts, and to reduce his answers into writing, which examination, so reduced into writing, the said bankrupt shall sign and subscribe; and if such bankrupt shall refuse to be sworn, or shall refuse to answer any questions put to him by the said commissioners touching any of the matters aforesaid, or shall not fully answer to the satisfaction of the said commissioners any such questions, or shall refuse to sign and subscribe his examination so reduced into writing as aforesaid (not having any lawful objection allowed by the said commissioners), it shall be lawful for the said commissioners, by warrant under their hands and seals, to commit him to such prison as they shall think fit, there to remain without bail until he shall submit himself to the said commissioners to be sworn, and full answers make to their satisfaction to such questions as shall be put to him, and sign and subscribe such examination, 6 G. 4. c. 16. s. 36.

59. It shall be lawful for the commissioners, in manner aforesaid, to summon before them the wife of any bankrupt, and in manner aforesaid to examine her for the finding out and discovery of the estate, goods, and chattels of such bankrupt, concealed, kept, or disposed of by such wife, in her own person, or by her own act, or by any other person, and she shall incur such danger or penalty for not coming before the commissioners, or for refusing to be sworn and examined, or for refusing to sign or subscribe her examination, or for not fully answering to the satisfaction of the commissioners, as is hereby provided against other persons, 6 G. 4. c. 16. s. 37.

60. If any gaoler to whose custody any bankrupt or other person shall be committed as aforesaid, shall suffer such bankrupt or other person to escape, every such gaoler shall forfeit five hundred pounds, 6 G. 4. c. 16. s. 38.

61. If any person be committed by the commissioners for refusing to answer, or for not fully answering any question put to him by the said commissioners, they shall in their warrant of commitment specify every such question: provided, that if any person committed by the commissioners shall bring any habeas corpus in order to be discharged from such commitment, and there shall appear on the return of such habeas corpus any such insufficiency in the form of the warrant whereby such person was committed, by reason whereof he might be discharged, it shall be lawful for the court or judge before whom such party shall be brought by habeas corpus, and such court or judge is hereby required to commit such person to the same prison, there to remain until he shall conform, unless it shall be shewn to such court or judge by the party committed, that he has fully answered all lawful questions put to him by the commissioners; or if such person was committed for refusing to be sworn, or for not signing his examination, unless it shall appear to such court or judge that he had a sufficient reason for the same; provided also, that such court or judge shall, if required thereto by the party committed, in case the whole of the examination of the party so committed shall not have been stated in the warrant of commitment, inspect and consider the whole of the examination of such party, whereof any such question was a part; and if it shall appear from the whole examination that the answer or answers of the party committed is or are satisfactory, such court or judge shall order the party so committed to be discharged, 6 G. 4. c. 16. s. 39.

62. In every action in respect of any such commitment brought by any bankrupt or other person committed, the court or judge before which or whom such action is tried shall, if thereto required by the defendant (in case the whole of the examination of the party so committed shall not have been stated in the warrant of commitment), inspect and consider the whole of such examination; and if upon such inspection and consideration it shall appear to such court or judge that the party was lawfully committed, the defendant shall have the same benefit therefrom as if the whole of such examination had been therein stated, 6 G. 4. c. 16. s. 40.

63. No writ shall be issued out against nor copy of any process served on any commissioner for any thing by him done as such commissioner, unless notice in writing of such intended writ or process shall have been delivered to him or left at his usual place of abode by the attorney or agent for the party intending to sue or cause the same to be sued out or served, at least one calendar month before the suing out or serving the same; and such notice shall set forth the cause of action which such party has or claims to have against such commissioner, and on the back of such notice shall be indorsed the name of such attorney or agent, together with the place of his abode, who shall receive no more than twenty shillings for preparing and serving such notice, 6 G. 4. c. 16. s. 41.

64. No such plaintiff shall recover any verdict against such commissioner in any case where the action shall be grounded on any act of the defendant as commissioner, unless it is proved upon the trial of such action that such notice was given as aforesaid, but in default thereof such commissioner shall recover a verdict and costs, as herein-after mentioned; and no evidence shall be permitted to be given by the plaintiff on the trial of any cause of action, except such as is contained in the notice, 6 G. 4. c. 16. s. 42.

65. Every such commissioner may, at any time within one calendar month after such notice, tender amends to the party complaining, or to his agent or attorney; and if the same is not accepted, may plead such tender in bar to any action brought against him, grounded on such writ or process, together with the plea of not guilty, and any other plea, with leave of the court; and if upon issue joined thereon, the jury shall find he amends so tendered to have been sufficient, they shall give a verdict for the defendant; and if the plaintiff shall become nonsuit, or shall discontinue his action, or if judgment shall be given for such defendant upon demurrer, such commissioner shall be entitled to the like costs as he would have been entitled to in case he had pleaded the general issue only; and if upon issue so joined, the jury shall find that no amends were tendered, or that the same were not sufficient, and also against the defendant on such other plea or pleas, they shall give a verdict for the plaintiff, and such damages as they shall think proper, which he shall recover together with costs of suit: provided, that if any such commissioner shall neglect to tender any amends, or shall have tendered insufficient amends before the action brought, he may, by leave of the court where such action shall depend, at any time before issue joined, pay into court such sum of money as he shall think fit, whereupon such proceedings shall be had in court as in other actions where the defendant is allowed to pay money into court, 6 G. 4. c. 16. s. 43.

66. Every action brought against any person for any thing done in pursuance of this act shall be commenced within three calendar months next after the fact committed; and the defendant may plead the general issue, and give this act and the special matter in evidence, and that the same was done by authority of this act; and if it shall appear so to have been done, or that such action was commenced after the time before limited for bringing the same, the jury shall find for the defendant; and if there be a verdict for the defendant, or if the plaintiff shall be nonsuited, or discontinue his action after appearance thereto, or if upon demurrer judgment shall be given against him, the defendant shall recover double costs, 6 G. 4. c. 16. s. 44.

67. It shall be lawful for the commissioners as often as they shall think fit, by writing under their hands, to appoint one or more person or persons as assignee or assignees of the bankrupt's real and personal estate, or of any part thereof, which assignee or assignees shall or may be removed at the meeting of the creditors for the choice of assignees, if they shall think fit; and such assignee or assignees so removed shall deliver up and assign all the estate of the bankrupt come to his or their possession to the assignees so chosen as hereinafter-mentioned, and all the estate of the bankrupt which shall be so delivered up and assigned, shall be as effectually and legally vested in the assignees so chosen as aforesaid, as if the first assignment had been made to them by the commissioners; and if such first assignee or assignees shall not within ten days after notice given of the said choice of assignees, and of their consent to accept such assignment, signified to the first assignee or assignees by writing under their hands, make such assignment and delivery as aforesaid, every such assignee shall forfeit two hundred pounds, 6 G. 4. c. 16. s. 45.

68. At the three several meetings so appointed by the commissioners as aforesaid, and at every other meeting by them appointed for proof of debts (whereof and of the purport whereof, ten days' notice shall have been given in the London Gazette), every creditor of the bankrupt may prove his debt by his own oath; and all bodies politic, and public companies, incorporated or authorized to sue or bring actions [see Guthrie v. Fish, 5 B. & C. 178.], either by charter or act of parliament, may prove by an agent, provided such agent shall in his deposition swear that he is such agent as aforesaid, and that he is authorized to make such proof; and if any creditor shall live remote from the place of the meeting of the commissioners, he may prove by affidavit, sworn before a master in chancery, ordinary or extraordinary; or if such creditor shall live out of England, by affidavit sworn before a magistrate where such creditor shall be residing, and attested by a notary public, British minister, or consul, and no creditor shall pay any contribution on account of any such debt; provided, that it shall be lawful for the said commissioners to examine upon oath, either by word of mouth, or by interrogatories in writing, every person claiming to prove a debt under the said commission, or to require such further proof, and to examine such other persons in relation thereto, as they shall think fit, 6 G. 4. c. 16. s. 46.

69. Every person with whom any bankrupt shall have really and bonâ fide contracted any debt or demand before the issuing the commission against him, shall, notwithstanding any prior act of bankruptcy committed by such bankrupt, be admitted to prove the same, and be a creditor under such commission, as if no such act of bankruptcy had been committed, provided such person had not, at the time the same was contracted, notice of any act of bankruptcy by such bankrupt committed, 6 G. 4. c. 16. s. 47.

70. When any bankrupt shall have been indebted, at the time of issuing the commission against him, to any servant or clerk of such bankrupt, in respect of the wages or salary of such servant or clerk, it shall be lawful for the commissioners, upon proof thereof, to order so much as shall be so due as aforesaid, not exceeding six months' wages or salary, to be paid to such servant or clerk out of the estate of such bankrupt; and such servant or clerk shall be at liberty to prove under the commission for any sum exceeding such last-mentioned amount, 6 G. 4. c. 16. s. 48.

71. Where any person shall be an apprentice to a bankrupt at the time of issuing of the commission against him, the issuing of such commission shall be and enure as a complete discharge of the indenture whereby such apprentice was bound to such bankrupt; and if any sum shall have been really and bonâ fide paid, by or on the behalf of such apprentice to the bankrupt, as an apprentice fee, it shall be lawful for the commissioners, upon proof thereof, to order any sum to be paid to or for the use of such apprentice which they shall think reasonable, regard being had, in estimating such sum, to the amount of the sum so paid by or on behalf of such apprentice to the bankrupt, and to the time during which such apprentice shall have resided with the bankrupt previous to the issuing of the commission, 6 G. 4. c. 16. s. 49.

72. Where there has been mutual credit given by the bankrupt and any other person, or where there are mutual debts between the bankrupt and any other person, the commissioners shall state the account between them, and one debt or demand may be set against another, notwithstanding any prior act of bankruptcy committed by such bankrupt before the credit given to or the debt contracted by him, and what shall appear due on either side on the balance of such account, and no more, shall be claimed or paid on either side respectively, and every debt or demand hereby made proveable against the estate of the bankrupt, may also be set off in manner aforesaid against such estate; provided that the person claiming the benefit of such set-off had not, when such credit was given, notice of an act of bankruptcy by such bankrupt committed, 6 G. 4. c. 16. s. 50.

73. Any person who shall have given credit to the bankrupt upon valuable consideration, for any money or other matter or thing whatsoever, which shall not have become payable when such bankrupt committed an act of bankruptcy, and whether such credit shall have been given upon any bill, bond, note, or other negotiable security, or not, shall be entitled to prove such debt, bill, bond, note, or other security, as if the same was payable presently, and receive dividends equally with the other creditors, deducting only thereout a rebate of interest for what he shall so receive, at the rate of five per cent., to be computed from the declaration of a dividend to the time such debt would have become payable, according to the terms upon which it was contracted, 6 G. 4. c. 16. s. 51.

74. Any person who at the issuing the commission shall be surety or liable for any debt of the bankrupt, or bail for the bankrupt, either to the sheriff or to the action, if he shall have paid the debt, or any part thereof in discharge of the whole debt (although he may have paid the same after the commission issued), if the creditor shall have proved his debt under the commission, shall be entitled to stand in the place of such creditor as to the dividends and all other rights under the said commission which such creditor possessed or would be entitled to in respect of such proof; or if the creditor shall not have proved under the commission, such surety or person liable, or bail, shall be entitled to prove his demand in respect of such payment as a debt under the commission, not disturbing the former dividends, and may receive dividends with the other creditors, although he may have become surety, liable, or bail as aforesaid, after an act of bankruptcy committed by such bankrupt; provided that such person had not, when he became such surety or bail, or so liable as aforesaid, notice of any act of bankruptcy by such bankrupt committed, 6 G. 4. c. 16. s. 52.

75. The obligee in any bottomry or respondentia bond, and the assured in any policy of insurance made upon good and valuable consideration, shall be admitted to claim, and after the loss or contingency shall have happened, to prove his debt or demand in respect thereof, and receive dividends with the other creditors, as if the loss or contingency had happened before the issuing the commission against such obligor or insurer; and that the person effecting any policy of insurance upon ships or goods with any person, as a subscriber or underwriter, becoming bankrupt, shall be entitled to prove any loss to which such bankrupt shall be liable in respect of such subscription, although the person so effecting such policy was not beneficially interested in such ships or goods, in case the person or persons so interested is not or are not within the united realm, 6 G. 4. c. 16. s. 53.

76. Any annuity creditor of any bankrupt, by whatever assurance the same be secured, and whether there were or not any arrears of such annuity due at the bankruptcy, shall be entitled to prove for the value of such annuity, which value the commissioners shall ascertain, regard being had to the original price given for the said annuity, deducting therefrom such diminution in the value thereof as shall have been caused by the lapse of time since the grant thereof to the date of the commission, 6 G. 4. c. 16. s. 54.

77. It shall not be lawful for any person entitled to any annuity granted by any bankrupt, to sue any person who may be collateral surety for the payment of such annuity, until such annuitant shall have proved under the commission against such bankrupt for the value of such annuity, and for the payment thereof; and if such surety after such proof pay the amount proved as aforesaid, he shall be thereby discharged from all claims in respect of such annuity; and if such surety shall not (before any payment of the said annuity subsequent to the bankruptcy shall have become due) pay the sum so proved as aforesaid, he may be said [so in act, but qu. sued] for the accruing payments of such annuity, until such annuitant shall have paid or satisfied the amount so proved, with interest thereon at the rate of four per cent. per annum, from the time of notice of such proof, and of the amount thereof being given to such surety; and after such payment or satisfaction, such surety shall stand in the place of such annuitant in respect of such proof as aforesaid, to the amount so paid or satisfied as aforesaid by such surety; and the certificate of the bankrupt shall be a discharge to him from all claims of such annuitant or of such surety in respect of such annuity; provided that such surety shall be entitled to credit in account with such annuitant for any dividends received by such annuitant under the commission, before such surety shall have fully paid or satisfied the amount so proved as aforesaid, 6 G. 4. c. 16. s. 55. [See Watkins v. Flanagan, 1 Bing. 413.]

78. If any bankrupt shall, before the issuing of the commission, have contracted any debt payable upon a contingency which shall not have happened before the issuing of such commission, the person with whom such debt has been contracted may, if he think fit, apply to the commissioners to set a value upon such debt, and the commissioners are hereby required to ascertain the value thereof, and to admit such person to prove the amount so ascertained, and to receive dividends thereon; or if such value shall not be so ascertained before the contingency shall have happened, then such person may, after such contingency shall have happened, prove in respect of such debt, and receive dividend with the other creditors, not disturbing any former dividends; provided such person had not, when such debt was contracted, notice of any act of bankruptcy by such bankrupt committed, 6 G. 4. c. 16. s. 56.

79. In all future commissions against any person or persons liable upon any bill of exchange or promissory note, whereupon interest is not reserved, overdue at the issuing the commission, the holder of such bill of exchange or promissory note shall be entitled to prove for interest upon the same, to be calculated by the commissioners to the date of the commission, at such rate as is allowed by the Court of King's Bench in actions upon such bills or notes, 6 G. 4. c. 16. s. 57.

80. If any plaintiff in any action at law or suit in equity, or petition in bankruptcy or lunacy, shall have obtained any judgment, decree, or order against any person who shall thereafter become bankrupt for any debt or demand in respect of which such plaintiff or petitioner shall prove under the commission, such plaintiff or petitioner shall also be entitled to prove for the costs which he shall have incurred in obtaining the same, although such costs shall not have been taxed at the time of the bankruptcy, 6 G. 4. c. 16. s. 58.

81. No creditor who has brought any action, or instituted any suit against any bankrupt, in respect of a demand prior to the bankruptcy, or which might have been proved as a debt under the commission against such bankrupt, shall prove a debt under such commission, or have any claim entered upon the proceedings under such commission, without relinquishing such action or suit; and in case such bankrupt shall be in prison or custody at the suit of or detained by such creditor, he shall not prove or claim as aforesaid, without giving a sufficient authority in writing for the discharge of such bankrupt; and the proving or claiming a debt under a commission by any creditor, shall be deemed an election by such creditor to take the benefit of such commission, with respect to the debt so proved or claimed; provided that such creditor shall not be liable to the payment to such bankrupt, or his assignees, of the costs of such action or suit so relinquished by him; and that where any such creditor shall have brought any action or suit against such bankrupt, jointly with any other person or persons, his relinquishing such action or suit against the bankrupt, shall not affect such action or suit against such other person or persons: provided also, that any creditor who shall have so elected to prove or claim as aforesaid, if the commission be afterwards superseded, may proceed in the action as if he had not so elected, and in bailable actions shall be at liberty to arrest the defendant de novo, if he has not put in bail below, or perfected bail above, or if the defendant has put in or perfected such bail, to have recourse against such bail, by requiring the bail below to put in and perfect bail above within the first eight days in term, after notice in the London Gazette of the superseding such commission, and by suing the bail upon their recognizance, if the condition thereof is broken, 6 G. 4. c. 16. s. 59.

82. Whenever it shall appear to the assignees or to two or more creditors, who have each proved debts to the amount of twenty pounds or upwards, that any debt proved under the commission is not justly due either in whole or in part, such assignees or creditors may make representation thereof to the commissioners; and it shall be lawful for the said commissioners to summon before them and examine upon oath any person who shall have so proved as aforesaid, together with any person whose evidence may appear to the commissioners to be material, either in support of or in opposition to any such debt; and if the said commissioners, upon the evidence given on both sides or (if the person who shall have so proved as aforesaid shall not attend to be examined, having been first duly summoned, or notice having been left at his last place of abode) upon the evidence adduced by such assignees or creditors as aforesaid, shall be of opinion that such debt is not due either wholly or in part, the said commissioners shall be at liberty to expunge the same, either wholly or in part, from the proceedings: provided, that such assignees or creditors requiring such investigation shall, before it is instituted, sign an undertaking, to be filed with the proceedings, to pay such costs as the commissioners shall adjudge to the creditor who has proved such debt as aforesaid, such costs to be recovered by petition: provided also, that such assignees or creditors may apply in the first instance by petition to the lord chancellor, or that either party may petition against the determination of the commissioners, 6 G. 4. c. 16. s. 60.

83. At the second meeting appointed by the commissioners as aforesaid, or any adjournment thereof, assignees of the bankrupt's estate and effects shall be chosen; and all creditors who have proved debts under the commission to the amount of ten pounds and upwards shall be entitled to vote in such choice; and also any person authorized by letter of attorney from any such creditor or creditors, upon proof of the execution thereof, either by affidavit sworn before a master in chancery, ordinary or extraordinary, or by oath before the commissioners viva voce, and in case of creditors residing out of England, by oath before a magistrate where the party shall be residing, duly attested by a notary public, British minister or consul, and the choice shall be made by the major part in value of the creditors so entitled to vote: provided that the commissioners shall have power to reject any person so chosen who shall appear to them unfit to be such assignee as aforesaid, and upon such rejection a new choice of another assignee or assignees shall be made as aforesaid, 6 G. 4. c. 16. s. 61.

84. In all commissions against one or more of the partners of a firm, any creditor to whom the bankrupt is indebted, jointly with the other partner or partners of the said firm, or any of them, shall be entitled to prove his debt under such commission for the purpose only of voting in the choice of assignees under such commission, and of assenting to or dissenting from the certificate of such bankrupt, or of either of such purposes; but such creditors shall not receive any dividend out of the separate estate of the bankrupt until all the separate creditors shall have received the full amount of their respective debts, unless such creditor shall be a petitioning creditor in a commission against one member of a firm, 6 G. 4. c. 16. s. 62.

85. The commissioners shall assign to the assignees, for the benefit of the creditors of the bankrupt, all the present and future personal estate of such bankrupt wheresoever the same may be found or known, and all property which he may purchase, or which may revert, descend, be devised or bequeathed or come to him, before he shall have obtained his certificate; and the commissioners shall also assign as aforesaid all debts due or to be due to the bankrupt wheresoever the same may be found or known, and such assignment shall vest the property, right, and interest in such debts in such assignees, as fully as if the assurance whereby they are secured had been made to such assignees; and after such assignment, neither the bankrupt nor any person claiming through or under him shall have power to recover the same, nor to make any release or discharge thereof, neither shall the same be attached as the debt of the bankrupt by any person according to the custom of the city of London or otherwise, but such assignees shall have like remedy to recover the same in their own names as the bankrupt himself might have had if he had not been adjudged bankrupt, 6 G. 4. c. 16. s. 63.

86. The commissioners shall, by deed indented and inrolled in any of H. M.'s courts of record, convey to the said assignees, for the benefit of the creditors as aforesaid, all lands, tenements, and hereditaments, except copy or customaryhold in England, Scotland, Ireland, or in any of the dominions, plantations, or colonies belonging to H. M., to which any bankrupt is entitled, and all interest to which such bankrupt is entitled in any of such lands, tenements, or hereditaments, and of which he might, according to the laws of the several countries, dominions, plantations, or colonies have disposed, and all such lands, tenements, and hereditaments as he shall purchase, or shall descend, be devised, revert to, or come to such bankrupt before he shall have obtained his certificate, and all deeds, papers, and writings respecting the same, and every such deed shall be valid against the bankrupt, and against all persons claiming under him: provided, that where according to the laws of any such plantation or colony such deed would require registration, enrolment, or recording, the same shall be so registered, enrolled, or recorded, according to the laws of such plantation or colony, and no such deed shall invalidate the title of any purchaser for valuable consideration prior to such registration, enrolment, or recording, without notice that the commission has issued, 6 G. 4. c. 16. s. 66.

87. The commissioners shall by deed, indented and enrolled as aforesaid, make sale for the benefit of the creditors as aforesaid of any lands, tenements, and hereditaments, situate either in England or Ireland, whereof the bankrupt is seised of any estate tail in possession, reversion, or remainder, and whereof no reversion or remainder is in the Crown, the gift or provision of the Crown, and every such deed shall be good against the said bankrupt and the issue of his body, and against all persons claiming under him after he became bankrupt, and against all persons whom the said bankrupt by fine, common recovery, or any other means, might cut off or debar from any remainder, reversion, or other interest, in or out of any of the said lands, tenements, and hereditaments, 6 G. 4. c. 16. s. 65.

88. The lord chancellor may, upon petition, order any conveyance or assignment either of the real or personal estate of the bankrupt, made either to assignees appointed by the commissioners or chosen by the creditors, and any enrolment thereof, to be vacated, provided that no title of any purchaser under any conveyance prior to such order be thereby affected, and that no estate previously barred be thereby revived; and the lord chancellor may order the commissioners to execute a new assignment or assignments of the debts and effects unreceived and not disposed of by the then assignee or assignees to any other person or persons to be chosen by the creditors as aforesaid, or to execute a new conveyance of the real estate unsold or not conveyed to such person or persons, and in such manner as the lord chancellor shall direct: and if such new assignment shall be ordered, the debts and personal estate of the bankrupt shall be thereby vested in such new assignees, and it shall be lawful for them to sue for the same, and to discharge any action or suit, or to give any acquaintance for such debts, as effectually as the former assignees might have done; and the commissioners shall, in the two London Gazettes next after the removal of such assignee or assignees, and such new appointment as aforesaid, cause advertisements to be inserted giving notice of such removal and appointment, and directing persons indebted to the bankrupt's estate not to pay any debt to the assignee or assignees so removed; and if such new conveyance as aforesaid shall be ordered as aforesaid, it shall be valid without any conveyance from any former assignee or assignees, or his or their heirs or assigns, provided that the order so made for vacating any bargain and sale be enrolled; and any bargain and sale to be executed in pursuance thereof shall be enrolled in the same court as the first bargain and sale of the same estate was enrolled, 6 G. 4. c. 16. s. 66.

89. Whenever an assignee shall die, or a new assignee or assignees shall be chosen as aforesaid, no action at law or suit in equity shall be thereby abated, but the court in which any action or suit is depending may, upon the suggestion of such death or removal and new choice, allow the name of the surviving or new assignee or assignees to be substituted in the place of the former; and such action or suit shall be prosecuted in the name or names of the said surviving or new assignee or assignees, in the same manner as if he or they had originally commenced the same, 6 G. 4. c. 16. s. 67.

90. The commissioners shall have power, by deed indented and enrolled in any of H. M.'s courts of record, to make sale, for the benefit of the creditors, of any copyhold or customaryhold lands, or of any interest to which any bankrupt is entitled therein, and thereby to entitle or authorize any person or persons on their behalf to surrender the same for the purpose of any purchaser or purchasers being admitted thereto, 6 G. 4. c. 16. s. 68.

91. Every person, to whom any sale of copyhold or customary lands or tenements shall be made by the commissioners, shall, before he enter into or take any profit of the same, agree and compound with the lords of the manors of whom the same shall be holden, for fines, dues, and other services as theretofore have been usually paid for the same, and thereupon the said lords shall, at the next or any subsequent court to be holden for the said manors, grant unto such vendee, upon request, the said copy or customary lands or tenements for such estate or interest as shall have been so sold to him as aforesaid, reserving the ancient rents, customs, and services, and shall admit him tenant of the same, 6 G. 4. c. 16. s. 69.

92. If any bankrupt shall have granted, conveyed, assured, or pledged any real or personal estate, or deposited any deeds, such grant, conveyance, assurance, pledge, or deposit being upon condition or power of redemption at a future day, by payment of money or otherwise, the assignees may, before the time of the performance of such condition make tender or payment of money, or other performance, according to such condition, as fully as the bankrupt might have done, and after such tender, payment, or performance, may sell and dispose of such real or personal estate for the benefit of the creditors as aforesaid, 6 G. 4. c. 16. s. 70.

93. If any real or personal estate or debts of any bankrupt be extended after he shall have become bankrupt, by any person, under pretence of his being an accountant of or debtor to the king, the commissioners may examine upon oath, whether the said debt was due to such debtor or accountant upon any contract originally made between such accountant and the bankrupt, and if such contract was originally made with any other person than the said debtor or accountant, or in trust for any other person or persons, the commissioners may sell and dispose of such real and personal estate or debts for the benefit of the creditors under the commission and such sale shall be valid against the said extent, and all persons claiming under it; and any person to whom the said real and personal estate or debts shall be bargained, sold, granted, or assigned by the commissioners, shall have and may recover the same against any person who shall detain the same, 6 G. 4. c. 16. s. 71.

94. If any bankrupt, at the time he becomes bankrupt, shall, by the consent and permission of the true owner thereof, have in his possession, order, or disposition any goods or chattels, whereof he was reputed owner, or whereof he had taken upon him the sale, alteration, or disposition as owner, the commissioners shall have power to sell and dispose of the same for the benefit of the creditors under the commission: provided, that nothing herein contained shall invalidate or affect any transfer or assignment of any ship or vessel, or any share thereof, made as a security for any debt or debts, either by way of mortgage or assignment, duly registered according to the provisions of 4 G. 4. c. 41. intitled An Act for the Registering of Vessels, 6 G. 4. c. 16. s. 72. [The 4 G. 4. c. 41. is repealed by 6 G. 4. c. 105, but see 6 G. 4. c. 110. tit. SHIPPING.]

95. If any bankrupt, being at the time insolvent, shall (except upon the marriage of any of his children, or for some valuable consideration), have conveyed, assigned, or transferred to any of his children, or any other person, any hereditaments, offices, fees, annuities, leases, goods, or chattels, or have delivered or made over to any such person any bills, bonds, notes, or other securities, or have transferred his debt to any other person or persons, or into any other person's name, the commissioners shall have power to sell and dispose of the same as aforesaid; and every such sale shall be valid against the bankrupt, and such children and persons as aforesaid, and against all persons claiming under him, 6 G. 4. c. 16. s. 73.

96. No distress for rent made and levied after an act of bankruptcy upon the goods or effects of any bankrupt (whether before or after the issuing of the commission), shall be available for more than one year's rent, accrued prior to the date of the commission, but the landlord or party to whom the rent shall be due, shall be allowed to come in as a creditor under the commission for the overplus of the rent due, and for which the distress shall not be available. 6 G. 4. c. 16. s. 74.

97. Any bankrupt entitled to any lease or agreement for a lease, if the assignees accept the same, shall not be liable to pay any rent accruing after the date of the commission, or to be sued in respect of any subsequent nonobservance or nonperformance of the conditions, covenants, or agreements therein contained; and if the assignees decline the same, shall not be liable as aforesaid, in case he deliver up such lease or agreement to the lessor or such person agreeing to grant a lease, within fourteen days after he shall have had notice that the assignees shall have declined as aforesaid; and if the assignees shall not (upon being thereto required) elect whether they will accept or decline such lease or agreement for a lease, the lessor or person so agreeing as aforesaid, or any person entitled under such lessor or person so agreeing, shall be entitled to apply by petition to the lord chancellor, who may order them so to elect and to deliver up such lease or agreement, in case they shall decline the same, and the possession of the premises, or may make such other order therein as he shall think fit, 6 G. 4. c. 16. s. 75.

98. If any bankrupt shall have entered into any agreement for the purchase of any estate or interest in land, the vendor thereof, or any person claiming under him, if the assignees of such bankrupt shall not (upon being thereto required) elect whether they will abide by and execute such agreement, or abandon the same, shall be entitled to apply by petition to the lord chancellor, who may thereupon order them to deliver up the said agreement, and the possession of the premises, to the vendor or person claiming under him, or may make such other order therein as he shall think fit, 6 G. 4. c. 16. s. 76.

99. All powers vested in any bankrupt which he might legally execute for his own benefit (except the right of nomination to any vacant ecclesiastical benefice) may be executed by the assignees for the benefit of the creditors, in such manner as the bankrupt might have executed the same, 6 G. 4. c. 16. s. 77.

100. It shall be lawful for the lord chancellor upon the petition of the assignees or of any purchaser from them, of any part of the bankrupt's estate, if such bankrupt shall not try the validity of the commission, or if there shall have been a verdict at law establishing its validity, to order the bankrupt to join in any conveyance of such estate, or any part thereof; and if he shall not execute such conveyance within the time directed by the order, such bankrupt and all persons claiming under him shall be stopped from objecting to the validity of such conveyance; and all estate, right, or title which such bankrupt had therein, shall be as effectually barred by such order as if such conveyance had been executed by him, 6 G. 4. c. 16. s. 78.

101. If any bankrupt shall as trustee be seised, possessed of, or entitled to, either alone or jointly, any real or personal estate, or any interest secured upon or arising out of the same, or shall have standing in his name as trustee, either alone or jointly, any government stock, funds, or annuities, or any of the stock of any public company, either in England, Scotland, or Ireland, it shall be lawful for the lord chancellor on the petition of the person or persons entitled in possession to the receipt of the rents, issues, and profits, dividends, interest, or produce thereof, on due notice given to all other persons (if any) interested therein, to order the assignees, and all persons whose act or consent thereto is necessary, to convey, assign, or transfer the said estate, interest, stock, funds, or annuities to such person or persons as the lord chancellor shall think fit, upon the same trusts as the said estate, interest, stock, funds, or annuities were subject to before the bankruptcy, or such of them as shall be then subsisting and capable of taking effect; and also to receive and pay over the rents, issues, and profits, dividends, interest, or produce thereof, as the lord chancellor shall direct, 6 G. 4. c. 16. s. 79.

102. If any such bankrupt shall have any government stock, funds, or annuities, or any of the stock of any public company, either in England, Scotland, or Ireland, standing in his name in his own right, it shall be lawful for the commissioners, by writing under their hands, to order all persons whose act or consent is thereto necessary, to transfer the same into the name of the assignees, and to pay all dividends upon the same to such assignees; and all such persons whose act or consent is so necessary as aforesaid are hereby indemnified for all things done or permitted pursuant to such order, 6 G. 4. c. 16. s. 80.

103. All conveyances by, and all contracts and other dealings and transactions by and with any bankrupt, bonâ fide made and entered into more than two calendar months before the date and issuing of the commission against him, and all executions and attachments against the lands and tenements or goods and chattels of such bankrupt, bonâ fide executed or levied more than two calendar months before the issuing of such commission, shall be valid, notwithstanding any prior act of bankruptcy by him committed; provided the person or persons so dealing with such bankrupt, or at whose suit or on whose account such execution or attachment shall have issued, had not at the time of such conveyance, contract, dealing, or transaction, or at the time of executing or levying such execution or attachment, notice of any prior act of bankruptcy by him committed: provided also, that where a commission has been superseded, if any other commission shall issue against any person or persons comprised in such first commission, within two calendar months next after it shall have been superseded, no such conveyance, contract, dealing, or transaction, execution or attachment, shall be valid, unless made, entered into, executed, or levied more than two calendar months before the issuing the first commission, 6 G. 4. c. 16. s. 81.

104. All payments really and bonâ fide made, or which shall hereafter be made by any bankrupt, or by any person on his behalf, before the date and issuing of the commission against such bankrupt, to any creditor of such bankrupt (such payment not being a fraudulent preference of such creditor), shall be deemed valid, notwithstanding any prior act of bankruptcy by such bankrupt committed; and all payments really and bonâ fide made, or which shall hereafter be made to any bankrupt before the date and issuing of the commission against such bankrupt, shall be deemed valid, notwithstanding any prior act of bankruptcy by such bankrupt committed; and such creditor shall not be liable to refund the same to the assignees of such bankrupt, provided the person so dealing with the said bankrupt had not, at the time of such payment by or to such bankrupt, notice of any act of bankruptcy by such bankrupt committed, 6 G. 4. c. 16. s. 82.

105. The issuing of a commission shall be deemed notice of a prior act of bankruptcy (if an act of bankruptcy had been actually committed before the issuing the commission), if the adjudication of the person or persons against whom such commission has issued shall have been notified in the London Gazette, and the person or persons to be affected by such notice may reasonably be presumed to have seen the same, 6 G. 4. c. 16. s. 83.

106. No person or body corporate, or public company, having in his or their possession or custody any money, goods, wares, merchandizes, or effects belonging to any bankrupt, shall be endangered by reason of the payment or delivery thereof to the bankrupt or his order; provided such person or company had not, at the time of such delivery or payment, notice that such bankrupt had committed an act of bankruptcy, 6 G. 4. c. 16. s. 84.

107. If any accredited agent of any body corporate or public company shall have had notice of any act of bankruptcy, such body corporate or company shall be hereby deemed to have had such notice, 6 G. 4. c. 16. s. 85.

108. No purchase from any bankrupt bonâ fide and for valuable consideration, where the purchaser had notice at the time of such purchase of an act of bankruptcy by such bankrupt committed, shall be impeached by reason thereof, unless the commission against such bankrupt shall have been sued out within twelve calendar months after such act of bankruptcy, 6 G. 4. c. 16. s. 86.

109. No title to any real or personal estate sold under any commission, or under any order in bankruptcy, shall be impeached by the bankrupt, or any person claiming under him, in respect of any defect in the suing out of the commission, or in any of the proceedings under the same, unless the bankrupt shall have commenced proceedings to supersede the said commission, and duly prosecuted the same, within twelve calendar months from the issuing thereof, 6 G. 4. c. 16. s. 87.

110. The assignees with the consent of the major part in value of creditors who shall have proved under the commission, present at any meeting, whereof and of the purport whereof twenty-one days notice shall have been given in the London Gazette, may compound with any debtor to the bankrupt's estate, and take any reasonable part of the debt in discharge of the whole, or may give time or take security for the payment of such debt, or may submit any dispute between such assignees, and any persons, concerning any matter relating to such bankrupt's estate, to the determination of arbitrators to be chosen by the assignees and the major part in value of such creditors, and the party with whom they shall have such dispute, and the award of such arbitrators shall be binding on all the creditors; and the assignees are hereby indemnified for what they shall do according to the directions aforesaid, and no suit in equity shall be commenced by the assignees without such consent as aforesaid; provided that if one-third in value or upwards of such creditors shall not attend at any such meeting (whereof such notice shall have been given as aforesaid), the assignees shall have power, with the consent of the commissioners testified in writing under their hands, to do any of the matters aforesaid, 6 G. 4. c. 16. s. 88.

111. In any commission against any one or more member or members of a firm, the lord chancellor may, upon petition, authorize the assignees to commence or prosecute any action at law, or suit in equity, in the names of such assignees and of the remaining partner or partners, against any debtor of the partnership, and may obtain such judgment, decree, or order therein as if such action or suit had been instituted with the consent of such partner or partners; and if such partner or partners shall execute any release of the debt or demand for which such action or suit is instituted, such release shall be void; provided that every such partner, if no benefit is claimed by him by virtue of the said proceedings, shall be indemnified against the payment of any costs in respect of such action or suit: and that it shall be lawful for the lord chancellor, upon the petition of such partner, to direct that he may receive so much of the proceeds of such action or suit as the lord chancellor shall think fit, 6 G. 4. c. 16. s. 89.

112. In any action by or against any assignee, or in any action against any commissioner or person acting under the warrant of the commissioners, for any thing done as such commissioner, or under such warrant, no proof shall be required at the trial of the petitioning creditor's debt or debts, or of the trading or act or acts of bankruptcy respectively, unless the other party in such action shall, if defendant, at or before pleading, and, if plaintiff, before issue joined, give notice in writing to such assignee, commissioner, or other person, that he intends to dispute some and which of such matters; and in case such notice shall have been given, if such assignee, commissioner, or other person shall prove the matter so disputed, or the other party admit the same, the judge before whom the cause shall be tried may (if he thinks fit) grant a certificate of such proof or admission; and such assignee, commissioner, or other person, shall be entitled to the costs to be taxed by the proper officer occasioned by such notice, and such costs shall, if such assignee, commissioner, or other person shall obtain a verdict, be added to the costs; and, if the other party shall obtain a verdict, shall be deducted from the costs which such other party would otherwise be entitled to receive from such assignee, commissioner, or other person, 6 G. 4. c. 16. s. 90.

113. In all suits in equity by or against the assignees, no proof shall be required at the hearing of the petitioning creditor's debt or debts, or of the trading or act or acts of bankruptcy respectively, as against any of the parties in such suit, except such parties as shall, within ten days after rejoinder, give notice in writing to the assignees of his or their intention to dispute some and which of such matters; and where such notice shall have been given, if the assignees shall prove the matter so disputed, the costs occasioned by such notice, to be taxed by the proper officer, shall, if the court see fit, be paid by the party or parties so giving such notice as aforesaid, and the service of such notice may be proved by affidavit upon hearing of the cause, 6 G. 4. c. 16. s. 91.

114. If the bankrupt shall not (if he was within the U. K. at the issuing of the commission) within two calendar months after the adjudication, or (if he was out of the U. K.) within twelve calendar months after the adjudication, have given notice of his intention to dispute the commission, and have proceeded therein with due diligence, the depositions taken before the commissioners at the time of, or previous to the adjudication of the petitioning creditor's debt or debts, and of the trading and act or acts of bankruptcy, shall be conclusive evidence of the matters therein respectively contained, in all actions at law, or suits in equity, brought by the assignees for any debt or demand for which the bankrupt might have sustained any action or suit, 6 G. 4. c. 16. s. 92.

115. If the assignees commence any action or suit for any money so due to the bankrupt, before the time allowed as aforesaid for him to dispute the commission shall have elapsed, any defendant in any such action or suit shall be entitled, after notice given to the assignees to pay the same, or any part thereof, into the court in which such action or suit is brought, and all proceedings with respect to the money so paid into court shall thereupon be stayed, and after the time aforesaid shall have elapsed, the assignees shall have the same paid to them out of court, 6 G. 4. c. 16. s. 93.

116. All persons from whom the assignees shall have recovered any real or personal estate either by judgment or decree, are hereby discharged, in case the commission be afterwards superseded, from all demands which may thereafter be made in respect of the same by the person or persons against whom such commission issued, and all persons claiming under him or them; and all persons who shall without action or suit bonâ fide deliver up possession of any real or personal estate to the assignees, or pay any debt claimed by them, are hereby discharged from all claim of any such person or persons as aforesaid in respect of the same, or any person claiming under him or them; provided such notice to try the validity of the commission had not been given, and been proceeded in within the time and in manner aforesaid, 6 G. 4. c. 16. s. 94.

117. All things done pursuant to 5 G. 2. c. 50. and hereby repealed, whereby it was enacted, that the lord chancellor should appoint a place where all matters relating to commissions of bankruptcy should be entered of record, and should appoint a person to have the custody thereof, [shall, omitted in Act] be hereby confirmed; and the lord chancellor shall be at liberty from time to time, by writing under his hand, to appoint a proper person, who shall by himself or his deputy (to be approved by the said lord chancellor) enter of record all matters relating to commissions, and have the custody of the entries thereof; and the person so to be appointed, and his deputy, shall continue in their respective offices so long as they shall respectively behave themselves well, and shall not be removed, except by order in writing under the hand of the lord chancellor on sufficient cause therein specified, 6 G. 4. c. 16. s. 95.

118. In all commissions issued after this act shall have taken effect, no commission of bankruptcy, adjudication of bankruptcy by the commissioners, or assignment of the personal estate of the bankrupt, or certificate of conformity, shall be received as evidence in any court of law or equity, unless the same shall have been first so entered of record as aforesaid; and the person so appointed to enter matters of record as aforesaid, shall be entitled to receive for such entry of every such commission, adjudication of bankruptcy, assignment, or order for vacating the same respectively, having the certificate of such entry indorsed thereon respectively, the fee of two shillings each, and for the entry of every certificate of conformity, having the like certificate indorsed thereon, six shillings; and every such instrument shall be so entered of record upon the application of, or on behalf of any party interested therein, and on payment of the several fees aforesaid, without any petition in writing presented for that purpose; and the lord chancellor may, upon petition, direct any depositions, proceedings, or other matter relating to commissions of bankruptcy, to be entered of record as aforesaid, and also appoint such fee and reward for the labour therein of the person so appointed as aforesaid, as the lord chancellor shall think reasonable; and all persons shall be at liberty to search for any of the matters so entered of record as aforesaid: provided, that on the production in evidence of any instrument so directed to be entered of record, having the certificate thereon, purporting to be signed by the person so appointed to enter the same, or by his deputy, the same shall, without any proof of such signature, be received as evidence of such instrument having been so entered of record as aforesaid, 6 G. 4. c. 16. s. 96.

119. In every action, suit, or issue, office copies of any original instrument or writing, filed in the office or officially in the possession of the lord chancellor's secretary of bankrupts, shall be evidence to be received of every such original instrument or writing respectively; and if any such original instrument or writing shall be produced on any trial, the costs of producing the same shall not be allowed on taxation, unless it appears that the production of such original instrument or other writing was necessary.

120. After this act shall have come into effect all commissions of bankrupt, and also all deeds, conveyances, assignments, surrenders, admissions, and other assurances of, or to, or relating solely to any freehold, leasehold, copyhold, or customary messuages, lands, or tenements, or any mortgage, charge, or other incumbrance upon, or any estate, right, or interest of and in any messuages, lands, tenements, or personal estate, being the estate of or belonging to any bankrupt or bankrupts, or part or parcel thereof, and which after the execution of such deeds, conveyances, assignments, surrenders, or assurances respectively shall, either at law or in equity, be or remain the estate and property of such bankrupt or bankrupts, or the assignee or assignees appointed or chosen by virtue of the commission issued against him or them respectively, and also all powers of attorney, writs of supersedeas and procedendo, certificates of conformity, affidavits, and all other instruments and writings whatsoever relating solely to the estate or effects of any bankrupt or bankrupts, or any part thereof, or to any proceedings under any commission of bankrupt, and all advertisements inserted in the London Gazette relating solely to matters in bankruptcy, shall not be liable to any stamp duty or any other government duty whatsoever, and all sales of any real or personal estate of any bankrupt or bankrupts shall not be liable to any auction duty, 6 G. 4. c. 16. s. 98.

121. Any bankrupt or other person who shall, in any examination before the commissioners, or in any affidavit or deposition authorized or directed by the present or any act hereby repealed, wilfully and corruptly swear falsely, being convicted thereof, shall suffer the pains and penalties in force against wilful and corrupt perjury; and where any oath is hereby directed or required to be taken or administered, or affidavit to be made by or to any party, such party, if a quaker, shall or may make solemn affirmation, and such quaker shall incur such danger or penalty for refusing to make such solemn affirmation in such matters, when thereto required, as is hereby provided against persons refusing to be sworn; and all quakers who shall in any such affirmation, knowingly and wilfully affirm falsely, shall suffer the same penalties as are provided against persons guilty of wilful and corrupt perjury; and all persons before whom oaths or affidavits are hereby directed to be made are respectively empowered to administer the same, and also such solemn affirmation as aforesaid, 6 G. 4. c. 16. s. 99.

122. All sums of money forfeited under this act, or by virtue of any conviction for perjury committed in any oath hereby directed or authorized, may be sued for by the assignees in any of H. M.'s courts of record; and the money so recovered (the charges of suit being deducted) shall be divided among the creditors, 6 G. 4. c. 16. s. 100.

123. The assignees shall keep an account, wherein they shall enter all property of the bankrupt received by them, and all payments made by them on account of the bankrupt's estate, which account every creditor who shall have proved may inspect at all seasonable times; and it shall be lawful for the commissioners, at all times, by writing under their hands, to summon the assignees before them, and require them to produce all books, papers, deeds, writings, and other documents relating to the bankruptcy, in their possession; and if such assignees so summoned shall not come before the commissioners at the time appointed (having no impediment made known to the commissioners at the time of their meeting, and allowed by them), it shall be lawful for the said commissioners, by warrant under their hands and seals, directed to such person as they shall think fit, to cause such assignees to be brought before them; and upon their refusing to produce such books, deeds, writings, papers, or documents as aforesaid, it shall be lawful for the said commissioners to commit the party so refusing to such prison as they shall think fit, there to remain without bail, until such party shall submit himself to the said commissioners, 6 G. 4. c. 16. s. 101.

124. At the meeting of creditors for the choice of assignees, the major part in value of such creditors there present may direct how, and with whom, and where the money received from time to time out of the estate shall be paid in and remain until it be divided; and if such creditors shall not make such direction as aforesaid, the commissioners shall, immediately after such choice, and at the same meeting, make such direction; but no money shall be directed to be paid into the hands of any of the commissioners, or of the solicitor to the commission, or into any banking house, or other house of trade in which any such commissioner, assignee, or solicitor is interested, 6 G. 4. c. 16. s. 102.

125. The commissioners may, as often as it shall appear to them expedient for the bankrupt's estate, direct any money, part of such estate, to be invested in the purchase of exchequer bills, for the benefit of the creditors, and may direct where and with whom such exchequer bills shall be kept, and cause such exchequer bills to be sold when it shall appear to them expedient, and may direct the proceeds thereof to be again laid out in the purchase of exchequer bills, or to be applied for the benefit of the creditors, subject to the controul of the lord chancellor, 6 G. 4. c. 16. s. 103.

126. If any assignee shall retain in his hands, or employ for his own benefit, or knowingly permit any co-assignee so to retain or employ any sum to the amount of one hundred pounds or upwards, part of the estate of the bankrupt, or shall neglect to invest any money in the purchase of exchequer bills, when so directed as aforesaid, every such assignee shall be liable to be charged in his accounts with such sum as shall be equal to interest at the rate of twenty per cent. on all such money, for the time during which he shall have so retained or employed the same, or permitted the same to be so retained or employed as aforesaid, or during which he shall have so neglected to invest the same in the purchase of exchequer bills, and the commissioners are hereby required to charge every such assignee in his accounts accordingly, 6 G. 4. c. 16. s. 104.

127. If any assignee indebted to the estate of which he is such assignee, in respect of money so retained or employed by him as aforesaid, become bankrupt, if he shall obtain his certificate it shall only have the effect of freeing his person from arrest and imprisonment; but his future effects (his tools of trade, necessary household goods, and the necessary wearing apparel of himself, his wife and children excepted) shall remain liable for so much of his debts to the estate of which he was assignee, as shall not be paid by dividends under his commission, together with lawful interest for the whole debt, 6 G. 4. c. 16. s. 105.

128. The commissioners shall, at the meeting appointed for the last examination of the bankrupt, appoint a public meeting, not sooner than four calendar months from the issuing of the commission, nor later than six calendar months from the last examination of the bankrupt, whereof, and of the purport whereof, they shall give twenty-one days notice in the London Gazette, to audit the accounts of the assignees; and the assignees at such meeting shall deliver upon oath a true statement in writing of all money received by them respectively, and when and on what account, and how the same have been employed; and the commissioners shall examine such statement, and compare the receipts with the payments, and ascertain what balances have been from time to time in the hands of such assignees respectively, and shall inquire whether any sum appearing to be in their hands ought to be retained; and it shall be lawful for the said commissioners to examine the said assignees upon oath, touching the truth of such accounts, and in such accounts the said assignees shall be allowed to retain all such money as they shall have expended in suing out and prosecuting such commission, and all other just allowances, 6 G. 4. c. 16. s. 106.

129. The commissioners shall, not sooner than four nor later than twelve calendar months from the issuing the commission, appoint a public meeting (whereof and of the purport whereof they shall give twenty-one days notice in the London Gazette), to make a dividend of the bankrupt's estate, at which meeting all creditors who have not proved their debts shall be entitled to prove the same; and the said commissioners at such meeting shall order such part of the net produce of the bankrupt's estate in the hands of the assignees, as they shall think fit, to be forthwith divided amongst such creditors as have proved debts under the commission, in proportion to their respective debts, and shall make an order for a dividend in writing under their hands, and shall cause one part of such order to be filed amongst the proceedings under the commission, and shall deliver another part thereof to the assignees, which order shall contain an account of the time and place of making such order, of the amount of the debts proved, of the money remaining in the hands of the assignees to be divided, of how much in the pound is then ordered to be paid to every creditor, and of the money allowed by the commissioners to be retained by the assignees, with their reasons for allowing the same to be so retained; and the assignees, in pursuance of such order (and without any deed of distribution made for that purpose), shall forthwith make such dividend, and shall take receipts in a book to be kept for that purpose, from each creditor, for the dividend received by such creditor; and such order and receipt shall be a discharge to every such assignee for so much as he shall pay pursuant to such order; and no dividend shall be declared, unless the accounts of the assignees shall have been first so audited as aforesaid, and such statement delivered by them upon oath as aforesaid, 6 G. 4. c. 16. s. 107.

130. No creditor having security for his debt, or having made any attachment in London, or any other place, by virtue of any custom there used, of the goods and chattels of the bankrupt, shall receive upon any such security or attachment more than a rateable part of such debt, except in respect of any execution or extent served and levied, by seizure upon, or any mortgage of or lien upon any part of the property of such bankrupt before the bankruptcy; provided that no creditor, though for a valuable consideration, who shall sue out execution upon any judgment obtained by default, confession, or nil dicit, shall avail himself of such execution to the prejudice of other fair creditors, but shall be paid rateable with such creditors, 6 G. 4. c. 16. s. 108.

131. If the bankrupt's estate shall not have been wholly divided upon the first dividend, the commissioners shall, within eighteen calendar months after the issuing of the commission, appoint a public meeting, (whereof and of the purport whereof they shall give twenty-one days notice in the London Gazette), to make a second dividend of the bankrupt's estate, when all creditors who have not proved their debts may prove the same; and the commissioners at such meeting, after taking such audit as herein-before [s. 108. pl. 130.] directed, shall order the balance in the hands of the assignees to be forthwith divided amongst such of the creditors as shall have proved their debts; and such second dividend shall be final, unless any action at law or suit in equity be depending, or any part of the estate be standing out, not sold or disposed of, or unless some other estate or effects of the bankrupt shall afterwards come to the assignees, in which case they shall, as soon as may be, convert such estate and effects into money, and within two calendar months after the same shall be so converted, divide the same in manner aforesaid, 6 G. 4. c. 16. s. 109.

132. If any assignee under any commission of bankrupt shall have, either in his own hands or at any bankers, or otherwise subject to his order or disposition, or to his knowledge in the hands of, or in the order and disposition of himself and any co-assignee or co-assignees, or of any or either of them, any unclaimed dividend or dividends, amounting in the whole to the sum of fifty pounds, and shall not within six months after this act shall have taken effect, or two calendar months after the expiration of one year after the declaration and order of payment of such dividend or dividends made by the commissioners, either pay to the creditor or creditors entitled thereto, or cause a certificate thereof to be filed in the office of the lord chancellor's secretary of bankrupts, containing a full and true account of the name or names of the creditor or creditors to whom such unclaimed dividend or dividends is or are respectively due, and of the amount of such dividend or dividends respectively (such account being signed by the assignee or assignees rendering the same, and attested by the solicitor to the commission, or the solicitor to the assignee or assignees signing the same), such assignee or assignees shall be charged, in account with the estate of the bankrupt, interest upon such unclaimed dividend or dividends, to be computed from the time that such certificate is hereby directed to be filed, at the rate of five pounds per cent. per annum, for such time as he shall thenceforth retain the same, and also such further sum as the commissioners shall think fit, not exceeding in the whole twenty pounds per cent. per annum; and the lord chancellor, or the said commissioners, may order the investment of any unclaimed dividends in the public funds, or in any government security, for or on account of the creditors entitled, and subject to such order as the lord chancellor may think fit to make respecting the same, who, if he shall think fit, may, after the same shall have remained unclaimed for the space of three years from the declaration of such dividends by the commissioners, order the same to be divided amongst and paid to the other creditors, and the proof of the creditors to whom such dividends were allotted shall from thenceforth be considered as void as to the same, but renewable as to any future dividends, to place them pari passu with the other creditors, but not to disturb any dividends which shall have been previously made, 6 G. 4. c. 16. s. 110.

133. No action for any dividend shall be brought against the assignees by any creditor who shall have proved under the commission, but if the assignees shall refuse to pay any such dividend, the lord chancellor may, on petition, order payment thereof, with interest for the time that it shall have been withheld, and the costs of the application, 6 G. 4. c. 16. s. 111.

134. If any person against whom any commission has been issued, or shall hereafter be issued, whereupon such person hath been or shall be declared bankrupt, shall not, before three of the clock upon the forty-second day after notice thereof in writing to be left at the usual place of abode of such person, or personal notice in case such person be then in prison, and notice given in the London Gazette of the issuing of the commission, and of the meetings of the commissioners, surrender himself to them, and sign or subscribe such surrender, and submit to be examined before them, from time to time, upon oath, or, being a quaker, upon solemn affirmation; or if any such bankrupt upon such examination shall not discover all his real or personal estate, and how and to whom, upon what consideration, and when he disposed of, assigned, or transferred any of such estate, and all books, papers, and writings relating thereunto (except such part as shall have been really and bonâ fide before sold or disposed in the way of his trade, or laid out in the ordinary expence of his family); or if any such bankrupt shall not upon such examination deliver up to the commissioners all such part of such estate, and all books, papers, and writings relating thereunto, as be in his possession, custody, or power (except the necessary wearing apparel of himself, his wife and children); or if any such bankrupt shall remove, conceal, or embezzle any part of such estate, to the value of ten pounds or upwards, or any books of account, papers, or writings relating thereto, with intent to defraud his creditors, every such bankrupt shall be deemed guilty of felony, and be liable to be transported for life, or for such term, not less than seven years, as the court before which he shall be convicted shall adjudge, or shall be liable to be imprisoned only, or imprisoned and kept to hard labour in any common gaol, penitentiary house, or house of correction, for any term not exceeding seven years, 6 G. 4. c. 16. s. 112.

135. The Lord Chancellor shall have power, as often as he shall think fit, from time to time to enlarge the time for the bankrupt surrendering himself for such time as the lord chancellor shall think fit, so as every such order be made six days at least before the day on which such bankrupt was to surrender himself, 6 G. 4. c. 16. s. 113.

136. It shall be lawful for the commissioners, before the choice of assignees, and after such choice, for the assignees, with the approbation of the commissioners, testified in writing under their hands, from time to time to make such allowance to the bankrupt out of his estate, until he shall have passed his last examination, as shall be necessary for the support of himself and his family, 6 G. 4. c. 16. s. 114.

137. If any bankrupt apprehended by any warrant of the commissioners shall, within the time hereby allowed for him to surrender, submit to be examined, and in all things conform, he shall have the same benefit as if he had voluntarily surrendered, 6 G. 4. c. 16. s. 115.

138. The bankrupt, after the choice of assignees, shall (if thereto required) forthwith deliver up to them, upon oath, before a master, ordinary or extraordinary, in chancery, or justice of the peace, all books of account, papers, and writings relating to his estate, in his custody or power, and discover such as are in the custody or power of any other person; and every such bankrupt, not in prison or custody, shall at all times after such surrender attend such assignees upon every reasonable notice in writing for that purpose given by them to him, or left at his house, and shall assist such assignees in making out the accounts of his estate; and such bankrupt, after he shall have surrendered, may, at all seasonable times before the expiration of the said forty-two days, or such farther time as shall be allowed to him to finish his examination, inspect his books, papers, and writings, in the presence of his assignees, or any person appointed by them, and bring with him each time any two persons to assist him; and every such bankrupt, after he shall have obtained his certificate, shall upon demand in writing given to him, or left at his usual place of abode, attend the assignees, to settle any accounts between his estate, and any debtor to or creditor thereof, or attend any court of record to give evidence touching the same, or do any act necessary for getting in the said estate, for which attendance he shall be paid five shillings per day by the assignees out of his estate; and if such bankrupt shall, after such demand as aforesaid, not attend, or on such attendance refuse to do any of the matters aforesaid, without sufficient cause shewn to the commissioners for such refusal, and by them allowed, the assignees making proof thereof upon oath before the commissioners, the said commissioners may, by warrant directed to such person as they shall think proper, cause such bankrupt to be apprehended and committed to such prison as they shall think fit, there to remain until he shall conform to the satisfaction of the said commissioners, or of the lord chancellor, 6 G. 4. c. 16. s. 116.

139. The bankrupt shall be free from arrest or imprisonment by any creditor in coming to surrender; and after such surrender during the said forty-two days, and such further time as shall be allowed him for finishing his examination, provided he was not in custody at the time of such surrender; and if such bankrupt shall be arrested for debt, or on any escape warrant in coming to surrender, or shall after his surrender be so arrested within the time aforesaid, he shall, on producing the summons under the hands of the commissioners to the officer who shall arrest him, and giving such officer a copy thereof, be immediately discharged; and if any officer shall detain any such bankrupt after he shall have shown such summons to him, so signed as aforesaid, such officer shall forfeit to such bankrupt, for his own use, the sum of five pounds for every day he shall detain such bankrupt, to be recovered by action of debt in any court of record at Westminster, in the name of such bankrupt, with full costs of suit, 6 G. 4. c. 16. s. 117.

140. It shall be lawful for the commissioners, at the time appointed for the last examination of the bankrupt, or any enlargement or adjournment thereof, to adjourn such examination sine die, and he shall be free from arrest or imprisonment for such time, not exceeding three calendar months, as they shall by indorsement upon such summons as aforesaid appoint, with like penalty upon any officer detaining such bankrupt after having been shown such summons, 6 G. 4. c. 16. s. 118.

141. Whenever any bankrupt is in prison, or in custody, under any process, attachment, execution, commitment, or sentence, the commissioners may, by warrant under their hands, directed to the person in whose custody such bankrupt is confined, cause such bankrupt to be brought before them at any meeting, either public or private; and if any such bankrupt is desirous to surrender, he shall be so brought up, and the expence thereof shall be paid out of his estate, and such person shall be indemnified by the warrant of the commissioners for bringing up such bankrupt; provided that the assignees may appoint any persons to attend such bankrupt from time to time, and to produce to him his books, papers, and writings, in order to prepare an abstract of his accounts, and a statement to show the particulars of his estate and effects previous to his final examination and discovery thereof; a copy of which abstract and statement the said bankrupt shall deliver to them ten days at least before his last examination, 6 G. 4. c. 16. s. 119.

142. Any person wilfully concealing any real or personal estate of the bankrupt, and who shall not within forty-two days after the issuing of the commission discover such estate to one or more of the commissioners or assignees, shall forfeit the sum of one hundred pounds, and double the value of the estate so concealed; and any person who shall, after the time allowed to the bankrupt to surrender, voluntarily discover to one or more of the commissioners or assignees any part of such bankrupt's estate, not before come to the knowledge of the assignees, shall be allowed five per centum thereupon, and such further reward as the major part in value of the creditors present at any meeting called for that purpose shall think fit, to be paid out of the estate recovered on such discovery, 6 G. 4. c. 16. s. 120.

143. Every bankrupt who shall have duly surrendered, and in all things conformed himself to the laws in force concerning bankrupts at the time of issuing the commission against him, shall be discharged from all debts due by him when he became bankrupt, and from all claims and demands hereby made proveable under the commission, in case he shall obtain a certificate of such conformity, so signed and allowed, and subject to such provisions as hereinafter directed; but no such certificate shall release or discharge any person who was partner with such bankrupt at the time of his bankruptcy, or who was then jointly bound, or had made any joint contract with such bankrupt, 6 G. 4. c. 16. s. 121.

144. Such certificate shall be signed by four-fifths in number and value of the creditors of the bankrupt, who shall have proved debts under the commission to the amount of twenty pounds or upwards, or after six calendar months from the last examination of the bankrupt, then either by three-fifths in number and value of such creditors, or by nine-tenths in number of such creditors, who shall thereby testify their consent to the said bankrupt's discharge as aforesaid; and no such certificate shall be such discharge, unless the commissioners shall, in writing under their hands and seals, certify to the lord chancellor that such bankrupt has made a full discovery of his estate and effects, and in all things conformed as aforesaid, and that there does not appear any reason to doubt the truth or fulness of such discovery, and also that the creditors have signed in manner hereby directed, and unless the bankrupt make oath in writing that such certificate and consent were obtained without fraud, and unless such certificate shall, after such oath, be allowed by the lord chancellor, against which allowance any of the creditors of the bankrupt may be heard before the lord chancellor, 6 G. 4. c. 16. s. 122.

145. In all cases where any petition for the allowance of a certificate shall have been presented to the lord chancellor previous to the passing of this act, by virtue of 5 G. 4. c. 98. and hereby repealed, by any bankrupt whose certificate shall have been signed by the requisite number of creditors, with the exception of one whose signature is thereto necessary, and by the commissioners, it shall be lawful for the lord chancellor to allow any such certificate, and such certificate shall be a valid discharge as aforesaid, provided such petition shall have been duly served as in the said act required, 6 G. 4. c. 16. s. 123.

146. The commissioners shall not sign any certificate unless they shall have proof, by affidavit in writing, of the signature of the creditors thereto, or of any person thereto authorized by any creditor, and of the authority by which such person shall have so signed the same; and if any creditor reside abroad, the authority of such creditor shall be attested by a notary public, British minister, or consul; and every such affidavit, authority, and attestation shall be laid before the lord chancellor, with the certificate, previous to the allowance thereof, 6 G. 4. c. 16. s. 124.

147. Any contract or security made or given by any bankrupt or other person unto or in trust for any creditor, or for securing the payment of any money due by such bankrupt at his bankruptcy, as a consideration or with intent to persuade such creditor to consent to or sign such certificate, shall be void, and the money thereby secured or agreed to be paid shall not be recoverable, and the party sued on such contract or security may plead the general issue, and give this act and the special matter in evidence, 6 G. 4. c. 16. s. 125.

148. Any bankrupt who shall, after his certificate shall have been allowed, be arrested, or have any action brought against him for any debt, claim, or demand hereby made proveable under the commission against such bankrupt, shall be discharged upon common bail, and may plead in general that the cause of action accrued before he became bankrupt, and may give this act and the special matter in evidence, and such bankrupt's certificate, and the allowance thereof, shall be sufficient evidence of the trading, bankruptcy, commission, and other proceedings precedent to the obtaining such certificate; and if any such bankrupt shall be taken in execution, or detained in prison for such debt, claim, or demand, where judgment has been obtained before the allowance of his certificate, it shall be lawful for any judge of the court wherein judgment has been so obtained, on such bankrupt's producing his certificate, to order any officer who shall have such bankrupt in custody by virtue of such execution, to discharge such bankrupt without exacting any fee, and such officer shall be hereby indemnified for so doing, 6 G. 4. c. 16. s. 126.

149. If any person who shall have been so discharged by such certificate as aforesaid, or who shall have compounded with his creditors, or who shall have been discharged by any insolvent act, shall be or become bankrupt, and have obtained or shall hereafter obtain such certificate as aforesaid, unless his estate shall produce (after all charges), sufficient to pay every creditor under the commission fifteen shillings in the pound, such certificate shall only protect his person from arrest and imprisonment, but his future estate and effects (except his tools of trade and necessary household furniture, and the wearing apparel of himself, his wife and children), shall vest in the assignees under the said commission, who shall be entitled to seize the same in like manner as they might have seized property of which such bankrupt was possessed at the issuing the commission, 6 G. 4. c. 16. s. 127.

150. Every bankrupt who shall have obtained his certificate, if the net produce of his estate shall pay the creditors who have proved under the commission ten shillings in the pound, shall be allowed five per cent. out of such produce, to be paid him by the assignees, provided such allowance shall not exceed four hundred pounds; and every such bankrupt, if such produce shall pay such creditors twelve shillings and sixpence in the pound, shall be allowed and paid as aforesaid seven pounds ten shillings per cent., provided such allowance shall not exceed five hundred pounds; and every such bankrupt, if such produce shall pay such creditors fifteen shillings in the pound or upwards shall be allowed and paid as aforesaid ten pounds per cent., provided such allowance shall not exceed six hundred pounds; but if such produce shall not pay such creditors ten shillings in the pound, such bankrupt shall only be allowed and paid so much as the assignees and commissioners shall think fit, not exceeding three pounds per cent. and three hundred pounds, 6 G. 4. c. 16. s. 128.

151. In all joint commissions under which any partner shall have obtained his certificate, if a sufficient dividend shall have been paid upon the joint estate and upon the separate estate of such partner, he shall be entitled to his allowance although his other partner or partners may not be entitled to any allowance, 6 G. 4. c. 16. s. 129.

152. No bankrupt shall be entitled to his certificate, or to be paid any such allowance, and any certificate, if obtained, shall be void, if such bankrupt shall have lost, by any sort of gaming or wagering, in one day twenty pounds, or within one year next preceding his bankruptcy two hundred pounds; or if he shall, within one year next preceding his bankruptcy, have lost two hundred pounds by any contract for the purchase or sale of any government or other stock, where such contract was not to be performed within one week after the contract, or where the stock bought or sold was not actually transferred or delivered in pursuance of such contract; or shall, after an act of bankruptcy committed or in contemplation of bankruptcy, have destroyed, altered, mutilated, or falsified, or caused to be destroyed, altered, mutilated, or falsified, any of his books, papers, writings, or securities, or made or been privy to the making of any false or fraudulent entries in any book of account or other document, with intent to defraud his creditors, or shall have concealed property to the value of ten pounds or upwards; or if any person having proved a false debt under the commission, such bankrupt being privy thereto, or afterwards knowing the same, shall not have disclosed the same to his assignees within one month after such knowledge, 6 G. 4. c. 16. s. 130.

153. No bankrupt after his certificate shall have been allowed under any present or future commission, shall be liable to pay or satisfy any debt, claim, or demand, from which he shall have been discharged by virtue of such certificate, or any part of such debt, claim, or demand, upon any contract, promise, or agreement made or to be made after the suing out of the commission, unless such promise, contract, or agreement be made in writing, signed by the bankrupt, or by some person thereto lawfully authorized in writing by such bankrupt, 6 G. 4. c. 16. s. 131.

154. The assignees shall, upon request made to them by the bankrupt, declare to him how they have disposed of his real and personal estate, and pay the surplus, if any, to such bankrupt, his executors, administrators, or assigns; and every such bankrupt, after the creditors who have proved under the commission shall have been paid, shall be entitled to recover the remainder of the debts due to him; but the assignees shall not pay such surplus until all creditors who have proved under the commission shall have received interest upon their debts, to be calculated and paid at the rate and in the order following; (that is to say,) all creditors whose debts are now by law entitled to carry interest, in the event of a surplus, shall first receive interest on such debts at the rate of interest reserved or by law payable thereon, to be calculated from the date of the commission, and after such interest shall have been paid, all other creditors who have proved under the commission shall receive interest on their debts from the date of the commission, at the rate of four pounds per centum, 6 G. 4. c. 16. s. 132.

155. At any meeting of creditors after the bankrupt shall have passed his last examination (whereof and of the purport of which twenty-one days notice shall have been given in the London Gazette), if the bankrupt or his friends shall make an offer of composition, or security for such composition, which nine-tenths in number and value of the creditors assembled at such meeting shall agree to accept, another meeting for the purpose of deciding upon such offer shall be appointed, whereof such notice as aforesaid shall be given; and if at such second meeting nine-tenths in number and value of the creditors then present shall also agree to accept such offer, the lord chancellor shall and may, upon such acceptance being testified by them in writing, supersede the said commission, 6 G. 4. c. 16. s. 133.

156. In deciding upon such offer as aforesaid, any creditor whose debt is below twenty pounds shall not be reckoned in number, but the debt due to such creditor shall be computed in value; and that any creditor to the amount of fifty pounds and upwards, residing out of England, shall be personally served with a copy of the notice of the meeting to decide upon such offer as aforesaid, and of the purpose for which the same is called, so long before such meeting as that he may have time to vote thereat; and such creditor shall be entitled to vote by letter of attorney, executed and attested in manner hereby [s. 61. pl. 93.] required for such creditors voting in the choice of assignees; and if any creditor shall agree to accept any gratuity or higher composition for assenting to such offer, he shall forfeit the debt due to him, together with such gratuity or composition; and the bankrupt shall (if thereto required) make oath before the commissioners that there has been no such transaction between him or any person with his privy, and any of the creditors, and that he has not used any undue means or influence with any of them to attain such assent as aforesaid, 6 G. 4. c. 16. s. 134.

157. This act shall be construed beneficially for creditors, and nothing herein contained shall alter the present practice in bankruptcy, except where any such alteration is expressly declared, and it shall extend to aliens, denizens, and women, both to make them subject thereto, and to entitle them to all the benefits given thereby; and all powers hereby given to, or duties directed to be performed by the lord chancellor, shall and may be exercised or performed by a lord keeper or lords commissioners of the Great Seal; and all powers given to or duties directed to be performed by the commissioners or assignees, may be exercised and shall be performed respectively by the major part of the commissioners, or by one assignee, where only one shall have been chosen; and that nothing herein contained shall render invalid any commission of bankruptcy now subsisting, or which shall be subsisting at the time this act shall take effect, or any proceedings which may have been had thereunder, or affect or lessen any right, claim, demand, or remedy which any person now has thereunder, or upon or against any bankrupt against whom any commission has or shall have issued, except as is herein specifically enacted; and that this act shall not extend either to Scotland or Ireland, except where the same are expressly mentioned, 6 G. 4. c. 16. s. 135.

158. This act shall not take effect before 1st Sept. 1825., save and except that the repeal of the act passed in the fifth year of the reign of his present majesty, hereby repealed, and all enactments herein contained relating to certificates of conformity, shall take effect upon the passing of this act, 6 G. 4. c. 16. s. 136.

BEER AND ALE.

(STATUTES repealed.)

1. The assize of Bread and Ale, Stat. incert. temp. No. II. REP. 5 G. 4. c. 74. s. 23.

2. For ascertaining the measures for retailing ale and beer, 11 & 12 W. 3. c. 15. [REP. 5 G. 4. c. 74. s. 23.]

(STATUTES in force.)

3. To encourage the consumption of beer, and to amend the laws for securing the excise duties thereon, 4 G. 4. c. 51. [To commence and take effect from and after 5th July, 1813. s. 22.] REP. as to the duties on licences to brew and retail beer, and other duties granted, and the excise laws relating to such duties, and to brewers and retailers of beer, AMENDED 5 G. 4. c. 54. [To commence and take effect from and after 10th Oct. 1824, except where otherwise specially directed, s. 21.]

4. Whereas strong beer or ale, or beer or ale above 16s. the barrel, exclusive of the duty by law imposed on such beer or ale, and not being twopenny ale mentioned and described in the seventh article of the Treaty of Union with Scotland, (see 5 A. c. 8. Art. 7.) [Stat. Dig. tit. SCOTLAND Union, pl. 4.] which shall be brewed in G. B. by any common brewer, or other person or persons who shall sell or tap out beer or ale publicly or privately, is by law subject to a duty of excise of 10s. for every barrel thereof; and table beer, or beer or ale of 16s. the barrel or under, exclusive of the duty by law imposed thereon, which shall be brewed in G. B. by any common brewer, or other person or persons who shall sell or tap out beer or ale publicly or privately, is subject to an excise duty of 2s. for every barrel thereof: and whereas it is expedient, for supplying the public with beer or ale of an intermediate strength between strong beer and table beer, and subject to a proportionate excise duty, to make such provision as herein-after mentioned: it is enacted that from the 5th July, 1823, it shall be lawful for any person or persons, under the licences, rules, conditions, and restrictions herein-after contained, to brew for sale and sell such beer or ale as is herein-after mentioned, upon payment of an excise duty for the same at and after the following rate; (that is to say,) for every barrel, containing thirty-six gallons ale measure, of such beer or ale as is herein-after mentioned, which shall be brewed in G. B., to be paid by the brewer thereof, the sum of 5s., and so in proportion for any greater or less quantity thereof than a barrel, 4 G. 4. c. 51. s. 1.

5. All such beer or ale as shall be brewed or sold in G. B. under the provisions of this act, shall be brewed in the proportion of not less than five barrels, containing thirty-six gallons ale measure each, of such beer or ale, nor more than five and a half of such barrels, from each quarter of malt which shall be used for the purpose of brewing such beer or ale, and every such brewer shall be charged by the proper officer with such duty as aforesaid, after the rate of five such barrels at the least, for every quarter of malt so used by him in brewing, or which shall be found at any time to be deficient in, and on taking an account of his malt stock, as herein-after mentioned, and for so much more beer, not exceeding five barrels and a half for every quarter of malt so used, as such officer shall find on his survey to have been made by any such brewer, and so in proportion for any greater or less quantity; and all such beer or ale which shall be sold in any quantity at one time of nine gallons, or one quarter of such barrel or upwards, shall be sold at a rate not exceeding 27s. the barrel, and so in proportion for any quantity greater or less than a barrel; and all such beer or ale which shall be sold in any quantity at one time of less than nine gallons, shall be sold at a price not exceeding 10d. the gallon, and so in proportion for any quantity greater or less than a gallon; and if any person who shall make entry to brew such beer or ale, shall brew or suffer any beer or ale to be brewed of any greater or less strength or quantity than in the proportions aforesaid, of not less than five barrels, containing thirty-six gallons ale measure each, or more than five and a half of such barrels, from every quarter of malt, all such beer or ale brewed of greater strength shall be charged with duty at the rate of 10s. for every such barrel thereof, and so in proportion for any quantity greater or less than a barrel; and if any such person shall brew any porter, or shall use, or cause, or permit, or suffer to be used, in the brewing of any such beer or ale as aforesaid, any other material or ingredients than water, malt, hops, and yeast, or put into or mix with any such beer or ale, or the worts thereof, any water, or any other material or ingredient than hops and the necessary quantity of yeast and fining for such beer, ale, or worts, all such porter, and all such beer, ale, and worts shall be forfeited, and may be seized by any officer of excise; and every such person or persons so offending, either by brewing, or causing, permitting, or suffering to be brewed, any beer or ale of greater or less strength than as aforesaid, or by brewing any porter, or by adulterating any such beer, ale, or worts, shall for every such offence forfeit the sum of 200l.; and if any person shall sell, or cause, or permit, or suffer to be sold, any beer or ale brewed under the provisions of this act in any quantity at one time of nine gallons, or one quarter of such barrel thereof as aforesaid, or upwards, at a greater or higher rate or price than 27s. the barrel, and so in proportion for any greater or less quantity than a barrel, or any quantity of such beer or ale at one time, less than nine gallons, at a higher price than 10d. the gallon, and so in proportion, every such person shall for every such offence forfeit the sum of 50l., 4 G. 4. c. 51. s. 2.

6. Provided, that whenever malt or hops shall rise to and be of such price as, in the judgment of the commissioners of H. M.'s treasury, to require that the brewers and sellers of beer or ale brewed or sold under this act should be allowed to sell such beer or ale at a higher rate or price than is by this act specified, it shall be lawful for the commissioners of H. M.'s treasury, by any warrant or order signed by any three of them, to authorize the brewers of beer or ale under this act, or the retailers thereof, whilst the price of malt or hops shall be so advanced, to sell such beer or ale at such higher rate or price, as shall be limited and expressed in such warrant or order, without such brewer or other person incurring any penalty or forfeiture in respect of such sale, during the time that any such warrant or order shall be in force, 4 G. 4. c. 51. s. 3.

7. Every person who shall be desirous of brewing beer or ale under this act, and shall make entry of any house or premises for that purpose as herein-after mentioned, shall, before he shall begin to brew any such beer or ale, take out and pay for an excise licence authorizing such person to brew such beer or ale; and every such person so making entry shall be subject to, and shall pay duty for every such licence at the same rate and proportion which is by law imposed on licences to common brewers of strong beer [see post]; and every such licence shall be granted at and for such times, and under, subject, and according to the several laws and regulations relating to licences to be granted to common brewers of strong beer; and every such person so making entry and taking out a licence to brew under this act, shall in all respects be subject to the same rules, regulations, restrictions, conditions, fines, penalties, and forfeitures (except so far as is expressly altered by this act) to which common brewers of strong beer are subject by any act or acts in force, 4 G. 4. c. 51. s. 4.

8. No brewer who shall make entry and take out a licence to brew under this act shall be entitled to any abatement of the duty hereby imposed, or on the return of such duty, for waste by fillings and leakage, or any other consideration, or shall remove to, take, or receive at his premises entered for brewing beer or ale under this act, any other beer, ale, or porter whatsoever; and it shall be lawful for any such brewer to sell and retail such beer or ale at and from such entered premises, where the same has been brewed, at such prices as [in s. 2, 3. pl. 5, 6.] aforesaid, in any quantity, not being to be drunk or consumed upon the premises where sold, or in any shop, house, outhouse, yard, garden, orchard, or other place adjoining the same, or belonging to or occupied by such brewer, or in which he shall have any interest or concern; and if any brewer of such beer or ale shall remove to, take, or receive, at his premises entered, under [s. 4. pl. 7.] any other beer, ale, or porter whatsoever, or shall sell or retail any such beer or ale at any place other than as aforesaid, and not being a place duly entered for that purpose as herein-after mentioned, or to be drank or consumed upon the premises where sold, or in any shop, house, outhouse, yard, garden, orchard, or other place adjoining the same, or belonging to or occupied by such brewer, or in which he shall have any interest or concern, every such brewer so offending shall, for every such offence, forfeit 100*l.*, 4 G. 4. c. 51. s. 5.

9. It shall be lawful for any person to brew any beer, ale, or porter, under the provisions of any act in force before the passing of this act, and also to brew beer or ale under this act, upon taking out separate licences for that purpose, without incurring any of the penalties imposed by this act for having in his possession for sale, at the same time, beer or ale brewed under this act, and also any other beer, ale, or porter: provided, that no brewer who shall make entry to brew under the provisions of this act, shall be a maltster, or interested in the making of malt, within the distance of one quarter of a mile in a direct line from the premises entered by him, for brewing beer or ale under the provisions of this act; and provided, that no such brewer who shall also be a brewer of other beer, ale, or porter, shall carry on, or be interested or concerned in carrying on such several breweries together, or within the distance of 200 yards in a direct line of each other; or shall at the same time have, or take into his custody or possession, any beer or ale brewed under this act, and also any other beer, ale, or porter brewed under any other act, in the same place, room, storehouse, or cellar, or in any separate places, rooms, storehouses, or cellars, at a less distance from each other than 200 yards in a direct line; and if any person shall brew any beer or ale under this act, and also any other beer, ale, or porter, without taking out such separate licences, or shall brew any beer or ale under this act, and shall at the same time be a maltster, or be interested or concerned in the making of malt, within the distance of a quarter of a mile in a direct line from the premises by him entered for brewing beer or ale under this act, or shall brew any beer or ale under this act, and also be a brewer of any other beer, ale, or porter, and shall carry on, or be interested or concerned in carrying on such several breweries together, or within the distance of 200 yards in a direct line of each other, or shall at the same time have, or take into his custody or possession, any beer or ale brewed under this act, and also any other beer, ale, or porter at the same place, room, storehouse, or cellar, or at any separate places, rooms, storehouses, or cellars, within the distance of 200 yards in a direct line of each other; every such person or persons so offending shall for every such offence forfeit the sum of 200*l.*: and all such beer found in the custody or possession of such person or persons so offending shall be forfeited, and seized by any officer of excise, 4 G. 4. c. 51. s. 6.

10. It shall be lawful for all persons to make entry as herein-after mentioned, of any place, room, storehouse, cellar, shop, house, or outhouse, for the sale and retail of beer or ale brewed under this act, detached from the entered premises where the same is brewed, and to take out an excise licence under this act, authorizing such persons to sell by retail, under the conditions and restrictions herein contained, any beer or ale brewed under this act; which licence shall be granted in manner herein-after mentioned; (that is to say,) if taken out within the limits of the chief office of excise in London, under the hands and seals of two or more of the commissioners of excise, or of such persons as they shall direct or employ for that purpose; and if any such licence shall be taken out in any part of England not within the said limits, the same shall be granted under the hands and seals of the collectors and supervisors of excise within their respective collections and districts; and in case any such licence shall be taken out within the limits of the city of Edinburgh, the same shall be granted under the hands and seals of two commissioners of excise in Scotland; or if out of the said limits of the city of Edinburgh, then under the hands and seals of the several collectors and supervisors of excise in Scotland, within their respective collections and districts; and the said commissioners of excise in England and Scotland or any two or more of them, and the person to be directed or employed by the said commissioners, and all such collectors and supervisors, are hereby authorized and required to grant such licences to the persons who shall apply for the same, on the person or persons so applying first paying for such licence a duty of 21*s.* and which licence shall expire at the end of twelve calendar months after the day on which it shall be dated. [See the new duty, post, 5 G. 4. c. 54. s. 2. pl. 26.] Provided that no such licence shall authorize the person or persons taking out the same to sell any beer or ale brewed under the provisions of this act, to be drank or consumed upon the premises where sold, or in any shop, house, outhouse, yard, garden, orchard, or other place adjoining the same, or belonging to or occupied by the person or persons taking out such licence, or in which he or they shall have any concern, or to sell, deal in, or retail any other beer, or ale, or porter whatsoever, or shall entitle such person or persons to any licence to sell or retail cyder, wine, or spirits, 4 G. 4. c. 51. s. 7.

11. No such person shall sell any beer or ale brewed under this act, in any place, room, storehouse, cellar, shop, house, or outhouse, whether entered or not entered for that purpose, detached from the entered premises where the same was brewed, after the expiration of such his excise retail licence; and every such person shall take out a fresh retail licence for that purpose in the manner herein-before [s. 4. pl. 7.] directed, before the expiration of such former retail licence, and so in like manner renew every such licence from year to year; and if any person shall sell any beer or ale, brewed under this act, at any place, room, storehouse, cellar, shop, house, or outhouse detached from the entered premises where the same was brewed, without first taking out an excise retail licence authorizing him so to do, or without renewing the same as is herein in that behalf directed, or shall sell any such beer or ale to be drank or consumed upon the premises where sold, or in any shop, house, outhouse, yard, garden, orchard, or other place adjoining the same, or belonging to or occupied by the person taking out such licence, or in which he shall have any interest or concern, or shall sell, deal in, or retail any other beer, or ale, or porter whatsoever, every such person shall for every such offence forfeit the sum of 50*l.*: provided, that persons trading in partnership, and in one house or shop only, shall not be obliged to take out more than one licence in any one year for selling any such beer or ale brewed under this act, and no one licence which shall be granted by virtue of this act shall authorize any person to sell any such beer or ale, brewed under this act, in any other place, room, storehouse, cellar, shop, house, or outhouse, than the place, room, storehouse, cellar, shop, house, or outhouse, whereof entry in writing shall be made at the office of excise, in the name or names of such person or persons, for selling such beer or ale brewed under this act, at the time of granting such licence, and in respect whereof such licence shall be granted, 4 G. 4. c. 51. s. 8.

12. Such of the duties by this act imposed as shall arise in England, shall be under the management of the commissioners of excise in England for the time being; and such thereof as shall arise in Scotland shall be under the management of the commissioners of excise in Scotland, 4 G. 4. c. 51. s. 9.

13. The several duties hereby imposed and made payable shall be raised, levied, collected, answered, paid, recovered, and adjudged, mitigated and allowed, in like manner as any other duties of excise on beer may be (except so far as expressly altered by this act); and the brewers, retailers, and persons respectively before-mentioned shall be subject to all the conditions, regulations, rules, restrictions, and forfeitures to which brewers, dealers in and retailers of beer, are subject, except as aforesaid, by any act in force immediately before 8th July 1823, relating to the excise duty on beer; and all pains, penalties, fines, or forfeitures, except as aforesaid, for any offence committed against any such act, shall extend to and be put in execution for and in respect of the several excise duties hereby charged as fully as if here repeated, 4 G. 4. c. 51. s. 10.

14. All the monies arising by the duties and several sums by this act imposed and made payable shall be paid into H. M.'s exchequer, and carried to the consolidated fund, 4 G. 4. c. 51. s. 11.

15. Every person who shall make, or shall be by law required to make entry of any building, place, or utensil for the brewing or sale of beer or ale under this act, or for the purpose of carrying on any trade or business subject to the survey of the officers of excise, shall in every such entry distinguish and describe every such building, place, and utensil, by a particular letter or number, and shall paint such respective letter or number in a large and distinct character upon some convenient and conspicuous part of the walls or doors of every such building or place, and upon some convenient and conspicuous part of every such utensil, and keep and continue the same so painted, and from time to time, when occasion may require, or when requested by the supervisors of excise of the district where situated, renew the same so long as the entry thereof remains uncanceled, so that such letter or number so painted may be easily and readily known by the officers of excise attending to survey the same: and wherever any such person or persons shall use or employ in his or their entered buildings or places any fixed pipe or pipes, he or they shall, at the time of making his or their entry of the places and utensils as aforesaid, deliver with such entry, and as part thereof, a drawing or description, distinctly showing the course, direction, construction, and use of all and every such pipe and pipes, and of all and every branch and branches thereof, and of every cock and cocks thereon, together with the place or places, and utensil or utensils respectively, from and to, or with which, the same lead or communicate; and if any building, place, or utensil shall at any time be found to be used by any person for any such purpose without being so entered, described, or distinguished, or without such letter or number being so distinctly painted and continued thereon, or any pipe or pipes be found without being so shewn in such drawing, or so described as aforesaid, or different from or disagreeing with such drawing or description, every such person or persons using the same shall for every such offence forfeit, over and above all other penalties, the sum of 200*l.*: provided, that no person or persons whatsoever shall newly erect, set up, enter, or shall make use of any house or place whatsoever in G. B. for the brewing of beer or ale under this act, within the distance of 100 yards in a direct line from any house or place which for three months immediately preceding shall have been and shall be at that time licensed, entered, and used for the purpose of brewing any other beer, ale, or porter for sale, under any other act; nor shall any person or persons whatsoever newly erect, set up, enter, or make use of any place or house whatsoever in G. B. for brewing or making any other beer, ale, or porter for sale, within the distance of 200 yards in a direct line from any house or place which for three months immediately preceding shall have been and shall at that time be licensed, entered, and used for the purpose of brewing beer or ale under this act; nor shall any person or persons newly erect, set up, enter, or make use of any place, room, storehouse, cellar, shop, house, or outhouse within G. B. for selling or retailing any beer or ale brewed under this act, within the distance of 20 yards in a direct line from any house or premises which for three months immediately preceding shall have been and shall at that time be licensed, entered, and used for selling or retailing any other beer, ale, or porter; nor shall any person or persons newly erect, set up, enter, or make use of any house or premises for selling or retailing any other beer, ale, or porter, within the distance of 20 yards of any place, room, storehouse, cellar, shop, house, or outhouse, which for three months immediately preceding shall have been and shall at that time be licensed, entered, and used for the sale and retail of beer or ale brewed under this act; on pain of the person or persons so offending, forfeiting, in every such case, the sum of 50*l.* for every week that such house or place shall be erected, set up, entered, or used respectively as aforesaid, contrary to this act; and all entries of any such house or premises so entered and made use of contrary to the true intent and meaning of this act, shall be null and void, 4 G. 4. c. 51. s. 12.

16. Every person who shall make entry of any buildings or premises for brewing beer or ale under this act, shall specify in such entry, the room, storehouse, or place, rooms, storehouses, or places, in which he shall intend to store the malt for such brewing, and shall, when and so often as he shall receive any malt, store, lodge and place the same in one or more of such entered rooms, storehouses, or other places, and shall use or employ no other malt, ground or unground, for brewing beer or ale under this act, than such as shall be taken by him, from one or more of such entered rooms, storehouses, or places for that purpose, and of which entry shall on the same day be made in the book herein-after mentioned; and if any such person shall not make such entry as aforesaid, or specify and distinguish every such room, storehouse, or place as aforesaid, or shall receive or take into, or have in his possession, any malt, ground or unground, for brewing, without such malt, ground or unground, being lodged, put, or placed by him, her, or them, in one or more of such rooms, storehouses, or places, entered for that purpose, and entered in such book as herein-after mentioned, or shall use any malt, ground or unground, in or for such brewing as aforesaid, without taking the same from one or more of such entered rooms, storehouses, or other places, and making entry thereof in such book as is herein-after mentioned, every such person or persons so offending as aforesaid, shall forfeit for every such offence the sum of 200*l.*, 4 G. 4. c. 51. s. 13.

17. Every brewer of beer or ale under this act shall keep a book to be delivered to him by the proper officer of excise, which book shall be prepared with distinct columns for entering accounts of all the malt which shall be received by any such brewer, to be used, and which shall be used by him, in the brewing of such beer or ale; and every such brewer shall, under the date and on the same day on which he shall receive any malt into his possession for brewing, write and enter, or cause to be written and entered in such book and in the proper columns, a true and particular account of the number of bushels of malt, distinguishing the same whether ground or unground, which he shall receive into his possession for brewing as aforesaid; and shall also write and enter the christian and surnames, and places of abode of the persons of whom such malt was purchased, or from whom such malt was received; and shall also write and enter an account of the quantity of such malt in bushels, and distinguishing whether ground or unground, which shall from time to time be used at such brewery in the brewing or making of such beer or ale, and make every such last-mentioned entry in such book, under the date and on the same day in which such malt was so used; and if any such brewer shall neglect or refuse to make or cause to be made any such entry or entries, or shall cancel, obliterate, or alter, or cause or suffer to be cancelled, obliterated, or altered, any such entry or entries, or shall make any untrue entry or entries therein, or shall at any time withhold, conceal, or make away with any such book or any part thereof, every such brewer or brewers so offending shall for every such offence forfeit the sum of 100*l.*, 4 G. 4. c. 51. s. 14.

18. All such books shall at all times be produced to and left open to the free inspection of the proper officers of excise, who shall be permitted to examine and cast up, and make copies or extracts from the entries contained therein, and to insert therein the time of such inspection, and sign their names thereto, and to take away any such book and deliver any such trader a new book of a similar kind; and if any person shall by any act, matter, or thing, or by any art or contrivance, obstruct or hinder, or cause or permit or suffer to be obstructed or hindered, any officer of excise therein, or in the performance and execution of any of the powers and authorities by this act given, or of his duty in respect thereof, every person and persons so offending, shall for every such offence forfeit the sum of 200*l.*, 4 G. 4. c. 51. s. 15.

19. Every such brewer shall, when and so often as thereto required by any officer of excise, cast or place all the malt in his possession, in such regular form as may enable the officer of excise conveniently to gauge and ascertain the true quantity thereof; and if upon such admeasurement the quantity of malt then in stock shall be found to disagree with the quantity which such brewer ought to have in his possession, according to the true balance drawn from casting up and adjusting such book and the entries therein, and allowing for so much as shall in and by the aforesaid book and the entries therein appear to have been used for the purpose of brewing such beer as aforesaid, then every such brewer, the quantity of whose malt then in stock shall be found so to disagree, or who, upon being thereunto required as aforesaid, shall neglect or refuse to cast or place such malt as aforesaid, in his custody or possession, in or into such regular form as aforesaid, shall for every such offence forfeit the sum of 200*l.*, 4 G. 4. c. 51. s. 16.

20. Every brewer shall, before the officers take any such account of malt as aforesaid, be required by the proper officer, and be permitted to make due entries in such book of all malt which he may have received into his possession, or may have used in the brewing of beer in the course of the day in which such account is proposed or intended to be taken; and if any dispute shall arise between any such brewer and the officer of excise respecting the true quantity of malt in stock so taken an account of as aforesaid, such brewer shall have the option of and be allowed immediately to measure the same in the presence of such officer by a just Winchester bushel measure, to be provided by such brewer, and the quantity ascertained by such admeasurement shall be taken to be the true quantity of the malt in stock in the possession of such brewer, 4 G. 4. c. 51. s. 17.

21. On every brewing by any brewer under this act, the whole of the worts made on and by such brewing shall be collected and mixed together by such brewer, and made of one and the same quality, before the same or any part thereof shall be cleansed, removed, or run from the fermenting tun; and no such beer or ale shall be put into or tunned, cleansed, kept, or stored in any cask, vat, or other vessel, exceeding the content or size of a butt or pipe of three barrels; and before any such cask, vat, or other vessel shall be used for any such purpose, the same shall be entered at the proper office of excise, and be truly gauged and inched to the satisfaction of the proper officer of excise; and if any such brewer shall on any brewing not collect and mix together the whole of the worts made on and by such brewing, and make the same of one and the same quality, before the same or any part thereof is cleansed, removed, or run from the fermenting tun, or shall put into, or tun, cleanse, keep, or store any such beer or ale in any cask, vat, or other vessel exceeding such size as aforesaid, or shall make use of the same for any such purpose before the same have been entered, gauged, and inched as aforesaid, or afterwards alter by enlarging or diminishing the same without notice thereof to the proper officer, he shall for every such offence forfeit the sum of 100*l.*; and every cask, vat, or other vessel which shall have been so used as aforesaid, with all the beer contained therein, shall be forfeited, and may be seized by any officer of excise, 4 G. 4. c. 51. s. 18.

22. When and as often as any beer or ale brewed under this act shall be sold and sent out or delivered for consumption or otherwise, in any quantity of four gallons or upwards, such beer shall be sent out by the brewer in a cask on which shall be branded and permanently marked, in large and legible letters, the name of such brewery, and of the place or brewery where such beer was brewed, as well as the numeral figure 5, of the length of four inches at the least, to denote the quality of such beer; and if any such brewer shall neglect or refuse to distinguish all such beer when sold and sent out, or delivered in any such quantity or quantities as aforesaid, in a cask which shall be so branded and marked, every such brewer shall for every such offence forfeit 50*l.*: provided, that no such brewer shall be subject to any such penalty in any case where such beer shall be taken away by the person to whom the same may be sold, in any cask produced by him, and then filled for such purpose, 4 G. 4. c. 51. s. 19.

23. From 8th July 1823, every brewer of beer or ale brewed under this act, and every brewer of any other beer, ale, porter, or table beer for sale, shall, before he shall cleanse, or remove, or run any wort or beer from the fermenting tuns, or into any cask or vessel other than a known tun, cask, or vessel for fermenting beer, and specially entered by such brewer for that purpose, make in writing, in the same book or paper in which every brewer of beer for sale is now by law required to give notice of every intended brewing, and of the quantity of malt by him intended to be used in such intended brewing, and opposite the entry of such notice, and the quantity of malt therein mentioned, a declaration of the whole length or quantity or quality of all the beer brewed by any such brewer at every such brewing, such declaration, when so made, being at the time signed by such brewer, or by his principal servant, under whose direction such beer, &c. was brewed, the proper hand-writing of such person being affixed and subscribed thereto; and if any such brewer shall refuse or neglect to make and enter such declaration in writing, or shall cancel, obliterate, or alter, or cause, or suffer, or permit to be cancelled, obliterated, or altered, any such declaration or entry; or if any such brewer or their or any of their servants shall make any untrue declaration or entry, or shall not at all times keep such book or paper in some public and open part of his entered premises, ready for the inspection of the officers of excise, or shall before such declaration or entry is so made, cleanse, remove, or run away any of the beer brewed at such brewing from the fermenting tuns, or into any cask or vessel other than a known tun, cask, or vessel for fermenting beer, and specially entered by such brewer, every brewer so offending shall for every such offence forfeit the sum of 200*l.*, 4 G. 4. c. 51. s. 20.

24. All fines, penalties, and forfeitures imposed by this act shall be sued for, levied, or mitigated by such ways as any fine, &c. may be sued for, &c. by any law of excise, or by action of debt, bill, plaint, or information, in any of H. M.'s courts of record at Westminster, or in the court of exchequer in Scotland; and one moiety of every such fine, &c. shall be to H. M. and the other to him or them who shall discover, or sue for the same, 4 G. 4. c. 51. s. 21.

25. Whereas it is expedient to repeal the several licence duties now payable by brewers and retailers of beer, spirits, and foreign wine (being at the same time retailers of beer or spirits), be it enacted that from 10th Oct. 1824, all the duties on excise licences taken out by common brewers and sellers of beer, ale, cyder or perry, by retail, to be drank in their houses or premises, and by sellers of beer under 4 G. 4. c. 51.; and all the duties on excise licences taken out by retailers of distilled spirituous liquors or strong waters in G. B., and by retailers of foreign wine, in G. B., who shall have taken out a licence for retailing beer, but shall not have an excise licence for retailing distilled spirituous liquors granted by any act now in force, shall cease and determine, except as to arrears unpaid on 10th Oct. 1824, and except as to fines, &c. then incurred, 5 G. 4. c. 54. s. 1.

26. In lieu of the duties hereby repealed there shall be paid the several duties following; viz. from 10th Oct. 1824, every brewer of beer in G. B. for sale, shall annually take out an excise licence for that purpose, for which he shall pay for beer brewed within the year ending 10th Oct. previous to taking out such licence, if the quantity of beer brewed shall not exceed 20 barrels the sum of 10 shillings;

Every person who shall from and after the 10th Oct. 1824, first become a brewer of beer in G. B. for sale, on taking out such licence as aforesaid for that purpose, shall pay the sum of 10*s.*, and within ten days after the 10th Oct. 1824, after taking out such licence pay such further additional sum as, with the said 10*s.* shall amount to the duty herein-before mentioned according to the number of barrels of beer brewed within the preceding year: Every brewer of beer in G. B. for sale, who shall retail such beer from his brewery, to be consumed elsewhere than in his house or premises, shall from and after 10th Oct. 1824, annually take out an excise licence for that purpose, and shall for every such licence pay the sum of 5*l. 5s.*: Every person in G. B. who shall be duly authorized by justices of the peace or magistrates to keep a common inn, alehouse, or victualling house, and who shall sell beer, cyder, or perry, by retail, to be drank or consumed in their house or premises, shall, from and after the said 10th Oct. 1824, annually take out an excise licence to sell beer, cyder, or perry as aforesaid, and shall for every such licence, if the dwelling-house in which such person shall reside or retail such beer, cyder, or perry, at the time of taking out such licence, shall not, together with the offices, courts, yards, and gardens therewith occupied, be rated, under any act for granting duties on inhabited houses, at a rent of 20*l.* per annum or upwards, pay the sum of 1*l. 1s.*; and if rated as aforesaid at 20*l.* per annum or upwards, 3*l. 3s.*: Every person in G. B. who shall sell strong beer only, brewed by any other brewer, in casks containing not less than five gallons, or in not less than two dozen reputed quart bottles, at one time, to be drank or consumed elsewhere than in their house or premises, shall, from and after the 10th Oct. 1824, annually take out an excise licence for that purpose, and shall for every such licence pay the sum of 3*l. 3s.*: Every retailer of distilled spirituous liquors or strong waters in G. B. (not being a retailer of plain aqua vitæ only, made or distilled from British materials in Scotland), shall, from and after the 10th Oct. 1824, annually take out an excise licence for that purpose, and shall for every such licence, if the dwelling-house in which such retailer shall reside or retail such distilled spirituous liquors or strong waters, at the time of taking out such licence, shall not, together with the offices, courts, yards, and gardens therewith occupied, be rated, under any act for granting duties on inhabited houses, at a rent of 20*l.* per annum or upwards, pay the sum of 4*l. 14s.* If rated at 20*l.* per annum or upwards, and under 25*l.* - 6*l. 6s.*

And every person who within the limits of any royal burgh, burgh of barony or regality, in any part of Scotland, or in any other part of Scotland other than within the Highlands of Scotland, limited in the acts in that case made, shall retail any spirits made or distilled from malt, corn, grain, barley, beer, bigg, or other British materials, and commonly called aqua vitæ, shall, from and after the 10th Oct. 1824, annually take out an excise licence for that purpose, and shall for every such licence to retail plain aqua vitæ only, pay the sum of 4*l.* And every person who shall retail such spirits within the several counties and districts of the Highlands of Scotland, the royal burghs, burghs of barony or regality therein excepted, shall for every such licence pay, as aforesaid, the sum of 2*l.* And every retailer of foreign wine in G. B. who shall have taken out a licence for retailing beer, ale, and other exciseable liquors, but shall not have an excise licence for retailing distilled spirituous liquors or strong waters, shall, from and after the 10th Oct. 1824, annually take out an excise licence for that purpose, and shall for every such licence to retail foreign wine pay the sum of 4*l. 4s.* And every retailer of foreign wine in G. B., who shall have an excise licence for retailing distilled spirituous liquors or strong waters, shall for every such licence to retail foreign wine, pay the sum of 2*l. 4s.*, 5 G. 4. c. 54. s. 2.

27. The number of barrels of table beer brewed by any brewer, and charged with duty as table beer, shall not be reckoned or included in the account of the number of barrels of beer brewed by such brewer, for the purpose of increasing the rate of licence duty, to be charged upon and paid for by such brewer, over and above the rate of 2*l.* 5 G. 4. c. 54. s. 3.

28. The several sums of money and licence duties of excise above-mentioned, shall be under the management of the commissioners of excise, and raised, levied, collected, recovered, adjudged, mitigated, and allowed, by the general or special means, ways, or methods by which the licence duties of excise repealed are raised, (except so far as is expressly altered by this act); and the goods and licences, brewers, retailers, and persons before-mentioned, shall be subject to all the general and special conditions, regulations, rules, restrictions, and forfeitures, to which any licence to retail beer, distilled spirituous liquors, or foreign wine respectively, brewers, dealers in and retailers of any beer, distilled spirituous liquors, or foreign wine respectively, are subject (except as aforesaid) by any acts in force before 4th June, 1824; and all and every pain, penalty, fine, or forfeiture (except as aforesaid) committed against any act in force before 4th June, 1824, and the several clauses, powers, and directions therein contained (except as aforesaid), shall extend to the duties of excise and sums hereby charged, as fully (except as aforesaid) as if all the said acts, clauses, provisions, powers, directions, fines, pains, penalties, or forfeitures, were repeated and re-enacted in this act, 5 G. 4. c. 54. s. 4.

29. All monies arising by the duties and sums by this act payable (the necessary charges of raising, &c. excepted), shall be paid into the exchequer, and carried to the consolidated fund of the U. K. of Great Britain and Ireland, 5 G. 4. c. 54. s. 5.

30. It shall be lawful for any brewer of strong beer only in G. B. who shall have taken out and paid for his licence to brew, at the rate of 2*l.* at the least, to retail such beer from the premises where such beer is brewed, and for any person not being a brewer of beer, either for sale or private use, to sell strong beer only, brewed by any other brewer, in casks containing not less than five gallons, or in not less than two dozen reputed quart bottles at one time, upon such brewer or other person taking out, under this act, such respective excise licence for that purpose as before-mentioned, which licence shall be granted in manner herein-after mentioned; (that is to say,) if any such licence shall be taken out within the limits of the chief office of excise in London, the same shall be granted under the hands and seals of two or more of the commissioners, or of such person or persons as they, or any four of them for the time being, shall employ for that purpose; and if any such licence shall be taken out in any part of England, not within the said limits, the same shall be granted under the hands and seals of the collectors and supervisors of excise within their respective collections; and in case any such licence shall be taken out within the limits of the city of Edinburgh, the same shall be granted under the hands and seals of two or more of the commissioners, and assistant commissioners of excise in Scotland, or of such persons as they, or any two of them, shall employ for that purpose; or if any such licence shall be taken out in Scotland, out of the said limits, then the same shall be granted under the hands and seals of the several collectors and supervisors of excise in their respective collections; and such commissioners in England and Scotland, or any two of them, and the person by them employed, and also all such collectors and supervisors shall grant such licences to such persons who shall apply for the same, on such persons so applying first paying for such licences the sums of money before-mentioned; and every such licence shall expire on the 10th Oct. next after the day on which such licence shall be dated: provided, that no such licence shall authorize such brewer, or other person taking out any such licence, to sell any table beer, or any beer to be drank or consumed upon the premises where sold, or in any shop, house, outhouse, yard, garden, orchard, or other place adjoining the same, or belonging to or occupied by the person taking out such licence, or selling such beer, or in which he shall have any concern, or to sell, deal in, or retail any other beer whatsoever, or in any other manner whatsoever than as aforesaid, or shall entitle any such brewer or other person to any licence to sell or retail cyder, wine, or spirits: provided also, that within the limits of the universities of Cambridge and Oxford, all persons applying for such licences shall apply to the persons heretofore granting common ale licences, who shall or may grant the same, according to the same rules by which they have been accustomed to grant the said licences, 5 G. 4. c. 54. s. 6.

31. Where the entered premises, for brewing, of any brewer shall be situated out of a city or market town, and such brewer shall by reason thereof not retail beer, or be licensed as aforesaid to retail beer from such brewery, or make entry of any part of such premises for that purpose, it shall be lawful for such brewer to make entry of some one place, room, storehouse, cellar, shop, house, or outhouse, for the retail of beer in any one adjoining city or market town, and to take out a licence for, and retail therefrom the strong beer brewed by him at such brewery, to be drank or consumed elsewhere, subject nevertheless to the several provisions and penalties herein contained and imposed, relating to brewers retailing beer from the premises where brewed: provided, that no retail brewer, not being duly licensed to sell beer as a keeper of a common inn, alehouse, or victualling house, shall deal in or sell any table beer, or any beer except the strong beer which he or they shall brew, and be charged with the duty thereon, or shall at any one time use, employ, or consume any less quality than sixteen bushels of malt at any one brewing, upon pain of forfeiting for each offence 100*l.*, 5 G. 4. c. 54. s. 7.

32. No such brewer shall retail any beer from the premises where brewed, nor shall any such other person sell beer brewed by any other brewery, in casks containing not less than five gallons, or in not less than two dozen reputed quart bottles at one time, after the expiration of such excise licence; and every such brewer or other person shall take out a fresh licence for the purpose herein-before mentioned, in the manner herein-before directed, before the expiration of such former licence, and so in like manner renew every such licence from year to year; and if any brewer (not being duly licensed to sell beer as the keeper of a common inn, alehouse, or victualling house) shall retail or sell any beer at or from the premises where such beer is or has been brewed, in any less quantity than a whole cask containing four gallons and a half, at one time, without having first taken out and paid for a licence to brew, under this act, after the rate of 2*l.* at the least; or if any brewer so licensed to retail beer, shall brew, sell, or have in his possession any table beer; or if any person so licensed to sell beer brewed by any other brewer, in casks containing not less than five gallons, or in not less than two dozen reputed quart bottles at one time, shall brew any beer, or sell or have in his possession any table beer, or shall sell any beer in a less quantity at one time than as aforesaid; or if any brewer not being licensed to sell beer as the keeper of a common inn, alehouse, or victualling house, shall retail any beer at or from the premises where such beer is brewed, or any such other person shall sell any beer in casks or bottles, without first taking out such excise licence, authorizing him so to do, or without renewing the same as herein directed, or shall sell any beer to be drank or consumed upon the premises where sold, or in any shop, house, outhouse, yard, garden, orchard, or other place adjoining the same, or belonging to or occupied by the person taking out such licence, or in which he shall have any interest or concern, or shall sell, deal in, or retail any other beer whatsoever, or in any other manner than is authorized by such licence; every such brewer and person so offending, shall for every such offence forfeit 100*l.*; provided all persons trading in partnership and in one house or shop only shall not be obliged to take out more than one licence in one year, for retailing beer, or for selling any beer brewed by any other brewer, in casks containing not less than five gallons, or in not less than two dozen reputed quart bottles at one time; and no one licence which shall be granted by virtue of this act, shall authorize any person to retail or sell any beer in any other place than in the place, room, storehouse, cellar, shop, house, or outhouse, whereof entry in writing shall be made at the office of excise, in the name of such brewer or other person at the time of granting such licence, and in respect whereof such licence was granted, 5 G. 4. c. 54. s. 8.

33. No brewer of beer in G. B. for sale, shall be entitled to renew his licence to retail, unless he shall have brewed and been charged with duty upon or for 100 barrels of strong beer at the least, in the year preceding the termination of such former licence, and so in proportion for such part of the preceding year for which such licence was taken out: but every such brewer who shall first take out and pay for such retail licence as aforesaid, shall be at liberty to retail beer under this act, from the time of taking out such licence, notwithstanding such brewer shall then newly begin and set up the trade of a brewer, or shall not in any previous year have brewed or been charged with duty upon or for so much beer as would make the licence duty, to which such brewer would be liable, amount to 2*l.*, 5 G. 4. c. 54. s. 9.

34. Licensed brewers who have retailed beer from their breweries, before July 5th, 1824, discharged from penalties, 5 G. 4. c. 54. s. 10. Exp.

35. No licensed brewer of beer for sale, who shall also be duly licensed to retail such beer under this act, shall sell, deliver, or send out, at or from his brewery, or the premises belonging thereto, or entered as aforesaid, or to any of his customers, any beer in any quantity less than a whole barrel, except between the hours of six in the morning and nine in the evening, or shall sell, deliver, or send out any beer during the usual hours of divine service on Sundays, upon pain of forfeiting for each offence 20*l.*, 5 G. 4. c. 54. s. 11.

36. All the powers, authorities, rules, regulations, restrictions, exceptions, provisions, clauses, matters, and things, which in any act or acts relating to licences to common brewers, or for the brewing of beer for sale, or to the retail of beer, cyder, or perry, or distilled spirituous liquors, or strong waters, or foreign wine, in force immediately before 4th June, 1824, are contained, not expressly altered by this act, and not repugnant thereto, shall be and continue in full force, as if the same had been expressly inserted and re-enacted in this act, 5 G. 4. c. 54. s. 12.

37. Every licence now, or which shall be hereafter granted, the duty on which is hereby repealed, and also, licences by this act imposed, shall expire on 10th Oct. in each year, and every common brewer who shall renew his licence for brewing beer in G. B. on or before said 10th Oct. and expiring on that day [so in the act], shall pay duty for the same for such time or part of the year only as shall be between the day when such licence was or ought to have been renewed, and the said 10th Oct., and shall then renew such licence under this act to expire on 10th Oct. 1825, 5 G. 4. c. 54. s. 13.

38. Whereas licences to keep common inns, alehouses, or victualling houses, are in some parts of G. B. granted by the justices at other parts of the year than in the month of September, and excise licences to retail beer, spirits, and foreign wine, in such inns, alehouses, or victualling houses, have been granted, and are now in force; be it therefore enacted, that nothing in this act shall extend to alter or affect any licence granted and now in force, to retail or sell beer, spirits, or wine, in any inn, alehouse, or victualling house, before the expiration of the current year for which each such licence has been granted: but that all such licences to retail spirits or wine in any such common inn, &c. shall, on their previous expiration, be renewed for such part only of the current year for which such inn, alehouse, or victualling house shall be so authorized to be kept; and the commissioners of excise, and persons authorized by them, and the collectors, are to receive from the persons liable, a proportionate part of the duties payable on such licence, and to grant such licence for such fractional part of the year between the time when any such licence shall expire, and the remainder of the year for which such inn, alehouse, or victualling house shall be authorized to be kept; and in every future year, every excise licence to sell beer, spirits, or wine, shall be granted for the year ending on the next succeeding excise quarter day, after the expiration of the year for which such inn, alehouse, or victualling house shall be authorized to be kept, and shall then expire, and be renewed under this act, to the day of renewal, 5 G. 4. c. 54. s. 14. [See further as to licensing alehouses, &c. ante, tit. ALEHOUSES.]

39. Every person who shall, by any conviction, be disabled from holding or having a licence to keep a common inn, alehouse, or victualling house, shall also, by such conviction, be disabled from taking out any excise licence to sell, and from selling beer by retail, in any manner whatsoever; and if any such person shall, after such conviction, take out or have any excise licence to retail beer, the same shall be void; and if any such person shall, after such conviction, sell beer by retail, he shall for every offence forfeit 50*l.*: and in all cases of prosecution against any such person, for any penalty under this act, a certificate from the clerk of the peace, of any such conviction, shall, on the trial, be legal evidence thereof, which certificate such clerk of the peace is required to grant on demand, without fee, 5 G. 4. c. 54. s. 15.

40. It shall be lawful for any brewer who shall, within three months before 4th June, 1824, have been charged with duties on strong and table beer, and shall on 4th June, 1824, be a licensed brewer carrying on the trade and business of a brewer of strong and table beer respectively, to take out such licence to retail as aforesaid, and to retail, under the regulations of this act, the strong beer by him brewed and charged with duty, without incurring any penalty for brewing, or having in possession, or selling the table beer by them brewed, and which shall be charged with duty, upon condition that every such brewer shall sell the whole of such table beer, and send the same out into consumption in casks containing at the least nine gallons in every cask, and accompanied with a certificate, the particulars whereof shall be duly entered in the counterpart of every such certificate, in the certificate book delivered by the officer of excise to and kept by such brewer; and if any such brewer shall not sell the whole of the table beer brewed by him, or which shall come into his possession, or on which such brewer shall be charged with duty as table beer, and at or below the price allowed and limited for table beer, from time to time as the same is brewed; or shall sell or send out any part thereof, otherwise than in a whole cask, containing at the least nine gallons, or without such certificate as aforesaid, expressing the date on which each such cask is sent out, and the name and place of residence of such brewer, and of the person to whom the same is sold, sent out, and delivered, together with the quantity of the beer as table beer, and the price at which the same is so sold, sent out, and delivered; or shall grant, issue, write, or enter any untrue certificate or counterpart, for or in respect of any such table beer; or shall mix with or put any table beer wort, or table beer, into or amongst any strong beer wort, or strong beer; or shall keep or have any table beer in the place entered by such brewer under the regulations of this act, for the retail of beer, every such brewer shall, for every such offence, forfeit 100*l.*; and upon the conviction of any such brewer of any such offence the retail licence granted to him shall be void, and such brewer shall be wholly disabled from taking out, having or holding any such retail licence for the future, 5 G. 4. c. 54. s. 16.

41. Every thirty-six gallons of beer, taken either by gauge or measure, shall, throughout G. B., be reckoned and returned by the officers of excise for a barrel of beer; and the duty shall be charged thereon accordingly, and so in proportion for any less quantity; and no beer shall be sold by any brewer, dealer, or retailer, at any other quantity for the barrel than thirty-six gallons, any practice or usage to the contrary notwithstanding, 5 G. 4. c. 54. s. 17. See WEIGHTS, &c.

42. The act 22 & 23 C. 2. c. 5. s. 10. whereby it is enacted, that if any person inhabiting in any market town, or in any city or town corporate, or parts adjoining to any city or town corporate, where there is a common brewhouse, having and lawfully using any private brewing vessels for the brewing and making of beer or ale, to be spent and consumed in their private families, shall lend out any of their brewing vessels to be made use of by any other persons, not being of their family, for the brewing of beer or ale for the use of any other persons, then such person shall forfeit 50*l.*, shall be repealed, 5 G. 4. c. 54. s. 18.

43. If any person shall assault, resist, oppose, molest, obstruct, or hinder any officer of excise in the execution of the powers by this act or any other act relating to any duty of excise on beer, or any drawback payable in respect thereof granted, every person so offending shall forfeit 200*l.*, 5 G. 4. c. 54. s. 19.

44. All fines, penalties, and forfeitures imposed by this act, shall be sued for, recovered, levied, or mitigated, by such ways, means, or methods, as any fine, &c. may be sued for, &c. by any law of excise, or by action of debt, bill, plaint, or information in any of H. M.'s courts at Westminster, or in the court of exchequer in Scotland; one moiety to H. M. and the other to him who shall discover, inform, or sue for the same, 5 G. 4. c. 54. s. 20.

45. This act to commence and take effect from and after 10th Oct. 1824, except where otherwise specially directed, 5 G. 4. c. 54. s. 21.

46. But all the provisions, so far as the same affect brewers retailing beer, shall commence from the 5th July, 1824; and it shall be lawful for the commissioners of excise, and the persons authorized by them, and the collectors of excise, to receive, on request, a proportionate part of the retail licence duty hereby imposed on such retail brewer, and to grant such licence for the remainder of the year ending the 10th Oct. 1824, under this act, 5 G. 4. c. 54. s. 22.

BENEFICE.

1. For the relief in certain cases of the incumbents of ecclesiastical livings or benefices, mortgaged for building, rebuilding, repairing or purchasing houses, and other necessary buildings and tenements for such benefices, 5 G. 4. c. 89.

2. Whereas under 17 G. 3. c. 53. [Dig. tit. BENEFICE, pl. 34.] and 21 G. 3. c. 66. [Dig. tit. BENEFICE, pl. 34.] many mortgages of ecclesiastical livings and benefices have been made, and are still in force; and in most cases the money borrowed has been to the full amount allowed by the said acts, viz. two years net income of the respective livings; and whereas great reduction has taken place in the income and produce of many livings or benefices mortgaged under the said acts, whereby the incumbents are obliged to pay [Stat. Dig. tit. id. pl. 40, 41, 42.] a larger proportion of the present income than was intended according to the said acts, and it is just provision should be made therefore, it is enacted, that it shall be lawful for the incumbent of every living or benefice mortgaged before the passing of this act [21st June, 1824.], under the said former acts, for the amount of two years net income and produce thereof, to lay before the ordinary of such living or benefice, a just and particular account in writing, signed by such incumbent, and verified upon his oath, taken before some justice of the peace or master in chancery, ordinary or extraordinary (which oath every justice of peace and master in chancery is hereby empowered to administer), of the income or produce of such living or benefice, and of all rents, stipends, taxes, and other out-goings therefrom, excepting only the salary to the assistant curate, where a curate is necessary; and it shall be lawful for the ordinary thereupon to cause an enquiry to be made by the archdeacon, chancellor of the diocese, or other proper persons resident within or near the limits of such living or benefice, of the truth of the said account, and the result of the said inquiry, to be certified by such archdeacon, chancellor, or other persons; and the incumbent of such living or benefice, and the mortgagee or mortgagees thereof, may and they are hereby empowered, with the consent of the ordinary and patron, to agree that the yearly payments in discharge of the principal money secured by the mortgage of such living or benefice, and to become due after such agreement, shall be made at the rate of 5*l. per cent.*, or 10*l. per cent. per annum*, as the case may require, according to the directions of the former acts and this act, of the sum which two years net income and produce of the said living or benefice shall appear to amount unto, according to the account thereof laid before, and the certificate returned to, the ordinary, as herein mentioned; and every such agreement shall be valid and effectual; and the mortgage made of every such living or benefice shall remain in force as a security for the yearly payments thereby agreed to be made, as well as for payment of the interest arising on such mortgage, and with all the powers and remedies for enforcing the same given by the former acts, until the money borrowed, and all interest, and also all costs occasioned by the non-payment thereof, shall be fully paid in like manner as if such yearly payments had been mentioned in and secured by the said mortgage, the expiration of the term of years granted by the said mortgage, or any other matter notwithstanding, 5 G. 4. c. 89. s. 1.

3. Every agreement entered into by virtue of this act shall be in writing, in the form in the schedule [see pl. 8.] to the act annexed, under the hands of the ordinary, patron, incumbent, and mortgagee, or the common seal of such of them as shall be a body corporate aggregate; and in case the patronage of such living or benefice shall be in the crown, or the patron shall be a minor, idiot, lunatic, or feme covert, such agreement shall be signed by such persons as by the former acts are empowered in like case to consent to the proceedings thereby authorized [Stat. Dig. tit. BENEFICE, pl. 49. 55.]; and in case any such agreement shall relate to any chapelry or perpetual cure, the incumbent whereof shall be nominated by the rector or vicar, such rector or vicar shall be required to be a party to the agreements, together with the patron of the rectory or vicarage, 5 G. 4. c. 89. s. 2.

4. It shall be lawful for the governors of the bounty of queen Anne, to make and enter into such agreements as herein-before authorized, with respect to all or any of the mortgages made to the said governors by virtue of the said former acts, if it appear to the governors to be fit and proper so to do; and it shall also be lawful for all colleges and halls within the universities of Oxford and Cambridge, and for all other corporate bodies possessed of the patronage of any ecclesiastical livings or benefices, to enter into such agreements as herein-before authorized, with respect to all or any of the mortgages made to them, for any money advanced under the powers of the former acts, if it appear to them fit and proper so to do, 5 G. 4. c. 89. s. 3.

5. A copy of every such agreement shall be registered in the office of the registrar of the bishop, or other ordinary of the living or benefice to which such agreement shall relate, after having been first examined by him; and such registrar shall register such copy, and make and sign a certificate on the original agreement, that a copy thereof is so registered, and shall be entitled to receive 5s. for such register; and every such copy shall be inspected upon all necessary occasions, the person who requires such inspection paying 1s.; and the registered copy, or a copy thereof certified under the hand of the registrar to be correct, shall be legal evidence, in case such agreement be lost or destroyed, 5 G. 4. c. 89. s. 4.

6. No affidavit, certificate, agreement, instrument, or proceeding under this act, shall be charged with any stamp duty, 5 G. 4. c. 89. s. 5.

7. In case any incumbent of any living or benefice, mortgaged, or to be mortgaged by virtue of the said former acts, who shall not reside twenty weeks in any year upon such living or benefice, shall have been non-resident in the same year by licence of the bishop of the diocese within which such living or benefice shall be locally situate, granted on account of any actual illness or infirmity, of mind or body, of such incumbent, or of his wife or child, making part of and residing with him as part of his family, such incumbent shall for every year in which he shall be non-resident by such licence, pay to the mortgagee of such living or benefice the like sum as he would have been liable to pay by virtue of the said former acts, or any agreement made under this act in case he had resided twenty weeks in the same year upon his said living or benefice, and no other or greater sum; provided that every such incumbent at the time of making such payment, or some person on his behalf, shall deliver to the mortgagee a certificate under the hand of such bishop, that such incumbent was non-resident in the year for which such payment is made, by the licence of the said bishop, granted for some or one of the causes herein-before mentioned, to be specified in the said certificate, 5 G. 4. c. 89. s. 6.

8. It shall be lawful for the governors of queen Anne's bounty for the augmentation of the maintenance of the poor clergy, at any time after the passing of this act [21st June 1824.], to reduce the rate of interest secured to them by any mortgage heretofore made to them, under the authority of the said former acts, and thereafter to become due, to such rate as to them shall appear reasonable, 5 G. 4. c. 89. s. 7.

The Schedule to which the 5 G. 4. c. 89. s. 2. pl. 3. refers.

Form of Agreement.

'Whereas in the year — the Rev. A. B., clerk, rector, [vicar or curate] of the parish church [or curacy or chapelry] of — in the county of — and the diocese of the bishop of — and under the jurisdiction of the said bishop, [or such other ecclesiastical person or corporation as shall be ordinary] as ordinary, by virtue and pursuant to the directions of an act of parliament passed in the 17th year of the reign of his majesty king Geo. III., intituled An Act to promote the Residence of the Parochial Clergy, by making Provision for the more speedy and effectual building, rebuilding, repairing, or purchasing Houses and other necessary Buildings and Tenements for the Use of their Benefices, obtained the consent of the said ordinary, and of the patron of the said church [or curacy or chapelry,] to borrow and take up at interest, on mortgage of the glebe, tithes, and emoluments of the said living, the sum of — pounds, being the amount of two years net income and produce of the said living, as then estimated and proved in the manner by the said act directed; and the said sum of — pounds was advanced by C. D., and a mortgage of the glebe, tithes, and emoluments of the said living, by indenture bearing date the — day of — was duly made and executed to him for securing the repayment thereof, with interest at the rate of — pounds per cent. per annum, by yearly payments, according to the directions of the said act, and of another act passed in the 21st year of his said Majesty's reign, to explain and amend the same: and whereas the several yearly payments which have become due upon the said mortgage, up to and including the — day of — last, together with all interest arising upon the said mortgage to that time, have been discharged, and there now remains due on the security of the said mortgage, the principal sum of — pounds, with interest thereon, from the said — day of — [if the incumbent entering into the agreement is a successor of him who made the mortgage, or the mortgagee is representative or assignee of him to whom the mortgage was made, the facts are to be here stated in proper recitals, and the proper parties are to be named in the subsequent parts of the agreement, instead of the parties to the mortgage]: and whereas the said A. B., pursuant to the directions of an act passed in the 5th year of the reign of his majesty king Geo. IV., intituled [set forth the title to this act,] has laid before the ordinary of the said living a just and particular account in writing, signed by him, and verified as by the said last-mentioned act is required, of the present income or produce of the said living, and of the out-goings therefrom; and the said ordinary has caused inquiry to be made of the truth of the said account, and the result of the said inquiry to be certified to him as by the said act required; and according to the said account and the certificates returned to the said ordinary, the net income and produce of the said living appears now to amount to the sum of — pounds, and therefore two years net income and produce thereof will amount to the sum of — and no more; and whereas the said C. D. is willing to accept such reduced yearly payments in discharge of the principal money remaining due on the said mortgage, as by the said last-mentioned act authorized and herein-after mentioned; now it is hereby agreed by and between the said A. B. and C. D., with the consent of the said ordinary, and of — the patron [or patrons] of the said church, [or of — the rector or vicar of the parish church of — who is entitled to the nomination of the curate of the said curacy or chapelry of — and — the patron of the said parish church, or if any other person or persons shall according to the act be required to act for the patron, such person [or persons shall be named, with a proper description,] testified by the said ordinary and patron signing this agreement; [or if either of them shall be a body corporate aggregate, then by the said ordinary (or patron) signing, and the said patrons (or ordinary) causing their common seal to be affixed to this agreement;] and by virtue of the powers of the said last-mentioned act of parliament, that the yearly payments in discharge of the said sum of — pounds, remaining due on the said mortgage as aforesaid, shall be made at the rate of 5l. per cent. or 10l. per cent. as the case may require, according to the directions of the said several acts of parliament, of the said sum of — pounds, the amount of two years net income and produce of the said living, according to the late account and certificate herein-before mentioned; and the said mortgage of the said living is, pursuant to and by virtue of the said last-mentioned act, to be and remain in force as a security for the yearly payments hereby agreed to be made, as well as for payment of the interest arising on the said mortgage, and with all the powers and remedies for enforcing the same given by the said first-mentioned act, until the money borrowed on the said mortgage, and all interest for the same, and also all costs and charges which shall be occasioned by the non-payment thereof, shall be fully paid and discharged. Dated the — day of — in the year 18—.

9. To amend and render more effectual stat. 55 G. 3. c. 147. [Dig. tit. BENEFICE, pl. 57.] for enabling spiritual persons to exchange their parsonage houses or glebe lands, and for other purposes therein-mentioned, 6 G. 4. c. 8.

10. Whereas it is enacted by 55 G. 3. c. 147. s. 16. [Dig. tit. BENEFICE, pl. 77.] that the bishop in cases of exchange and purchase under that act, should issue a commission of inquiry for the purpose therein mentioned, to be directed to such persons as are therein described, and of whom one should be a barrister of three years standing at the least, to be named by the senior judge of Nisi Prius for the county in which the benefice, perpetual curacy, or parochial chapelry, where to it should be proposed to annex any buildings or land, by exchange or purchase, under the said act, should be situate: but inasmuch as the nomination of such barrister by a judge of Nisi Prius is not applicable to the counties palatine of Lancaster and Durham, it is therefore enacted, That where any exchange or purchase shall be made, or proposed to be made, under the authority of 55 G. 3. c. 147. in any benefice, perpetual curacy, or parochial chapelry, situate within the said counties palatine of Lancaster or Durham, such barrister shall be named by the chief justice or senior judge for the time being of the Court of Common Pleas for the said counties palatine respectively, 6 G. 4. c. 8. s. 1.

11. And whereas it is expedient that the incumbents of benefices, perpetual curacies, and parochial chapelries, should be enabled to exchange the glebe lands belonging to their benefices, &c. to a greater amount than thirty statute acres: it is therefore enacted, that from the passing of this act [viz. 25d March 1825.], the power to exchange glebe lands for others of equal value, which is given to parsons, vicars, and other incumbents, by 55 G. 3. c. 147. [Dig. tit. BENEFICE, pl. 59. &c.] be extended to any number of statute acres, but subject to all the provisions, conditions, and restrictions contained in 55 G. 3. c. 147., and also to those in 56 G. 3. c. 52. [Dig. tit. id. pl. 67. 77.] 6 G. 4. c. 8. s. 2.

12. And whereas by 55 G. 3. c. 147. the powers of exchange thereby given are limited to such houses, outbuildings, yards, gardens, and appurtenances and lands, to be accepted and taken in exchange by the spiritual persons therein named, as are of freehold tenure, or copyhold of inheritance, or for life or lives, holden of any manor belonging to the benefice in respect of which any such exchange is intended to be made: and whereas it may happen that such exchanges may sometimes be beneficially made where the lands or tenements so to be accepted and taken in exchange are copyhold of inheritance, holden of some manor not belonging to the benefice in respect of which such exchange is intended, and without injury to the lord or lords, lady or ladies of such manor; it is enacted, That from and after the passing of this act [25d March 1825.] it shall and may be lawful for the parson, vicar, or other incumbent for the time being, of any ecclesiastical benefice, perpetual curacy, or parochial chapelry, to grant and convey, in the manner, and by and under the several powers, provisions, conditions, and restrictions contained in 55 G. 3. c. 147., and in 56 G. 3. c. 52., and this act, to any such person or persons, or corporation, as in 55 G. 3. c. 147. are described, any such lands or tenements as are described in the same act, belonging to his benefice, in lieu of and in exchange for any lands or tenements of the description mentioned in 55 G. 3. c. 147., as those which are thereby authorized to be accepted and taken in exchange by any such parson, &c. although such last-mentioned lands or tenements may be copyhold of inheritance holden of a manor not belonging to such ecclesiastical benefice, &c.: provided, that no such exchange be made without the consent of the lord of the manor of which the lands to be taken in exchange are holden: provided, that from and immediately after such conveyance, the lands or tenements accepted and taken in exchange by any such parson, vicar, or other incumbent, shall become and be of freehold tenure, and the lands or tenements by him granted and conveyed, and which before such conveyance belonged to his benefice, perpetual curacy, or parochial chapelry, shall become copyhold of the same manor, and subject to the same rents, fines, services, customs, and manorial rights and properties, to all intents and purposes, as the lands or tenements so to be accepted and taken in exchange, were subject to before the making of such exchange: provided, that from and after the passing of this act [23d March 1825.], three calendar months notice shall be sufficient for the purpose of any exchange or purchase, instead of six calendar months, as by 55 G. 3. c. 147. s. 14. [Dig. this tit. pl. 75.] required, 6 G. 4. c. 8. s. 3.

BENEFIT OF CLERGY.

1. For defining the rights of convicts after having been punished for clergyable felonies; for placing clerks in orders on the same footing with other persons as to felonies; and for limiting the effect of the benefit of clergy, 6 G. 4. c. 25. ss. 2, 3, 5. [See s. 1. post, tit. PARDON, s. 4. post, tit. SPIRITUAL PERSONS.]

2. Whereas it is expedient that the civil rights of persons having been convicted of felonies within the benefit of clergy, who have undergone the punishment to which they were adjudged, should be more clearly ascertained than is at present the case [Preamble to s. 1.]: and whereas by 4 H. 7. c. 13. [Dig. tit. BENEFIT OF CLERGY, pl. 2.] it is enacted, that every person not being within orders being convicted, and being admitted to the benefit of his clergy, shall be marked in the manner therein mentioned upon the brawn of the left thumb, before he be delivered to the ordinary: and whereas by 21 Ja. 1. c. 6. [Dig. tit. WOMEN, pl. 14, 15.], intituled, An Act concerning women convicted of small felonies, and by 3 W. & M. c. 9. [Dig. tit. BENEFIT OF CLERGY, pl. 26. et seq.], intituled, An Act to take away clergy from some offenders, and to bring others to punishment: and by 4 & 5 W. & M. c. 24. [Dig. tit. id. pl. 26. 51.] intituled, An Act for reviving, continuing, and explaining several laws therein mentioned, which are expired, and near expiring; and by 6 & 7 W. & M. c. 14. [Dig. tit. id. pl. 26.] intituled, An Act for continuing several laws therein mentioned; the like benefit is conferred on women as men enjoyed by the benefit of clergy: and whereas by 4 G. 1. c. 11. [Dig. tit. TRANSPORTATION, pl. 2.] intituled, An Act for the further preventing robbery, burglary, and other felonies; and for the more effectual transportation of felons, and unlawful exporters of wool, and for declaring the law upon some points relating to pirates; transportation for seven years was substituted for burning in the hand, in case of certain larcenies, within the benefit of clergy: and by 19 G. 3. c. 74. s. 3. [Dig. tit. BURNING IN THE HAND, pl. 2.] intituled, An Act to explain and amend the laws relating to the transportation, imprisonment, and other punishment of certain offenders, (which provision has been made perpetual by 39 G. 3. c. 45.) [Dig. tit. id. pl. 1.] the court before which any offender is convicted of any felony within the benefit of clergy, is authorized, if it shall think fit, instead of such burning or marking, to impose upon such offender a moderate pecuniary fine, or to order such offender to be whipped in the manner therein mentioned; and by the said provision it is expressly enacted, that the punishments so thereby substituted for burning or marking, shall have the like effects and consequences to the party on whom they are imposed, with respect to any discharge from the same or other felonies, or any restitution to his or her estates, capacities, and credits, as if he or she had been burned or marked: and whereas the punishment of whipping hath been, as to women, abolished by 1 G. 4. c. 57. [Dig. page 1595, pl. 16. 18.] and of late years, in the cases of many persons convicted of clergyable felony, no pecuniary fine hath been imposed: and whereas divers other acts of parliament have created felonies within the benefit of clergy, and divers others have given the benefit of clergy in cases wherein it was not before allowed, and such acts have not expressly declared that the punishments thereby authorized shall be in lieu of burning or marking: and whereas it is expedient that the benefit intended by the 19 G. 3. c. 74. should be extended to all cases of punishment inflicted upon persons convicted of clergyable felonies; it is enacted, That where any offender hath been or shall be convicted of any felony within the benefit of clergy, and hath endured or shall endure the punishment to which such offender hath been or shall be adjudged for such felony, the punishment so endured hath and shall have the like effects and consequences, to all intents and purposes whatsoever, as if he or she had been burned or marked according to the provisions of the said recited acts of king Henry the seventh, king James the first, and king William and queen Mary, or any of them, 6 G. 4. c. 25. s. 2.

3. Whereas by 28 H. 8. c. 1. [viz. s. 7. Dig. tit. SPIRITUAL PERSONS, pl. 39.] it was enacted, that such as are within holy orders should from thenceforth stand and be under the same pains and dangers for the offences therein referred to, and should be used and ordered to all intents and purposes as other persons not being within holy orders; which enactment has been considered to have been repealed by stat. 1. Ed. 6. c. 12. [s. 4., Dig. tit. FELONS, &c. pl. 35.] or by 1 M. st. 1. c. 1. [s. 5. Dig. tit. id. same pl.]: and whereas it is expedient to revive the said provision of the said act H. 8., it is enacted, that clerks in holy orders, being convicted of felony, shall stand and be under the same pains and dangers for the same, and shall be used and ordered to all intents and purposes as other persons not being in holy orders; any law, statute, or usage to the contrary notwithstanding, 6 G. 4. c. 25. s. 3.

4. Clerks liable to punishment as if not in orders, 6 G. 4. c. 25. s. 4. [See the section at length, SPIRITUAL PERSONS.] The allowance of the benefit of clergy to any person who shall, after the passing of this act [20th May 1825.] be convicted of any felony, shall not render the person to whom such benefit is allowed, dispunishable for any other felony by him or her committed before the time of such allowance, any law, custom, or usage to the contrary notwithstanding, 6 G. 4. c. 25. s. 5.

BILLS AND NOTES.

To continue until 5th Jan. 1833, the 37 G. 3. c. 32. [Stat. Dig. tit. BILLS AND NOTES, pl. 13.]; for suspending the operation of the 17 G. 3. c. 30. [Dig. tit. BILLS AND NOTES, pl. 13. et seq.]; for restraining the negotiation of promissory notes and bills of exchange under a limited sum in England, 3 G. 4. c. 70. The 37 G. 3. c. 32. is suspended till 5th Jan. 1833, accordingly, 3 G. 4. c. 70.

BREAD.

(STATUTES repealed.)

1. Statutum de pistoribus. Stat. incert. temp. No. I. REP. 5 G. 4. c. 74. s. 23.

2. Assisa panis et cervisiæ. (The assize of bread and ale.) Stat. incert. temp. No. II. [REP. 5 G. 4. c. 74. s. 23.]

(STATUTE in force.)

3. For amending 53 G. 3. c. 116. [Stat. Dig. tit. BREAD, pl. 78—88. 90. 92.] which amends 31 G. 2. c. 29. and 13 G. 3. c. 62., so far as they relate to the price and assize of bread to be sold out of the city of London and the liberties thereof, and beyond the Weekly Bills of Mortality, and ten miles of the Royal Exchange, 5 G. 4. c. 50. [To commence on 1st July 1824, s. 3. PUBLIC clause, s. 4.]

4. Whereas 53 G. 3. c. 116. was passed, and whereas by reason of the great decrease that has taken place in the prices of the several articles in the making and baking of bread, since the passing of 53 G. 3. c. 116., it is necessary and expedient that the makers and bakers of bread for sale should receive a less allowance for their charges, labour, pains, and profit, than is granted by 53 G. 3. c. 116., it is enacted, that from 1st July 1824, and from time to time afterwards, and when and as often as any court of mayor and aldermen of any city, town corporate, or borough, county, riding, division, and place within that part of U. K. of G. B. and Ireland called G. B., where there shall be any such court, and when the same shall sit, and when such court shall not sit, the mayor of every such city; and where there shall be no such court of mayor and aldermen in any such city, then the mayor, bailiffs, or other chief magistrate or magistrates of every such other city; and in towns corporate and boroughs, the mayor, bailiffs, aldermen, or other chief magistrate or magistrates of every such town corporate or borough; and any two or more justices of the peace in towns or places where there shall be no such mayor, bailiffs, aldermen, chief magistrate or magistrates; and in counties at large, any two or more of H. M.'s justices of the peace, within their respective jurisdictions, shall set an assize of bread, in execution of the 53 G. 3. c. 116.; the allowance to the baker, when the assize shall be set from the average price of wheat, shall be 13s. 10½d. per quarter, and when the assize shall be set from the average price of flour, such allowance shall be 11s. 8d. per sack of flour, being in each case a decrease of one half an assize, or of one farthing in the quartern loaf, of the allowance given to the baker by 53 G. 3. c. 116.; and the said court of mayor and aldermen of any such city, town corporate, or borough, county, riding, division, and place where there shall be any such court, and when the same shall sit, and when such court shall not sit, the mayor of every such city; and where there shall be no such court of mayor and aldermen in any such city, then the mayor, bailiffs, or other chief magistrate or magistrates of every such other city; and in towns corporate and boroughs, the mayor, bailiffs, aldermen, or other chief magistrate or magistrates of every such town corporate or borough; and any two or more justices of the peace in towns or places where there shall be no such mayor, bailiffs, aldermen, chief magistrate or magistrates; and in counties at large any two or more justices of the peace, within their respective jurisdictions, in setting the said assize, shall make such decrease by taking one half of an assize from each of the prices specified in the tables annexed to 53 G. 3. c. 116. according to the rules and proportions contained in the said tables, as nearly as can be, 5 G. 4. c. 50. s. 1. [See Stat. Dig. App. No. xxxiv.]

5. Neither this act, or any thing herein contained, shall extend to prejudice the ancient right or custom of the two universities of Oxford or Cambridge, or either of them, or of their or either of their clerks of the market, or the practice within the several jurisdictions of the said universities, or either of them, used to set, ascertain, and appoint the assize and weight of all sorts of bread to be sold or exposed to sale within their several jurisdictions, but that they and every of them shall and may severally and respectively from time to time, as there shall be occasion, set, ascertain, and appoint, within their several and respective jurisdictions, the assize and weight of all sorts of bread to be sold or exposed to sale by any baker or other person whatsoever within the limits of their several jurisdictions; and shall and may enquire into and punish any breach thereof fully and freely in all respects as they used to do, and as if this act had never been made; any thing herein contained to the contrary thereof notwithstanding, 5 G. 4. c. 50. s. 2.

BUTTER AND CHEESE.

The weight of a wey of cheese, 9 H. 6. c. 8. [REPE. 5 G. 4. c. 74. s. 23.]

CATTLE.

1. To prevent the cruel and improper treatment of cattle. 3 G. 4. c. 71. [See as to maiming, &c. cattle, 4 G. 4. c. 54. s. 2. post, tit. OFFENCE, &c.]

2. If any person shall wantonly and cruelly beat, abuse, or illtreat any horse, mare, gelding, mule, ass, ox, cow, heifer, steer, sheep, or other cattle, and complaint on oath thereof be made to any justice of peace or other magistrate within whose jurisdiction such offence shall be committed, it shall be lawful for such justice or magistrate to issue his summons or warrant at his discretion, to bring the party complained of before him or any other justice or magistrate of the county, city, or place within which such justice or magistrate has jurisdiction, who shall examine on oath any witness or witnesses who shall appear to give information touching such offence (which oath such justice or magistrate may administer), and if the party accused shall be convicted of such offence, either on confession or upon such information as aforesaid, he shall forfeit, not exceeding 5*l.* or less than 10*s.* to H. M.; and if the party convicted shall refuse, or shall not be able forthwith to pay the sum forfeited, he shall, by warrant under the hand and seal of such justice or magistrate, within whose jurisdiction the person offending is convicted, be committed to the house of correction, or some other prison within the jurisdiction within which the offence was committed, there to be kept without bail for not exceeding three months, 3 G. 4. c. 71. s. 1.

3. Provided that no person shall suffer any punishment for any offence against this act, unless the prosecution be commenced within ten days after the offence committed; and when any person shall suffer imprisonment pursuant to this act in default of paying the penalty, such person shall not be liable afterwards to any such penalty, 3 G. 4. c. 71. s. 2.

4. Provided also, that no order or proceedings to be made or had by or before any justice or magistrate by virtue of this act, shall be quashed or vacated for want of form, and that the order of such justice or magistrate shall be final; and that no proceedings of such justice or magistrate shall be removable by certiorari or otherwise, 3 G. 4. c. 71. s. 3.

5. The justice or magistrate before whom any person shall be convicted of any offence against this act, may cause the conviction to be drawn up in the following form of words, or in any other form to the same effect, viz.

'Be it remembered, that on the ——— day of ——— in the year of our Lord ——— A. B. is convicted before me, one of his Majesty's justices of the peace for ———, or mayor or other magistrates of ——— [as the case may be] either by his own confession, or on the oath of one or more credible witness or witnesses [as the case may be] by virtue of an act made in the third year of the reign of his Majesty king George the Fourth, intituled an act to prevent the cruel and improper treatment of cattle, [specifying the offence, and time and place where the same was committed, as the case may be.] Given under my hand and seal, the day and year above written.'—3 G. 4. c. 71. s. 4.

6. If on hearing any such complaint the justice or magistrate, who shall hear the same, shall be of opinion that such complaint was frivolous or vexatious, then it shall be lawful for such justice or magistrate, to order the person making such complaint to pay to the party complained of, any sum not exceeding 20*s.* as a compensation for the trouble such party was put to; such order to be final between the said parties, and the sum thereby ordered to be paid and levied in manner as before provided for enforcing payment of the sums to be forfeited by the persons convicted of any offence against this act, 3 G. 4. c. 71. s. 5.

7. If any action or suit shall be brought or commenced against any person, for any thing done in pursuance of this act, it shall be brought or commenced within six calendar months next after every such cause of action named, and shall be brought, laid, and tried in the county, city, or place in which such offence was committed, and not elsewhere; and the defendant in such action may plead the general issue, and give this act and the special matter in evidence at any trial to be had thereon, and that the same was done under the authority of this act; and if it shall so appear, or if any such action shall not be commenced within the time limited, or shall be laid or brought in any other county, city, or place than where the offence was committed, then the jury shall find for the defendant; or if the plaintiff shall become nonsuit or discontinue his action, or if judgment shall be given for the defendant therein, then such defendant shall have treble costs with the usual remedy to recover the same, 3 G. 4. c. 71. s. 6.

CHEAT.

Sending threatening letters, 30 G. 2. c. 24. s. 1. [Stat. Dig. this title pl. 6.] REPEALED, and new punishment, 4 G. 4. c. 54. s. 3. See post, OFFENCE, &c.

CHARITIES.

1. To continue for four years, and from thence until the end of the then next session of parliament, the powers of the commissioners for enquiring concerning charities in England and Wales, 5 G. 4. c. 58.

2. Whereas the commissioners appointed under 58 G. 3. c. 91., amended and continued by 59 G. 3. c. 81. [Stat. Dig. tit. CHARITIES, pl. 59.] have pursued the inquiries thereby directed, and have made several reports, but further time is requisite for enabling them to complete their inquiries: be it enacted, that the said acts shall be continued from the expiration thereof for four years, and thence until the end of the then next session of parliament, 5 G. 4. c. 58.

CHELSEA AND KILMAINHAM HOSPITALS.

1. For transferring such of the duties of the commissioners or governors of Kilmainham hospital as relate to the management and payment of out-pensions to the commissioners of Chelsea hospital, 3 G. 4. c. 57.

2. The 47 G. 5. sess. 2. c. 5. [Stat. Dig. tit. CHELSEA, &c., pl. 11.] repealed so far as it relates to the out-pensioners of Kilmainham hospital, 3 G. 4. c. 57. s. 1.

3. From 24th Dec. 1822, all out-pensions granted, or to be granted, to disabled, invalid, or discharged soldiers, or other persons, which have heretofore been made by the commissioners of Kilmainham hospital, and which were under their power and controul, shall be made by, and be under the power and controul of the commissioners of Chelsea hospital, 3 G. 4. c. 57. s. 2.

4. Chelsea hospital may make rules for the payment of out-pensions heretofore received from or under the management of Kilmainham hospital, and also require certificates, proofs, vouchers, or receipts for the better regulating such payments, 3 G. 4. c. 57. s. 3.

5. Kilmainham hospital shall meet monthly, upon some day to be publicly notified, to examine the claims of persons entitled to out-pensions, and shall take down the name and description, abode, length, and particulars of service, and cause of discharge, nature of hurt, and disability, if any, of persons so applying; and afterwards transmit a certificate thereof, and the rate of pension which such governors think it proper to recommend for each pensioner to Chelsea hospital, which certificate shall be in the form directed by Chelsea hospital commissioners, who shall on receipt of certificate, determine the pension each person is entitled to by virtue of his services or for disability, and in conformity to any order in council, or rules, &c. made by H. M. for fixing pensions; and Chelsea hospital shall direct the agent of out-pensioners to pay such pensions, and to remit them in the way Chelsea hospital out-pensions are paid, 3 G. 4. c. 57. s. 4.

6. Every pensioner resident in G. B. who is entitled to receive his pension by remittance or order, shall notify to Chelsea hospital any change of his residence, and those resident in Ireland shall notify the same to the Chelsea hospital agent in Dublin or to Chelsea hospital, otherwise loss sustained by want of such notice shall fall on the pensioner, 3 G. 4. c. 57. s. 5.

7. The comptroller of Chelsea hospital, and the chief and first and second clerk in the secretary's office shall, as occasion requires, administer to every person entitled to, or claiming to be entitled to, any out-pension or allowance of money from Chelsea or Kilmainham, or to any allowance for service, every oath legally required; and also administer any other oath to such person as is necessary for the purpose of proving identity or service, or particulars of service in the army, or any other service for which an out-pension or allowance is claimed, 3 G. 4. c. 57. s. 6.

8. Any persons who shall take any false oath as to such particulars, in s. 6. pl. 7., before such secretary or clerks, shall be deemed guilty of perjury, and be punished accordingly, 3 G. 4. c. 57. s. 7.

9. Every out-pensioner, heretofore belonging to Kilmainham hospital, shall be subject to the same laws and regulations of assignment of their pensions, or the orders of justices for the payment of the same, to the overseers of the poor of any parish, by whom relief may be granted to indigent persons entitled to such pensions, or their families, as the out-pensioners of Chelsea hospital are subject to under 59 G. 3. c. 12. s. 30. [Stat. Dig. tit. Poor, pl. 126.] 3 G. 4. c. 57. s. 8.

10. From 5th July 1822, the governors of Kilmainham hospital may receive as in-pensioners any of the out-pensioners resident in Ireland, 3 G. 4. c. 57. s. 9., and when any pensioner is so admitted, notice thereof shall be given, with all particulars relating to the same, within fourteen days of such admission, by Kilmainham to Chelsea hospital, in order that pensioners so admitted may be struck off the pension list, 3 G. 4. c. 57. s. 10.

11. After 5th July 1822, Chelsea hospital, by writing, may call for, and Kilmainham hospital shall, within ten days after notice to that effect, furnish to Chelsea hospital, or their authorized agent, all such books, papers, lists, documents, or other writings in their possession or controul, as relate to the persons at any time heretofore admitted out-pensioners of Kilmainham hospital, together with a registry of their service, and the discharges of all such soldiers as have been admitted pensioners of Kilmainham hospital, and all papers relating to persons registered with a view to pensions being granted, and all other papers Chelsea hospital may require, 3 G. 4. c. 57. s. 11.

12. To prevent the illegal pawning of clothes and stores belonging to Chelsea hospital; to give further powers to the treasurer and deputy treasurer of Chelsea and Greenwich hospitals, to punish persons fraudulently receiving prize-money or pensions; and to enable the commissioners of Chelsea hospital to hold lands purchased under the will of Colonel Drowly, 5 G. 4. c. 107.

13. Whereas the pensioners of Chelsea hospital and others have at various times pawned, or illegally disposed of clothes, linen, stores, and other goods delivered to them to wear or use, be it enacted, That the commissioners of the said hospital shall, and they are hereby empowered to cause the clothes, linen, stores, and other articles belonging to the said hospital capable of being marked, to be marked, stamped, or branded with the words "Chelsea hospital;" and if any pensioner or other person shall pawn, sell, or illegally dispose of, or if any pawnbroker or other person shall take in pawn, buy, exchange, or receive any clothes, linen, or other goods so marked, upon any account whatever (such mark, stamp, or brand to be taken as sufficient evidence without further proof that the articles so marked, &c. are the property of the said commissioners); or if any pensioner or other person shall cause such mark, &c. to be taken out, obliterated, or defaced from any of the articles belonging to the said hospital, the person so offending shall forfeit for such offence 10*l.*, upon conviction thereof by oath of one credible witness before one or more of H. M.'s justices of peace for the county where the offence was committed; which penalty shall be levied by warrant under the hand and seal or hands and seals of such justice or justices, by distress and sale of the offender's goods; one moiety of the penalty shall be paid to the informer and the other to the hospital; and in case any offender convicted of any such offence, as aforesaid, shall not have (or shall, at the time of conviction, declare that he has not) sufficient goods whereon distress may be made to the value of the penalty recovered against him; or in case it shall be considered by the justice or justices convicting the offender, that the offender is likely to abscond before the penalty can be levied by distress, then such justice or justices shall, by warrant under his or their hand and seal, or hands and seals, commit the offender to the common gaol of the county where such offence shall be committed, there to remain without bail, &c. for three calendar months, or until the said penalty is paid, 5 G. 4. c. 107. s. 1.

14. All actions and suits to be brought or commenced by or on behalf of the commissioners of the said royal hospital for soldiers at Chelsea, shall be brought, commenced, and prosecuted in the name of the treasurer or deputy treasurer of the said royal hospital for the time being; and upon the trial or hearing of any such action or suit, it shall not be necessary to produce the commission appointing the commissioners of the said royal hospital, nor the warrant or authority appointing the said treasurer or deputy treasurer to their respective offices, but the general acting of the said treasurer or deputy treasurer in their said respective offices of treasurer or deputy treasurer shall be deemed sufficient proof of the due appointment of them respectively to their said respective offices; and in all indictments, informations, and other proceedings against any person or persons for feloniously stealing, or taking away, or pawning, or unlawfully disposing of, or buying, exchanging, receiving or taking in pawn any of the goods or property belonging to the said royal hospital or the commissioners of the same, it shall be sufficient to charge the same as being the property of the commissioners of the royal hospital for soldiers at Chelsea, 5 G. 4. c. 107. s. 2.

15. And whereas divers questions and doubts have arisen as to the right of the treasurer or deputy treasurer for the time being of the said royal hospital for soldiers at Chelsea, to come in and prove debts, and receive dividends, and otherwise to act as a creditor against the estate and effects of any bankrupt under any commission of bankrupt, or against the estate or effects of any insolvent debtor taking the benefit of the several acts for the relief of insolvent debtors, upon the amount or for or in respect of any prize, grant, bounty, or other monies belonging to or given or appropriated to the said hospital, or to the army generally, or to any divisions, battalions, regiments, or individuals of the army, under the several acts of parliament for the appropriation and distribution of such prize, bounty, grant, or other monies respectively: and whereas it is expedient to put an end to all such questions and doubts, but without prejudice to any questions now depending in any petition in any matter of bankruptcy, or any questions which may arise out of or in consequence of such petition, be it therefore enacted, That it shall from time to time and at all times hereafter be lawful to and for the said treasurer or deputy treasurer for the time being of the aforesaid hospital or either of them, by themselves or himself, or by their or either of their deputy or deputies, to be by them or either of them for such purposes or any of them nominated or appointed by any deed or writing, under their or either of their hands or hand, for and on behalf and in the name of the said treasurer or deputy treasurer for the time being, or either of them, or for and on behalf and in the name or names of the commissioners for the time being of the said hospital, or any of them, to appear before the major part of the commissioners named in any commission of bankrupt, in any public or private meetings of such commissioners under any such commission, and to prove the amount of all prize or bounty money, grant, or monies, or balances of prize or bounty money, grant, or monies, or other allowances of money in the nature thereof, in the hands, custody, or power of or unpaid by such bankrupt at the date and issuing of every such commission of bankrupt, either as original, or as substituted agent, or under or by virtue of any order or orders of the persons entitled to the same, or otherwise howsoever, in or to which the said hospital or the army generally, or any division or divisions, battalion or battalions, regiment or regiments, individual or individuals of the army shall be interested or entitled under the several acts of parliament already enacted and now in force, or at any time or times hereafter to be enacted or become in force, for the appropriation and distribution of prize, bounty, grant, or other monies as aforesaid, or any part thereof respectively, or otherwise howsoever, and whether such prize or bounty monies, grant, or balances of prize or bounty monies, or other monies in the nature thereof, or any part thereof, shall or shall not have been notified for distribution, or shall or shall not be payable to the said treasurer or deputy treasurer of the said hospital, or such person as either of them shall appoint or depute to receive the same, previously to the date and issuing of such commission or commissions of bankrupt; or whether the same or any part thereof shall or shall not then be actually liable to distribution under the said acts or any of them as a debt due from such bankrupt to the said treasurer or deputy treasurer; or to the commissioners of the said hospital, or any of them; and to make every such proof of debt upon the oath or affirmation, as the case may require, of such treasurer or deputy treasurer of the said hospital for the time being, or of any clerk or clerks, or other officer or officers of the said hospital, conversant or acquainted with the books and affairs of the said hospital, who shall swear or affirm as to the amount of such prize, bounty, grant, or other monies, or balances of prize, bounty, grant, or other monies, of which such proof shall be so tendered, to the best of his or their knowledge and belief, after an examination of the books of the said hospital relating thereto, or by a production of the books of the said hospital, or the production of the certificate of the examiner of prize accounts, or by a production and examination of the book or books of such bankrupt, or the personal examination on oath of such bankrupt respectively, under such commission of bankrupt; and which production and examination of the bankrupt's books and accounts, and of such bankrupt, the said treasurer or deputy treasurer, or such other person or persons as they or either of them shall so appoint as aforesaid, are hereby empowered to require, or in default of such evidence, then by such other evidence as to the said commissioners, named and authorized in every such commission of bankrupt under which such proof shall be tendered, or the major part of them, shall under the circumstances seem reasonable; the making of every such proof, nevertheless, to be liable to such opposition, and every such proof, when made, liable to be expunged in the same way and upon the same evidence as any other proof of debt by any other person claiming to prove or having proved under such commission or commissions of bankrupt respectively; and also to receive and take, and to give good and effectual discharges for all and every dividend and dividends payable or to become payable by or out of the estate and effects of such bankrupt or bankrupts, or any part thereof, upon the amount of any and every such proof of debt under such commission or commissions; and also to vote in the choice of any assignee or assignees of the estate and effects of any such bankrupt for the whole sum proved; and also to assent to or dissent from the signing and allowing the certificate of such bankrupt; and further to have, use, and exercise all and every other rights, authorities, and powers whatsoever, in respect of the estate and effects of any and every such bankrupt, or the sale or disposition thereof, and otherwise to act therein, or in any matter relating thereto, in the same manner and to the same extent as any other creditor or creditors of such bankrupt or bankrupts, proving a debt to a like amount under such commission or commissions of bankrupt respectively might or could do or use or exercise; and also to come in and receive and give a legal and effectual discharge or discharges for any sum of money as or in the nature of a dividend or dividends payable or to become payable by or out of the estate and effects of any insolvent debtor, who, at the time of his presenting any petition for his discharge from prison under the several acts of parliament now in force for the relief of insolvent debtors, or hereafter to come in force and be enacted, or any of them, shall have any such prize, bounty, grant, or other money or monies, or balances of prize, bounty, grant, or other money or monies, in his hands, in or to which the said hospital, or the army generally, or any division or divisions, battalion or battalions, regiment or regiments, individual or individuals of the army, shall be so interested or entitled as aforesaid, and whether the same shall or shall not have then been previously notified for distribution, and shall or shall not then be payable over to the said treasurer or deputy treasurer of the said hospital, or such person as either of them shall appoint or depute to receive the same, upon and for the amounts of all such prize, bounty, or other money or monies, or balances of prize, bounty, grant, or other money or monies respectively, which, at the time of such insolvent debtor presenting his aforesaid petition of discharge shall be in his hands, custody, or power; and also to appear upon and oppose, or consent to any such petition of discharge, and in all other respects to have and exercise and use all and every rights, powers, and authorities in respect of the estate and effects of such insolvent debtor, and the sale, disposition, and distribution thereof, and to do and act in all other matters in anywise relating thereto, in the same manner and to the same extent as any other creditor or creditors of such insolvent debtor for a like amount would have or be entitled to, or might or could use or exercise in respect of such estate and effects, or the sale or disposition thereof, or otherwise relating thereto, 5 G. 4. c. 107. s. 3.

16. All and every the powers, rights, and authorities by this act given or directed or allowed to be used by the treasurer or deputy treasurer of Chelsea hospital, with respect to army prize money in cases of bankruptcy or insolvency, shall and may be used, exercised, and employed by the treasurer or deputy treasurer of Greenwich hospital with respect to all naval prize money, grants, percentage, or other allowances of money or shares thereof, due or payable or given to the commissioners and governors of Greenwich hospital, or due or payable or given to his majesty's navy or marines, or the individual officers or privates thereof, or other persons entitled to share therein, or in which the said royal hospital at Greenwich or such person as aforesaid have a beneficial interest, in as full and ample a manner as if the said powers and authorities were herein particularly repeated and specified: provided that nothing herein-before contained shall in any manner affect any questions depending at the time of passing this act in any matter in bankruptcy, in any petition presented before 24th June 1824, or on any questions which may arise out of or in consequence of such petition; but all matters so depending in such petition, or so arising, shall be decided and determined as if this act had not passed, 5 G. 4. c. 107. s. 4.

17. And whereas it is expedient that the crimes of personating and falsely assuming the name and character of any person entitled to prize-money or pension, for the purpose of fraudulently receiving the same, should no longer be punished with death; be it further enacted, that from and after the passing of this act, whosoever shall willingly and knowingly personate or falsely assume the name or character of any officer, soldier, seaman, marine, or other person entitled or supposed to be entitled to any wages, pay, pension, prize-money, or other allowance of money for service done in H. M.'s army or navy, or shall personate or falsely assume the name or character of the executor or administrator, wife, relation, or creditor of any such officer or soldier, seaman, marine, or other person, in order fraudulently to receive any wages, pay, pension, prize-money, or other allowances of money due or supposed to be due for or on account of the services of any such officer or soldier, seaman or marine, or other person, every such person being thereof convicted, shall be liable, at the discretion of the court, to be transported beyond seas for life, or for any term of years not less than seven, or to be imprisoned only, or imprisoned and kept to hard labour in the common gaol or house of correction for any time not exceeding seven years, 5 G. 4. c. 107. s. 5.

18. And whereas by an act, 58 G. 3. c. 73., intituled, An Act for regulating the payment of regimental debts, and the distribution of the effects of officers and soldiers dying in the service, and the receipt of such sums due to soldiers; it is enacted, that no person not being an agent of some regiment, battalion, or corps of H. M.'s army, or of the militia, shall receive for any non-commissioned officer or soldier, or for any representative or representatives of, for any non-commissioned officer or soldier, any pay or arrear of pay, or any effects or proceeds of any effects of any deceased non-commissioned officer or soldier dying while in H. M.'s service, unless such person shall be entitled to receive such pay or effects or proceeds, or any part thereof, as a devisee or next of kin, or executor or administrator of such non-commissioned officer or soldier: and it is by the said act further enacted, [s. 6.] that it shall not be lawful for any agent or agents appointed for the distribution of army prize or bounty money, grant or other allowances of money in the nature thereof, or for the treasurers of Chelsea hospital, to pay the share of any non-commissioned officer or soldier to any person or persons whatsoever, other than the non-commissioned officer or soldier entitled to the same, or to the next of kin, or executor or administrator of such non-commissioned officer or soldier, or to the agent of any regiment, battalion, or corps of H. M.'s army or militia, duly authorized by the party entitled thereto to receive the same: and whereas it is expedient that the commissioners of the said royal hospital shall have power, under special circumstances, to authorize the treasurer and deputy treasurer of the said royal hospital to pay shares and balances upon prize orders to persons not coming within the description of agents as in the said act mentioned; be it therefore enacted, That in all cases in which non-commissioned officers or soldiers shall previously to 24th June 1824, have made their prize orders in favour of other persons than regimental agents, either from the circumstance of there having been no agent for the regiment, battalion, or corps to which such non-commissioned officers and soldiers belonged or were attached, at the date or making of such prize orders respectively, or from any other causes which shall seem reasonable and sufficient to the commissioners of Chelsea hospital, and in all cases in which non-commissioned officers or soldiers shall hereafter make their prize orders in favour of other persons than regimental agents, from the circumstance of there being no agent appointed for the regiment, battalion, or corps to which such non-commissioned officers and soldiers respectively belong or are attached at the time of making their prize orders, it shall be lawful for the commissioners of the royal hospital at Chelsea, and they are hereby authorized and empowered to direct payment to be made upon such orders by the treasurer or deputy treasurer of the said royal hospital to the persons named as the payee therein, or to the legal representative of such payee, any thing in 58 G. 3. c. 73. contained in anywise notwithstanding, 5 G. 4. c. 107. s. 6. [See 6 G. 4. c. 61.]

19. And whereas Colonel John Drouly, by his will, gave all his residuary estate, after payment of certain legacies, to be equally divided between the royal hospitals at Chelsea and Greenwich, to be paid to the treasurers of the said royal hospitals, to be applied for the use and benefit of the pensioners of the said respective hospitals in such manner as the governors and directors should order and direct: and whereas the commissioners of the royal hospital at Chelsea have contracted for the purchase of a piece of land adjoining the said hospital, being part of the Ranelagh estate, for the use and benefit of the pensioners of the said royal hospital; be it further enacted, That any sum not exceeding ten thousand pounds, part of the residuary estate of the said Colonel John Drowly, shall and may be applied in the purchase of and payment for the piece of land so contracted for by the said commissioners; and the said piece of land shall and may be conveyed to and for ever thereafter be held by the commissioners of the said royal hospital of Chelsea for the time being, and their successors, or conveyed to a trustee or trustees on behalf of the said commissioners for the time being of the said royal hospital, for the use and benefit of the said royal hospital, 5 G. 4. c. 107. s. 7.

CHURCHES.

1. To amend and render more effectual, 58 G. 3. c. 45., and 59 G. 3. c. 134. [Stat. Dig. tit. CHURCHES, pl. 42.] for building and promoting the building of additional churches in populous parishes, 3 G. 4. c. 72. [AMD. together with the 58 G. 3. c. 45. and 59 G. 3. c. 134. by 5 G. 4. c. 103.]

2. Whereas by 58 G. 3. c. 45., intituled, An Act for building and promoting the building of additional churches in populous parishes: and 59 G. 3. c. 134., intituled, An Act to amend and render more effectual An Act passed in the last session of parliament, for building and promoting the building of additional churches in populous parishes, were passed: and whereas it is expedient that some of the provisions of the said recited acts should be amended, and others explained and enlarged, and that further and additional provisions should be made, for rendering the said two acts more effectual; be it therefore enacted, That it shall be lawful for the master-general and principal officers of H. M.'s ordnance, and also for the comptroller of the barrack department, and also for the principal officers of any other public department, having or holding any messuages or buildings, or any lands, grounds, tenements, or hereditaments, for and on behalf of H. M., for the public use of any such department, by any grant or conveyance, signed by the master general or any two of the principal officers of the ordnance department; or by any grant or conveyance, signed by the comptroller of the barrack department; or by any grant or conveyance, signed by any one or more of the principal officers of any such other public department as aforesaid, and countersigned, as to all such last-mentioned grants or conveyances, by any three or more of the commissioners of H. M.'s treasury of the U. K. of Great Britain and Ireland; and it shall also be lawful for any and every body politic, corporate, and collegiate, and corporation aggregate or sole, or for any trustees, guardians, commissioners, or other persons having the controul, care, or management of any hospital, schools, charitable foundations, or other public institutions, by any grant or conveyance signed by or under the seal of such body or corporation respectively, to give, grant, and convey any messuages, buildings, lands, grounds, tenements, or hereditaments respectively; and if any such messuages, buildings, lands, grounds, tenements, or hereditaments respectively, shall be copyhold at the time of any such gift, grant, or conveyance, in any case in which the lord is willing, to enfranchise the same; to be used as sites for churches or chapels, or for enlarging sites of churches or chapels; or for church or chapel yards or cemeteries, or for enlarging sites for church or chapel yards or cemeteries; or for parsonages or residences for ecclesiastical persons; and all such gifts, grants, and conveyances shall be made to the commissioners, or such other person or persons as shall be specified by the said commissioners, under the 58 G. 3. c. 45., and 59 G. 3. c. 134. and this act, to be used for the purposes thereof; and all such gifts and grants may be made and given without any valuable consideration whatever; and all conveyances and assurances made for carrying any such gifts or grants into effect, shall be valid to all intents and purposes whatsoever; any law, statute, usage, or custom to the contrary notwithstanding; and all bodies politic, corporate or collegiate, and all persons whosoever so giving, granting, and conveying as aforesaid, are hereby indemnified for or in respect of any such gift, grant, conveyance, or enfranchisement, which he, she, or they, or any of them, shall respectively make or convey by virtue of or in pursuance and for the purposes of the said recited acts and this act, 3 G. 4. c. 72. s. 1.

3. All grants, conveyances, and assurances which shall be made under the authority of the said recited acts or this act, or either of them, of any messuages, buildings, lands, grounds, tenements, or hereditaments, whether belonging to H. M. as part of the duchy of Cornwall, or of the duchy of Lancaster, or otherwise, or to any body or persons whatever, to the said commissioners, or any other person under their direction, for the purposes of the said recited acts and this act, shall be made according to the form following, or in such other form as the case may require, or as near thereto as the circumstances of the case will admit; videlicet,

'I [or We, or the corporate title if a corporation] under the authority and for the purposes of an act passed in the fifty-eighth year of the reign of his late majesty, intituled "An act for building and promoting the building of additional churches in populous parishes;" and of another act passed in the fifty-ninth year of the reign of his late majesty, intituled "an act to amend and render more effectual an act passed in the last session of parliament, for building and promoting the building of additional churches in populous parishes;" and of another act passed in the third year of the reign of his present majesty, intituled, "An act to amend and render more effectual two acts passed in the fifty-eighth and fifty-ninth years of his late majesty, for building and promoting the building of additional churches in populous parishes;" do hereby freely and voluntarily give to his majesty's commissioners, [or, to] (as the case may require); and by these presents, freely and voluntarily, and without any valuable consideration; [if the lands, et cætera, are conveyed for a valuable consideration, leave out the words in italics, and insert do, for and in consideration of the sum of

to me, or us, or the paid hereby, under the authority of the several recited acts, grant, convey, and release to the said] all [describing the premises to be conveyed] and all [my, or our, or the] right, title, and interest of [if a corporation] to and in the same and every part thereof; to hold to the said and their successors, for the purposes of the said several acts, and to be devoted, when consecrated, to ecclesiastical purposes for ever, by virtue and according to the true intent and meaning of the said several recited acts. In witness whereof, et cætera.'

And all such conveyances and assurances shall be valid, to all intents and purposes, and shall be a complete bar to all estates tail and other estates, rights, titles, trusts, and interests, and incumbrances whatsoever, 3 G. 4. c. 72. s. 2.

4. It shall be lawful for the said commissioners under the said recited acts and this act, to procure and obtain, or require parishes, chapelries, townships, and places to provide and furnish, by all or any of such ways and means as are specified in the said recited acts or either of them, or this act, in relation to sites for additional churches, or for church or chapel yards or cemeteries, or to accept and receive as gifts and grants under and for the purposes of the said recited acts and this act, and to take grants of to themselves, or direct grants of to be made to any other persons specified by them for that purpose, any such land or ground, or additional land or ground, as may in the judgment of the said commissioners be required for the enlarging or improving any church or chapel, and also any land or ground which may be required or be convenient for the rebuilding of any church or chapel, whether contiguous or not to the present site thereof; and all the powers, authorities, clauses, and provisions in the said recited acts or either of them, or in this act contained, in relation to the obtaining or procuring any lands or grounds, or requiring any lands or grounds to be provided or furnished by any parishes or places for any sites for additional churches, or any other purpose of the said recited acts, shall extend to the obtaining, procuring, requiring, accepting, or receiving, under the authority of the said recited acts or this act, or either of them, any lands or grounds for the purposes aforesaid, as fully and effectually as if all such powers and authorities had been given, and all such clauses and provisions had been repeated and re-enacted in this act as to such lands and grounds, 3 G. 4. c. 72. s. 3.

5. In every case in which any lands, tenements, hereditaments, or any interest in or arising out of any lands, tenements, or hereditaments, shall be given up, sold, or surrendered by, or taken under the provisions of the said act or this act, from any body politic or corporate, or person, and [so in act, qu. in] which any such body politic, corporate, or person shall be entitled to take any fine or fines upon the renewal of any life or lives, or of any lease or leases upon or of any such lands, tenements, or hereditaments, the amount of the value of the interest of such body politic or corporate, or person, which would arise out of the renewal of such life or lives, or lease or leases, if the same were renewed at the time of such lands, tenements, or hereditaments being so given up, sold, surrendered or taken, shall be paid to the body politic, corporate, or person entitled thereto, out of the principal sum ascertained under the provisions of the said recited acts as the value of such lands, tenements, or hereditaments; and the remainder of such principal sum shall be applied under the provisions of the said recited acts or this act, 3 G. 4. c. 72. s. 4.

6. It shall be lawful for the commissioners under the said recited acts and this act, to lend and advance to any parish or place any such sum as to the said commissioners may appear to be required and expedient to lend and advance, for building of any additional church or chapel, or churches or chapels, or rebuilding or in aid of building or rebuilding any church or chapel, or for or towards completion of the building or rebuilding of any church or chapel already commenced or in part built or rebuilt, or for the payment or part payment of any expences or sums due or to become due upon any contract heretofore made, or which may hereafter be made for any such building or rebuilding, or for the completion of any such building or rebuilding, or for enlarging or in aid of the enlarging or improving any church or chapel in any parish or place, or for the purchase or in aid of the purchasing of any land or ground for any site for any church or chapel, or church or chapel yard or cemetery, or enlarging any site of church or chapel yard or cemetery, or for carrying into execution any other purposes of the said recited acts or this act, for any such period or term as the commissioners shall think fit, upon payment for any such loan or advance of such annual interest, not exceeding five pounds per cent. per annum, or without any interest, if under special circumstances they shall think it expedient and fit either for any part or for the whole of the term or period for which such loan or advance shall be made, as the said commissioners shall, under all the circumstances, judge proper; and such loans and advances shall be repaid at such times and in such manner and by such instalments as shall be settled by the commissioners in that behalf, and shall be charged and chargeable upon the church rates of the parishes or places, or upon rates to be made for that purpose, as is provided in the said recited acts in relation to advances authorized by the said recited acts; and the amount of all such advances when repaid, and of all interest paid upon any such advances to the said commissioners, shall be applied to the purposes of the said recited acts and this act, and it shall be lawful for the church or chapel wardens of any such parish or place, and they and each of them are hereby empowered, authorized, and required to declare any such loan or advance, and also every other loan or advance made under the authority of the said recited acts and this act to be applied to any of the purposes thereof, to be chargeable and charged upon the church rates of such parish or place, by any instrument in the form, herein-after mentioned, or in such other form, being as near thereto as the nature of the case will admit or the circumstance shall require:

‘Whereas His Majesty’s commissioners for building new churches, acting under the authority of and in pursuance of the provisions contained in the several acts passed for the building and promoting the building of churches in populous parishes, or, A. B. of _____ and C. D. of _____ have [recite shortly the loan and circumstance, and terms, et cetera;] We therefore, or I, A. B. _____ being of the church [or chapel] wardens of [describe them] do, by these presents, charge the said [describe the parish or place] with the said sum of _____ and with the repayment thereof, according to the terms and conditions above stated; and do hereby, in pursuance of the provisions of the said acts, or some or one of them, declare that the said sum of _____ is and shall continue to be chargeable and charged upon the church [or chapel] rates now raised or hereafter to be raised in the said [parish, et cetera] until the said sum of _____, together with the interest, is fully repaid, according to the terms and conditions above set forth. Witness, et cetera. 3 G. 4. c. 72. s. 5.

7. It shall be lawful for the church or chapel wardens of any parish or place, in which any sum of money is authorized or required to be raised for any of the purposes of the said recited acts or this act, to raise any such sum of money, or any part or proportion thereof, by the grant or grants of any annuity or annuities: provided, that no larger or greater rate of annuity shall be granted or given upon any life or lives for any money advanced than is specified in the tables annexed to 36 G. 3. c. 52. intituled, An Act for repealing certain duties on legacies and shares of personal estates, and for granting other duties thereon in certain cases, [See Stat. Dig. tit. STAMPS, p. 1448.] 3 G. 4. c. 72. s. 6.

8. It shall be lawful for the said commissioners, and also for any parish or place for which any act or acts of parliament shall have been passed in relation to the building or rebuilding or enlarging any church or chapel, or enlarging or procuring any church or chapel yard or cemetery, to make any grants or loans, or give or grant any other aid or assistance in procuring sites for churches or chapels, or land or ground for such church or chapel yards or cemetery, or any addition thereto, and to use, enforce, and apply all the powers, authorities, claims, regulations, and provisions, in the said several acts and this act contained, for carrying into execution any of the purposes thereof; any thing in any act or acts relating to any such parish or place to the contrary notwithstanding, 3 G. 4. c. 72. s. 7.

9. In every case in which any parish or place shall not have been able, or shall not hereafter be able to procure any land or ground for the building or rebuilding any church or chapel, or enlarging any existing church or chapel, or for the making of any yard to any church or chapel, or for any cemetery, or for enlarging any yard to any church or chapel, or any cemetery, by reason of the inability of any person or body interested in such land or ground, or any part thereof, to convey or make a good title to the same, freed and discharged from all incumbrances; or that any such person or body shall be unwilling to treat for the sale thereof, or cannot agree for such sale and purchase, then and in such case it shall be lawful for the said commissioners, and they are hereby authorized, if upon consideration of all the circumstances of the case they shall think proper, to take such land or ground for any such purpose as aforesaid, for any such parish or place; and it shall be lawful for the said commissioners in every such case to use, apply, and put in force all such of the powers and authorities of the said recited acts or this act respectively, as may be necessary for the assessing, ascertaining, and paying the value, and taking and giving possession of any such land or ground; and all the powers and authorities in the said recited acts and this act contained, in relation to the assessing or ascertaining, and to the paying the sums assessed on the value of, and to the taking and giving possession of sites for churches to be built under the said recited acts and this act, shall extend and apply to the assessing and ascertaining, and to the paying the sums assessed as the value, and to the taking and giving possession of such land or ground, as fully and effectually to all intents and purposes, as if the same were severally and separately repeated and re-enacted for the purposes aforesaid; any thing in the said recited acts, or either of them, or this act, to the contrary notwithstanding, 3 G. 4. c. 72. s. 8.

10. Whenever any quit, chief, or other rent or rent charge, either for term of years or for life or lives, or in fee, shall be reserved upon or payable out of any lands, tenements, or hereditaments, part of which may be given, sold, or taken under the provisions of the said recited acts or this act, for the purposes thereof respectively, and difficulties may arise as to the apportioning such rents, and exonerating the portions of any such lands, tenements, or hereditaments so given, sold, or taken for any claim in respect of such rents, and as to the effectually charging the remainder of such lands, tenements, or hereditaments with the remainder of such rent, it shall be lawful for the public or corporate body or trustees, or other persons giving or selling any such portion of any such lands, tenements, or hereditaments, or from whom the same may be taken under the provisions of the said recited acts or this act, to apportion any such rent with the consent and concurrence of the said commissioners; and the lands, tenements, and hereditaments used and applied for the purposes of the said acts or this act, shall in every such case be wholly exonerated from any such rents or any part thereof, but the remaining part of such lands, tenements, or hereditaments shall not be thereby discharged from the remaining part of the rent fixed by any such apportionment, and the rent so apportioned shall in every such case be deemed the entire rent upon the remaining part of such lands, tenements, and hereditaments; and all remedies by distress, entry, action, or otherwise, which might have been used and applied for the recovery of the original entire rent, shall be used, enforced and applied for the recovery of the rent fixed by such apportionment, 3 G. 4. c. 72. s. 9.

11. In every case in which any parish or place shall be divided into separate parishes for ecclesiastical purposes, or into separate districts or chapelries, in which select vestries shall be appointed by the commissioners for such parishes under the provisions of the said recited acts, all the members of or persons belonging to the select vestry of the original parish, who shall reside in or belong to the district or division of the original church or chapel of the parish or place, shall continue to act as the vestry of such district or division, and of the church or chapel thereof, in all matters relating to such church or chapel and the repairs thereof (or to any other ecclesiastical matters or things, or in the distribution of any proportion of any bequests, gifts, or charities which may under the provisions of this act be assigned to any such district or division); any thing in the said recited acts or this act to the contrary notwithstanding: provided, that no member of any select vestry of any such parish or place, shall, after any such division as aforesaid, act in relation to any matters or things relating to any church or chapel, or any repairs thereof, or any matters or things relating thereto, or any other ecclesiastical matters or things, except such as are within or belonging or relate to the division in which he shall reside; and if by reason of any such division as aforesaid, a sufficient number of such members of select vestry shall not remain resident in the division of the parish or place within which the original church or chapel of the parish or place shall be situate, according to such proportion as shall be fixed by the commissioners on that behalf, regard being had to the population of such division, and the relative proportion thereof to the population of the whole parish or place, all such deficiencies shall be filled up as deficiencies or vacancies in such parish or place have been heretofore filled up in such parish or place: provided, that no member of any such select vestry, or inhabitant of any such parish or place, shall vote in the supplying such deficiencies, unless resident within the division of the parish or place for which the member or members to supply deficiencies are to be chosen; provided also, such persons so chosen shall not by reason thereof be deemed members of the vestry of any such parish or place for any other purposes than such as relate to the church or chapel, or the ecclesiastical affairs of the division of the parish or place for which they shall be so chosen, or for the distribution of any charitable gifts or bequests therein: provided also, that all the members of the select vestry of any such parish or place, resident in any other divisions of any such parish or place, shall in every case be members of such vestry or vestries as shall be appointed under the provisions of the said recited acts or this act for the respective divisions of the parish or place in which they shall respectively reside, 3 G.4. c.72. s.10.

12. It shall be lawful for the said commissioners in every case in which they shall be of opinion that it will be expedient to divide, or in which the said commissioners shall have divided any parish or place into two or more distinct and separate parishes, district parishes or chapelries, for ecclesiastical purposes, under the provisions of the said recited acts, to apportion, if the commissioners shall in their discretion think it expedient, among such separate divisions of any such parish or place, so made separate or district parishes or chapelries for ecclesiastical purposes, any charitable bequests or gifts which shall have been made or given to any such parish or place, or the produce thereof; and in any such case, to direct that the distribution of the proportions of such bequests or gifts, or the produce thereof, as shall be so apportioned to any such separate divisions of any such parish, shall be made and distributed by the spiritual person serving the church or chapel of any such separate divisions, or the church or chapelwardens, or select vestry of any such separate divisions, either jointly or severally, as the commissioners may in their discretion (regard being had to the nature of the bequest or gift and the application thereof,) think expedient; and also to apportion among such separate divisions any debts which may have been before the period of such apportionment contracted or charged upon the credit of any church rates in such parish or place, regard being had in all such apportionments to the circumstances of such parish or place, and of the respective divisions thereof so made separate and distinct for ecclesiastical purposes as aforesaid; and all such apportionments shall be registered in the registry of the diocese in which the parish or place shall be locally situate, and duplicates thereof shall be deposited with the churchwardens of each such separate districts as aforesaid, in respect of or in relation to which any such apportionments as aforesaid shall have been made, 3 G.4. c.72. s.11.

13. It shall be lawful for the said commissioners, in every case in which any parish or place shall be divided, under the provisions of the said recited acts, into district parishes or places for ecclesiastical purposes, with distinct district churches for each of such divisions, to order and direct, with the consent of the bishop of the diocese, that all or any proportion of the fees, dues, and emoluments arising and accruing from the publication of banns and celebration of marriages, and from churchings and burials, and the making, opening, or using any catacombs, vaults, or ground for burials, in all or any the several districts and divisions of such parish or extra-parochial place, shall remain with and continue to belong to, and to be received by or for, and on account of, and to the use of, and to be accounted for wholly or in part, as the case may require, to the incumbent of the original church or chapel, any thing in the said recited acts or either of them, or in this act contained to the contrary notwithstanding; and every such order shall be registered in the registry of the diocese, and a duplicate copy thereof deposited and kept in the respective chests of the churches and chapels respectively of such parish or place: provided, that it shall be lawful for the commissioners, with such consent as aforesaid, at any time within five years after the making of any such original order or direction, to annul or in any manner to alter any such order or direction, or the appropriation made thereby; and such new order or direction, or alteration, when made, shall be registered in manner aforesaid, 3 G.4. c.72. s.12.

14. It shall be lawful for the said commissioners, and they are hereby authorized and empowered, to convert any vicarage of any parish or place, or the separate divisions of any vicarage of any parish or place, divided under the said recited acts or this act, into a rectory or rectories instead of a vicarage or vicarages, in any case in which the owner or owners entitled in fee simple to the rectory or tithes, if an impropriate rectory, or the patron entitled in fee simple of a sinecure rectory, and also the incumbent of the sinecure rectory of any such parish or place, if the same shall not be void at the time of any such conversion, and the person or persons (if any) entitled to the absolute interest in any lease granted of the sinecure rectory or glebe or tithes thereof, shall be willing to restore and release and reunite the tithes and glebe, and all other rectorial rights, dues, and emoluments of any such parish or place, or of any such proportion of any such parish or place, as shall be satisfactory to such commissioners, to the incumbent or incumbents of such parish or parishes, or place or places, and his or their successors for ever; and in every such case such surrender, restoration, or release, shall be made in such form and by such instrument as the commissioners shall direct; and the said commissioners shall, by an instrument in writing under their seal, direct such alteration to be made, and conversion of any vicarage or vicarages into a rectory or rectories, from the period specified in such instrument, and upon the conditions as to the transfer, restoration, or reuniting of tithes, glebe, or other rectorial rights, dues, and emoluments therein mentioned; which instrument shall be registered in the registry of the diocese in which the parish shall be locally situate, and enrolled in the High Court of Chancery; and such parish or parishes, place or places, shall for ever therefrom be deemed and taken to be, to all intents and purposes, a rectory or rectories, without prejudice nevertheless to the rights and interests of any other persons; and the incumbent or incumbents of any such vicarage or vicarages shall thereupon become and be deemed to be the rector or rectors of such parish or parishes, or divided parishes, or place or places, without any new induction or proceeding whatever, and shall be entitled to have and use and exercise all such remedies for the recovery of their tithes, glebe, and all other rectorial rights, dues, and emoluments, as rectors of such parishes, or divided parishes, as fully and effectually to all intents and purposes, as if such parishes had been rectories, and such incumbents respectively had been in due form of law inducted as rectors therein: and it shall be lawful for the said commissioners in every such case, immediately after the passing of this act [22d July 1822.], and before any such transfer and division can be finally arranged, made, and completed, to accept and confirm any such restoration or release and reunion of any such tithes, and accept and record the consents or engagements in relation thereto, of any such impropriator, patron, or sinecure rector and incumbent (if there shall have been any incumbent to consent at the time of such conversion), and tenant or tenants, if any, and to proceed to the completing of any such transfer or division upon such consent, for the purpose of converting any such vicarage into a rectory or rectories; and all such consents shall in any such case be valid and binding upon the heirs and successors, and executors and administrators respectively, of any such impropriator, patron, or sinecure rector and incumbent, tenant or tenants, if any death or changes shall thereafter occur in any such patronage or incumbency, as fully and effectually as if the consent had been given and transfer made by the impropriator, patron, or sinecure rector and incumbent, tenant or tenants, for the time being, when the arrangement and division shall be finally completed; provided, that no incumbent shall in any such case become liable to the maintenance or upholding or repair of more than one house of residence in any such parish or place; and when in any such parish or place there shall be more than one house belonging to the church or chapels thereof, the bishop of the diocese shall decide, order, and declare which shall thereafter be deemed the house of residence, and be upheld and maintained and repaired as such; and the order of the bishop in relation thereto shall be registered in the registry of the diocese, and a duplicate copy of such order deposited and be kept in the chest of the church or chapel of such parish or place, 3 G.4. c.72. s.13.

15. Provided, that in case the said commissioners shall think proper to convert into a rectory or rectories the vicarage of any parish or place, or separate division of a parish or place which shall be divided, or in which a new church shall be erected by virtue of the provisions contained in the said recited acts or this act, and the possessor or possessors of the sinecure rectory of such parish or place for two or more lives, by virtue of a lease granted thereof by a rector with the consent of the patron and ordinary, shall be desirous of retaining any manor or other hereditaments, being the glebe or part of the glebe of the said rectory, and shall be willing to surrender and release all his, her, or their estate and interest in the tithes, and the residue (if any) of the glebe of the said rectory, on condition that such manor and other hereditaments shall be vested in him, her, or them in fee simple, then and in every such case it shall be lawful for the said commissioners, and they are hereby authorized and empowered, if they shall think proper, with the consent of the patron of the said rectory being entitled thereto in fee simple and the incumbent thereof, by any instrument under their seal, and sealed and delivered by the said patron and incumbent (if any) upon the execution by such possessor or possessors of the said rectory, together with the patron and incumbent (if any) thereof, and of the said commissioners, of such instruments as are herein-before mentioned or referred to, for surrendering, releasing, and vesting all the rectorial tithes and glebe (except the manor and other hereditaments to be retained as aforesaid), to release and convey the said manor and other hereditaments to such possessor or possessors, or such other person or persons as he, she, or they shall in that behalf direct, his, her or their heirs and assigns for ever; and such instruments in writing shall be enrolled in the high court of chancery, and upon the execution thereof the manor and other hereditaments comprised therein, with their appurtenances, and the fee simple and inheritance thereof, shall be absolutely vested in the person or persons to whom the same should be thereby released and conveyed, his, her, or their heirs and assigns for ever, but shall be subject to tithes in the same manner as if the same had never been part of the glebe of the said rectory, 3 G.4. c.72. s.14.

16. It shall be lawful for all bodies politic, corporate, or collegiate, corporations aggregate or sole, tenants for life or in tail, husbands, guardians, trustees, and feoffees in trust, committees, executors, and administrators, and all other persons and trustees whomsoever, not only for or on behalf of themselves, their heirs and successors, but also for and on behalf of cestuique trusts, whether infants, issue unborn, lunatics, idiots, femmes covert, or other person or persons, and to and for all femmes covert who are or shall be possessed of or entitled to, or interested in their own right, and for every other person whomsoever, who shall be possessed of or entitled to, or interested in any right of patronage or of presentation or appointment to any benefice, donative, perpetual curacy, or of any spiritual person to any church or chapel, or the performance of any ecclesiastical duties in any church or chapel, or for the trustees of any endowments or emoluments for the use of any church or chapel, or the incumbent thereof, or spiritual person serving the same, to surrender any such right of patronage, presentation or appointment, endowments or emoluments, or to enter into or make any agreement relating thereto, with the said commissioners and the bishop of the diocese, and to attach any contiguous division of any parish or place, with consent of the patron and incumbent of the parish or place, to any such chapel, for the purpose of better enabling the said commissioners to convert any such church or chapel into the church or parochial chapel or chapel of ease of a district parish or chapelry, and to convert any chapelries or other divisions into districts or separate parishes for ecclesiastical purposes; any thing contained in any act or acts of parliament, or in any deed or deeds, or any trust relating thereto, respectively, to the contrary notwithstanding, 3 G. 4. c. 72. s. 15.

17. It shall be lawful for the said commissioners, and they are hereby empowered, with the consent of the ordinary and the patron and of the incumbent of the parish for the time being, or in case of the refusal of any incumbent, then with the consent of the ordinary upon the next avoidance, to convert any district chapelry made under the provisions of the said recited acts into a separate and distinct parish for ecclesiastical purposes, or into a district parish under the said acts, in any case in which a suitable house of residence, and such maintenance as the said commissioners shall deem competent, can be procured and established for the use of the minister of such separate and distinct or district parish so to be made, and his successors, and in which a compensation shall be provided to the satisfaction of the commissioners and the then incumbent of the parish, for all fees, oblations, offerings, and other ecclesiastical dues which may by such conversion be transferred to the minister of such separate and distinct or district parish so to be made; and every such conversion shall be made under the seal of the said commissioners, and registered in the registry of the diocese in which the parish shall be locally situate, and enrolled in the high court of chancery, and duplicate thereof shall be lodged in the chest of the original parish church, and in the church or chapel of the separate and distinct or district parish, 3 G. 4. c. 72. s. 16.

18. In every case in which marriages are allowed under any of the provisions of the said recited acts, or either of them, to be solemnized in any chapel of a district chapelry, and in which the parties, or either of them, contracting such marriage, shall reside in the district of the chapelry, or in any other district of any chapelry, the banns of marriage shall be published in the chapel or chapels of each of the districts in which such parties respectively reside, and no publication of such banns in any other church or chapel shall be legal, valid, or effectual for the purposes of such marriage; any thing in the said recited acts or either of them, or any other act contained to the contrary notwithstanding, 3 G. 4. c. 72. s. 17.

19. All acts of parliament, laws, and customs relating to publishing banns of marriage, and to marriages, christenings, churchings, and burials, and the registering thereof, and to all ecclesiastical fees, oblations, or offerings, shall apply to all extra-parochial places, and to all divisions and districts of any extra-parochial places in and for which any churches or chapels shall be built or appropriated, under the provisions of the said recited acts or this act, and to the churches and chapels thereof, and to the ecclesiastical persons having the cure of souls therein, or serving the same, in like manner, in every respect, as if the same respectively had been ancient, separate, and distinct parishes and parish churches by law, 3 G. 4. c. 72. s. 18.

20. When and so soon as banns of marriage may be published, and marriage celebrated and solemnized, in any church or chapel under the provisions of the said recited acts or this act, the bishop of the diocese within which such church or chapel shall be locally situate, whether in any parish or extra-parochial place or otherwise, shall certify the same, and such certificate shall be kept in the chest of the church or chapel with the books of registry thereof, and a copy thereof shall be entered in the books of registry of banns and marriages, and a duplicate of such certificate shall be registered in the registry of the diocese, and such certificate shall be deemed and taken to be conclusive evidence in all courts, and in all questions relating to any banns published or marriages celebrated or solemnized in any such church or chapel, that the same might, according to law, respectively be published and celebrated and solemnized in such church or chapel; and that all banns published, and marriages celebrated, solemnized, and had in any such church or chapel, according to the laws and canons in force within this realm in that behalf, shall, after the granting of such certificate, be good, valid, legal, and effectual: provided, that no banns or marriages respectively published, celebrated, solemnized, or had according to the laws and canons in force within the realm in that behalf, in any church or chapel in which the same are authorized to be respectively published, celebrated, solemnized, and had by the said recited acts or this act, or either of them, shall be or be deemed or taken to be invalid or illegal, or void or voidable, by reason of any such certificate not having been duly given, or registered or entered as herein-before required, 3 G. 4. c. 72. s. 19.

21. And whereas doubts may arise as to the repairs of churches or chapels acquired and appropriated, or built or enlarged or improved in aid of the churches of parishes or places, under the provisions of the said recited acts or this act; for remedy and prevention thereof, be it enacted, that all chapels acquired and appropriated, or built or enlarged and improved under any of the provisions of the said recited acts, or under any local acts, in cases in which no provision is made relating thereto in such local acts, in aid of the churches of the parishes or places in which they shall be situated (whether any districts of any such parishes shall have been assigned or not to such chapels as belonging thereto for ecclesiastical purposes), shall be repaired by the respective parishes or places at large to which such chapels shall belong, and rates shall be raised, levied, and collected for that purpose in like manner in every respect as for the repair of the churches of such parishes and places, and all the laws in force for making, raising, levying, and collecting rates for the repair of churches, shall be applied and put in force for the raising, making, levying, and collecting such rates for the repair of such chapels, as fully and effectually as if the same were severally, and specially re-enacted in this act for that purpose, as to the repairs of such chapels; any thing in the said recited acts, or any other act to the contrary notwithstanding, 3 G. 4. c. 72. s. 20.

22. It shall be lawful for the said commissioners, and they are hereby authorized and empowered, in any case in which any division of any parish already divided, or which may hereafter be divided under the provisions of the said recited acts or this act, shall be again divided, and on which any church or chapel shall be built or acquired and appropriated, for the use of any such new division, by any instrument under the seal of the said commissioners, to declare that all liability to any repairs of the church or chapel of the division from which such new division shall be so made as aforesaid, shall cease from the period specified in any such instrument; and thereupon, from and after such period, the new division in which any such church or chapel shall be built, acquired, and appropriated, shall be liable only to the repairs of such church or chapel, and to the repairs, for whatever periods shall remain of the twenty years under the said recited act, of the church of the original parish; any thing in the said recited acts to the contrary notwithstanding, 3 G. 4. c. 72. s. 21.

23. It shall be lawful for the said commissioners, with the consent of the bishop and patron entitled in fee-simple, in cases where the said commissioners may not deem it expedient to divide any parish for ecclesiastical purposes, or create separate districts for ecclesiastical purposes therein, either to make a permanent rent charge on or to apportion any portion not exceeding a moiety of the glebe lands, tithes, moduses, or other emoluments, for the benefit of the incumbent of or person serving any such chapel or chapels in any such parish, as in their discretion they may think expedient: provided, that the presentation of every such endowed chapel shall be vested in the patron of the church to which such chapel or chapels may appertain, 3 G. 4. c. 72. s. 22.

24. It shall be lawful for the said commissioners to transfer any rights to any pews, with the consent of the owners thereof, in any existing church or chapel, belonging to any person residing in any division of any parish or place in which any new church or chapel shall have been or shall be built, acquired, or appropriated under the provisions of the said recited acts, to the church or chapel of the division in which any such persons shall reside, for the purpose of enabling the said commissioners to make or increase the number of free seats in the church or chapel from which such rights shall be transferred; and the persons from whom any pews shall be so taken for such purpose as aforesaid, and to whom any pews in lieu of their former pews shall be assigned by the said commissioners in any other church or chapel, shall have, hold, and enjoy the same respective rights and titles to the pews so assigned, as they respectively had, held, and enjoyed in their former pews, or such right and title as shall be directed and set forth in such assignment in lieu thereof, without any faculty, instrument, or other process than such assignment as aforesaid; and every such assignment shall be registered in the registry of the diocese in which the church or chapel shall be, and a duplicate thereof deposited in the chest of the church or chapel in which any such pew shall be so assigned as aforesaid: provided, that no larger or greater or other right shall be given to any pew in any new church or chapel, upon any such transfer, than belonged to the owner, proprietor, or occupier of the pews in the existing church or chapel, in the pews in respect of which any such transfer shall be made, 3 G. 4. c. 72. s. 23.

25. In every case in which rents shall have been fixed upon the pews in any church or chapel under the provision of the said recited acts for the purposes therein specified, notice shall be given for six successive weeks at the end of each year of all the pews which are vacant or which will become vacant at the commencement of the next year, by affixing the same in writing upon the doors of the church or chapel and vestry room thereof respectively; and all such pews as shall not be taken at the rent respectively fixed thereon within fourteen days after the commencement of the ensuing year, shall in every such case be let to any inhabitant of any adjoining parishes or places in which there shall not be sufficient accommodation in the churches and chapels of the parish or place for the inhabitants thereof, at the rent respectively so affixed upon such pews, for any term not exceeding the end of the year; and at the expiration of the year, and also of every succeeding year in which any such pews shall be rented by inhabitants of any adjoining parishes, such pews shall be inserted in the list of vacant pews, to be taken in preference by the inhabitants of the parish or place to which the church or chapel shall belong; and all such pews as may not be so taken by any inhabitant of the parish or place, may again be let, and so on from year to year, to any inhabitants of any adjoining parish or place; any thing in the said recited acts to the contrary notwithstanding, 3 G. 4. c. 72. s. 24.

26. Provided, that in case any inhabitant to whom any lease or demise of any pew, seat, or sitting in church or chapel, of the parish or place, or division or district of which he shall be an inhabitant, shall be granted for any longer term than one year, shall cease to be an inhabitant of the said parish, place, division, or district, or shall discontinue his or her attendance at the church or chapel for the space of any one year, then and in such case his lease, demise, term, estate, and interest in such pew, seat, or sitting respectively, shall, at the end or expiration of the then current year of the said term or period, cease and determine, and such pew, seat, or sitting shall be again let in like manner as herein-before mentioned, 3 G. 4. c. 72. s. 25.

27. It shall be lawful for the said commissioners to authorize and empower any parish, chapelry, township, or extra-parochial place, which shall be desirous of procuring a burial ground, or adding to any existing church or chapel yard or cemetery, to procure and purchase any such land or ground as may in the opinion of the commissioners be sufficient and properly situated for a church or chapel yard or burial ground, or as an addition to any existing church or chapel yard or cemetery (whether such land or ground shall be situated within the parish or place for the use of which the same shall be intended), and to make, raise, levy, and collect rates for purchase thereof, or for the repayment with interest of any money borrowed for the making such purchase, at such times and in such proportions as shall be agreed upon with the person or persons advancing any such money and approved of by the said commissioners; and the churchwardens or chapelwardens or persons authorized under the said recited acts to make rates for any of the purposes of the said recited acts, of any such parish, chapelry, township, or extra-parochial place, may and shall in every such case use and exercise all the powers and authorities in the said recited acts for the purpose of making and completing such purchases, and also all the powers and authorities in the said recited acts specified, as to making, raising, and levying any rates for any of the purposes of the said recited acts; and when any such land or ground so purchased shall be situate out of the bounds of the parish or place for which the same is intended, the same shall after consecration become and be deemed part of such parish or place; any thing in any act, law, or custom to the contrary notwithstanding, 3 G. 4. c. 72. s. 26.

28. Whereas provision is made in the 59 G. 3. c. 134. s. 21. [Stat Dig. this title, pl. 93.] for authorizing the remitting and allowing of duties of customs and excise upon materials used in the building of churches or chapels under the provisions of the said recited acts; and doubts may arise as to the allowing or remitting of such duties in cases of rebuilding, or enlarging or increasing the accommodation of churches and chapels; for remedy and prevention thereof, be it further enacted, That it shall be lawful for the commissioners of customs and excise of England, Ireland, and Scotland respectively, with the consent and under the authority in writing of the lord high treasurer of the United Kingdom of G. B. and Ire., or of any three or more of the commissioners of H. M.'s treasury for the time being respectively, to remit all or any proportion of the duties of customs or excise respectively, or to order the same to be drawn back or repaid, for, upon, or in respect of any stone, slate, bricks, timber, or other materials which shall have been or shall be bonâ fide procured for, and have been or shall be used in the rebuilding, or enlarging or increasing the accommodation of any churches or chapels under the provisions of the said recited acts or this act, or which have been built, or enlarged or increased with the approbation of the commissioners (and which approbation may be at any time certified under their seal); and such duties shall, in every such case, be remitted, drawn back, or repaid, as the case may be, under such rules, regulations, and restrictions, and in such manner as shall be ordered and directed by the lord high treasurer, or any three or more of the commissioners of H. M.'s treasury in that behalf, 3 G. 4. c. 72. s. 27.

29. Whereas by the 59 G. 3. c. 134. s. 35. [Stat. Dig. tit. CHURCHES, pl. 157.] the commissioners for stamps are authorized to allow the full amount of stamp duties upon instruments made in relation to the said recited acts; and it is expedient to make other provisions in relation to such stamp duties; be it therefore enacted, That no deed of gift, or grant, security, contract, agreement, deed, or conveyance, or other instrument, made for any of the purposes in the said recited acts mentioned, or for any other of the purposes or under any of the provisions in the said recited acts or either of them, or of this act, or for the carrying into execution any of the powers, authorities, regulations, purposes, or provisions thereof, or therein mentioned respectively, shall be subject to any of the duties upon stamped vellum, parchment, or paper, 3 G. 4. c. 72. s. 28.

30. From and after the expiration of five years after the transfer or conveyance of any messuages, lands, grounds, tenements, or hereditaments, to the said commissioners, or to any person or persons for the use of any parish or place, as a site for any church or chapel, or any church or chapel yard or cemetery, whether such transfer or conveyance shall have been by gift or grant, or upon or in pursuance of any sale or purchase under the provisions of the said recited acts or this act, although no church or chapel shall have been before the expiration of the said five years erected or built and consecrated upon such site, the said messuages, lands, grounds, tenements, or hereditaments shall become, and be and remain absolutely vested in such commissioners, or the person or persons to whom the same was conveyed, for the purposes of the said acts and this act, free from all demands or claims of any body politic or corporate, or person whatever, and without being thereafter subject to any question as to any right, title, or claim thereto, or in any manner affecting the same, 3 G. 4. c. 72. s. 29.

31. It shall be lawful for the said commissioners, and they are hereby empowered, by any instrument under seal, with the consent of the ordinary and of the patron and incumbent of any parish or place in which any new church or chapel shall have been built, or shall be built, acquired, or appropriated for the use of such parish or place, instead of the old church or chapel of such parish or place under the said recited acts or this act, to authorize and direct the transfer of the endowments, emoluments, or rights of or belonging to the old or existing church or chapel of such parish or place, or to the minister for the time being thereof, to any such new church or chapel so built, acquired, or appropriated in such parish or place, and to the minister thereof for the time being and his successors; and it shall be lawful in every such case for any trustees of any chapel, or of any rights, emoluments, or endowments of or belonging to any church or chapel, or to the incumbent of any church or chapel for the time, and they are hereby required, to transfer all such rights, emoluments, and endowments according to the direction of the said commissioners as aforesaid: provided, that in every such case the inhabitants of the parish or place in which such new church or chapel shall be built, shall raise and pay to the said commissioners towards the expences of such new church or chapel, either by subscription or rate, such sum at the least as would have been necessary for the repair of the old church or chapel, in case such new church or chapel had not been built, and such further sum as the inhabitants of such parish or place would have been liable to raise in such parish or place, for any purposes relating to the effectual and sufficient reparation of and maintaining such old church or chapel, or the cemetery thereof, or any other expence incident thereto, or to which such parish or place would have been liable in respect thereof, in case such new church or chapel had not been built; and immediately from and after any such transfer as aforesaid, all tithes or tenths, moduses or other compositions for tithes or tenths, and all emoluments, dues, fees, offerings, oblations, obventions, and other profits and advantages, and all messuages, glebe and other lands, tenements, or hereditaments, rents, sums of money, or real or personal chattels whatsoever, and all rights and privileges wheresoever, and of what nature or kind soever, wherewith any such old or existing church or chapel then is, or at any time theretofore had or ought to have been, or at the time of such substitution of such new church or chapel for any such old or existing church or chapel, may be endowed, or to which the minister thereof then is, or at any time theretofore was or ought to be entitled, with all the respective rights, privileges, members, easements, and appurtenances thereto belonging, or in anywise appertaining, or to or with the same, or any part thereof, had, held, used or enjoyed, or accepted, reputed, deemed, taken, or known as part, parcel, or member thereof, or as belonging to such minister; and the same, together with all reversion and reversions, remainder and remainders, yearly and other rents, issues, estates, rights, interests, dividends, emoluments and profits of all and singular any such messuages, lands, hereditaments, rents, or sums of money, shall severally and respectively become and be vested in the parson or minister for the time being of the new church or chapel, and his successors for ever, in as full and ample a manner as the parson or minister of the old or existing church or chapel might or could have had, received, and enjoyed the same, in case such substitution or transfer had not been made and passed; and every such substitution and transfer shall be registered in the registry of the diocese within which the place shall be locally situate, and enrolled in the high court of chancery; and all acts of parliament, laws, and customs relating to the publishing of banns of marriage, and celebration of marriages, christenings, churchings and burials, and the respective registering thereof, and to all ecclesiastical fees, oblations and offerings, shall apply to every such new church, in like manner in any respect as to the old church of the parish or place, 3 G. 4. c. 72. s. 30.

32. In every case in which the commissioners shall build, or grant any sum of money in aid of the building of any new church or chapel, in any parish or place in which the patronage of or nomination or appointment of the ecclesiastical person to serve such church or chapel shall not belong to H. M., or to any body politic or corporate or collegiate, or any corporation sole or aggregate, or to any trustees, commissioners, directors, or other persons having the charge, care, or management of any public or charitable institution, or to any trustees of any church or chapel, or to any private person, it shall be lawful for the said commissioners, by any instrument under seal, to declare that such patronage, nomination, or appointment shall, either for ever, or for such time and in such manner as the said commissioners shall direct, go to or be exercised by the bishop of the diocese within whose jurisdiction as diocesan such parish or place shall be, or if exempt from such jurisdiction, then by the bishop of the diocese in which such parish or place shall be locally situate; any thing contained in any act of parliament, or law or usage or custom to the contrary notwithstanding, 3 G. 4. c. 72. s. 31.

33. Whereas doubts have arisen whether the commissioners are empowered to exercise and enforce certain of the provisions of the said recited acts and this act, in aid of the parishes and places in certain cases not within the limitations of the said recited acts, with respect to the population or extent of such parishes or places, or which may not come within any of the regulations of the said recited acts or this act, in respect of any advances or loans in aid of such parishes, or in which parishes or places cannot comply with the regulations and restrictions contained in the said recited acts or this act; be it therefore enacted, That it shall be lawful for the said commissioners, in any case in which they shall, under the special circumstances of any parish or place which shall not be within any of the provisions of the said recited acts or this act, deem it expedient, and they are hereby authorized and empowered to exercise all or any of the provisions of the said recited acts or this act, relating to the procuring or taking of any land or ground, for the purpose of procuring, or of aiding in the procuring, for any such parish or place, any land or ground for any of the purposes of the said recited acts or this act, or for the purpose of carrying into execution any of the provisions of the said recited acts or this act with respect to the division or consolidation of any parish or district: provided, nevertheless, that the commissioners shall in every such case enter in their proceedings the nature of the special grounds and circumstances, under which they shall deem it expedient so to act, 3 G. 4. c. 72. s. 32.

34. Whereas doubts have arisen as to grants made by the said commissioners, in cases in which trusts have been created by acts of parliament or otherwise, in relation to the churches or chapels for which such grants have been or may be made, and whether the making such grants may, under the said recited acts and this act, interfere with such trusts; for remedy and prevention whereof, be it therefore enacted, That it shall be lawful for the said commissioners to make any grant or grants in relation, or confirm any grant or grants heretofore made for any church or chapel in relation to which any trusts have been created by any act of parliament, or any deed or instrument of consecration, which may not in all respects concur with the said recited acts or this act, and to declare at the time of making or confirming any such grant, that any such trusts shall notwithstanding remain and continue in full force: provided, that the commissioners shall, in any such case, enter in their proceedings the special grounds upon which every such grant has been made and confirmed; and in every such case such trusts shall remain and continue in full force; any thing in the said recited acts or this act, or in the said trusts and regulations to the contrary notwithstanding, 3 G. 4. c. 72. s. 33.

35. In every case in which any grant shall have been or shall be made of any land or ground, for any of the purposes of the said recited acts or this act, as a gift, or without any pecuniary consideration being paid for the same, and in which the commissioners shall determine not to apply such land or ground to any of the purposes of the said recited acts or this act, it shall be lawful for the said commissioners and they are hereby empowered, to exchange any such land or ground for any other land or ground which may, in the judgment of the said commissioners, be more eligible for the purpose for which the same was given; or with the consent of the grantor or grantors thereof, or their heirs or successors, to apply such land or ground to any other ecclesiastical purposes, either as glebe or otherwise, for the use of the incumbent of the parish or place, or for the purpose of any parochial or charitable school, or any other charitable or public purpose relating to any such parish or place; or to re-convey, without requiring, taking, or receiving any pecuniary consideration for such reconveyance, any such land or ground, or any part thereof, in case only a part of any such land or ground shall have been applied to the purposes of the said recited acts or this act, to the grantor or grantors thereof, or their heirs or successors, 3 G. 4. c. 72. s. 34.

36. Provided, that nothing in this act contained shall extend to repeal or alter, vary or affect, any powers, authorities, clauses or provisions contained in any act passed in the last session of parliament, or which may be passed in this present session, relating to any particular parish or place, or to authorize or empower the commissioners under the said recited acts or this act, to make or enforce any order, direction, or regulation under the said recited acts or this act, so as to alter or affect any such powers or authorities as aforesaid, or otherwise, contrary to any clause or provision contained in any such act of parliament relating to any particular parish or place; and that all the powers, authorities, clauses, regulations, and provisions in such local acts contained, shall remain in full force, and be used, enforced, and applied in the same manner and by the same persons, as if this act had not passed, 3 G. 4. c. 72. s. 35.

37. Provided, that neither this act nor the said recited acts, nor any thing therein or herein contained, nor any act, matter, or thing done by or under the authority of the same, or of the commissioners under the said recited acts or this act, shall extend to invalidate or avoid any ecclesiastical law or constitution of the church of England, or to destroy any of the rights or powers belonging to any bishop, of any diocese, or any archdeacon, chancellor, or official, 3 G. 4. c. 72. s. 36.

38. Every bishop of any diocese, and every archdeacon, chancellor, and official respectively, may at all times hereafter visit, institute, and exercise ecclesiastical jurisdiction in all the parishes to be erected or divided by virtue or in pursuance of this act, and in every division or district into which any parish may be divided under the said recited acts or this act, and in relation to every church and chapel within the same, as amply as they or any of them may do now therein, and in such manner as in any other parishes or places within his or their dioceses or jurisdictions respectively, 3 G. 4. c. 72. s. 37.

39. Whereas the 58 G. 3. c. 45. and 59 G. 3. c. 134. and 3 G. 4. c. 72., intituled, An Act to amend and render more effectual two acts, passed in the fifty-eighth and fifty-ninth years of his late majesty, for building and promoting the building of additional churches in populous parishes: and whereas the sums issued and applied under the said acts have been found inadequate; and it is therefore expedient that a further sum should be issued for the purposes of the said acts, and that further and additional provisions should be made for rendering the said recited acts more effectual: be it enacted, That it shall be lawful for the king's most excellent majesty, by warrant or warrants under his royal sign manual, to authorize and empower the commissioners of H. M.'s treasury of the U. K. of G. B. and Ire., to cause or direct any number of exchequer bills to be made out at H. M.'s exchequer at Westminster, not exceeding in the whole the sum of five hundred thousand pounds, in the same or like manner, form, and order, and according to the same or like rules and directions (except where other directions for making out the same are contained and particularly expressed in the said recited acts or either of them, or this act), as in and by 48 G. 3. c. 1., intituled An Act for regulating the issuing and paying off of exchequer bills, are enacted and prescribed, 5 G. 4. c. 103. s. 1.

40. All and every the clauses, powers, authorities, provisions, regulations, privileges, advantages, penalties, and forfeitures contained in the 48 G. 3. c. 1., 58 G. 3. c. 45., and 59 G. 3. c. 134., shall be applied and extended to the exchequer bills to be made out in pursuance of this act (except so far as the same or any of them may be altered by this act), as fully and effectually as if the said clauses, &c. had been particularly repeated and re-enacted in this act, 5 G. 4. c. 103. s. 2.

41. Provided, that the exchequer bills to be made out in pursuance of this act shall bear such interest as may be directed by the treasury, not exceeding the rate of two-pence per centum per diem upon or in respect of the whole of the monies respectively contained therein; and that all such bills as shall be advanced for the purposes of carrying the said acts or this act into execution, shall be made payable at such periods, and together with the interest that shall be due thereon shall be paid off and discharged out of such aids and supplies granted by parliament for the service of any year, as in each and every exchequer bill so made forth shall be particularly specified and expressed, pursuant to such directions as shall be given in that behalf to the auditor of the receipt of exchequer, by warrant or warrants from the treasury, 5 G. 4. c.103. s.3.

42. From time to time, as the commissioners appointed for the execution of the said recited acts shall find it necessary to apply to the purposes thereof and of this act any amount of such bills to be advanced under the provisions of the said recited acts or of this act, the said commissioners shall forthwith represent the same to the treasury, and the said commissioners, or any three or more of them for the time being, shall thereupon, if satisfied of such necessity, direct the said commissioners to issue a certificate, to be signed by any three or more of them, to such person or persons as may be authorized to receive the same, containing the amount so by the said commissioners intended to be advanced by exchequer bills; which certificate shall and may be presented to the auditor at the receipt of exchequer at Westminster, and the said auditor shall, immediately upon the receipt of such certificate, deliver to the bearer thereof a like amount in exchequer bills, to be made out in pursuance of the said recited act or of this act, and payable at such period as shall in such exchequer bills be specified and expressed; provided that the total amount so to be issued by virtue of such certificates shall not at any time exceed the amount directed to be advanced under the provisions of this act; and every such exchequer bill shall bear date on the day on which such certificate shall be so received by the said auditor, or on such other day as in such certificate shall be specified, any thing in the said recited acts to the contrary notwithstanding; and all such exchequer bills so to be delivered shall and may be signed by the said auditor, or in his name by any person duly authorized to sign exchequer bills, 5 G. 4. c.103. s.4.

43. And whereas in many parishes and extra-parochial places in which the churches and chapels are inadequate to the accommodation of one-fourth of the parishioners, and to which sums may not be granted under the provisions of this or any other former act for building additional churches or chapels, or in which the additional churches or chapels for which sums may have been or may be granted may not afford accommodation for one-fourth of the inhabitants of such parish, chapelry, township, or extra-parochial place, there may be persons belonging to the church of England who may be desirous of building or purchasing churches or chapels for the performance of divine service according to the rites of the church of England: and whereas it is highly desirable that every facility should be afforded for the execution of so laudable a purpose; be it therefore enacted, That whenever any twelve or more substantial householders of any parish, township, or extra-parochial place, shall certify in writing to the bishop of the diocese within which such parish, chapelry, township, or extra-parochial place shall be situate, that there is not accommodation for more than one-fourth of the inhabitants thereof for the attendance upon divine service according to the rites of the church of England, and that they or some of them, either by themselves or with the assistance of other persons belonging to the church of England, are desirous of raising by private subscription such sum as may be necessary for building or purchasing a church or chapel, or any building or buildings to be used as a church or chapel for the performance of the said service, and to provide out of pew rents of such church or chapel a competent stipend for the spiritual person who may officiate therein, and for a clerk thereof, and for all other expences incident to the performance of divine service, and for maintaining the said church or chapel, and the said bishop shall be satisfied of the several particulars contained in such application, it shall be lawful for such bishop, if he shall think fit, to signify his consent to the building or purchasing such church or chapel, as the case may be, according to such plan, and upon such site as shall be submitted to and approved by him for that purpose, 5 G. 4. c.103. s.5.

44. The several and respective persons proposing to build or purchase any such church or chapel, or any such building as aforesaid, and their assigns, respectively subscribing for that purpose sums of not less than fifty pounds each, shall elect three trustees from amongst themselves, for the management and general regulations of the temporal affairs of such church and chapel, and for the nomination to the bishop, for a limited period, of a spiritual person to serve the same; and such trustees shall be called life trustees of such church or chapel, and shall continue such trustees so long as any spiritual person nominated by them under the provisions of this act shall serve such church or chapel, 5 G. 4. c.103. s.6.

45. In case any of the persons first appointed life trustees of any such church or chapel, shall during the period above mentioned happen to die, or shall signify to the other life trustees his resignation of such trust, it shall be lawful for the majority of the persons who have subscribed towards the building or purchasing such church or chapel sums not less than fifty pounds each, and being owners or renters of pews in the same, who shall be present at any meeting to be called for that purpose, and which meeting any one or more of such trustees are hereby authorized and required to call and appoint, upon fourteen days' notice at the least being affixed to the door of such church or chapel, upon the two Sundays next preceding the day on which such meeting is intended to be held, from time to time to nominate and appoint, by writing under their hands, any other person having subscribed a sum not less than fifty pounds, and being an owner or renter of a pew in such church or chapel, and a member of the church of England, a life trustee in the place of the life trustee so dying or resigning; and every such new life trustee shall in every respect be vested with such and the like powers and authorities, to all intents and purposes, as the person to whose place he may be nominated and appointed as aforesaid, 5 G. 4. c.103. s.7.

46. If the number of persons subscribing to build or purchase such church or chapel shall not exceed three, such person or persons shall be and be deemed to be the life trustee or life trustees of such church or chapel, under the provisions of this act, and shall have, use, and exercise all such and the like powers and authorities to all intents and purposes, as any such life trustees as aforesaid, chosen under the provisions of this act, may use and exercise; and in case of the death or resignation of any such life trustee, the person nominated by him, being a member of the church of England, by his last will and testament, or by any instrument signed by him, shall be a life trustee in his place, 5 G. 4. c.103. s.8.

47. That in any case in which application shall be made to the bishop of any diocese for his consent to the building or purchasing any church or chapel, or buildings to be used as a church or chapel, in any parish, chapelry, township, or extra-parochial place, situate within the said diocese, for the purpose aforesaid, by any person or persons belonging to the church of England, who may be willing to subscribe one-half part at the least of the money necessary for building or purchasing the same, jointly with the parishioners of such place, who may be willing to raise the remainder of the money by rates, or to raise and borrow such sum upon the credit of the rates of such place, and the said bishop shall be satisfied of the several particulars contained in such application, it shall be lawful for such bishop, if he shall think fit, to signify his consent thereunto, 5 G. 4. c.103. s.9.

48. Provided, that every application which shall be made under the provisions of this act to the bishop of any diocese, shall state that the church or chapel is to be appropriated to the performance of divine service according to the rites of the church of England, and shall offer to set apart such number or proportion of free seats as is required by the said recited acts in cases in which churches or chapels are built or purchased under the provisions of the said recited acts, with any money advanced by the commissioners under the said recited acts, and shall also offer to provide out of the pew rents arising from the remaining part of the seats of such church or chapel, a competent salary for the spiritual person who may officiate therein, and for all other expences incident to the performance of such divine service, and for maintaining the said church or chapel: provided also, that no pew rents shall be taken, nor any service performed in such church or chapel, whether built or purchased by subscription only, or jointly by subscription and by rates, before the same shall have been duly consecrated, and a duplicate copy of such application, with the assent of the bishop of the diocese to the same, shall be deposited in such church or chapel, 5 G. 4. c.103. s.10.

49. The persons or parishioners of any parish or place as aforesaid, making such application to the bishop, shall in every such case, at the time of making the same, give notice in writing thereof to the patron and incumbent of the church of the parish, chapelry, township, or extra-parochial place, in which it is proposed to build or purchase any such church or chapel, in order to afford to such patron or incumbent the opportunity of laying before the bishop any statement in writing relating thereto, and that the said bishop shall not signify his consent to such application within three calendar months from the time when he shall have received the same, together with a certificate that the said notice has been given, 5 G. 4. c.103. s.11.

50. The life trustee or trustees of any such church or chapel which shall be built or purchased by private subscription, may nominate for the first two turns which shall occur after the consecration of the church or chapel, or for any number of turns which may occur during the space of forty years after the same, to the bishop of the diocese, for his approbation and licence, a spiritual person to serve the same; and all subsequent nomination shall be in the incumbent of the parish or extra-parochial place in which such church or chapel shall be built or purchased; unless in case of such chapel being made a district church as herein-after mentioned, in which case such subsequent nomination shall be in the patron of the church of the original parish; and in case of any neglect of any trustee or trustees, patron or incumbent respectively, to make such nomination, the same shall lapse, as in the case of actual benefices; and if all the subscribers entitled to elect trustees shall die before such nominations shall have been made, or such forty years shall have elapsed as aforesaid, then and in every such case the nomination shall be made by the incumbent during such period: provided also, that if all such subscribers shall die, so that no such election of any trustee can be made, and any one of the trustees for the time shall die or vacate, then and in every such case the incumbent for the time being shall be and become a trustee, to use and exercise all powers and authorities given to trustees under the provisions of this act, 5 G. 4. c. 103. s. 12.

51. Provided, in any case in which any such church or chapel shall be built or purchased in part by means of any rates to be raised in any parish, chapelry, township, or extra-parochial place, the first and subsequent nominations of the minister of such church or chapel shall be in the incumbent of the church of the original parish in which the same shall be built or purchased, except in case of such church or chapel being made a district church, when the same shall vest in the patron as aforesaid, 5 G. 4. c. 103. s. 13.

52. From and after the completion of every such church or chapel, the land, ground, and site whereon the same shall be built, with the cemetery thereto belonging, if any, and which land, ground, and site shall be specified and described in the sentence of consecration of the church or chapel, shall be and the same are hereby declared to be vested in such person or persons and their successors for ever, by such name and style as shall be specified in the sentence of consecration of the church or chapel; and such person or persons shall in every such case have perpetual succession in the name and style specified in the sentence of consecration, and shall hold the lands, grounds, and sites so vested in them as bodies corporate, by such name and style, without incurring or being subjected to any of the penalties or forfeitures of the statute of mortmain, or of any other law or statute whatsoever, to the use, intent, and purpose that every such church or chapel, with the cemetery to the same, if any, shall, when consecrated, be for ever thereafter set apart and dedicated to the service of Almighty God, as a place of divine worship, according to the liturgy and usages of the united church of England and Ireland as by law established, and be subject to the bishop of the diocese as such, 5 G. 4. c. 103. s. 14.

53. It shall be lawful for the life trustees or churchwardens respectively of any such church or chapel, and their successors, and they are hereby authorized and empowered to sell and dispose of the vaults or burial places under any such church or chapel, and of vaults or burial grounds in the cemetery or yard of the church or chapel, if there shall be any cemetery or burial ground thereto; and such life trustees or churchwardens respectively are hereby empowered and required to pay to the incumbent of the parish such dues or sums as such incumbent would be entitled to and have, of vaults or burial places of a like description in the church of the parish, and shall, after making such payments, invest or lay out the remainder of the monies thence arising in some public funds, stocks, or securities, from time to time, and also from time to time in like manner to lay out the interest, dividends or proceeds of such public funds, stocks, or securities, or such part thereof as shall not be applied under the provisions of this act, in like funds, stocks, or public securities; and such life trustees or churchwardens shall, out of such interest, dividends, or proceeds, from time to time make good any deficiencies, if any shall arise, in the payment of the stipends or salaries of the minister or clerk of the church or chapel, or any other payments or incidental expences to be paid from the produce of the rents of pews or seats, by reason of the rents of pews not being adequate to the payment of such stipends, salaries, or expences; and in the next place shall apply such interest, dividends, and proceeds in the maintaining, supporting, and repairing the church or chapel: provided always, that if by reason of any such funds, or if the produce of pew rents being more than sufficient for all the purposes to which the same are made applicable under the provisions of this act, there shall be a surplus of annual income, then and in any such case such surplus shall be applied in subsequent years to the purposes to which pew rents are applicable; and the pew rents shall in every such case be reduced rateably and in equal proportions, or a larger number of free seats shall be opened, as the bishop of the diocese shall order and direct, 5 G. 4. c. 103. s. 15.

54. It shall be lawful for the said commissioners, with consent of a majority of the subscribers entitled to elect the trustees of any such church or chapel, and of the bishop, and of the patron and incumbent, to make any such church or chapel a district church or chapel, under the provisions of the said recited acts and this act, 5 G. 4. c. 103. s. 16.

55. At the expiration of the forty years all such churches and chapels shall become in all respects district churches, without any consent being obtained for that purpose, if H. M. in council shall have made a division of the parish or extra-parochial place for that purpose, in manner directed by the said recited acts, or shall remain parochial chapels if no such division and appropriation of any such churches or chapels to a district shall have been made, 5 G. 4. c. 103. s. 17.

56. All the powers, authorities, provisions, regulations, clauses, penalties, and forfeitures in the said recited acts, or any or either of them contained, for the securing, recovering, and paying the salaries of spiritual persons, and for the recovery of pew rents, and all regulations as to the number or proportions of free seats in churches or chapels built or purchased wholly or in part with money advanced by the commissioners under the provisions of the said recited acts, shall extend and be in full force, and be applied in all cases of any such churches or chapels as aforesaid, being built or purchased by subscription or by rates, under the provisions of this act, as fully and effectually, as if the same were severally and separately re-enacted and repeated in this act, 5 G. 4. c. 103. s. 18.

57. And whereas doubts are entertained whether, since the duchy of Cornwall became vested in H. M., any lands, grounds, tenements, or hereditaments, parcel of the said duchy, can be granted, conveyed, or enfranchised under the provisions of the said acts for the purposes thereof: and whereas 3 G. 4. c. 78. intituled, An Act to enable H. M. to make leases, copies, and grants of offices, lands, and hereditaments, parcel of the duchy of Cornwall, or annexed to the same; be it therefore enacted; That it shall be lawful for any three or more of the regular officers of the said duchy, who by virtue of their several offices are concerned in the general superintendence and management of the revenue and affairs of the said duchy, and duly authorized by H. M., under the provisions of the said last recited act, by any deed or instrument under their hands and seals in the form prescribed by the 3 G. 4. c. 78. or as near thereto as circumstances will permit, to grant, convey, or enfranchise lands, grounds, tenements, or hereditaments for any such purposes of the said recited acts, or any or either of them, as are in the said acts or any or either of them specified, in relation to grants to be made by public departments under the said acts, 5 G. 4. c. 103. s. 19.

COIN.

1. To provide for the assimilation of the currency and monies of account throughout the U. K. of G. B. and Ireland, 6 G. 4. c. 79. [To commence and take effect from and after the 5th June, 1826, and not sooner, s. 17.]

2. Whereas the pound sterling in G. B. and Ire. respectively is, according to the currency of each, divisible into twenty shillings, and the shilling in G. B. and Ire. respectively is, according to the said currency of each, divisible into twelve-pence; but the silver coin which represents a shilling of the money of G. B. is paid and accepted and taken as representing one shilling and one penny of the currency of Ire., and the pound sterling of the currency of G. B. is, at the par of exchange, paid, accepted and deemed as equivalent to one pound one shilling and eight-pence of the currency of Ire.; and any sum of British currency is, at the same par of exchange, paid, accepted, and deemed as equivalent to an amount of pounds, shillings, and pence of the currency of Ire. greater by one-twelfth part than the expressed amount of pounds, shillings, and pence of the currency of G. B. contained in such sum; and any sum of Irish currency is, at the same par of exchange, paid, accepted, and deemed as equivalent to an amount of pounds, shillings, and pence of the currency of G. B. less by one-thirteenth part than the expressed amount of pounds, shillings, and pence of the currency of Ire. contained in such sum: and whereas great complexity of accounts between persons residing within the different parts of the same U. K. of G. B. and Ire., and other inconveniences, arise from the said difference of currencies; and it is expedient that the currency of Ire. should be assimilated to the currency of G. B. without disturbing the relation between debtor and creditor, and that there should be hereafter one uniform currency for the U. K. and that the values of the monies of account in Ire., and of the monies of account in G. B. should in all cases whatever be assimilated to each other: be it therefore enacted, That on and from and after the commencement of this act, the currency of G. B. shall be and become and is hereby declared to be the currency of the whole U. K. of G. B. and Ire., and that on and from and after the commencement of this act, all receipts and payments, and all gifts, grants, contracts, bargains, sales, agreements, and stipulations, and all written bonds, bills, notes, drafts, acceptances, receipts, acknowledgments, undertakings, or securities for money, and all transactions, dealings, matters, and things whatsoever relating to money, or involving or implying the payment of money, or the liability to pay any money, which shall be had, made, done, executed, or entered into in any and every part of the said U. K. shall be had, made, done, executed, and entered into according to such currency of G. B., so becoming the currency and lawful money of the U. K. of G. B. and Ire., and not according to any currency, or as money hath been or may be valued in any particular part of the said U. K., or in any other manner than according to such currency of the said U. K. except as herein-after is specially provided; and that all such receipts, payments, gifts, grants, contracts, bargains, sales, agreements, stipulations, bonds, bills, notes, drafts, acceptances, acknowledgments, undertakings, securities, transactions, dealings, matters, and things shall be held, deemed, construed, and taken to be had, made, executed, done, and entered into according to such currency of G. B., so becoming the currency and lawful money of the U. K. of G. B. and Ire., and in reference to money of the value and description circulating in G. B. at the time of the passing of this act, unless the contrary be proved to have been the intention of the parties concerned; any law, statute, usage, or custom in force in any part of the said U. K. at any time before the passing of this act, to the contrary in anywise notwithstanding, 6 G. 4. c. 79. s. 1.

3. All gifts, grants, contracts, bargains, sales, agreements, and stipulations, and all bonds, bills of exchange, promissory notes, drafts, acceptances, receipts, acknowledgments, undertakings, and securities for money, and all debts due or to grow due under or by virtue of any recognizance, statute, judgment, award, bond, lease, or other specialty, or by virtue of any simple contract, written or parol, and all transactions, dealings, matters, and things whatsoever relating to money, or involving or implying the payment of money, or the liability to pay any money which shall have been or shall be acknowledged, confessed, awarded, executed, had, made, done, or entered into at any time before the commencement of this act, according to or with reference to the currency of Ire., or as money shall, before the commencement of this act, have been valued or named in Ire., shall, from and after the commencement of this act, be construed and carried into effect, and shall be paid, discharged, and satisfied, according to the amount thereof respectively in such British currency, so becoming the currency of the said U. K. as aforesaid, to be calculated in manner following; that is to say, that every sum of the currency of Ire. then due or thereafter to grow due, or to be accounted for in any way under and by virtue of any such gift, grant, contract, &c. or for or in respect of any such debt, recognizance, statute, &c. lease, specialty or simple contract, written or parol, or for or in respect of any such transaction, dealing, matter, or thing relating to money or liability as aforesaid, shall be equivalent to, and shall be stated as, and shall be liable to be paid, discharged, satisfied, and accounted for by a sum of such currency of the U. K., less by one-thirteenth part than the amount of such sum expressed according to the currency of Ire., in like manner to all intents and purposes as if such sum in the currency of the said U. K. less by one-thirteenth part than the sum of the currency of Ire., to which such sum in the currency of the U. K. is to be and be deemed equivalent, had been mentioned and expressed in any and every such grant, contract, &c. or for or in respect of any such debt, recognizance, &c. or for or in respect of any such transaction, dealing, or other matter or thing relating to money, at the time when such grant, contract, &c. or other transaction, dealing, matter, or thing respectively, was actually acknowledged, confessed, awarded, executed, had, made, done, or entered into; any condition, agreement, or clause in or relating to any such grant, contract, bargain, sale, transaction, dealing, matter, or thing aforesaid to the contrary in any wise notwithstanding, 6 G. 4. c. 79. s. 2.

4. And whereas by 56 G. 3. c. 98. s. 26. [Stat. Dig. tit. ACCOUNTS PUBLIC, pl. 113.] intituled, An Act to consolidate into one fund all the public revenues of G. B. and Ire., and to provide for the application thereof to the general service of the U. K.; it is among other things enacted, that for the producing uniformity in all returns and statements to parliament with respect to the public revenue and expenditure of the U. K. all accounts of all receipts and payments which shall be made of any of the public revenues, duties, or taxes in Ire., and also all accounts of all payments into and issues out of the receipt of the exchequer in Ire. shall be kept in such form and manner that the total amount of all sums under each respective head of account, in all accounts and papers relating to accounts to be laid before parliament, shall be stated in British currency, and that it shall be lawful for H. M.'s commissioners of the treasury of the U. K. at any time to give such orders and directions as to them shall seem fitting and expedient for accomplishing the purposes by the said act intended to be carried into effect: and whereas it is expedient to make further provisions for the producing complete uniformity in all accounts, statements, and returns whatever relating to the public revenue and expenditure: be it therefore enacted, That from and after the commencement of this act, all duties of customs, excise, taxes, stamps, and postage, and all rents and revenues payable to H. M. and all other public dues, and duties, and revenues whatever payable in Ire., and all drawbacks, bounties or allowances in respect of any such duties, shall cease to be estimated in Irish currency, and shall be converted into British currency in all cases where the same are not payable in British currency at the time of the commencement of this act; and shall be estimated, levied, collected, received, accounted for, and paid by the several commissioners and officers under whose management such duties, drawbacks, bounties, or allowances, are collected, accounted for, and paid, in British currency, so becoming the currency and lawful money of the U. K., to be calculated after the rate of twelve-thirteenth parts as aforesaid, of the sums which were to have been respectively paid in Irish currency; and that the public debt, stocks, funds, annuities, debentures, treasury bills, and securities, payable or transferrable at the bank of Ire., or payable in Ire., and all dividends and interests thereon, and all payments thereout, shall cease to be estimated in Irish currency, and shall be converted into British currency, to be calculated in manner directed by this act, and shall be estimated, transferred, received, paid, and accounted for, according to the amount thereof in British currency so becoming the currency and lawful money of the U. K.; and that all accounts, entries, books, papers, returns, statements, writings, certificates, receipts, and documents whatsoever, relating to the said duties and drawbacks, or to such public debt, stocks, funds, annuities, debentures, treasury bills, or securities, or to the dividends or interest thereon, or to any receipts and payments whatever relating to the same, shall be made up and kept and stated in the currency and lawful money of the U. K., to be calculated as aforesaid; and in no other currency nor according to any other amount whatever; any law, statute, usage, or custom to the contrary in anywise notwithstanding, 6 G. 4. c. 79. s. 3.

5. This act or any thing therein contained, shall not be deemed or held to increase or decrease or alter the quantity of gold or silver coin to be paid or payable in discharge of, or in any way in reference to, any public revenue or debt, or in discharge of or in reference to any sum or sums of money contained or mentioned in any act or acts of parliament in force at any time prior to the commencement of this act; nor in any manner to affect or take away any franchise, right, benefit, privilege, or advantage, resulting from the possession of any lands, tenements, rents, or property, of the value mentioned in any act or acts of parliament; nor to increase or decrease or alter the quantity of gold or silver coin, to be paid or payable in discharge of or in reference to any sum or sums of money due or payable at the time of the passing of this act, or which may become due or payable at any time after the commencement of this act under the authority or by virtue of any usage or custom which shall be in force prior to the commencement of this act; nor to increase or decrease or alter the quantity of gold or silver coin to be paid in discharge of or in reference to any sum or sums of money contained or mentioned in any law or bye-law of any corporation or other public body, or payable under any authority whatsoever, at any time before the commencement of this act, 6 G. 4. c. 79. s. 4.

6. And whereas in the converting of monies of Irish currency into British currency, certain fractional parts of a penny frequently arise, such fractional parts being invariably four, eight, twelve, sixteen, twenty, twenty-four, twenty-eight, thirty-two, thirty-six, forty, forty-four, or forty-eight fifty-second parts of a penny British currency respectively; and in all returns from the exchequer of Ire. to the commissioners of the treasury, under the directions of the said recited act of the 56 G. 3. c. 98. the sums, as stated in British currency, consist of pounds, shillings, pence, and such fractional parts of a penny as aforesaid, but such fractional parts are not capable of being represented in actual receipts and payments of money by any current coin; and it is expedient, in order to prevent uncertainty in all receipts and payments public and private, of money so converted into British currency from Irish currency, that a scale should be adopted, by which such uncertainty should be obviated; be it therefore enacted, That whenever, at any time after the commencement of this act upon the calculation of any amount of money converted into British currency from Irish currency, there shall be any fraction of a British penny not exceeding four fifty-second parts of a penny, no sum of money whatever shall be asked, demanded, taken, received, or paid, on account of any such fraction; and that in all receipts, and payments whatsoever, public or private, of any amount of money converted into British currency from Irish currency, upon the calculation of which amount there shall appear any fraction of a British penny, exceeding four fifty-second parts of a penny, the several fractions of eight, twelve, and sixteen fifty-second parts of a penny shall be considered as equivalent to one farthing; and the fractions of twenty, twenty-four, twenty-eight, and thirty-two fifty-second parts of a penny shall be considered as equivalent to one halfpenny; and the fractions of thirty-six, forty, and forty-four fifty-second parts of a penny shall be considered as equivalent to three farthings; and the fraction of forty-eight fifty-second parts of a penny shall be considered as equivalent to one penny; and that the sums of one farthing, one half-penny, three farthings, and one penny, British currency respectively, shall and may be demanded and taken and received, and shall be paid and satisfied in British copper coin, in all receipts and payments whatever of the amount of any such money so converted into British currency from Irish currency, as equivalent and equal to the said several before-mentioned fractions of a British penny respectively; and that all sums under the amount of twelve-pence Irish currency shall and may be demanded, taken and received, and shall be paid and satisfied in British copper coin; and the amount of the fractions of a penny, which shall result on converting such sums of Irish currency into British currency, shall be calculated and paid in manner herein-after directed, according to the several rates aforesaid, 6 G. 4. c. 79. s. 5.

7. And for the purpose of facilitating the calculation of the interest payable to the proprietors of any public stocks or funds in Ire., when the principal shall be converted into British currency; be it enacted, That it shall and may be lawful for the commissioners of H. M.'s treasury of the U. K., to direct that the governor and company of the bank of

Ire. shall pay, and it shall and may be lawful for the said governor and company, and they are hereby authorized and empowered to pay, or cause to be paid, to the person who shall be entitled to receive the dividends upon any such stocks or funds, at the first or any other time when any such person shall receive any such dividend after the passing of this act, all pence and all fractions of a penny of the amount so converted into British currency, of the capital or principal sum of any such stocks or funds upon which such dividends shall be payable respectively; provided that such payment shall not in any case exceed one shilling to any one proprietor of any sum in any one of such stocks or funds; and that the amount of the capital or principal sum remaining to each proprietor shall be thereby made to consist of pounds and shillings only of the currency of the U. K., 6 G. 4. c. 79. s. 6.

8. The governor and company of the bank of Ire. shall, upon making up their books preparatory to the payment of each and every half-yearly dividend, certify to the vice-treasurer in the exchequer in Ire. and the loan clerk there, (or to such other officer as shall be directed by the commissioners of H. M.'s treasury, or any three of them), the amount of all sums of money so paid by the said governor and company in the year preceding, and such loan clerk or other officer shall certify, by his signature, to such treasury the total amount of all such payments; and thereupon it shall and may be lawful for the said treasury, to grant their warrant to the commissioners for the reduction of the national debt, to pay to the governor and company of the bank of Ire., out of any funds or monies at the disposal of the said commissioners, the total amount of the payment so made by the said governor and company within any such half-year; and it shall be lawful for the said commissioners for the reduction of the national debt to make such payments accordingly, and to place the same to the account of the reduction of the national debt in the accounts of the said commissioners; any act in force in Ire., to the contrary notwithstanding, 6 G. 4. c. 79. s. 7.

9. And for the purpose of avoiding as much as possible the introduction of the fractional parts of a penny into the public accounts and statements, be it enacted, That in any case where any annual sum chargeable on the consolidated fund of the U. K. shall, at the time of the commencement of this act, be payable in Irish currency, it shall be lawful for the commissioners of H. M.'s treasury, upon the conversion of any such sum into British currency, to direct that such addition may be made to any such annual sum as shall be sufficient to exclude fractions of a penny from the amount of any such annual sum and the several quarterly payments thereof, 6 G. 4. c. 79. s. 8.

10. Provided, that nothing herein contained shall prevent any gift, grant, contract, bargain, sale, or dealing for money, or any bill, note, draft, acceptance, receipt, or acknowledgment for the payment of money, or any matter or thing relating to money, from being made or had according to the currency of foreign parts, 6 G. 4. c. 79. s. 9.

11. All debts, contracts, liabilities, matters, or things relating to money, at any time after the commencement of this act, arising by implication of law out of, or being founded upon any gifts, grants, contracts, bargains, sales, or dealings, matters or things, made, done, or had prior to the commencement of this act, shall be held, deemed, and construed to be within the meaning of this act, as debts, gifts, grants, contracts, liabilities, bargains, sales, or dealings, matters, or things, made or had prior to the commencement of this act, and shall be construed accordingly, 6 G. 4. c. 79. s. 10.

12. From and after such day after the commencement of this act, as shall be named and appointed in and by any proclamation which shall be made and issued for that purpose by H. M. in council, and by the lord lieutenant or other chief governor or governors of Ire., by and with the advice of H. M.'s privy council in Ire., the several silver and gold coins of G. B. shall circulate and be current in Ire. at the same nominal as well as real value as in other parts of the U. K., and shall be taken, paid, accepted, and computed, as representing, and divisible into the like number of pence, and as representing the like nominal sum of money as such coins are respectively current for and are divisible into, and do represent in G. B., and not as current for or as representing or divisible into any greater number of pence, or as representing any greater nominal sum of money than the same are current for, or are divisible into, or do represent in G. B.; that is to say, the British silver sixpence shall circulate, and shall be taken, accepted, paid and computed as current for and divisible into and representing sixpence only, and not sixpence and one halfpenny; the British silver shilling as twelve pence, and not as thirteen pence; the British silver half-crown piece as thirty pence or two shillings and sixpence, and not as thirty-two pence and one halfpenny, or as two shillings and eight-pence halfpenny; the British silver crown piece as sixty pence or five shillings, and not as sixty-five pence, or five shillings and five pence; the British gold coin of a half sovereign as one hundred and twenty pence or ten shillings, and not as one hundred and thirty pence, or ten shillings and ten-pence; the British gold coin of a half-guinea as one hundred and twenty-six pence, or ten shillings and sixpence, and not as one hundred and thirty-six pence and one halfpenny, or eleven shillings and four-pence halfpenny; the British gold coin of a sovereign, as two hundred and forty pence, or twenty shillings or one pound, and not as two hundred and sixty pence, or one pound one shilling and eight pence; the British gold coin of a guinea, as two hundred and fifty-two pence, or one pound and one shilling, and not as two hundred and seventy-three pence, or one pound two shillings and nine-pence; and the British gold coin of a double sovereign, as four hundred and eighty pence, or forty shillings or two pounds, and not as five hundred and twenty pence, or two pounds three shillings and four-pence; any law, statute, usage, or custom in force in Ire., at any time before the passing or commencement of this act, to the contrary notwithstanding, 6 G. 4. c. 79. s. 11.

13. And whereas the copper money coined to be current in Ire. is of less value than the copper coin or money current in G. B.; be it enacted, That from and after such day as shall be named and appointed in and by any proclamation, which shall be made and issued by such authority as [s. 11. pl. 12.] aforesaid for that purpose, it shall be lawful for any person having or possessing any copper coin or money of the currency of Ire. and passing after the rate of thirteen pence or twenty-six halfpennies for the shilling British currency, to bring any such copper coin, and to deliver the same at the bank of Ire., during such period and within such time as shall be mentioned and specified in such proclamations; and that there shall be delivered at the said bank of Ire., to every person bringing in and delivering such copper coin of the currency of Ire. a sum in the current copper coin of G. B., after the rate of twelve-pence of such British copper coin, for every thirteen pence or twenty-six halfpence of such copper coin of the currency of Ire., so to be brought and delivered at the said bank of Ire.; and that from and after a day to be mentioned in such proclamations as aforesaid, all copper coin of the currency of Ire. shall cease to be current in Ire., or in any part of the U. K., 6 G. 4. c. 79. s. 12.

14. And whereas sums under the amount of twelve-pence of the currency of Ire. cannot in certain cases be paid by any equivalent number of pence, halfpence, and farthings of the currency of G. B., and it is unavoidable that in the payment of several of such sums an inconsiderable loss of a part of a farthing must be incurred either by the debtor or creditor; and it is necessary that some plain rule not liable to be misunderstood should be applied to ascertain upon which party such inconsiderable loss should fall; be it therefore enacted, That from and after the commencement of this act, the sums of one farthing, one halfpenny, three farthings, one penny, one penny farthing, and one penny halfpenny, of Irish currency, shall be paid and satisfied by the payment of one farthing, one halfpenny, three farthings, one penny, one penny farthing, and one penny halfpenny respectively, in the copper currency of G. B.; and that all sums of Irish currency exceeding one penny halfpenny, and not exceeding four-pence three farthings, shall be and shall be deemed to be acquitted, paid, and satisfied by the payment of a sum of the copper coinage of G. B., less by one farthing than the expressed amount of the sum so payable in Irish currency; and that all sums of Irish currency exceeding four-pence three farthings, and not exceeding eight-pence, shall be and shall be deemed to be acquitted, paid, and satisfied by the payment of a sum of the copper coinage of G. B., less by one halfpenny than the expressed amount of the sum so payable in Irish currency; and that all sums of Irish currency exceeding eight-pence and not exceeding eleven-pence farthing, shall be and shall be deemed to be acquitted, paid, and satisfied by the payment of a sum of the copper coinage of G. B., less by three farthings than the expressed amount of the sums so payable in Irish currency; and that all sums of Irish currency exceeding eleven-pence farthing and not exceeding twelve-pence, shall be and shall be deemed to be acquitted, paid, and satisfied, by the payment of a sum of the copper coinage of G. B., less by one penny than the expressed amount of the sum so payable in Irish currency, 6 G. 4. c. 79. s. 13.

15. And whereas by 55 G. 3. c. 100. s. 8., intituled, An Act to provide for the collection and management of stamp duties payable on bills of exchange, promissory notes, receipts, and game certificates in Ire., it is among other things enacted, that it shall be lawful for bankers or other persons in Ire., registered in manner required by the said recited act, who shall have made and issued any promissory note or notes for the payment to bearer on demand of any sum of money not exceeding one hundred pounds each, duly stamped, from time to time after the payment thereof, and within the term of three years from the date thereof, but not afterwards, to re-issue any such promissory notes or note without being liable to pay a further duty in respect thereof: and whereas it is expedient that from and after the commencement of this act all such re-issuable notes for the payment of any amount of money in Irish currency should cease to be re-issued, and that such bankers should be relieved from the loss arising from the ceasing to re-issue such notes before the expiration of the said term of three years; be it therefore enacted, that from and after the commencement of this act, all promissory notes for the payment to the bearer on demand of any sum of money not exceeding one hundred pounds each, which shall be made and issued in Ire. by any registered banker or other person, and re-issuable under the provisions of the said recited act, shall be made payable according to the amount thereof in British currency, and not in Irish currency; and that it shall not be lawful for any such registered banker, or other person in Ire., at any time after the commencement of this act, to re-issue any promissory note or notes payable in Irish currency, which shall have been issued in Ire. at any time before the commencement of this act, and which shall be paid by such banker or other person at any time after the commencement of this act; any thing in the said recited act to the contrary notwithstanding; and if any such banker or other person shall, at any time after the commencement of this act, re-issue any such note or notes, such banker or bankers shall for every such offence forfeit the sum of fifty pounds, to be recovered in like manner as any penalty of the like amount incurred under any act relating to the stamp duties in Ire., 6 G. 4. c. 79. s. 14.

16. It shall and may be lawful for any registered banker, or other person in Ire., who shall have lawfully issued or re-issued any such promissory notes, re-issuable aforesaid, at any time before the commencement of this act, and who shall have paid the same at any time after the commencement of this act, and before the expiration of three years from the date thereof, to bring, send, and deliver such notes, or cause the same to be brought, sent, and delivered, to the stamp-office in Dublin, and at the same time to deliver a quantity of paper, and require the same to be stamped with stamps denoting the duty on promissory notes re-issuable as aforesaid, in lieu of the stamps on the notes so brought in and delivered; and it shall be lawful for the commissioners of stamps in Ire., upon such proof and under such regulations as the said commissioners shall for that purpose direct and require, to cause any such paper to be stamped or marked with such stamps, denoting the duties payable in respect of promissory notes re-issuable as aforesaid, as shall be required by such banker or other person to the several amounts following; that is to say, in case the notes so brought in and delivered shall be dated at any time within the year next before the time when the same shall be so brought in and delivered, then the banker or person delivering the same shall in lieu thereof be entitled to and shall receive stamps on such paper so brought to be stamped as aforesaid, to an amount equal to the whole of the stamp duties on such notes so brought in and delivered; and in case the notes so brought in and delivered shall be dated at any time exceeding one year, and not exceeding two years, next before the same shall be so brought in and delivered, then such banker or other person shall, in lieu thereof, be entitled to stamps to an amount equal to three-fourths of the stamp duties in such notes so brought in and delivered; and in case the notes so brought in and delivered shall be dated at any time exceeding two years, and not exceeding three years next before the time when the same shall be so brought in and delivered, then such banker or other person shall, in lieu thereof, be entitled to stamps to an amount equal to one-half of the stamp duties on such notes so brought in and delivered, 6 G. 4. c. 79. s. 15.

17. It shall and may be lawful for the commissioners of H. M.'s treasury for the time being, from time to time to publish and distribute, or to order or cause to be published or distributed, copies of this act, or any extracts therefrom, or any explanation thereof, or any orders or directions relating thereto, throughout Ire., together with such tables, showing the difference between British and Irish currency, or between the Irish currency and the currency or lawful money of the U. K., as the said commissioners shall from time to time think fit; and it shall and may be lawful for the said commissioners to direct the issue of such sum or sums of money from time to time out of the consolidated fund of the U. K., as may be necessary for the purpose of defraying the expences of so doing, 6 G. 4. c. 79. s. 16.

COLONIES. (See NAVIGATION.)

1. To make provision for the salaries of certain bishops, and other ecclesiastical dignitaries and ministers, in the diocese of Jamaica, and in the diocese of Barbadoes and the Leeward Islands; and to enable H. M. to grant annuities to such bishops upon the resignation of their offices, 6 G. 4. c. 88.

2. Whereas H. M. by his several royal letters patent has been graciously pleased to direct and appoint that the island of Jamaica, the Bahama islands, and the settlements in the bay of Honduras, and their respective dependencies, should be and become a bishoprick, and the diocese and see of a bishop of the united church of England and Ireland as established by law, to be called "The Bishoprick of Jamaica;" and that there should be one bishop of the said diocese, and that there should also be one archdeacon and seven ministers of the gospel in and for the said diocese; and in like manner that the islands of Barbadoes, Grenada, Saint Vincent's, Dominica, Antigua and Montserrat, Saint Christopher's, Nevis, and the Virgin Islands, Trinidad, Tobago and Saint Lucie, and their respective dependencies, should be and become a bishoprick, and the diocese and see of a bishop, to be called "the bishoprick of Barbadoes and the Leeward Islands," and that there shall be one bishop of the said last mentioned diocese, and that there should also be one archdeacon in and for the island of Barbadoes, and one archdeacon in and for the island of Antigua, and that there should be thirteen ministers of the gospel and three catechists within the said last mentioned diocese; and it is expedient that provision should be made for the payment of yearly salaries to such bishops, archdeacons, ministers, and catechists respectively, and also to enable H. M. to grant to such bishops respectively yearly pensions or annuities on their retiring from their dioceses: be it enacted, That the persons who shall from time to time exercise and enjoy the several dignities and offices herein-after mentioned, under or by virtue of H. M.'s letters patent or authority, shall receive the several salaries or annual sums herein-after respectively specified and set forth; that is to say, the bishop of the diocese of Jamaica, and the bishop of the diocese of Barbadoes and the Leeward Islands, in the West Indies, the salary or annual sum of four thousand pounds each, of lawful money of the U. K. of G. B. and Ire.; the archdeacon of the island of Jamaica, and the archdeacon of the island of Barbadoes, and the archdeacon of the island of Antigua, the salary or annual sum of two thousand pounds each, of the like lawful money; the seven ministers of the gospel in the diocese of Jamaica, and the thirteen ministers of the gospel in the diocese of Barbadoes and the Leeward Islands, the salary or annual sum of three hundred pounds each, of the like lawful money; the three catechists in the said diocese of Barbadoes and the Leeward Islands, the salary or annual sum of one hundred pounds each, of the like lawful money; and that all the said several salaries and annual sums shall be paid and payable free and clear from all taxes and deductions whatsoever, 6 G. 4. c. 88. s. 1.

3. It shall and may be lawful for the treasury from time to time, by warrant under their hands, to direct the proper officer of the exchequer to issue out of the growing produce of the consolidated fund of the U. K. to such person as may be appointed to receive the same, all such sums of money as may from time to time be necessary for the payment of any of the several salaries or annual sums made payable by this act, which may have accrued respectively at any time before the passing of this act [5th July 1825.], or which may from time to time accrue and become due and payable at any time after the passing of this act, 6 G. 4. c. 88. s. 2.

4. It shall be lawful for H. M., by any letters patent under the Great Seal of the U. K., to give and grant unto any person who may or shall execute the office of bishop of the diocese of Jamaica, or the office of bishop of the diocese of Barbadoes and the Leeward Islands respectively, and who shall resign the same respectively, an annuity or yearly sum of money not exceeding the sum of one thousand pounds to any such bishop respectively, to commence and take effect immediately from and after the period whenever the person to whom such annuity or yearly sum of money shall be granted shall resign or shall have resigned the said offices respectively, and to continue from thenceforth for and during the natural life of the person to whom such annuity shall be granted as aforesaid; and such annuity or yearly sum shall be issued out of and charged upon the consolidated fund of the U. K., next in order of payment to and after paying and reserving sufficient to pay all such sums of money as have been directed by any former act or acts of parliament to be paid out of the same, but with preference to all other payments which shall and may be charged upon or payable out of the said fund; and such annuity or yearly sum shall from time to time be paid and payable quarterly, free and clear of all taxes and deductions whatsoever, at the four usual days of payment in the year; that is to say, the 5th Jan., 5th April, 5th July, and the 10th Oct. in each and every year, by even and equal portions, the first payment to be made on such of the said days as shall happen next after such resignation as aforesaid of the said office: provided, that no such annuity granted to any person having executed either of the said offices respectively shall be valid, unless such persons shall have continued in the said office for the period of ten years, or shall be afflicted with some permanent infirmity, disabling him from the due execution of his office of bishop, which shall be distinctly recited in the said grant, 6 G. 4. c. 88. s. 3.

5. And whereas it is expedient that the charge to be created by the salaries or pensions which may from time to time be payable under this act to the bishops, archdeacons, ministers, or catechists appointed or to be appointed by H. M. as aforesaid, should be charged upon the duties of four and a half per cent. payable to H. M. in the West Indies, whenever the said duties, after payment of the prior charges thereon, shall afford the means of defraying the whole or any part of such salaries or pensions; be it therefore enacted, that the said salaries and pensions shall become and be a charge upon the said duties of four and a half per cent. next in priority after the salaries of the governors, lieutenant governors, and other public officers, payable out of those duties after the termination of any other charges now existing thereupon, and that any and every surplus which shall at any time arise out of the produce of those duties after defraying all such other charges now existing thereupon, or by reason of the cessation of any of those charges, shall go and be applied in the first instance to defray the charges of the salaries and pensions to be granted under the authority of this act accordingly, 6 G. 4. c. 88. s. 4.

COMBINATIONS. (See LABOURERS.)

(STATUTE repealed.)

1. To repeal the laws relative to the combination of workmen, and for other purposes therein mentioned, 5 G. 4. c. 95. [Rep. 6 G. 4. c. 129. s. 1. see also s. 2.]

(STATUTE in force.)

2. To repeal the laws relating to the combination of workmen, and to make other provisions in lieu thereof, 6 G. 4. c. 129.

3. Whereas 5 G. 4. c. 95. was passed, intituled, An Act to repeal the laws relative to the combination of workmen, and for other purposes therein mentioned, by which act various statutes and parts of statutes relating to combinations among workmen for fixing the wages of labour, and for regulating or controlling the mode of carrying on any manufacture, trade, or business, were repealed, and other provisions were made for protecting the free employment of capital and labour, and for punishing combinations interfering with such freedom, by means of violence, threats, or intimidation: and whereas the provisions of the said act have not been found effectual: and whereas such combinations are injurious to trade and commerce, dangerous to the tranquillity of the country, and especially prejudicial to the interests of all who are concerned in them: and whereas it is expedient to make further provision, as well for the security and personal freedom of individual workmen in the disposal of their skill and labour, as for the security of the property and persons of masters and employers, and for that purpose to repeal the said act, and to enact other provisions and regulations in lieu thereof: be it therefore enacted, That from and after the passing of this act [6th July 1825.], the said recited act of the last session of parliament shall be and the same is hereby repealed, 6 G. 4. c. 129. s. 1.

4. Provided that from and after the passing of this act, so much of 33 Ed. 1. st. 1. [Dig. tit. CHAMPERTY, pl. 1. tit. CONSPIRACY, pl. 3.], concerning conspirators who do confeder or bind themselves by oath, covenant, or other alliance, as relates or extends to combinations or conspiracies of workmen or other persons to obtain an advance of or to fix the rate of wages, or to lessen or alter the hours or duration of the time of working, or to decrease the quantity of work, or to regulate or controul the mode of carrying on any manufacture, trade, or business, or the management thereof, or to combinations or conspiracies of masters, manufacturers, or other persons, to lower or fix the rate of wages, or to increase or alter the hours or duration of the time of working, or to increase the quantity of work, or to regulate or controul the mode of carrying on any manufacture, trade, or business, or the management thereof, or to oblige workmen to enter into work; and also so much of 3 H. 6. c. 1. [Dig. tit. LABOURERS, pl. 2.] as relates to the annual congregations and confederacies made by masons in their general chapters assembled; and also a certain act passed in the parliament of Ireland, 33 H. 8. (Ir.) st. 1. c. 9. intituled, An Act for servants wages; also 2 & 3 Ed. 6. c. 15. [Dig. tit. CONSPIRACY, pl. 6.], intituled, An Act touching victuallers and handicraftsmen; and also a certain other act passed in the parliament of Scotland, in the fifth parliament of king James the first of Scotland, intituled, Of the Fees of craftsmen, and the price of their worke; also a certain other act passed in the parliament of Scotland, in the fifth parliament of king James the first of Scotland, intituled, Of the Fees of workmen; also a certain other act passed in the parliament of Scotland, in the fifth parliament of king James the first of Scotland, intituled, Of Writches and masones; also a certain other act passed in the parliament of Scotland, in the seventh parliament of king James the first of Scotland, intituled, The Price of ilk workmanship; also a certain other act passed in the parliament of Scotland, in the fifth parliament of queen Mary of Scotland, intituled, The Price of craftsmenne's wark, of meate and drinke in tavernes; also a certain other act passed in the parliament of Scotland, in the seventh parliament of king James the sixth of Scotland, intituled, Anent the setting of Ordour and price in all stuiiffe; also so much of 15 & 14 C. 2. c. 15. s. 10. [Dig. tit. SILK MANUFACTURES, pl. 12.], intituled, An Act for regulating the trade of silk throwing, as provides and enacts, that the corporation of silk throwers should not, by virtue of that act, nor any thing therein contained, make any orders, ordinances, or bye laws, to set any rates or prices whatsoever upon the throwing of silk, to bind or enforce their members to work at; also 7 G. 1. st. 1. c. 13. altogether, except ss. 4. 6. 9. B. called Scotland*, as relates to the fixing and appointing of hire and wages; also Dig. 39 & 40 G. 3. c. 106. [repealed in part by this act, and in toto by 5 G. 4. c. 96. tit. CONSPIRACY, pl. 10.] intituled, An Act to repeal an act passed in the last session of parliament, intituled 'An Act to prevent unlawful combinations of workmen,' and to substitute other provisions in lieu thereof; also so much of 43 G. 3. c. 86. s. 1—4. 10. intituled, An Act to prevent unlawful combinations of workmen, artificers, journeymen, and labourers, in Ireland, and for other purposes relating thereto, as makes illegal and void contracts, covenants, and agreements for obtaining an advance of wages, or for lessening or altering the hours or time of working, or for decreasing the quantity of work, or for controuling or affecting the conduct or management of any manufacture, trade, or business, and as prohibits the making or entering into or being concerned in the same, and as punishes persons for so doing, and as relates to the combinations therein mentioned, and as relates to endeavouring by gift, persuasion, or solicitation to prevent persons hiring themselves, and as relates to attending the meetings therein mentioned, or endeavouring to induce the attendance of others, and collecting, demanding, asking, or receiving money for the purposes therein mentioned, and as relates to persuading, enticing, soliciting, or endeavouring to induce others to enter into or be concerned in the combinations therein mentioned, and to paying money, making or entering into subscriptions or contributions, and to oaths and declarations, and to tickets, certificates, and tokens, and to contributions supporting and maintaining others, as therein mentioned, and as punishes persons for permitting assemblies in their houses or apartments as therein mentioned; also 47 G. 3. sess. 1. c. 43. intituled, An Act to declare that the provisions of an act, made in the parliament of Ireland, in the thirty-third year of King Henry the Eighth, relating to servants' wages, shall extend to all counties of cities and counties of towns in Ireland; also so much of 57 G. 3. c. 27. s. 3. [Dig. tit. COALS, pl. 44.] intituled, An Act to extend the provisions of an act of the twelfth year of His late Majesty King George the First, and an act of the twenty-second year of His late Majesty King George the Second, against payment of labourers in goods or by truck, and to secure their payment in the lawful money of this realm, to labourers employed in the collieries, or in the working and getting of coal, in the United Kingdom of G. B. and Ireland, and for extending the provisions of the said acts to Scotland and Ireland, as did extend to Scotland and Ireland any of the provisions of the acts intended to be repealed by the said recited act of the last session of parliament; and all enactments in any other statutes or acts which, immediately before the passing of 5 G. 4. c. 95., were in force throughout or in any part of the U. K. of G. B. and Ire. relative to combinations to obtain an advance of wages, or to lessen or alter the hours or duration of the time of working, or to decrease the quantity of work, or to regulate or controul the mode of carrying on any manufacture, trade, or business, or the management thereof, or relative to combinations to lower the rate of wages, or to increase or alter the hours or duration of the time of working, or to increase the quantity of work, or to regulate or controul the mode of carrying on any manufacture, trade, or business, or the management thereof, or relative to fixing the amount of the wages of labour, or relative to the obliging workmen not hired to enter into work, and every enactment enforcing or extending the application of any of the said several enactments so repealed, shall, notwithstanding the repeal of the said recited act of the last session of parliament, still be and remain repealed, except only so far as the same or any of them may have repealed any former act or enactment, 6 G. 4. c. 129. s. 2.

5. From and after the passing of this act [6th July 1825.] if any person shall by violence to the person or property, or by threats or intimidation, or by molesting or in any way obstructing another, force or endeavour to force any journeyman, manufacturer, workman, or other person hired or employed in any manufacture, trade, or business, to depart from his hiring, employment, or work, or to return his work before the same shall be finished, or prevent or endeavour to prevent any journeyman, manufacturer, workman, or other person not being hired or employed, from hiring himself to, or from accepting work or employment from any person or persons; or if any person shall use or employ violence to the person or property of another, or threats or intimidation, or shall molest or in any way obstruct another for the purpose of forcing or inducing such person to belong to any club or association, or to contribute to any common fund, or to pay any fine or penalty, or on account of his not belonging to any particular club or association, or not having contributed or having refused to contribute to any common fund, or to pay any fine or penalty, or on account of his not having complied or of his refusing to comply with any rules, orders, resolutions, or regulations made to obtain an advance or to reduce the rate of wages, or to lessen or alter the hours of working, or to decrease or alter the quantity of work, or to regulate the mode of carrying on any manufacture, trade, or business, or the management thereof; or if any person shall by violence to the person or property of another, or by threats or intimidation, or by molesting or in any way obstructing another, force or endeavour to force any manufacturer or person carrying on any trade or business, to make any alteration in his mode of regulating, managing, conducting, or carrying on such manufacture, trade, or business, or to limit the number of his apprentices, or the number or description of his journeymen, workmen, or servants; every person so offending, or aiding, abetting, or assisting therein, being convicted thereof in manner herein-after mentioned, shall be imprisoned only, or shall and may be imprisoned and kept to hard labour, for any time not exceeding three calendar months, 6 G. 4. c. 129. s. 3.

6. Provided, that this act shall not extend to subject any persons to punishment, who shall meet together for the sole purpose of consulting upon and determining the rate of wages or prices, which the persons present at such meeting, or any of them, shall require or demand for his or their work, or the hours or time for which he or they shall work in any manufacture, trade, or business, or who shall enter into any agreement, verbal or written, among themselves, for the purpose of fixing the rate of wages or prices which the parties entering into such agreement, or any of them, shall require or demand for his or their work, or the hours of time for which he or they will work, in any manufacture, trade, or business; and that persons so meeting for the purposes aforesaid, or entering into any such agreement as aforesaid, shall not be liable to any prosecution or penalty for so doing; any law or statute to the contrary notwithstanding, 6 G. 4. c. 129. s. 4.

7. Provided that this act shall not extend to subject any persons to punishment who shall meet together for the sole purpose of consulting upon and determining the rate of wages or prices which the persons present at such meeting, or any of them, shall pay to his or their journeymen, workmen, or servants, for their work, or the hours or time of working in any manufacture, trade, or business, or who shall enter into any agreement, verbal or written, among themselves, for the purpose of fixing the rate of wages or prices, which the parties entering into such agreement, or any of them, shall pay to his or their journeymen, workmen, or servants, for their work, or the hours or time of working in any manufacture, trade, or business; and that persons so meeting for the purposes aforesaid, or entering into any such agreement as aforesaid, shall not be liable to any prosecution or penalty for so doing, any law or statute to the contrary notwithstanding, 6 G. 4. c. 129. s. 5.

8. Every person who shall or may offend against this act, shall and may, equally with all other persons, be called upon and compelled to give his or her testimony and evidence as a witness on behalf of H. M., or of the prosecutor or informer, upon any information to be made or exhibited under this act, against any other person not being such witness as aforesaid; and that in all such cases every person having given his or her testimony or evidence as aforesaid, shall be and is hereby indemnified of, from, and against any information to be laid, or prosecution to be commenced against him or her, for having offended in the matter wherein or relative to which he, she, or they shall have given testimony or evidence as aforesaid, 6 G. 4. c. 129. s. 6.

9. And for the more effectually enforcing and carrying into execution the provisions of this act; be it further enacted, that on complaint and information on oath before any one or more justice or justices of the peace, of any offence having been committed against this act, within his or their respective jurisdictions, and within six calendar months before such complaint or information shall be made, such justice or justices are hereby authorized and required to summon the person or persons charged with being an offender or offenders against this act, to appear before any two such justices, at a certain time or place to be specified; and if any person or persons so summoned shall not appear according to such summons, then such justices (proof on oath having been first made before them of the due service of such summons upon such person or persons, by delivering the same to him or them personally, or leaving the same at his or their usual place of abode, provided the same shall be so left twenty-four hours at the least before the time which shall be appointed to attend the said justices upon such summons), shall make and issue their warrant or warrants for apprehending the person or persons so summoned, and not appearing as aforesaid, and bringing him or them before such justices; or it shall be lawful for such justices, if they shall think fit, without issuing any previous summons, and instead of issuing the same, upon such complaint and information as aforesaid, to make and issue their warrant or warrants for apprehending the person or persons by such information charged to have offended against this act, and bringing him or them before such justices; and upon the person or persons complained against appearing upon such summons, or being brought by virtue of such warrant or warrants before such justices, or upon proof on oath of such person or persons absconding, so that such warrant or warrants cannot be executed, then such justices shall and they are hereby authorized and required forthwith to make inquiry touching the matters complained of, and to examine into the same by the oath of any one or more credible person or persons as shall be requisite, and to hear and determine the matter of every such complaint; and upon confession by the party, or proof by one credible witness upon oath, to convict or acquit the party or parties against whom complaint shall have been made as aforesaid, 6 G. 4. c. 129. s. 7.

10. It shall be lawful for the justices of the peace before whom any such complaint and information shall be made as aforesaid, and they are hereby authorized and required, at the request in writing of any of the parties, to issue his or their summons to any witness to appear and give evidence before such justices, at the time and place appointed for hearing and determining such complaint, and which time and place shall be specified in such summons; and if any person so summoned to appear as a witness shall not appear before such justices, at the time and place specified in such summons, or offer some reasonable excuse for the default, or appearing according to such summons, shall not submit to be examined as a witness, and give his evidence before such justices, touching the matter of such complaint, then and in every such case it shall be lawful for such justices, and they are hereby authorized (proof on oath, in the case of any person not appearing according to such summons, having been first made before such justices of the peace, of the due service of such summons on every such person, by delivering the same to him or her, or by leaving the same twenty-four hours before the time appointed for such person to appear before such justices, at the usual place of abode of such person), by warrant under the hands of such justices, to commit such person so making default in appearing, or appearing and refusing to give evidence, to some prison within the jurisdiction of such justices, there to remain without bail or mainprize, for three calendar months, or until such person shall submit to be examined and give evidence before such justices as aforesaid, 6 G. 4. c. 129. s. 8.

11. The justices before whom any person shall be convicted of any offence against this act, or by whom any person shall be committed to prison for not appearing as a witness, or not submitting to be examined, shall cause all such convictions, and the warrants or orders for such commitments to be drawn up in the form or to the effect set forth in the schedule to this act annexed, 6 G. 4. c. 129. s. 9.

12. The justices before whom any such conviction shall be had, shall cause the same (drawn up in the form or to the effect herein-before directed) to be fairly written on parchment, and transmitted to the next general sessions or general quarter sessions of the peace to be holden for the county, riding, division, city, liberty, town, or place wherein such conviction was had, to be filed amongst the records of the said general sessions or general quarter sessions; and in case any person shall appeal, in manner herein-after mentioned, from the judgment of the said justices, to the said general or general quarter sessions, the justices in such sessions are hereby required, upon receiving such conviction, to proceed to the hearing and determination of the matter of the said appeal, according to the directions of this act, 6 G. 4. c. 129. s. 10.

13. Provided, that in Scotland all prosecutions under this act may be insisted on at the instance of the public prosecutor, and may be judged of, either by two justices of the peace, or by the sheriff of the county, within which the offence may have been committed, 6 G. 4. c. 129. s. 11.

14. Provided, that if any person convicted of any offence punishable by this act, shall think himself aggrieved by the judgment of such justices, before whom he or she shall have been convicted, such person shall have liberty to appeal from every such conviction to the next court of general or general quarter sessions of the peace which shall be held for the county, riding, division, city, liberty, town, or place wherein such offence was committed; and that the execution of every judgment so appealed from shall be suspended, in case the person so convicted shall immediately enter into recognizances before such justices (which they are hereby authorized and required to take) himself in the penal sum of ten pounds, with two sufficient sureties in the penal sum of ten pounds of lawful money of G. B., upon condition to prosecute such appeal with effect, and to be forthcoming to abide the judgment and determination of the said next sessions, and to pay such costs as the said court shall award on such occasion; and the justices in the said next court of general or general quarter sessions are hereby authorized and required to hear and determine the matter of the said appeal, and to award such costs as to them shall appear just and reasonable, to be paid by either party, which decision shall be final; and if upon hearing the said appeal, the judgment of the justices before whom the appellant shall have been convicted shall be affirmed, such appellant shall immediately be committed by the said court to the common gaol or house of correction, without bail or mainprize, according to such conviction, and for the space of time therein mentioned, 6 G. 4. c. 129. s. 12.

15. Provided, that no justice of the peace, being also a master in the particular trade or manufacture, in or concerning which any offence is charged to have been committed under this act, shall act as such justice under this act, 6 G. 4. c. 129. s. 13.

Schedule to which 6 G. 4. c. 129. refers.—[See s. 9. pl. 11.]

Form of Conviction and Commitment.

Be it remembered, that on the _____ day of _____ in the _____ year of H. M.'s reign, and in the year of our Lord _____ A. B. is convicted before us [naming the justices] two of H. M.'s justices of the peace for the county [or riding, division, city, liberty, town, or place] of _____ of having [stating the offence] contrary to the act made in the sixth year of the reign of King George the Fourth, intituled, An Act [here set forth the title of this act]; and we the said justices do hereby order and adjudge the said A. B. for the said offence to be committed to and confined in the common gaol for the said county [or riding, division, city, liberty, town, or place], for the space of _____ or to be committed to the house of correction at _____ within the said county [or riding, division, city, liberty, town, or place], there to be kept to hard labour for the space of _____. Given under our hands, the day and year above written.

Form of Commitment of a Person summoned as a Witness.

Whereas C. D. hath been duly summoned to appear and give evidence before us [naming the justices who issued the summons] two of H. M.'s justices of the peace for the county [or riding, division, city, liberty, town, or place] of _____ on this _____ day of _____ at _____ being the time and place appointed for hearing and determining the complaint made by [the informer or prosecutor] before us, against A. B. of having [stating the offence as laid in the information] contrary to the act made in the sixth year of the reign of King George the Fourth, intituled, An Act [here insert the title of this act]; and whereas the said C. D. hath not appeared before us, at the time and place aforesaid, specified for that purpose, or offered any reasonable excuse for his [or her] default, [or and whereas the said C. D. having appeared before us, at the time and place aforesaid, specified for that purpose, hath not submitted to be examined as a witness and give his [or her] evidence before us touching the matter of the said complaint, but hath refused so to do]; therefore we, the said justices, do hereby in pursuance of the said statute commit the said C. D. to the [describing the prison], there to remain without bail or mainprize, for his [or her] contempt aforesaid, for three calendar months, or until he [or she] shall submit himself [or herself] to be examined, and give his [or her] evidence before us, touching the matter of the said complaint, or shall otherwise be discharged by due course of law: and you the [constable or other peace officer or officers to whom the warrant is directed] are hereby authorized and required to take into your custody the body of the said C. D. and him [or her] safely to convey to the said prison, and him [or her] there to deliver to the gaoler or keeper thereof, who is hereby authorized and required to receive into his custody the body of the said C. D. and him [or her] safely to detain and keep, pursuant to this commitment. Given under our hands, this _____ day of _____ in the year of our Lord _____.

[This commitment to be directed to the proper peace officer, and the gaoler or keeper of the prison.]

CONSPIRACY.

1. The bill of conspiracies of victuallers and craftsmen, 2 & 3 Ed. 6. c. 15. [Stat. Dig. tit. CONSPIRACY, pl. 6.] REP. 5 G. 4. c. 95. s. 1. See COMBINATIONS.

2. To repeal 39 G. 3. c. 81., and to substitute other provisions in lieu thereof, 39 & 40 G. 3. c. 106. AMD. 41 G. 3. (U. K.) c. 38. [Stat. Dig. this title, pl. 10.] REP., except so far as it repeals any other act, 5 G. 4. c. 96. s. 1. See LABOURERS.

CONSULS.

1. To regulate the payment of salaries and allowances to British consuls at foreign ports, and the disbursements at such ports for certain publick purposes, 6 G. 4. c. 87. [To commence and take effect, except where otherwise directed, from and after 1st Jan. 1826, s. 22.]

2. Whereas the provision which hath been hitherto made for the maintenance and support of the consuls general and consuls appointed by H. M. to reside within the dominions of sovereigns and foreign states in amity with H. M., out of the money applicable under the third class of H. M.'s civil list, as specified in the schedule annexed to 1 G. 4. c. 1. [Stat. Dig. tit. KING, &c. pl. 141.], intituled, An Act for the support of H. M.'s household, and for the honour and dignity of the crown of the U. K. of G. B. and Ire., is inadequate to the maintenance and support of such consuls general and consuls; and it is expedient to make further and due provision for that purpose; be it therefore enacted, That it shall and may be lawful for H. M., by any order or orders to be issued by and with the advice of his privy council, to grant to all or any of the consuls general or consuls appointed by H. M. to reside within any of the dominions of any sovereign or foreign state or power in amity with H. M., such reasonable salaries as to H. M. shall seem meet, and by and with such advice as aforesaid, from time to time to alter, increase, or diminish any such salaries or salary as occasion may require, 6 G. 4. c. 87. s. 1.

3. Such salaries shall be issued and paid to such consuls general and consuls without fee or deduction: provided, that all such salaries as aforesaid be granted for and during H. M.'s pleasure, and not otherwise, and be held and enjoyed by such consuls general and consuls as aforesaid, so long only as they shall be actually resident at the places at which they may be so appointed to reside, and discharging the duties of such their offices: provided nevertheless, that in case H. M. shall, by any order to be for that purpose issued through one of his principal secretaries of state, grant to any such consul general or consul as aforesaid leave of absence from the place to which he may be so appointed as aforesaid, such consul general or consul shall be entitled to receive the whole, or such part (as to H. M. shall seem meet), of the salary accruing due and payable during and in respect of such period of absence as aforesaid, 6 G. 4. c. 87. s. 2.

4. The salaries so to be granted by H. M. as aforesaid shall be taken and received by the said consuls general and consuls in lieu of and as a compensation for all salaries heretofore granted to them or any of them, and all fees of office and gratuities heretofore demanded, received, or taken by them of or from the masters or commanders of British ships and vessels, or of or from any other persons or person, for or in respect of any duties or services by such consuls general or consuls done, performed, or rendered, for or to any such masters or commanders, or other person or persons as aforesaid; and that no such consuls general or consuls as aforesaid shall, from and after the 1st Jan. 1826, be entitled for or by reason or on account of any act, matter, or thing by him done or performed in the execution of such his office, or for or on account of any service by him rendered to any masters or commanders of British ships or vessels, or to any other person or persons, in the execution of such his office, to ask, demand, have, receive, or take any fees, recompence, gratuity, compensation, or reward, or any sum or sums of money, save as herein-after is excepted, 6 G. 4. c. 87. s. 3.

5. Provided, that it shall and may be lawful for all consuls general and consuls appointed by H. M., and resident within the dominions of any sovereign, or any foreign state or power in amity with H. M., to accept, take, and receive the several fees particularly mentioned in the tables to this present act annexed, marked with the letters (A.) and (B.), for and in respect or on account of the several matters and things, and official acts and deeds particularly mentioned in the said schedules; and that it shall and may be lawful for H. M., by any order or orders to be by him made, by and with the advice of his privy council, from time to time, as occasion may require, to increase or diminish, or wholly to abolish, all or any of the fees aforesaid, and to establish and authorize the payment of any greater or smaller or new or additional fees or fee, for or in respect of the several matters and things mentioned in the said schedules or any of them, or for or in respect of any other matters or things to be by any such consul general or consul done or performed in the execution of such his office, 6 G. 4. c. 87. s. 4.

6. In case any consul general or consul, appointed by H. M. as aforesaid, shall, by himself or deputy, or by any person authorized thereto in his behalf, ask, demand, receive, take, or accept, for or by reason or on account of any matter or thing by him done or performed in the execution of such his office, or for or on account or under pretence or by reason of any service or duty by him rendered, done, or performed in such his office for any person whomsoever, any other or greater fee, reward, gratuity, gift, or remuneration than is mentioned and specified in the said schedule, or than shall be sanctioned and specified in or by any such order or orders in council as aforesaid, the person so offending shall forfeit and become liable to pay to H. M. any sum of sterling British money, not exceeding the amount of the salary of such person for one year, nor less than the twelfth part of such annual salary, at the discretion of the court in which such penalty may be recovered, and shall moreover upon a second conviction for any such offence forfeit such his office, and for ever after become incapable of serving H. M. in the same or the like capacity, 6 G. 4. c. 87. s. 5.

7. A printed copy of the tables of fees allowed by this act, or which may or shall be sanctioned or allowed by any order to be made in pursuance of this act, by H. M. in council, shall be exhibited in a conspicuous manner, for the inspection of all persons, in the custom-house in the port of London, and in all other custom-houses in the several ports and harbours of the U. K. of G. B. and Ire.; and that printed copies thereof shall, by the collector or other chief officer of customs in all such ports and harbours as aforesaid, be delivered gratuitously, and without fee or reward, to every master or commander of any ship and vessel clearing out of any such port or harbour, and demanding a copy thereof, 6 G. 4. c. 87. s. 6.

8. A copy of the said schedule or table of fees to this present act annexed, or which may be established and authorized by any such order or orders in council as aforesaid, shall be hung up and exhibited in a conspicuous place in the public offices of all consuls general or consuls appointed by H. M., in the foreign ports or places to which they may be so appointed, for the inspection of all persons interested therein; and any consul general or consul omitting or neglecting to exhibit any such copy of the said schedules in such his public office, or refusing to permit the same to be inspected by any person interested therein, shall for every such offence forfeit and pay a sum of British sterling money not exceeding one half the amount of the salary of such person for one year, nor less than the twelfth part of such annual salary, at the discretion of the court in which such penalty may be recovered, 6 G. 4. c. 87. s. 7.

9. And whereas it is expedient that H. M. should be enabled to grant to the said consuls general and consuls, appointed as aforesaid, allowances in the nature of superannuation or reward for meritorious public services, be it further enacted, That all the clauses, provisions, rules, regulations, restrictions, conditions, and forfeitures contained and declared in 50 G. 3. c. 117. [Stat. Dig. SERVICES PUBLIC. pl. 1, 2. 4—16., KING, & C. pl. 72. 85, 84.] intituled, An Act to direct that accounts of increase and diminution of public salaries, pensions, and allowances should be annually laid before parliament, and to regulate and controul the granting and paying of such salaries, pensions, and allowances; and in 3 G. 4. c. 113. intituled, An Act to amend an act passed in the fiftieth year of His late Majesty, for directing that accounts of increase and diminution of public salaries, pensions, and allowances shall be annually laid before parliament, and for regulating and controlling the granting and paying of such salaries, pensions, and allowances; and in 5 G. 4. c. 104. [see post, SERVICES, PUBLIC] intituled, An Act to amend an act of the third year of His present Majesty, respecting superannuation allowances, shall be and the same are hereby extended to the said consuls general and consuls, so far as such clauses, provisos, rules, regulations, restrictions, conditions, penalties, and forfeitures, can be applied to the cases of such several persons respectively, as fully and effectually to all intents and purposes as if the same were repeated and re-enacted in this present act, 6 G. 4. c. 87. s. 8.

10. Provided, that if it shall at any time happen that by reason of any war which may hereafter arise between H. M. and any sovereign, or foreign state or power, within the dominions of whom any such consul general or consul as aforesaid shall be appointed to reside, he shall be prevented from residing, and shall in fact cease to reside at the place to which he may be so appointed, it shall and may be lawful for H. M., by any order to be issued by and with the advice of his privy council, to grant to any such consul general or consul, who may have served H. M. in that capacity for any period not less than three years nor more than ten years next preceding the commencement of any such war as aforesaid, a special allowance not exceeding the proportion of their respective salaries to which such consuls general and consuls would be entitled under the provisions of the 3 G. 4. c. 113., in case the period of their respective service had exceeded ten years and had not exceeded fifteen years: provided, that in case any such consul general or consul shall have served in such his office for the space of ten years and more, it shall and may be lawful for H. M., by any such order in council as aforesaid, to grant to him or them such a proportion of his or their respective salaries, which by the said recited act is authorized to be granted as a superannuation allowance, according to the several periods of service exceeding ten years, in the 3 G. 4. c. 113., 6 G. 4. c. 87. s. 9.

11. And whereas churches and chapels for the performance of divine service, according to the rites and ceremonies of the united church of Eng. and Ire., or of the church of Scot., have been erected, and proper grounds have been appropriated and set apart for the interment of the dead, in divers foreign ports and places, and chaplains have been appointed for the performance of divine service in the said churches and chapels, and are now resident in such foreign ports and places; and it is expedient to afford encouragement for the support of the churches and chapels so erected as aforesaid, and to promote the erection of other churches and chapels in foreign ports and places to which H. M.'s subjects may resort, and wherein they may be resident in considerable numbers, for the purposes of trade or otherwise; be it therefore enacted, That at any foreign port or place in which a chaplain is now, or shall at any future time be, resident and regularly employed in the celebration of divine service, according to the rites and ceremonies of the united church of Eng. and Ire., or of the church of Scot., and maintained by any voluntary subscription or rate, levied among or upon H. M.'s subjects resorting to or residing at such foreign port or place, or by any rate or duty levied under the authority of any of the acts herein-after repealed, it shall and may be lawful for any consul general or consul, in obedience to any order for that purpose issued by H. M. through one of his principal secretaries of state, to advance and pay from time to time, for and towards the maintenance and support of any such chaplain as aforesaid, or for and towards defraying the expences incident to the due celebration of divine service in any such churches and chapels, or for and towards the maintaining any such burial grounds as aforesaid, or for and towards the interment of any of H. M.'s subjects in any such burial grounds, any sum of money, not exceeding in any one year the amount which during that year may have been raised at such port or place for the said several purposes, or any of them, by any such voluntary subscription or rate as aforesaid; and every such consul general or consul shall, once in each year, transmit to one of H. M.'s principal secretaries of state an account, made up to 31st Dec. in the year next preceding, of all the sums of money actually raised at any such port or place as aforesaid, for the several purposes aforesaid, or any of them, by any such voluntary subscription or rate as aforesaid, and of all sums of money by him actually paid and expended for such purposes, or any of them, in obedience to any such orders as aforesaid, and which accounts shall by such principal secretary of state be transmitted to the lord high treasurer, or the commissioners of H. M.'s treasury of the U. K. of G. B. and Ire., for the time being, who shall give to any such consul general or consul as aforesaid credit for all sums of money not exceeding the amount aforesaid, by them disbursed and expended in pursuance of any such order as aforesaid, for the purposes before mentioned, or any of them, 6 G. 4. c. 87. s. 10.

12. In case any of H. M.'s subjects shall by voluntary subscriptions among themselves raise and contribute such a sum of money as shall be requisite for defraying one half part of the expence of erecting, purchasing, or hiring any church or chapel or building, to be appropriated for the celebration of divine service according to the rites and ceremonies of the united church of Eng. and Ire., or of the church of Scot., or for defraying one half part of the expence of erecting, purchasing, or hiring any building to be used as a hospital for the reception of H. M.'s subjects, or for defraying one half of the expence of purchasing or hiring any ground to be used as a place of interment for H. M.'s subjects at any foreign port or place wherein any consul general or consul appointed by H. M. shall be resident, then and in any such case it shall and may be lawful for such consul general or consul, in obedience to any order to be for that purpose issued by H. M. through one of his principal secretaries of state, to advance and pay, for and towards the purposes aforesaid, or any of them, any sum of money not exceeding in the whole in any one year the amount of the money raised in that year by any such voluntary contribution as aforesaid; and every such consul general or consul as aforesaid shall in like manner once in every year transmit to one of H. M.'s principal secretaries of state an account, made up to 31st Dec. in the year next preceding, of all the sums of money actually raised at any such port or place as aforesaid, for the several purposes aforesaid, or any of them, by any such voluntary subscription as aforesaid, and of all sums of money by him actually paid and expended for such purposes, or any of them, in obedience to any such orders as aforesaid, and which accounts shall by such principal secretary of state be transmitted to the treasury, for the time being, who shall give to such consuls general or consuls credit for all sums of money not exceeding the amount aforesaid, by him disbursed and expended in pursuance of any such order as aforesaid, for the purposes before mentioned, or any of them, 6 G. 4. c. 87. s. 11.

13. Provided, that no such order shall be issued as aforesaid through any of H. M.'s principal secretaries of state, authorizing the expenditure of money for the erection, purchase, or hiring of any such new church or chapel or hospital as aforesaid, or for the purchase or hiring of any such new burial ground as aforesaid, unless and until such consul general or consul shall first have transmitted to H. M., through one of H. M.'s principal secretaries of state, the plan of such intended church or chapel, hospital, or burial ground, with an estimate, upon the oath of some one or more competent person or persons, stating the probable expence of and incident to the erection, purchase, or hiring of any such church, chapel, hospital, or burying ground as aforesaid, and unless and until H. M. shall have signified, through one of his said principal secretaries of state, his approbation of the said plan and estimate: provided also, that no money shall actually be disbursed by any such consul general or consul as aforesaid, for any of the purposes aforesaid, unless and until the money to be raised by any such voluntary subscription as aforesaid be actually paid up and invested in some public or other sufficient security, in the joint names of such consul general or consuls and two trustees appointed for that purpose by the persons subscribing the same, or unless and until two or more of such subscribers shall enter into good and sufficient security to H. M., by bond or otherwise, that the amount of such subscriptions shall actually be paid for the purposes aforesaid, by a certain day to be specified in every such bond or security, and which bond or security shall be preserved in the office of such consul general or consul, and shall by him be cancelled and delivered back to the parties entering into the same, their heirs, executors, or administrators, when and so soon as the condition thereof shall be fully performed and satisfied, 6 G. 4. c. 87. s. 12.

14. Provided also, that the whole salary of any chaplain heretofore appointed or to be appointed to officiate in any such church or chapel in any foreign port or place in Europe, shall not exceed in the whole five hundred pounds by the year, or in any foreign port or place not in Europe, eight hundred pounds by the year: provided also, that all such chaplains shall be appointed to officiate as aforesaid by H. M., through one of his principal secretaries of state, and shall hold such their offices for and during H. M.'s pleasure, and no longer, 6 G. 4. c. 87. s. 15.

15. All consuls general and consuls appointed by H. M. to reside and being resident at any foreign port or place wherein any such church or chapel, or other place appropriated for the celebration of divine worship, or hospital, or any such burial ground as aforesaid, hath heretofore been or shall hereafter be erected, purchased, or hired, by the aid of any voluntary subscription or rates collected by or imposed upon H. M.'s subjects, or some person or persons for that purpose duly authorized by any writing under the hand and seal of any such consul general or consul, shall, once at the least in every year, and more frequently if occasion shall require, by public advertisement, or in such other manner as may be best adapted for insuring publicity, convene and summon a meeting of all H. M.'s subjects residing at such foreign port or place as aforesaid, to be holden at the public office of such consul general or consul, at some time, not more than fourteen days nor less than seven days next after the publication of any such summons; and it shall and may be lawful for all H. M.'s subjects residing or being at any such foreign port or place as aforesaid, at the time of any such meeting, and who shall have subscribed any sum of money not less than twenty pounds in the whole, nor less than three pounds by the year, for or towards the purposes before mentioned, or any of them, and have paid up the amount of such their subscriptions, to be present and vote at any such meetings; and such consuls general or consuls shall preside at all such meetings; and in the event of the absence of any such consuls general or consuls, the subscribers present at any such meeting shall, before proceeding to the despatch of business, nominate one of their number to preside at such meeting; and all questions proposed by the consul general, consul, or person so nominated as aforesaid to preside in his absence, to any such meeting, shall be decided by the votes of the majority in number of the persons attending and being present thereat; and in the event of the number of such votes being equally divided, the consul general, consul, or person so presiding in his absence, shall give a casting vote, 6 G. 4. c. 87. s. 14.

16. It shall and may be lawful for any such general meeting as aforesaid to make and establish, and from time to time, as occasion may require, to revoke, alter, and render such general rules, orders, and regulations, as may appear to them to be necessary for the due and proper use and management of such churches, chapels, hospitals, and burial grounds as aforesaid, or for the proper controul over and expenditure of the money raised by any such subscription as aforesaid, or otherwise in relation to the matters aforesaid, as may be necessary for carrying into execution the objects of this act, so far as relates to those matters, or any of them: provided, that no such rule, order, or regulation as aforesaid shall be of any force or effect, unless or until the same shall be sanctioned and approved by the consul general or consul for the time being, appointed by H. M. to reside and actually resident at such foreign port or place; and provided also, that the same shall, by such consul general or consul, be transmitted by the first convenient opportunity for H. M.'s approbation; and that it shall and may be lawful for H. M., by any order to be by him issued through one of his principal secretaries of state, either to confirm or disallow any such rules, orders, and regulations, either in the whole or in part, and to make such amendments and alterations in or additions to the same, or any of them, as to H. M. shall seem meet, or to suspend for any period of time the execution thereof, or any of them, or otherwise to direct or prevent the execution thereof, or any of them, in such manner as to H. M. shall seem meet; and all orders so to be issued by H. M., in relation to the matters aforesaid, through one of his principal secretaries of state, shall be recorded in the office of the said consul general or consul at the foreign port or place to which the same may refer, and shall be of full force, effect, and authority upon and over all H. M.'s subjects there resident, 6 G. 4. c. 87. s. 15.

17. And whereas it is expedient that the several acts of parliament herein-after mentioned should be repealed; be it therefore enacted, That 8 G. 1. c. 17., intituled, An Act for the more equal paying and better collecting certain small sums therein mentioned for relief of shipwrecked mariners and distressed persons (H. M.'s subjects) in the kingdom of Portugal, and for other pious and charitable purposes usually contributed to by the merchants trading to Portugal; and 9 G. 2. c. 25. intituled, An Act for the more equal paying and better collecting certain small sums for relief of shipwrecked mariners and distressed persons (H. M.'s subjects) in the port of Cadiz and port of St. Mary's in the kingdom of Spain, and for other uses usually contributed to by the merchants trading to the said ports; and 10 G. 2. c. 14. intituled, An Act for collecting at the port of Leghorn certain small sums of money to which the merchants trading there have usually contributed for the relief of shipwrecked mariners, captives, and other distressed persons (H. M.'s subjects) and for other charitable and public uses; and 54 G. 3. c. 126. for altering and extending the said recited act of the eighth year of the reign of King George the First, shall be and the same are hereby repealed, 6 G. 4. c. 87. s. 16. [See these acts, Stat. Dig. tit. WRECK, pl. 15, 16.]

18. Every sum of money which shall be and remain in the hands of any collector or treasurer or other person, arising from any duties leviable under the several acts hereby repealed, or any of them, and which shall not have been applied to the purposes or in manner directed by the said acts respectively, shall by such collector, treasurer, or other person be paid over to the consul general or consul at the port or place where the same shall have been received; and every such sum which shall be so paid to and received by any such consul general or consul, and all other arrears of money arising from any such duties which shall be in the hands of any such consul general or consul, shall be paid, applied, and disposed of in such manner, and to and for such public purposes, as shall be directed by any one of H. M.'s principal secretaries of state, 6 G. 4. c. 87. s. 17.

19. All consuls general and consuls shall be allowed and have credit in any accounts by them rendered, through one of H. M.'s principal secretaries of state, to the treasury for the time being, for all such sums of money as shall by any such consul general or consul be disbursed and expended towards the succour and relief of mariners shipwrecked and taken in war, or other distressed persons being subjects of H. M., and resorting to the port or place at which any such consul general or consul may be appointed to reside: provided, that such sums of money be so disbursed and expended in pursuance of and in conformity to any special or general rules and regulations to be for that purpose made and prescribed by H. M. in council, by any order or orders to be by him for that purpose issued, and that an account of the particulars of all such expenditure shall by the first convenient opportunity be transmitted by such consul general or consul for H. M.'s information, through one of his principal secretaries of state, 6 G. 4. c. 87. s. 18.

20. Within six weeks next after the commencement of each session of parliament there shall be laid before both houses of parliament copies of all orders which may have been made, since the commencement of the last preceding session of parliament, by H. M., with the advice of his privy council, in pursuance of this act, together with an account of all salaries which, since the commencement of such next preceding session of parliament, may have been granted by H. M. to any consuls general or consuls, by virtue or in pursuance of this act, together with an estimate specifying the total amount of the money to be required for the payment of the salaries of all such consuls general or consuls respectively, for one year from the 5th Jan. preceding the date of such estimate, and also for all contingent charges and expences connected with the public duties and establishments of such consuls general or consuls, after deducting the amount provided on account of the payment of such consuls general or consuls out of the money applicable under the third class of H. M.'s civil list, as specified in the schedule annexed to 1 G. 4. c. 1. before [s. 1. pl. 2.] recited, 6 G. 4. c. 87. s. 19.

21. And whereas it is expedient that every consul general or consul appointed by H. M. at any foreign port or place should in all cases have the power of administering an oath or affirmation whenever the same shall be required, and should also have power to do all such notarial acts as any notary public may do; be it therefore enacted, That from and after the passing of this act [5th July 1825.], it shall and may be lawful for any and every consul general or consul appointed by H. M. at any foreign port or place, whenever he shall be thereto required, and whenever he shall see necessary, to administer at such foreign port or place any oath, or take any affidavit or affirmation from any person whomsoever, and also to do and perform at such foreign port or place all and every notarial acts and act which any notary public could or might be required and is by law empowered to do within the U. K. of G. B. and Ire.; and every such oath, affidavit, or affirmation, and every such notarial act, administered, sworn, affirmed, had or done by or before such consul general or consul, shall be as good, valid, and effectual, and shall be of like force and effect, to all intents and purposes, as if any such oath, affidavit, or affirmation, or notarial act respectively, had been administered, sworn, affirmed, had or done, before any justice of the peace or notary public in any part of the U. K. or before any other legal or competent authority of the like nature, 6 G. 4. c. 87. s. 20.

22. All penalties incurred under or imposed by this act shall and may be sued for, prosecuted and recovered by any person who may sue for the same, by action of debt, bill, plaint, or information in any of H. M.'s courts of record at Westminster, in the name of H. M.'s attorney general, wherein no essoign, protection, privilege, wager of law, or more than one imparlance, shall be allowed, 6 G. 4. c. 87. s. 21.

CORPORATION.

1. To repeal so much of an act passed in the sixth year of His late Majesty King George the First, as relates to the restraining several extravagant and unwarrantable practices in the said act mentioned; and for conferring additional powers upon H. M. with respect to the granting of charters of incorporation to trading and other companies, 6 G. 4. c. 91.

2. Whereas by 6 G. 1. c. 18. intituled, An Act for better securing certain powers and privileges intended to be granted by H. M. by two charters for assurance of ships and merchandizes at sea, and for lending money upon bottomry, and for restraining several extravagant and unwarrantable practices therein mentioned, it was enacted [by s. 18, 19, 20, 21. Stat. Dig. tit. INSURANCE, pl. 46, 47, 48, 49.], as therein mentioned: and whereas it is expedient that so much of the said recited act as is above set forth should be repealed; and that the said several undertakings, attempts, practices, acts, matters, and things aforesaid, should be adjudged and dealt with in like manner as the same might have been adjudged and dealt with according to the common law, notwithstanding the said act: be it therefore enacted, That from and after the passing of this act [5th July 1825.], so much of the said recited act as is above set forth shall be and the same is hereby repealed: provided, that nothing herein contained shall extend or be construed to extend to affect any action or suit now depending in any court of law or equity; but that every such action or suit shall and may be proceeded in, prosecuted, defended, and determined, in the same manner as if this act had not been passed, 6 G. 4. c. 91. s. 1.

3. In any charter hereafter to be granted by H. M. for the incorporation of any company or body of persons, it shall and may be lawful, in and by such charter, to declare and provide, that the members of such corporation shall be individually liable, in their persons and property, for the debts, contracts, and engagements of such corporation, to such extent, and subject to such regulations and restrictions as H. M. may deem fit and proper, and as shall be declared and limited in and by such charter; and the members of such corporation shall thereby be rendered so liable accordingly, 6 G. 4. c. 91. s. 2.

COTTON MANUFACTURES.

COTTON MANUFACTURES.

1. For preventing and settling disputes which may arise between masters and weavers engaged in the cotton manufactures in Scot., and persons employed by such weavers and persons engaged in ornamenting cotton goods by the needle, 43 G. 3. c. 151. [Stat. Dig. this title, pl. 9.] REP. 5 G. 4. c. 96. s. 1. See post, tit. LABOURERS.

2. For settling disputes that may arise between masters and workmen engaged in the cotton manufactures in Eng., 39 & 40 G. 3. c. 90. AMD. 44 G. 3. c. 87. [Stat. Dig. this title, pl. 9.] REP. 5 G. 4. c. 96. s. 1.

3. To make further provisions for the regulation of cotton-mills and factories, and for the better preservation of the health of young persons employed therein, 6 G. 4. c. 63.

4. Whereas 42 G. 3. c. 73. was passed, intituled, An Act for the preservation of the health and morals of apprentices, and others, employed in cotton and other mills, and cotton and other factories: and 59 G. 3. c. 66. was passed, intituled, An Act to make further provisions for the regulation of cotton-mills and factories, and for the better preservation of the health of young persons employed therein [see both acts, Stat. Dig. tit. HEALTH, PUBLIC, pl. 11. et seq.]: and whereas it is expedient that some further provision should be made for the regulation of mills, manufactories, and buildings employed in the preparation and spinning of cotton-wool; be it therefore enacted, That from and after the 1st Aug. 1825, no person, being under the age of sixteen years, shall be employed in any description of works whatsoever, in spinning cotton-wool into yarn, or in the previous preparation of such wool, or in cleaning of any mill, manufactory, or building, or any mill work or machinery therein, for more than twelve hours in any one day, exclusive of the necessary time for meals, such twelve hours to be between the hours of five of the clock in the morning and eight of the clock in the evening, 6 G. 4. c. 63. s. 1.

5. No person under the age above-mentioned shall be worked in any cotton-mill or factory more than nine hours on a Saturday; such nine hours to be completed between the hours of five of the clock in the morning and half past four of the clock in the afternoon, 6 G. 4. c. 63. s. 2.

6. There shall be allowed to every such person, in the course of every day, not less than half an hour to breakfast, and not less than one hour for dinner; such half hour for breakfast to be between the hours of half past six and ten of the clock in the morning, and such hour for dinner to be between the hours of eleven and three of the clock in the afternoon; and during such before-mentioned half hour for breakfast, and such one hour for dinner, no such person shall be required to perform any labour or work of the nature or description above mentioned in any such mill, manufactory, or building, 6 G. 4. c. 63. s. 3.

7. Provided, that if at any time, in any such mill, manufactory, or buildings, time shall be lost in consequence of any accident happening to the steam-engine, water-wheels, or mill-gearing, then and in every such case, and so often as the case shall happen, it shall be lawful for the occupier of any such mill, manufactory, or building, to extend the before-mentioned time of daily labour, after the rate of one additional hour in any one day, until such lost time shall have been worked up during the six following days (Saturday excepted), but no longer, 6 G. 4. c. 63. s. 4.

8. Provided, that if at any time in any such mill, manufactory, or buildings as are situated upon streams of water, time shall be lost in consequence of the want of a due supply or of an excess of water, then and in every such case, and so often as the same shall happen, it shall be lawful for the occupier of any such mill, manufactory, or building, to extend the before-mentioned time of daily labour after the rate of half an hour per day, until such lost time shall have been made good, but no longer, 6 G. 4. c. 63. s. 5.

9. The ceilings and interior walls of every such mill, manufactory, or building, shall be washed with quick lime and water once in every year, 6 G. 4. c. 63. s. 6.

10. In a conspicuous part of every such mill, manufactory, or building, a copy of this act, or a full and true abstract of the regulations provided hereby, shall be hung up and affixed and signed by the proprietors, manager, or overseer of such mill, manufactory, or building; and such copy or abstract shall be kept and renewed, so that the same shall be at all times legible, 6 G. 4. c. 63. s. 7.

11. Every occupier or foreman of any such cotton-mill, manufactory, or building, who shall knowingly act contrary to or offend against any of the provisions of this act, or any of the provisions of the above recited acts, shall for every such offence forfeit and pay any sum not exceeding twenty pounds, nor less than ten; at the discretion of the justices before whom such offender shall be convicted; one half whereof shall be paid to the informer, and the other half to the overseers of the poor in Eng., to the churchwardens in Ire., and to the ministers and elders in Scot., of the parish or place where such offence shall be committed, to be by them applied in aid of the poor rate in Eng., and for the benefit of the poor in Ire. and Scot. of such parish or place: provided, that no sum exceeding one hundred pounds in the whole shall be levied for any number of offences under this act committed in the same day in any one mill or establishment; and that all informations for offences against the said recited acts or this act shall be laid within two calendar months subsequently to the offence being committed, and not afterwards; provided also, that no person shall be prosecuted for more than one offence committed on the same day in any one mill or establishment, without the sanction and authority of the justices at quarter sessions assembled; and that all penalties inflicted by this act shall be levied and recovered in manner directed by the said [42 G. 3. c. 73.] first recited act, 6 G. 4. c. 63. s. 8.

12. Provided, that every proprietor, or occupier of any mill, manufactory, or building herein-before described, wherein children under the age above-mentioned, that is to say, sixteen years of age, are or shall be employed in spinning cotton-wool into yarn, or in the previous preparation thereof, shall provide or cause to be provided a book or books, to be kept by himself or herself, or by some person appointed by him or her, for the entry of the name of every child, previous to his or her being employed in any such mill, manufactory, or building for the purpose aforesaid, whom any such proprietor or occupier may consider under the age of nine years, together with the names of the parents or guardians of any such child; and that the signature of such parents or guardians, or one of them, when so entered in the said book or books, specifying the date of such entry, and that the said child or children is or are of, or above, the age of nine years, shall in all such cases exempt such proprietor or occupier of such mill, manufactory, or building from any prosecution under the provisions of this act, in so far as relates to the penalties imposed on persons employing children under the aforesaid age of nine years, for any of the purposes aforesaid, 6 G. 4. c. 63. s. 9.

13. Provided, that no justice of the peace, being also a proprietor or master of any cotton-mill or factory, or the father or son of any such proprietor or master, shall act as such justice under this act, 6 G. 4. c. 63. s. 10.

14. It shall be lawful for any one or more justices of the peace, before whom any such complaint and information shall be made as aforesaid, and he and they are hereby authorized and required, at the request in writing of any of the parties, to issue his or their summons to any witness to appear and give evidence before any two justices at the time and place appointed for hearing and determining such complaint, and which time and place shall be specified in such summons; or offer some reasonable excuse for the default, or appearing according to such summons, shall not submit to be examined as a witness, and give his or her evidence before such justices, touching the matter of such complaint, then and in every such case it shall be lawful for such justices, and they are hereby authorized (proof on oath, which oath either of such justices are hereby empowered to administer, in the case of any person not appearing according to such summons, having been first made before such justices of the due service of such summons on every such person, by delivering the same to him or her, or by leaving the same forty-eight hours before the time appointed for such person to appear before such justices, at the usual place of abode of such person) by warrant under the hands of such justices, in the form and to the effect of the form in the schedule to this act annexed, to commit such person so making default in appearing, or appearing and refusing to give evidence, to some prison within the jurisdiction of such justices, there to remain without bail or mainprize, for any time not exceeding two calendar months, or until such person shall submit himself or herself to be examined, and give his or her evidence before such justices as aforesaid: provided, that in case such complaint shall be heard and determined before such offender shall submit to be examined and give evidence as aforesaid, then and in every such case he, she, or they shall be imprisoned the full term of such commitment, 6 G. 4. c. 63. s. 11.

15. The justices before whom any person shall be convicted of any offence against this act, or by whom any person shall be committed to prison for not appearing as a witness, or not submitting to be examined, shall cause all such convictions, and the warrants or orders for such commitments, to be drawn up in the form or to the effect set forth in the schedule to this act annexed, 6 G. 4. c. 63. s. 12.

16. No appeal shall be allowed against any conviction under this act, 6 G. 4. c. 63. s. 13.

17. If any action shall be brought against any person, for any thing done or committed under or by virtue or in the execution of this act, such person may plead the general issue, and give this act and the special matter in evidence; and if the plaintiff shall become nonsuited or suffer discontinuance, or forbear further prosecution, or if judgment shall be given for the defendant, such defendant shall recover his full costs, for which he shall have like remedy as in cases where costs by law are given to defendants, 6 G. 4. c. 63. s. 14.

18. All and every the powers, provisions, exemptions, penalties, forfeitures, payments, remedies, matters, and things respectively contained in the said herein-before recited acts (save and except such parts thereof as are expressly varied, altered, or otherwise provided for by this act), shall respectively be as good, valid, and effectual for carrying this act into execution, as if the same had respectively been repeated and re-enacted in the body of this act, 6 G. 4. c. 63. s. 15.

Schedule to which 6 G. 4. c. 63. refers. [See s. 12. pl. 15.]

Form of a Commitment of a Person summoned as a Witness.
[See s. 11. pl. 14.]

Whereas C. D. hath been duly summoned to appear and give evidence before us [naming the justices who issued the summons], two of H. M.'s justices of the peace for the county [or riding, division, city, liberty, town, or place] of _____ on this _____ day of _____ at _____ being the time and place appointed for hearing and determining the complaint made on the oath of [the informer or prosecutor] before us against A. B. of having [stating the offence as laid in the information], contrary to the statute made in the sixth year of the reign of His present Majesty, intituled [here insert the title of this act]: and whereas the said C. D. hath not appeared before us, at the time and place aforesaid specified for that purpose, or offered any reasonable excuse for his default [or and whereas the said C. D. having appeared before us, at the time and place aforesaid specified for that purpose, hath not submitted to be examined as a witness and give his evidence before us, touching the matter of the said complaint, but hath refused so to do] therefore we, the said justices, do hereby, in pursuance of the statute, commit the said C. D. to the [describing the prison], there to remain without bail or mainprize for his contempt aforesaid, until he shall submit himself to be examined and give his evidence before us touching the matter of the said complaint, or shall otherwise be discharged by due course of law; and you the [constable or other peace-officer or officers to whom the warrant is directed], are hereby authorized and required to take into your custody the body of the said C. D. and him safely to convey to the said prison, and him there to deliver to the gaoler or keeper thereof, who is hereby authorized and required to receive into his custody the body of the said C. D., and him safely to detain and keep, pursuant to this commitment. Given under our hands, this _____ day of _____ in the year of our Lord _____.

COURTS (CHANCERY).

1. To amend 41 G. 3. (U. K.) c. 90. [ss. 5, 6. Stat. Dig. tit. COURTS (CHANCERY), pl. 72.] for the better administration of justice in G. B. and Ire., 5 G. 4. c. 111.

2. Whereas by 41 G. 3. (U. K.) c. 90. s. 6. it is enacted, that in all cases where in any suit between party and party any decree shall be pronounced, or any order made for payment or for accounting for money by the high court of chancery in that part of the U. K. called Ire., the lord chancellor, lord keeper, or lords commissioners for the custody of the great seal of Ire. for the time being respectively, shall, upon application made to him or them respectively, cause a copy of such order or decree to be exemplified and certified to the court of chancery in that part of the U. K. called Eng., under the great seal of Ire.; and the lord chancellor, lord keeper, or lords commissioners for the custody of the great seal of Eng., shall forthwith cause such order or decree, when it shall be prescribed to them respectively, so exemplified, to be enrolled in the rolls of the high court of chancery in Eng., and shall cause process of attachment and commitment to issue against the person of the party against whom such order or decree shall have been made respectively, in order to enforce obedience to and performance of the same, as fully and effectually to all intents and purposes as if such order or decree had been originally pronounced in the said court of chancery in Eng.; and it shall and may be lawful to and for the lord chancellor, lord keeper, or lords commissioners of the great seal of Eng. for the time being, from time to time to make orders upon petition, as the occasion may require, for payment of money levied under such process as aforesaid into the bank of Eng., with the privity of the accountant-general of the said court, to the credit and for the benefit of the party who shall have obtained such order or decree; and the governor and company of the bank of

Eng. are by the said act authorized and required to receive and hold all such monies, subject to the orders of the said court of chancery; provided, that no such monies shall be charged with or subject to poundage when the same shall be paid out by order of the said court: and whereas similar provisions are contained in the said act [viz. s. 5. Stat. Dig. this title, pl. 72.] respecting the execution in Ire. of decrees and orders made by the high court of chancery in Eng., not only in any suit between party and party, but also in any matter or proceeding by petition in cases of minors, bankrupts, idiots, and lunatics; and that it is expedient that the provisions of the said act should be extended to orders in any matter or proceeding in Ire. by petition in cases of minors, bankrupts, idiots, or lunatics; it is therefore enacted, That after the passing of this act [24th June 1824.], on any order for payment or for accounting for money pronounced by the high court of chancery, or by the lord chancellor, lord keeper, or lords commissioners for custody of the great seal, or master of the rolls in Ire., in any matter or proceeding by petition in cases of minors, bankrupts, idiots, or lunatics, it shall be lawful for the party obtaining the same to take such proceeding to enforce obedience to and performance of the same in Eng., as in and by the said act is enacted of and concerning decrees and orders pronounced by the said court of chancery in Ire., in any suit pending between party and party; and all such enactments, advantages and provisions, as are by the said act enacted and provided touching and respecting decrees of the court of chancery in Ire., in any suit between party and party, shall be and the same are hereby enacted and extended to all orders made by the said court of chancery, or the lord chancellor, lord keeper, or lords commissioners of the great seal, or master of the rolls in Ire., for payment or for accounting for money in any matter or proceeding by petition in cases of minors, bankrupts, idiots, or lunatics, to all intents and purposes, as if such orders in cases of minors, bankrupts, idiots, or lunatics, had been particularly stated and mentioned in the said act, 5 G. 4. c. 111.

3. To render valid certain decrees and orders at the rolls court, 6 G. 4. c. 93.

4. Whereas by divers letters patent under the great seal of G. B., made and issued during the reign of His late Majesty King George the Third, and also since his decease, certain of the justices of H. M.'s courts of K. B. and C. P., and of the barons of H. M.'s court of exchequer, and others associated with them, have been assigned, and power has been given to a certain number of them, in the absence of the lord chancellor or lord keeper for the time being of that part of the U. K. of G. B. and Ire. called G. B., to hear and examine all matters, causes, and petitions whatsoever depending in the king's chancery, between H. M.'s liege subjects or others whomsoever, and the same finally to determine, and to cause due execution to be done thereupon: and whereas such commissions were founded upon ancient and continued usage: and whereas divers of the justices and others assigned by the said commissions to hear and determine the matters, causes, and petitions aforesaid, have, in conformity with the practices and usages of their predecessors in similar commissions, upon various occasions sat at the rolls court during the illness or absence of the master of the rolls for the time being, and heard and examined and determined divers matters, causes, and petitions depending in the king's said chancery, and set down to be heard at the said rolls court: and whereas it hath been doubted whether such justices and others had power under such commissions as aforesaid to hear, examine and determine any of the matters, causes, and petitions aforesaid; but it is expedient that all acts done in the supposed exercise of the powers aforesaid should be confirmed: and whereas the name of the late chief baron Richards, was included in the several commissions which issued as aforesaid whilst he was a puisne baron of the court of exchequer, but when he was appointed chief baron of that court, his name was omitted in all subsequent commissions, according to ancient usage; but nevertheless the said chief baron Richards, after his name had been so omitted in such commissions as aforesaid, heard, examined, and determined divers matters, causes, and petitions at the rolls, in conjunction with certain others of the persons named in the said commission, as if his name had been still contained in such commissions: be it therefore enacted, That all decrees, decretal and other orders, at any time during the reign of His late Majesty King George the Third, or during the reign of His present Majesty, made and pronounced at the rolls court in the absence of the master of the rolls, and all other acts and things done at the court aforesaid, in the supposed exercise of any of the powers aforesaid, and all acts done in the execution or performance of any such decrees or orders, shall have and be of as great and the like validity, effect, efficacy, force, and virtue, as if such decrees, decretal and other orders and all other acts and things, had respectively been heard, made, pronounced, determined, done, and executed by the master of the rolls for the time being in whose place or for whom any of such justices and others sat as aforesaid; and the same shall and may be enforced, executed, enrolled, re-heard, or appealed from in the same manner as if they respectively were decrees or orders of the master of the rolls in whose time they were pronounced: provided, that this act shall not extend to any decree or order made or pronounced as aforesaid, where the cause, petition, motion, or matter wherein or whereupon the same was made or pronounced as aforesaid has been actually reheard before the beginning of this present session of parliament, in consequence of the invalidity of the decree or order made or pronounced thereon as aforesaid, 6 G. 4. c. 93.

5. For consolidating and amending the laws relating to conveyances and transfers of estates and funds vested in trustees, who are infants, idiots, lunatics, or trustees of unsound mind, or who cannot be compelled or refuse to act; and also the laws relating to stocks and securities belonging to infants, idiots, lunatics, and persons of unsound mind, 6 G. 4. c. 74.

6. Whereas 7 A. c. 19. [Stat. Dig. tit. GUARDIAN, &c. pl. 16, 17.] intituled, An Act to enable infants who are seised or possessed of estates in fee, in trust, or by way of mortgage, to make conveyances of such estates: and whereas 4 G. 3. c. 16. [Stat. Dig. tit. GUARDIAN, &c. pl. 18, 19.] intituled, An Act to enable infants who are seised of lands, tenements, or hereditaments within the duchy of Lancaster, or the counties palatine of Chester, Lancaster, or Durham, or the principality of Wales, in fee, or for the life or lives of one or more other person or persons in trust, or by way of mortgage, to make conveyances of such estates by order of the court of the duchy chamber of Lancaster, of the court of exchequer of the county palatine of Chester, of the court of chancery of the county palatine of Lancaster, of the court of chancery of the county palatine of Durham, and of the courts of great sessions in the principality of Wales: and whereas 4 G. 2. c. 10. [Stat. Dig. tit. IDIOT, &c. pl. 5—7.] intituled, An Act to enable idiots and lunatics who are seised or possessed of estates in fee, or for lives or terms of years, in trust or by way of mortgage, to make conveyances, surrenders, or assignments of such estates: and whereas 1 & 2 G. 4. c. 114. [Stat. Dig. tit. IDIOT, &c. pl. 8, 9.] intituled, An Act for the conveyance, surrender, and assignment of estates in fee, for lives or terms of years, which shall be vested in trust, or by way of mortgage, in idiots and lunatics, not having been found such by inquisition: and whereas 36 G. 3. c. 90. [Stat. Dig. tit. STOCK, &c. pl. 21.] intituled, An Act for the relief of persons equitably and beneficially entitled to or interested in the several stocks and annuities transferrable at the bank of Eng: and whereas 52 G. 3. c. 32. [Stat. Dig. tit. STOCK, &c. pl. 22—29.] intituled, An Act for the relief of infant suitors in courts of equity, entitled to stock or annuities in any of the public or other funds, transferrable at the bank of Eng: and whereas 52 G. 3. c. 158. [Stat. Dig. tit. STOCK, &c. pl. 22—29.] intituled, An Act to extend the provisions of an act passed in the thirty-sixth year of the reign of His present Majesty for the relief of persons equitably entitled to stocks and annuities transferrable at the bank of Eng., and of an act passed in the present session, for the relief of infant suitors entitled to the like stocks and annuities, to all other transferrable stocks and funds: and whereas 57 G. 3. c. 39. [Stat. Dig. tit. STOCK, &c. pl. 30.] intituled, An act to extend certain provisions of the acts of the thirty-sixth and fifty-second years of the reign of His present Majesty, to matters of charity and friendly societies: and whereas 1 & 2 G. 4. c. 15. intituled, An Act to authorize the transfer of stocks and payment of dividends of lunatics residing out of Eng., were passed: and whereas it is expedient that the provisions of the said recited acts should be consolidated and amended; be it therefore enacted, That the said several recited acts shall be and the same are hereby repealed; save only and except as to such proceedings under any of such recited acts respectively as shall have been commenced before the passing of this act, and which shall and may be continued and proceeded in under the authority of and according to the provisions in the said recited acts respectively, or under the authority of and according to the provisions in this act, as shall be most expedient, 6 G. 4. c. 74. s. 1.

7 When and so often as any person or persons seised or possessed of any lands, tenements, or hereditaments, or other property, or any estate or interest therein, upon any trust or trusts, or by way of mortgage, shall be under the age of twenty-one years, it shall be lawful for such infant or infants, by the direction of the court of chancery or exchequer, or if such lands, tenements, or hereditaments be situate within the duchy of Lancaster, or the counties palatine of Chester, Lancaster, and Durham respectively, or the principality of Wales, by the direction of the court of the duchy chamber of Lancaster, of the court of exchequer of the county palatine of Chester, the court of chancery of the county palatine of Lancaster, the court of chancery of the county palatine of Durham, and the several courts of great sessions in Wales respectively, to convey, release, surrender, assign, or otherwise assure such lands, tenements, or hereditaments, or property, or estate, or interest therein, to such person or persons, and in such manner as the said courts respectively shall think proper and direct; and every such conveyance, release, surrender, assignment, or assurance shall be as valid and effectual, to all intents and purposes, as if the said person or persons, being an infant or infants, were at the time of executing the same of the full age of twenty-one years, 6 G. 4. c. 74. s. 2.

8. When and so often as any person seised or possessed of any lands, tenements, or hereditaments, or other property, or any estate or interest therein, upon any trust or trusts, or by way of mortgage, shall be idiot, lunatic, or of unsound mind, it shall be lawful for the committee or committees of such person, or any person or persons to be appointed as herein-after is mentioned, in the name of such person, being idiot, lunatic, or of unsound mind, by the direction of the lord chancellor of G. B. or the lord keeper or commissioners of the great seal of G. B. being intrusted by virtue of the king's sign manual with the care and commitment of the custody of the persons and estates of persons found lunatic, idiot, or of unsound mind, to convey, release, surrender, assign, or otherwise assure such lands, tenements, hereditaments, or property, or estate, or interest, to such person or persons, and in such manner as the lord chancellor, &c. shall think proper and direct; and every such conveyance, release, surrender, assignment, or assurance shall be as valid and effectual to all intents and purposes as if the person being idiot, lunatic, or of unsound mind, had been, at the time of the execution thereof, of sane mind, memory, and understanding, and had by himself executed the same, 6 G. 4. c. 74. s. 3.

9. When and so often as the person seised or possessed as aforesaid, being idiot, lunatic or of unsound mind, shall not have been found such by inquisition, it shall be lawful for the said chancellor, &c. to order or appoint such person as to the said lord chancellor, &c. shall seem meet, on behalf of the person being idiot, lunatic, or of unsound mind (but not having been found such by inquisition), to convey, release, surrender, assign, or otherwise assure such lands, tenements, hereditaments, or property, or estate or interest, as herein-before is mentioned, 6 G. 4. c. 74. s. 4.

10. When and so often as any person seised or possessed of any lands, tenements, or hereditaments, or other property, or any estate or interest therein, upon any trust or trusts, or by way of mortgage, shall be out of the jurisdiction of or not amenable to the process of the court of chancery or exchequer, or it shall be unknown or uncertain whether he be living or dead, or such person shall refuse to convey or otherwise assure such lands, tenements, hereditaments, or property, or estate or interest, to the person or persons entitled thereto, or as he shall direct, or to a new trustee or trustees duly appointed by virtue of some power or authority, or by the court of chancery or exchequer, either alone or together with any continuing trustee or trustees, as occasion shall require, then and in every or any such case it shall be lawful for the court of chancery or exchequer to appoint such person or persons as to such court shall seem meet, on behalf and in the name or names of the person seised or possessed as aforesaid, to convey, surrender, release, assign, or otherwise assure the said lands, tenements, hereditaments, or property, or estate or interest, to such person or persons, and in such manner as the said court shall think proper and direct; and every such conveyance, release, surrender, assignment, or assurance shall be as valid and effectual to all intents and purposes, as if the person, being out of the jurisdiction or not amenable to the process of the said courts, or not known to be alive, or having refused, had by himself executed the same, 6 G. 4. c. 74. s. 5.

11. When and so often as any stocks, funds, annuities, or securities, transferrable in the books of the governor and company of the bank of Eng. or of the South Sea company, or the united company of merchants of Eng. trading to the E. I., or any other company or society established or to be established, shall be standing in the name of or otherwise vested in any person or persons as trustee or trustees, or the legal personal representative of a trustee or trustees, who shall be idiot, lunatic, or of unsound mind, either alone or jointly with any other trustee or representative, it shall be lawful for the chancellor, lord keeper, or commissioners of the great seal of G. B. intrusted as aforesaid (whether such trustee shall or shall not have been found idiot, lunatic, or of unsound mind by inquisition), to order and appoint such person as to the said lord chancellor, &c. shall seem meet, being an officer of such company or society, to transfer or join with the other trustee or trustees, representative or representatives (if any), in transferring such stocks, funds, annuities, or securities, to or into the name or names of such person and persons, and in such manner as the said lord chancellor, &c. shall think proper and direct; and also to order any person or persons appointed as aforesaid to receive and pay over the interest, dividends, or annual produce of such stocks, funds, annuities, and securities, in such manner as the said lord chancellor, &c. shall direct; and every such transfer, receipt, and payment shall be as valid and effectual as if the trustee or trustees, representative or representatives, being idiot, lunatic, or of unsound mind, had been of sane mind, memory, and understanding, and had by himself, herself, or themselves transferred, received, and paid such stocks, funds, annuities, or securities, or interest, dividends, and annual produce, 6 G. 4. c. 74. s. 6.

12. When and so often as any stocks, funds, annuities or securities, transferrable as aforesaid, shall be standing in the name of or otherwise vested in any person or persons as a trustee or trustees, or the legal personal representative of a trustee or trustees, who shall be out of the jurisdiction of, or not amenable to the process of the court of chancery or exchequer, or it shall be unknown or uncertain whether such person or persons be living or dead, or such person or persons shall refuse to transfer such stocks, funds, annuities or securities, or receive and pay over the dividends thereof, to the person or persons entitled thereto, or as he, she, or they shall direct, or to a new trustee or trustees, duly appointed by virtue of some power or authority, or by the court of chancery or exchequer, either alone or together with any continuing trustee or trustees (as occasion shall require), then and in every such case it shall be lawful for the court of chancery or exchequer to appoint such person or persons as to the said court shall seem meet, being an officer of such company or society, to transfer or join with the other trustee or trustees, representative or representatives (if any), in transferring such stocks, funds, annuities, or securities, to, or into the name or names of such person or persons, and in such manner as such court of chancery or exchequer shall think proper and direct, and also to order any person or persons appointed as aforesaid, to receive and pay over the interest, dividends, or annual produce of such stocks, funds, annuities and securities, in such manner as the said court of chancery or exchequer shall direct; and every such transfer, receipt, and payment, shall be as valid and effectual as if the trustee or trustees, representative or representatives, had by himself, herself, and themselves, transferred, received, and paid such stocks, funds, annuities or securities, or interest, dividends, and annual produce, 6 G. 4. c. 74. s. 7.

13. Every direction, order, or appointment to be made in pursuance of this act by the court of chancery or exchequer, or by any other court herein-before mentioned, or by the lord chancellor, &c. shall be signified by an order to be made upon the petition of such person or persons as herein-after is mentioned; (that is to say,) if the same shall relate to a conveyance or other assurance, or transfer to any person or persons beneficially entitled, then upon the petition of the person or persons beneficially entitled to the lands, tenements, hereditaments, stocks, funds, annuities, securities, or property, or estate or interest to be conveyed, assured, or transferred; and if the same shall relate to a conveyance or other assurance or transfer, in order to vest any lands, rents, hereditaments, property, stocks, funds, annuities or securities, in a new trustee or trustees duly appointed by virtue of some power or authority, or by the court of chancery or exchequer, either alone or together with any continuing trustee or trustees, then upon the petition of the trustee or trustees in whom the same shall be proposed to be vested, or some or one of them; and if the same shall relate to the conveyance or other assurance of an estate in mortgage, then upon the petition of the person or persons entitled to the equity of redemption thereof, or some or one of the person or persons entitled to the monies thereby secured, or some or one of the guardian or guardians of the person or persons entitled to such monies, if an infant or infants, or the committee or committees of such person or persons, if idiot, lunatic, or of unsound mind, 6 G. 4. c. 74. s. 8.

14. All and every person and persons being an infant or infants, and all and every person and persons being idiot, lunatic, or of unsound mind, or the committee or committees of any such person or persons, and all and every the person or persons who shall be appointed by virtue of this act, shall and may be empowered and compelled, by the order to be obtained as herein-before is mentioned, to make such conveyance or conveyances, or other assurance or assurances, or transfer or transfers, payment or payments as aforesaid, in like manner as trustees of full age and of sane mind, memory, and understanding, are compellable to convey, or otherwise assure or transfer, and pay over their trust estates or funds, 6 G. 4. c. 74. s. 9.

15. The several provisions herein-before contained shall extend and be construed to extend to cases in which a trustee or trustees may have some beneficial estate or interest in the lands, tenements, hereditaments, property, stocks, funds, annuities, or securities vested in him, her, or them as aforesaid, and also to cases in which the trustee or trustees may have some duty or duties to perform, so as to enable conveyances and other conveyances and transfers to be made, in order to vest any lands, tenements, hereditaments, property, stocks, funds, annuities, or securities in a new trustee or trustees, duly appointed in the place of such trustee or trustees, by virtue of some power or authority, or by the court of chancery or exchequer, either alone or jointly with any continuing trustee or trustees (as the case may require), 6 G. 4. c. 74. s. 10.

16. The provisions herein-before contained shall extend and be construed to extend to all cases of petitions in which the court of chancery, or the lord chancellor, &c. or the master of the rolls, or the vice-chancellor of Eng. or the court of exchequer, are by law authorized and empowered to grant relief and make summary orders without suit, either in matters of charity, or relative to or for the better security, or for the application, receipt, payment, or transfer of any of the funds thereof, or in matters relative to any benefit or friendly societies, or for the better security, or for the application, receipt, payment, or transfer of any of the funds thereof, 6 G. 4. c. 74. s. 11.

17. It shall be lawful for the court of chancery or exchequer, by an order to be made on the petition of the guardian or guardians, or next friend of any infant in whose name any stocks, funds, annuities, or securities transferrable, or which shall or may hereafter be made transferrable in the books of the governor and company of the bank of Eng. or of any other company or society established or to be established, shall be standing, or in whose name any sum or sums of money shall be standing in virtue of any act or acts of parliament for paying off any such fund, annuity, or security, and who shall be beneficially entitled thereto, to order and direct all or any part of the interest, dividends, and annual produce due or to become due in respect of such stocks, funds, securities, or annuities, or any such sum or sums of money, to be paid to any guardian or guardians of such infant or infants respectively, or to any other person or persons, according to the discretion of such courts respectively, to or for the maintenance and education, or otherwise for the use and benefit of such infant or infants, such guardian or guardians, or other person or persons to whom such payments shall be directed to be made, being named in the order directing such payment; and the receipt, acquittance, or discharge of such guardian or guardians, or other person or persons so named for such dividend or dividends, or sums of money so ordered and directed to be paid to them, or any part thereof, shall be as valid and effectual, to all intents and purposes, to and for the said company or persons paying the same, against such infant or infants to whom such dividend or dividends, or sums of money, have been or shall be due and belong, his, her, or their executors, administrators, or assigns, as if such receipt, acquittance, or discharge had been actually signed by such infant or infants, after he, she, or they had actually attained the age of twenty-one years, and were capable by law of signing and giving the same, 6 G. 4. c. 74. s. 12.

18. When and so often as any stocks, funds, annuities, or securities transferrable as aforesaid, shall be standing in the name or names of, or shall be vested in any person or persons being idiot, lunatic, or of unsound mind, who shall be beneficially entitled thereto, or any such stocks, funds, annuities, or securities shall be standing in the name or names of, or otherwise vested in any person or persons being committee or committees of the estate of a person found idiot, lunatic, or of unsound mind, in trust for, or as part of his or her property, and such committee or committees shall have died intestate, or shall reside out of the jurisdiction of the court of chancery or exchequer, or shall himself, herself, or themselves become lunatic or of unsound mind, or it shall be uncertain or unknown whether such committee or committees be living or dead, then and in every or any such case, it shall be lawful for the lord chancellor, &c. upon petition or motion of the committee or committees of the estates of the person or persons being idiot, lunatic, or of unsound mind, to appoint and order such person as to such lord chancellor, &c. shall seem meet, being an officer of such company or society, to transfer such stocks, funds, annuities, or securities, to or into the name of any new committee or committees or otherwise, and also to receive and pay over the dividends thereof, in such manner as the lord chancellor, lord keeper or commissioners of the great seal of G. B. intrusted as aforesaid, shall think proper and direct; and that such transfers and payments shall be valid and effectual to all intents and purposes whatsoever, 6 G. 4. c. 74. s. 13.

19. When and so often as any stocks, funds, annuities or securities, transferrable as aforesaid, shall be standing in the name of, or vested in any person residing out of Eng., it shall be lawful for the lord chancellor, &c. upon petition and proof being made to his or their satisfaction, that such person has been declared lunatic or of unsound mind, and that his or their personal estate has been vested in a curator or curators, or other person or persons appointed for the management thereof, according to the laws of the place where such person shall reside, to order and appoint such person, being an officer of such company or society, as such lord chancellor, &c. shall deem meet, to transfer such stock, funds, annuities, or securities, or any part or parts thereof, into the name or names of any such curator or curators, or other such person or persons as aforesaid, or otherwise; and also to receive and pay over the interest, dividends, and annual produce thereof, as the lord chancellor, &c. or trustees as aforesaid, shall think fit and direct; and that such transfers and payments shall be valid and effectual to all intents and purposes whatsoever, 6 G. 4. c. 74. s. 14.

20. Provided that in all cases in which orders shall be made by any of the courts aforesaid, for the transfer of stocks or funds transferrable at the bank of Eng., the persons to be named in such orders respectively for making such transfers shall be the secretary, deputy secretary, or accountant-general of the governor and company of the bank of Eng. for the time being, or one of them, except in cases where one or more of the trustees, in whose names such stocks or funds shall stand, shall be ordered to transfer the same without the concurrence of any other or others of such trustees; any thing herein contained to the contrary thereof in anywise notwithstanding, 6 G. 4. c. 74. s. 15.

21. This act shall be and is hereby declared to be a full and complete indemnity and discharge to the governor and company of the bank of Eng., the South Sea company, the East India company, and all other companies and societies, and their officers and servants, for all acts and things done or permitted to be done pursuant thereto; and that such acts and things shall not be questioned or impeached in any court of law or equity, to their prejudice or detriment, 6 G. 4. c. 74. s. 16.

22. The court of chancery or exchequer, lord chancellor, &c. may order the costs, charges and expences of and relating to the petitions, orders, appointments, conveyances, or other assurances and transfers to be made in pursuance of this act, or any of them, to be paid and raised out of or from the lands, tenements, and hereditaments, stocks, funds, annuities, and securities, or the rents, issues, dividends, and annual produce in respect of which the same respectively shall be made, in such manner as the said court, lord chancellor, &c. shall think proper, 6 G. 4. c. 74. s. 17.

COURTS (COMMON PLEAS).

1. To abolish the sale of offices in the court of C. P. in Eng. to make provision for the lord chief justice of the said court, and to grant an additional annuity to the said lord chief justice on resignation of his office, 6 G. 4. c. 83.

2. Whereas the several offices of chief and third prothonotaries, clerk of the king's silver, clerk of the jurata, clerk of the essoigns, clerk of the warrants, enrolments and estreats, exigenter, clerk of the supersedeas, filacers for all the counties in Eng. and clerk of the errors in the exchequer chamber, are appointed by the lord chief justice of the C. P., and are saleable by him, as and when the same from time to time become vacant: and whereas the offices of second prothonotary and clerk of the juries are appointed by the said lord chief justice, on the nomination of the custos brevium, for which last-mentioned appointment the said lord chief justice has been deemed entitled to, and has always received, whenever such appointments have been made, certain fees: and whereas each of the three prothonotaries of the said court has the appointment of one secondary: and whereas the said several offices are held for the respective lives of the persons now holding the same, and the emoluments thereof are derived entirely from the fees payable by the suitors of the same court; and some of such offices are and for many years past have been executed by deputy; and the emoluments of some others thereof which are executed in person, are greater than the nature and duties thereof, considered apart from other circumstances relating thereto, would require: and whereas it is expedient to abolish the sale of all such of the said offices as are now saleable, whereby a more equal provision may be made for maintaining the honour and dignity of the office of the lord chief justice of the same court, and a fund may be hereafter raised which may be applied towards the payment of the salaries of the chief justice and other judges of the same court, in ease of the public revenue: and whereas the duties of the first and third prothonotary might be well discharged by one person, and the duties of secondary to the first prothonotary and secondary to the third prothonotary might also be discharged by one person, and by thus reducing the number of officers, the fund which might be hereafter raised for the benefit of the public may be considerably increased: be it therefore enacted, that the said offices of chief and third prothonotaries, clerk of the king's silver, clerk of the jurata, clerk of the essoigns, clerk of the warrants, enrolments and estreats, exigenter, clerk of the supersedeas, filacers for all the counties in Eng. and clerk of the errors in the exchequer chamber, shall be disposed of, and all appointments to the said respective offices, as they may respectively become vacant, shall be made according to the directions of this act, and not otherwise; and all and every the persons to be so appointed to the said several offices, shall continually execute the same in person, and not by deputy, unless for some reasonable cause to be allowed as herein-after mentioned; and every such officer and his deputy to be appointed according to the directions of this act, shall be deemed and taken to be a public accountable officer, to all intents and purposes, and shall severally account for the fees and emoluments of his office, according to the directions of this act, 6 G. 4. c. 83. s. 1.

3. All appointments to the several offices to be made by virtue of this act shall be made by the lord chief justice of the said court for the time being, by warrant under his hand and seal, without any fee, gratuity, or reward, to be directly or indirectly paid to or received for the same by the lord chief justice or any judge of the said court; and every such appointment, except the appointment of the filacers, shall be made, and shall be in such warrant expressed to be made, during the good behaviour of the person appointed, and for so long time only as the person appointed shall execute the same in person: provided, that no such office shall be vacated by reason of the officer's not executing his office in person, if he shall execute the same by some deputy to be appointed by virtue of this act, nor in cases of occasional illness, nor other like necessary cause of absence, not continuing more than two months at any one time, 6 G. 4. c. 83. s. 2.

4. If any person to be appointed by virtue of this act shall demean himself in any manner contrary to the true intent and meaning hereof, or otherwise misbehave himself, it shall be lawful for the said court to hear and decide upon such misbehaviour, and also to hear and determine all complaints that may be made against such person, in a summary way, and by rule of the same court to order compensation to be made to any person injured by such misbehaviour; or to fine such offender, or make void his appointment, or punish the offender by all or any of the ways aforesaid, as to such court in its discretion shall seem fit, 6 G. 4. c. 83. s. 3.

5. Provided, that in case any officer to be appointed by virtue of this act shall, by ill-health or other infirmity, become incapable of discharging the duties of his said office, or shall for any other reasonable cause, to be allowed by the said lord chief justice, be desirous of being relieved from the discharge of the duties thereof, either permanently or for a certain time only, it shall and may be lawful for the said lord chief justice to appoint some fit and proper person to act as a deputy of such officer; the cause of such appointment being always distinctly mentioned and specified in the warrant of such appointment, 6 G. 4. c. 83. s. 4.

6. It shall and may be lawful for the lord chief justice of the said court, and the treasury for the time being, and they are hereby required, by some writing under their respective hands, to ascertain for and allow to every officer and deputy to be appointed by virtue of this act, for himself, his clerks and assistants, and the expences of his office, such part or parts of the fees and emoluments lawfully belonging to his office, as to them shall seem reasonable, and from time to time to alter and vary the same as occasion may require; and every officer and deputy to be so appointed shall demand and receive all and every the fees and emoluments lawfully belonging to his said office, whether the same have been heretofore received by or deemed to belong to the principal officer or his deputy or deputies, and no more or other fees, emoluments, or perquisites whatsoever; and shall retain thereout for his own use, and in case of a deputy for the use also of his principal, such part or parts thereof and no more as shall and may have been from time to time so ascertained and allowed as aforesaid; and shall duly account for all sums received and paid in manner herein-after directed, 6 G. 4. c. 83. s. 5.

7. Every officer and deputy to be appointed by virtue of this act shall keep one or more book or books, and shall cause to be duly and regularly entered therein every sum of money by him received and paid, and shall submit the same to the inspection of the said lord chief justice, and of the said treasury, whenever he shall be thereto required; and shall also, within one month after the end of every term, render a true and faithful account in writing (to be verified on oath if required), to the treasury for the time being, of all sums of money by him received and retained or paid, up to the last day inclusive of the term next immediately preceding the rendering of such account; and shall also within the same period pay over the balance of such account (if any) into the receipt of H. M.'s exchequer: provided, that if upon the examination of any such account, it shall appear to the said treasury, that any unreasonable or improper charge or deduction has been made therein, the same shall be disallowed by the treasury; and the amount of every sum of money so disallowed shall, within ten days after such disallowance thereof shall be notified to such officer or deputy, be paid by him into the receipt of H. M.'s exchequer; and the said treasury shall cause copies of all such accounts to be laid before each house of parliament at the commencement of the session of parliament next after the rendering thereof; and all sums so paid into the receipt of the exchequer shall be carried to the credit of the consolidated fund, a separate account being kept thereof: provided, that no lands, tenements, or hereditaments of any officer or person who, by virtue of this act, may be required to pay any sum of money which would otherwise be payable to the said lord chief justice, shall by reason thereof be charged with any such sum of money, or be deemed subject or liable to the payment thereof, or to answer or make good the same, 6 G. 4. c. 83. s. 6.

8. Whenever any deputy shall be appointed, and any portion of the fees and emoluments of office shall be directed to be allowed and paid to the principal officer in pursuance of this act, such portion shall be duly paid over to the principal before the rendering of the account hereby required, next after the time when such portion shall become payable, and a proper receipt for the same shall be exhibited at the time of rendering such account; and no principal officer shall be deemed answerable or accountable for any sum of money received by any such deputy as aforesaid, 6 G. 4. c. 83. s. 7.

9. And whereas it will be necessary to make due provision for the maintenance for the honour and dignity of the office of lord chief justice of the said court, in lieu of the fees and valuable patronage hitherto enjoyed by the person from time to time filling the said office, and which will be taken away by this act; and it is further expedient that the lord chief justice of the said court should receive a salary, to be fixed by parliament, in lieu of all pecuniary fees and emoluments now received by him; be it therefore enacted, That the annual salary of the lord chief justice of the said court for the time being, shall be the sum of eight thousand pounds, to be computed and commence, in the case of the present lord chief justice, from the beginning of the quarter current at the time of the passing of this act; and to commence and be computed, in the case of every succeeding lord chief justice, from the death or resignation of his immediate predecessor, in like manner as if his patent or appointment bore date the day next subsequent to the day of the death or resignation of his predecessor; and that there shall be issued and paid and payable, out of and charged and chargeable upon the consolidated fund (after paying and reserving sufficient to pay all such sum and sums of money as have been directed by any former act of parliament to be paid out of the same, but with preference to all other payments which shall or may hereafter be charged upon or payable out of the said fund), to the present lord chief justice of the said court, and to his successors, as an augmentation of his and their salary, and in lieu of all fees and pecuniary profits belonging to the said office, so much money as will make the salary usually received by the lord chief justice of the said court for the time being, from the civil list, after deducting from the amount of such last-mentioned salary all land tax, pension duty, and other duties and fees charged upon the same or upon the said lord chief justice in respect of his office, and also all sums of money paid by the said lord chief justice for rolls, books, or dockets provided for the use of the officers of the said court, or of the suitors thereof, according to ancient and present usage, the annual sum of eight thousand pounds herein-before mentioned; which said sums, to be issued in pursuance of this act, shall from time to time henceforth be paid and payable quarterly, free and clear from all taxes, fees, and deductions whatsoever, on the 5th Jan., the 5th April, the 5th July, and the 10th Oct. in each year, by even and equal portions, together with a rateable proportion of the quarter current at the time of the death or resignation of any such lord chief justice, up and home to the day of his death or resignation; the first payment thereof to be made on such of the said days as shall first happen next after the passing of this act, 6 G. 4. c. 83. s. 8. [See further as to the salaries of the judges, 6 G. 4. c. 84. post. tit. JUDGES.]

10. It shall be lawful for H. M., by any letters patent under the great seal of G. B., to give and grant unto any person who may or shall have executed the office of chief justice of the court of C. P., an annuity or yearly sum of money, not exceeding the sum of four hundred and fifty pounds, and the said annuity shall be in addition to and in augmentation of the respective annuities or yearly sums allowed to be given and granted to such chief justice, under the 39 G. 3. c. 110. [Stat. Dig. tit. JUDGES, pl. 13.], and 53 G. 3. c. 153. [Stat. Dig. tit. JUDGES, pl. 15.], for enabling H. M. to grant additional annuities to the judges of the courts in Westminster Hall, on their resignation of their offices, and in like manner to commence from and after the period when the person to whom any such annuity or yearly sum of money shall be granted as aforesaid, shall have resigned his said office, and to continue for and during the natural life of the person to whom the same shall be granted as aforesaid; and every such annuity or yearly sum of money shall be issued and payable out of and charged and chargeable upon the consolidated fund, next in order of payment to, and after paying or reserving sufficient to pay, all such sums of money as have been directed by any former act of parliament, and as by this act are herein-before directed to be paid out of the same, but with preference to all other payments whatsoever, and shall be payable and paid quarterly, free and clear from all taxes and deductions whatsoever, by even and equal portions, at the like periods and together with and in the same manner as the annuities and yearly sums which may be given and granted under the said recited acts, and under and subject to the like rules, regulations, and restrictions (so far as the same are applicable), as are contained and prescribed in the 39 G. 3. c. 110. in relation to the annuities or yearly sums of money therein allowed to be given and granted, 6 G. 4. c. 83. s. 9.

11. All and every officers and persons who now receive for or pay to the lord chief justice of the said court for the time being, any fees, portions of fees, or other sums of money whatsoever, in respect of his office, shall, from and after the passing of this act [5th July 1825.], pay all such fees, portions of fees (except homage fees), and sums of money, into H. M.'s exchequer, at such times and seasons as the same have been heretofore usually paid to the lord chief justice, and with such deductions and allowances only as have been heretofore usually made and allowed, 6 G. 4. c. 83. s. 10.

12. The several officers of the court who have been accustomed to pay the fees called homage fees to the lord chief justice, shall, on or before the first day of Hilary term in every year respectively, pay such fees to the first clerk of the said lord chief justice, which clerk shall, within one week from the first day of Hilary term in every year, account for and pay all such fees as shall be received by him from the said officers aforesaid, into H. M.'s exchequer, 6 G. 4. c. 83. s. 11.

13. For the purpose of uniting the two offices of chief and third prothonotary in the same officer, whoever shall be appointed to the first of those offices that shall become vacant after the passing of this act [5th July 1825.], shall, on the other of the said offices becoming vacant, take upon himself and perform the duties of the other of the said offices, and shall receive the fees accruing in respect of the said last-mentioned office, and shall retain, out of the fees of the office last becoming vacant, so much as the lord chief justice of the said court, and the treasury for the time being, shall think a reasonable compensation for his additional trouble, and shall account for and pay the residue of such fees into H. M.'s exchequer, on the first day of every term; and the said offices of chief and third prothonotary shall, after such union as aforesaid, be always executed by one officer, who shall be called the chief prothonotary of the court of C. P., and who shall receive the fees now payable in respect of the offices of chief and third prothonotary, and account for the same in such manner as may be directed by the treasury for the time being, 6 G. 4. c. 83. s. 12.

14. No person who shall hereafter be appointed to the office of chief or third prothonotary, or shall hold the said two offices when united, shall appoint a secondary, but the secondary of such prothonotary shall be appointed by the lord chief justice of the said court of C. P.; and all secondaries so appointed shall hold their offices during their good behaviour, and shall receive such a proportion of the accustomed fees of the said office as the lord chief justice of the said court, and the lord high treasurer, or any three or more of the commissioners of the treasury for the time being, shall think reasonable, and shall account for and pay the residue into H. M.'s exchequer on the first day of every term, 6 G. 4. c. 83. s. 13.

15. The person who shall first be appointed secondary under the provisions of this act shall, when the office of secondary to the other prothonotary appointed by virtue of this act shall become vacant, take upon himself and perform the duties of both of the said secondaries, and receive the fees, and retain out of the same so much as the said lord chief justice of the said court, and the treasury, shall think a reasonable compensation for his additional trouble, and shall account for and pay the residue of such fees into H. M.'s exchequer on the first day of every term, 6 G. 4. c. 83. s. 14.

16. And whereas the offices of filacers of all the counties in Eng. would be executed better and at less expence by one person; and as such offices are now holden by many different persons, and the whole of such offices are not likely soon to become vacant, that they may, when the present interests in them shall expire, be all given to some one fit and proper person, be it enacted, That when the office of filacer of any county or counties shall become vacant, the person to be appointed to discharge the duties of such office shall only receive an appointment during the pleasure of the lord chief justice; and that when all the present interests shall have vacated those offices by death or otherwise, the lord chief justice of the court of C. P. shall revoke the appointments made during pleasure, and appoint some one fit and proper person to hold the united office of filacer of all the counties of Eng., during his good behaviour in the said office, 6 G. 4. c. 83. s. 15.

17. If either of the persons who now hold the office of chief or third prothonotary shall, after the passing of this act, be desirous of resigning his or their office or offices, or either of the persons who now hold the office of secondary to the chief or third prothonotary, or shall hereafter be appointed to the office of secondary by either of the persons now holding the office of chief or third prothonotary, shall, after the death or resignation of the prothonotary to whom such secondary now belongs, or by whom he shall be hereafter appointed, be desirous of resigning his or their office or offices, it shall and may be lawful for the lord chief justice of the said court, by order under his hand and seal, to direct that any person holding either of the offices so resigned, during the life of the person resigning such office, shall pay to such last-mentioned person such annual sum by quarterly payments, and a proportionate sum for the time that shall intervene between the last quarter day and the day of the death of such last-mentioned person, as the said lord chief justice shall, under all the circumstances of the respective cases, think proper; and all orders of any chief justice for the payment of money to such retired prothonotaries or secondaries, shall be made rules of the court of C. P.; which court may enforce the payment of any money due to any such retired prothonotary or secondary, if such money shall remain unpaid for the space of one month after the same shall be payable, by attachment, 6 G. 4. c. 83. s. 16.

18. No person who shall be appointed either a prothonotary or secondary, in consequence of the resignation of either of the present chief or third prothonotaries, or of their present secondaries, or of any secondary appointed by the present chief or third prothonotaries, shall be accountable to the crown for any of the fees of their offices, whilst such prothonotaries or secondaries, so appointed as aforesaid, are liable to pay the sums ordered to be paid to their respective predecessors under this act, 6 G. 4. c. 83. s. 17.

19. Upon every appointment to the office of second prothonotary hereafter to be made, the fees which have been heretofore paid to the lord chief justice and other judges of the said court of C. P., on the appointment of a second prothonotary, shall, before any such appointment shall be made, be paid, by the person to be appointed to such office, into H. M.'s exchequer for the use of H. M., 6 G. 4. c. 83. s. 18. [See as to the purchase of the office of Custos Brevium of C. P. 6 G. 4. c. 89. post this title, pl. 29, 30.]

COURTS (EXCHEQUER).

20. To enable H. M.'s court of exchequer to sit, and the lord chief baron or any other baron of the said court to try Middlesex issues elsewhere than in the place where the court of exchequer is commonly kept in the county of Middlesex, 3 G. 4. c. 87.

21. Whereas the court of exchequer is about to be rebuilt, and provision ought to be made to enable the court to sit elsewhere whilst the said court is rebuilding: be it enacted, That it shall be lawful for the lord chief baron of H. M.'s court of exchequer, and in his absence, for any two or more of the other barons of the same court, without any other authority than this act, from time to time during the rebuilding of the same court, and until a new court is ready for the dispatch of business, to order and direct that H. M.'s court of exchequer shall be held in any convenient place within the county of Middlesex, specified in any such order, for the dispatch of any business of or in the said court; and it shall be lawful for the lord chief baron of the same court, or any other baron sitting for him, to try all issues joined or to be joined in the same court, wherein the trials ought to be in the city of Westminster, or in the said county of Middlesex, in the place specified in any such order as aforesaid, and all business of or in the same court may in every such case be heard, decided, and dispatched, and all such issues may be tried, wherever the said court shall be so directed to be held, in like manner and form, and shall be of the like force and effect, as if the said court had been held during such periods in the place where the court of exchequer has been commonly kept in the said county of Middlesex, 3 G. 4. c. 87. s. 1.

22. As well the sheriff of the said county of Middlesex, as all other officers whatsoever, and also all jurors, parties, witnesses, or other persons who may be required to attend, or who ought to attend at, or for the dispatch of any business whatsoever, of or in the said court, or for the trial of any such issue to be so tried as aforesaid, if the same had been heard, dispatched, or tried in the place where the said court of exchequer is commonly kept in the said county of Middlesex, shall give his and their attendance at and for the trial thereof at the place where the said lord chief baron, or in his absence any other baron of the said court, shall be sitting for the trial thereof, upon reasonable notice to him or them in that behalf, and shall be subjected to such and the same pains and penalties for non-attendance, and entitled to such and the same fees and remuneration for his and their attendance, as if such business had been heard or dispatched, or such issue had been actually tried, in the usual place where the said court of exchequer hath been commonly kept as aforesaid; and all writs, process, notices, and other proceedings (other than a special notice of the place of trial) heretofore issued, made, or had, or to be hereafter issued, made, or had, in any such business, or for the trial of any such issue according to the forms now in use, shall be as good and available in the law, to all intents and purposes, as if such business or such issue had been actually heard, dispatched, or tried in such usual place as aforesaid; and all business and trials dispatched and heard at any such place as aforesaid, in virtue of this act, shall be deemed to have been had, and may in any record, process, or other proceeding, and also in any indictment for perjury or other offence committed at or in relation to any such trial be alleged and laid, to have been had in the usual place where the said court of exchequer hath been commonly kept in all respects and to all purposes, as if such business and trial had been there actually dispatched and had, 3 G. 4. c. 87. s. 2.

COURTS (KING'S BENCH).

23. To repeal 1 & 2 G. 4. c. 16. [Stat. Dig. tit. COURTS (King's Bench), pl. 4.] for facilitating the dispatch of business in the court of K. B.; and to make further provisions in lieu thereof, 3 G. 4. c. 102.

24. Whereas by 1 & 2 G. 4. c. 16., the judges of the court of K. B. were enabled to sit for the dispatch of matters pending in the said court at certain times before Hilary, Easter, and Michaelmas terms, and it is expedient to repeal the said act; be it enacted, That from 31st July 1822, the 1 & 2 G. 4. c. 16. shall be repealed, 3 G. 4. c. 102. s. 1.

25. And from 31st July 1822, it shall be lawful for H. M. from time to time as to him shall seem meet, by warrant under his sign manual, directed to the judges of the said court, to direct and require the judges of the said court, or any two or more of them, to meet at Serjeants' Inn Hall, Westminster Hall, or some other convenient place to be by them appointed, on such and so many days in the vacation or interval between any terms, as to H. M. shall seem fit and proper, for the dispatch of such matters as at the end of the term mentioned in such warrant, may be depending in the said court, whether on the crown or plea side thereof, 3 G. 4. c. 102. s. 2.

26. Provided, that such warrant shall be made and issued, ten days at the least before the end of the term preceding the vacation mentioned in such warrant; and that the issuing of such warrant shall, three days before the end of the said term, be openly and publicly, in the said court of K. B., notified and declared, and be afterwards published in the London Gazette, 3 G. 4. c. 102. s. 3.

27. And when and so often as any such warrant shall be made and directed to the judges of the said court of K. B., it shall be lawful for the judges of the said court, or any two or more of them, unless prevented by illness, public business, or other reasonable cause, to meet in pursuance of such warrant, for the dispatch of such matters as aforesaid, or such as may appear to such judges, chiefly to require dispatch, and as may be then most conveniently dispatched, and to hear, decide, and pronounce rules, orders, and judgments thereupon; which rules, orders, and judgments, shall be drawn up and entered of record, either of the term last past before the pronouncing thereof, or as of the term then next ensuing, as the said judges shall direct, 3 G. 4. c. 102. s. 4.

28. All enlarged rules to show cause, which may be pronounced or drawn up by, or by the direction of the said court, for showing cause in any term next after any of such sittings directed by such warrant, shall be deemed to be rules to show cause, as well at such sittings as in the term then next following, and may be heard and decided in such sittings accordingly; provided, that nothing herein shall alter or affect the return of any writ, either mesne or judicial, or require any return of such writ, or appearance thereto, before the day therein mentioned, 3 G. 4. c. 102. s. 5.

29. To authorize the purchase of the office of receiver and comptroller of the seal of the court of K. B. and C. P. and of custos brevium of the court of C. P., 6 G. 4. c. 89.

30. Whereas by letters patent under the great seal of Eng. dated the 30th April, Car. 2., the office of receiver-general and comptroller of the seal of the courts of K. B. and C. P. was (after certain estates tail since determined) granted to Henry earl of Euston, afterwards duke of Grafton, in tail male: and whereas by letters patent under the great seal of Eng. dated 14th Dec. Car. 2., the office of custos brevium of the court of C. P. was (after the determination of grants for lives then subsisting) granted to certain persons therein named, and their heirs and assigns, in trust for the then earl and countess of Litchfield, and for the issue of the countess in tail: and whereas the said offices are now held by persons entitled thereto under the said grants; and it is expedient, with a view to certain arrangements now in contemplation, that the right, title, and interest of the persons now in the possession of the said offices, and entitled to the receipts and profits thereof, as well as the right, title, and interest of all persons hereafter claiming or becoming entitled to claim under the said grants, should be purchased; be it therefore enacted, that it shall be lawful for the treasury to treat, contract, and agree with the several persons beneficially entitled to the fees, receipts, and profits of the said offices, for the purchase of all the rights, profits, privileges, and advantages whatever belonging thereto, for such annuity or annuities, to be charged upon the consolidated fund of the U. K. as the treasury shall think fit; and from and after the confirmation of the said agreement by parliament, the rights and interests of all persons whatsoever, claiming or entitled to claim under the said recited letters patent, shall cease and determine, 6 G. 4. c. 89. s. 1.

31. The said annuity or annuities so to be granted shall go and be paid from time to time to such person or persons as would have been entitled to the fees, profits, and advantages of the said offices respectively under the said letters patent in case this act had not been passed, 6 G. 4. c. 89. s. 2.

32. To abolish the sale of offices in the court of K. B. in Eng., to make provision for the lord chief justice of the said court, and to grant an additional annuity to the said lord chief justice on resignation of his office, 6 G. 4. c. 82.

33. Whereas the several offices of chief clerk, clerk of the treasury, and custos brevium, and filacer, exigenter, and clerk of the outlawries of the court of K. B. in Eng. are in the gift of the lord chief justice of the same court, and deemed to be saleable by him, as and when the same from time to time become vacant: and whereas the several offices of clerk of the rules on the plea side, clerk of the papers on the plea side, clerk of the declarations, clerk of the common bails, estreats and postea, and clerk of the dockets of the same court, are in the gift of the said chief clerk, and deemed to be saleable by him; and the several offices of clerks of the inner and outer treasury, clerks of Nisi Prius in London and other cities, and on the several circuits, and bag-bearer on the plea side of the same court, are in the gift of the said custos brevium, and deemed to be saleable by him: and whereas the said several offices are held for the respective lives of the persons now holding the same (or for the life of the survivor of two persons where the office is now vested in two persons), and the emoluments thereof are derived entirely from the fees payable by the suitors of the same court; and some thereof are and for many years past have been executed by deputy; and the emoluments of some others thereof, which are executed in person, are greater than the nature and duties thereof, considered apart from other circumstances relating thereto, would require: and whereas it is expedient to abolish the sale of all such of the said offices as are now saleable, without prejudice however to the rights of any of the persons now holding the same, or having the right of appointment thereto, except only the lord chief justice of the said court; whereby a more uniform and more constant provision may be made for maintaining the honour and dignity of the office of lord chief justice of the same court, and a fund may be hereafter raised, which may be applied towards the payment of the salaries of the chief justice and other judges of the same court, in ease of the public revenue; be it therefore enacted, That the said offices of chief clerk, clerk of the treasury, and custos brevium, and filacer, exigenter, and clerk of the outlawries, shall from and after the passing of this act [5th July 1825.], and the said several offices herein-before mentioned to be in the gift of the said chief clerk, shall from and after the time when the said office of chief clerk shall become vacant, and the said several offices herein-before mentioned to be in the gift of the said custos brevium, shall from and after the time when the said office of custos brevium shall become vacant, be disposed of; and all appointments to the said respective offices, as they may respectively become vacant, shall be made according to the directions of this act, and not otherwise; and all and every the persons to be so appointed to the said several offices, shall continually execute the same in person, and not by deputy, unless for some reasonable cause to be allowed, as herein-after mentioned; and every such officer and his deputy, to be appointed according to the directions of this act, shall be deemed and taken to be a public accountable officer, to all intents and purposes, and shall severally account for the fees and emoluments of his office, according to the directions of this act, 6 G. 4. c. 82. s. 1.

34. All appointments to the said several offices to be made by virtue of this act, shall be made by the lord chief justice of the said court for the time being, by warrant under his hand and seal, without any fee, gratuity, or reward, to be directly or indirectly paid to or received for the same; and every such appointment shall be made, and shall be in such warrant expressed to be made, during the good behaviour of the person appointed, and for so long time only as the person appointed shall execute the same in person: provided, that no such office shall be vacated by reason of the officer's not executing his office in person, if he shall execute the same by some deputy to be appointed by virtue of this act; nor in cases of occasional illness, or other like necessary cause of absence, not continuing more than two months at any one time, 6 G. 4. c. 82. s. 2.

35. If any person to be appointed by virtue of this act shall demean himself in any manner contrary to the true intent and meaning hereof, or otherwise misbehave himself, it shall be lawful for the said court to hear and decide upon such misbehaviour, and also to hear and determine all complaints that may be made against such person in a summary way, and by rule of the same court, to order compensation to be made to any person injured by such misbehaviour, or to fine such offender, or to make void his appointment, or punish the offender by all or any the ways aforesaid, as to such court in its discretion shall seem fit, 6 G. 4. c. 82. s. 5.

36. Provided, that in case any officer to be appointed by virtue of this act, shall, by ill-health or other infirmity, become incapable of discharging the duties of his said office, or shall for any other reasonable cause, to be allowed by the said lord chief justice, be desirous of being relieved from the discharge of the duties thereof, either permanently or for a certain time only, it shall and may be lawful for the said chief justice to appoint some fit and proper person to act as the deputy of such officer; the cause of such appointment being always distinctly mentioned and specified in the warrant of such appointment, 6 G. 4. c. 82. s. 4.

37. It shall and may be lawful to and for the lord chief justice of the said court and the lord high treasurer, or any three or more of the commissioners of H. M.'s treasury of the U. K. of G. B. and Ire. for the time being, and they are hereby required, by some writing under their respective hands, to ascertain for and allow to every officer and deputy, to be appointed by virtue of this act, for himself, his clerks and assistants, and the expences of his office, such part or parts of the fees and emoluments lawfully belonging to his office, as to them shall seem reasonable, and from time to time to alter and vary the same as occasion may require; and every officer and deputy to be so appointed shall demand and receive all and every the fees and emoluments lawfully belonging to his said office, whether the same have been heretofore received by or deemed to belong to the principal officer or his deputy or deputies, and no more or other fees, emoluments, or perquisites whatsoever; and shall retain thereout for his own use, and in the case of a deputy, for the use also of his principal, such part or parts thereof, and no more, as shall and may have been from time to time so ascertained and allowed as aforesaid; and shall duly account for all sums received and paid in manner herein-after directed, 6 G. 4. c. 82. s. 5.

38. Every officer and deputy to be appointed by virtue of this act shall keep one or more book or books, and shall cause to be duly and regularly entered therein every sum of money by him received and paid, and shall submit the same to the inspection of the said lord chief justice, and of the said treasury, whenever it shall be thereto required; and shall also, within one month after the end of every term, render a true and faithful account in writing (to be verified upon oath if required) to the said treasury for the time being, of all sums of money by him received and retained or paid, up to the last day inclusive of the term next immediately preceding the rendering of such account; and shall also, within the same period, pay over the balance of such account, if any, into the receipt of H. M.'s exchequer: provided, that if upon the examination of any such account it shall appear to the said treasury, that any unreasonable or improper charge or deduction has been made therein, the same shall be disallowed by them, and the amount of every sum of money so disallowed shall, within ten days after such disallowance shall be notified to such officer or deputy, be paid by him into the receipt of H. M.'s exchequer; and the said treasury shall cause copies of all such accounts to be laid before each house of parliament, at the commencement of the session of parliament next after the rendering thereof, and all sums so paid into the receipt of the exchequer shall be carried to the credit of the consolidated fund of the U. K., a separate account being kept thereof: provided, that no lands, tenements, or hereditaments of any officer or person who by virtue of this act may be required to pay any sum of money, which would otherwise be payable to the said lord chief justice, shall by reason thereof be charged with any such sum of money, or be deemed subject or liable to the payment thereof, or to answer or make good the same, 6 G. 4. c. 82. s. 6.

39. Whenever any deputy shall be appointed, and any portion of the fees and emoluments of office shall be directed to be allowed and paid to the principal officer, in pursuance of this act, such portion shall be duly paid over to the principal, before the rendering of the account hereby required next after the time when such portion shall become payable, and a proper receipt for the same shall be exhibited at the time of rendering such account; and no principal officer shall be deemed answerable or accountable for any sum of money received by any such deputy as aforesaid, 6 G. 4. c. 82. s. 7.

40. The several offices of clerk of the papers and clerk of the declarations shall, so soon as an appointment thereto may be made by authority of this act, be consolidated into one office, and be executed by one and the same person, 6 G. 4. c. 82. s. 8.

41. And whereas it will be necessary to make due provision for the maintenance of the honour and dignity of the office of lord chief justice of the said court, in lieu of the valuable patronage hitherto enjoyed by the person from time to time filling the said office, and which will be taken away by this act; and it is expedient that the lord chief justice of the said court should receive a salary, to be fixed by parliament, in lieu of all pecuniary fees and emoluments now received by him; be it therefore further enacted, That the annual salary of the lord chief justice of the said court for the time being, shall be the sum of ten thousand pounds; to be computed and commence, in the case of the present lord chief justice, from the beginning of the quarter current at the time of the passing of this act, and to commence and be computed, in the case of every succeeding lord chief justice, from the death or resignation of his immediate predecessor, in like manner as if his writ or appointment bore date the day next subsequent to the day of the death or resignation of his predecessor; and that there shall be issued, and paid and payable out of, and charged and chargeable upon the said consolidated fund (after paying and reserving sufficient to pay all such sums of money as have been directed by any former act to be paid out of the same, but with preference to all other payments which shall or may hereafter be charged upon or payable out of the said fund) to the present lord chief justice of the said court and to his successors, as an augmentation of his and their salary, and in lieu of all fees and pecuniary profits belonging to the said office, so much money as will make the salary usually received by the lord chief justice of the said court for the time being, from the civil list, after deducting from the amount of such last mentioned salary, all land tax, pension duty, and other duties charged upon the same, or upon the said lord chief justice in respect of his office, and also all sums of money paid by the said lord chief justice for rolls, books, and dockets provided for the use of the officers of the said court, or of the suitors thereof, according to ancient and present usage, the annual sum of ten thousand pounds herein-before mentioned; which said sums, to be issued in pursuance of this act, shall from time to time from henceforth be paid and payable quarterly, free and clear from all taxes and deductions whatsoever, on the 5th Jan., the 5th April, the 5th July, and the 10th Oct. in each year, by even and equal portions, together with a rateable proportion of the quarter current at the time of the death or resignation of any such lord chief justice, up and home to the day of his death or resignation; the first payment thereof to be made on such of the said days as shall first happen next after the passing of this act, 6 G. 4. c. 82. s. 9. [See further as to the salaries, &c. of the judges, 6 G. 4. c. 84. post. tit. JUDGES.]

42. It shall be lawful for H. M. by any letters patent under the great seal of G. B., to give and grant unto any person who may or shall have executed the office of chief justice of the court of K. B., an annuity or yearly sum of money, not exceeding the sum of two hundred pounds, and the said annuity shall be in addition to and in augmentation of the respective annuities or yearly sums allowed to be given and granted to such chief justice, under the provisions of 39 G. 3. c. 110. [Stat. Dig. tit. JUDGES, pl. 13.] and under 53 G. 3. c. 153. [Stat. Dig. tit. JUDGES, pl. 15.], for enabling H. M. to grant additional annuities to the judges of the courts in Westminster Hall, on their resignation of their offices, and in like manner to commence from and after the period when the person to whom any such annuity or yearly sum of money shall be granted as aforesaid, shall have resigned his said office, and to continue for and during the natural life of the person to whom the same shall be granted as aforesaid; and every such annuity or yearly sum of money shall be issued and payable out of, and charged and chargeable upon the consolidated fund, next in order of payment to and after paying or reserving sufficient to pay all such sums of money as have been directed by any former act of parliament, and as by this act are herein-before directed to be paid out of the same, but with preference to all other payments whatsoever, and shall be payable and paid quarterly, free and clear from all taxes and deductions whatsoever, by even and equal portions, at the like periods and together with and in the same manner as the annuities and yearly sums which may be given and granted under the said acts, and under and subject to the like rules, regulations, and restrictions (so far as the same are applicable), as are contained and prescribed in the 39 G. 3. c. 110., in relation to the annuities or yearly sums of money therein allowed to be given and granted, 6 G. 4. c. 82. s. 10.

43. Every officer and person who now receives for or pays to the lord chief justice of the said court for the time being, any fees, portion of fees, or other sum of money whatsoever, in respect of his office, shall from and after the passing of this act [5th July 1825.], pay all such fees, portions of fees, and sums of money into H. M.'s exchequer, at such times and seasons as the same have been heretofore usually paid to the said lord chief justice, and with such deductions and allowances only as have been heretofore usually made and allowed, 6 G. 4. c. 82. s. 11.

11. Whereas 27 G. 2. c. 9. [Stat. Dig. this title, pl. 594—607. and 157.]

was passed, intituled, An Act for punishing mutiny and desertion of officers and soldiers in the service of the united Co. of merchants of Eng. trading to the E. I.; and for the punishment of offences committed in the E. I., or at the island of Saint Helena; and another act was passed, 1 G. 3. c. 14. [Stat. Dig. this tit. pl. 594—607. and 157.] intituled, An Act to extend the provisions relating to the holding of courts-martial, and to the punishment of offences committed in the E. I., contained in the 27 G. 2. c. 9. intituled 'An Act for punishing mutiny and desertion of officers and soldiers in the service of the united Co. of merchants of Eng. trading to the E. I., and for the punishment of offences committed in the E. I., or at the island of Saint Helena,' to the said Co.'s settlement of Fort Marlborough, and to such other principal settlements wherever the said Co. may be hereafter empowered to hold courts of judicature; since the passing of which acts the territories under the government of the said Co. and the forces maintained by the said Co. for the safety and protection of the same, have greatly increased, in consequence whereof further provisions have become necessary; and it being requisite for the retaining of such forces in their duty, that an exact discipline be observed, and that soldiers who shall mutiny, or stir up sedition, or shall desert the said Co.'s service, be brought to a more exemplary and speedy punishment than the usual forms of the law do allow: be it therefore enacted, That if any person who is or shall be commissioned or in pay as an officer, or who is or shall be enlisted or in pay as a non-commissioned officer or soldier in the service of the said Co., at any time during the continuance of this act, shall begin, excite, cause, or join in any mutiny or sedition, in the land or marine forces of H. M., or of the said Co., or shall not use his utmost endeavours to suppress the same, or coming to the knowledge of any mutiny or intended mutiny, shall not without delay give information thereof to his commanding officer; or shall misbehave himself before the enemy; or shall shamefully abandon or deliver up any garrison, fortress, post, or guard committed to his charge, or which he shall be commanded to defend, or shall compel the governor or commanding officer of any garrison, fortress, or post, to deliver up to the enemy or to abandon the same; or shall speak words or use any other means to induce such governor or commanding officer or others to misbehave before the enemy, or shamefully to abandon or deliver up any garrison, fortress, post, or guard committed to their respective charge, and which he or they shall be commanded to defend; or shall leave his post before relieved; or shall be found sleeping on his post; or shall hold correspondence with or give advice or intelligence to any rebel or enemy of H. M., or the said Co., either by letters, messages, signs, or tokens, in any manner or way whatsoever; or shall treat or enter upon any terms with such rebel or enemy, without the licence of the said united Co., or of the said united Co.'s governor-general in council, or governor in council at any of their presidencies, or without the licence of the general or chief commander; or shall strike or use any violence against his superior officer, being in the execution of his office; or shall disobey any lawful command of his superior officer; or shall desert the said Co.'s service; all and every person and persons so offending in any of the matters before mentioned, whether such offence shall be committed within the dominions of H. M. or the possessions or territories which are or may be under the government of the said Co., or in foreign parts, upon land or upon the sea, within or without the limits of the charter of the said united Co., shall suffer death, or such other punishments as by a court-martial shall be awarded, 4 G. 4. c. 81. s. 1.

12. It shall and may be lawful for the general or other officer commanding in chief the forces of or belonging to the presidencies of Fort William, Fort Saint George, and Bombay respectively, for the time being, having authority to appoint courts-martial, to appoint general courts-martial, and to issue his warrant to any general or other officer, having the command of a body of troops of H. M. or of the said Co., empowering them respectively to appoint general courts-martial as occasion may require, to be holden within the territories of any foreign state, or in any country under the protection of H. M. or the said united Co., or at any place other than Prince of Wales Island, in the territories under the government of the said united Co., and situated above one hundred and twenty miles from the said presidencies respectively, for the trial of any person under his command accused of having committed wilful murder, theft, robbery, rape, or any other crime which is capital by the laws of Eng., or of having used violence, or committed any offence against the person or property of any subject of H. M., or any other person entitled to H. M.'s protection, or to the protection of the respective governments of the E. I. C., or of any state in alliance with the said Co., within the territories of any foreign state, or in any country under the protection of H. M. or the said united Co., or at any place other than Prince of Wales Island, in the territories under the government of the said united Co., situate above one hundred and twenty miles from the said presidencies respectively; and the persons accused, if found guilty, shall suffer death, or be liable to transportation for life or for a term of years, or to such other punishments, according to the nature and degree of their respective offences, as by the sentence of any such general court-martial shall be awarded: provided, that any person so tried shall not be liable to be tried for the same offence by any other court whatsoever, 4 G. 4. c. 81. s. 2.

13. If any person liable to be tried by a court-martial for any such offence alleged to have been committed within the territories of any foreign state, or in any country under the protection of H. M. or the said united Co., or at any place, other than Prince of Wales Island, in the territories under the government of the said united Co. situate above one hundred and twenty miles from the said presidencies of Fort William, Fort St. George, and Bombay respectively, and for which no proceeding shall have been commenced in any ordinary court of competent civil or criminal jurisdiction, shall be apprehended by the authority of or brought before any magistrate for any such offence, it shall be lawful for such magistrate, and he is hereby required to deliver over such accused person to the commanding officer of the regiment, corps, or detachment to which such accused person shall belong, or to the commanding officer of the nearest military station, for the purpose of his being tried by a court-martial for such offence, as herein-before is provided in that behalf, 4 G. 4. c. 81. s. 3.

14. Provided, in all and every case wherein a sentence of death or transportation shall be pronounced for any such capital offence, committed at any place situate above one hundred and twenty miles from the presidencies of Fort William, Fort St. George and Bombay respectively, and being within the territories under the government of the said united Co., such sentence shall not be carried into execution until confirmed by the general or other officer commanding at the presidency, with the concurrence of the governor-general in council or governor in council of the presidency in the territories subordinate to which such offenders shall have been tried, 4 G. 4. c. 81. s. 4.

15. No non-commissioned officer or soldier who shall desert the said Co.'s service shall be exempt from the pains and penalties imposed by this act for such offence, by again enlisting into H. M.'s or the said Co.'s service: but any such non-commissioned officer or soldier shall notwithstanding such subsequent enlistment, be deemed to have deserted, and shall in like manner suffer death, or such other punishments as by a court-martial shall be awarded, 4 G. 4. c. 81. s. 5.

16. Whereas doubts have arisen whether soldiers who of right belong to the corps from which they have deserted may be proceeded against and tried for deserting any other corps in which they may afterwards have enlisted, or from the said Co.'s service, if they shall not after such subsequent enlisting have been placed in any corps, or for any crime committed by them whilst serving therein; be it therefore enacted, That every such soldier shall be liable to be tried by a court-martial, and be punishable in like manner as if he had originally enlisted in, and of right belonged to the regiment, corps, troop, company, detachment, or party in which he shall be at the time of any subsequent desertion, or committing any offence notwithstanding it shall have been discovered or known that he had previously belonged to any other regiment, corps, troop, company, detachment, or party, and had not been discharged therefrom: provided, that if such persons shall be claimed by such other regiment, corps, troop, company, detachment, or party, and proceeded against as a deserter therefrom, his subsequent desertion from any one or more corps in which he may have unwarrantably enlisted, may (unless he shall have been already tried for the same) be given in evidence as an aggravation of his crime, previous notice being always given to such deserter of the fact or facts intended to be produced as evidence upon his trial, 4 G. 4. c. 81. s. 6.

17. In case of any non-commissioned officer or soldier tried and convicted of desertion, wheresoever the court-martial which shall pass sentence upon such trial shall not think the offence deserving of capital punishment, such court-martial may, instead of awarding a corporal punishment, adjudge the offender, according to the nature of his offence, if they shall think fit, to be transported as a felon for life, or for a certain term of years; and if such non-commissioned officer or soldier, having been adjudged to be transported as a felon, shall afterwards, without leave from the governor or commanding officer of the place to which he shall have been transported, return into or be found at large without leave as aforesaid, or other lawful cause, within any part of H. M.'s dominions, or any of the possessions or territories which are or may be under the government of the said united Co., other than the place to which he shall have been transported, before the expiration of the term limited by such sentence, and shall be convicted thereof in the ordinary course of law, every such person shall be deemed and adjudged guilty of felony, and shall suffer death as a felon, without the benefit of clergy, 4 G. 4. c. 81. s. 7.

18. Provided, that in all cases wherein a capital punishment shall have been awarded by a court-martial, it shall be lawful for the officer commanding in chief the forces at the presidency to which the offender shall belong, and having power to appoint or authorize the appointment of such court-martial, instead of causing such sentence to be carried into execution, to order the offender to be transported as a felon for life, or for a certain term of years, as to the said officer commanding in chief may seem meet; and if the person so transported in pursuance of such order shall afterwards, without leave from the governor or commanding officer of the place to which he shall have been transported, return into or be found at large without leave as aforesaid, or other lawful cause, within any part of H. M.'s dominions, or any of the possessions or territories which are or may be under the government of the said Co., other than the place to which he shall have been transported, before the expiration of the term limited by such order, and shall be duly convicted thereof, he shall suffer death, 4 G. 4. c. 81. s. 8.

19. It shall be lawful for any general court-martial to sentence any non-commissioned officer or soldier, convicted of desertion by such court, to general service as a soldier; and that the general or commander of the forces at the presidency to which the said offender shall belong, may thereupon direct, that such service shall be in any regiment or regiments or corps of the said Co. and in any country or place or places out of the possessions of the territories under the government of the said Co., or otherwise, as he may think fit, 4 G. 4. c. 81. s. 9.

20. Provided, that if any non-commissioned officer or soldier in any regiment or corps of the said Co.'s forces, so convicted of desertion, shall appear to have enlisted for a limited term of years, it shall be lawful for such court to sentence any such non-commissioned officer or soldier so enlisted in any regiment or corps of the said Co.'s forces, to serve for life as a soldier, or for any number of years beyond the period for which such non-commissioned officer or soldier shall have enlisted in the regiment in which he so enlisted, or generally in any regiment or corps which the general or commander of the forces at the presidency where such offender shall be tried shall please to direct; and any non-commissioned officer or soldier may in any case, in addition to any service, be further adjudged to forfeit all benefit or advantage as to increase of pay, or as to pension or discharge, which might otherwise have accrued to such non-commissioned officer or soldier from the length or nature of his service; and such forfeiture may, in such cases of desertion, be adjudged in addition to any other punishment, if the court should think fit, 4 G. 4. c. 81. s. 10.

21. It shall be lawful for any general court-martial, before which any non-commissioned officer or soldier shall be tried and convicted of desertion, to direct, if it shall so think fit, in addition to any other punishment such court may award for such desertion, that such deserter be marked on the left side, two inches below the arm-pit, with the letter (D.), such letter not to be less than half an inch long, and to be marked upon the skin with ink or gunpowder, or other preparation, so as to be visible and conspicuous, and not liable to be obliterated, 4 G. 4. c. 81. s. 11.

22. Provided, that whenever any sentence of transportation passed by any court-martial in the E. I., or in the other possessions or territories which are or may be under the government of the said Co. beyond the seas or in foreign parts, is to be carried into execution, or mercy shall be extended to any offender liable to the punishment of death by the sentence of any court-martial upon condition of transportation, the same shall be notified in writing by the officer commanding in chief, or in the absence of the officer commanding in chief, then by the adjutant-general for the time being, to some judge of the supreme court of judicature of the presidency under which such offender shall serve; and thereupon such judge shall make an order for the transportation of such offender, upon the terms and for the time which shall be specified in such notification, and shall also make such other order or orders, and do all such other acts consequent upon the same, as any such judge is authorized to make or do with respect to offenders ordered to be transported by sentence of the criminal courts of India; and the governor in council of such presidency, or governors of such settlement, island, territory, or country respectively, shall and they are hereby required to take order for the transportation of all such offenders accordingly; and all such orders and acts shall be obeyed and done in respect to such offenders, and shall have the like consequence, as in cases of persons convicted of crime and sentenced to be transported, or receiving pardon on condition of transportation; and every person so ordered to be transported shall be subject respectively to all and every the provision and provisions made by law and now in force concerning persons convicted of any crime and sentenced to be transported, or receiving pardon on condition of transportation, 4 G. 4. c. 81. s. 12.

23. If any offender under sentence of death by a court-martial as aforesaid shall obtain any such conditional remission of such sentence as aforesaid, all and every the laws now in force touching the escape of felons under sentence of death, shall apply to such offender, and to all persons aiding, abetting, or assisting in any escape or intended escape of any such offender, or contriving any such escape, from the time when such order shall be made by such judge as aforesaid, and during all the several proceedings which shall be had for the purposes aforesaid, 4 G. 4. c. 81. s. 13.

24. It shall be lawful for the governor-general or governor in council of any of the said Co.'s presidencies in India, to suspend the proceedings of any court-martial which may at any time be holden upon any person belonging to such presidencies respectively, 4 G. 4. c. 81. s. 14.

25. H. M. may from time to time grant a commission or warrant under his royal sign manual, unto the court of directors of the said united Co., who by virtue of such commission or warrant shall have power, under the seal of the said united Co., to authorize and empower their governor-general in council, and governor in council for the time being, at the presidencies of Fort William, Fort Saint George, and Bombay respectively, and their governors and council for the time being at the said island of Saint Helena, from time to time to appoint courts-martial, and to authorize and empower the general or other officer commanding any body of the forces employed in the said Co.'s service, to appoint general courts-martial, as well as to authorize any officer under their respective commands, not below the degree of a field officer, to convene general courts-martial as occasion may require, for the trial of offences committed by any of their forces under their several commands, whether the same shall have been so committed before or after such general officer shall have taken upon himself such command; all which courts-martial shall be constituted and shall regulate their proceedings according to the several provisions herein-after specified, 4 G. 4. c. 81. s. 15.

26. Provided, that no officer or soldier, being acquitted or convicted of any offence, shall be liable to be tried a second time by the same or any other court-martial for the same offence, unless in the case of an appeal from a regimental to a general court-martial; and that no sentence given by any court-martial, and signed by the president thereof, shall be liable to be revised more than once: provided, that nothing in this act contained shall extend to exempt any officer or soldier whatsoever from being proceeded against by the ordinary course of law, unless such officer or soldier shall have been tried by a court-martial in manner herein-before provided in respect of offences committed within the territories of any foreign state, or in any country under the protection of H. M., or the said united Co., or at any place in the territories of the said united Co. situate above one hundred and twenty miles from the said presidencies of Fort William, Fort Saint George, and Bombay, respectively, 4 G. 4. c. 81. s. 16.

27. If any officer or non-commissioned officer or soldier shall be accused of any capital crime, or of any violence or offence against the person, estate, or property of any of H. M.'s subjects, or any other person entitled to H. M.'s protection, or to the protection of the respective government of the E. I. C., or of any state in alliance with the said Co., which is punishable by the known laws of the land, the commanding officer or officers of every regiment, troop, company, or party, is and are hereby required to use his and their utmost endeavours to deliver over such accused person to the civil magistrate, and shall also be aiding and assisting to the officers of justice in the seizing and apprehending such offender, in order to bring him to trial; and if any such commanding officer shall wilfully neglect or refuse, upon application made to him for that purpose, to deliver over any such accused person to the civil magistrate, or to be aiding or assisting to the officers of justice in apprehending such offender, every such officer so offending, and being thereof convicted upon any information or indictment in any of H. M.'s courts of record in India, shall be deemed and taken to be cashiered, and shall be utterly disabled to have or to hold any civil or military office or employment in the said united Co.'s service in the E. I., provided a certificate of the said conviction be transmitted to the judge advocate general of the army to which such offender shall belong: provided, that nothing herein contained shall extend, to require the delivery over to the civil magistrate of any such person accused of any offence, who shall have been tried for such offence by any court-martial in manner herein-before provided, in respect of offences committed within the territories of any foreign state, or in any country under the protection of H. M. or the said united Co., or at any place in or out of the territories of the said united Co. situate above one hundred and twenty miles from the said presidencies of Fort William, Fort Saint George, and Bombay respectively, or against whom any effectual proceeding shall have been taken, or ordered to be taken, for the purpose of bringing such person to trial by such court-martial as aforesaid: provided also, that no person or persons, being acquitted or convicted of any capital crime, violence, or offence, by the civil magistrate, shall be liable to be punished by a court-martial for the same, otherwise than by cashiering, 4 G. 4. c. 81. s. 17.

28. No officer, non-commissioned officer, or soldier, who shall be arrested and committed to prison upon a charge of any criminal offence, shall be entitled to receive any part of his pay from the day of such commitment till the day of return to the regiment, troop, company, or detachment to which he shall belong, or which he shall be ordered to join; provided, that if he shall be acquitted of the offence for which he was committed, he shall upon his return to his corps, be entitled to receive all arrears of pay which were growing due during the time of his confinement; but if he shall be convicted, he shall forfeit all right to any pay from the day of his commitment during the time of his confinement, as well under the original commitment, as under any commitment consequent upon such conviction, and until the day of his return to the regiment, troop, company, or detachment to which he shall belong, or which he shall be ordered to join, 4 G. 4. c. 81. s. 18.

29. All general courts-martial held under the authority of this act shall consist of thirteen or nine commissioned officers, as the case may require; except the same shall be holden upon any officer or non-commissioned officer or private soldier of the said Co.'s forces which shall be serving in any place out of H. M.'s dominions, or of the possessions or territories which are or may be under the government of the said Co., in which cases any general court-martial may consist of any number not less than seven; and except the same shall be holden at Sumatra, or at Prince of Wales Island, or at Singapore, at which places such general court-martial may consist of any number not less than five, of whom none shall be under the degree of a commissioned officer; nor shall the president of any general court-martial be the officer commanding in chief or governor of the garrison where the offence shall be tried, nor under the degree of a field officer, unless where a field officer cannot be had, nor in any case whatsoever under the degree of a captain, 4 G. 4. c. 81. s. 19.

30. Provided, that it shall be lawful for any general or other officer commanding any station, or commanding any detachment, brigade, division, or distinct party belonging to any army of the said Co., which may at any time be serving in any place out of H. M.'s dominions, or of the possessions or territories which are or may be under the government of the said Co., or of the territories of those states in alliance with the said Co., in which the said Co.'s forces are permanently stationed, upon complaint made to him of any crime or crimes, offence or offences, done or committed against the property or person of any inhabitant of or resident in any such place, by any non-commissioned officer or soldier, or other person serving with or belonging to the Co.'s army, being under the immediate command of any such general or other officer, to summon and cause to assemble general courts-martial, which shall consist of not less than three officers at the least, for the purpose of trying any such person or persons accused or suspected of having committed any such crime or crimes, or offence or offences as aforesaid, notwithstanding such general or other officer shall not have received any warrant or warrants, empowering such general or other officers to summon or assemble courts-martial; and every such court-martial shall have power to try any such person or persons so accused or suspected as aforesaid, and to adjudge any such person or persons to suffer any such punishments as shall be prescribed for any crime or crimes, offence or offences, with which any such person or persons shall be charged before such court-martial: provided, that no sentence of any such court-martial shall be executed until the general commanding in chief the army in the field of which the division, brigade, detachment, or party to which any person so tried, convicted, and adjudged to suffer punishment shall belong, shall have approved and confirmed the same: provided also, that every such court-martial shall have such and the same powers for summoning and examining witnesses as any other court-martial; and that witnesses guilty of perjury on examination before them, being persons amenable to this act, shall be subject and liable to the same penalties and punishments as any witnesses examined before any other court-martial are or shall be by any law or usage in force in relation to any other court-martial, 4 G. 4. c. 81. s. 20.

31. Provided, that no general court-martial for the trial of any officer (except the same shall be holden in any place out of H. M.'s dominions, and out of the possessions or territories which are or may be under the government of the said united Co., or on Sumatra, or at Prince of Wales Island, or at Singapore), shall consist of less than thirteen members, 4 G. 4. c. 81. s. 21.

32. Provided, that no general court-martial, consisting of any less number than thirteen commissioned officers, unless holden in any place out of H. M.'s dominions, or out of any of the possessions or territories which are or may be under the government of the said united Co., or on Sumatra, or at Prince of Wales Island, or Singapore, shall sentence any non-commissioned officer or soldier to loss of life or limb, or transportation, 4 G. 4. c. 81. s. 22.

33. Provided, that it shall be lawful for such general courts-martial, by their sentence or judgment, to inflict imprisonment, solitary or otherwise, or corporal punishments, not extending to life or limb, as such court shall think fit, on any non-commissioned officer or soldier, for immoralities, misbehaviour, or neglect of duty; or to adjudge a forfeiture of all benefit or advantage as to increase of pay, or as to pension, which might otherwise have accrued to such non-commissioned officer or soldier, from the length or nature of his service, 4 G. 4. c. 81. s. 25.

34. Provided, that it shall be lawful for any general or other court-martial to sentence any non-commissioned officer or soldier to imprisonment in any fortress or garrison, or other suitable place of safe custody, 4 G. 4. c. 81. s. 24.

35. Every non-commissioned officer or soldier sentenced to imprisonment by any general court-martial shall forfeit all right to any pay or allowances from the day of his commitment during the time of such imprisonment, 4 G. 4. c. 81. s. 25.

36. All general and other courts-martial shall have powers and authority, and are hereby required to administer an oath, or in case of natives of India, an oath or solemn declaration, as circumstances may require, to every witness, in order to the examination or trial of any of the offences that shall come before them, 4 G. 4. c. 81. s. 26.

37. Provided, that at all general courts-martial to be held by virtue of this act, every member, before any proceedings be had before such court, shall take the following oaths upon the Holy Evangelists, before the judge advocate or his deputy, who are hereby authorized to administer the same; that is to say,

'You shall well and truly try and determine, according to your evidence, in the matter now before you. So help you GOD.'

'I, A. B. do swear, that I will duly administer justice according to the rules and articles for the better government of the officers and soldiers in the service of the united Co. of merchants of Eng. trading to the E. I., and according to an act of parliament now in force for the punishment of mutiny and desertion of officers and soldiers in the service of the said united Co., without partiality, favour, or affection; and, if any doubt shall arise, which is not explained by the said articles or act of parliament, according to my conscience, the best of my understanding, and the custom of war in like cases: and I do further swear, that I will not divulge the sentence of the court until it shall be approved by the general or commander-in-chief, or the person or persons by whose warrant or authority the court-martial is held; neither will I, upon any account, at any time whatsoever, disclose or discover the vote or opinion of any particular member of the court-martial, unless required to give evidence thereof as a witness by a court of justice or a court-martial, in a due course of law. So help me GOD.'

And as soon as the said oaths shall have been administered to the respective members, the president of the court is hereby authorized and required to administer to the judge advocate, or the person officiating as such, an oath in the following words:

'I ——— do swear, that I will not, upon any account, at any time whatsoever, disclose or discover the vote or opinion of any particular member of this court-martial, unless required to give evidence thereof as a witness by a court of justice or court-martial, in due course of law. So help me GOD.'

And no sentence of death shall be given against any offender in such case by any general court-martial, unless nine officers present shall concur therein (except such general court-martial shall be holden in any place out of H. M.'s dominions, or out of any of the possessions or territories which are or may be under the government of the said united Co., or to be holden on Sumatra, or Prince of Wales Island, or Singapore as aforesaid; and in all cases where a court-martial shall consist of more officers than thirteen, and also in any place out of H. M.'s dominions, or out of any of the possessions or territories which are or may be under the government of the said united Co., or on Sumatra, or Prince of Wales Island, or Singapore, when the same shall consist of a less number of officers, then such judgment shall pass by the concurrence of two-thirds at the least of the officers present; and no proceeding or trial shall be had upon any offence, but between the hours of six in the morning and four in the afternoon, except in cases which require an immediate example: provided, that all witnesses duly summoned by the judge advocate, or the person officiating as such, shall, during their necessary attendance in such courts, and in going to and returning from the same, be privileged from arrest, in like manner as witnesses attending any of H. M.'s courts of law are privileged; and that if any such witness shall be unduly arrested, he shall be discharged from such arrest by the court out of which the writ or process issued by which such witness was arrested; or if the court out of which the writ or process issued be not sitting, then by any judge or any court of law, according as the case shall require, upon its being made appear to such court or judge, by affidavit in a summary way, that such witness was arrested in going to or returning from or attending upon such court-martial; and that all witnesses so duly summoned as aforesaid, who shall not attend on such courts, shall be liable to be attached in the courts of law, upon complaint made to such judge or court, in like manner as if such witness had neglected to attend on a trial in any criminal proceeding in that court, 4 G. 4. c. 81. s. 27.

38. Provided, that at all courts-martial other than general courts-martial, which shall be held by virtue of this act, or of any articles of war established by H. M. in pursuance thereof, every member assisting at such court, before any proceedings be had before it, shall take the following oaths on the Holy Evangelists (which oaths shall and may be administered by the president of the court to other members thereof, and to the president by any member having first taken the said oaths); that is to say,

'You shall well and truly try and determine, according to your evidence, in the matter now before you. So help you GOD.'

'I A. B. do swear, that I will duly administer justice according to the rules and articles for the better government of the forces of the united Co. of merchants of Eng. trading to the E. I., and according to an act of parliament now in force, for the punishment of mutiny and desertion of officers and soldiers in the service of the said united Co., without partiality, favour, or affection; and if any doubt shall arise, which is not explained by the said articles or act of parliament, according to my conscience, the best of my understanding, and the custom of war in like cases. So help me GOD.'

And the president of every such court-martial (not being under the rank of a captain) shall be appointed by the commanding officer of the regiment, detachment, or brigade, or the governor or commander of the garrison, fort, castle, or barrack, directing such court-martial, 4 G. 4. c. 81. s. 28.

39. Whereas it may be expedient that officers of H. M.'s land forces, when employed in conjunction with officers in the service of the united Co., should in certain cases be associated for the purpose of holding courts-martial; be it enacted and declared, That when and as often as there may be occasion, it shall and may be lawful for officers of H. M.'s land forces, and of the forces in the service of the united Co. to sit in conjunction at courts-martial, and proceed in the trial of any officer and soldier, in like manner to all intents and purposes as if such courts-martial were composed of officers of H. M.'s land forces, or of officers in the service of the said united Co. only, with this distinction, that upon the trial of any officer or soldier of H. M.'s land forces, regard shall be had to the regulations and provisions made in pursuance of the act which shall exist at the time for the punishment of mutiny and desertion in H. M.'s forces; and the oaths administered to the several members of the courts-martial shall be in the terms by that act prescribed; and upon the trial of any officer or soldier in the service of the said united Co., regard shall be had to the regulations and provisions made by or in pursuance of this act; and the oaths administered to the several members of the court-martial shall be in the terms prescribed by this act, notwithstanding any officer in the service of the said united Co. may also have a commission from H. M., 4 G. 4. c. 81. s. 29.

40. Provided, that when and so long as any of H. M.'s forces shall be employed to act within or under the authority of any of the said Co.'s presidencies in the E. I., the power of appointing courts-martial or authorizing the appointment of courts-martial for the trial of any officer or soldier of the said Co. of or belonging to such presidency, shall be in the officer for the time being commanding in chief such of H. M.'s forces as shall be employed within or under the authority of such presidency, 4 G. 4. c. 81. s. 30.

41. Provided, that the party tried by any general court-martial within the presidencies of Bengal, Madras, or Bombay, shall be entitled to a copy of the sentence and proceedings of such court-martial, upon demand thereof made by himself or by any other person or persons on his behalf (he or they paying reasonably for the same), at any time not sooner than six months after such sentences; and in case of trial by any general court-martial in the Co.'s other possessions beyond the seas or in foreign parts, at any time not sooner than twelve months after the sentence given by such court-martial, whether any such sentence be approved or not, 4 G. 4. c. 81. s. 31.

42. Provided, that every judge advocate, or person officiating as such at any general or court-martial, do and is hereby required to transmit, with as much expedition as the opportunity of time and distance of place can admit, the original proceedings and sentence of such court-martial, to the judge advocate general of the army in which such court-martial shall be held; and the said original proceedings and sentences are to be carefully kept and preserved in his office, to the end that persons entitled thereto may be enabled, upon application to such office, to obtain copies thereof, according to the true intent and meaning of this act, 4 G. 4. c. 81. s. 32.

43. It shall be lawful to and for H. M. from time to time to form, make, and establish articles of war for the better government of the said united Co.'s forces, and the same from time to time to vary, alter, and amend; which articles of war shall be judicially taken notice of by all judges, and in all courts whatsoever, 4 G. 4. c. 81. s. 33.

44. And for the more effectual notification thereof to the several judges and persons herein-after mentioned; be it further enacted, That copies of all such articles of war, printed by the king's printer, shall from time to time, as soon as conveniently may be after the same shall have been made and established by H. M., be transmitted by H. M.'s secretary at war for the time being, signed with his own hand and name, to the judges of H. M.'s superior courts at Westminster, Dublin, Edinburgh, and in India respectively; and also to the governors of H. M.'s colonies, plantations, and territories within the limits of the charter of the said united Co., 4 G. 4. c. 81. s. 34.

45. For bringing offenders against such articles of war to justice, it shall be lawful for H. M. to grant his royal commission or warrant to the persons and in the manner herein mentioned and expressed, for convening and authorizing others to convene courts-martial, with power to try, hear, and determine any crimes or offences by such articles of war, and to inflict penalties by sentence or judgment of the same, as well in the possessions or territories which are or may be under the government of the Co., as elsewhere, where the troops of the Co. are or may be employed: provided, that no person shall by such articles of war be subject to any punishment extending to life or limb, within the dominions of H. M., or the possessions or territories which are or may be under the government of the said united Co., for any crime committed within one hundred and twenty miles distance from either of the presidencies of Bengal, Madras, or Bombay, which is not expressed to be so punishable by this act, 4 G. 4. c. 81. s. 35.

46. Provided, that if any officer or soldier, or any other person subject to the provision of this act, at any place out of the presidencies of Bengal, Madras, or Bombay, commit any of the offences for which he may be liable to be tried by a court-martial by virtue of this act, and shall, after the commission of any such offence, go or be sent to any part of H. M.'s dominions, or to any station or part of the possessions or territories under the government of the said Co., or elsewhere, in the course of service abroad, or come or be brought within the said presidencies, or either of them, before he be tried by a court-martial for such offence, such officer or soldier shall be liable to be tried for the same at such other station or part of H. M.'s dominions, or the possessions or territories which are or may be under the government of the said Co., or elsewhere, in the same manner as if the offence had been committed where such trial shall take place, 4 G. 4. c. 81. s. 36.

47. Whereas it may sometimes happen that officers in the service of the said united Co. cannot conveniently be had to compose the whole or part of a court-martial for the trial of offenders liable to be tried by court-martial by virtue of this act; be it further enacted, That in any such case any officer or soldier, or person subject to the provisions of this act, may and shall be tried by a general court-martial composed of officers in H. M.'s service alone; provided, that in every such case the officer convening such court-martial shall specify in his warrant that no officer in the service of the said Co. could conveniently be had, 4 G. 4. c. 81. s. 37.

48. And for preventing of fraud and deceit in the mustering of soldiers, be it further enacted, That if any person do make or give, or procure to be made or given, any false or untrue certificate, whereby to excuse any soldier for his absence from any muster, or any other service which he ought to attend or perform, upon pretence of such soldier being employed on some other duty of the regiment, or being sick, in prison, or on furlough, then every such person so making, giving, or procuring such certificate, shall for every such offence forfeit the sum of four hundred sicca rupees, and shall be forthwith cashiered and displaced from his office, and shall be thereby utterly disabled to have or hold any military office or employment in the service of the Co. in the E. I.; and no certificate shall excuse the absence of any soldier but for the reasons above mentioned, or one of them, 4 G. 4. c. 81. s. 38.

49. Every officer that shall make any false or untrue muster of man or horse, or wittingly or willingly allow or sign the muster-roll wherein such false muster is contained, or any duplicate thereof, and also every officer who shall directly or indirectly take or cause to be taken any sum or sums of money, or any other gratuity, on or for the mustering any regiment, troop, or company, or on or for the signing of any muster-rolls, or any duplicate thereof, upon proof thereof upon oath made by two witnesses before a general court-martial, to be thereupon called (which is hereby authorized and required to administer such oath), shall for such offence be forthwith cashiered, and shall be thereby utterly disabled to have or hold any civil or military office or employment in the said Co.'s service in the E. I., 4 G. 4. c. 81. s. 39.

50. If any officer shall knowingly muster any person by a wrong name, upon conviction thereof before a general court-martial, the said officer shall be subject to such penalties as are directed and inflicted by this act upon those who shall make false musters, 4 G. 4. c. 81. s. 40.

51. Every paymaster or other commissioned officer of the Co.'s forces, or any storekeeper or commissary, or deputy or assistant commissary, or other person employed in the commissariat department, or in any manner in the care or distribution of money, provisions, forage, or stores belonging to the said united Co., or for the said united Co.'s forces, or for the use of H. M.'s troops, or other forces serving with the said united Co.'s forces in India, or who shall embezzle or fraudulently misapply, or cause to be embezzled or fraudulently misapplied, or shall knowingly or wilfully permit or suffer any money, provisions, forage, arms, clothing, ammunition, or other such military stores to be embezzled or fraudulently misapplied, or to be spoiled or damaged, may be tried for the same by and before a general court-martial; and it shall be lawful for any court-martial to adjudge any such paymaster or other commissioned officer, storekeeper or commissary, or deputy or assistant commissary, or other person, to be transported as a felon for life, or for any certain term of years, or to suffer such punishment of fine, imprisonment, dismissal from the Co.'s service, and incapacity of serving the Co. in any office, civil or military, as any such court shall think fit, according to the nature and degree of the offence; and every such officer or person shall, in addition to any other punishments, make good at his own expence the loss and damage sustained which shall have been ascertained by such court-martial; and the loss and damage so ascertained as aforesaid, may be recovered in any of H. M.'s courts of record at the presidency where such offender shall be resident, or in any other court of law having jurisdiction, where any person adjudged by a court-martial to have incurred any such penalties, or to make good any such losses or damages, shall be resident, after the said judgment shall be confirmed and made known; and after the said sum shall be recovered and levied, the same shall be applied and disposed of as the government of the presidency shall direct and appoint, in case the same shall be recovered within any of the said presidencies, and if not, then as the government of the presidency to which the offender shall have belonged at the time of his offence shall direct and appoint, 4 G. 4. c. 81. s. 41.

52. Every non-commissioned officer who shall be convicted at a general or regimental court-martial, of having embezzled or misapplied any money with which he may have been entrusted for the payment to the men under his command, shall be reduced to serve in the ranks as a private soldier, and be put under stoppages until the money be made good, and suffer such corporal punishment (not extending to life and limb) as the court-martial shall think fit, 4 G. 4. c. 81. s. 42.

53. No paymaster or other person shall receive any fees, or make any deductions whatsoever, out of the pay or allowances which shall be due to any officer or soldier in the Co.'s army (without his consent be obtained thereto), other than the usual deductions, as shall be from time to time required to be made according to the regulations of the service, 4 G. 4. c. 81. s. 43.

54. If any officer or paymaster shall unlawfully detain or withhold for the space of one month the pay and allowances of any officer or officers (clothes and all other just allowances being deducted) after such pay and allowances shall be by him or them received; or if any officer, having received the soldiers' pay and allowances, shall refuse to pay each non-commissioned officer and soldier his or their respective pay and allowances, when they shall become due and payable, according to the several rates established by the regulations of the service, then upon proof thereof before a court-martial as aforesaid, to be for that purpose duly held and summoned, every such paymaster or officer so offending shall be discharged from his employment, and shall forfeit to the informer, upon conviction before the said court, eight hundred sicca rupees, and be liable to such further punishment as shall by the court-martial be awarded: provided, that it shall be lawful for the governor-general in council, or the governor in council at the said presidencies respectively, to give orders for withholding the pay of any officer, non-commissioned officer or soldier, for any period during which such officer, non-commissioned officer, or soldier shall be absent without leave, 4 G. 4. c. 81. s. 44.

55. All officers and persons serving and hired to be employed, or who shall serve and be hired to be employed in the artillery, and in the several trains of artillery, and in the department of the engineers, and all officers serving or who shall serve in the corps of engineers, and all officers and persons serving or who shall serve as military surveyors or draftsmen, or in the corps of sappers and miners, or pioneers, and all persons who now are or shall be under the ordnance, and all apothecaries, veterinary surgeons, medical storekeepers, hospital stewards, and others serving on the medical establishment of the army, licensed sutlers and followers, shall be at all times subject to all the penalties and punishments mentioned in this act, and shall in all respects whatsoever be holden to be within the intent and meaning of every part of this act, 4 G. 4. c. 81. s. 45.

56. Any person who shall enlist into the Co.'s forces, and who shall be discovered to be incapable of active service, by reason of any infirmity which shall have been concealed by such person, or not declared before the justice of the peace at the time of his attestation, and mentioned at the foot thereof, may be transferred into any garrison, or veteran or invalid battalion, or into H. M.'s or Co.'s marine forces, notwithstanding he shall have been enlisted for any particular regiment, and shall be entitled to receive such portion or residue of bounty only as shall be allowed by the said Co., by any regulation made in that behalf, in lieu and instead of the bounty upon which such man shall have been enlisted; any thing in any act of parliament, or any rules or regulations relating to soldiers, to the contrary notwithstanding, 4 G. 4. c. 81. s. 46.

57. All officers and soldiers who shall be enlisted in or transferred to the service of the united Co., and all officers in the said Co.'s service who may proceed in charge of, or be appointed to do duty with such enlisted or transferred officers and soldiers, shall, from and after their embarkation to go abroad to such place whereto they shall be sent in the service of the said Co., be and hereby are adjudged to be, during their passage, subject to all the provisions and regulations of this act, and to all such provisions and regulations as officers and soldiers in the pay of the said united Co. shall from time to time be subject to at the garrison or place to which such officers and soldiers shall be sent, 4 G. 4. c. 81. s. 47.

58. And forasmuch as it may happen that offences may be committed by the said officers and men after their embarkation, and before their arrival at their place of destination abroad, which nevertheless cannot be tried and punished during their passage in such manner as such offences ought to be tried and punished; be it therefore enacted, That in every such case every such officer or soldier shall and may, after his arrival at his place of destination abroad, be tried and punished for every offence committed after his embarkation and before his arrival, in the same manner as he would have been liable to be tried and punished if such offence had been committed in any place where the offender could have been tried by any court-martial held under the authority of this act, 4 G. 4. c. 81. s. 48.

59. All sums of money due by deceased officers and soldiers in respect of any military clothing, appointments, and equipment, or in respect of any quarters, or of any mess or regimental accounts, and all sums of money due to any agent or paymaster, or quarter-master, or any other officer upon any such accounts, or on account of any advance made for any such purpose, shall be deemed and taken to be regimental debts, and shall be paid out of any arrears of pay or allowances, or out of any prize or bounty money, or the equipage, goods, chattels, and effects of any officer or soldier dying while in the service of the said united Co., in preference to any other debts, claims, or demands whatsoever, upon the estate and effects of such officer or soldier; and if any doubt shall arise, as to whether any claim or demand made in relation to any officer or soldier is a regimental debt or not, such question shall be decided and concluded by the order or certificate of the military secretary to the government of the presidency to which such officer or soldier shall have belonged; and all such payments shall be good and valid in law; and every person who shall make any such payment out of any such arrears of pay, effects, or proceeds as aforesaid, under the provisions of this act, or in pursuance of any such order or certificate of such military secretary, or into whose hands any such money shall come, shall be and are hereby indemnified for and in respect of such payments, and all other acts, matters and things done in pursuance of the provisions of this act, or of the order or certificate of the said military secretary, in relation to the distribution of such assets; any thing in any act of parliament, or law, to the contrary notwithstanding, 4 G. 4. c. 81. s. 49. [See this section AMD. 6 G. 4. c. 61. post. tit. SOLDIERS.]

60. It shall be lawful for such military secretary to cause all surplus which may remain, after satisfying such regimental debts as aforesaid, to be paid to the person or persons entitled thereto, 4 G. 4. c. 81. s. 50.

61. All such regimental debts shall and may be paid without any probate of any will being obtained, or any letters of administration, or any confirmation of testament, or letters testamentary or dative, being taken out by any person, and the surplus only of such arrears of pay or allowances, prize or bounty money, equipage, goods, and chattels, or the proceeds thereof, shall be deemed the personal estate of the deceased, for the payment of any duty in respect of any probate, or of any letters of administration or confirmation of testament, or letters testamentary or dative, or for the purpose of distribution as personal estate; and it shall be lawful for the said military secretary to order and direct the payment or distribution of any such surplus, in any case in which the same shall not exceed two hundred sicca rupees, without any probate, or letters of administration, or confirmation of testament, or letters testamentary or dative, or payment of any duty of stamps, or upon legacies or otherwise; and it shall also be lawful for any paymaster or other person to issue any sum not exceeding the value of two hundred sicca rupees, which may be due to any officer deceased, or to the widow or relative of any officer deceased, or to the representative or representatives of any such officer's widow or relative, in like manner, without any probate or letters of administration, or confirmation of testament, or letters testamentary or dative, or payment of any duty of stamps, or upon legacies or otherwise, the same to be paid to the person who shall be notified by the said military secretary as aforesaid as being entitled thereto; and all such payments respectively shall be as valid and effectual, to all intents and purposes, as if the same had been made by or to any executor or administrator, or under the authority of any probate, or letters of administration, or confirmation of testament, letters testamentary or dative; any thing in any act of parliament, or law, to the contrary notwithstanding, 4 G. 4. c. 81. s. 51.

62. Every soldier entitled to his discharge under any orders or any regulations made by the said Co., or upon the expiration of any period for which he shall have engaged to serve, shall be sent to G. B. or Ire., free of expence, and be entitled on his return to have and receive marching money from the place of his being landed to the parish or place in which he shall have been originally enlisted, at the rate and reckoning per diem fixed for victualling soldiers in H. M.'s service on the march, 4 G. 4. c. 81. s. 52.

63. Provided, that every such soldier entitled to and claiming his discharge, and to be sent to G. B. or Ire., shall, until his arrival and debarkation in G. B. or Ire., be subject to the provision of this act, and the articles of war framed or to be framed by H. M. for the better government of the Co.'s forces, 4 G. 4. c. 81. s. 53.

64. Any person who shall voluntarily surrender or deliver himself up as a deserter from any regiment or corps of the said Co.'s forces, or who, upon being apprehended for desertion or any other offence shall, in the presence of the magistrate or of the commanding officer of the place, confess himself to be a deserter from any such regiment or corps, shall be deemed to have been duly enlisted, and to be a soldier, and shall be liable to serve in any such regiment or battalion or corps of the said Co.'s forces, as the commander of the forces of the said Co. shall think fit to appoint, whether such person shall have been ever actually enlisted as a soldier or not, 4 G. 4. c. 81. s. 54.

65. And to prevent, as far as may be, any unjust or fraudulent arrests that may be made upon soldiers, whereby the said united Co. may be deprived of their services, it is hereby further enacted, That no person who is or shall be listed, or who shall list and enter himself in the Co.'s service as a soldier, shall be liable to be taken out of the Co.'s service, by any process or execution whatever, other than for some criminal matter, unless for a real debt or other just cause of action, and unless before the taking out of such process or execution (not being for a criminal matter) the plaintiff or plaintiffs therein, or some other person or persons on his or their behalf, shall make affidavit before one or more judge or judges of the court of record, or other court out of which such process or execution shall issue, or before some person authorized to take affidavits in such courts, that to his or their knowledge the original sum justly due and owing to the plaintiff or plaintiffs from the defendant or defendants, in the action or cause of action on which such process shall issue, or the original debt for which such execution shall be sued out, amounts to the value of two hundred sicca rupees at the least, over and above all costs of suit in the same action, or in any other action on which the same shall be granted; a memorandum of which oath shall be marked on the back of such process or writ, for which memorandum or oath no fee shall be taken; and if any person shall nevertheless be arrested contrary to the intent of this act, it shall and may be lawful for one or more judge or judges of such court, upon complaint thereof made by the party himself, or by any of his superior officers, to examine into the same by the oath of the parties or otherwise, and by warrant under his or their hand and seal, or hands and seals, to discharge such soldier so arrested contrary to the intent of this act, without paying any fee or fees, upon due proof made before him or them that such soldier so arrested was legally enlisted as a soldier in the Co.'s service, and arrested contrary to the intent of this act, and also to award to the party so complaining such costs as such judge or judges shall think reasonable, for the recovery whereof he shall have the like remedy that the person who takes out the said execution might have had for his costs, or the plaintiff in the like action might have had for the recovery of his costs, in case judgment had been given for him with costs against the defendant in the said action, 4 G. 4. c. 81. s. 55.

66. And to the end that honest creditors, who aim only at the recovery of their just debts due to them from persons entering into and enlisting in the Co.'s service, may not be hindered from suing for the same, but on the contrary may be assisted and forwarded in their suits, and instead of an arrest, which may at once hurt the service and occasion great expence and delay to themselves, may be enabled to proceed in a more easy and cheap method; be it further enacted, That it may and shall be lawful to and for any plaintiff or plaintiffs, upon notice first given in writing of the cause of action to such person or persons so entered, or left at his or their last place of residence before such listing, to file a common appearance in any action to be brought for or upon account of any debt whatsoever, so as to entitle such plaintiff to proceed therein to judgment and outlawry, and to have an execution thereupon other than against the body or bodies of him or them so listed as aforesaid; this act, or any thing herein, or any former law or statute to the contrary notwithstanding, 4 G. 4. c. 81. s. 56.

67. In all places where the said Co.'s forces now are or may be employed, or where any body of H. M.'s forces may be serving with the forces of the said Co., situate beyond the jurisdiction of the court of requests established at the cities of Calcutta, Madras, and Bombay respectively, actions of debt and all personal actions against such officers, non-commissioned officers, or soldiers, all persons licensed to act as sutlers to any corps or detachment, or at any station or cantonment, or other persons amenable to the provisions of this act, or resident within the limits of a military cantonment, shall be cognizable before a court of requests composed of military officers, and not elsewhere; provided the value in question shall not exceed four hundred sicca rupees, and that the defendant was a person of the above description when the cause of action arose; which court the commanding officer of any station or cantonment is hereby authorized and empowered to convene, and the said court shall in all practicable cases consist of five commissioned officers, and in no instance of less than three, and the president thereof shall not be under the rank of a captain; and every member assisting at any such court, before any proceedings to be had before it, shall take the following oath upon the Holy Evangelists; which oath shall be administered by the president of the court to the other members thereof, and to the president by any member having first taken the said oath; (that is to say,)

'I — swear, That I will duly administer justice, according to the evidence, in the matter that shall be brought before me. ' So help me God.'

And every witness before any such court shall be examined on oath, which such courts are hereby authorized to administer, or if natives of the E. I., on oath or solemn declaration, as the circumstances of the case may require; and it shall be competent for such courts, upon finding any debt or damage due, either to award execution thereof generally, or to direct that the whole or any part thereof shall be stopped and paid over to the creditor out of any pay or public money which may be coming to the debtor in the current or any future month; and in case the execution shall be awarded generally, the debt, if not paid forthwith, shall be levied by seizure and public sale of such of the debtor's goods as may be found within the camp, garrison, or cantonment, under a written order of the commanding officer, grounded on the judgment of the court, and the goods of the debtor, if found within the limits of the Co.'s garrison or cantonment to which the debtor shall belong at any subsequent time, shall be liable to be seized and sold in satisfaction of any remainder of such debt or damages; and if sufficient goods shall not be found within the limits of the camp, garrison, or cantonment, then any public money, or any sum not exceeding the half pay accruing to the debtor, shall be stopped in liquidation of such debt or damage; and if such debtor shall not receive pay as an officer or soldier, or from any public department, but be a sutler, servant, or follower, he shall be arrested by like order of the commanding officer, and imprisoned in some convenient place within the military boundaries, for the space of two months, unless the debt be sooner paid: provided, that from and after the time limited for the commencement of this act [see s. 74. pl. 84.], so much of 53 G. 3. c. 155. s. 106. [Stat. Dig. this title, pl. 554.], intituled, An Act for continuing in the E. I. C. for a further term the possession of the British territories in India, together with certain exclusive privileges, for establishing further regulations for the government of the said territories and the better administration of justice within the same, and for regulating the trade to and from the places within the limits of the said Co.'s charter, as gives to magistrates the cognizances of debts due from officers or soldiers, being British subjects, to the natives of India resident without the jurisdiction of the courts of requests therein mentioned, shall be and the same is hereby repealed accordingly, 4 G. 4. c. 81. s. 57.

68. From the commencement of this act, no soldier being arrested or confined for debt in any prison, gaol, or other place, shall be entitled to any part of his pay or allowances, from the day of such arrest or confinement until the day of his return to the regiment, troop, company, or detachment to which he shall belong, or shall be ordered to join, 4 G. 4. c. 81. s. 58.

69. Every soldier who shall be taken prisoner by the enemy shall forfeit all right or claim to pay and allowance during the period of his remaining a prisoner, and until he shall again return to the Co.'s service: provided, that upon the return of every soldier to the Co.'s service, due inquiry shall be made as to the conduct of such soldier in relation to his being made prisoner, and during the period of his so remaining a prisoner, and before return to service, by some general or regimental or garrison or other court-martial, which shall be constituted under any article of war made by H. M., for the purpose of investigating such cases; and every soldier who shall prove to the satisfaction of the court, by oath of himself or others, or in such manner as such court shall require (and which oath every such court is hereby authorized to administer), that he was fairly and unavoidably taken prisoner in the course of service, without any wilful neglect of duty on his part, and that he hath not served with or under or in any manner aided or assisted the enemy, and that he hath returned as soon as possible to the Co.'s service, shall be thereupon entitled to receive either the whole of any such arrears of pay or allowances, or a proportion thereof, as shall be adjudged by any such court, 4 G. 4. c. 81. s. 59.

70. All officers and persons who are or shall be commissioned or employed in the commissariat department, or as storekeepers, and all civil officers who are or shall be employed by or act under the ordinance, and who are or shall be placed under the command of any general or other officer, shall be to all intents and purposes liable to the provisions of this act, and to the same rules and articles of war, and the same penalties and punishments, as in case of the Co.'s or other forces, 4 G. 4. c. 81. s. 60.

71. And whereas great mischief and inconvenience may arise if it should be doubted whether troops in pay raised or serving in any of the possessions or territories which are or may be under the government of the said united Co., or places which are or may be occupied by persons subject to the government of the said Co., or by any forces of the said Co., are, while under the command of any officer having a commission immediately from the government of any of the presidencies of the said Co., liable to the rules and articles of war, and the same penalties and punishments as the Co.'s other forces are subject to; to prevent such mischief, and remove all doubts, be it declared and enacted, That all officers and soldiers of any troops being mustered and in pay, which have been or are or shall be raised or serving as aforesaid, shall at all times and in all places be liable to martial law and discipline, and to the same trials, penalties, and punishments, in like manner, to all intents and purposes, as the Co.'s other forces, 4 G. 4. c. 81. s. 61.

72. Provided, That nothing in this act contained shall in any manner impeach or affect any matters enacted or declared respecting officers or soldiers being natives of the E. I., or other places within the limits of the said Co.'s charter, contained in the 53 G. 3. c. 155., but that all such matters shall be of the same force, in respect of such native officers and soldiers, as if this act had not been made, 4 G. 4. c. 81. s. 62.

73. Whenever any portion of such native troops shall be serving in any country or place out of the possessions or territories which are or may be under the government of the said united Co., whether such be the dominions of H. M. or elsewhere, on the trial of all offences committed by any native officer or soldier or follower, reference shall be had to the articles of war framed by the government of the presidency to which such native officer, soldier, or follower, shall belong, and to the established usages mentioned and confirmed in the said last recited act, 4 G. 4. c. 81. s. 63.

74. Any person wilfully and knowingly giving false testimony on oath or solemn declaration, in any case wherein an oath or solemn declaration is required to be made by this act, shall be deemed guilty of wilful and corrupt perjury, and being thereof duly convicted shall be liable to such pains and penalties as by any laws now in force any persons convicted of wilful and corrupt perjury are subject and liable to; and every commissioned officer convicted before a general court-martial of perjury shall be cashiered; and every non-commissioned officer or soldier, or other person amenable to the provisions of this act, found guilty thereof, shall be punished at the discretion of a general or regimental court-martial, 4 G. 4. c. 81. s. 64.

75. If any action, bill, plaint or suit, shall be brought against any person or persons, for any act, matter, or thing to be acted or done in pursuance of this act, it shall be lawful to and for all and every person or persons sued as aforesaid, to plead thereto the general issue, that he or they are not guilty, and to give this act and the special matter in evidence on any trial to be held thereupon, and that the same was done in pursuance and by authority of this act; and if it shall appear so to have been done, the jury shall find for the defendant or defendants; and if the verdict shall pass with the said defendant or defendants in any such action, or the plaintiff or plaintiffs therein become nonsuited, or suffer any discontinuance thereof, that in every such case the justice or justices, or such other judge before whom the said matter shall be tried, shall by force and virtue of this act allow unto the defendant or defendants his or their treble costs, which he or they shall have sustained by reason of their wrongful vexation in defence of the said action or suit, for which the said defendant or defendants shall have the like remedy as in other cases where the costs by the laws of the realm are given to defendants, 4 G. 4. c. 81. s. 65.

76. Every bill, plaint, action, or suit against any person or persons for any act, matter, or thing to be acted or done in pursuance of this act, or against any member or minister of a court-martial, in respect of any sentence of such court, or of any thing done by virtue or in pursuance of such sentence, shall be brought into the court of record at the presidency under which such person is serving, or in the courts of record at Westminster, and in no other court whatsoever, 4 G. 4. c. 81. s. 66.

77. If any person shall harbour, conceal, or assist any deserter from the Co.'s service, knowing him to be such, the person so offending shall forfeit for every such offence the sum of one hundred and sixty sicca rupees, and upon conviction, by the oath of one or more credible witness or witnesses, before any of H. M.'s justices of the peace, the said penalty of one hundred and sixty sicca rupees shall be levied by warrant under the hand of such justice of the peace, by distress and sale of goods and chattels of the offender; one moiety of the said penalty to be paid to the informer, and the other moiety to be paid to the government of the presidency under which such offender is resident; and a report of the penalty being adjudged shall be made to the government by the justice of the peace by whom the same shall have been imposed; and in case any such offender, who shall be convicted as aforesaid of harbouring, concealing, or assisting any such deserter, shall not have sufficient goods and chattels whereon distress may be made, to the value of the penalty awarded against him or her for such offence, or shall not pay such penalty within four days after such conviction, then and in such case such justice of the peace shall and may, by warrant under his hand and seal, commit such offender to the common gaol, there to remain without bail or mainprize for the space of six months: provided also, that if any person shall knowingly detain, buy, or exchange, or otherwise receive from any soldier or deserter, or any other person, upon any account or pretence whatsoever, any arms, clothes, caps, or other furniture belonging to the said Co., or furnished and provided for the use of any troops or forces serving with the forces of the said Co., or any meat, drink, beer, or other provision, provided under any regulations relating thereto, or any such articles belonging to any soldier or deserter as are generally deemed regimental necessities, according to the custom of the army, being provided for the soldier and paid for by deductions out of his pay, or cause the colour of any such clothes to be changed, the person so offending shall forfeit for every such offence the sum of forty sicca rupees; and if any person shall buy or receive any grain, hay, straw, or other forage, provided for the use of any horse or horses belonging to the Co.'s service, from any trooper or other soldier, knowing him to be such, or shall move, procure, counsel, solicit, or entice any trooper or other soldier, knowing him to be such, to sell or otherwise dispose of any such grain, hay, straw, or other forage as aforesaid, the person so offending shall forfeit for every such offence the sum of forty sicca rupees; and upon conviction by the oath of one or more credible witness or witnesses, before any of H. M.'s justices of the peace, the said respective penalties of forty sicca rupees, and forty sicca rupees, shall be levied by warrant under the hand of such justice of the peace, by distress and sale of goods and chattels of the offender; one moiety of the said first-mentioned penalty of forty sicca rupees to be paid to the informer, and one moiety of the said last-mentioned penalty of forty sicca rupees to be paid to the informer, and the residue of the said respective penalties to be paid to the government of the presidency under which such offender shall be resident; and in case any such offender who shall be convicted as aforesaid of having knowingly received any arms, clothes, caps, or other furniture belonging to the Co., or any such meat, drink, beer, or other provisions, or any such articles generally deemed regimental necessities, or of having caused the colour of such clothes to be changed, or of having bought or received any grain, hay, straw, or other forage, provided for the use of any horse or horses belonging to the Co.'s service, from any trooper or other soldier, knowing him to be such, or of having moved, procured, counselled, solicited, or enticed any trooper or other soldier, knowing him to be such, to sell or otherwise dispose of any such grain, hay, straw, or other forage as aforesaid, contrary to the intent of this act, shall not have sufficient goods and chattels whereon distress may be made to the value of the penalties recovered against him or her for such offence, or shall not pay such penalties upon such conviction, or give sufficient security for payment thereof, within the space of four days from such conviction, then and in such case such justice of the peace shall and may, by warrant under his hand and seal, either commit such offender to the common gaol, there to remain without bail or mainprize for the space of three months, or cause such offender to be publicly or privately whipped, at the discretion of such justice, 4 G. 4. c. 81. s. 67.

78. If any person or persons shall, in any part of the territories which are or may be under the government of the said Co., directly or indirectly persuade or procure any soldier or soldiers in the service of the said Co. to desert or leave such service as aforesaid, every such person or persons so offending as aforesaid, and being thereof lawfully convicted, shall for every such offence forfeit to the said Co., or to any other person or persons who shall sue for the same, the sum of eight hundred sicca rupees; and if it shall happen that any such offender so convicted as aforesaid hath not any goods and chattels, land or tenements, to the value of eight hundred sicca rupees, to pay and satisfy, or if, from the circumstances and heinousness of the crime, it shall appear to the court before which the said conviction shall be made as aforesaid, that any such forfeiture is not sufficient punishment for such offence, it shall be lawful for such court to commit any such offender to prison, there to remain for any time not exceeding twelve months, without bail or mainprize, 4 G. 4. c. 81. s. 68.

79. All penalties by this act imposed for persuading or procuring any soldier to desert, may and shall be sued for and be recoverable in H. M.'s court of record at the presidency under which such offender shall be resident, 4 G. 4. c. 81. s. 69.

80. Provided, that no action shall be brought or prosecution carried on by virtue of this act, for the penalties aforesaid, unless the same be commenced within six months after the offence is committed, 4 G. 4. c. 81. s. 70.

81. And in order to prevent all doubts that may arise in relation to punishing crimes and offences committed against the 27 G. 2. c. 9., and against any of the articles of war made and established by virtue of the same; be it further enacted, That all crimes and offences which have been committed against the said last-mentioned act, or against any of the articles of war made and established by virtue of the same, shall be inquired of, heard, tried, determined, adjudged, and punished, before and by the like courts, persons, powers, authorities, ways, means, and methods, as the like crimes and offences committed against this act may be inquired of, heard, tried, determined, adjudged, and punished; and every warrant for holding any court-martial, under the 27 G. 2. c. 9., shall remain in full force, notwithstanding the repeal of such act; and proceedings of any court-martial upon any trial began under the authority of such former act, shall not be discontinued by the repeal of the same; but it shall be lawful to proceed to judgment upon any such trial, and to carry such judgment into execution, in like manner as if the proceedings had been commenced under the authority of this act: provided, that no person shall be liable to be tried and punished for any offence against the 27 G. 2. c. 9., or this act, or the articles of war made or to be made by virtue of the same acts or either of them, which shall appear to have been committed more than three years before the issuing of the commission or warrant for such trial; unless the person accused, by reason of his having absented himself, or of some other manifest impediment, shall not have been amenable to justice within that period, in which case such person shall be liable to be tried under such commission or warrant, to be issued at any time not exceeding two years after the impediment shall have ceased; or unless the conduct of the person accused shall have been submitted to the consideration of the court of directors, by the governor-general, or governor in council of the presidency to which such person shall belong, in which case such person shall be liable to be tried under such commission or warrant, to be issued at any time not exceeding five years after his offence shall have been committed, 4 G. 4. c. 81. s. 71.

82. All regulations and orders made respecting the administration of justice by courts-martial, or in any manner respecting the government, economy, or discipline of officers or soldiers and followers of the army of the said united Co., although not expressly provided for in the 27 G. 2. c. 9. intituled, An Act for punishing mutiny and desertion of officers and soldiers in the service of the united Co. of merchants of Eng. trading to the E. I., and for the punishment of offences committed in the E. I., or at the island of Saint Helena, and acted upon by the governments or military authorities at the several presidencies of Fort William, Fort Saint George, and Bombay, are and shall be to all intents or purposes valid, and shall continue valid until this act shall be published and in force; and all acts or proceedings done or had under such orders or regulations are hereby ratified and confirmed, 4 G. 4. c. 81. s. 72.

83. And whereas by 40 [so in the act, but qu. 46.] G. 3. c. 92. s. 7. 9. intituled, An Act to amend three acts, made in the thirty-first, forty-first, and forty-second years of His present Majesty, relating to the conveyance of letters and packets by the post; seamen employed in H. M.'s navy, and non-commissioned officers in the army, within any part of H. M.'s dominions, whilst actually employed in H. M.'s service, were authorized to send and receive by the post, on their private concerns only, single letters, upon payment of one penny for each letter, under the several restrictions in the said act contained: and whereas it is expedient to extend the provisions of the said act to seamen in the navy, and to non-commissioned officers and soldiers whilst actually employed in H. M.'s service in the E. I., and at the island of Saint Helena, and also to the non-commissioned officers and soldiers actually employed in the service of the E. I. C., subject to such modifications as are herein-after contained; be it therefore enacted, That from and after the passing of this act, [viz. 18th July 1823.] it shall be lawful to and for every seaman employed in H. M.'s navy, within any part of the E. I., or at the island of Saint Helena, and to and for every serjeant, corporal, drummer, trumpeter, fifer, and private soldier in H. M.'s regular forces, militia, fencible regiments, artillery, or royal marines, whilst actually employed in H. M.'s service in the E. I., or at the island of Saint Helena; and also to and for every serjeant, corporal, drummer, trumpeter, fifer, and private soldier in the service of the said Co., whilst actually employed in the service of the said Co., and not otherwise, to receive single letters by the post, on his own private concerns only, free from all postage, except the sum of one penny for each single letter, to be paid upon putting the same into any post-office in G. B. or Ire.; provided, that the several regulations and restrictions contained in the herein-before recited act shall have been complied with; and likewise to send by the post, on his own private concerns alone, single letters, upon payment, by the party receiving the same, of the sum of two-pence for the sea postage of each such letter, and of the aforesaid further sum of one penny for the inland postage of each such letter, making in the whole the sum of three-pence for each such letter; provided, that if any such letter shall be delivered into one of H. M.'s post-offices in G. B. or Ire. free of all expence to H. M. or the revenue of the post-office, such letter shall be chargeable with the inland postage of one penny as aforesaid, and to no other charge; provided also, that the several regulations and restrictions contained in the said herein-before recited act shall have been complied with, 4 G. 4. c. 81. s. 73.

84. This act shall commence and take effect from and after 1st Feb. 1824, except where any other commencement is particularly directed; and that from and after such day, all powers and provisions contained in 27 G. 2. c. 9. [Stat. Dig. this tit. pl. 157. 594—607.] shall cease and determine, and that the said act shall be and is hereby repealed, except so far as is herein-before provided in that behalf; and the whole of 1 G. 3. c. 14. [Stat. Dig. this tit. pl. 157. 594—607.] shall be and is hereby repealed, 4 G. 4. c. 81. s. 74.

II. Civil Service and Interior.

85. For establishing the pensions of the bishop, archdeacons, and judges; for regulating ordinances, and for establishing a court of judicature at Bombay, 4 G. 4. c. 71. s. 2. to the end. [See s. 1. ante, this title, Army, pl. 9.] Salaries and pensions to the judges and bishop of Calcutta further regulated, 6 G. 4. c. 85. s. 1—16. [See rest of act, post.]

86. Whereas by 53 G. 3. c. 155. s. 54. [Stat. Dig. this tit. pl. 526.] provision was made for granting certain pensions to the bishop of Calcutta, and the archdeacons of Calcutta, Madras, and Bombay respectively, who should have exercised in the E. I., or parts in the said act mentioned, for fifteen years, the office or offices of bishop or archdeacon, and it is expedient to repeal the same, be it enacted, That 53 G. 3. c. 155. s. 54. shall be repealed, 4 G. 4. c. 71. s. 2.

87. And it shall be lawful for H. M., in manner in the said act mentioned, to grant to any such bishop who shall have exercised in the E. I. or parts aforesaid, for ten years, the office of bishop or archdeacon, and to any such archdeacon who shall have exercised in the E. I. or parts aforesaid, for ten years, the office of archdeacon, pensions not exceeding such sums as H. M. by the said act is empowered to grant to such bishop or archdeacon, 4 G. 4. c. 71. s. 3. [See further, 6 G. 4. c. 85. s. 15, 16. post, pl. 108, 109.]

88. Provided, that if any person residing any time in the E. I. or parts aforesaid, as one of the chaplains of the said Co., shall have been or shall be appointed to the office of archdeacon, and shall have resided in the E. I. or parts aforesaid as such archdeacon seven years, the period of residence of such person as chaplain shall be accounted and taken as and for a residence as such archdeacon, in the proportion of three years' residence as such chaplain, to two years' residence as such archdeacon: provided also, that nothing herein contained shall extend to prejudice the right of any person being or having been a chaplain of the Co., to any benefit he may be entitled to under any regulation made by the Co., nor to prejudice or affect the right of the said Co., to make, repeal, vary or alter any regulations respecting the chaplains of the said Co., or the pay or allowances, pensions, or retirements of such chaplains which they may now do, 4 G. 4. c. 71. s. 4.

89. And it shall be lawful for the said Co. to provide a suitable house at Calcutta for the residence of the bishop, and the expence of the visitations to be made by the said bishop shall be defrayed by the said Co., out of the revenues of the British territories in India: provided, that no greater sum be at any time issued than shall be settled by the court of directors, with the approbation of the commissioners for the affairs of India, 4 G. 4. c. 71. s. 5.

90. And it shall be lawful for the bishop of Calcutta, for the time being, to admit into the holy orders of deacon and priest respectively any person whom he shall upon examination deem duly qualified, specially for the purpose of taking on himself the cure of souls, or officiating in any spiritual capacity within the limits of the diocese of Calcutta and residing therein, and a declaration of such purpose, and a written engagement to perform the same, under the hand of such person, being deposited with such bishop, shall be a sufficient title with a view to such ordination, and in every case it shall be distinctly stated in the letters of ordination of every person so admitted to holy orders, that he has been ordained for the cure of souls within the diocese of Calcutta only; and unless such person is a British subject he shall not be required to take and make the oaths and subscriptions which persons ordained in Eng. are required to take and make: provided, nothing herein shall repeal or affect 53 G. 3. c. 155., or any letters patent issued by His late or present Majesty in virtue of the said act or of their lawful prerogative, 4 G. 4. c. 71. s. 6.

91. Whereas G. 2., by letters patent, dated at Westminster, 18th Jan., 26 G. 2., did grant unto the E. I. C. his royal charter, thereby, amongst other things, constituting and establishing courts of civil, criminal, and ecclesiastical jurisdiction at the settlement of Madraspatnam, Bombay, or the island of Bombay and Fort William in Bengal; and whereas the said charter, as far as it respects the administration of justice at Bombay, has been altered by 37 G. 3. c. 142. [Stat. Dig. this title, pl. 398.], and by letters patent granted by G. 3. and dated at Westminster, 20th Feb., 38 G. 3., amongst other things for the establishment of a court called "The Court of the Recorder of Bombay;" and whereas the charter of G. 2., so far as it respects the administration of justice at Fort William in Bengal, has been altered by 13 G. 3. c. 63. [Stat. Dig. this title, pl. 120.]; and whereas the said charter of G. 2., so far as it respects the administration of justice at Madras, has been altered by 39 & 40 G. 3. c. 79. [Stat. Dig. this title, pl. 120.]; and whereas it is expedient that a supreme court of judicature should be established at Bombay in the same form, and with the same powers as now subsists by virtue of the said acts at Fort William in Bengal; be it enacted, That it shall be lawful for H. M., by charter or letters patent under the great seal of G. B., to erect and establish a supreme court of judicature at Bombay aforesaid, to consist of such and the like number of persons to be from time to time named by H. M., with full power to exercise such civil, criminal, admiralty, and ecclesiastical jurisdiction, both as to natives and British subjects, and to be invested with such powers, privileges, and immunities for the better administration of the same, and subject to the same limitations, restrictions, and controul within the said town and island of Bombay, and the limits thereof, and the territories subordinate thereto, and within the territories which now are or hereafter may be subject to, or dependant on the government of Bombay, as the said supreme court of judicature at Fort William in Bengal, by virtue of any law now in force and unrepealed, doth consist of or is invested with or subject to: provided, the governor and council at Bombay and at Fort William aforesaid, shall enjoy the same exemption, and no other, from the authority of the said supreme court of judicature to be there erected, as is enjoyed by the said governor-general and council at Fort William aforesaid for the time being, from the jurisdiction of the supreme court of judicature there already by law established, 4 G. 4. c. 71. s. 7.

92. If H. M. shall grant such charter as aforesaid, and erect such supreme court of judicature at Bombay as aforesaid, all the records, muniments, and proceedings whatsoever, of and belonging to the late mayor's court at Bombay, or to the late court of oyer and terminer, and gaol delivery, which were by the 37 G. 3. c. 142. directed to be delivered over, preserved and deposited in the new court erected by virtue of the said act, and all records, muniments, and proceedings whatsoever, of and belonging to the said court of the recorder of Bombay, or to any of the courts established under 37 G. 3. c. 142., shall, from and immediately after such supreme court of judicature as H. M. is hereby empowered to erect shall be established at Bombay, be delivered over to be preserved and deposited for safe custody in the said supreme court of judicature to be erected at Bombay, to which all parties concerned shall and may have resort and recourse upon application to the said court, 4 G. 4. c. 71. s. 8.

93. So much of the charter granted by G. 3. for erecting the court of the recorder of Bombay, as relates to the appointment of such recorder, and the erecting of such courts of judicature at Bombay, in case a new charter shall be granted by H. M., and shall be openly published at Bombay, from and immediately after such publication shall cease and determine, and be absolutely void to all intents and purposes whatsoever; and all powers and authorities granted by 37 G. 3. c. 142. to the said court of the recorder at Bombay shall cease and determine, and be no longer exercised by the said court, but the same shall be exercised by the supreme court of judicature, to be erected by virtue of this act in the manner and to the extent herein-before directed, 4 G. 4. c. 71. s. 9.

94. Salaries to the chief justice and puisne judges of the new supreme court at Bombay, 4 G. 4. c. 71. s. 10. [REF. virtually, 6 G. 4. c. 85. s. 2. post, pl. 96.]

95. Whereas by 13 G. 3. c. 63. s. 13. [Stat. Dig. this title, pl. 134.], intituled, An Act for establishing certain regulations for the better management of the affairs of the E. I. Co., as well in India as in Europe, it was enacted, that it should be lawful for H. M., by charter or letters patent under the great seal of G. B., to erect and establish a supreme court of judicature at Fort William in Bengal, to consist of a chief justice and three other judges, to be named from time to time by H. M.; and that the court of directors of the united Co. of merchants of Eng. trading to the E. I. should direct and cause to be paid certain established salaries to the chief justice and each of the judges of the said supreme court of judicature at Fort William in Bengal; that is to say, to the chief justice eight thousand pounds by the year, and to each of the judges of the said supreme court, six thousand pounds by the year, in manner therein mentioned: and whereas letters patent under the great seal of G. B., bearing date at Westminster, 26th March, 14 G. 3., H. M. did erect and establish such supreme court of judicature at Fort William in Bengal accordingly, and did declare that the chief justice and puisne judges of the said court should, so long as they should hold their offices respectively, be entitled to have and receive respectively the salaries in the said in part recited act provided for that purpose: And whereas by 37 G. 3. c. 142. s. 1. [Stat. Dig. this title, pl. 399.] intituled, An Act for the better administration of justice at Calcutta, Madras, and Bombay, and for preventing British subjects from being concerned in loans to the native princes in India, the number of puisne judges of the said supreme court of judicature at Fort William in Bengal was reduced to two: And whereas by 39 & 40 G. 3. c. 79. s. 2. [Stat. Dig. this title, pl. 429.] intituled, An Act for establishing further regulations for the government of the British territories in India, and the better administration of justice within the same, it is enacted, that it should and might be lawful for H. M., by charter or letters patent under the great seal of G. B., to erect and establish a supreme court of judicature at Madras in the E. I., to consist of such and the like number of persons, to be named from time to time by H. M., as the said supreme court of judicature at Fort William in Bengal; and that the court of directors of the said united Co. should direct and cause to be paid certain and established salaries to the chief justice, and each of the judges of such supreme court of judicature at Madras, as should be by the said new charter established; (that is to say), to the chief justice six thousand pounds by the year, and to each of the judges of the said supreme court of judicature at Madras five thousand pounds by the year; and that such salaries should be paid and payable to each and every of them respectively out of the territorial revenues of the said settlement of Madras, at an exchange of eight shillings for the pagoda of that settlement: And whereas by letters patent under the great seal of G. B., bearing date at Westminster, 26th Dec., 41 G. 3., H. M. did erect and establish such supreme court of judicature at Madras accordingly, and did grant, ordain, appoint, and declare that the chief justice and puisne judges of the said court should, so long as they should hold their offices respectively, be entitled to have and receive respectively the salaries in the said last mentioned act provided for that purpose: And whereas by the said recited act, 37 G. 3. c. 142. s. 9. [Stat. Dig. this title, pl. 409.], it is amongst other things enacted, that it should be lawful for His said Majesty, by charter or letters patent under the great seal of G. B., to erect and establish a court of judicature at Bombay, to consist of the mayor and three of the aldermen resident at the said settlement of Bombay, together with one other person to be named from time to time by His said Majesty, to be the president of the said court, and to be styled "The Recorder of Bombay;" and that during such time as the said settlement of Bombay should remain in the possession of the said united Co., the court of directors of the said united Co. should direct and cause to be paid to the recorder of the said court of judicature at Bombay, the yearly sum of five thousand pounds, such salary to be paid out of the revenues of the said settlement of Bombay, at an exchange of two shillings and sixpence for the Bombay rupee, and to commence and take place from such time as therein is mentioned: And whereas by letters patent under the great seal of G. B., bearing date at Westminster, 20th Feb., 38 G. 3., H. M. did erect and establish such court of the recorder of Bombay accordingly, and did grant and declare, that the recorder of the said court should, so long as he should hold the said office, be entitled to have and receive the salary in the said last mentioned act provided for that purpose: And whereas by 4 G. 4. c. 71. s. 7. 10. [ante, pl. 91, 94.] intituled, An Act for defraying the charge of retiring pay, pensions, and other expences of that nature, of H. M.'s forces serving in India; for establishing the pensions of the bishop, archdeacons, and judges; for regulating ordinations; and for establishing a court of judicature at Bombay, it is enacted as therein mentioned: And whereas by letters patent under the great seal of the U. K. of G. B. and Ire., bearing date at Westminster, 8th Dec., 4 G. 4., H. M. did erect and establish such supreme court of judicature at Bombay accordingly, and did grant and declare that the chief justice and puisne judges of the said court should, so long as they should hold their offices respectively, be entitled to have and receive respectively the salaries in the said last mentioned act provided for that purpose: And whereas by letters patent, bearing date at Westminster, 25th March, 47 G. 3., H. M. did, for himself, his heirs and successors, give and grant unto the said united Co. and their successors, and did direct, ordain, and appoint, that there should be within the factory of Prince of Wales Island, and the places then or any time to be subordinate or annexed thereto, a court of record, to be called "The Court of Judicature of Prince of Wales Island," and did thereby erect, create, and constitute the said court of judicature of Prince of Wales Island to be a court of record; and His said late Majesty did, by his said letters patent, further will, ordain, and appoint that the said court of judicature should consist of and be holden before the governor or president and the three counsellors of the said factory for the time being, as four of the judges of the said court, and before one other judge, to be called "The Recorder of the Prince of Wales Island," and which recorder of Prince of Wales Island it is ordained should be a barrister in Eng. or Ire., of not less than five years standing, to be named and appointed from time to time by His said Majesty, by letters patent under the great seal of the U. K., and his said majesty did thereby further direct, that the said recorder of Prince of Wales Island should hold his office during pleasure, and did further direct, ordain, and appoint, that it should and might be lawful to and for the said recorder of Prince of Wales Island to receive from the said united Co. a salary equal to the yearly sum of three thousand pounds money current in that part of the U. K. called Eng., to be calculated at the exchange of five shillings of the said lawful money for every dollar current within the said factory: And whereas by 53 G. 3. c. 155. s. 49. [Stat. Dig. this title, pl. 521.] intituled, An Act for continuing in the E. I. Co. for a further term, the possession of the British territories in India, together with certain exclusive privileges, for establishing further regulations for the government of the said territories, and the better administration of justice within the same, and for regulating the trade to and from the places within the limits of the said Co.'s charter, it is amongst other things enacted, that in case it should please H. M., by his royal letters patent under the great seal of the said U. K., to erect, found, and constitute one bishoprick for the whole of the said British territories in the E. I. and parts aforesaid, and from time to time to nominate and appoint a bishop, the court of directors of the said Co., during such time as the said territorial acquisitions should remain in the possession of the said Co., should and they were thereby required to direct and cause to be paid a certain established salary from and out of the revenues of the said presidency of Fort William in Bengal, to the said bishop, of five thousand pounds by the year, at an exchange of two shillings for the Bengal current rupee: And whereas by letters patent, bearing date at Westminster, 2d May 1814, 54 G. 3., H. M. did erect, found, and constitute such bishoprick accordingly: And whereas it is deemed expedient to make further and different provisions for the payment of the salaries of the judges of the said supreme courts of judicature at Madras and Bombay respectively, and to make provision for the payment to any of the puisne judges of the said supreme courts of judicature at Fort William in Bengal, and at Madras and Bombay respectively, who, during the vacancy of the office of chief justice in any of the said courts, shall execute and discharge the duties of chief justice, of the salary of the office of chief justice, in lieu of that of puisne judge, in respect of the time during which such puisne judge shall so execute and discharge the office of chief justice; and it is also expedient to make further provision for all such chief justices, bishops, judges, and recorders respectively, so as that the acceptance of such offices respectively shall not be the occasion of actual loss to their representatives in the event of the death of any such chief justices, bishops, judges, or recorders respectively, having taken place or hereafter taking place after their arrival in India; be it therefore enacted, That the court of directors of the said united Co. shall and they are hereby required to direct and cause to be paid to the chief justices and each of the puisne judges of the said supreme court of judicature at Madras, in lieu and stead of the salaries paid or payable to them respectively under or by virtue of the said recited acts of the thirty-ninth and fortieth years of His late Majesty's reign, in like manner and subject to the same regulations and provisions as the said salaries have been heretofore or are now paid and payable, and not otherwise, the salaries hereinafter mentioned; that is to say, to the chief justice of the said supreme court of judicature at Madras, the sum of fifty-eight thousand Madras rupees by the year, to be computed from the 1st Jan. 1818, to the time of the passing of this act [5th July, 1825], and from thenceforth a salary after the rate of sixty thousand Madras rupees by the year; and to each of the puisne judges of the said last mentioned court a salary after the rate of forty-eight thousand Madras rupees by the year, [to be computed as aforesaid, and from thenceforth a salary after the rate of fifty thousand Madras rupees by the year;] and that such salaries shall be paid and payable to each and every of them respectively, out of the territorial revenues of the said settlement of Madras, 6 G. 4. c. 85. s. 1.

96. The court of directors of the said united Co. shall and they are hereby required to direct and cause to be paid to the chief justice and each of the puisne judges of the said supreme court of judicature at Bombay, in lieu and instead of the salaries paid or payable to them respectively under 4 G. 4. c. 71., in like manner and subject to the same regulations and provisions as the said salaries have been heretofore or are now paid or payable, and not otherwise, the salaries herein-after mentioned; that is to say, to the chief justice of the said supreme court of judicature at Bombay a salary after the rate of fifty-eight thousand Bombay rupees by the year, to be computed from the 8th May 1824, to the time of the passing of this act [5th July 1825], and from thenceforth a salary after the rate of sixty thousand Bombay rupees by the year; and to each of the puisne judges of the said last mentioned court the sum of forty-eight thousand Bombay rupees by the year, to be computed as aforesaid, and from thenceforth a salary after the rate of fifty thousand Bombay rupees by the year; and that such salaries shall be paid and payable to each and every of them respectively, out of the territorial revenues of the said settlement of Bombay, 6 G. 4. c. 85. s. 2.

97. The court of directors of the said united Co. shall and they are hereby required to direct and cause to be paid to each and every the person and persons who, during the period between the 1st Jan. 1818, and 8th May 1824, acted as recorder of Bombay as aforesaid, or to his or their executors or administrators, such further sums of money as shall, together with the salaries which have been paid to the recorder for the time being, make up a rate of salary to each of such persons so having acted as recorder as aforesaid, of forty-eight thousand Bombay rupees by the year; and that such further sum shall be paid and payable out of the territorial revenues of the said settlement of Bombay, 6 G. 4. c. 85. s. 3.

98. When and as often as it shall happen that in consequence of the vacancy of the office of chief justice in any of the said supreme courts of judicature at Fort William in Bengal, or at Madras or Bombay respectively, one of the puisne judges of the said courts respectively, shall preside for and exercise the office of such chief justice, such puisne judge so acting as chief justice during a vacancy, and until the arrival of the person appointed to succeed to the office of chief justice, shall be entitled to receive, in lieu of his proportion of salary as a puisne judge of such court, such a proportion of salary (and no more) as would have become due to such chief justice during the period while the vacancy shall be supplied by such puisne judge as aforesaid, and that the payment of such rate of salary to a puisne judge so acting or having acted as such chief justice in any of the said supreme courts respectively, shall commence and take effect from the 22d Jan. 1822, 6 G. 4. c. 85. s. 4.

99. In all cases from and since the said 22d Jan. 1822, in which it has already happened, or when and as often as it shall hereafter happen, that any chief justice or puisne judge of any of the said supreme courts of judicature at Fort William in Bengal, Madras, or Bombay, or the recorder of Prince of Wales Island, or any bishop of Calcutta, shall have departed or shall hereafter depart this life, either during his voyage to India or within six calendar months next after the day when he shall have arrived in India for the purpose of taking upon him the office of such chief justice or puisne judge, recorder, or bishop, the court of directors of the said united Co. shall and they are hereby required to pay, or direct and cause to be paid, out of the territorial revenues from which the salary of such chief justice or puisne judge, recorder, or bishop so dying shall be payable, to the legal personal representatives of such chief justice or puisne judge, recorder, or bishop so dying as aforesaid, such sum of money as shall, together with the sum paid to or drawn by such chief justice or puisne judge, recorder, or bishop, in respect of his salary, make up the full amount of one year's salary of the office to which he shall have been appointed; and that from and since the 1st Jan. 1823, when and as often as it shall have happened or shall hereafter happen that any such chief justice or puisne judge, recorder, or bishop, hath departed or shall depart this life while in possession of such office, and after the expiration of six calendar months from the time of his arrival in India for the purpose of taking upon him the office of chief justice, puisne judge, recorder, or bishop, then and in all and every of such cases the said court of directors shall and they are hereby required to pay, or direct and cause to be paid, out of the territorial revenues from which the salary of such chief justice, puisne judge, recorder, or bishop so dying shall be payable, to the legal personal representatives of such chief justice or puisne judge, recorder, or bishop respectively so dying as aforesaid, over and above what may have been due to such chief justice or puisne judge, recorder, or bishop respectively at the time of his death, a sum equal to the amount of six calendar months' salary of the office of such chief justice or puisne judge, recorder, or bishop respectively, 6 G. 4. c. 85. s. 5. [See s. 6. post, pl. 113.]

100. If any of the chief justices or puisne judges of the said supreme courts of judicature at Fort William, Madras, or Bombay respectively, or the recorder of the court of judicature of Prince of Wales Island, shall resign his office in consequence of age, infirmity, or other cause, to be approved by H. M., it shall and may be lawful for H. M., by warrants under the sign manual, to direct and authorize an allowance to be made out of the revenues of the British territories in India, to such chief justice, puisne judges, or recorder so resigning, subject to the limitations and restrictions herein-after provided; that is to say, provided that it shall not be lawful for H. M. to direct any such allowance to be made to any person who shall not have resided in India for five years, either as chief justice or as a puisne judge (or partly as one and partly as the other) of some or one of the said supreme courts, 6 G. 4. c. 85. s. 7.

101. Provided, that it shall not be lawful to direct any larger allowance to be made to any chief justice of the said supreme court of judicature at Fort William, than the sum of one thousand pounds sterling per ann. unless he shall have resided in India as such chief justice or puisne judge, or partly as one and partly as the other, for seven years; nor if he shall have so resided for seven years, shall it be lawful to direct any larger allowance to be made to him than the sum of one thousand three hundred pounds sterling per ann., unless he shall have resided in India as such chief justice or puisne judge, or partly as one and partly as the other, for ten years; nor if he shall have so resided for ten years, shall it be lawful to direct any larger allowance to be made to him than the sum of two thousand pounds sterling per ann., 6 G. 4. c. 85. s. 8.

102. Provided also, that it shall not be lawful to direct any larger allowance to be made to either of the chief justices of the said supreme courts of judicature at Madras or Bombay, than the sum of eight hundred pounds sterling per ann., unless he shall have resided in India as such chief justice or puisne judge, or partly as one and partly as the other, for seven years; nor if he shall have so resided for seven years, shall it be lawful to direct any larger allowance to be made to him than the sum of one thousand pounds sterling per ann., unless he shall have resided in India as such chief justice or puisne judge, or partly as one and partly as the other, for ten years; nor if he shall have so resided for ten years, shall it be lawful to direct any larger allowance to be made to him than the sum of one thousand six hundred pounds sterling per ann., 6 G. 4. c. 85. s. 9.

103. Provided also, that it shall not be lawful to direct any larger allowance to be made to either of the puisne judges of the said supreme court of judicature at Fort William, than the sum of seven hundred and fifty pounds sterling per ann., unless he shall have resided in India as such puisne judge for seven years; nor if he shall have so resided for seven years, shall it be lawful to direct any larger allowance to be made to him than the sum of one thousand pounds sterling per ann., unless he shall have resided in India as such puisne judge for ten years; nor if he shall have so resided for ten years, shall it be lawful to direct any larger allowance to be made to him than the sum of one thousand five hundred pounds sterling per ann., 6 G. 4. c. 85. s. 10.

104. It shall not be lawful to direct any larger allowance to be made to any one of the puisne judges of either of the said supreme courts of judicature at Madras or Bombay respectively, than the sum of six hundred pounds sterling per ann., unless he shall have resided in India as such puisne judge for seven years; nor if he shall have so resided for seven years, shall it be lawful to direct any larger allowance to be made to him than the sum of eight hundred pounds sterling per ann., unless he shall have resided in India as such puisne judge for ten years; nor if he shall have so resided for ten years, shall it be lawful to direct any larger allowance to be made to him than the sum of one thousand two hundred pounds sterling per ann., 6 G. 4. c. 85. s. 11.

105. Provided, that it shall not be lawful for H. M. to direct any larger allowance to be made to any chief justice of any of the said supreme courts so resigning, than the amount by this act limited for the allowance to be made to the puisne judges of the court to which such chief justice shall belong, unless he shall have held the office of a chief justice of one of the said supreme courts during five years of his residence in India, 6 G. 4. c. 85. s. 12.

106. It shall not be lawful to direct any larger allowance to be made to the recorder of the said court of judicature of Prince of Wales Island, than the sum of five hundred pounds sterling per ann., unless he shall have resided in India as such recorder for seven years; nor if he shall have so resided for seven years, shall it be lawful to direct any larger allowance to be made to him than the sum of six hundred and fifty pounds sterling per ann., unless he shall have resided in India as such recorder for ten years; nor if he shall have so resided for ten years, shall it be lawful to direct any larger allowance to be made to him than the sum of one thousand pounds sterling per ann., 6 G. 4. c. 85. s. 13.

107. Provided, that if any person having for any time resided in the E. I. as recorder of the said court of judicature of Prince of Wales Island shall have been or shall be appointed to the office of chief justice or puisne judge of either of the said supreme courts of Fort William, Madras, or Bombay, the period of residence of such person in the E. I. as such recorder of the said court of judicature of Prince of Wales Island shall be accounted and taken as and for a residence in India as a puisne judge of such courts respectively, in the proportion of three years' residence as such recorder to two years' residence as such puisne judge; and that if such person shall have resided in the E. I. partly as such recorder, and partly as such chief justice or puisne judge, it shall and may be lawful for H. M., in manner herein-before mentioned, to direct such allowance to be made to such person as might lawfully be directed in case such person had resided the whole of such time as such recorder, and had resigned the office of such recorder, although such person may not have resided in India for such length of time as to entitle him, under the provisions herein contained, to the allowance of a chief justice or puisne judge, 6 G. 4. c. 85. s. 14.

108. And whereas, under 53 G. 3. c. 155. s. 54. [Stat. Dig. this tit., pl. 526.] and 4 G. 4. c. 71. [s. 2, 3. ante, pl. 86, 87.], provision is made for granting a pension to the bishop of Calcutta, under the limitations therein contained, and it is expedient to make further provision in respect thereof; be it further enacted, That it shall and may be lawful for H. M., in manner in the 53 G. 3. c. 155. s. 54. mentioned, to grant to any such bishop who shall have exercised within the limits of the charter of the said united Co. the office of bishop of Calcutta for five years, a pension not exceeding one half of the sum which H. M., by the 53 G. 3. c. 155. is empowered to grant to any such bishop; and also to grant to any such bishop who shall have exercised within the limits aforesaid the said office of bishop of Calcutta for seven years, a pension not exceeding two-thirds of the sum which H. M. by 53 G. 3. c. 155. is empowered to grant to any such bishop, 6 G. 4. c. 85. s. 15.

109. Provided, that it shall not be lawful for H. M. to direct any such allowance to be made to any such chief justice, puisne judge, recorder, or bishop respectively, who, before he shall have held and exercised such office, or some or one of such offices, for the space of ten years in the whole, shall resign his said office for any other cause than in consequence of illness or infirmity, to be proved to the satisfaction of H. M., 6 G. 4. c. 85. s. 16.

110. The said salaries of such chief justice and judges shall commence and take place from and after their respectively taking upon them the execution of their office as aforesaid, and all such salaries shall be in lieu of all fees of office, perquisites, emoluments, and advantages whatsoever; and no fees of office, perquisites, emoluments, or advantages whatsoever, shall be accepted, received, or taken in any manner, or on any account or pretence whatsoever, other than such salaries or allowances as are in and by this act directed to be paid, 4 G. 4. c. 71. s. 11.

111. The said court of directors shall and they are hereby required to pay and advance to every person who shall be appointed chief justice of the said supreme court to be erected in pursuance of this act, and who shall be resident in the U. K. at the time of his appointment, the sum of one thousand two hundred pounds, and to every person who shall be appointed puisne judge of the said court, and who shall be resident in the U. K. at the time of his appointment, the sum of one thousand pounds for the purpose of defraying the expences of their equipment and voyage, 4 G. 4. c. 71. s. 12.

112. Provided, that when either of the judges of the supreme court of judicature which H. M. is hereby empowered to erect at Bombay, shall respectively leave India, the salary payable under and by virtue of this act to any such judge shall cease and be no longer paid, 4 G. 4. c. 71. s. 13.

113. So much of 37 G. 3. c. 142. s. 3. in part, [Stat. Dig. this title, pl. 401.], and 39 & 40 G. 3. c. 79. s. 8. [Stat. Dig. this title, pl. 402.], as relates to the time during which the chief justices, judges, and recorder of the courts therein mentioned are required to reside in India before any allowances can lawfully be made to them upon retirement, or which limits the amount in the whole to be paid on account of such allowances, shall be and the same is hereby repealed, 4 G. 4. c. 71. s. 14. Pensions to chief justices and judges of Fort William, Madras, Bombay, Prince of Wales Island, on resignation, 4 G. 4. c. 71. s. 15. [REP. 6 G. 4. c. 85. s. 6.]

114. Provided also, that if any person having for any time resided in the E. I. as recorder of the said court of judicature of Prince of Wales Island, shall have been or shall be appointed to the office of chief justice or puisne judge of either of the said supreme courts of Fort William, Madras, or Bombay, the period of residence of such person in the E. I. as such recorder of the said court of judicature of Prince of Wales Island, shall be accounted and taken as and for a residence in India as a puisne judge of such courts respectively, in the proportion of three years residence as such recorder, to two years residence as such puisne judge; and if such person shall have resided in the E. I. as such recorder, or as such chief justice or puisne judge for ten years, it shall be lawful for H. M., in manner herein-before mentioned, to direct such allowances to be made to such person as might lawfully be directed in case such person had resided the whole of such time as such chief justice or puisne judge aforesaid, 4 G. 4. c. 71. s. 16.

115. It hath been, and is and shall be lawful for the supreme court of judicature at Madras within Fort Saint George, and the town of Madras, and the limits thereof, and the factories subordinate thereto, and within the territories which now are or hereafter may be subject to or dependant upon the government of Madras; and it shall be lawful for the said supreme court of judicature at Bombay, to be created by virtue of this act, within the said town and island of Bombay and the limits thereof, and the factories subordinate thereto, and within the territories which now are or hereafter may be subject to or dependant upon the said government of Bombay; and the said supreme courts respectively are hereby required, within the same respectively, to do, execute, perform, and fulfil all such acts, authorities, duties, matters and things whatsoever, as the said supreme court of Fort William is or may be lawfully authorized, empowered, or directed to do, execute, perform, and fulfil within Fort William in Bengal aforesaid, or the places subject to or dependant upon government thereof, 4 G. 4. c. 71. s. 17.

116. Provided, that nothing in this act contained shall extend to affect any warrant which may have been granted by H. M. before the passing of this act, in virtue of any act now in force for the payment of a pension to any person who has resigned the office of chief justice or judge of the supreme court of judicature at Fort William in Bengal, or at Madras, nor to affect the power of H. M. to grant such warrants in favour of any person now exercising the office of chief justice or judge; and that any such warrant and warrants shall be obligatory on the said Co., in like manner and under the same restrictions and provisions as if this act had not passed, 4 G. 4. c. 71. s. 18.

117. For transferring to the E. I. C. certain possessions newly acquired in the E. I., and for authorizing the removal of convicts from Sumatra, 5 G. 4. c. 108. [See 6 G. 4. c. 85. s. 19. pl. 123.]

118. Whereas by 53 G. 3. c. 155. s. 1. [Stat. Dig. tit. EAST INDIA COMPANY, pl. 463.], it was enacted, that the territorial acquisitions mentioned in 33 G. 3. c. 32. [Stat. Dig. this title, pl. 253.], together with such of the territorial acquisitions obtained since that act was passed upon the continent of Asia, or in any islands situate north of the equator, as were then under the government of the E. I. C., with the revenues thereof, should remain with the said Co., subject to such powers as therein specified, from 10th April 1814, for the term in 53 G. 3. c. 155. s. 3. [Stat. Dig. this tit., pl. 465.] mentioned; and whereas the island of Singapore in the E. I., has, since the passing of the said act, been occupied by the said united Co.; and that, by a treaty concluded between H. M. and the King of the Netherlands, on the 17th March, 1824, the King of the Netherlands has agreed that all his establishments on the continent of India, and also the town and fort of Malacca, and its dependencies, shall be ceded to H. M.; and it is by the said treaty further stipulated, that the factory of Bencoolen, and all the English possessions in Sumatra, shall be ceded to H. M. the King of the Netherlands: be it therefore enacted, That the said island of Singapore, and also all the colonies, possessions, and establishments ceded to H. M. by the said treaty, shall be transferred to the united Co. of merchants of Eng. trading to the E. I., and holden by the said Co. in the same manner, and subject to the same authorities, restrictions, and provisions, as the factory of Bencoolen, and the possessions in the island of Sumatra, were vested in and holden by the said Co. before the conclusion of the said treaty, 5 G. 4. c. 108. s. 1.

119. And whereas sundry persons are or may be suffering the punishment of transportation in, or may be under sentence of transportation to the island of Sumatra, by authority of courts exercising jurisdiction within the several British presidencies or governments in the E. I.: it is therefore enacted, That it shall be lawful for the government under whose authority any such person shall have been transported to the island of Sumatra, to order and direct, either absolutely, conditionally, or provisionally, that such person, if within the said island, shall be removed therefrom, and transported for the remainder of his or her sentence to any other place to which he or she might originally have been transported; and it shall be lawful for any such government to order and direct that any person under sentence of transportation to the said island of Sumatra, and not actually transported there, shall be transported to any other place to which he or she might originally have been transported; and the several governments of the said British presidencies and settlements in the E. I. are hereby required to take order for such removal or change of place of transportation, in the same manner as they are now required by law to take order for such removal or change of place of transportation, for the due performance of any sentence of transportation: provided, that no such order for removal, which shall be inconsistent with any indentures or contract of service which any person transported may be subject to, shall be carried into execution without the consent of the parties entitled to the benefit of such indentures or contract, 5 G. 4. c. 108. s. 2.

120. For authorizing the transportation of offenders from the island of Saint Helena, and for more effectually providing for the administration of justice in Singapore and Malacca, and certain colonies on the coast of Coromandel, 6 G. 4. c. 85. s. 17. to the end [See residue of this act, ante, pl. 95—109.]

121. And whereas it is expedient that the governor and council appointed by the said united Co. in and for the island of Saint Helena should be empowered, when acting as a court of oyer and terminer and gaol delivery, to order offenders to be transported from the said island to such places as are herein-after mentioned or referred to: be it therefore enacted, That when any person shall have been convicted before the said governor and council of the said island of Saint Helena, sitting and acting as a court of oyer and terminer and gaol delivery, of the crime of grand or petit larceny, or of any other offence for which such person or persons would before the passing of this act have been liable by the laws of this realm to be transported, it shall and may be lawful for the governor and the council of the said island to order and adjudge that such person so convicted as aforesaid shall be transported, for such term of years as such governor and council shall direct, to New South Wales, or any other place to which by virtue of any law now in force he, she, or they might have been transported, or sentenced to be transported, by or by the sentence of any court exercising jurisdiction within the several British presidencies or governments in the E. I.; and where any person shall hereafter be convicted of any crimes whatever, for which he is or shall be by the laws of this realm in force within the said island of Saint Helena excluded from the benefit of clergy, it shall and may be lawful to and for the said governor and council, as they shall see fit, instead of awarding sentence of execution against such offender, to order such offender to be in like manner transported, either for life, or for such number of years as the said governor and council shall award and order; and the governor and council of the said island are hereby authorized and required to take the necessary measures for the due performance of such sentences and awards of transportation accordingly, 6 G. 4. c. 85. s. 17.

122. If any offender so sentenced or ordered to be transported as aforesaid, shall return to the said island of Saint Helena, or come into any of the territories or acquisitions of H. M., or of the said united Co. in the E. I., or shall come into any part of G. B. or Ire., before the end of the term for which he or she shall be so sentenced or ordered to be transported as aforesaid, he or she so returning or coming as aforesaid, shall be liable to be punished as a person attainted of felony, without benefit of clergy, and execution shall and may be awarded against such offender accordingly: provided nevertheless, that nothing herein contained shall be construed or taken to prevent H. M. from extending his royal mercy to any such offender, or from allowing the return of such offender from such place of transportation, 6 G. 4. c. 85. s. 18.

123. And whereas under 42 G. 3. c. 29. intituled, An Act to authorize the E. I. C. to make their settlement at Fort Marlborough in the E. I. a factory subordinate to the presidency of Fort William in Bengal, and to transfer the servants, who on the reduction of that establishment shall be supernumerary, to the presidency of Fort Saint George; and 5 G. 4. c. 108. [ante, pl. 117.] intituled, *An Act for transferring to the E. I. C. certain possessions newly acquired in the E. I., and the removal of convicts from Sumatra, the island of Singapore in the E. I., and the town and fort of Malacca and its dependencies, and all the colonies, possessions, and establishments ceded by H. M. the King of the Netherlands to His said present Majesty King George the Fourth, by a treaty concluded between their said Majesties on the 17th March 1824, have become and now are factories subordinate to the presidency of Fort William in Bengal, and thereby, by virtue of 39 & 40 G. 3. c. 79. [Stat. Dig. this tit. pl. 429.] intituled, An Act for establishing further regulations for the government of the British territories in India, and the better administration of justice within the same, are subject to the jurisdiction of the supreme court of judicature of Fort William aforesaid; and it may be expedient that some other provision should be made for the administration of justice within the said island and other places aforesaid; be it therefore enacted, That it shall and may be lawful to and for H. M. by letters patent under the great seal of G. B. or in any other lawful manner, to make such provision for the administration of justice in civil, criminal, ecclesiastical and admiralty matters arisen and to arise within the said island of Singapore, and the said town and fort of Malacca and its dependencies, as by his royal prerogative he might have done if the said last-mentioned act had never been made or passed; and in case any such provision shall be made by H. M., then the said island, and the said town and fort and its dependencies, from the time or several times when such provision shall take effect, or from any other time or times to be appointed by H. M. and* all the inhabitants of the said island, and the said town, fort, and its dependencies, and other persons being thereon, shall cease to be subject to and shall be wholly exempt from the jurisdiction of the said supreme court; the said last mentioned act, or any other law or statute to the contrary thereof in anywise notwithstanding, 6 G. 4. c. 85. s. 19.

124. From and after the 1st Jan. next [1826], the colonies, possessions, and establishments so ceded to H. M. and which are situate on the coast of Coromandel, or in the northern circars in the E. I., and all the inhabitants of the said colonies, possessions, and establishments, and all other persons being therein, shall cease to be subject to, and shall be wholly exempt from the jurisdiction of the said supreme court of judicature in Bengal; and the said colonies, possessions, and establishments, and all the inhabitants thereof, and all other persons being therein, shall be subject and amenable to the jurisdiction and authority of the supreme court of judicature at Fort Saint George in the E. I., in like manner as any other place, being or deemed to be a factory subordinate to the government of Fort Saint George, and the inhabitants thereof, whether Europeans or natives, as the case may be, is or are or ought to be liable and amenable thereto; the 39 & 40 G. 3. c. 79. [Stat. Dig. this tit. pl. 429.] or any other law or statute, to the contrary thereof in anywise notwithstanding, 6 G. 4. c. 85. s. 20.

125. It shall and may be lawful for the court of directors for the time being of the said united Co., to declare and appoint that the said island of Singapore, and the said town and port of Malacca and its dependencies, and the colonies, possessions, and establishments so ceded as aforesaid, or any of them, shall cease to be factories or a factory subordinate to the said presidency of Fort William in Bengal, and that they shall be annexed to and be considered as and be part of the settlement of Prince of Wales Island, or as factories, or a factory subordinate to the said presidency of Fort Saint George, or to any presidency or government of the said united Co., or that they or any of them shall be independent settlements or an independent settlement, subject to such government as the said united Co., under and by virtue of the charters granted to them or otherwise, may lawfully appoint, and from time to time, as occasion may require, to revoke and alter such appointments or appointment, and to place the said island, town, fort, and its dependencies, and the said colonies, possessions, and establishments, under such presidency or government, or to be independent, as to them shall seem fit and expedient, subject nevertheless to the superintendence, direction and controul of the commissioners for the affairs of India, in like manner as any acts or orders of the said court of directors are now by law subject; and the said island, town, fort, and its dependencies, colonies, possessions, and establishments, so ceded as aforesaid, and the revenues thereof, and the civil servants connected therewith respectively, shall, from and after the time to be by the said court of directors limited and appointed, be to all intents and purposes annexed to the presidency or government to be appointed in manner aforesaid, or such island and places aforesaid shall be an independent settlement or independent settlements, and the revenues and civil servants thereof shall be annexed thereto, according to the true intent and meaning of such appointment as aforesaid; any law or statute to the contrary thereof in anywise notwithstanding, 6 G. 4. c. 85. s. 21.

III. Trade and Shipping.

126. To authorize the E. I. C. to trade from China to the British colonies and plantations in America, 5 G. 4. c. 88. [REP. 6 G. 4. c. 105. s. 387. See 6 G. 4. c. 114. s. 47. tit. NAVIGATION.]

127. The Moffat and Juliana, Co.'s vessels, were the first employed in this new trade, and arrived at Quebec direct from China, in April 1825.

128. To consolidate and amend the several laws now in force with respect to trade from and to places within the limits of the charter of the E. I. C., and to make further provisions with respect to such trade; and to amend an act of the present session of parliament [viz. 4 G. 4. c. 41.], for the registering of vessels, so far as it relates to vessels registered in India, 4 G. 4. c. 80.

129. Whereas 53 G. 3. c. 155. was passed, intituled, An Act for continuing in the E. I. C., for a further term, the possession of the British territories in India, together with certain exclusive privileges, for establishing further regulations for the government of the said territories and the better administration of justice within the same, and for regulating the trade to and from the places within the limits of the said Co.'s charter: And whereas by the said act, s. 6. [Stat. Dig. this tit. pl. 468.] it was enacted, that it should be lawful for any of H. M.'s subjects, in common with the said united Co., to export, in ships navigated according to law, from any port within the U. K. of G. B. and Ire., to all ports and places within the limits of the said Co.'s charter, save and except the dominions of the emperor of China, any goods, wares, and merchandize which could then or might at any time or times thereafter be legally exported; and also in common with the said Co., to import, in ships navigated as aforesaid, from any port within the limits aforesaid, save and except as aforesaid, into the said U. K., any goods, wares, and merchandize, the produce and manufacture of any of the countries within the said limits, which could then or might at any time or times thereafter be legally imported; and in the said act were contained several provisoes, restrictions, and limitations for the regulation of the trade authorized by the said act to be carried on by H. M.'s subjects, and also for the disposition in the U. K. of all articles manufactured of silk, hair, or cotton wool, or any mixture thereof, imported under the authority of the said act, from any port or place within the limits of the said Co.'s charter; and it was by the said act enacted, that it should be lawful for any ship or vessel fitted and clearing out conformably to 35 G. 3. c. 92. [Stat. Dig. tit. FISHERIES, pl. 504.] intituled, An Act for the further encouraging and regulating the southern whale fisheries, to sail and pass, for the purpose aforesaid, in all the seas to the eastward of the Cape of Good Hope, and in all the seas to the westward of the Streights of Magellan, subject to several provisoes in the said act contained; and it was also enacted by the said act, [s. 20. Stat. Dig. tit. FISHERIES, pl. 333.] that nothing therein contained should extend to prevent the making, during the further term thereby granted to the said Co., such further provisions, by authority of parliament, as might from time to time be deemed necessary for enabling H. M.'s subjects to carry on trade and traffic, directly or circuitously, as well between all ports and places situate without the limits of the said Co.'s charter, and all ports and places (except the dominions of the Emperor of China) situate within those limits, as between the said U. K. and all the last mentioned ports and places, except as aforesaid, but without prejudice to any of the restrictions or provisions therein contained, as to the resort to and residence of any persons in the E. I. and ports aforesaid: and whereas 54 G. 3. c. 34. was passed, intituled, An Act for the Further regulation of the trade to and from the places within the limits of the charter of the E. I. C.: and 55 G. 3. c. 116. intituled, An Act to make further regulations for the registry of ships built in India: and 57 G. 3. c. 36. intituled, An Act to regulate the trade to and from the places within the limits of the charter of the E. I. C., and certain possessions of H. M. in the Mediterranean: and 1 & 2 G. 4. c. 65. intituled, An Act for the further regulation of trade to and from places within the limits of the charter of the E. I. C. (except the dominions of the Emperor of China), and ports or places beyond the limits of the said charter, belonging to any state or country in amity with H. M.; were passed, by which several acts provision has been made for enabling, as well H. M.'s subjects generally, as the said united Co., to carry on trade and traffic, directly and circuitously, under certain restrictions, with the E. I. and other places within the limits of the said Co.'s charter: and whereas 59 G. 3. c. 122. was passed, intituled, An Act to permit vessels under a certain tonnage to trade between the U. K. and New South Wales: and whereas it is expedient to repeal some, and to comprise in one act of parliament others of the herein-before recited provisions of the 53 G. 3. c. 155., and all the provisions of the 54 G. 3. c. 34., 55 G. 3. c. 116., 57 G. 3. c. 36., 59 G. 3. c. 122., and 1 & 2 G. 4. c. 65., and to make further provision for the trade and traffic of the said Co., and of H. M.'s subjects generally, from, to, and between the ports and places within the limits of the said Co.'s charter, and all countries belonging to H. M., or at amity with him; be it therefore enacted, That so much of the 53 G. 3. c. 155. [viz. ss. 6—20. 40, 41. Stat. Dig. this title, pl. 468. 476-490. 507. 513.] as authorizes H. M.'s subjects to carry on trade and traffic to and from the ports and places within the limits of the said Co.'s charter, with all the provisions, restrictions, and limitations in the same act contained, for the regulation of such trade, and for the disposition in the U. K. of all articles manufactured of silk, hair, or cotton wool, or any mixture thereof, imported under the authority of the said last-mentioned act from any port or place within the limits of the said Co.'s charter; and that the whole of the said acts of 54 G. 3. c. 34. [Stat. Dig. this title, pl. 469. 472, 475.], 55 G. 3. c. 116. [Stat. Dig. this title, pl. 662-671.], 57 G. 3. c. 36. [Stat. Dig. this title, pl. 576-588.], 59 G. 3. c. 122., and 1 & 2 G. 4. c. 65. [Stat. Dig. this title, pl. 470-475.], be and the same are hereby repealed, except as to such voyages and adventures as shall have been actually commenced under the authority of the same acts, or any of them; and except as to any suits or actions which may have been commenced and are now depending relative to the provisions hereby repealed, 4 G. 4. c. 80. s. 1.

130. It shall be lawful for any of H. M.'s subjects, in ships or vessels registered and navigated according to law, to carry on trade and traffic in any goods, wares, or merchandize, except tea, as well directly as circuitously, between all ports and places belonging either to H. M., or to any prince, state, or country at amity with H. M., and all ports and places whatsoever situate within the limits of the charter of the Co., except the dominions of the Emperor of China; and also from port to port and from place to place within the same limits, except the said dominions of the Emperor of China, under such rules and restrictions as are herein-after mentioned; any thing in any act of parliament, or in any charter of the said Co., to the contrary notwithstanding, 4 G. 4. c. 80. s. 2.

131. It shall be lawful for the said united Co. to carry on any trade and traffic which H. M.'s other subjects may carry on under the authority of this act; any thing in any charter of the said Co., or in any act of parliament, to the contrary notwithstanding, 4 G. 4. c. 80. s. 3.

132. Provided, that nothing herein contained shall extend to permit the importation into the U. K., or into any colony or possession of H. M. without the limits of the charter of the E. I. C., of any goods, wares, and merchandize, the produce of countries without such limits, which cannot now be legally imported from such countries respectively into the U. K., or into such colonies or possessions of H. M., nor to permit the exportation from the U. K., or from such colonies or possessions, to any countries without such limits, of any goods, wares, or merchandize, which cannot now be legally carried from the U. K., or from such colonies or possessions to such countries, 4 G. 4. c. 80. s. 4.

133. Provided, that it shall not be lawful for any person to carry any military stores to any place upon the continent of Asia, between the river Indus and the town of Malacca on the peninsula of Malacca inclusive, or to the said Co.'s factory of Bencoolen, in the island of Sumatra, or its dependencies [see 5 G. 4. c. 108. ante, pl. 117.], save only the said united Co., or such as shall obtain their special leave and licence in writing, or a special leave and licence in writing under their authority for that purpose, 4 G. 4. c. 80. s. 5.

134. Provided, that it shall not be lawful for any ship or vessel, other than a ship or vessel of the said Co., to proceed from any port or place without the limits of the said Co.'s charter, to any port or place on the continent of Asia, between the river Indus and the town of Malacca inclusive, other than the said Co.'s principal settlements of Fort William, Fort Saint George, Bombay, and Prince of Wales Island, until after such ship or vessel shall have been admitted to entry at some one of the said four principal settlements, without a special licence in writing from the court of directors of the said united Co., 4 G. 4. c. 80. s. 6.

135. Provided, that when and as often as any application shall be made to the said court of directors for a licence, specially authorizing any ship or vessel to proceed to any place or places upon the continent of Asia from the river Indus to the said town of Malacca inclusive, other than the said four principal settlements, the said court of directors shall, within fourteen days from the receipt thereof, unless they shall think fit to comply therewith, transmit the same to the board of commissioners for the affairs of India, together with any representation which the said court may think proper to make upon the subject of such application; and in case the said board of commissioners shall think fit to direct the said court of directors to issue such licence, the said court of directors shall forthwith issue the same, upon such terms and conditions as the said board of commissioners shall from time to time think fit: provided, that in all cases in which the said board of commissioners shall direct the said court of directors to issue any such licence, which they shall have declined to issue without such direction, the special circumstances inducing them to give such directions shall be recorded in the books of the said board, 4 G. 4. c. 80. s. 7.

136. Provided, that it shall be lawful for the said court of directors of the E. I. C., with the consent and approbation of the commissioners for the affairs of India, to declare that any other port or place, or ports or places on the continent of India, between the Indus and the town of Malacca, or in any island in the E. I. seas, under the government of the said Co. or of H. M., shall be considered, for the purposes of this act only, as one of the principal settlements of the said Co., and such port or place, or ports or places shall be so considered accordingly, 4 G. 4. c. 80. s. 8.

137. Provided, that nothing herein contained shall authorize any of H. M.'s subjects, other than the said Co., or persons properly licensed by them, to carry on trade or traffic with the dominions of the Emperor of China, or to export or import from or to any ports or places within or without the limits of the said Co.'s charter, any tea, or in any manner to trade or traffic in tea, 4 G. 4. c. 80. s. 9.

138. Provided, that it shall not be lawful to import any goods, wares, or merchandize from any port or place within the limits aforesaid, into any port of the U. K., except only such as shall be provided with warehouses, together with wet docks or basins, or such other securities as shall in the judgment of the said commissioners of the treasury for the time being, or any three or more of them, in G. B. and Ire. respectively, be fit and proper for the deposit and safe custody of all such goods, wares, and merchandize, as well as for the collection of all duties payable thereon, and shall have been duly declared so to be, by the order of H. M. in council in G. B., or by order of the lord lieutenant in council in Ire.: provided, that copies of all such orders in council, to be issued as aforesaid, shall have been published three times at least in the London or Dublin Gazette, as the case may be; and copies of all such orders shall be laid before both houses of parliament in the session next after the issuing of the same respectively, 4 G. 4. c. 80. s. 10.

139. Provided, that it shall not be lawful for any ship or vessel engaged in trade under the authority of this act, other than the ships of the said united Co., to clear out from any port or place belonging to H. M., or to any prince, state, or country in amity with H. M., where any consul or vice-consul of H. M. shall be resident; for any port or place under the government of H. M. or of the said Co., situate more to the northward than eleven degrees of south latitude, and between the sixty-fourth and the one hundred and fiftieth degrees of east longitude from London, until the master or other person having the command of such ship or vessel shall have made out and exhibited to the collector of the customs, or other person duly appointed, or to H. M.'s consul or vice-consul resident at such port or place of clearance (as the case may be), a true and perfect list in such form as has been settled in virtue of former acts, or shall from time to time be settled by the court of directors of the said Co., with the approbation of the board of commissioners for the affairs of India, specifying and setting forth the names, capacities, and descriptions of all persons embarked or intended to be embarked on board such ship or vessel, and all arms on board or intended to be put on board the same: and when as soon as any such vessel shall have been admitted to entry at any such port or place within the limits aforesaid, the master and other person having the command of such ship or vessel, shall in like manner make out and exhibit to the principal officer of the customs, or other person thereunto authorized, a true and perfect list, in form to be settled as aforesaid, specifying the names, capacities, and descriptions of all persons on board, or who shall have been on board such ship or vessel from the time of the sailing thereof to the time of arrival, and of all arms on board, or which shall during that time have been on board such ship or vessel, and the several times and places at which such of the said persons as may have died or left such ship or vessel, or such of the said arms as may have been disposed of, have been disposed of, 4 G. 4. c. 80. s. 11.

140. So much of the 53 G. 3. c. 155. s. 32. [Stat. Dig. this title, pl. 499.], and of 38 G. 3. c. 57. s. 5, 6. [Stat. Dig. tit. FISHERIES, pl. 327, 328.], intituled, An Act for the further encouraging the southern whale fisheries, 42 G. 3. c. 18. [Stat. Dig. tit. FISHERIES, pl. 329.], intituled, An Act for continuing the premiums allowed to ships employed in and for enlarging the limits of the southern whale fisheries; and an act 43 G. 3. c. 90. [Stat. Dig. tit. FISHERIES, pl. 330.], intituled, An Act for enlarging the limits of the southern whale fishery; and 51 G. 3. c. 34. [Stat. Dig. tit. FISHERIES, pl. 331.], intituled, An Act for continuing the premiums allowed to ships employed in the southern whale fishery; or any other act, as regulates the limits within which ships or vessels fitting and clearing out conformably to 35 G. 3. c. 92., for encouraging and regulating the southern whale fisheries, may sail and pass, shall be and the same are hereby repealed; but ships and vessels clearing out conformably to 35 G. 3. c. 92. [Stat. Dig. tit. FISHERIES, pl. 304.], shall be subject to such and the same restrictions as the ships and vessels of H. M.'s subjects generally engaged in trade under the authority of this act are hereby made subject to, 4 G. 4. c. 80. s. 12.

141. All goods and commodities imported under this act into the island of Malta or its dependencies, or into the port of Gibraltar, from any ports or places within the limits of the said Co.'s charter, may be re-exported from the said island, port, or places to the U. K., and imported into any of the ports where such goods and commodities may be lawfully imported, in like manner and subject to all such regulations and provisions, as if such goods and commodities were imported directly from the place of their growth, production, or manufacture; any thing in 5 G. 4. c. 43. [post, tit. NAVIGATION.], intituled, An Act for the encouragement of navigation and commerce, by regulating the importation of goods and merchandize, so far as relates to the countries or places from whence and the ships in which such importation shall be made, or in any other act to the contrary notwithstanding, 4 G. 4. c. 80. s. 13.

142. From and after the passing of this act [18th July 1823.] there shall be raised, levied, collected, and paid unto H. M., his heirs and successors, upon the importation of any goods, wares, and merchandize, the produce or manufacture of any country within the limits of the said Co.'s charter, into H. M.'s possessions in America and the West Indies, from any port or place, not being a port or place in the U. K., the same duties which are payable on such goods, wares, and merchandize respectively, if imported into such possessions from the U. K. [see 3 G. 4. c. 45. post, tit. NAVIGATION.]; and the same shall be raised, levied, collected, paid, and received under the management of the commissioners of the customs in Eng., and shall be applied and appropriated in such and the like manner and form, and by such and the like rules, ways, means, and methods respectively, and under such penalties and forfeitures, as the duties authorized by 3 G. 4. c. 45., intituled, An Act to regulate the trade between H. M.'s possessions in America and the West Indies, and other parts of the world, are or may be raised, levied, collected, paid, recovered, applied, and appropriated, 4 G. 4. c. 80. s. 14.

143. Provided, that nothing in this act contained shall in anywise affect the power vested in H. M. in council, by 1 G. 4. c. 11., intituled, An Act to continue, until the 5th July 1825, an act of the fifty-seventh year of His late Majesty, for regulating the trade and commerce to and from the Cape of Good Hope, and for regulating the trade of the island of Mauritius: and that nothing herein-before contained shall extend to affect the regulations, restrictions, and provisions contained in 54 G. 3. c. 36., intituled, An Act to repeal the duties of customs payable on goods, wares, and merchandize imported into G. B. from any port or place within the limits of the charter granted to the united Co. of merchants of Eng. trading to the E. I., and to grant other duties in lieu thereof; and to establish further regulations for the better security of the revenue on goods so imported; and to alter the periods of making up and presenting certain accounts of the said Co. to parliament; to continue in force until the tenth day of April, one thousand eight hundred and nineteen; or in 54 G. 3. c. 103., intituled, An Act to grant, until the tenth day of April, one thousand eight hundred and nineteen, certain duties on goods, wares, and merchandize imported into Ire. from any port or place within the limits of the charter granted to the united Co. of merchants of Eng. trading to the E. I., and to establish further regulations for the better security of the revenue on goods so imported; or in 55 G. 3. c. 10., intituled, An Act to make further provision respecting the duties payable upon E. I. goods, and to allow bond to be given for payment of such duties upon such goods when imported by private traders; or in 59 G. 3. c. 33., intituled, An Act to continue, until the first day of July, one thousand eight hundred and twenty-one, several acts of the fifty-fourth and fifty-fifth years of His present Majesty, respecting the duties of customs payable on merchandize imported into G. B. from any place within the limits of the charter granted to the united Co. of merchants of Eng. trading to the E. I.; or in 59 G. 3. c. 52., intituled, An Act to repeal the several duties of customs chargeable in G. B., and to grant other duties in lieu thereof; or in 1 & 2 G. 4. c. 106., intituled, An Act to continue, until the first day of July, one thousand eight hundred and twenty-four, several acts of His late Majesty respecting the duties of customs payable on merchandize imported into G. B. and Ire. from any place within the limits of the E. I. Co.'s charter, and to increase the duties payable on the importation of sugar from the E. I., until the twenty-fifth day of March, one thousand eight hundred and twenty-three in G. B., and until the first day of July, one thousand eight hundred and twenty-four in Ire., 4 G. 4. c. 80. s. 15.

144. Provided, that nothing in this act contained shall extend to repeal any of the provisions of the 55 G. 3. c. 155. s. 38. &c. [Stat. Dig. this title, pl. 505.] concerning the resort of persons to the E. I., or other places within the limits of the Co.'s charter, or to permit any persons engaged in trade under the authority of this act to reside at any place on the continent of Asia between the river Indus and the town of Malacca, or at the said Co.'s factory of Bencoolen or its dependencies [see 5 G. 4. c. 108. ante, pl. 117.], without permission duly obtained, in conformity to the said act of the said Co., 4 G. 4. c. 80. s. 16.

145. Provided, that nothing in this act contained shall extend to repeal or affect any of the powers, provisions, clauses, matters, or things contained in an act, 33 G. 3. c. 52. [Stat. Dig. this title, pl. 253, et seq.] intituled, An Act for continuing in the E. I. Co. for a further term the possession of the English territories in India, together with their exclusive trade, under certain limitations; for establishing further regulations for the government of the said territories, and the better administration of justice within the same; for appropriating to certain uses the revenues and profits of the said Co.; and for making provision for the good order and government of the towns of Calcutta, Madras, and Bombay; or in 33 G. 3. (Ir.) intituled, An Act for regulating the trade of Ire. to and from the E. I., under certain conditions and provisions, for a time therein mentioned; for the purpose of restraining clandestine and illicit trade into and from the E. I. and parts within the limits of the said Co.'s charter; or in the said act of the 53 G. 3. c. 155., relative to such clandestine and illicit trade; but that the same shall be deemed to be and continue in force, and to apply to all ships and vessels of H. M.'s subjects, other than the ships of the said Co., sailing or being found within the limits of said Co.'s charter, and not having complied with the directions of this act, and to all and every person who shall be found on board the same, or shall have been conveyed on board the same into any place within the said limits, and also to every person who shall be found at any place on the continent of Asia between the river Indus and the town of Malacca, or at the said Co.'s factory of Bencoolen or its dependencies, or at any place within the dominions of the Emperor of China, contrary to the true intent and meaning of the 53 G. 3. c. 155., or of this act, 4 G. 4. c. 80. s. 17.

146. If any commander or other officer of any ship or vessel engaged in trade under this act, shall knowingly and wilfully take on board, or connive at the taking on board any person, or exhibit any false or incomplete list of the persons embarked or intended to be embarked on board of his vessel, contrary to the true intent and meaning of the 53 G. 3. c. 155., or of this act, every such commander or officer who shall offend therein, shall incur and forfeit for every offence one hundred pounds, to be recovered in such and the same manner as the penalties imposed by the said acts [so in the act, but qu. only, 53 G. 3. c. 155.,] or either of them, are thereby made recoverable; one half part of each penalty shall belong to such person who shall inform or sue for the same, and the other half part to the said united Co.; and if the said united Co. shall inform or sue for the same, then the whole of the said penalty shall belong to the said Co., 4 G. 4. c. 80. s. 18.

147. Whereas by 4 G. 4. c. 41., intituled, An Act for the registering of vessels, provision is made for registering ships and vessels in territories, countries, islands, and places under the government of the E. I. C.; be it enacted, That all ships and vessels so registered shall have all the rights and privileges of trade which ships and vessels registered in any other possession of H. M. have by virtue of the said act or of any other law in that behalf, and shall be subject to such and the like regulations and provisions as such ships and vessels registered in other possessions of H. M. are subject to, and to none other save as herein-after provided with respect to the crews of such ships and vessels, 4 G. 4. c. 80. s. 19.

148. Provided, that no Asiatic sailors, Lascars, or natives of any of the territories, countries, islands, or places within the limits of the charter of the E. I. C., although born in territories, countries, islands, or places under the government of H. M., or of the E. I. C., shall at any time be deemed or taken to be British sailors, seamen, or mariners, within the intent of 34 G. 3. c. 68., intituled, An Act for the further encouragement of British mariners, and for other purposes therein mentioned, or of any other act of parliament relating to the navigation of British ships by subjects of H. M., for the purpose of entitling any ship or vessel to be deemed to be a British ship navigated according to law, and to have the privileges and advantages of British ships having the master and three fourths of the mariners British subjects: provided also, that it shall be lawful for H. M., by his royal proclamation, upon or after the commencement of any hostilities, to permit all merchant ships or any other trading vessels, and all privateers, to be manned wholly, or in any such proportions as shall be specified in any such proclamation, with such Asiatic sailors, Lascars, or natives aforesaid, for and during such periods as shall be specified in any such proclamation as aforesaid, 4 G. 4. c. 80. s. 20.

149. And whereas Lascars and other natives of the East are not deemed to be equal in strength and use to European or other seamen, and the requiring the proportion of three fourths of British seamen in ships having as part of the crew Lascars and natives of the East, would compel such ships to carry a larger number of British seamen than other ships, or to employ a smaller number of Lascars and natives of the East than would be sufficient to make a proper crew; be it therefore enacted, That any ship or vessel duly registered, manned in part with Lascars or natives of India, which shall be commanded by a British master, and navigated by four British seamen, as part of the crew, for every hundred tons of her registered burthen, and so in proportion for any part of a hundred tons, shall be deemed, construed, and taken to be navigated according to law as to the crew of any such ship or vessel, although the number of such British seamen shall not be equal to the proportion of three fourths of the whole crew of such ship or vessel; any thing in any act of parliament, or law, to the contrary notwithstanding, 4 G. 4. c. 80. s. 21.

150. And whereas it may not always be possible to procure the due proportion of British seamen at ports in India, for vessels sailing from India; be it therefore enacted, That it shall be lawful for any of the governments of the E. I. C. in India, or for any governor or lieutenant-governor of any colony, territory, or island belonging to H. M., within the limits of the said charter, and they and he are hereby required, on application made by the owner or commander of any ship or vessel, and after having ascertained by due inquiry that a sufficient number of British seamen cannot be procured from the crew of any ship or vessel sailing from India, within ten days from such application, to certify the same, and license such ship or vessel to sail and carry on her voyage with a less proportion of British seamen than required by law; and every such ship, having on board such licence, and the proportion of British seamen therein specified, shall be deemed to be navigated according to law, notwithstanding such deficiency of British seamen, 4 G. 4. c. 80. s. 22.

151. Provided always, that nothing in this act, or in any other act of parliament contained, shall extend or be construed to extend to require any number of British seamen to be on board as part of the crew or mariners of any ship or vessel employed in trade only between ports and places within the limits of the charter of the said Co., including the Cape of Good Hope, 4 G. 4. c. 80. s. 23.

152. From and after the 1st June 1824, all the provisions contained in 54 G. 3. c. 154. s. 23. [Stat. Dig. this title, pl. 659—661.], intituled, An Act to continue until the first day of Jan. one thousand eight hundred and sixteen, and to amend several acts for altering importations from and exportations to the places within the limits of the charter of the E. I. C., in ships not of British-built, and for the better maintenance and care of Lascars and other Asiatic seamen arriving in this kingdom, relative to Asiatic sailors, Lascars, or natives of any territories, countries, or places within the limits of the charter of the said united Co., shall be and are hereby repealed; save and except as to the recovery of any sums of money which have become or may become due on any bond which may have been or ought to have been entered into before the said 1st June 1824, or of any sums of money which have otherwise become or may become due by virtue of the said act, before the said 1st June 1824, all which sums of money shall be recovered in the same manner as if this act had not been passed, 4 G. 4. c. 80. s. 24.

153. It shall be lawful to and for the governor-general of Fort William in Bengal, in council, and he is hereby required, as soon as may be, to make, ordain, and publish, and from time to time, as occasion may require, to repeal and alter, and newly to make, ordain, and publish, such rules and regulations, to be observed by masters, officers, and owners of ships and vessels trading under this act, the crews of which ships or vessels shall be wholly or in part composed of Asiatic sailors, Lascars, or natives of any of the territories, countries, islands, or places within the limits of the charter of the said united Co., for the due supply of provisions, clothing, and other necessary accommodation of such Asiatic sailors, Lascars, and natives aforesaid, whilst they shall be on board such ships or vessels, and whilst absent from the countries or places to which they shall respectively belong, and until they shall be carried back to the places to which they may belong, or from whence they may have been brought, and for the conveyance back of such Asiatic sailors, Lascars, or natives as aforesaid, within a reasonable time to be fixed by such rules or regulations, 4 G. 4. c. 80. s. 25.

154. All such rules and regulations, until they shall be repealed or altered, shall be observed and performed according to the true intent and meaning thereof, in like manner as if they had been herein inserted and had formed part of this act; and a copy of all and every such rules and regulations, signed and authenticated as such by the secretary for the time being of the government of Bengal, or by the secretary for the time being of the said united Co., shall be deemed, and received, and taken, in and by all courts, justices, and other persons, as full, sufficient and conclusive evidence of such rules and regulations, 4 G. 4. c. 80. s. 26.

155. The master or other person having the command of every ship or vessel trading under this act, which from and after the passing of this act [18th July 1823.], shall arrive at any port in the U. K. of G. B. or Ire., and which shall have on board, or which during any part of her voyage shall have had on board, either as part of her crew or in any other character, or for any other reason, any Asiatic sailor, Lascar, or native of any of the territories, countries, islands, or places within the limits of the charter of the said united Co., before such ship or vessel shall be admitted to entry, shall make out and exhibit to the principal officers of the customs, or other person thereunto lawfully authorized, a true and perfect list and description of every such Asiatic sailor, Lascar, or native aforesaid, which shall then be, or who during any part of her voyage shall have been on board such ship or vessel, with a true account and statement what shall have become of every such Asiatic sailor, Lascar, and native aforesaid, who may have been and shall not then be on board, 4 G. 4. c. 80. s. 27.

156. For every breach or non-observance of any rule or regulation to be made in pursuance of this act, in relation to Asiatic sailors, Lascars, or natives aforesaid, which shall have happened or taken place, and for every omission to make out and exhibit such list, description, account, or statement of and respecting all such Asiatic sailors, Lascars, or natives aforesaid, as herein is required, the master or commander and all and every the owners and owner of the ship or vessel on board which any such Asiatic sailor, Lascar, or native aforesaid, shall be or shall have been, shall forfeit the sum of ten pounds for every Asiatic sailor, Lascar, or native aforesaid, in respect of whom such breach, non-observance, omission or defect shall have happened or taken place, to be recovered against the master, commander, and owners jointly or severally, by bill, plaint, information, or action, in any of H. M.'s courts of record in the U. K. of G. B. and Ire., or in the E. I. or elsewhere, to be commenced in the county or presidency or place where any such offender may happen to be, or by conviction in a summary way before two justices of the peace in the U. K., or in the E. I., of the county or presidency where any such offender may happen to be; and of which sums so to be forfeited, one third part thereof shall go, belong, and be paid to the person who shall inform or sue for the same, and the other two third parts thereof shall be paid to such person as the court or justices before whom the same shall be recovered shall award, to be applied in payment or reimbursement of any expence which may have been incurred by or for the use of the Asiatic sailor, Lascar, or native aforesaid, or the respective Asiatic sailors, Lascars, or natives aforesaid, in respect of whom such forfeiture or forfeitures shall have been recovered, or in such other manner, for his or their maintenance, return home, or benefit, as the court or justices before whom the same shall be recovered shall direct, 4 G. 4. c. 80. s. 28.

157. And for the more easy and speedy conviction of the offenders under this act, be it further enacted, That the justices of the peace before whom any person shall be convicted of any offence under this act, shall cause the conviction to be drawn up in the following form of words, or in any other form of words to the like effect, as the case may happen; viz.

'Be it remembered, that on the ——— day of ——— in the year of our Lord ——— A. B. [the offender or offenders] is [or are] convicted before us, two of H. M.'s justices of the peace for [the county or presidency, as the case may be] by virtue of an act made in the fourth year of the reign of H. M. King George the Fourth, intituled, [setting forth the title of this act] of having [here state the offence or offences] which offence [or offences, as the case may be] has, by confession of the offender [or offenders, or the oath of one or more credible witness or witnesses, as the case may be]; for which said offence [or offences, as the case may be] we do adjudge that the said offender [or offenders] hath [or have] forfeited and do pay the sum of [the amount forfeited]; one third part whereof we do order and direct to be paid to [the informer], and the other two thirds thereof to C. D. and E. F. [such persons as the said justices shall direct] to be applied [in such manner as the case may require] pursuant to the provisions of the said act. Given under our hands and seals the day and year first above written.'

4 G. 4. c. 80. s. 29.

158. All sums of money of which any person shall be so convicted as aforesaid, shall be levied by distress and sale of the goods and chattels of the offender; and for want of sufficient distress every such offender may be committed to prison in the common gaol or house of correction, for the space of three calendar months, 4 G. 4. c. 80. s. 30.

159. And whereas it may happen that Asiatic sailors, Lascars, and natives aforesaid, may refuse to accept the maintenance to be provided for them under the rules and regulations before referred to, or to return home in the ships or vessels which may be engaged for that purpose; be it therefore enacted, That if any such Asiatic sailor, Lascar, or native aforesaid, shall at any time be convicted of an act of vagrancy under any of the laws in force in the U. K. respecting vagrants, it shall be lawful to and for the justice or justices or magistrates before whom such conviction shall take place, to order that he shall be shipped on board any ship or vessel bound to the place, or as near as may be to the place to which he shall belong, or from which he shall have been brought, and the commander of which shall be willing to take charge of him in order to his being returned thereto, at the expence of the person liable under any rule or regulation to be made as before mentioned, or of any other person being otherwise willing to defray the same; and it shall be lawful for the commander of any such ship or vessel having taken charge of such vagrant, and he is hereby required, to keep and detain him on board his ship for the voyage for which he shall be shipped, 4 G. 4. c. 80. s. 31.

160. Provided, that no conviction, order, or proceeding to be made or had by or before any justices of the peace, or other magistrate, by virtue of this act, shall be quashed or vacated for want of form, and that the order of such justices or other magistrates shall be final, and that no proceedings of any such justices or other magistrates in pursuance of this act shall be removable by certiorari or otherwise, 4 G. 4. c. 80. s. 32.

161. If any action or suit shall be commenced against any person for any thing done in pursuance of this act, such action or suit shall be commenced or prosecuted within three months after the fact committed, and not afterwards; and the same shall be brought in the county or place where the cause of action shall have arisen, and not elsewhere; and the defendant shall plead the general issue, and at the trial thereof give this act and the special matter in evidence; and if the matter or thing complained of shall appear to have been done under this act, or if any such action or suit shall be brought after the time limited for bringing the same, or be brought and laid in any other county or place than as afore-mentioned, then the jury shall find for the defendant; and if the plaintiff shall become nonsuit, or discontinue his action after the defendant shall have appeared, or have a verdict against him, or if, upon demurrer, judgment shall be given against the plaintiff, the defendant shall and may recover treble costs, with the usual remedy to recover the same as in cases of single costs, 4 G. 4. c. 80. s. 33.

162. If any Asiatic sailor, Lascar, or native of any of the territories, countries, islands, or places within the limits of the charter of the said united Co., having been brought to the U. K. on board any ship or vessel not being a ship of war in the service of H. M., shall from and after the passing of this act [19th July 1823], be found within the U. K. in distress for want of food, clothing, or other necessities, it shall be lawful for the said united Co. to supply necessary and reasonable relief to such persons, and to maintain them until they shall be sent on board some ship bound for some place within the limits aforesaid; and also to pay, defray, and advance the money necessary to procure such persons proper and sufficient passage to their homes or places from which they were brought; and all such sums as the said Co. shall pay for or on account of such relief or maintenance, or passage home, shall constitute and become a joint and several debt due to the said Co. from the commander, owner or owners of such ship, on board whereof such person shall have been brought into the said U. K., and shall be recoverable as so much money paid to and for the use of such owner or owners in any of the courts of the said U. K., or in the E. I., if the owner shall reside there, in which actions or suits for the recovery of debts may be sued or prosecuted; and in all such actions and suits, where the said Co. shall recover, they shall be entitled to receive full costs of suit, 4 G. 4. c. 80. s. 34.

EMIGRATION. (See PASSENGER.)

(STATUTES repealed.)

1. For regulating the vessels carrying passengers from the U. K. to H. M.'s plantations and settlements abroad, or to foreign parts, with respect to the number of such passengers, 43 G. 3. c. 56. [Stat. Dig. this tit., pl. 2—6. 8—14. 17—26. REP. 4 G. 4. c. 84. s. 1.]
2. To amend 43 G. 3. c. 56. for regulating the vessels carrying passengers to H. M.'s plantations and settlements abroad, 53 G. 3. c. 56. [Stat. Dig. this tit., pl. 15. 27, 28. REP. 4 G. 4. c. 84. s. 1.]
3. For regulating the carrying of passengers to and from the island of Newfoundland and coast of Labrador, 56 G. 3. c. 83. [Stat. Dig. this tit., pl. 31—42. REP. 4 G. 4. c. 84. s. 1.]
4. To regulate the conveyance of passengers from the U. K. to the United States of America in British vessels, 56 G. 3. c. 114. [Stat. Dig. this tit., pl. 16. REP. 4 G. 4. c. 84. s. 1.]
5. To regulate the vessels carrying passengers from the U. K. to certain of H. M.'s colonies in North America, 57 G. 3. c. 10. [Stat. Dig. this tit., pl. 43—52. REP. 4 G. 4. c. 84. s. 1.]

EMBEZZLEMENT (BY AGENTS). See FACTOR AND MERCHANT.

ERROR.

1. For preventing frivolous writs of error, 6 G. 4. c. 96.
2. For preventing the delays occasioned to creditors by frivolous writs of error brought on judgments given in H. M.'s courts of record at Westminster, and in the counties palatine, and in the courts of great session in Wa., be it enacted, That upon any judgment hereafter [5th July 1825], to be given in any of the said courts in any personal action, execution shall not be stayed or delayed by writ of error or supersedeas thereupon, without the special order of the court, or some judge thereof, unless a recognizance with condition according to 3 Ja. 1. c. 8. [Stat. Dig. tit. EXECUTION, pl. 7. et seq.] intituled, An Act to avoid unnecessary delays of execution, be first acknowledged in the same court, 6 G. 4. c. 96. s. 1.
3. And whereas the lawful fees and emoluments of persons holding the office of cursitors, and of other persons, officers of the courts of law and equity in Eng. and Wa., may be reduced by the operation and effect of this act; and it is just and reasonable that full compensation should be made to such cursitors and officers who now hold their offices for life; be it enacted, That the lord chief justice of the K. B., the lord chief justice of the C. P., and the lord chief baron of the exchequer, shall be and the same are hereby appointed commissioners for the purposes of this act; and the said commissioners shall, within nine months after the passing of this act, by examination on oath as well as otherwise, which oath they and each of them are and is hereby authorized to administer, inquire which of the lawful fees and emoluments of the several persons aforesaid are liable to be reduced by the operation and effect of this act, and ascertain the annual amount, to be computed on an average of the last ten years, and shall in like manner yearly and every year inquire and ascertain whether there has been any and what diminution or increase of such lawful fees and emoluments for the year ending the last day of Trinity term immediately preceding such examination, and shall certify the amount of such diminution, if any, in writing under their hands to the treasury, and the amount of such diminution shall forthwith become a charge on the consolidated fund, and shall be issued as if the amount of such diminution had been specially mentioned in this act, and shall be payable and paid accordingly to the respective persons aforesaid, the diminution of whose lawful fees and emoluments shall have been so certified, without any deduction whatsoever, 6 G. 4. c. 96. s. 2.

4. Provided, that if in any year the amount of such lawful fees and emoluments of any such person as aforesaid claiming compensation under this act shall exceed the average amount of such fees and emoluments ascertained as herein-before directed, then and in that case the commissioners appointed by this act shall certify the amount of such excess, and such person as aforesaid shall within fifteen days thereafter pay the amount of such excess into H. M.'s exchequer, 6 G. 4. c. 96. s. 3.

5. And whereas by the operation of this act there may be no longer any occasion for the services of the clerks in the office of clerk of the errors; be it further enacted, That the said clerks shall be entitled to all the benefit of 3 G. 4. c. 113., [post, SERVICES PUBLIC.] intituled, An Act to amend an act passed in the fiftieth year of His late Majesty, for directing that accounts of increase and diminution of public salaries, pensions and allowances, shall be annually laid before parliament, and for regulating and controlling the granting and paying such salaries, pensions, and allowances, in as full a manner as if the office of clerk of the errors had been inserted in the schedule annexed to the said act, 6 G. 4. c. 96. s. 4.

ESCHEAT.

1. An Act to extend the provisions of 59 G. 3. c. 94. concerning the disposition of certain real and personal property of H. M., his heirs and successors [viz. Escheats. See Stat. Dig. tit. ESCHEAT, &c., pl. 29—32.], 6 G. 4. c. 17.

2. Whereas by 59 G. 3. c. 94., after reciting 39 & 40 G. 3. c. 88. [s. 12. Stat. Dig. tit. id. pl. 29, 30.] and 47 G. 3. sess. 2. c. 24. [s. 1. Stat. Dig. tit. id. pl. 30.] whereby it was enacted that in all cases in which H. M., his heirs or successors, should in right of his crown, or of his duchy of Lancaster, become entitled to any freehold or copyhold manors, messuages, lands, tenements, or hereditaments, either by escheat for want of heirs, or by reason of any forfeiture, or by reason that the same had been or should be purchased by or for the use of or in trust for any alien or aliens, it should be lawful for H. M., his heirs and successors, by warrant under his or their sign manual, or under the seal of the duchy or county palatine of Lancaster, according to the nature of the title to such manors, messuages, lands, tenements, or hereditaments respectively, to direct the execution of any trusts or purposes to which the same might have been directed to be applied, and to make grants of such manors, messuages, lands, tenements, or hereditaments, or any parts thereof, or of any rents or profits then due and in arrear to H. M. in respect thereof respectively, to such person or persons, and in such manner and for such purposes, as is therein authorized and directed: and whereas it is expedient that the provisions of 59 G. 3. c. 94. [Stat. Dig. this title, pl. 29—32.] should be enlarged and extended, for the purpose of enabling H. M. to make grants in certain other cases not provided for by that act; in all cases in which H. M., his heirs or successors, hath or shall in right of his crown, or of his duchy of Lancaster, become entitled to any leasehold manors, messuages, lands, tenements, or hereditaments, either by reason of any forfeiture, or by reason that the same have been or shall be purchased by or for the use of or in trust for any alien or aliens, it shall be lawful for H. M., his heirs and successors, by warrant under his or their sign manual, or under the seal of the duchy or county palatine of Lancaster, according to the nature of the title to such manors, &c. respectively, to direct the execution of any trusts or purposes to which the same may have been directed to be applied, and to make grants of such manors, &c., or any parts thereof, for all or any part of the term or terms of years, or other estate or interest for which the same may be holden, or of any rents or profits then due and in arrear to H. M. in respect thereof respectively, to any trustee or trustees, or otherwise, for the execution of any such trusts or purposes, or to any person or persons for the purpose of restoring the same to any of the family of the person or persons whose estates the same had been, or of carrying into effect any intended grant, demise, assignment, or bequest of any such person or persons in relation thereto, or of rewarding any person or persons, or his, her, or their family, making discovery of any such forfeiture, or of H. M.'s right and title thereto, as to H. M., his heirs or successors, shall seem fit; or to make any grant or grants of such manors, &c., or any part or parts thereof, for all or any part of the term or terms of years, or other estate or interest for which the same may be holden, to any person or persons, or his, her, or their family, making such discovery as aforesaid, or being of the family, or considered or adopted as part of the family, of any alien or aliens, or to any person or persons whose estate or property the same have been, or being of the family, or considered or adopted as part of the family of any such last-mentioned person or persons, and his, her, or their heirs, executors, administrators, and assigns respectively, according to the nature and quality of the said leasehold estates, unconditionally, or in consideration of money to be paid either at or before the execution of such grant or grants or at any time or times subsequent thereto, and to such person or persons as H. M., his heirs or successors, shall be pleased to direct; and such money, if not paid at the execution of such grant or grants, to be a charge upon the manors, &c., for all or such part of the term or terms of years, or other estate or interest for which the same may be holden which shall be so granted, and to be secured by way of mortgage or trust, or in any other manner, as H. M., his heirs or successors, shall think proper or be advised, and such money to be applied for any of the purposes of this act; or to make any grant or grants of such manors, &c., or any of them, for all or any part of the term or terms of years, or other estate or interest for which the same may be holden, unto any trustee or trustees, his or their heirs, &c. respectively, according to the nature and quality thereof, in trust to be sold, in such manner as H. M., his heirs or successors, shall be pleased to direct; and it shall be lawful for H. M., his heirs or successors, to direct the rents and profits of any such manors, &c., for all or any part of the term or terms of years, or other estate or interest for which the same may be holden, and the money to arise by any sale or sales, or to be produced by any of the means aforesaid, to be applied in payment of any costs, charges, and expences incident to any commission or commissions for finding the title of H. M., and to the making of any such grant, and for carrying the same or any trusts or provisions thereof into execution, or in rewarding any person or persons, or the family of any person or persons, making a discovery of any such forfeiture, or purchase by an alien, or of H. M.'s right and title thereto, or in discharging the whole or any part of any debt or debts due from any alien, or any person or persons whose estate or property any such leasehold manors, &c. have been, or for the use and benefit, in whole or in part, of any such alien, or of his or her family, or any part thereof, or of any person or persons adopted or considered by such alien as part of his or her family, or of any person or persons whose estate or property any such leasehold manors, &c. have been, or his, her, or their family, or any part thereof, or of any person or persons adopted or considered by such person or persons as part of his, her, or their family, or for all or any of the purposes aforesaid, as to H. M., his heirs or successors respectively, shall seem fit; and all grants heretofore made by H. M., which would under this act be valid and effectual, are hereby declared to be as valid, to all intents and purposes, as if made under the powers, &c. of this act, and as if such powers, &c. had been in full force and effect at the time of making such grants; any thing in 59 G. 3. c. 94., or any other act heretofore made, to the contrary notwithstanding, 6 G. 4. c. 17. s. 1.

3. The purchasers of any such leasehold manors, lands, &c., sold under the authority of this act, or any person or persons paying any money under the authority of the same, or in pursuance of any grants to be made by virtue thereof, shall not be bound to see to the application, or be answerable for the misapplication or non-application of the monies paid by them respectively, 6 G. 4. c. 17. s. 2.

4. Provided always, that in every case where any surplus shall remain of any monies which may arise from any such sale or sales, or which shall be paid under the authority of this act, by any person or persons, after satisfying all such purposes as shall have been ordered and directed by H. M., his heirs or successors, under the provisions of this act, shall be paid to the commissioners of H. M.'s land revenue for the time being, to be applied by them in the same way and manner as the monies arising from the sale of any manors, lands, &c., of or belonging to H. M., his heirs or successors, is by the several acts now in force for the management and improvement of the land revenue of the crown, or any of them, directed to be applied and disposed of, 6 G. 4. c. 17. s. 3.

EXCISE.

1. To regulate the manufacture and sale of scorched or roasted corn, peas, beans, or parsnips, and of cocoa-paste, broma, and other mixtures of cocoa, 3 G. 4. c. 53.

2. Whereas by 43 G. 3. c. 129. s. 5. made to amend so much of an act made in the same session of parliament, for granting additional duties of excise as relates to the exportation of tea to Ire., for regulating the granting of permits for the removal of coffee, tea, and cocoa-nuts, out of warehouse, and for more effectually securing the duties on coffee, it was enacted, that from and after the 1st Sept. 1803, if any burnt, scorched, or roasted peas, beans, or other grain or vegetable substance or substances, prepared or manufactured for the purpose of being an imitation of or in any respect to resemble coffee or cocoa, or to serve as a substitute for coffee or cocoa, or alleged or pretended by the possessor or vendor thereof so to be, shall be made or kept for sale, or shall be offered or exposed to sale, or shall be found in the custody or possession of any dealer or dealers in or seller or sellers of coffee or cocoa, or if any burnt, scorched, or roasted peas, beans, or other grain, or vegetable substance or substances, not being coffee or cocoa, shall be called by the preparer, manufacturer, possessor, or vender thereof, by the name of English or British coffee, or any other name of coffee, or by the name of American cocoa, or English or British cocoa, or any other name of cocoa, the same respectively shall be forfeited, together with the packages containing the same, and shall and may be seized by any officer or officers of excise; and the person or persons preparing, manufacturing, or selling the same, or having the same in his or their custody or possession, or the dealer or dealers in or seller or sellers of coffee or cocoa, in whose custody the same shall be found, shall forfeit and lose the sum of one hundred pounds: and whereas it is expedient, notwithstanding the provisions herein-before recited, to allow the manufacture and sale of scorched or roasted corn, peas, beans, or parsnips, as herein-after mentioned, by persons not being dealers in or sellers of coffee or cocoa, be it enacted, That from and after the passing of this act [viz. 5th July 1822.] it shall be lawful for any person, not being a dealer in or seller of coffee or cocoa, to manufacture, deal in, and sell scorched or roasted corn, peas, beans, or parsnips, whole, and not ground, crushed, or powdered, under the licence, and subject and according to the rules, regulations, and restrictions herein-after mentioned and contained, 3 G. 4. c. 53. s. 1.

3. All persons who shall manufacture for sale, deal in, or sell any such scorched or roasted corn, peas, beans, or parsnips, as aforesaid, shall before they shall manufacture, deal in, or sell the same, take out a licence authorizing such persons to manufacture, deal in, or sell such scorched or roasted corn, peas, beans, or parsnips as aforesaid, which licences shall be granted in manner herein-after mentioned; that is to say, if any such licence shall be granted to authorize the person to whom the same shall be granted to manufacture, deal in, or sell any such scorched or roasted corn, peas, beans, or parsnips, within the limits of the chief office of excise in London, the same shall be granted under the hands and seals of two or more of the commissioners of excise in Eng. for the time being, or of such persons as they shall direct for that purpose; but if any such licence shall be granted to authorize the person to whom the same shall be granted to manufacture, deal in, or sell any such scorched or roasted corn, peas, beans, or parsnips in any part of Eng., out of the limits of the said chief office, the same shall be granted under the hands and seals of the collectors and supervisors of excise, within their respective collections and districts; and in case any such licence shall be granted to authorize the person to whom the same shall be granted, to manufacture, deal in, or sell any such scorched or roasted corn, peas, beans or parsnips, within the limits of the city of Edinburgh, the same shall be granted under the hands and seals of two or more of the commissioners of excise in Scot.; or if any such licence shall be granted to authorize the person to whom the same shall be granted to manufacture, deal in, or sell any such scorched or roasted corn, peas, beans, or parsnips in any part of Scot. out of the limits of the city of Edinburgh, the same shall be granted under the respective hands and seals of the collectors and supervisors of excise in Scot., within their respective collections and districts; and such commissioners, and the persons to be directed by the said commissioners of excise in Eng., and also all such collectors and supervisors, are hereby respectively authorized and required to grant such licences to the persons who shall apply for the same, on the person applying first paying two shillings and sixpence for each such licence, 3 G. 4. c. 53. s. 2.

4. The sums by this act directed to be paid for such licences shall be paid for such respective licences to such persons as are herein-after mentioned; that is to say, such thereof as shall be paid for licences taken out within the limits of the chief office of excise in London, shall be paid at the chief office of excise in London: and such thereof as shall be paid for licences taken out within the limits of the city of Edinburgh, shall be paid at the chief office of excise in Edinburgh; and such thereof as shall be paid for licences taken out in any part of G. B. not within the said limits, shall be paid to the respective collectors of excise in whose collections such respective licences shall be granted, 3 G. 4. c. 53. s. 3.

5. No person shall manufacture, deal in, or sell any such scorched or roasted corn, peas, beans, or parsnips, after the expiration of his licence, unless such person shall take out a fresh licence for the like purpose in the manner before directed, ten days at least before the expiration of such former licence, and so in like manner renew every such licence from year to year; and if any person shall begin to manufacture for sale, deal in, or sell any such scorched or roasted corn, peas, beans, or parsnips, without first taking out a licence authorizing him so to do, and renewing the same as herein-before directed, he shall forfeit and lose the sum of fifty pounds; provided, persons trading in partnership, and in one house or shop only, shall not be obliged to take out more than one licence in any one year, for manufacturing, dealing in, or selling any such scorched or roasted corn, peas, beans, or parsnips, and no one licence granted under this act shall authorize any person to manufacture, deal in, or sell any such scorched or roasted corn, peas, beans, or parsnips, in any other house, workhouse, warehouse, shed, room, or other place than the house, workhouse, warehouse, shed, room, or other place, whereof entry in writing shall be made at the office of excise, in the name of such person, for manufacturing, dealing in, or selling, any such scorched or roasted corn, peas, beans, or parsnips, at the time of granting such licence, and in respect whereof such licence shall be granted, 3 G. 4. c. 53. s. 4.

6. All monies arising by such licences, the charges of collection excepted, shall from time to time be paid into the receipt of the exchequer at Westminster; and carried to the consolidated fund of the U. K., 3 G. 4. c. 53. s. 5.

7. Before any such person shall begin to manufacture for sale, or deal in, or sell any such scorched or roasted corn, peas, beans, or parsnips, as aforesaid, he shall make a true entry in writing, according to the laws in force in respect to excise entries, of places, of every house, room, and place, and of every utensil by him made use of, or intended to be made use of, in scorching or roasting or keeping of scorched or roasted corn, peas, beans, or parsnips for sale, at the office of excise within the limits whereof such house, room, or place shall be situate, and shall be subject to the survey of the officers of excise, in like manner as coffee dealers are now by law subject; and every such person shall, as soon as any such corn, peas, beans, or parsnips have been scorched or roasted, put up the same whole, and not ground, crushed, or powdered, and unmixed with any other article or ingredient whatsoever, in packages, and stamp or mark the cover of every such package with the words "Roasted Corn, Peas, Beans, or Parsnips," as the case may be, and with his name and place of residence; and shall not have or keep, or sell or offer to sell or deliver, any scorched or roasted corn, peas, beans, or parsnips under any other name or description whatever than scorched or roasted corn, peas, beans, or parsnips, as the case may be, or in any other state or condition than whole and not ground, crushed, or powdered, or mixed with any other article or ingredient, or otherwise than so made up into such packages so marked, on pain of forfeiting for each offence fifty pounds, together with all the corn, peas, beans, or parsnips, and other articles or ingredients mixed or of the like kind as are mixed therewith, and also the utensils for the scorching or roasting corn, peas, beans, or parsnips, which shall at any time be found in any house, room, or place so made use of or intended to be made use of as aforesaid, and whereof no such entry shall be made as aforesaid, or which shall be in possession of any such person not licensed, or had or kept by him, or sold or delivered, otherwise than as aforesaid; and the same shall be seized by any officer of excise; provided, that nothing herein contained shall extend to repeal or alter the act or provisions herein-before recited, in any other respect than is expressly provided by this act, 3 G. 4. c. 53. s. 6.

8. From and after 10th Oct. 1822, it shall be lawful for any person duly licenced to deal in cocoa, who shall first make entry of his premises, for the purpose herein-after mentioned, at the nearest office of excise, and who shall not be a scorcher or roaster of corn, peas, beans, or parsnips, or a dealer in or a seller of scorched and roasted corn, peas, beans, or parsnips, or have in his possession any such corn, peas, beans, or parsnips, to make and manufacture in such entered premises, and with the knowledge of the proper officer, cocoa-paste, broma, and other mixtures and preparations of cocoa with sugar and arrow-root-flour, or other farinaceous powder, such arrow-root-flour, or other farinaceous powder not being baked, scorched, roasted, or otherwise disguised or altered from its natural state, except by being mixed with cocoa as aforesaid, and to sell and offer and expose to sale such cocoa-paste, broma, or other mixture or preparation as aforesaid; provided, that every such person shall inclose all such cocoa-paste, broma, and other such mixtures and preparations of cocoa as soon as the same is made, and before the same is sold, offered or exposed for sale or delivered, in paper sealed and stamped, or in some pot or other vessel to which a stamp shall be affixed in such manner as the commissioners of excise shall direct, and which stamp the commissioners shall furnish and cause to be delivered to every such person, upon his request; and upon such person paying to such commissioners for such stamps so to be used sixpence for every stamp to be attached to a pound weight, and three-pence for every stamp to be attached to half a pound weight, and three half-pence for every stamp to be attached to every quarter of a pound weight of all such cocoa-paste, broma, or other mixtures as herein described; and if any person shall make or manufacture any cocoa-paste, broma, or other mixture or preparation of cocoa as aforesaid, without first making such entry as aforesaid, or shall mix with any cocoa any baked, scorched, or roasted material whatsoever, or any ingredient whatsoever, except as aforesaid, or shall keep, offer for sale, sell, or deliver any such preparation of cocoa, otherwise than in the manner and inclosed in the paper or pot as aforesaid, containing not less than one quarter of a pound, or more than one pound, stamped as aforesaid, or shall use any such stamp a second time, or imitate or use any stamp for the purpose aforesaid which shall not have been issued by or by the order of the commissioners of excise, or shall use any art or contrivance by which the officer surveying such premises shall be prevented or deceived in taking a true account of all such compound cocoa, broma, or other mixture of cocoa, with sugar and arrow-root flour, or other unbaked, unscorched, unroasted, and undisguised farinaceous powder as aforesaid, or shall obstruct or hinder such officer in taking such account, every such person shall for every such offence forfeit one hundred pounds, 3 G. 4. c. 53. s. 7.

9. All fines, penalties, and forfeitures imposed by this act, shall be sued for, recovered, levied, or mitigated, by such means as any fine, &c. may be sued for, &c. by any law of excise, or by action of debt, bill, plaint, or information, in any court of record at Westminster, or in the court of exchequer in Scot.; and one moiety thereof shall be to H. M., and the other moiety to him who shall inform, discover, or sue for the same, 3 G. 4. c. 53. s. 8.

10. All and every the powers, directions, rules, penalties, forfeitures, clauses, matters, and things, which in and by 12 C. c. 24. or by any other law now in force relating to H. M.'s revenue of excise, are provided or established for managing, raising, levying, collecting, mitigating, or recovering, adjudging, or ascertaining the duties thereby imposed, or any of them, shall be practised, used, and put in execution in and for the managing, raising, levying, collecting, mitigating, recovering, and paying the licence duty of excise by this act imposed, and for preventing, detecting, and punishing frauds relating thereto, and all and every breach and breaches of the regulations hereby imposed, as fully and effectually, to all intents and purposes, as if all and every the said powers, rules, directions, penalties, forfeitures, clauses, matters, and things were particularly repeated and re-enacted in this act, 3 G. 4. c. 53. s. 9.

FACTOR AND MERCHANT.

1. For the better protection of the property of merchants and others who may hereafter enter into contracts or agreements in relation to goods, wares, or merchandizes, intrusted to factors or agent, 4 G. 4. c. 83. [ALT. and AMD. 6 G. 4. c. 94.]

2. [Whereas it has been found that the law as it now stands relating to goods shipped in the names of persons who are not the actual proprietors thereof, and to the deposit or pledge of goods, affords great facility to fraud, produces frequent litigation, and proves in its effects highly injurious to the interests of commerce in general.—Preamble of 4 G. 4. c. 83. s. 1.] And [whereas 4 G. 4. c. 83. was passed, intituled, An Act for the better protection of the property of merchants and others, who may hereafter enter into contracts or agreement in relation to goods, wares, or merchandize intrusted to factors or agents: and whereas it is expedient to alter and amend the said act, and to make further provisions in relation to such contracts or agreements, as herein-after provided.—Preamble of 6 G. 4. c. 94. s. 1.] be it therefore enacted,

3. That from and after the passing of this act [18th July 1823, 4 G. 4. c. 83. s. 1.] [5th July 1825, 6 G. 4. c. 94.], any person or persons intrusted for the purpose [of consignment or — 6 G. 4. c. 94. s. 1.] of sale with any goods, wares, or merchandize, [and by whom any such goods, wares, or merchandize, shall be shipped in his or their own name or names, 4 G. 4. c. 83. s. 1.] [and who shall have shipped such goods, wares, or merchandize in his, her, or their own name or names, 6 G. 4. c. 94. s. 1.] and any person or persons in whose name or names any goods, wares, or merchandize shall be shipped by any other person or persons, shall be deemed and taken to be the true owner or owners thereof, so far as to entitle the consignee or consignees of such goods, wares, and merchandize to a lien thereon, in respect of any money or negotiable security or securities advanced or given by such consignee or consignees to or for the use of the person or persons in whose name or names such goods, wares, or merchandize shall be shipped, or in respect of any money or negotiable security or securities received by him, her, or them, to the use of such consignee or consignees, in the like manner to all intents and purposes as if such person or persons was or were the true owner or owners of such goods, wares, and merchandize; provided, such consignee or consignees shall not have notice by the bill of lading for the delivery of such goods, wares, or merchandize, or otherwise, at or before the time of any advance of such money or negotiable security, or of such receipt of money or negotiable security, in respect of which such lien is claimed, that such person or persons so shipping in his, her, or their own name or names, or in whose name or names any goods, wares, or merchandize shall be shipped by any person or persons, is or are not the actual and bonâ fide owner or owners, proprietor or proprietors of such goods, wares, and merchandize so shipped as aforesaid, any law, usage, or custom to the contrary thereof in anywise notwithstanding: provided also, that the person or persons in whose name or names any such goods, wares, or merchandize are so shipped as aforesaid, shall be taken, for the purposes of this act, to have been intrusted therewith [for the purpose of consignment or of sale, 6 G. 4. c. 94. s. 1.] unless the contrary thereof shall [be made to appear by bill of discovery or otherwise, or be made to—6 G. 4. c. 94. s. 1.] appear or be shown in evidence by any person disputing such fact, 4 G. 4. c. 83. s. 1.—6 G. 4. c. 94. s. 1.

4. From and after the 1st Oct. 1826, any person or persons intrusted with and in possession of any bill of lading, India warrant, dock warrant, warehouse-keeper's certificate, wharfinger's certificate, warrant or order for delivery of goods, shall be deemed and taken to be the true owner or owners of the goods, wares, or merchandize described and mentioned in the said several documents herein-before stated respectively, or either of them, so far as to give validity to any contract or agreement thereafter to be made or entered into by such person or persons so intrusted and in possession as aforesaid, with any person or persons, body or bodies politic or corporate, for the sale or disposition of the said goods, wares, and merchandize, or any part thereof, or for the deposit or pledge thereof, or any part thereof, as a security for any money or negotiable instrument or instruments advanced or given by such person or person, body or bodies politic or corporate, upon the faith of such several documents or either of them; provided, such person or persons, body or bodies politic or corporate, shall not have notice by such documents or either of them, or otherwise, that such person or persons so intrusted as aforesaid is or are not the actual and bonâ fide owner or owners, proprietor or proprietors of such goods, wares, or merchandize so sold or deposited or pledged as aforesaid; any law, usage, or custom to the contrary thereof in anywise notwithstanding, 6 G. 4. c. 94. s. 2.

5. Provided that in case any person or persons, body or bodies politic or corporate, shall, after the passing of this act, accept and take any such goods, wares, or merchandize in deposit or pledge from any such person or persons so in possession and intrusted as aforesaid, without notice as aforesaid, as a security for any debt or demand due and owing from such person or persons so intrusted and in possession as aforesaid, to such person or persons, body or bodies politic or corporate, before the time of such deposit or pledge, then and in that case such person or persons, body or bodies politic or corporate, so accepting or taking such goods, wares, or merchandize in deposit or pledge, shall acquire no further or other right, title, or interest in or upon or to the said goods, wares, or merchandize, or any such document as aforesaid, than was possessed, or could or might have been enforced by the said person or persons so possessed and intrusted as aforesaid, at the time of such deposit or pledge as a security as last aforesaid; but such person or persons, body or bodies politic or corporate, so accepting or taking such goods, wares, or merchandize in deposit or pledge, shall and may acquire, possess, and enforce such right, title, or interest as was possessed and might have been enforced by such person or persons so possessed and intrusted as aforesaid; any rule of law, usage, or custom to the contrary notwithstanding, 6 G. 4. c. 94. s. 5.

6 From and after the 1st Oct. 1826, it shall be lawful to and for any person or persons, body or bodies politic or corporate to contract with any agent or agents, intrusted with any goods, wares, or merchandize, or to whom the same may be consigned, for the purchase of any such goods, wares, and merchandize, and to receive the same of and pay for the same to such agent or agents; and such contract and payment shall be binding upon and good against the owner of such goods, wares, and merchandize, notwithstanding such person or body shall have notice that the person or persons making and entering into such contract, or on whose behalf such contract is made or entered into, is an agent or agents; provided such contract and payment be made in the usual and ordinary course of business, and that such person or body, shall not, when such contract is entered into or payment made, have notice that such agent or agents is or are not authorized to sell the said goods, wares, and merchandize, or to receive the said purchase money, 6 G. 4. c. 94. s. 4. [See 4 G. 4. c. 84. s. 2. next pl.]

7. It shall be lawful for any person or body politic or corporate, to accept and take any goods, wares, or merchandizes, or the bill of lading for the delivery thereof, in deposit or pledge from any assignee thereof; but then such person or body shall acquire no further or other right, title, or interest in or upon or to the said goods, &c. or any bill of lading for the delivery thereof, than was possessed or could or might have been enforced by the said consignee at the time of such deposit or pledge as a security as aforesaid; but such person shall and may acquire, possess, and enforce such right, &c. as was possessed and might have been enforced by such assignee, at the time of such deposit or pledge as aforesaid, 4 G. 4. c. 83. s. 2.

8. From and after the passing of this act [5th July 1825.] it shall be lawful to and for any person or body corporate, to accept and take any such goods, wares, or merchandize, or any such document as aforesaid, in deposit or pledge from any such factor or agent, notwithstanding such person or body, shall have such notice as aforesaid, that the person making such deposit or pledge is or are a factor or agent; but then and in that case such person or body shall acquire no further or other right, title, or interest in or upon or to the said goods, wares, or merchandize, or any such document as aforesaid, for the delivery thereof, than was possessed or could or might have been enforced by the said factor or agent, at the time of such deposit or pledge as a security as last aforesaid; but such person or body shall and may acquire, possess, and enforce such right, title, or interest as was possessed and might have been enforced by such factor or agent, at the time of such deposit or pledge as aforesaid; any rule or law, usage or custom to the contrary notwithstanding, 6 G. 4. c. 94. s. 5.

9. Provided that nothing herein contained shall be deemed, construed, or taken to deprive or prevent the true owner or proprietor of such goods, wares, or merchandize, from demanding and recovering the same from his factor or agent before the same shall have been so sold, deposited, or pledged, or from the assignee or assignees of such factor or agent in the event of his bankruptcy; nor to prevent such owner or proprietor from demanding or recovering of and from any person or body politic or corporate, the price or sum agreed to be paid for the purchase of such goods, wares, or merchandize, subject to any right of set-off on the part of such person or body against such factor or agent, nor to prevent such owner or proprietor from demanding or recovering of and from such person or body, such goods, wares, or merchandize, so deposited or pledged, upon repayment of the money, or on restoration of the negotiable instrument or instruments so advanced or given on the security of such goods, wares, or merchandize as aforesaid, by such person or body to such factor or agent; and upon payment of such further sum of money, or on restoration of such other negotiable instrument or instruments (if any) as may have been advanced or given by such factor or agent, to such owner or proprietor, or on payment of a sum of money equal to the amount of such instrument or instruments; nor to prevent the said owner or proprietor, from recovering of and from such person or body any balance or sum of money remaining in his hands, as the produce of the sale of such goods, wares, or merchandize, after deducting thereout the amount of the money or negotiable instrument or instruments so advanced or given upon the security thereof as aforesaid: provided, that in case of the bankruptcy of any such factor or agent, the owner or proprietor of the goods, wares, and merchandize so pledged and redeemed as aforesaid, shall be held to have discharged pro tanto the debt due by him to the estate of such bankrupt, 6 G. 4. c. 94. s. 6. [See 4 G. 4. c. 84. s. 5. next pl.]

10. Provided, that nothing herein contained shall be deemed, construed, or taken to deprive or prevent the true owner or proprietor of such goods, &c. from demanding and recovering the same from his factor or agent before the same shall have been so deposited or pledged, or from the assignee of such factor or agent in the event of his bankruptcy; nor to prevent any such owner or proprietor from demanding or recovering of and from any person or of or from the assignees of any person in case of his bankruptcy, or of or from any body politic or corporate such goods, &c. so consigned, deposited or pledged, upon repayment of the money or on restoration of the negotiable security or securities, or on payment of a sum of money equal to the amount of such security or securities, for which money or negotiable security or securities such person or his assignee or such body politic or corporate may be entitled to any lien upon such goods, &c. nor to prevent the said owner or proprietor from recovering of or from such person or body any balance or sum remaining in his hands as the produce of the sale of such goods,

&c. after deducting thereout the amount of the money or negotiable security or securities so advanced or given upon the security thereof as aforesaid: provided, that in case of the bankruptcy of such factor or agent, the owner of the goods so pledged and redeemed as aforesaid, shall be held to have discharged pro tanto the debt due by him to the bankrupt's estate, 4 G. 4. c. 84. s. 3.

11. And whereas it is expedient to prevent the improper deposit or pledge of goods, wares, or merchandize, or the documents relating to such goods, wares, or merchandize, entrusted or consigned as aforesaid to factors or agents; be it therefore enacted, That if any such factor or agent at any time from and after the 1st Oct. 1826, shall deposit or pledge any goods, wares, or merchandize, intrusted or consigned as aforesaid to his or her care or management, or any of the said several documents so possessed or intrusted as aforesaid, with any person or persons, body or bodies politic or corporate, as a security for any money, or negotiable instrument or instruments borrowed or received by such factor or agent, and shall apply or dispose thereof to his or her own use, in violation of good faith, and with intent to defraud the owner or owners of any such goods, wares, or merchandize, every person so offending, in any part of the U. K. shall be deemed and taken to be guilty of a misdemeanour, and being convicted thereof according to law, shall be sentenced to transportation for any term not exceeding fourteen years, or to receive such other punishment as may by law be inflicted on persons guilty of a misdemeanour, and as the court before whom such offender may be tried and convicted shall adjudge, 6 G. 4. c. 94. s. 7.

12. Provided, that nothing herein contained shall extend or be construed to extend to subject any person to prosecution, for having deposited or pledged any goods, wares, or merchandize so intrusted or consigned to him, provided the same shall not be made a security for or subject to the payment of any greater sum of money than at the time of such deposit or pledge was justly due and owing to such person from his principal: provided nevertheless, that the acceptance of bills of exchange by such person drawn by or on account of such principal, shall not be considered as constituting any part of such debt so due and owing from such principal within the true intent and meaning of this act, so as to excuse the consequence of such a deposit or pledge, unless such bills shall be paid when the same shall respectively become due, 6 G. 4. c. 94. s. 8.

13. Provided, that the penalty by this act annexed to the commission of any offence intended to be guarded against by this act, shall not extend or be construed to extend to any partner or other person of or belonging to any partnership, society, or firm, except only such partners or persons as shall be accessory or privy to the commission of such offence; any thing herein contained to the contrary notwithstanding, 6 G. 4. c. 94. s. 9.

14. Provided, that nothing in this act contained, nor any proceeding, conviction, or judgment to be had or taken thereupon, shall hinder, prevent, lessen, or impeach any remedy at law or in equity, which any party aggrieved by any offence against this act might or would have had or have been entitled to against any such offender if this act had not been made, nor any proceeding, conviction, or judgment had been had or taken thereupon; but nevertheless, the conviction of any offender against this act shall not be received in evidence in any action at law or suit in equity against such offender: and further, that no person shall be liable to be convicted by any evidence whatever as an offender against this act, in respect of any act, matter, or thing done by him, if he shall at any time previously to his being indicted for such offence have disclosed any such matter or thing on oath under or in consequence of any compulsory process of any court of law or equity, in any action, suit, or proceeding, in or to which he shall have been a party, and which shall have been bona fide instituted by the party aggrieved by the act, matter, or thing which shall have been committed by such offender aforesaid, 6 G. 4. c. 94. s. 10.

FEES.

1. To enable the judges of the several courts of record at Westminster, to make regulations respecting the fees of the officers, clerks, and ministers of the said courts, 3 G. 4. c. 69. [See further COURTS, K. B. and C. P.]

2. Whereas it is expedient that some provisions should be made for the permanent regulation and establishment of the fees of the officers, clerks, and ministers of justice of the several courts of chancery, K. B., C. P., exchequer, and exchequer-chamber at Westminster, and of the clerks and other officers of the judges of the same courts, but the same cannot be effectually done without the authority of parliament; be it therefore enacted, That it shall and may be lawful for the judges of the same courts respectively for the time being, and they are hereby required to take into their consideration, as well the reports and recommendations made by the commissioners acting in the execution of the several commissions issued under the great seal in and subsequent to the 55 G. 3., relating to the said several officers, clerks, and ministers, as also the rights and duties of such officers, clerks, and ministers, and all other matters relating thereto and connected therewith: and it shall be lawful for the lord chancellor, lord keeper, or lords commissioners for the custody of the great seal, together with the master of the rolls and the vice-chancellor of Eng., or together with either of them, to establish and ordain by their discretion, tables of fees to be thereafter taken by the several officers, clerks, and ministers of the court of chancery, and by the officers of the said lord chancellor, lord keeper, or lords commissioners for the custody of the great seal, master of the rolls, and vice-chancellor respectively; and for any three or more of the judges of the said courts of K. B., C. P., exchequer, and exchequer-chamber respectively, to establish and ordain by their discretion, tables of fees to be thereafter taken by the several officers, clerks, and ministers of the same respective courts, and by the clerks and other officers of the judges thereof respectively; which tables of fees shall be entered or inrolled in the public books or records of the courts to which they respectively relate, in such manner as the persons establishing the same shall think fit, 3 G. 4. c. 69. s. 1.

3. The fees so established and ordained, and no other, shall, from and after the establishment and ordaining thereof, and the entry or enrolment of such tables as aforesaid, and after notice thereof given to the officer, clerk, or minister whom they may concern in such manner as the persons establishing the said tables shall direct, be deemed and taken to be the lawful fees of such officers, clerks, and ministers respectively, and shall be demanded, received, and taken accordingly; provided, that if it shall happen that any duty not provided for in such tables shall, after the establishing and ordaining thereof, be required to be performed by any of the said officers, clerks, or ministers, by, or in pursuance of any act of parliament or other lawful authority, then and in such case, as often as the case shall happen, it shall be lawful for the court whereto, or to some judge whereof such officer, clerk, or minister shall belong (if the court shall so think fit), by rule or order of the same court to be entered or enrolled as aforesaid, to appoint a reasonable fee or fees to be taken for the performance of such duty; which fee or fees so appointed, and no other, shall be from thenceforth deemed to be the lawful fee or fees for the performance of such duty, and shall be demanded, received, and taken accordingly, 3 G. 4. c. 69. s. 2.

4. It shall be lawful for the persons by whom such tables shall be established as aforesaid, in and by the same tables or otherwise, and for their successors from time to time to make such regulations respecting the duties of such officers, clerks, and ministers, as to them shall seem expedient: which regulations, shall from the time of the establishment, ordaining, and enrolling or entering thereof, be in full force with respect to such officers, clerks, and ministers respectively, 3 G. 4. c. 69. s. 3.

5. Provided, that nothing in this act contained shall extend to any charges or fees made or received by any solicitor or attorney of the same courts, or any of them, in respect of business done by such solicitor or attorney in his character and profession only of solicitor or attorney, and not as such officer, clerk, or minister as aforesaid, 3 G. 4. c. 69. s. 4.

6. Extracts of the fees so ordained and established as aforesaid shall be kept hung up in some conspicuous part of the office or place of business of the officer, clerk, or minister respectively, whom the same may concern, 3 G. 4. c. 69. s. 5.

7. In case it shall appear to the persons by whom the said tables shall be established and ordained, or to their successors respectively, that in consequence of the regulations aforesaid, or any of them, compensation ought to be made to any of the officers, clerks, or ministers aforesaid, for any loss which he may sustain by reason thereof, it shall be lawful for the persons by whom the said tables shall be established and ordained as aforesaid, or their successors respectively, and they are hereby required to report to H. M. their opinion and recommendation as to such compensation to be made to such officers, clerks, and ministers respectively, 3 G. 4. c. 69. s. 6.

FELO DE SE.

1. To alter and amend the law relating to the interment of the remains of any person found Felo de se, 4 G. 4. c. 52.

2. Whereas it is expedient that the laws and usages relating to the interment of the remains of persons against whom a finding of Felo de se shall be had, should be altered and amended: be it therefore enacted, That from and after the passing of this act [viz. 8th July 1823.], it shall not be lawful for any coroner, or other officer having authority to hold inquests, to issue any warrant or other process directing the interment of the remains of persons against whom a finding of Felo de se shall be had, in any public highway: but that such coroner or other officer shall give directions for the private interment of the remains of such person Felo de se (without any stake being driven through the body of such person), in the churchyard or other burial ground of the parish or place in which the remains of such person might, by the laws or customs of Eng. be interred, if the verdict of Felo de se had not been found against such person; such interment to be made within twenty-four hours from the finding of the inquisition, and to take place between the hours of nine and twelve at night, 4 G. 4. c. 52. s. 1.

3. Provided, that nothing herein contained shall authorize the performing of any of the rites of Christian burial on the interment of the remains of any such person as aforesaid; nor shall any thing hereinbefore contained be taken to alter the laws or usages relating to the burial of such persons, except so far as relates to the interment of such remains in such churchyard or burial ground, at such time and in such manner as aforesaid, 4 G. 4. c. 52. s. 2.

FINES AND AMERCIAMENTS.

1. For the more speedy return and levying of fines, penalties, and forfeitures, and recognizances estreated, 3 G. 4. c. 46. [AMD. and REP. as to s. 7, 8. by 4 G. 4. c. 37.]

2. Whereas the 22 & 23 Car. 2. c. 22. was passed, intituled, An Act for the better and more certain recovery of fines and forfeitures due to H. M., which act was MADE PERP. by 4 & 5 W. & M. c. 24.; and whereas the 41 G. 3. (U. K.) c. 85. was passed, intituled, An Act for better payment of fines and forfeitures imposed by justices out of sessions in Eng.; and whereas great delays occur in the return of fines, issues, amerciaments, forfeited recognizances, sum and sums of money paid or to be paid in lieu or satisfaction of them or any of them, by or before any justices of the peace, or at any general or quarter sessions of the peace in that part of the U. K. called Eng.: and whereas such delays impede the due administration of justice, as well as the recovery of the fines and forfeitures due to the crown thereupon, and it is therefore expedient that further provision should be made for the speedy and regular return of all such fines, issues, amerciaments, forfeited recognizances, and sum or sums of money paid or to be paid in lieu or satisfaction of them or any of them; it is enacted, That from and after the 29th day of Sept. 1822, so much of the aforesaid act of 22 & 23 C. 2. c. 22. [Stat. Dig. this title, pl. 14—20. 22, 23., and qu. how much of the act] as relates to fines, issues, and amerciaments, forfeited recognizances, sum or sums of money paid or to be paid in lieu or satisfaction of them or any of them, imposed and adjudged at any quarter sessions of the peace: and also such part of the aforesaid act of 4 & 5 W. & M. c. 24. s. 4. as makes perpetual the aforesaid provisions contained in the said act of C. 2., and likewise so much of the 41 G. 3. (U. K.) c. 85. [viz. ss. 1, 2. Stat. Dig. this title, pl. 27, 28.], as relates to the annual payment of all fines, forfeitures, and penalties, or such parts thereof as shall be due to the king, imposed and received by any justice out of sessions, and not made payable to any body or bodies corporate, or any commissioners of any public board, or any other person or persons, into the hands of the sheriff previous to the Michaelmas sessions; and also as requires such justices, previous to the Michaelmas sessions yearly, to transmit to the clerk of the peace, or town clerk where such fine was imposed, an account in writing of all such fines, shall be and are hereby repealed, 3 G. 4. c. 46. s. 1.

3. From and after the 29th Sept. 1822, all fines, issues, amerciaments, forfeited recognizances, sum or sums of money paid or to be paid in lieu or satisfaction of them or any of them (save and except the same shall, by virtue of any act of parliament made or to be made, be otherwise directed to be levied, recovered, appropriated or disposed of), which already are or hereafter shall be set, imposed, lost, or forfeited by or before any justice or justices of the peace in that part of the U. K. called Eng., shall be and are hereby required to be certified by the justice or justices of the peace by or before whom any such fines, issues, amerciaments, forfeited recognizances, sum or sums of money paid or to be paid in lieu or satisfaction of them or any of them, shall be set, imposed, lost, or forfeited to the clerk of the peace of the county, or town-clerk of the city, borough or place, in writing, containing the names and residences, trade, profession or calling of the parties, the amount of the sum forfeited by each respectively, and the cause of each forfeiture, signed by such justice or justices of the peace, on or before the ensuing general or quarter sessions of such county, city, borough, or place respectively; and such clerk of the peace or town-clerk shall copy on a roll such fines, issues, amerciaments, forfeited recognizances, sum or sums of money paid or to be paid in lieu or satisfaction of them or any of them, together with all fines, issues, amerciaments, forfeited recognizances, sum or sums of money paid or to be paid in lieu or satisfaction of them or any of them, imposed or forfeited at such court of general or quarter sessions, and shall, within such time as shall be fixed and determined by such court, not exceeding twenty-one days after the adjournment of such court, send a copy of such roll, with a writ of distringas and capias, or fieri facias and capias, according to the form and effect in the schedule marked (A.) annexed to this act, to the sheriff of such county, or the sheriff, bailiff, or officer of such city, borough, or place having execution of process therein respectively, as the case may be, which shall be the authority to such sheriff of such county, or the sheriff, bailiff, or officer, as the case may be, for proceeding to the immediate levying and recovering of such fines, issues, amerciaments, forfeited recognizances, sum or sums of money to be paid in lieu or satisfaction of them or any of them, on the goods and chattels of such several persons, or for taking into custody the bodies of such persons, in case sufficient goods and chattels shall not be found whereon distress can be made for recovery thereof; and every person so taken shall be lodged in the common gaol until the next general or quarter sessions of the peace, there to abide the judgment of the said court. 3 G. 4. c. 46. s. 2.

4. Whereas 3 G. 4. c. 46. was passed, and whereas it is expedient to amend the same, be it enacted, That it shall be lawful for the justices assembled at any general or quarter sessions of the peace, and they are hereby authorized and required, at the following or any subsequent general or quarter sessions held after the return of the writ and roll issued from any preceding general or quarter sessions, at the opening of the court, to insert or cause to be inserted in any following roll, all such fines, issues, amerciaments, forfeited recognizances, sum or sums of money to be paid in lieu or satisfaction of them or any of them, which have not been duly levied or recovered or properly accounted for by the sheriff, bailiff, or other officer, or have not been discharged on appeal before the general or quarter sessions, or by sign manual, warrant or authority of any three or more of the commissioners of H. M.'s treasury of the U. K. of G. B. and Ire., and so to continue such process from sessions to sessions, till it shall be duly ascertained, to the satisfaction of the said commissioners of H. M.'s treasury, that the party in default has not any goods or chattels, lands, or tenements, in the county, division, riding, city, town, or place, on which a levy can be made, nor in any other county, division, riding, city, town, or place in G. B., and that he is not to be found, or that his body cannot be lodged in any of H. M.'s gaols: provided, that the said sheriff, bailiff, or other officer to whom the writ of distringas and capias or fieri facias, or other writ deemed necessary by the justices at any such general or quarter sessions to meet the exigency of the case, shall be sent by order of the said court, shall keep and detain in his possession the writ or writs so directed to him, and the roll or rolls attached to such writ or writs, delivering to the said court of general or quarter sessions a copy of such roll or rolls, on the first day of the sitting of the said court, and also a copy of any former roll or rolls, where the fines, issues, amerciaments, forfeited recognizances, sum or sums of money paid or to be paid in lieu or satisfaction of them, or any of them, shall not have been delivered; and such original writ and roll, or writs and rolls, shall continue in force and effect, and shall be sufficient authority, without any further writ or roll; and such sheriff, bailiff, or other officer is hereby authorized and required, on quitting his office, to deliver over to his successor all rolls and writs in his possession, particularizing any fines, issues, amerciaments, forfeited recognizances, sum or sums of money paid or to be paid in lieu or satisfaction of them, or any of them, in order that the sheriff, bailiff, or other officer coming into office may use every means in his power for recovering the sums so unpaid, and not charged to his predecessor on the passing of his accounts at the exchequer, or before any auditor or auditors, or other person duly authorized to pass the same, the officer or officers entrusted with the execution of the process in any county, division, riding, city, town, or place, being first duly and diligently examined on oath by the court, at the delivery of the roll, on the first day of each general or quarter sessions, and in case such examination should not then take place, then on the subsequent day; and every such examination shall be duly recorded by the clerk of the peace or town-clerk or other proper officer, in order that such sheriff, bailiff, or other officer may be chargeable with all sums not satisfactorily accounted for on the final passing of his accounts, 4 G. 4. c. 37. s. 1.

5. The clerk of the peace or town-clerk shall, before he shall deliver the roll to such sheriff, bailiff, or officer, containing the fines, issues, amerciaments, forfeited recognizances, sum or sums of money paid or to be paid in lieu or satisfaction of them or any of them, and is hereby required to make oath before any justice of the peace for the county, riding, city, borough, or place for which such clerk of the peace or town-clerk shall act; which oath shall be indorsed on the back of the writ, or of the said roll attached thereto, such clerk of the peace or town-clerk stating therein all such fines, issues, amerciaments, forfeited recognizances, sum or sums of money which shall have been paid or otherwise accounted for; and such oath shall be made in the form following:—

‘ I ——— make oath that this roll is truly and carefully made up and examined, and that all fines issues, amerciaments, recognizances and forfeitures, which were set, lost, imposed, or forfeited, and in right and due course of law ought to be levied and paid, are, to the best of my knowledge and understanding inserted in the said roll, and that in the said roll are also contained and expressed all such fines as have been paid to, or received by me, either in court or otherwise, without any wilful or fraudulent discharge, omission, misnomer, or defect whatever.
So help me GOD.’

3 G. 4. c. 46. s. 3.

6. Each and every justice of the peace before whom any recognizance shall be entered into or taken, shall and is hereby required to give, or cause to be given, at the time of entering into such recognizance, to the person or persons, surety or sureties so entering into the same, and to each of them, a written or printed paper or notice, in the form or to the effect stated in the schedule marked (B.) to this act annexed, adapting the same to the particular circumstances of the case; and each and every such justice shall in such recognizance state and particularly specify not only the profession, art, mystery, or trade of every person so entering into such recognizance, together with their christian name and names and surnames, but also the parish, township, or place of his or her residence; and in case such residence shall be in any city, town, or borough, shall also state and particularly specify the name of the street and number of the house (if any) in which such person shall reside, and also whether owner or tenant thereof, or lodger therein, 3 G. 4. c. 46. s. 4.

7. Provided, that if any person on whose goods and chattels such sheriff, bailiff, or officer shall be authorized to levy any such forfeited recognizance, or sum of money to be paid in lieu or satisfaction thereof, shall give security to the said sheriff, bailiff, or officer for his appearance at the next general or quarter sessions, then and there to abide the decision of the court, and also to pay such forfeited recognizance or sum of money to be paid in lieu or satisfaction thereof, together with all such expences as shall be ordered and adjudged by the court, it shall be lawful for such sheriff, bailiff, or officer, and he is hereby authorized and required to discharge such person so giving such security out of custody: provided also, that in case such party so giving security shall not appear in pursuance of his undertaking, it shall be lawful for the court forthwith to issue a writ of distringas and capias or fieri facias and capias, against the surety or sureties of the person so bound as aforesaid, 3 G. 4. c. 46. s. 5.

8. The court of general or quarter sessions before whom any person so committed to gaol or bound to appear shall be brought, is hereby authorized and required to inquire into the circumstances of the case, and shall, at its discretion, be empowered to order the discharge of the whole of the forfeited recognizance, or sum of money paid or to be paid in lieu or satisfaction thereof, or any part thereof; and such order shall be made in the form or to the effect of the schedule marked (C.) to this act annexed, and shall be signed by the clerk of the peace; which said order shall be a discharge to such sheriff, bailiff, or officer on the passing of his accounts at the exchequer, or before any auditor or other proper officer duly authorized to pass the same; and in all cases where the party shall have been lodged in the common gaol by such sheriff, bailiff, or other officer, the justices of the peace so assembled are hereby empowered either to remand such party to the custody of the sheriff, bailiff, or other officer, or upon the release of such party from the whole of such forfeited recognizance, to order such party to be discharged from custody, and such order shall be a full and sufficient discharge to the said sheriff, bailiff, or officer on the passing of his accounts at the exchequer, or before any auditor or other proper officer duly authorized to pass the same; and it shall be lawful to and for the said court of general or quarter sessions to award such costs, charges, and expences to be paid by either party to the other, as to the said court shall seem just and reasonable, 3 G. 4. c. 46. s. 6.

9. Whereas it was enacted by 3 G. 4. c. 46. s. 7., that in all cases where the party incurring any fine, issue, amerciament, forfeited recognizance, sum or sums of money to be paid in lieu or satisfaction of them, shall reside in another county, or in any city, borough, or place having peculiar jurisdiction, or shall have fled into any other county, or into any such city, borough, or place, after such fine, issue, amerciament, forfeited recognizance, sum or sums of money, shall have been incurred, or shall have removed his goods and chattels out of the jurisdiction in which such fine, issue, amerciament, forfeited recognizance, sum or sums of money shall have been imposed, it shall be lawful for the said sheriff, bailiff, or officer, to apply to any justice acting for such county, or place into which the party may have fled or removed his goods and chattels, and such justice is, upon proof on oath of the handwriting of the sheriff or under-sheriff, bailiff, or officer granting such warrant, to indorse his name thereon, which shall be a sufficient authority to the person bringing such warrant, and to all other persons to whom the same may be directed, to execute the same in such other county, or place; and in case sufficient distress shall not be found whereon to levy such fine, issue, amerciaments, estreated recognizance, sum or sums of money, and all costs attending the recovery thereof, then to take the body of the party, and lodge him in the gaol of the county, or place in which the forfeiture had been incurred, there to await the decision of the ensuing general or quarter sessions; and also by s. 8. that the said sheriff, bailiff, or officer, shall, at the opening of the court, on the first day of the ensuing general or quarter sessions, return the said writ, and shall state on the back of the said roll what shall have been done in the execution of such process; which return, together with a duplicate of the roll of fines, issues, amerciaments, forfeited recognizances, sum or sums of money, at the preceding quarter sessions, and the certificate of the court on the back of the roll, stating that due diligence has been exercised on the part of the sheriff, shall be transmitted by the clerk of the peace to the commissioners of H. M.'s treasury: be it enacted, That so much of the said recited act shall be repealed, 4 G. 4. c. 37. s. 2. [The section 8 is not recited in 4 G. 4. c. 37. s. 2., but it was thought advisable to insert it as it is included in the repeal. See provision in lieu, post, ss. 3, 4. pl. 18, 19.]

10. None of the proceedings under this act shall be liable to any stamp duty, 3 G. 4. c. 46. s. 9.

11. The clerk of the peace and other officers shall be entitled to their usual and legal fees on the discharge of any forfeited recognizance, and the said clerk of the peace to an allowance of sixpence for every one hundred words, for all copies of the roll sent to the said lords commissioners of the treasury: and in case any such sheriff, bailiff, officer, or clerk of the peace shall refuse or neglect to do and perform any duty, act, or thing imposed or required upon or from such sheriff or clerk, bailiff or officer, in manner by this act directed, then and in every such case, such sheriff, bailiff, or officer, or clerk so refusing or neglecting, shall forfeit the sum of fifty pounds, to be recovered by any person who will sue for the same, together with full costs of suit, by action of debt or on the case, in any of H. M.'s courts of record at Westminster, wherein no essoign, protection, wager of law, or any more than one imparlance shall be allowed, 3 G. 4. c. 46. s. 10.

12. Provided, nothing in this act contained shall extend so as to prevent or interfere with the appropriation of any such fines, issues, amerciaments, forfeited recognizances, sum or sums of money, when so paid or accounted for into the said court of exchequer by any such sheriff, bailiff, or officer, but the same shall and may be applied, disposed of, and appropriated in such and the like manner as such fines, issues, amerciaments, forfeited recognizances, sum or sums of money paid in lieu or satisfaction of them or any of them, paid into the exchequer, were applied, disposed of, and appropriated before the passing of this act, [viz. prior to 24th June 1822.] 3 G. 4. c. 46. s. 11.

13. Provided, it shall be lawful for the lords commissioners of H. M.'s treasury to make such compensation as they may think fit, for the loss of any legal fees occasioned to the officers thereof, or to the officers of the court of the duchy of Lancaster, by this act, 3 G. 4. c. 46. s. 12.

14. Provided, nothing in this act contained shall extend, or be in any ways prejudicial to the rights, liberties, or privileges of the king, in right of his duchy or county palatine of Lancaster, 3 G. 4. c. 46. s. 13.

15. Provided, that all and every the clerk and clerks of the peace, and all town-clerks, within that part of the U. K. called Eng., do and shall, on or before the second Monday after the morrow of All Souls yearly in every year, make and deliver into the court of exchequer a true and perfect duplicate on certificate of all such fines, issues, amerciaments, forfeited recognizances, and sum and sums of money, and other forfeitures whatsoever, paid in lieu or satisfaction of them or any of them, as shall be contained in the several rolls or copies which shall be so sent out to the sheriff for the purpose of levying as aforesaid, and which shall have been set, lost, imposed, or forfeited in any of the said sessions of the peace which shall be held before Michaelmas in each year, to the intent that the sheriffs, on their appraisals in the said court of exchequer, may be charged in their accounts with the monies levied and received by them respectively upon such writs or otherwise, and that all parties entitled to any such fines, recognizances or other forfeitures, or any portion thereof, may be at liberty to claim the same before the foreign apposer of the said court of exchequer, according to the antient course and practice of the said court, 3 G. 4. c. 46. s. 14.

16. Provided, nothing in this act contained shall in any sort extend or be construed to extend to the prejudicing the rights and privileges of any bodies politic or corporate, or their successors, or of any lord or lords of any manor, liberty, or franchise whatsoever, 3 G. 4. c. 46. s. 15.

17. Provided nothing in this act contained shall extend to or be in any ways prejudicial to the rights, customs, privileges, liberties, charter or charters of the city of London; but that the said city may enjoy the same accordingly, as they formerly have enjoyed the same, &c., 3 G. 4. c. 46. s. 16.

18. And in all cases where the party incurring or subject to any fine, issue, amerciaments, forfeited recognizance, sum or sums of money to be paid in lieu or satisfaction of them or any of them, shall reside or shall have fled or removed from or out of the jurisdiction of the sheriff, bailiff, or other officer, in which any such fine, issue, amerciaments, forfeited recognizance, sum or sums of money to be paid in lieu or satisfaction of them or any of them, shall have been incurred, imposed, or forfeited, or become due, it shall be lawful for such sheriff, bailiff, or other officer, to issue his warrant, together with a copy of the writ, directed to the sheriff, bailiff, or other officer acting for the county, riding, city, borough, or place in which such person shall then reside or be, or in which any goods or chattels or other property shall be found, requiring such sheriff, bailiff, or other officer to execute such writ, and every such last-mentioned sheriff, bailiff, or other officer, is hereby authorized and required to act in all respects under such warrant, in the same manner as if the original writ had been delivered to him by order of the court of the general or quarter sessions of the county, riding, city, borough, or place for which such sheriff, bailiff, or other officer shall act; and the said sheriff, bailiff, or other officer is hereby required, within thirty days after the receipt of such warrant, to return to the sheriff, bailiff, or other officer from whom he shall have received the same, what he shall have done in the execution of such process, and whether the party shall have given good and sufficient security to appeal at the ensuing general or quarter sessions to be held for the county, riding, city, borough, or place from which the writ issued, and in case a levy shall have been made, to pay over all monies received in pursuance of the warrant to the sheriff, bailiff, or other officer from whom he shall have received the same, 4 G. 4. c. 37. s. 3.

19. Every sheriff, bailiff, or other officer acting for any county, division, riding, city, borough, or place, shall and he is hereby required to make up or cause to be made up annually, and immediately after the expiration of the year for which he shall act, or after the usual period for making up his account, in case he shall act under any grant, appointment, or other authority for a longer period than one year, an account in writing containing the names and residences of all persons incurring fines, issues, amerciaments, forfeited recognizances, sum or sums of money paid or to be paid in lieu or satisfaction of them or any of them, which he has been authorized or required to levy by virtue of any writ or writs issued to him, or to any predecessor in office; and in case any fine, issue, amerciaments, forfeited recognizance, sum or sums of money paid or to be paid in lieu or satisfaction of them or any of them, shall not have been levied or paid, the causes of non-payment shall be fully and particularly stated; and such account such sheriff, bailiff, or other officer is hereby required to transmit, within thirty days from the expiration of the year for which such account ought to be made up, to the commissioners of H. M.'s treasury, or at or within such other period as such sheriff, bailiff, or other officer shall be required by the said commissioners of H. M.'s treasury, or any three or more of them, in order that such account may be duly examined, checked, and inspected, under the direction of the said commissioners of H. M.'s treasury, or any three or more of them; and when so examined and approved, such account shall be transmitted to the proper officer in the court of exchequer, or to the auditor or other officer duly authorized to pass such account, 4 G. 4. c. 37. s. 4.

20. Every clerk of the peace, and town clerk, or other proper officer, is hereby required, within twenty days from the opening of the court of general or quarter sessions, to send to the commissioners of H. M.'s treasury a copy or an extract of the roll or rolls delivered by the sheriff, bailiff, or other officer, on the first day of the opening of such court of general or quarter sessions, in such form as shall be required by the said commissioners of H. M.'s treasury, also the causes of discharge in case any person shall have been relieved on appeal to the said court of general or quarter sessions, and the answer given by any sheriff, bailiff, or other officer to such court, where any fine, issue, amerciaments, forfeited recognizance, sum or sums of money paid or to be paid in lieu or satisfaction of them or any of them, has not been received by such sheriff, bailiff, or other officer duly authorized to receive the same, 4 G. 4. c. 37. s. 5.

SCHEDULE (A.) [3 G. 4. c. 46. s. 2. pl. 3.]

GEORGE the Fourth, by the grace of God, of the U. K. of G. B. and Ire., King, defender of the faith;

By Order of the Court.

FISH.

1. For packing barrelled fish, 22 Ed. 4. c. 2. REP. 5 G. 4. c. 74. s. 23.

FISHERIES (BRITISH).

1. To amend the several acts for the encouragement and improvement of the British and Irish fisheries, 5 G. 4. c. 64.

2. Whereas it is expedient that the bounties and allowances payable in respect of vessels fitted out and employed in the British and Irish fisheries, and also in respect of herrings or other fish taken and cured in such fisheries, should cease, and that certain other bounties should be granted upon herrings and other fish: be it therefore enacted, That from and after 5th July 1825, the several bounties and allowances hereafter mentioned and specified shall cease and determine; that is to say, the bounty of four shillings granted by 55 G. 3. c. 94. s. 6. [Stat. Dig. tit. FISHERY (Herring), pl. 82.] for continuing and amending several acts relating to the British white herring fishery, for every barrel of herrings caught, landed, cured, and packed as by the said act is directed; and also the bounty of four shillings granted by 1 & 2 G. 4. c. 79. s. 1. [Stat. Dig. tit. id. pl. 84.] for repealing certain bounties granted for the encouragement of the deep sea British white herring fishery, and for making further regulations relating to the said fishery, for every barrel of herrings caught in the fisheries of the Isle of Man or other British fisheries, in vessels or boats fitted out from the said isle, landed there, and cured and packed as is directed by the said act; and also the several specific bounties and allowances granted and made payable under and by virtue of 1 G. 4. c. 103., [Stat. Dig. tit. FISHERIES (British), pl. 64—70.] intituled, An Act for the further encouragement and improvement of the British fisheries; and also such of the several specific bounties and allowances granted and made payable under and by virtue of 59 G. 3. c. 109., intituled, An Act for the encouragement and improvement of the fisheries, as shall be in force at the time of the passing of this act; and also the several specific bounties and allowances granted and made payable under or by virtue of 1 G. 4. c. 82. for amending the 59 G. 3. c. 109., and all such specific bounties and allowances payable under the said recited acts, or any of them, shall be and are hereby repealed accordingly, from and after the said 5th July 1825, 5 G. 4. c. 64. s. 1. [The 59 G. 3. c. 109., and 1 G. 4. c. 82. relate to the Irish fisheries; the title of the former act is here misrecited.]

3. From and after the 5th July 1825, and until the 5th July 1829, the several and respective bounties herein-after mentioned shall be paid and allowed; that is to say, for every barrel of herrings which shall be caught, landed, cured, and packed according to the directions of 48 G. 3. c. 110. [Stat. Dig. tit. FISHERY (Herring), pl. 76. et seq.] for the further encouragement and better regulation of the British white herring fishery, or of the 55 G. 3. c. 94. [Stat. Dig. tit. FISHERY (Herring), pl. 76. et seq.] or of any other act in force relating to the British herring fishery; and also for every barrel of herrings caught in vessels or boats fitted out from the Isle of Man, landed there, and cured and packed according to the directions of the 1 & 2 G. 4. c. 79. [Stat. Dig. tit. FISHERY (Herring), pl. 76. et seq.] and also for every barrel of herrings caught, landed, cured, and packed according to the directions of 59 G. 3. c. 109. and 1 G. 4. c. 82., for the encouragement and improvement of the Irish fisheries, a bounty of four shillings in the year ending on the 5th July 1826; a bounty of three shillings in the year ending on the 5th July 1827; a bounty of two shillings in the year ending on the 5th July 1828; and a bounty of one shilling in the year ending on the 5th July 1829; and also that there shall be paid and allowed, until the 5th July 1829, to all persons residing in G. B., and who shall cure and dry cod fish, ling or hake, taken on the coasts G. B., Ire., or the Isle of Man, under the regulations and directions contained in or referred to by the 1 G. 4. c. 103. [Stat. Dig. tit. FISHERIES (British), pl. 64—70.] for the further encouragement and improvement of the British fisheries, a bounty of four shillings for every hundred weight of such dried cod fish, ling or hake; and that there shall be also paid and allowed, under the like regulations and directions, to such persons residing as aforesaid, and curing cod fish, ling or hake in the pickle, a bounty of two shillings and sixpence for every barrel of such pickled cod fish, ling or hake, until the 5th July 1829; and that there shall also be paid and allowed to persons residing on the coasts of Ire., and who shall cure and dry cod fish, ling, hake, haddock, glassen, or conger eel, taken on the coasts of Ire. under the regulations and directions mentioned in or referred to by the 59 G. 3. c. 109. for the encouragement and improvement of the Irish fisheries, a bounty of four shillings for every hundred weight of such dried cod fish, ling, hake, haddock, glassen, or conger eel, until the 5th July 1829; and that there shall also be paid and allowed, until the 5th July 1829, a bounty of two shillings and sixpence for every barrel of cod, ling, hake, haddock, glassen, or conger eel, taken on the coasts of Ire., and cured with pickle by persons residing in Ire., and curing such fish according to such rules and regulations as the commissioners of the Irish fisheries shall from time to time make and appoint for that purpose, 5 G. 4. c. 64. s. 2.

4. From and after the 5th July 1825, and until the 5th July 1829, the several and respective bounties herein-after mentioned shall be paid and allowed to the owner or owners of all such decked or half-decked vessels, or to the person hiring or chartering such vessels as are described in the 59 G. 3. c. 109. for the further encouragement and improvement of the Irish fisheries, and in the 1 G. 4. c. 103. for the further encouragement and improvement of the British fisheries, and which shall be fitted out from any port in the U. K., for the purpose of fishing for and curing cod fish, ling, hake, haddock, glassen, or conger eel; that is to say, a bounty of twenty shillings per ton for such vessels in the year ending on the 5th July 1826; a bounty of fifteen shillings per ton in the year ending on the 5th July 1827; a bounty of ten shillings per ton in the year ending on the 5th July 1828; and a bounty of five shillings per ton in the year ending on the 5th July 1829, 5 G. 4. c. 64. s. 3.

5. The bounties by this act granted and made payable shall be paid in such manner and under such directions, and subject to such rules, regulations, and restrictions, in all respects, as the bounties heretofore granted under the said recited acts respectively, or any of them, upon such herrings, cod fish, ling, hake, haddock, glassen, or conger eel, and upon or in respect of the tonnage of any such vessels as aforesaid, are by the said recited act respectively made payable, and as if all such directions, rules, regulations, and restrictions were repeated and re-enacted in this act, to all intents and purposes whatsoever, 5 G. 4. c. 64. s. 4.

6. The several bounties herein-before granted and made payable shall be paid according to the amount thereof in British currency and shall wholly cease and determine on the 5th July 1829, 5 G. 4. c. 64. s. 5.

8. From and after the 5th July 1825, the several permanent bounties granted, allowed, and made payable on salmon, full red herrings, clean shotten red herrings, and red sprats, and on pilchards and scads, by 43 G. 3. c. 69., intituled, An Act to repeal the duties of excise payable in G. B., and to grant other duties in lieu thereof, and by the schedule marked

(C.) to the said act annexed, shall cease and determine; any thing in the said recited act, or any other act or acts to the contrary thereof in anywise notwithstanding, 5 G. 4. c. 64. s. 6.

8. From and after the 5th July 1825, and until the 5th July 1829, the several and respective bounties hereafter mentioned shall be paid and allowed; that is to say, for every cask or vessel of pilchards or scads containing fifty gallons, which shall be duly exported from G. B. to foreign parts in the year ending on the 5th July 1826, a bounty of seven shillings, and in the year ending on the 5th July 1827, a bounty of six shillings, and in the year ending on the 5th July 1828, a bounty of four shillings, and in the year ending on the 5th July 1829, a bounty of two shillings; and that such bounties shall be paid in such manner and under such directions, and subject to such rules, regulations, and restrictions, in all respects, as the bounties on pilchards and scads repealed by this act were paid and payable under any act in force immediately before the passing of this act, 6 G. 4. c. 64. s. 7.

9. From and after the passing of this act, 17th June 1824, all fish cured in any part of the U. K. of G. B. and Ire., shall be and the same are hereby declared to be exempted and excepted from any duty of customs payable on goods, wares, and merchandize exported from G. B. or Ire.; any thing in any act contained to the contrary notwithstanding, 5 G. 4. c. 64. s. 8.

10. And whereas by the 48 G. 3. c. 110. [Stat. Dig. tit. FISHERY (Herring), pl. 76.] for the further encouragement and better regulation of the British white herring fishery, the commissioners for the herring fishery to be appointed pursuant to the said act are authorized to allow premiums or bounties, not exceeding the sum of three thousand pounds in the whole in any one year, for the encouraging the herring fisheries on the sea coasts of Scot.: And whereas by 59 G. 3. c. 109. for the further encouragement and improvement of the Irish fisheries, the lord lieutenant, or other chief governor or governors of Ire., is authorized to direct any sum or sums of money, not exceeding the sum of five thousand pounds in any one year, to be paid to the commissioners of the Irish fisheries, for the encouragement of the coast fisheries of Ire., under the regulations in the said recited act respectively contained: And whereas it is expedient that such sums, not exceeding three thousand pounds and five thousand pounds respectively, should in future be applied in manner herein-after mentioned: be it therefore enacted, That from and after the passing of this act [17th June 1824.], the said several sums, not exceeding three thousand pounds and five thousand pounds respectively, shall be applied and employed by the commissioners of the said fisheries respectively, in the encouraging and assisting the building, making, or repairing of piers or quays at such ports and places on the sea coasts of Scot. and Ire. respectively, as shall appear to the said commissioners of the fisheries respectively to be most fit and necessary, and not for any other purpose whatever; except only in providing materials for the repair of the boats of poor fishermen at such ports or places where piers or quays are or shall be built, not exceeding the amount of five hundred pounds in any one year, in Scot. and Ire. respectively; any thing in the said recited acts to the contrary notwithstanding: provided, that no part of such respective sums shall be granted or allowed to any person by the said commissioners respectively, for the purpose of making or building or repairing of any such pier or quay, except in such cases where the said commissioners shall be satisfied that not less than one fourth part of the expences of building, making, or repairing of any such pier or quay respectively, hath been advanced and paid and expended by such person, 5 G. 4. c. 64. s. 9.

11. All such sums shall be allowed in Scot. by the commissioners of the herring fishery, under such rules and regulations as the said commissioners shall make and publish in that behalf, by and with the approbation of the treasury of the U. K., and a list of the names of the persons entitled to any such sums, the place of residence of each of the said persons, the situation of the pier or quay which shall be in part made, built, or repaired by any such person respectively, and the sums of money paid and expended by such persons respectively, and the sum of money assigned to each person respectively by the said commissioners, shall be made and certified by the said commissioners of the said fisheries from time to time, and at such time as shall be directed and required by the treasury; and it shall be lawful for the treasury, and they are hereby authorized and required to cause the said sums to be paid by the commissioners of excise, at such times and in such manner, and under such regulations as the treasury shall from time to time think proper and expedient; and the treasury shall cause an account of all such sums to be laid before both houses of parliament, within fourteen days after the commencement of every session; and that in Ire. all such sums shall be issued under the directions of the lord lieutenant of Ire.; and the commissioners of the Irish fisheries shall report the application thereof, and a copy of such report shall be laid before parliament, in such and the like manner as is required and directed by the 59 G. 3. c. 109. for the further encouragement and improvement of the Irish fisheries, 5 G. 4. c. 64. s. 10.

FISHERIES (NEWFOUNDLAND).

12. To repeal several laws relating to the fisheries carried on upon the banks and shores of Newfoundland, and to make provision for the better conduct of the said fisheries for five years, and from thence to the end of the then next session of parliament, 5 G. 4. c. 51. [To continue in force for five years from 3d June 1824, and thence until the end of the then next session, s. 17.]

13. Whereas it is expedient to repeal and amend divers statutes and laws relating to the fisheries on the banks and shores of Newfoundland, and to make such further provisions as the present state and condition of the colony require; be it therefore enacted, That the 10 & 11 W. 3. c. 25. [Stat. Dig. tit. id. pl. 204—220.] intituled, An Act to encourage the trade to Newfoundland; and so much of 15 G. 3. c. 51. [Stat. Dig. tit. FISHERY (Southern Whale) Stat. REP. pl. 299., again REP. 6 G. 4. c. 105. s. 145., and previously REP. 26 G. 3. c. 50. s. 1., 35 G. 3. c. 92. s. 1.], intituled, An Act for the encouragement of the fisheries carried on from G. B., Ire., and the British dominions in Europe, and for securing the return of the fishermen, sailors, and others employed in the said fisheries, to the ports thereof, at the end of the fishing season, as relates to the masters and crews of fishing ships occupying or using any vacant spaces in Newfoundland, to the privilege of drying fish on the shores, to fishing ships or boats not being liable to restraint or regulations with respect to days or hours of working, or making entry at the custom-house, to the carrying or conveying of passengers to the continent of America, to agreements or contracts between hirers or employers and seamen or fishermen, to the penalties on such hirers or employers advancing wages, and on such seamen or fishermen absenting themselves from their duty, or neglecting or refusing to work, and the manner of determining disputes and offences; and also so much of 26 G. 3. c. 26. [Stat. Dig. tit. id. pl. 199. further REP. 6 G. 4. c. 105. s. 175. and semb. EXP. intituled, An Act to amend and render more effectual the several laws now in force for encouraging the fisheries carried on at Newfoundland and parts adjacent, from G. B., Ire., and the British dominions in Europe, and for granting bounties for a limited time, on certain terms and conditions, as relates to the wages of green men, the using of seams or nets, seamen or fishermen absenting themselves or neglecting their duty, or deserting or intending to desert; and also so much of 29 G. 3. c. 53. s. 1. [Stat. Dig. tit. id. pl. 229. further REP. 6 G. 4. c. 105. s. 186.] intituled, An Act for further encouraging and regulating the Newfoundland and Greenland and Southern Whale fisheries, as relates to the privilege of landing and drying fish in Newfoundland, shall be and the same are hereby repealed, 5 G. 4. c. 51. s. 1.

14. No alien or stranger whatsoever shall at any time hereafter take bait, or use any sort of fishing whatsoever in Newfoundland, or the coasts, bays, or rivers thereof, or on the coast of Labrador, or in any of the islands or places within or dependent upon the government of the said colony; always excepting the rights and privileges granted by treaty to the subjects or citizens of any foreign state or power in amity with H. M., 5 G. 4. c. 51. s. 2. [See 28 G. 3. c. 35. Stat. Dig. this title, pl. 226.]

15. And whereas it is expedient to obviate any doubts which have arisen or may arise, as to what persons are entitled to the right or privilege of taking, curing, and drying fish on the shores and banks of Newfoundland; be it therefore enacted, That it shall and may be lawful for all H. M.'s subjects residing in the U. K., or in any of H. M.'s colonies, plantations, or dominions, to have, use, and enjoy the free trade and traffic, and art of merchandize and fishery to and from Newfoundland and the coast of Labrador aforesaid, and all and every the islands or places within or dependent upon the government of Newfoundland, and peaceably to have, use, and enjoy the freedom of fishing and taking bait in any of the seas, rivers, lakes, creeks, harbours, or roads in or about Newfoundland or the said coast of Labrador, or any of the islands adjacent thereunto respectively; and liberty to go on shore on any vacant or unoccupied part of Newfoundland, or said coasts of Labrador, or any of the said islands adjacent thereunto respectively, for curing, salting, drying, and husbanding of their fish, and for making oil; and to cut down wood and trees on any such vacant or unoccupied places as aforesaid, for building and making or repairing of stages, ship-rooms, train-fats, hurdles, ships, boats, and other necessities for themselves and their servants, seamen, and fishermen, and all other things which may be useful or advantageous to their fishing trade to do, as fully and freely as at any time heretofore by virtue of any former act of parliament hath been done there by any of H. M.'s subjects, without any hindrance, interruption, denial, or disturbance whatsoever, 5 G. 4. c. 51. s. 3.

16. Whenever any ship or vessel shall be cleared out from any port in the said colony of Newfoundland, or in any other part of H. M.'s dominions, for the said fisheries on the banks or coasts of Newfoundland or Labrador, or the dependencies thereof, without having on board any article of traffic (except only such provisions, nets, tackle, and other things, as are usually employed in and about the said fishery, and for the conduct and carrying on of the same), the master of any such ship or vessel shall be entitled to demand from the collector, or other principal officer of H. M.'s customs at such port, a certificate under his hand that such vessel hath been specially cleared out for the Newfoundland fishery, for which certificate a fee of five shillings and no more shall be payable to such collector or other principal officer as aforesaid, and such certificate shall be in force for the fishing season of the year in which the same may be granted, and no longer; and upon the first arrival in any port in the said colony of Newfoundland, or its dependencies, if any ship or vessel having on board any such certificate as aforesaid, a report thereof shall be made by the master of such ship or vessel, to the principal officer of H. M.'s customs at such port, who shall forthwith make an entry of such report in the books of the custom-house to which he may be attached or belong, and for receiving and registering such report, a fee not exceeding five shillings shall and may be taken by such officer of the customs at Newfoundland; and all ships and vessels having on board any such certificate as aforesaid, which hath in manner aforesaid been duly reported to some officer of H. M.'s customs within the said colony, and being actually engaged in the said fishery, or in carrying coastwise, to be landed or put on board any other ships or vessels engaged in the said fishery, any fish, oil, salt, provisions, or other necessaries for the use and purposes thereof, shall be exempt from all obligation to make any entry at or obtain any clearance from any custom-house at Newfoundland, upon entering the ports or harbours of the said colony or its dependencies, during the continuance of the fishing season for which such certificate may have been granted: provided, that when any such ship or vessel as aforesaid shall finally quit the said fishery, for any country or place not being within the said colony or the dependencies thereof, such ship or vessel shall obtain the usual clearance from some port in the said colony, or the dependencies thereof; and previously to obtaining such clearance, the master of such ship or vessel shall deliver up the before-mentioned certificate to the principal officer of the customs of such port: provided, that in case any such ship or vessel shall have on board, during the time the same may be engaged in the said fishery, any goods or merchandizes whatsoever other than fish, seals, oil made of fish or seals, salt, provisions, or other things, being the produce of or usually employed in the said fishery, such ships or vessels shall forfeit the said fishing certificate, and shall thenceforth become and be subject and liable to all such and the same rules, restrictions, and regulations, as such ship or vessel would have been subject or liable to if this act had not been made, 5 G. 4. c. 51. s. 4.

17. And for preserving the harbours of the said colony of Newfoundland and its dependencies from all annoyances, be it further enacted, That no ballast, stones, or any thing else hurtful or injurious to any of the harbours there, shall be thrown out of any ship, vessel, or boat, or otherwise, by any person whatsoever, to the prejudice of any of the said harbours, but that all such ballast and other things shall be carried on shore and be laid where they may do no annoyance; and if any person shall throw out of any ship, vessel, or boat, or otherwise, any ballast, stones, or other thing hurtful or injurious to any of the harbours of the said colony or its dependencies, or shall wantonly or maliciously do or procure to be done any other matter or thing whereby any of the said harbours shall or may be damaged or impaired, the person so offending shall incur and become liable to the payment of any fine, not less than forty shillings, nor more than fifty pounds sterling, British money, or to imprisonment for any time not exceeding one calendar month, or both, at the discretion of the court before which any such offender may be convicted, 5 G. 4. c. 51. s. 5.

18. No person whatsoever shall cast anchor or do any other matter or thing to the annoyance or hindering of the drawing or hawling of nets or seans in the customary baiting places in Newfoundland, or the dependencies thereof, or shoot his or their net or sean within or upon the net or sean of any other person whatever; and also that no person whatsoever shall steal, purloin, or take any fish or bait out of the net or sean of any other person whatsoever, lying adrift or drover for bait by night, 5 G. 4. c. 51. s. 6.

19. No person whatsoever shall employ or cause to be employed at Newfoundland, or any of the dependencies thereof, for the purpose of carrying on the fishery there, any seamen or fishermen going as passengers, or any seamen or fishermen hired there, without first entering into an agreement or contract with every such seaman or fisherman, declaring what wages or shares such seaman or fisherman is to have, and the time for which he shall serve, and in what manner such wages or shares are to be paid or allowed; and every such agreement or contract shall be made in writing, and shall be signed by all the parties thereto, 5 G. 4. c. 51. s. 7.

20. No hirer or employer of any such seaman or fisherman shall pay or advance, or cause to be paid or advanced to such seaman or fisherman in money or goods, during the time he shall be in the service of such hirer or employer, more than to the amount of three fourths of the wages or shares which by the said contract or agreement shall be agreed to be paid or allowed to such seaman or fisherman; but such hirer or employer shall and is hereby required and directed immediately at or upon the expiration of every such seaman or fisherman's covenanted time of service, to pay either in money or goods (according as may be agreed upon as aforesaid in such contract or agreement in writing), to every such seaman or fisherman, the full balance of one fourth of his stipulated wages or shares aforesaid; and it shall not be lawful for any such hirer or employer to turn away or discharge any such seaman or fisherman, except for wilful neglect of duty or other sufficient cause before the expiration of his stipulated time of service; and in case the hirer or employer of any such seaman or fisherman shall refuse or neglect to comply with any of the terms herein-before mentioned, or shall otherwise offend against this act, every such person so offending shall forfeit for every such offence any sum not less than five pounds, nor more than fifty pounds sterling money, to the use of such person as shall inform or sue for the same, to be recovered in the supreme court of Newfoundland, or by bill, plaint, or information in any of H. M.'s courts of record at Westminster: provided, that every such suit or prosecution, if the same be commenced in Newfoundland, shall be commenced within one year; and if commenced in any of H. M.'s courts of record at Westminster, within two years from the time of the commission of such offence, 5 G. 4. c. 51. s. 8.

21. In all cases where disputes shall arise concerning the wages of any such seaman or fisherman, the hirer or employer shall be obliged to produce the contract or agreement in writing herein-before directed to be entered into with every such seaman or fisherman, and also to give a copy thereof to every such seaman or fisherman, if so required, 5 G. 4. c. 51. s. 9.

22. All the fish and oil which shall be taken and made by the person who shall hire or employ such seaman or fisherman, shall be subject and liable in the first place to the payment of the wages or shares of every such seaman or fisherman, and of the demands of such person as shall bonâ fide supply bait to such seaman or fisherman for the use and benefit of the hirer or employer of such seaman or fisherman, 5 G. 4. c. 51. s. 10.

23. In case any such seaman or fisherman shall at any time wilfully absent himself from his duty or employ without the leave and consent of his hirer or employer, or shall wilfully neglect or refuse to work, according to the true intent and meaning of his said contract or agreement, such seaman or fisherman shall for every day he shall so absent himself, or neglect or refuse to work as aforesaid, forfeit any number of days' pay or shares not exceeding thirty to such hirer or employer; and if any such seaman or fisherman shall wilfully absent himself from his said duty or employment for the space of fourteen days without such leave as aforesaid, he shall be deemed a deserter, and shall forfeit to such hirer or employer all such wages as shall at the time of such desertion be due to him; and it shall and may be lawful for any justice or justices of the peace of Newfoundland, or the dependencies thereof, to issue his or their warrant or warrants to apprehend every such deserter, and on the oath of one witness to commit him to prison, there to remain until the next court of sessions; and if found guilty of the said offence at such court of sessions, it shall and may be lawful to and for the said court of sessions to order such deserter to be imprisoned for any time not exceeding three calendar months, and afterwards to be put on board a passage ship, in order to his being conveyed back to the country whereto he belongs, in case such deserter be not a native of or settled within the said colony, 5 G. 4. c. 51. s. 11.

24. It shall and may be lawful for H. M., by advice of his council, from time to time give such orders and instructions to the governor of Newfoundland, or to any officer or officers on that station, as he or they shall deem proper and necessary to fulfil the purposes of any treaty or treaties now in force between H. M. and any foreign state or power; and in case it shall be necessary to that end, to give orders and instructions to the governor or other officer or officers aforesaid, to remove or cause to be removed any stages, flakes, train-fats, or other works whatever, for the purpose of carrying on the fishery, erected by H. M.'s subjects on that part of the coast of Newfoundland which lies between Cape Saint John passing to the north, and descending to the western coast of the said island to the place called Cape Raye, and also all ships, vessels, and boats belonging to H. M.'s subjects which shall be found within the limits aforesaid; and also, in case of refusal to depart from within the limits aforesaid, to compel any of H. M.'s subjects to depart from thence, 5 G. 4. c. 51. s. 12.

25. If any person shall refuse, upon requisition made by the governor, or any officer or officers acting under him in pursuance of H. M.'s orders or instructions as aforesaid, to depart from within the limits aforesaid, or otherwise to conform to such requisitions and directions as such governor or other officer as aforesaid shall make or give for the purposes aforesaid, every such person so refusing or otherwise offending against the same, shall forfeit the sum of fifty pounds sterling money: provided, that every such prosecution, if the same be commenced in Newfoundland, shall be commenced within one year; and if commenced in any of H. M.'s courts of record at Westminster, within two years from the time of the commission of such offence, 5 G. 4. c. 51. s. 13.

26. And whereas by 51 G. 3. c. 45. s. 1. [Stat. Dig. tit. NEWFOUNDLAND, pl. 17.], the governor of the island of Newfoundland is empowered to dispose of certain places in the harbour of Saint John in the said island, called "Fishing Ships Rooms," as therein particularly described: and whereas it is expedient that all other fishing ships rooms in Newfoundland should be disposed of in like manner; be it further enacted, That the governor of Newfoundland for the time being shall have power, and he is hereby authorized to sell, lease, or dispose of all such places within the said island of Newfoundland, commonly called "Ships Rooms," as may not be already disposed of under and by virtue of the said last-mentioned act, to be held in the same manner as other property in Newfoundland; provided however, that nothing herein contained shall extend or be construed to the prejudice of any private right of any person whatever, 5 G. 4. c. 51. s. 14.

27. It shall and may be lawful for H. M., to grant to any persons or person any waste and unoccupied lands situate and being within the said colony, and which have not hitherto been granted by H. M., or any of his royal predecessors, to any persons or person; any thing in any charter granted by any of H. M.'s royal predecessors, or in any act of parliament, to the contrary contained in anywise notwithstanding, 5 G. 4. c. 51. s. 15.

28. All penalties hereby imposed shall and may be sued for and recovered in any of H. M.'s courts of record in the said colony of Newfoundland, or its dependencies, and shall go and be applied, one half to the benefit of any person who may sue or inform for the same, and the other half to H. M., for and towards the support of the government of the said colony, 5 G. 4. c. 51. s. 16.

(STATUTES in force.)

17. To authorize the advance of money by the commissioners under several acts for the issue of exchequer bills for public works, for the building, rebuilding, enlarging, or repairing of gaols in Eng., 4 G. 4. c. 63. [As to borrowing money for like purposes, see 4 G. 4. c. 64. ss. 54, 55. post, pl. 84, 85., 5 G. 4. c. 85. s. 20. post, pl. 86., and 6 G. 4. c. 40. pl. 142.]

18. Whereas 3 G. 4. c. 86. was passed, intituled, An Act to amend two acts of the fifty-seventh year of His late Majesty, and the first year of His present Majesty, for authorizing the issue of exchequer bills and the advance of money for carrying on public works and fisheries, and employment of the poor; and to authorize a further issue of exchequer bills for the purposes of the said acts: and whereas it is expedient that the provisions of the said recited act, and of the several acts of parliament recited in the said act, should be extended to empowering the commissioners therein named to advance money for the building, rebuilding, enlarging, repairing, improving, or fitting up of gaols or houses of correction in Eng.: be it therefore enacted, That upon the application of the major part of the justices of any county, riding, division, city, town, or place in Eng. in quarter sessions assembled, such major part to consist of five at the least, it shall be lawful for the commissioners, who are authorized and empowered to advance money for public works under the provisions of the 5 G. 4. c. 86., and of the several acts therein recited, and they are hereby empowered to make advances, under the powers, authorities, provisions, and regulations of the said acts, for the building, rebuilding, enlarging, improving, repairing, or fitting up of any gaols or houses of correction in Eng., in like manner in every respect as if gaols and houses of correction had been included in the provisions of the said recited acts; and it shall be lawful for the justices of the peace of any county, or of any city, town, or place in Eng., authorized to make rates for the repairing of any gaol or house of correction, to receive any sums of money so advanced, and to apply the same to the purposes for which such advances shall be made, and to make rates for the repayment of any sums of money so advanced, in such manner, and in such proportions, and at such times as shall be required by the said commissioners in that behalf, and also to assign the rates so to be made as aforesaid, as a security for the said advances in such manner and form as the said commissioners shall direct and appoint, so as that all sums so advanced, with interest thereon at and after the rate specified in the 5 G. 4. c. 86., shall be fully repaid and satisfied within the period of twenty years from the advancing thereof, and all such rates shall be made, assessed, levied, and recovered in like manner as any county rates may be made, assessed, raised, levied, and recovered, and shall continue in force until all such advances, with interest after the rate aforesaid, shall severally and respectively be fully paid and discharged, 4 G. 4. c. 63.

19. For consolidating and amending the laws relating to the building, repairing, and regulating of certain gaols and houses of correction in Eng. and Wa., 4 G. 4. c. 64. [AMD. as to cities, &c. contracting with counties, &c. for the custody of their prisoners, and for procuring information as to the state of all other gaols and houses of correction in Eng. and Wa., 5 G. 4. c. 85., and further AMD. as to offenders in gaol under sentence of transportation, 5 G. 4. c. 84. ss. 18, 19. The 4 G. 4. c. 64. to take effect and commence from and after 1st Sept. 1823. id. s. 78., and repealed as to the cities of Canterbury, Lichfield and Lincoln, 5 G. 4. c. 85. s. 9. As to the prisons, &c. to which these acts do not extend, see 4 G. 4. c. 64. s. 76. pl. 109., and 5 G. 4. c. 85. s. 27. pl. 123.; and as to gaols, &c. in ridings and divisions of counties, see 5 G. 4. c. 12. post. pl. 124.; and as to borrowing money for building, repairing, &c. gaols, &c. upon mortgage of the county rate, 6 G. 4. c. 40. s. 5. post. pl. 147.]

20. Whereas the laws now existing relative to the building, repairing, and regulating of gaols and houses of correction in Eng. and Wa., are complicated, and have in many cases been found ineffective: and whereas it is expedient that such measures should be adopted, and such arrangements made in prisons, as shall not only provide for the safe custody, but shall also tend more effectually to preserve the health and to improve the morals of the prisoners confined therein, and shall insure the proper measure of punishment to convicted offenders: and whereas due classification, inspection, regular labour and employment, and religious and moral instruction, are essential to the discipline of a prison, and to the reformation of offenders: and whereas the present laws directing the separation, superintendence, employment, and instruction of prisoners, require to be amended and enlarged, and to be more uniformly and strictly carried into effect; and it is therefore expedient that the most useful provisions contained in the several statutes and acts and parts of statutes and acts hereinafter mentioned, should be consolidated, and that some new provisions should be added thereto:—[Preamble to 4 G. 4. c. 64. s. 1.—And whereas it is expedient that 4 G. 4. c. 64. should in some respects be amended, and that provision should be made for ascertaining the state of all other prisons in Eng. and Wa.—Preamble to 5 G. 4. c. 85. s. 1.]—be it therefore enacted, That from and after the commencement of this act, [viz. 10th July 1823.] the several statutes and acts, and parts of statutes and acts following, shall be repealed, so far as relates to such gaols or prisons, or houses of correction, as this act shall extend to, that is to say, so much of a statute passed, 1 Ed. 3. st. 1. c. 7. [Stat. Dig. tit. PRISONS, &c. pl. 5.] as relates to inquiry to be made of gaolers which by duress compel prisoners to appeal: and also so much of 4 Ed. 3. c. 10. [Stat. Dig. tit. PRISONS, pl. 7.] as relates to sheriffs and gaolers receiving offenders without taking any thing: and also so much of 14 Ed. 3. st. 1. c. 10. [Stat. Dig. tit. PRISONS, pl. 6.] as relates to the punishment of a gaoler compelling a prisoner by duress to become an approver: and also, 7 Ja. 1. c. 4. ss. 2—4. 6. 9. [Stat. Dig. tit. PRISONS, pl. 22., and tit. VAGRANT, pl. 11—13, 14.] intituled, An Act for the due execution of divers laws and statutes heretofore made against rogues, vagabonds, and sturdy beggars, and other lewd and idle persons, as relates to the providing houses of correction, to the appointment, authority, and allowance of the governor, and to his accounting to justices for persons committed to his custody: and also so much of 19 Car. 2. c. 4. ss. 1—3. 5. [Stat. Dig. tit. PRISONS, pl. 26. 28. 29.] intituled, An Act for the relief of poor prisoners, and setting them to work, as relates to the providing stocks for setting such prisoners to work, and to the removal of prisoners on occasion of sickness: and also so much of 22 & 23 C. 2. c. 20. ss. 10—13. [Stat. Dig. tit. PRISONS, pl. 30—34.] intituled, An Act for the relief and release of poor distressed prisoners for debt, as relates to prisoners being allowed to send for victuals and other necessities, and to fees and charities, and to the separation of felons and debtors: and also an act passed, 11 & 12 W. 3. c. 19. [Stat. Dig. tit. PRISONS, pl. 57—64.] intituled, An Act to enable justices of peace to build and repair gaols in their respective counties; any thing in 6 G. 1. c. 19. s. 1. for making perpetual any act or acts relating to the building and repairing of county gaols to the contrary notwithstanding: and also so much of 2 G. 2. c. 22. ss. 3—7. [which seems to have been virtually repealed, except s. 13. by 32 G. 2. c. 28., as well as expired; see note to Stat. Dig. tit. INSOLVENT DEBTORS, Stat. REP., &c. pl. 7.] intituled, An Act for the relief of debtors, with respect to the imprisonment of their persons, as relates to prisoners being allowed by keepers of prisons and gaols to send for victuals and other necessities, and to the taking of fees, and the making and hanging up tables thereof, and to inquiries concerning the same, and to the hearing of complaints of extortion against gaolers, and examining into gifts and legacies for the benefit of poor prisoners, and hanging up tables thereof: and also so much of 14 G. 2. c. 53. s. 2. [Stat. Dig. tit. PRISONS, pl. 104.] intituled, An Act to supply some defects in the laws for repairing and rebuilding county bridges, for repairing, enlarging, erecting, and providing houses of correction, and for passing rogues and vagabonds, as relates to repairing, enlarging, and building houses of correction, and to buying houses and lands for that purpose: and also so much of 16 G. 2. c. 51. [Stat. Dig. tit. PRISONS, pl. 126—131.] intituled, An Act for the further punishment of persons who shall aid or assist prisoners to attempt to escape out of lawful custody, as relates to the escapes of prisoners from any gaol or prison to which this act shall extend: and also so much of 17 G. 2. c. 5. ss. 30, 31. [Stat. Dig. tit. PRISONS, pl. 102—107. 118.] intituled, An Act to amend and make more effectual the laws relating to rogues, vagabonds, and other idle and disorderly persons, and to houses of correction, as relates to the erecting, enlarging, and managing of houses of correction, and the fining or turning out of masters of them for misbehaviour: and also so much of 24 G. 2. c. 40. ss. 13, 14, 15, 16. [Stat. Dig. tit. PRISONS, pl. 138—142.] made among other things for granting an additional duty upon spirituous liquors, and upon licences for retailing the same, and for repealing 20 G. 2. c. 59., made among other things for more effectually restraining the retailing of distilled spirituous liquors, as relates to the retailing of spirituous liquors in gaols, prisons, or houses of correction, to the carrying of liquors into the same, to the search for such liquors, and to the hanging up of a copy of certain clauses of the said act in such gaols, prisons, or houses: and also so much of 32 G. 2. c. 28. ss. 4—10. [Stat. Dig. tit. ARREST, pl. 15. tit. PRISONS, pl. 155—162.] for relief of debtors, with respect to the imprisonment of their persons, as relates to prisoners being allowed to send for victuals and other necessities, and to the settling, signing, and reviewing, enrolling, and hanging up of tables of fees, rates, and benefactions, and rules for the government of gaols and prisons: and also 13 G. 3. c. 58. [Stat. Dig. tit. PRISONS, pl. 165, 166, 168, 169.] intituled, An Act for providing clergymen to officiate in gaols within that part of G. B. called Eng.: and also 14 G. 3. c. 59. [Stat. Dig. tit. PRISONS, pl. 179—182.] intituled, An Act for preserving the health of prisoners in gaol, and preventing the gaol distemper: and also 22 G. 3. c. 64. [Stat. Dig. tit. PRISONS, pl. 103. 108—118. 165, 167.] intituled, An Act for the amending and rendering more effectual the laws in being relative to houses of correction: and also the 24 G. 3. sess. 2. c. 54. [Stat. Dig. tit. PRISONS, pl. 56. 65—87.] made to explain and amend the herein-before recited act, 11 & 12 W. 3. c. 19., and the 24 G. 3. sess. 2. c. 55. [Stat. Dig. tit. PRISONS, pl. 103. 119—125.] made to explain and amend the herein-before recited act of 22 G. 3. c. 64.: and also 29 G. 3. c. 67. [Stat. Dig. tit. PRISONS, pl. 183—186.] intituled, An Act for the more effectual execution of the laws respecting gaols: and also 31 G. 3. c. 46. [Stat. Dig. tit. PRISONS, pl. 187—207.] intituled, An Act for the better regulating of gaols and other places of confinement, except only so much of the said act as relates to the imprisonment and employment in hard labour in the common gaol of the county, of prisoners sentenced to transportation, or to whom the royal mercy shall be extended on condition of transportation [s. 7. pl. 194.]: and also 55 G. 3. c. 48. [Stat. Dig. tit. PRISONS, pl. 170—174.] for enlarging the powers of the herein-before recited acts of 13 G. 3. c. 58. and 22 G. 3. c. 64., for providing clergymen to officiate in gaols and houses of correction within Eng. and Wa.: and also 58 G. 3. c. 32. [Stat. Dig. tit. PRISONS, pl. 174.] to amend so much of the said act 55 G. 3. c. 48., as relates to the salaries of the clergymen officiating as chaplains in houses of correction; and the said several statutes and acts, and parts of statutes and acts, are hereby repealed accordingly, and from and after the commencement of this act [viz. 1st Sept. 1823. see s.78.], shall cease and determine so far as relates to gaols and houses of correction to which this act shall extend; save and except so far as the said acts, or any of them, repeal any former act or acts, or any clause, matter, or thing therein; and also save and except as to any proceeding for the punishment of any person for any offence which shall before the commencement of this act have been committed; and as to any presentment before that time made by any justice of the peace or grand jury; and as to any appointment before that time made by any officer or other person to perform any duties under the said recited acts, or any of them; and as to any rules and regulations, acts and deeds, before that time lawfully established, made, or done, under or by virtue of any one or more of the said acts; and as to the fulfilment of any contracts or agreements before that time lawfully made under or by virtue of the said recited acts, or any of them, 4 G. 4. c. 64. s. 1.

21. From and after the commencement of this act, there shall be maintained, at the expence of every county in Eng. and Wa., one common gaol; and at the expence of every county not divided into ridings or divisions, and of every riding or division of a county (having several and distinct commissions of the peace, or several or distinct rates in the nature of county rates, applicable by law to the maintenance of a prison for such division), in Eng. and Wa., at least one house of correction; and one gaol and one house of correction shall be maintained in the several cities, towns, and places mentioned in the schedule marked (A.) annexed to this act; and the regulations and provisions contained in this act shall extend, in manner herein-after mentioned, to every such gaol and house of correction, maintained at the expence of such county, riding, division, city, town, or place, and to the several gaols and houses of correction in the cities of London and Westminster, 4 G. 4. c. 64. s. 2.

22. Provided, that where there shall have been already established, and shall be existing at the time of passing of this act, in any county, riding, division, city, town, or place, one or more house or houses of correction, not sufficient or capable of being made sufficient for the extended classification required by this act, it shall be lawful for the justices at their general quarter sessions, or the major part of them, if they think fit, to order that, in addition to the house of correction herein-before [s. 2. pl. 21.] directed to be maintained for the purposes of this act, one or more of such houses of correction as shall be so existing at the time of the passing of this act, shall be continued and maintained for the reception of one or more particular class or classes or description of prisoners, as may be prescribed by the justices at their general or quarter sessions as hereby directed, 4 G. 4. c. 64. s. 3.

23. And at the Michaelmas general quarter sessions which shall be held in every county, riding, or division of a county in Eng. and Wa., and in the several districts, cities, towns, and places to which this act shall extend, next after the commencement of this act, and at any subsequent general or quarter sessions to be held from time to time, the justices of the peace there assembled, shall proceed in carrying this act into effect; and such justices shall, by orders to be made for that purpose, ascertain and declare to what class or classes of prisoners every such gaol, house or houses of correction, or any part or parts of any of them, shall be applicable; and every such order shall be signed by the chairman of such sessions, and shall be notified by the clerks of the peace to the several justices of the peace in every such county, riding, or division, district, city, town, or place respectively; and notice thereof shall be inserted in three of the newspapers usually circulated in such county, riding, division, district, city, town, or place respectively, within three weeks after such order shall be made at any such sessions; and a copy thereof shall be served upon the keeper of every gaol or house of correction within every such county, riding, division, district, city, town, or place; and after the making of such order, and service of such copy thereof upon such keeper, such class or classes of prisoners as shall be specified in such order, and no other, shall be committed to or detained in any such gaol, house or houses of correction, or any part of any of them respectively; and all persons not coming within the class or description of prisoners who may lawfully be committed to or detained in such prison as shall be appointed by the justices for the confinement of one or more class or classes of prisoners, may be removed to the gaol or house of correction of the county, riding, or division, and every such gaol or house of correction, shall be deemed the legal gaol, prison, or place of confinement of every person respectively committed to the same in pursuance of such order as aforesaid; any thing in any act or acts, or any law, custom, or usage to the contrary notwithstanding: provided, that no classification of prisoners shall be made in any house of correction appropriated to the reception of any particular class or classes of prisoners, which shall be in any way inconsistent with or contrary to the classification directed by this act, 4 G. 4. c. 64. s. 4.

24. Where in any county, riding, or division of a county, or in any of the cities, towns, and places named in the said schedule (A.), any house of correction shall be part of the same building, or inclosed in the same boundary wall as, or shall be contiguous to, the common gaol, and shall be under the superintendence of the same keeper, and the same visiting justices, it shall be lawful for the justices of the peace of the county, division, city, town, or place, assembled at any general or quarter sessions, from time to time, with the consent of the sheriff of the county for the time being, signified in writing under his hand, to proceed to carry into effect the classification and separation directed by this act, in the whole of such united or contiguous building or buildings, instead of in each such house of correction and gaol, and to divide the whole of such building or united or contiguous buildings, into such number of compartments for the purpose of such separation and classification as would be required under the regulations of this act, if the same had been one distinct gaol or house of correction; and also at any general or quarter sessions from time to time, by their order or orders, and with such consent of the sheriff as aforesaid, to ascertain and declare what part or parts of the same building, or united or contiguous buildings, shall be considered as the gaol, and what part or parts thereof respectively shall be considered as the house of correction, and shall be appropriated to the confinement of particular classes and descriptions of prisoners, and to direct what classes and descriptions respectively shall be confined in each part or division of such building, or united or contiguous buildings; and all persons to be committed to or detained in the respective parts and divisions so to be ascertained and appropriated of any such building, or united or contiguous buildings, to them respectively applicable, shall be deemed and held to be in legal custody: provided, that prisoners for debt may be removed to and shall always be confined in the part or parts of such building, or united or contiguous buildings, which shall be so ascertained or be appropriated as and for the gaol of the county, division, city, town, or place; and such removal shall not be deemed or taken to be an escape, 4 G. 4. c. 64. s. 5.

25. Whereas by stat. 4 G. 4. c. 64. it is required, that when the gaol and house of correction are inclosed within the same boundary-wall, it shall be ascertained and declared what part or parts shall be considered as the gaol, and what as the house of correction: be it enacted, That notwithstanding any thing in the said act contained, it may be lawful for the justices, in their general or quarter sessions, to declare in any such case that such parts of the buildings, as shall be appropriated for the chapel, and for the sick wards or infirmaries, shall be common both to the gaol and to the house of correction, and that in that case a double set of wards shall not be necessary, 5 G. 4. c. 85. s. 14.

26. Nothing in the said recited act or in this act contained shall oblige any city, town, borough, port, or liberty, to provide in its gaol or house of correction accommodation for any class of prisoners who could not be lawfully committed to such prison before the passing of the said recited act; and that nothing in the said recited act or this act contained shall alter or affect the liability of any bodies politic or corporate, or of the inhabitants of any parish, township, or place, or of any individuals bound by statute, tenure, custom, prescription, or usage, to repair or to contribute towards the repair of any prison, or to maintain or contribute towards the maintenance of the prisoners confined in any prison, or to pay or contribute towards the payment of any expences whatever connected with any prison, but that all such parties shall remain liable to all such charges as if the said recited act and this act had not been made, 5 G. 4. c. 85. s. 15.

27. Provided, that all persons who in pursuance of any such order shall be removed to, committed to, or detained in the part of such united or contiguous buildings which shall be so declared and ascertained to be the gaol, shall from henceforth be deemed to be in the legal custody of the sheriff and of the gaoler appointed by the sheriff, in the same manner as if such persons had been committed to the common gaol before the passing of this act: provided also, that the sheriff shall not be answerable for the safe custody of any person who in pursuance of any such order shall from time to time be removed to, committed to, or detained in any part of such united or contiguous buildings, other than the part so declared to be the gaol, 4 G. 4. c. 64. s. 6.

28. Whereas the practice of committing vagrants to common gaols has been attended with much inconvenience to the classification of prisoners, and has prevented a uniformity of practice in the management of prisoners, it is enacted, That from and after the 1st Sept. 1824, in every county, riding, or division of a county in Eng. and Wa., and in the several districts, cities, towns, or places to which this act shall extend, all idle and disorderly persons, rogues and vagabonds, incorrigible rogues, and other vagrants, shall be committed to some house of correction belonging to such county, riding, or division, district, city, town, or place respectively; and that such house of correction shall be deemed the only legal place of commitment of any such person in pursuance of any conviction by lawful authority, 4 G. 4. c. 64. s. 7.

29. Provided, that in all cases where any person liable by law to be committed to the house of correction shall be apprehended within any district, city, town, or place mentioned in the schedule to this act annexed, and the inhabitants of any such district, city, town, or place are or shall be contributory to the support and maintenance of the house or houses of correction of the county, riding, or division, in which such district, city, town, or place is situate, it shall and may be lawful for the justices of the peace of such district, city, town, or place, to commit such person to the house of correction of the county, riding, or division in which such district, city, town, or place is situate; and every person so committed shall and may be received, detained, dealt with, and ordered to be set and kept to hard labour or other work, or conveyed and sent away or discharged, and be subject and liable to the same correction and punishment, to all intents and purposes, as if committed by any justice or justices of the peace of such county, riding, or division; and in such case it shall not be necessary or required that any other house of correction shall be built or maintained in or for such district, city, town, or place, and the inhabitants of such district, city, town, or place shall not be compelled or compellable to the payment of any rate or sum of money whatever for the building or maintaining of any other house of correction in or for such district, city, town, or place, 4 G. 4. c. 64. s. 8.

30. Provided, that nothing in this act shall extend to take away, lessen, vary, alter, or affect any right, privilege, or franchise, which before this act any mayor, bailiff, or justice of the peace, for the time being, of any city, town, or liberty, having a separate jurisdiction, had by means of any grant, charter, or special or local act of parliament, to commit prisoners to the gaol or house of correction of any county, riding, or division, 4 G. 4. c. 64. s. 9.

31. Whereas it is fit and proper to secure an uniformity of practice in the management of the several prisons to which this act shall extend, be it therefore enacted, That the following rules and regulations shall be observed and carried into effect in every such prison in Eng. and Wa., which shall be maintained by any county or riding, or division of a county as aforesaid, as a gaol or house of correction, and in the gaol and house of correction of every district, city, town, or place mentioned in the schedule (A.) and in every united and contiguous gaol and house of correction which shall be jointly used in manner aforesaid for the purposes of this act, and in every prison authorized to be continued under this act as aforesaid, in any county or riding, or division of a county, so far as such rules may be applicable or can be applied to the particular description or class of prisoners confined in such prison:

- I. The keeper of every such prison shall reside therein; he shall not be an under-sheriff or bailiff, nor shall be concerned in any occupation or trade whatsoever; no keeper or officer of a prison shall sell, nor shall any person in trust for him or employed by him sell, or have any benefit or advantage from the sale of any article to any prisoner, nor shall he directly or indirectly, have any interest in any contract or agreement for the supply of the prison.
- II. A matron shall be appointed in every prison in which female prisoners shall be confined, who shall reside in the prison; and it shall be the duty of the matron constantly to superintend the female prisoners.
- III. The keeper shall, as far as may be practicable, visit every ward, and see every prisoner, and inspect every cell once at least in every twenty-four hours; and when the keeper, or any other officer, shall visit the female prisoners, he shall be accompanied by the matron, or in case of her unavoidable absence, by some female officer of the prison.
- IV. The keeper shall keep a journal, in which he shall record all punishments inflicted by his authority, or by that of the visiting justices, and the day when such punishments shall have taken place, and all other occurrences of importance within the prison, in such manner as shall be directed by the regulations to be made under this act; which journal shall be laid before the justices at every general or quarter sessions, to be signed by the chairman, in proof of the same having been there produced.
- V. Due provision shall be made in every prison for the enforcement of hard labour in the cases of such prisoners as may be sentenced thereto, and for the employment of other prisoners. The means of hard labour shall be provided, and the materials requisite for the employment of prisoners shall be purchased, under such regulations as may be made for that purpose by the justices in general or quarter sessions assembled. If the work to be performed by the prisoners be of such a nature as to require previous instruction, proper persons shall be appointed to afford the same.
- VI. The male and female prisoners shall be confined in separate buildings or parts of the prison, so as to prevent them from seeing, conversing, or holding any intercourse with each other; and the prisoners of each sex shall be divided into distinct classes, care being taken that prisoners of the following classes do not intermix with each other:

In Gaols.

- 1st. Debtors and persons confined for contempt of court on civil process.
- 2nd. Prisoners convicted of felony.
- 3d. Prisoners convicted of misdemeanors.
- 4th. Prisoners committed on charge or suspicion of felony.
- 5th. Prisoners committed on charge or suspicion of misdemeanors or for want of sureties.

In the Houses of Correction.

- 1st. Prisoners convicted of felony.
- 2nd. Prisoners convicted of misdemeanors.
- 3d. Prisoners committed on charge or suspicion of felony.
- 4th. Prisoners committed on charge or suspicion of misdemeanors.
- 5th. Vagrants.

Such prisoners as are intended to be examined as witnesses in behalf of the crown in any prosecution shall also be kept separate in all gaols and houses of correction: Provided always, that nothing herein contained shall be construed to extend to prevent the justices from authorizing, at their discretion, the employment of any prisoner in the performance of any menial office within the prison, or for the purpose of instructing others; and provided also, that if the keeper shall at any time deem it improper or inexpedient for a prisoner to associate with the other prisoners of the class to which he or she may belong, it shall be lawful for him to confine such prisoner with any other class or description of prisoners, or in any other part of the prison, until he can receive the directions of a visiting justice thereon, to whom he shall apply with as little delay as possible, and who in every such instance shall ascertain whether the reasons assigned by the keeper warrant such deviation from the established rules, and shall give such orders in writing as he shall think fit, under the circumstances of the particular case.

- VII. Female prisoners shall in all cases be attended by female officers.
- VIII. Every prisoner sentenced to hard labour shall, unless prevented by sickness, be employed so many hours in every day, not exceeding ten, exclusive of the time allowed for meals, as shall be directed by the rules and regulations to be made under this act, except on Sundays, Christmas Day, and Good Friday, and on any days appointed by public authority for fasting or thanksgiving.
- IX. Prayers, to be selected from the liturgy of the church of Eng. by the chaplain, shall be read at least every morning, by the chaplain, the keeper, or by some other person, as by the rules and regulations shall be directed; and portions of the Scriptures shall be read to the prisoners, when assembled for instruction, by the chaplain, or by such person as he may appoint or authorize.
- X. Provision shall be made in all prisons for the instruction of prisoners of both sexes in reading and writing, and that instruction shall be afforded under such rules and regulations, and to such extent, and to such prisoners, as to the visiting justices may seem expedient.
- XI. Prisoners under charge or conviction of any crime shall attend divine service on Sundays, and on other days when such service is performed, unless prevented by illness or by other reasonable cause, to be allowed by the keeper, or unless their attendance shall be dispensed with by one of the visiting justices.
- XII. No prisoner shall be put in irons by the keeper of any prison except in case of urgent and absolute necessity; and the particulars of every such case shall be forthwith entered in the keeper's journal, and notice forthwith given thereof to one of the visiting justices; and the keeper shall not continue the use of irons on any prisoner longer than four days, without an order in writing from a visiting justice, specifying the cause thereof; which order shall be preserved by the keeper, as his warrant for the same.
- XIII. Every prisoner maintained at the expence of any county, riding, division, city, town, or place, shall be allowed a sufficient quantity of plain and wholesome food, to be regulated by the justices in general or quarter sessions assembled, regard being had (so far as may relate to convicted prisoners) to the nature of the labour required from or performed by such prisoners, so that the allowance of food may be duly apportioned thereto. And it shall be lawful for the justices to order for such prisoners of every description, as are not able to work, or being able cannot procure employment sufficient to sustain themselves by their industry, or who may not be otherwise provided for, such allowance of food as the said justices shall from time to time think necessary for the support of health. Prisoners under the care of the surgeon shall be allowed such diet as he may direct. Care shall be taken that all provisions supplied to the prisoners be of proper quality and weight. Scales and legal weights and measures shall be provided, open to the use of any prisoners, under such restrictions as shall be made by the regulations of each prison.

XIV. Prisoners who shall not receive any allowance from the county, whether confined for debt or before trial, for any supposed crime or offence, shall be allowed to procure for themselves, and to receive at proper hours, any food, bedding, clothing, or other necessities, subject to a strict examination, and under such limitations and restrictions, to be prescribed by the regulations to be made in manner directed by this act, as may be reasonable and expedient, to prevent extravagance and luxury within the walls of a prison; all articles of clothing and bedding shall be examined, in order that it may be ascertained that such articles are not likely to communicate infection or facilitate escape.

XV. No prisoner who is confined under the sentence of any court, nor any prisoners confined in pursuance of any conviction before a justice, shall receive any food, clothing, or necessities, other than the gaol allowance, except under such regulations and restrictions as to the justices in general or quarter sessions assembled may appear expedient with reference to the several classes of prisoners, or under special circumstances, to be judged of by one or more of the visiting justices.

XVI. Due provision shall be made for the admission, at proper times, and under proper restrictions, of persons with whom prisoners committed for trial may desire to communicate; and such rules and regulations shall be made, by the justices in general quarter sessions assembled, for the admission of the friends of convicted prisoners as to such justices may seem expedient; and the justices shall also impose such restrictions upon the communication and correspondence of all such prisoners with their friends, either within or without the walls of the prison, as they shall judge necessary for the maintenance of good order and discipline in such prison.

XVII. The surgeon shall examine every prisoner who shall be brought into the prison, before he or she shall be passed into the proper ward; and no prisoner shall be discharged from prison if labouring under any acute or dangerous distemper, nor until in the opinion of the surgeon, such discharge is safe, unless such prisoner shall require to be discharged. The wearing apparel of every prisoner shall be fumigated and purified, if requisite, after which the same shall be returned to him or her, or in case of the insufficiency of such clothing, then other sufficient clothing shall be furnished, according to the rules and regulations of the prison; but no prisoner before trial shall be compelled to wear a prison dress, unless his or her own clothes be deemed insufficient or improper, or necessary to be preserved for the purposes of justice; and no prisoner who has not been convicted of felony shall be liable to be clothed in a party-coloured dress; but if it be deemed expedient to have a prison dress for prisoners not convicted of felony, the same shall be plain.

XVIII. Every prisoner shall be provided with suitable bedding; and every male prisoner with a separate bed, hammock, or cot, either in a separate cell, or in a cell with not less than two other male prisoners.

XIX. The walls and ceilings of the wards, cells, rooms, and passages used by the prisoners throughout every prison, shall be scraped and lime-washed at least once in the year; the day-rooms, work-rooms, passages, and sleeping cells shall be washed or cleansed once a week, or oftener if requisite. Convenient places for the prisoners to wash themselves shall be provided, with an adequate allowance of soap, towels, and combs.

XX. All prisoners shall be allowed as much air and exercise as may be deemed proper for the preservation of their health.

XXI. No tap shall be kept in any prison; nor shall spirituous liquors of any kind be admitted for the use of any of the prisoners therein, under any pretence whatever, unless by a written order of the surgeon, specifying the quantity, and for whose use. No wine, beer, cider, or other fermented liquors, shall be admitted for the use of any prisoners, except in such quantities, in such manner, and at such times as shall be allowed by the rules hereafter to be made in pursuance of this act.

XXII. No gaming shall be permitted in any prison; and the keeper shall seize and destroy all dice, cards, or other instruments of gaming.

XXIII. No money under the name of garnish shall be taken from any prisoner on his or her entrance into the prison, under any pretence whatever.

XXIV. Upon the death of a prisoner, notice thereof shall be given by the keeper forthwith to one of the visiting justices, as well as to the coroner of the district, and to the nearest relative of the deceased, where practicable, 4 G. 4. c. 64. s. 10.

32. In case the coroner shall hold an inquest on the body of any prisoner who shall have died within the prison, none of the prisoners confined in that prison shall be a juror on such inquest, 4 G. 4. c. 64. s. 11.

33. It shall be lawful for the court of mayor and aldermen of the city of London, so far as respects the prisons within the said city and liberties thereof, and for five justices of the peace in general or quarter sessions assembled, of each county, riding, or division of a county, or of any district, city, town, or place to which this act shall extend, so far as respects the prisons within their respective jurisdictions, to make such further and additional rules for the government of such prisons respectively, and for the duties to be performed by the officers of the same, as to them may seem expedient; provided, that no such further or additional rules shall be enforced, until the same shall have been submitted in London and Middlesex, to the two chief justices, and elsewhere to the justices of gaol delivery or of great sessions respectively, at some gaol delivery or great sessions to be held after the making such rules, and until such chief justice or justices of gaol delivery or of great sessions respectively shall have subscribed a certificate or declaration that they do not see any thing contrary to law therein; provided, that all such rules and regulations shall be consistent with and conformable to the rules and regulations in this act contained: and the justices in general or quarter sessions assembled shall and they are hereby required from time to time to cause copies of so much of the rules of each prison as relates to the treatment and conduct of prisoners confined therein, to be printed in legible characters, and to be fixed up in conspicuous parts of every prison, so that every prisoner may be enabled to have access thereto; and all rules and regulations made and approved pursuant to the directions of this act shall be binding upon the sheriff and upon all other persons; provided, that no such rules shall be so construed as to interfere with the right or duty of the sheriff to appoint or remove any keeper of a county gaol, or other prison subject to the authority of such sheriff, 4 G. 4. c. 64. s. 12.

34. Provided, that all the powers and authorities given by this act to justices of the peace in general or quarter sessions assembled, in the several counties, and all other acts to be done and performed by justices of the peace at any sessions in pursuance of this act, shall be exercised and performed, so far as regards the prisons in the city of London and liberties thereof, by the court of mayor and aldermen of the said city, as heretofore has been accustomed, and not by the said mayor and aldermen as magistrates at the general or quarter sessions of the peace to be holden in and for the said city: any thing in this act contained to the contrary thereof in anywise notwithstanding, 4 G. 4. c. 64. s. 13.

35. The gaoler and keeper of every gaol and house of correction, maintained at the expence of any county, or of any such riding or division of a county as aforesaid, in Eng. and W., or maintained by any district, city, town, or place specified in the schedule to this act annexed marked (A.), shall make a report in writing of the actual state and condition of every such gaol and house of correction, and of the number and description of prisoners confined therein, to the justices at the several general or quarter sessions to be holden next after the commencement of this act, and at every ensuing general or quarter sessions in every such county, riding, division, district, city, town, or place, and shall at every such general or quarter sessions, attend and give answer upon oath, to all such inquiries as shall be made by the justices at such sessions, with respect to the state and condition of every such gaol and house of correction, and of the prisoners confined therein, and with respect to any other matters and things relating to the said gaol and house of correction, respecting which such justices shall deem it necessary to make any inquiry for the purpose of proceeding and continuing to carry this act into execution, and of ascertaining how far every such gaol and house of correction is capable of affording the means of the classification required by this act, 4 G. 4. c. 64. s. 14.

36. The chairman of the Michaelmas quarter sessions of the peace, which shall be held next after the commencement of this act, for every county, riding, division, district, city, town, or place to which this act shall extend, shall transmit within fourteen days after the termination of such session, to one of H. M.'s principal secretaries of state, a true and correct account of their proceedings at such sessions for carrying this act into effect, and also a copy of all such rules and regulations as shall be then in force for the government of every prison within the jurisdiction of the justices assembled at such sessions, and shall also transmit at the same time, or within three months afterwards, to such secretary of state, plans of all such prisons, drawn upon a scale of one-sixteenth of an inch to a foot; and the said copies and plans shall be carefully preserved in the office of such secretary of state; and the chairman of every succeeding Michaelmas quarter sessions shall transmit within fourteen days after the termination of such Michaelmas quarter sessions, a true and correct copy of all such additions to such rules and regulations, or alterations made therein, as shall have been duly sanctioned, since the preceding Michaelmas quarter sessions, together with plans, on the scale above mentioned, of any additions to the buildings of such prison, or alterations made in the construction thereof, during the same period, 4 G. 4. c. 64. s. 15.

37. That the chairman of the Michaelmas quarter sessions of the peace which shall be held next after the commencement of this act, for every county, riding, division, district, city, town, or place to which the said recited act shall extend, shall transmit with fourteen days after the commencement of such sessions, to one of H. M.'s secretaries of state, a true and correct statement of the establishment of officers and servants employed in every prison within the jurisdiction of the justices assembled at such sessions, specifying the number and description of such officers and servants, the salaries and emoluments of each, and by whom such officers and servants are respectively appointed; and the said statements shall be carefully preserved in the office of such secretary of state; and the chairman of every such succeeding quarter sessions shall transmit, within fourteen days after the termination of such Michaelmas quarter sessions, a true and correct statement of any increase or diminution in every such establishment of officers and servants, or in their respective salaries or emoluments, as have been made since the preceding Michaelmas quarter sessions, 5 G. 4. c. 85. s. 8.

38. The justices in every county, riding, division, district, city, town, or place, to which this act shall extend, at the general or quarter sessions next after the commencement of this act, and at every ensuing general or quarter sessions, shall and they are hereby required to nominate two or more justices who shall consent thereto, to be visitors of each gaol and house of correction within their jurisdiction, and to report the names and places of abode of such visiting justices to one of H. M.'s principal secretaries of state; and one or more of the visiting justices so appointed shall personally visit and inspect each prison at least three times in each quarter of a year, and oftener if occasion shall require, and shall examine into the state of the buildings, so as to form a judgment as to the repairs, additions, or alterations which may appear necessary, strict regard being had to the classification, inspection, instruction, employment, or hard labour, required by this act, and shall further examine into the behaviour and conduct of the respective officers, and the treatment, behaviour, and condition of the prisoners, the means of setting them to work, the amount of their earnings, and the expences attending the prison, and of all abuses within the same, and in matters of pressing necessity, and within the powers of their commission as justices, shall take cognizance thereof, and proceed to regulate and redress the same; and if the said visitors shall at any time observe, or be satisfactorily informed of any extraordinary diligence or merit in any prisoners under their inspection, they shall report the same to the justices of peace for the county, riding, division, district, city, town, or place, at their next or any subsequent general or quarter session to be holden for the county or place in which such prison is situate, in order that such justices may, if they shall think proper, recommend any such offender to the royal mercy, in such degree or upon such terms as to them shall seem meet: and if H. M. shall be thereupon graciously pleased to shorten the duration of such prisoner's confinement, such prisoner shall, upon his or her discharge, together with necessary clothing, receive such sum of money for his or her subsistence, as the visiting justices for the time being shall think proper, so as such sum shall not exceed twenty shillings, nor be less than five shillings, in case such offender shall have been confined for the space of one year, and so in proportion for any shorter term of confinement; and such sum of money, and also the expence of such clothing, shall be paid out of the county rate or other rate applicable to the expences of such prisons, 4 G. 4. c. 64. s. 16.

39. Provided, that it shall be lawful for any justice of the peace for any county, riding, or division, district, city, town, or place, at his own free will and pleasure, and without being appointed a visitor, to enter into and examine any prison of such county, riding, division, district, city, town, or place at such time or times and so often as he shall see fit; and if he shall discover any abuse or abuses therein, he is hereby required to report them in writing at the next general or quarter sessions of the peace or adjourned sessions, which shall be holden for such county, riding, or division, district, city, town or place; and then and so often as a report of any abuse or abuses in any such prison shall be made by the visiting justices, or either of them, or by any other justice of the peace for such county, riding, or division, district, city, town, or place, the abuse or abuses so reported shall be taken into immediate consideration by the justices of the peace for such county, riding, or division, district, city, town, or place, at the general or quarter sessions at which such report shall be made; and they are hereby required to adopt the most effectual measures for inquiring into and rectifying such abuse or abuses as soon as the nature of the case will allow, 4 G. 4. c. 64. s. 17.

40. Provided, that nothing herein contained shall extend to authorize or empower any visiting or other justice of the peace, to converse or hold any intercourse or communication, except as herein-after mentioned, with any person who may be committed by lawful authority to any such gaol or prison, there to be kept in safe and close confinement; but nevertheless, it shall be lawful for any visiting justice so appointed as aforesaid, to visit and inspect at all times when he shall think proper, the apartment or place in which such person shall be kept, and also to see such person, and to hear or receive any representation from him or her as to his or her treatment in such prison, and to inquire and examine into the same, 4 G. 4. c. 64. s. 18.

41. The keeper of every gaol and house of correction to which this act shall extend shall, previously to the first day of every assizes, great sessions, or sessions of gaol delivery, make out a true and just return in writing of all persons in his custody who have been sentenced to hard labour by the court, at any previous assizes, great sessions, or sessions of gaol delivery, specifying in such return the manner in which such sentences have been carried into execution, the particular species of labour in which such prisoners have been employed, and the average number of hours in a day for which such persons so sentenced have been kept to work; which return shall be signed by such keeper, and also by one at least of the visiting justices, who shall add thereto such observations as the case may appear to him to require; and such return shall be delivered to the justice of assize and gaol delivery, and of great sessions, and filed amongst the records of the court, 4 G. 4. c. 64. s. 19.

42. The keeper of every prison within Eng. and Wa., having the custody of prisoners charged with felony, shall, on the second day next after the termination of every session of the peace, session of oyer and terminer, or session of gaol delivery, great session, or other session held for the trial of prisoners being in such prison, whether such session shall be held under any commission, or by virtue of any charter or prescription, transmit by the post of that day to one of H. M.'s principal secretaries of state, a calendar containing the names, the crimes, and the sentences of every prisoner tried at such session, and distinguishing, with respect to all prisoners capitally convicted, such of them as may have been reprieved by the court, and stating the day on which execution is to be done upon those who have not been reprieved; and whenever the court shall adjourn for any longer time than one week, the day upon which the adjournment shall be made shall be deemed the termination of the session within the meaning of this act; and every keeper of any such prison, who shall neglect or refuse to transmit such calendar, or shall wilfully transmit a calendar containing any false or imperfect statement, shall forfeit twenty pounds, 4 G. 4. c. 64. s. 20.

43. And for the better ensuring the strict observance of the rules and regulations to be made for the government of the prison to which this act shall extend; be it enacted, That at each quarter sessions of the peace, the keeper of every prison within the jurisdiction of the court holding such session shall, and is hereby required to deliver or cause to be delivered to such court, a certificate, signed by himself, which certificate shall contain a declaration how far the rules laid down for the government of his prison have been complied with, and shall point out any and every deviation therefrom which may have taken place; and if any keeper of a prison shall neglect to deliver, or cause to be delivered, such certificate as aforesaid, he shall forfeit for every such offence the sum of ten pounds, 4 G. 4. c. 64. s. 21.

44. One week before the Michaelmas session in every year, the keeper of every prison to which this act shall extend, shall make up a return of the state of his prison for the year then ending, in the form contained in the schedule annexed to this act, marked (B.), and shall deliver the same, or cause the same to be delivered, to the clerk of the peace or his deputy, for the use of the justices assembled at such quarter sessions, 4 G. 4. c. 64. s. 22.

45. And at every general or quarter sessions, the visiting justices shall make a report in writing of the state and condition of each prison within their jurisdiction, of what repairs, additions, or alterations shall have been made or may be required, and of any abuse or abuses which they may have observed, or of which they may have received information, in the management of the prison, as well as of the general state of the prisoners as to morals, discipline, employment, and hard labour, and observance of rules; and the justices assembled at such sessions shall proceed to consider every such report, and to act forthwith as they see occasion, 4 G. 4. c. 64. s. 23.

46. A general report, founded on the report of the visiting justices, on the report of the chaplain or chaplains, and on the certificates of the keepers of the several prisons, shall be prepared by the clerk of the peace, and submitted to the justices assembled at every Michaelmas quarter sessions; and when approved by the justices of such sessions, such report shall be signed by the chairman of such sessions, and shall be by him transmitted (together with a copy of the schedule (B.) delivered by the gaoler) to one of H. M.'s principal secretaries of state; a copy of which report, with the said schedule attached to it, shall be laid before both houses of parliament, within one month next ensuing, if parliament shall be sitting, or within one month after the time when parliament shall next sit, 4 G. 4. c. 64. s. 24.

47. It shall be lawful for the justices assembled at the general or quarter sessions, and they are hereby empowered and required, to nominate and appoint such keepers, matrons, taskmasters, schoolmasters, and other officers, as to them may seem expedient, for every prison within their jurisdiction to which this act shall extend, except the keeper of the common gaol; and to remove, as occasion may require, all officers so by them nominated and appointed: provided, that no woman shall be keeper of any prison in which male prisoners are confined, 4 G. 4. c. 64. s. 25.

48. It shall and may be lawful for the justices assembled at the general or quarter sessions, and they are hereby empowered, to fix salaries and allowances, to such amount, and subject to such conditions as to them shall seem meet, for the keeper of the common gaol, and for every keeper, matron, taskmaster, schoolmaster, and officer of each gaol and house of correction within their jurisdiction; and to order such salaries, and the expence of such allowances, to be paid out of the rate lawfully applicable thereto; and the salaries and allowances so fixed, to alter, reduce, augment, suspend, or stop from time to time, as occasion shall require: and in case any gaoler or keeper of any prison shall, from confirmed sickness, age, or infirmity, become incapable of executing the office in person, the justices of the peace at any general or quarter sessions of the county, riding, division, district, city, town, or place respectively, shall take the circumstances of the case into their consideration; and if such justices shall deem it expedient, they are hereby empowered to grant to such gaoler or keeper such an annuity as they in their discretion shall think proportioned to the merits and time of his service, and may order the payment thereof out of the rates lawfully applicable to the building or repairing of such gaols and prisons: provided, that the annual amount paid by way of superannuation or allowance to any retired keeper of any prison, shall not exceed the amount of two-thirds of the salary fixed for the succeeding keeper of such prison, 4 G. 4. c. 64. s. 26.

49. Whenever the keeper or any other officer of any common gaol or other prison to which this act shall extend, shall be removed from or resign his or her office, or shall depart this life, every keeper or other officer so removed or resigning, and his or her family, and the family of every such deceased keeper or other officer, shall forthwith quit the possession of the house or apartments in which he, she, or they shall have previously resided, by virtue of such office; and that if any keeper or other officer so removed or resigning, or any members of the family of any keeper or other officer so removed, resigning, or departing this life, shall refuse or neglect to quit such possession for forty-eight hours after notice given to him, her, or them, in writing, by the under-sheriff, or other officer appointed by the sheriff, in case the house or apartments of which possession shall be required shall be in the common gaol, and by the clerk of the peace in case such house or apartments shall be in any house of correction, any two justices, upon proof made before them of such removal, resignation, or death, and of the service of such notice, and of such neglect or refusal to comply therewith, may, by warrant under their hands and seals, direct the sheriff of the county, or other officer having the return of the writs, to eject such keeper, or the family of such keeper, out of such house or apartments, and the sheriff or such other officer shall accordingly clear the possession thereof in like manner as upon a writ of habere facias possessionem, 4 G. 4. c. 64. s. 27.

50. The justices assembled in general or quarter sessions shall and they are hereby required from time to time to nominate for each prison within their jurisdiction, to which this act shall extend, a clergyman of the church of Eng. to be chaplain thereof; and the said justices may, if it seem to them expedient, nominate the same clergyman to be and officiate as chaplain to any two prisons situate within a convenient distance from each other; and the said justices are hereby authorized to appoint a salary to be paid to the clergyman so nominated chaplain as aforesaid, out of the county rate, or rate lawfully applicable to the maintenance of such prisons; and the amount of salary shall be regulated in the following manner; viz. where the chaplain shall be appointed to one prison only, and the number of prisoners, including debtors, which the said prison is calculated to receive, does not exceed fifty, then the salary to be paid to him shall not be more than one hundred and fifty pounds; where the chaplain shall be appointed to one prison only, and the number of prisoners, including debtors, which the said prison is calculated to receive, does not exceed one hundred, then the salary shall not be more than two hundred pounds; where the chaplain shall be appointed to one prison only, calculated to contain more than one hundred prisoners, including debtors, the salary shall not be more than two hundred and fifty pounds; and where the chaplain shall be appointed to one prison only, calculated to contain more than two hundred, or where the chaplain shall be appointed to two prisons, whatever the number of prisoners such two prisons may be calculated to contain, it shall be lawful for the justices to appoint the salary at their discretion, with reference to the duties to be performed: provided, that when any two or more prisons shall be under the custody of one and the same keeper, they shall be considered as one prison, with reference to the duties and salary of the chaplain: provided also, that in case of sickness or necessary engagement, the chaplain shall appoint a clergyman to be his substitute for the occasion, such substitute being approved of by the visiting justices; and the name and residence of such substitute shall be specified in the chaplain's journal, 4 G. 4. c. 64. s. 28.

51. No clergyman so nominated shall officiate in any prison until he shall have obtained a licence for that purpose from the bishop of the diocese wherein the prison is situate, nor for any longer time than while such licence shall continue in force; and notice of every such nomination shall, within one month after it shall take place, be transmitted to the bishop by the clerk of the peace or town-clerk, 4 G. 4. c. 64. s. 29.

52. Every such chaplain shall on every Sunday, and on Christmas-day, and Good Friday, perform the appointed morning and evening services of the church of Eng., and preach at such time or times between the hours of nine and five of the day, as shall be required by the rules and regulations to be made as directed by this act; and shall catechise or instruct such prisoners as may be willing to receive instruction; and shall likewise visit the prison on such other days, and perform such other duties as shall be required by the rules and regulations to be made as directed by this act; and shall administer the holy sacrament of the Lord's Supper to such prisoners as shall be desirous, and as such chaplain may deem to be in a proper frame of mind to receive the same; and such chaplain shall also frequently visit every room and cell in the prison occupied by prisoners, and shall direct such books to be distributed and read, and such lessons to be taught in such prison, as he may deem proper for the religious and moral instruction of the prisoners therein; and he shall visit those who are in solitary confinement; and it shall be his particular duty to afford his spiritual assistance to all persons under warrant or order for execution; and he shall have free access to all persons convicted of murder, any law, statute, or usage to the contrary notwithstanding; except to such persons as shall be of a religious persuasion different from that of the established church, who shall have made a request that a minister of such persuasion shall be allowed to visit them; and every such chaplain shall communicate from time to time to the visiting justices any abuse or impropriety which may have come to his knowledge; and he shall further keep a journal, in which he shall enter the times of his attendance on the performance of his duty, with any observations which may occur to him in the execution thereof, and such journal shall be kept in the prison, but shall regularly be laid before the justices for their inspection at every quarter sessions, and shall be signed by the chairman of the sessions, in proof of the same having been there produced; and if it shall appear to the justices in general or quarter sessions assembled, that any chaplain is incompetent to the due performance of his duties, or is unfit to be continued in his office, or shall have refused or wilfully neglected to perform the duties required of him by the rules and regulations to be made as directed by this act, they are hereby empowered to remove him from such office, 4 G. 4. c. 4. s. 30.

53. If any prisoner shall be of a religious persuasion differing from that of the established church, a minister of such persuasion, at the special request of such prisoner, shall be allowed to visit him or her at proper and reasonable times, under such restrictions imposed by the visiting justices as shall guard against the introduction of improper persons, and as shall prevent improper communications, 4 G. 4. c. 64. s. 31.

54. In case any chaplain shall from confirmed sickness, age, or infirmity, become incapable of executing the office in person, the justices of the peace, at any general or quarter sessions of the county, riding, division, district, city, town, or place respectively, shall take the circumstances of the case into their consideration; and if such justices shall deem it expedient, they are hereby empowered to grant to such chaplain such annuity as they in their discretion shall think proportionate to the merits and time of his services, and may order the payment out of the rates lawfully applicable to the building and repairing such gaols and prisons: provided, that the amount so paid by way of superannuation or allowance to any retired chaplain of any one prison, shall not exceed the amount of two-thirds of the salary fixed for the succeeding chaplain of such prison, 4 G. 4. c. 64. s. 32.

55. The justices in general or quarter sessions shall and they are hereby required from time to time to appoint a surgeon, being a member of one of the royal colleges of surgeons, to each of the prisons within their jurisdiction to which this act shall extend; and every such surgeon shall and he is hereby required to visit every prison to which he shall be so appointed, twice at least in every week, and oftener if necessary, and see every prisoner confined therein, whether criminal or debtor, and to report to every general or quarter sessions the condition of the prison, and the state of health of the prisoners under his care; and he shall further keep a journal, in which he shall enter the date of every attendance in the performance of his duty, with any observations which may occur to him in execution thereof, and shall sign the same with his name; and such journal shall be kept in the prison, but shall regularly be laid before the justices for their inspection at every quarter sessions, and shall be signed by the chairman of the sessions in proof of the same having been there produced; and it shall be lawful for the justices, at every general or quarter sessions after such appointment, to direct a reasonable sum to be paid as salary to such surgeon, and also such sums as shall be due for medicines, and other articles for the sick, 4 G. 4. c. 64. s. 33.

56. From and after the commencement of this act there shall be kept in every prison to which this act shall extend, a book, in which the chaplain and every other officer of the said prisons, not residing within such prisons, but attending on or required to attend on such prison, shall regularly insert the date of every visit made by such chaplain or other officer respectively; and every such entry shall be signed with the name and in the proper handwriting of such chaplain or officer respectively, and shall contain such remarks as may be thought necessary on the occasion of any such visit; and every keeper of every such prison shall be responsible for the safe custody of such book, whole, unmutated and unaltered, and shall, at all times when required, produce such book for inspection to the justices at every general or quarter sessions, and to the visiting justices, or to any justice of the peace for the county, riding, division, district, city, town, or place, wherein such prison shall be situate; and the chaplain shall, on every Michaelmas quarter sessions, deliver to the justices a statement of the condition of the prisoners and his observations thereupon, 4 G. 4. c. 64. s. 34.

57. Whereas provision is made in this act for supplying poor prisoners with food and clothing: and whereas bequests have been made, and benefactions have been given, for supplying such poor criminal prisoners with these necessaries: it is enacted, That it shall be lawful for the justices in general or quarter sessions assembled, to apply such bequests or benefactions for the benefit of such poor prisoners, either by providing them with the implements of labour, or with the means of returning to their own homes, or in such manner as to the magistrates may appear expedient, 4 G. 4. c. 64. s. 35.

58. The chief justices of the courts of K. B. and C. P. and the chief baron of the court of exchequer, or any one of them, together with the lord mayor and two of the aldermen, or with three of the aldermen of the city of London, for and in respect of the gaols and prisons within the city of London and the liberties thereof, and the said chief justices or chief baron, or any one of them, with three justices of the peace of the counties of Middlesex and Surrey respectively, for and in respect of the gaols and prisons in the counties of Middlesex and Surrey, and the justices of gaol delivery and great sessions, and the justices of peace of every other county, riding, and division of a county, at any general or quarter session of the peace to be holden for such county, riding, or division respectively, in their respective jurisdictions, and all commissioners for charitable uses, shall do their best endeavours and diligence to examine and discover the several gifts, legacies, and bequests bestowed and given for the benefit and advantages of the poor prisoners in the several gaols and prisons to which this act shall extend, and to send for any deeds, wills, writings, and books of account whatsoever, and any persons concerned therein, and to examine them upon oath to make true discovery thereof (and which such chief justices, chief barons, justices of gaol delivery and great sessions, mayor, aldermen, and justices of the peace, have hereby full power and authority to do), and to order and settle the payment, recovery, and receipt of all such gifts, legacies, and bequests, when so discovered and ascertained, in such easy and expeditious manner, that the prisoners for the future may not be defrauded, but receive the full benefit thereof, according to the true intent of the donors, or the provisions of this act; and that lists or tables of such gifts, legacies, and bequests, for the benefit of the prisoners in every gaol or prison respectively, fairly written, shall be registered by the clerks of the peace of the respective counties and places in the rolls of their respective sessions, without fee or reward, and copies thereof shall be hung up in such gaols and prisons respectively, in some open room or place to which the prisoners may have resort as occasion shall require, 4 G. 4. c. 64. s. 36.

59. Whereas persons are often committed to prison for trial, who are willing to be employed in such work or labour as can be conveniently executed or done in the prison to which they are so committed, and it is fit that such persons should be so employed rather than that they should be obliged to remain idle during their confinement; it is enacted, That it shall be lawful for any one or more visiting justice or justices of any prison to which this act shall extend, to authorize by an order in writing, the employment of any such prisoners with their own consent, in any such work or labour; and it shall be lawful for the keeper of such prison to employ such prisoner in such work or labour accordingly, and to pay to such prisoners any such wages or portion of the same, and at such periods, as shall be directed by such justice or justices; provided, that it shall not be lawful to place together, on account of such employment, any prisoners who would otherwise be kept separate under the provisions of this act, 4 G. 4. c. 64. s. 37.

60. Whereas persons convicted of offences are frequently sentenced to imprisonment without being sentenced to hard labour; it is enacted, That it shall be lawful for two or more visiting justices of any prison to order that all such persons confined in such prison in pursuance of any sentence or conviction, except such prisoners as shall maintain themselves, shall be set to some work or labour not severe: and it is hereby declared, that no such prisoner, who shall be of ability to earn, and who shall have the means of earning or of otherwise providing for his own subsistence, shall have any claim to be supported at the expence of the county, riding, or division, or by the sheriff or the keeper of the prison; provided that when such ability shall cease by reason of sickness, infirmity, the want of sufficient work, or from any other cause, every such person shall, during the continuance of his inability, receive such provision and support as shall be directed for other convicted prisoners in the same prison; and the keeper of every such prison shall keep an account of the work done by every prisoner so set to work as aforesaid, and shall account to such prisoner for so much of the net profits which such prisoner shall have earned, or for such daily or other allowance for the work and labour done by such prisoner, as shall be directed either by the rules and regulations of such prison, or in case of no provision being made on this head by those rules and regulations, then for such part of the said net profits, or for such daily or other allowance as shall be directed by the visiting justices, and shall pay the amount of all accumulations of such allowance to such prisoner at his or her discharge, 4 G. 4. c. 64. s. 38.

61. Whereas by stat. 4 G. 4. c. 64. s. 38. it was made lawful for one or more visiting justice or justices of any prison to which the same extended, to authorize, by an order in writing, the employment of prisoners committed for trial, with their own consent, in any such work as therein specified, it is enacted, That such consent of every such prisoner shall be freely given, and shall not be extorted or obtained by deprivation or threat of deprivation of any prison or other allowance; and that no prisoner before conviction shall, under any pretence, be employed on the tread-wheel, either with or without his consent, 5 G. 4. c. 85. s. 16.

62. Whereas it has been doubted whether prisoners committed to prison for trial, who are unable to maintain themselves otherwise than by being employed in some kind of work or labour in prison, are entitled to receive any prison allowance of food without being required so to employ themselves; it is enacted, That such prisoners shall be allowed such food as may be sufficient for the support of health, without being obliged to perform any kind of work or labour as the condition of such allowance; and that any wages or portion of the same, which may become due to such prisoners from the keeper of any prison, in consequence of any order made by any visiting justice or justices of such prison, for the employment of such prisoners with their own consent, shall be paid to them as directed by such order, in addition to the food so allowed, and without any diminution of such allowance by reason of such payment, 5 G. 4. c. 85. s. 17.

63. It is enacted, That it shall be lawful to keep to hard labour every offender under sentence or order of transportation, while he or she shall remain in the common gaol, if his or her health shall permit, and if one or more of the visiting justices of such gaol shall give a written order to that effect; and that it shall be lawful for one of H. M.'s principal secretaries of state, if he shall think fit, to order that any such offender be removed from the common gaol to the house of correction, and there kept to hard labour, 5 G. 4. c. 84. s. 18.

64. The time during which any offender shall continue in any gaol or house of correction, or in any such place of confinement as aforesaid, under sentence or order of transportation or banishment, shall be taken and reckoned in discharge or part discharge of the term of his or her transportation or banishment, 5 G. 4. c. 84. s. 19.

65. Whereas it is desirable that prisoners discharged from prison should be supplied with the means of returning to their families, or to their place of settlement, or to some place of employment, where they may be engaged in a life of honest labour for their maintenance, and prevented from pursuing evil courses; it is enacted, That it shall be lawful for any one or more of the visiting justice or justices of any prison to which this act shall extend, from whence any prisoner shall be discharged, to direct that such moderate sum of money shall be given and paid to any and every such prisoner so discharged, who shall not have the means of returning to his or her family or place of settlement, or resorting to any place of employment or honest occupation, as in the judgment of such justice or justices shall be requisite and necessary for such purpose, under all the circumstances attending the case of any such prisoner; and that such sum of money shall be paid by the keeper of such prison to or for the use of such prisoner, for the purpose aforesaid; and that all such sums shall be provided for, either out of such bequests or benefactions as aforesaid, or in such manner as is by this act directed with respect to the expence of the support and maintenance of the prisoners in such prisons respectively, 4 G. 4. c. 64. s. 39.

66. If any person in contravention of the existing rules, shall carry or bring, or attempt or endeavour to carry or bring into any prison to which this act shall extend, any spirituous or fermented liquor, it shall be lawful for the gaoler, keeper, turnkey, or any other of the assistants to the said gaoler or keeper, to apprehend or cause to be apprehended such offender, and to carry him or her before a justice of the peace (who is hereby empowered to hear and determine such offence in a summary way), and if he shall lawfully convict such person of such offence, he shall forthwith commit such offender to the common gaol or house of correction, there to be kept in custody for any time not exceeding three months, without bail or mainprize, unless such offender shall immediately pay down such sum of money, not exceeding twenty pounds, and not less than ten pounds, as the justice shall impose upon such offender to be paid, one moiety to the informer, and the other moiety in aid of the rate applicable to the maintenance of such prison; and if any justice shall receive information upon oath, that any spirituous or fermented liquor is unlawfully kept or disposed of in any prison, he may enter and search, or issue his warrant to enter and search for such liquor; and in case it shall be found, it shall be lawful for the person so finding to seize the same, and cause it to be disposed of as the justice shall direct; and if any gaoler or keeper of any prison shall sell, use, lend, or give away, or knowingly permit or suffer to be sold, used, lent, or given away, in such prison, or brought into the same, any spirituous or fermented liquor, in contravention of the existing rules of such prison, he shall for every such offence, over and above any other punishment by this act enacted, forfeit the sum of twenty pounds, 4 G. 4. c. 64. s. 40.

67. The keeper of every prison shall have power to hear all complaints touching any of the following offences: that is to say,

- I. Disobedience of any of the rules of the prison.
- II. Assaults by one person confined in such prison upon another when no dangerous wound or bruise is given.
- III. Profane cursing and swearing.
- IV. Any indecent behaviour, and any irreverent behaviour at chapel, all of which are declared to be offences by this act, if committed by any description of prisoners.
- V. Absence from chapel without leave.
- VI. Idleness or negligence in work, or wilful mismanagement of it, which are also declared to be offences by this act, if committed by any prisoner under charge or conviction of any crime.

And the said keeper may examine any persons touching such offences, and may determine thereupon, and may punish all such offences by ordering any offender to close confinement in the refractory or solitary cells, and by keeping such offenders on bread and water only for any term not exceeding three days, 4 G. 4. c. 64. s. 41.

68. In case any criminal prisoner shall be guilty of any repeated offence against the rules of the prison, or shall be guilty of any greater offence than the gaoler or keeper is by this act empowered to punish, the said gaoler or keeper shall forthwith report the same to the visiting justices, or one of them for the time being; and any one such justice, or any other justice acting in and for the county, or riding or division of a county, or for the district, city, town, or place to which such prison belongs, shall have power to inquire upon oath, and to determine concerning any such matter so reported to him or them, and to order the offender to be punished by close confinement for any term not exceeding one month, or by personal correction in the case of prisoners convicted of felony, or sentenced to hard labour, 4 G. 4. c. 64. s. 42.

69. If any person shall convey or cause to be conveyed into any prison to which this act shall extend, any mask, vizer or other disguise, or any instrument or arms proper to facilitate the escape of any prisoners, and the same shall deliver or cause to be delivered to any prisoner, or to any other person there, for the use of any such prisoner, without the consent or privity of the keeper of such prison, every such person shall be deemed to have delivered such vizer or disguise, instrument or arms, with intent to aid and assist such prisoner to escape or attempt to escape; and if any person shall, by any means whatever, aid and assist any prisoner to escape, or in attempting to escape from any prison, every person so offending, whether an escape be actually made or not, shall be guilty of felony, and being convicted thereof shall be transported beyond the sea, for not exceeding fourteen years, 4 G. 4. c. 64. s. 43.

70. To the intent that prosecutions for escapes, breaches of prison, and rescues, may be carried on with as little trouble and expence as is possible, it is enacted, That any offender escaping, breaking prison, or being rescued therefrom, may be tried either in the jurisdiction where the offence was committed, or in that where he or she shall be apprehended and retaken; and in case of any prosecution for any such escape, attempt to escape, breach of prison, or rescue, either against the offender escaping or attempting to escape, or having broken prison, or having been rescued, or against any other persons concerned therein, or aiding, abetting, or assisting the same, a certificate given by the clerk of assize, or other clerk of the court in which such offender shall have been convicted, shall, together with due proof of the identity of the person, be sufficient evidence to the court and jury of the nature and fact of the conviction, and of the species and period of confinement to which such person was sentenced, 4 G. 4. c. 64. s. 44.

71. In case it shall appear at any time to the justices at any general or quarter sessions of the peace, holden in any county or riding, or in any such division of a county as aforesaid, or in any district, city, town, or place to which this act shall extend, by any report made under the provisions of this act, of the state of any prison, to such justices at such sessions, or by any presentment at any time made by the grand jury at the assizes, great session, session of gaol delivery, or session of the peace, to be holden for any such county, riding, division, district, city, town, or place, or by any presentment at any time made by any two or more justices of the peace in and for the same, and laid before the justices at such general or quarter sessions of the peace, that any gaol or house of correction to which this act shall extend, within such county, riding, division, district, city, town, or place, is insufficient, inconvenient, or in want of repair, or otherwise inadequate to give effect to the rules and regulations prescribed by this act, or that there is a necessity for the erection of any new gaol or house of correction; the justices assembled at such general or quarter sessions, or at the general or quarter sessions, or adjournment thereof, next after any such report or presentment made, shall and they are hereby required to cause notice to be given, three times, at least, in some public newspaper circulating within such county, riding, division, district, city, town, or place, of such report or presentment having been laid before such sessions, and of their intention to take the same into consideration at the next ensuing or some subsequent general or quarter sessions, or adjournment thereof; and in case the justices at such last-mentioned sessions, or the major part of them, shall resolve that such report or presentment is well founded, then it shall and may be lawful for such justices, and they are hereby required, at the sessions mentioned in such notice, or at a subsequent sessions, or adjournment thereof, with the like notice, to take such measures, either by contract or otherwise, as shall appear to them to be requisite and proper, for the altering, enlarging, or repairing, or for building or rebuilding any such gaol or house of correction, regard being had, in the case of contracts, to the reasonableness of the price and responsibility of the contractors; and every contractor shall give sufficient security for the due performance of his contract to the clerk of the peace, or town-clerk, for the county, riding, division, district, city, town, or place, to be inspected at all reasonable times by any justices, or by any other person contributing to the rate of such county, riding, division, district, city, town, or place, without fee or reward, 4 G. 4. c. 64. s. 45.

72. After such presentment and notice, it shall be lawful for the justices in general or quarter sessions assembled, or the major part of them, and they shall have full power and authority to purchase any houses, buildings, lands, tenements, hereditaments, ways, watercourses, and other easements, for the purpose of enlarging or rendering commodious, or for the building or rebuilding any prison, and to direct the property so purchased to be conveyed to such person or persons as the said justices shall think fit, in trust for the purpose aforesaid, under the regulations and directions in this act contained; and such houses, buildings, lands, tenements, hereditaments, ways, watercourses, or other easements, shall, when enclosed and added to such prison, be deemed and taken to be parts of such prison, and to be within the county, riding, division, city, district, town, or place, to the use of which such prison may be applied, to all intents and purposes whatever, so long as the same shall be used by such county, riding, division, city, district, town, or place for the purpose of this act, and no longer, 4 G. 4. c. 64. s. 46.

73. If it shall at any time happen, that any such gaol or house of correction shall become unsafe or unfit for the custody of the prisoners confined therein, between the several times of holding the general or quarter sessions, it shall and may be lawful for any two or more justices (one of whom shall be a visiting justice for the prison) for the county, riding, division, district, city, town, or place, to order such repairs and alterations to be immediately done and made, as may be necessary and sufficient for the safe and proper custody of such prisoners, and the upholding of such prison; and such justices shall report the same to the next court of general or quarter sessions to be holden for such county, riding, division, district, city, town, or place; and such court is hereby authorized to order the payment of such sum or sums of money as shall have been properly expended in such repairs or alterations as aforesaid, 4 G. 4. c. 64. s. 47.

74. Every gaol, house of correction, or other prison, for any county, riding, or division, county of a city, or county of a town, or for any town, liberty, soke, or place, not being a county, but having an exclusive jurisdiction for the trial of felonies or misdemeanors committed therein, which is now built or shall hereafter be built, together with the ground whereon the same shall stand, and every court, yard, building, and appurtenance thereunto belonging, with every addition that shall hereafter be made thereto, which said gaol, house of correction, or other prison, court, yard, building, appurtenance, or addition, is or shall be situate within the limits of any other county, riding, or division, county of a city, county of a town, or of any other town, liberty, soke, or place, not being a county, but having an exclusive jurisdiction for the trial of felonies or misdemeanors committed therein, shall be deemed and taken to be part of the county, riding, or division, county of a city, county of a town, or of the town, liberty, soke or place, for which the same shall be used as a gaol, house of correction, or other prison, so long as the same shall be so used, and no longer; and the justices of the peace, mayors, jurats, coroners, constables, and other officers of such county, riding, or division, county of a city, county of a town, or of such town, liberty, soke, or place for which the same shall be used as a gaol, house of correction, or other prison, shall during the time the same shall be so used, have as full power and authority therein as they would have if the same was not situate within the limits of such other county, riding, or division, county of a city, county of a town, or of such town, liberty, soke, or place, 4 G. 4. c. 64. s. 48. [See 5 G. 4. c. 85. s. 1—6. post. pl. 111—116.]

75. In the altering, enlarging, repairing, building, or re-building of any gaol or house of correction under this act, the justices shall adopt such plans as shall afford the most effectual means for the security, classification, health, inspection, employment, and religious and moral instruction of the prisoners; the building shall be so constructed or applied, and the keepers' and officers' apartments so situated, as may best ensure the safety of the prison, and facilitate the controul and superintendence of those committed thereto; distinct wards, and dry and airy cells shall be provided, in which prisoners of the several descriptions and classes herein-after enumerated may be respectively confined; and it shall be considered as a primary and invariable rule, that the male prisoners shall in all cases be separated from the female, so as to prevent any communication between them: provision shall be made for the separation of prisoners into the following classes:—

If a Gaol.

1st. Debtors, and persons confined for contempt of court on civil process.

2dly. Prisoners convicted of felony.

3dly. Those convicted upon trial of misdemeanors.

4thly. Those committed on charge or suspicion of felony.

5thly. Those committed on charge of misdemeanors, or for want of sureties.

If a House of Correction.

1st. Prisoners convicted of felony.

2dly. Prisoners convicted upon trial of misdemeanors.

3dly. Those committed on charge or suspicion of felony.

4thly. Those committed on charge of misdemeanors.

5thly. Vagrants.

Places of confinement shall also be set apart in every gaol and house of correction for such prisoners as are intended to be examined as witnesses in behalf of the crown in any prosecutions, and such further means of classification shall be adopted as the justices shall deem conducive to good order and discipline; separate rooms shall be provided as infirmaries or sick wards for the two sexes, and as far as is practicable for the different description of prisoners; and warm and cold baths, or bathing tubs, shall be introduced into such parts of the prison as may be best adapted for the use of the several classes; proper yards shall be allotted to the different classes for air and exercise, and each class shall have the use of a privy, and be furnished with a supply of good water; a separate sleeping cell shall, if possible, be provided for every prisoner; but as the numbers may sometimes be greater than the prison is calculated to contain, under the arrangement required by this act, and as it is expedient that two male prisoners only should never be lodged together, a small proportion of cells or rooms shall be provided for the reception of three or more persons; every prison shall contain rooms and places properly fitted up for the exercise of labour and industry, and also a competent number of cells adapted to solitary confinement, for the punishment of refractory prisoners, and for the reception of such persons as may by law be confined therein; a chapel shall be provided in every prison, in such a convenient situation as to be easy of access to all the prisoners; it shall be fitted up with separate divisions for males and females, and also for the different classes; it shall be strictly set apart for religious worship, or for the occasional religious and moral instructions of the prisoners, and shall never be appropriated to or employed for any other purpose whatsoever; in cases where the justices shall deem it necessary that the chaplain should reside, either occasionally or permanently, within the prison or near to it, proper apartments shall be provided therein, or in the neighbourhood thereof, for his accommodation, 4 G. 4. c. 64. s. 49.

76. And whereas in some other counties and places to which the said recited act extends, by reason of the small number of prisoners usually confined therein, it may not be necessary to provide the whole number of wards and airing grounds thereby required, but it is necessary to provide that in all prisons some certain means of classification should be secured; be it further enacted, That in every prison to which the said recited act extends, except Canterbury, Lichfield, and Lincoln, provisions shall be made for the following classification, at the least:

In all such gaols, the male and female prisoners shall be confined in separate wards or parts of the gaol. The male prisoners shall be divided into five classes: first, debtors, and persons committed for contempt of court on civil process: second and third, prisoners convicted, who may be put into either of these classes, as to the visiting magistrates may seem meet, reference being had to the character and conduct of the prisoners, and the nature of their offence: fourth and fifth, prisoners committed for trial, who may also be put into either of these two classes, as to the visiting magistrates may seem meet, reference being had in like manner to the character and conduct of the prisoners, and the nature of their offence.

The female prisoners shall be divided at least into three classes: first, debtors and persons committed for contempt of court on civil process: second, prisoners convicted: third prisoners committed for trial.

In all such houses of correction, the male and female prisoners shall also be confined in separate wards or parts of the house. The male prisoners shall be divided into five classes: first and second, prisoners convicted, who may be put into either of such classes, as to the visiting magistrates may seem meet, regard being had to the character and conduct of the prisoners and the nature of their offence: third and fourth, prisoners committed for trial, in all houses of correction where such prisoners are received; such prisoners may be put into either of these classes, as to the visiting magistrates may seem meet, regard being had, as already mentioned, to the character and conduct of the prisoner, and the nature of his offence: fifth, vagrants.

In places where the gaol and house of correction are united, the male prisoners shall be divided into six classes at least: first, debtors and prisoners committed for contempt of court on civil process: second and third, convicted prisoners: fourth and fifth, those committed for trial; such prisoners to be assigned to either of these classes of prisoners convicted or committed respectively, as to the visiting magistrate shall seem meet, regard being always had to the character and conduct of the prisoners, and the nature of their offence: sixth, vagrants.

The female prisoners, in each of such houses of correction, shall be divided into three classes: first and second, prisoners convicted: the prisoners to be put into either of such classes, as to the visiting magistrates shall seem meet, regard being had to their character and conduct, and the nature of their offence; vagrants shall be assigned to one or the other of these classes, as the visiting magistrates in their discretion, may see meet: third, where females are committed to any house of correction before trial, they shall be kept in a class by themselves, 5 G. 4. c. 85. s. 10.

77. Whereas in some counties of Wa. it may be consistent with the due classification of the prisoners, to dispense with some of the wards or airing grounds required by the said recited act and this act; be it therefore further enacted, That if the court of quarter sessions of any county in Wa. shall, during the present year, present a petition to the lords of H. M.'s privy council setting forth the whole number of prisoners imprisoned in the common gaol and house or houses of correction of such county, within the last seven years, with the causes of their imprisonment respectively, so as to exhibit in which of the classes prescribed by the said recited act, or this act, each such prisoner would have been included, and showing also the greatest number of such prisoners imprisoned in such gaol and house or houses of correction, at any one time in each of the said seven years; and setting forth fully and particularly the then state of such gaol and house or houses of correction, and an estimate of the expence which would be incurred by enlarging such gaol, or such house of correction, to which the petition shall apply, so as to admit of the whole number of wards and airing grounds required by the said act or this act, and the amount of the county rate for each of the said seven years, and praying a dispensation with some part of the wards or other accommodations required by the said act or this act, which under the circumstances of such county may to such court appear unnecessary, it shall be lawful for the said lords of the privy council to take such petition into their consideration, and, if they shall see fit, to make an order thereon, directing in what manner and to what extent it shall be sufficient for such county to comply with the provisions of the said act and this act, and making such regulations touching the same as to them shall seem meet; and such county duly complying with such order, shall not be liable to be indicted, or otherwise impeached, for not further conforming itself to the regulations of the said act and this act, in regard to the extent of its prisons, or the wards into which they are divided, or the accommodation to be found therein; any thing in the said recited act or this act to the contrary notwithstanding, 5 G. 4. c. 85. s. 11.

78. Any person confined in any prison to which the said recited act extends, for non-payment of any penalties incurred under the revenue laws, may be assigned to such class of convicted prisoners for whom a separate ward is therein provided, as the visiting magistrates in their discretion may think fit, regard being had to the character of the prisoner, and his or her conduct while in prison; and the reasons for assigning such prisoner to any particular class of convicts shall be reported by the visiting magistrates to the quarter sessions, 5 G. 4. c. 85. s. 12.

79. Where, in any prison, there shall be only one prisoner belonging to any class in the said act or herein specified, such prisoner may be assigned with his or her own consent, to any other class of prisoners, of the same sex, which the visiting magistrates in their discretion shall think fit, 5 G. 4. c. 85. s. 13.

80. In case it shall be expressly presented that the place wherein any old prison is situated is improper, and that the prison ought to be removed to some other part of the county, riding, division, district, city, town, or place, or that a new gaol or house of correction is necessary, the justices in their general or quarter sessions assembled, shall take such presentment into their consideration, and if it shall be resolved by the justices assembled at two successive general or quarter sessions, or the major part of them, that such old prisons ought to be removed, or that such new prison is necessary, it shall be lawful for the justices so assembled to contract for the building of a new gaol or house of correction in any part of the county, riding, division, district, city, town, or place which they may deem most eligible; and whenever the site of any prison shall be changed, and the old site shall be no longer necessary for the purpose of a prison, it shall be lawful for the justices so assembled to make sale thereof (unless it be the property of the King's Majesty, his heirs, and successors, or of some private individual), for the best price that can be gotten for the same, and to direct the purchase-money to be paid to the treasurer of such county, riding, division, district, city, town, or place, and to direct the trustee of such lands and hereditaments, his heirs, executors, or administrators (according to the tenure thereof), and the clerk of the peace or town-clerk, to convey the inheritance of such site to the purchaser; and every such conveyance, together with the treasurer's receipt for the purchase-money, shall give a good and valid title to the purchaser, and the purchase-money shall be applied by the treasurer in aid of the rate of such county, riding, division, district, city, town, or place; and whenever the building of any court of justice is or shall be so attached to any prison, as to render it impracticable or inconvenient to repair, enlarge, improve, or rebuild the said prison, without also altering or pulling down the building of the said court, then and in such cases it shall be lawful for the justices in general or quarter sessions assembled, to cause such courts to be altered or pulled down, or to be rebuilt, either on the same or on any other site, subject to the same provisions as are by this act appointed with respect to gaols, 4 G. 4. c. 64. s. 50.

81. Whenever the justices in general or quarter sessions assembled shall deem it necessary that the prisoners, or any part of them, shall be removed from any house of correction within their jurisdiction, in order that the same may be repaired, improved, enlarged or rebuilt, or on account of any contagious or infectious disease therein, or of the overcrowded state of such house of correction, or for any of the purposes of this act, it shall and may be lawful for the said justices, by an order in writing to be signed by the chairman of such general or quarter sessions, to direct the keeper of such house of correction to remove such prisoners to such other prison or place of confinement within their jurisdiction as the said justices shall appoint, and to confine such prisoners therein during the time such necessity shall exist; and that when such house of correction shall be repaired, enlarged, improved, or rebuilt, it shall be lawful for the said justices, by a like order in writing, to direct the said keeper to remove to the house of correction so repaired, enlarged, improved, or rebuilt; or when such contagious disease shall have ceased to exist, or the purposes for which the prisoners shall have been so removed shall have been answered, to remove back to the house of correction from whence the prisoners came all such prisoners as shall then remain in his custody; and that if for any of the causes above recited, the said justices so assembled as aforesaid shall deem it necessary to remove the debtors and other prisoners from any common gaol, the said justices shall give due and sufficient notice thereof in writing to the sheriff of such county, riding, division, city, or town, whereupon it shall be lawful for the said sheriff to remove such debtors and other prisoners to such prison or other place of confinement within his jurisdiction as the justices with the consent of the said sheriff shall appoint, and to confine them therein during the time such common gaol shall be repairing, enlarging, improving, or rebuilding, or during the continuance of such contagious disease on account of which the said prisoners were removed, or during such time as shall be requisite for any purposes of this act; and that when such gaol shall be made fit for the reception and safe keeping of such debtors and other prisoners, then it shall be lawful for the said sheriff to remove thither all such prisoners as shall then be in his custody; and further, if a new common gaol shall be erected, or a prison previously used for other purposes shall be adapted to the use of a common gaol, and the justices in general or quarter sessions assembled shall, with the consent of the sheriff, order and declare that from a day to be named such new gaol, or prison newly adapted to such purpose, shall become the common gaol, it shall be lawful for the sheriff on that day, or at any time thereafter, to remove all prisoners in his custody to the last-mentioned gaol or prison, 4 G. 4. c. 64. s. 51.

82. Whenever any contagious disease or other emergency shall render necessary the immediate removal of the prisoners, or any of them, confined in any gaol or house of correction, and that previous thereto it shall be impossible to obtain for such purpose the order of the justices in general or quarter sessions assembled, it shall and may be lawful for the visiting justices of such prison, and they are hereby empowered to issue an order under their hands and seals to the keeper of every such prison, to remove such prisoners, or any of them, to such other prison or other place of confinement within their jurisdiction as shall be specified in such order, 4 G. 4. c. 64. s. 52.

83. Provided, that every such removal shall be subject to all such restrictions as to its duration as is hereby required and directed, and that every such order of visiting justices shall be laid before the justices assembled at the general or quarter sessions of the peace which shall be held next after such order shall have been made: provided also, that the prisoners confined in any common gaol of any county, city, town, or place, shall not be removed without the consent of the sheriff of such county, city, town, or place: provided also, that no removal made under the authority of this act shall be deemed or taken to be an escape; and that nothing herein contained shall extend to discharge the sheriff or other officer from being answerable for the actual escape of any prisoner in his custody, 4 G. 4. c. 64. s. 53.

84. When it shall appear that the amount of any estimate approved by the justices, for the building, or rebuilding, repairing, or enlarging any gaol or house of correction, under the powers of this act, shall exceed one half of the amount of the ordinary annual assessment for the rate of any county or riding, or of any such division of a county as aforesaid, or of any district, city, town, or place, (such ordinary assessment to be taken on an average of such rate for the last seven years preceding,) it shall and may be lawful for the justices, in quarter sessions assembled, from time to time to borrow and take up on mortgage of such rate, by instrument in the form contained in the schedule to this act annexed marked (C.), or to the like effect, any sum of money not exceeding the amount of such estimate, in sums not less than fifty pounds, nor exceeding one hundred pounds each [REp. 6 G. 4. c. 40. s. 5., which see post, pl. 147.], at interest, as to the said justices shall appear necessary and expedient for the purposes aforesaid, and to secure every such sum of money so borrowed upon the credit of the said rate; and it shall and may be lawful for the justices so assembled, and they are hereby authorized to treat and agree with any person for the loan of any such sums of money, and by their order to confirm every such agreement; and every such agreement, signed by the chairman and two or more other justices present at the time of making such order, shall be and the same is hereby declared to be effectual for securing to the person so advancing any such sum of money, every such sum, with interest for the same, on such terms as in and by such agreement shall be stipulated; and copies or extracts of all such agreements shall be kept with the clerk of the peace; and it shall and may be lawful for every person who shall be entitled to the money thereby secured, and such person is hereby empowered (by indorsing his name on the back of such security) to transfer the same, and his right to the principal money and interest thereby secured, unto any other person; and every such assignee may in like manner transfer the same again, and so toties quoties; and the person to whom such security or any such assignment thereof shall be made, and his executors, administrators, and assigns, shall be creditors upon the said rate in an equal degree one with another, and shall not have any preference with respect to the priority of any monies so advanced, 4 G. 4. c. 64. s. 54.

85. The said justices shall and they are hereby authorized and required to charge the rate to be raised upon such county, riding, division, district, city, town, or place, not only with the interest of the money so borrowed, but also with the payment of such further sum as shall ensure the payment of the whole of the sum borrowed within fourteen years from the time of borrowing the same; and such sums shall be assessed on the county, riding, division, district, city, town, or place, in such manner as county rates are directed to be assessed by the laws now in being, and paid and applied under the direction of the justices, in discharge of the interest, and of so many of the principal sums on the said securities, as such money will extend to discharge in each year, until the whole of the money for which such securities shall be made, and the interest thereof, shall be fully paid and discharged; and the justices are required to fix one or more day or days in each year on which such payment shall be made, and shall make orders for assessments in due time, so as to provide for the regular payment thereof; and they are hereby required to appoint a proper person to keep an exact and regular account of all the receipts and payments, under the authority of this act, in a book or books, separate and apart from other accounts, and the same to adjust and settle in such manner that it may easily be seen what interest is growing due, and what principal money has been discharged, and what remains due; and the book or books so adjusted and settled to deliver into court at every general or quarter sessions to be held for such county, riding, division, district, city, town, or place; and the justices shall and they are required, at every such sessions, carefully to inspect all such accounts, and to make orders for carrying the several purposes of this act into execution, in such manner as to them shall seem meet; and if at any time it shall appear to the justices, that the person so appointed has neglected such order, and has not duly, and without delay, applied the money in his hands to the purposes hereby directed, such person shall forfeit half the amount of the money which shall not have been applied to the purposes of this act; and the justices so assembled in sessions as aforesaid shall direct in what order such securities shall be discharged, by drawing lots or otherwise, as they shall think fit, taking care to discharge in the first place all such securities as shall bear the highest rate of interest, 4 G. 4. c. 64. s. 55. [See 6 G. 4. c. 40. post, pl. 142.]

86. Whereas by stat. 4 G. 4. c. 64., and by stat. 5 G. 4. c. 12. [see post, pl. 124.] the justices of the peace in quarter sessions assembled have, in certain cases, authority to borrow on mortgage of the rate of the county, riding, division, district, city, town, or place, money for the purpose of building, rebuilding, repairing, or enlarging the gaol or house of correction, and to charge the said rate with such sum as shall ensure the payment of the whole sum borrowed, with interest, within fourteen years: and whereas, for the purpose of facilitating the reduction of the rate of interest, it may be expedient that the county, riding, division, district, city, town, or place should have power to borrow in like manner, on mortgage of its rate, a further sum for the purpose of paying off the principal sum so borrowed and secured as aforesaid; be it further enacted, That whenever it shall appear to the justices assembled at any general or quarter sessions to be holden for any county, riding, division, district, city, town, or place, having contracted a debt under the said recited acts, that advantage may arise from paying off the same and borrowing at a lower rate of interest, it shall be lawful for the justices so assembled to borrow on mortgage of such rate by instrument in the form directed by the said first recited act any sum or sums of money not exceeding in the whole the principal sum of money that may then be outstanding on the securities so theretofore granted, and therewith to discharge the whole or any part of the money for which such securities shall have been given: provided, that it shall not be lawful to use or apply any portion of the money to be borrowed under this provision, for any purpose other than the payment and discharge of the whole or part of the principal sum then due on the securities granted under the said recited acts: provided also, that the money to be borrowed under this provision shall be borrowed on such terms and under such conditions as shall in no way interfere with or prevent the full payment and discharge of the money borrowed under the provisions of the said recited acts, and so that the rate to be raised in such county, riding, division, district, city, town, or place, shall, within fourteen years from the time when the money was originally borrowed under the provisions of the said recited acts, be discharged and released from all securities so made as aforesaid, 5 G. 4. c. 85. s. 20. [See 6 G. 4. c. 40. post, pl. 142.]

87. It shall be lawful for the King's most excellent Majesty, his heirs and successors, and for all bodies politic and corporate, and also for all guardians, committees, husbands, trustees, and attornies of all persons being infants, lunatics, idiots, under coverture, or any other disability, and also for all other persons who are or shall be seized, possessed of, or interested in any houses, buildings, lands, tenements, hereditaments, easements, or privileges, which shall be deemed necessary for the purposes of this act, to contract or agree for, and to sell, convey, and assure such houses, buildings, lands, tenements, hereditaments, easements, and privileges, unto such persons as shall be named by the justices at general or quarter sessions, in trust and for the purpose of erecting new prisons, or of enlarging old ones, and the yards, courts, and outlets thereunto belonging; and all such contracts, agreements, sales, conveyances, and assurances shall be valid and effectual in law to all intents and purposes whatsoever, 4 G. 4. c. 64. s. 56.

88. Whenever any lands or hereditaments of the King's Majesty shall be requisite, and shall be contracted for, to be used for the purposes aforesaid; the same, if held by the King's Majesty, his heirs or successors, in the right of his or their royal crown, shall and may be legally conveyed by an instrument, under the hands and seals of the lord high treasurer, or of the commissioners of H. M.'s treasury, or of any three of them, and if parcel of the duchy of Lancaster, by an instrument under the hand and seal of the chancellor of the same duchy, and if parcel of the duchy of Cornwall, by an instrument under the hands and seals of the officers of the same duchy, authorized to grant leases under stat. 5 G. 4. c. 78. s. 19, 20., or any two of such officers, 4 G. 4. c. 64. s. 57.

89. Whenever any such corporation, guardian, committee, trustee, or attorney, or other person interested in any houses, buildings, lands, tenements, hereditaments, easements, or privileges, contiguous to any gaol or house of correction, which shall be deemed necessary for the purposes of enlarging or rendering more commodious any such gaol or house of correction, upon notice in writing to him, her or them given, or left at the place or places of abode of such person or persons, or of the principal officer or officers of such corporation, shall, for the space of twenty-one days after such notice so given or left, neglect or refuse to treat, or shall refuse to accept such price as shall be offered by the justices or their agent, or shall otherwise not agree for the sale of such houses, building, lands, tenements, hereditaments, easements, or privileges; and whenever by reason of absence or incapacity any person shall be prevented from treating for such sale, then and in every such case the justices at the general or quarter sessions next after the termination of such twenty-one days, or at an adjournment thereof, shall and they are hereby required to cause notice to be given three times at least in some public newspaper circulating within such county, riding, division, district, city, town, or place, of their intention to take into consideration, at the next ensuing or some subsequent or general quarter sessions, or adjournment thereof, the matter of such neglect, refusal, or omission, or prevention to treat, or to accept of such price offered, or to agree for such sale as aforesaid, and the cause and reasons thereof respectively; and the person or persons, or some officer of any corporation so interested as aforesaid, in any such houses, buildings, lands, tenements, hereditaments, easements, and privileges, or some person on their behalf respectively, shall have liberty to attend such meeting, if they shall think fit, and to state to the justices there assembled their reasons for such neglect, refusal, or omission as aforesaid; and in case the justices at such last-mentioned sessions, or the major part of them, shall, after hearing what the parties interested as aforesaid, or their agents, have to allege in behalf of their respective interests, and upon due consideration had of such matter as aforesaid, resolve to proceed to the valuation and purchase of such lands, tenements, hereditaments, easements, or privileges, notwithstanding such neglect, refusal, or omission, or prevention as aforesaid, then and in every such case the justices at such sessions, or any two or more of them appointed for that purpose, shall cause the value of such houses, buildings, lands, tenements, hereditaments, easements, and privileges, to be inquired into and ascertained by a jury of indifferent men of the county, riding, division, district, city, town, or place, wherein the same shall be situate, and to that end shall summon before such jury, and examine upon oath (which oath any one of the justices is hereby empowered to administer) any person or persons whomsoever; and such justices, or any two of them, shall by ordering a view or otherwise, use all ways and means for the information of themselves and of such jury in the premises; and when such jury shall have inquired of and ascertained by their verdict the value of such houses, buildings, lands, tenements, hereditaments, easements, and privileges, the said justices shall thereupon order that the sum which shall so appear to be the value of such houses, buildings, lands, tenements, hereditaments, easements, and privileges, shall be paid in such manner as is herein-before directed touching the money to be paid for such houses, buildings, lands, tenements, hereditaments, easements, or privileges, for sale whereof the persons interested shall contract and agree in manner aforesaid; which verdict and order shall be filed of record by the clerk of the peace, or other officer having the custody of the records of the county, riding, division, district, city, town, or place, and shall be final and conclusive, to all intents and purposes whatsoever, against all parties and persons whomsoever, claiming or to claim in possession, reversion, remainder, or otherwise, their heirs and successors, as well absent as present, infants, lunatics, idiots, and persons under coverture, or any other disability whatsoever, corporations, guardians, committees, husbands, trustees, and attornies, or any other person or persons whomsoever, 4 G. 4. c. 64. s. 58.

90. For the summoning and returning such juries, such justices, or any two of them, may issue their warrant to the sheriff or officer having the returning of writs within the county, riding, division, district, city, town, or place within the limits of which the houses, buildings, lands, tenements, hereditaments, easements, or privileges, shall be situate, requiring him to impanel, summon, and return an indifferent jury of twenty-four persons, qualified to serve on juries, to appear before the said justices, or any two of them, at such time and place as in such warrant shall be appointed; and such sheriff or officer is hereby required to impanel, summon, and return such number of persons accordingly, and out of the persons so impanelled, summoned, and returned, or out of such of them as shall appear upon such summons, the justices, or any two of them, shall and they are hereby empowered and required to draw by ballot, and to swear, or cause to be sworn, twelve men, who shall be the jury for the purposes aforesaid; and in default of a sufficient number of jurymen so returned, the said sheriff or officer shall take such other honest and indifferent men of the bystanders, or that can speedily be procured to attend that service, as shall make up the number twelve; and all persons concerned shall have their lawful challenges against any of the persons impanelled when they come to be sworn; and the said justices, or any two of them, shall have power to impose a fine or fines on such sheriff or officer, or his deputy or deputies, making such default in the premises, and on any of the persons who shall be summoned and returned on such jury, and who shall not appear, or appearing shall refuse to be sworn on the said jury, or being sworn shall refuse to give or shall not give a verdict, or shall in any other manner wilfully neglect his or their duty therein; and also on any person who, being summoned and required to give evidence before the said jury, shall refuse or neglect to appear, or appearing shall refuse to be sworn or to give evidence, so that no such fine be more than ten pounds nor less than twenty shillings on any one person for one offence, 4 G. 4. c. 64. s. 59.

91. In case any jury shall deliver a verdict for more money as the value of the houses, buildings, lands, tenements, hereditaments, easements, or privileges so to be purchased, than shall have been offered for the purchase thereof by the justices or their agent, to any person capable of contracting for the same, the costs and expences of summoning and maintaining the jury and witnesses shall be borne and paid out of the same fund as the expences of the buildings to be erected; but if such jury shall deliver a verdict for no more or for less money than the money which shall have been so offered by such justices or their agent, then the costs and expences of summoning and maintaining the jury and witnesses shall be borne and paid by the person or persons with whom such controversy or dispute, touching the value of such houses, buildings, lands, tenements, hereditaments, easements, or privileges, shall arise: provided, that in all cases where any person or persons shall, by reason of absence, have been prevented from treating, such costs and expences shall be borne and paid out of the same fund as the expences of the building to be erected, 4 G. 4. c. 64. s. 60.

92. Upon payment of such sum and sums of money so to be ascertained and judged, (that is to say) first in or towards the payment and discharge of any sums due on charges, incumbrances, and liens, if any, affecting the several estates respectively, and then to the owners of the said estates respectively, if any shall remain for that purpose, the person or persons who shall be so found and adjudged to be the owners of the said several estates, of and in the said houses, buildings, lands, tenements, or hereditaments, easements or privileges respectively, and also the owners of any such incumbrances, charges, and liens respectively, shall make and execute, or procure to be made and executed to the person or persons so named by such justices, and his or their heirs, a good and sufficient conveyance or conveyances, thereby granting, releasing, or assigning to them the said houses, buildings, lands, tenements, or hereditaments, easements or privileges, and all such estate, right, title, term, or interest therein, or charge, incumbrances, or lien thereon; and immediately upon such payments, and entry of such verdicts of the said juries, and judgments, sentences, and decrees, orders, and other proceedings as aforesaid, the said lands, houses, buildings, and premises shall vest in the person or persons to be so named by the said justices, and his and their heirs, and he and they shall be deemed in law to be in the actual seisin and possession thereof, to all intents and purposes whatsoever, as fully and effectually as if every person having any estate in the premises, in possession, remainder, reversion, or expectancy, or any charge, incumbrance, or lien thereon, was of full age and of sound mind and memory, and had actually and duly conveyed the same to such trustee by lease and release, bargain and sale enrolled, feoffment with livery and seisin, fine and recovery, or by any other legal conveyance whatsoever, 4 G. 4. c. 64. s. 61.

93. If any money shall be agreed or awarded to be paid for any houses, buildings, lands, tenements, hereditaments, easements, or privileges, purchased, taken, or used by virtue of the powers of this act, which shall belong to any corporation, feme covert, infant, lunatic, person or persons under any other disability or incapacity, such money shall, in case the same shall amount to the sum of two hundred pounds, with all convenient speed be paid into the bank of Eng., in the name and with the privity of the accountant-general of the high court of chancery, to be placed to his account, ex parte the justices of the peace for the county of —, to the intent that such money shall be applied under the direction and with the approbation of the said court, to be signified by an order made upon a petition to be preferred in a summary way by the person or persons who would have been entitled to the rents and profits of the said houses, buildings, lands, tenements, hereditaments, easements, or privileges, in the purchase of the land-tax, or discharge of any debt or debts, or such other incumbrances, or part thereof, as the said court shall authorize to be paid, affecting the same lands, tenements, or hereditaments, or affecting other houses, buildings, lands, tenements, hereditaments, easements, or privileges, standing settled therewith to the same or the like uses, intents and purposes; or where such money shall not be so employed, then the same shall be laid out and invested, under the like direction and approbation of the said court, in the purchase of other houses, buildings, lands, tenements, hereditaments, easements, or privileges, which shall be conveyed and settled to, for, and upon such and the like uses, trusts, intents, and purposes, and in the same manner as the houses, buildings, lands, tenements, hereditaments, easements, or privileges, which shall be so purchased, taken, or used as aforesaid, stood settled or limited, or such of them as at the time of making such conveyance and settlement shall be existing undetermined and capable of taking effect; and in the mean time and until such purchase shall be made, the said money shall by order of the court of chancery, upon application thereto, be invested by the said accountant-general in his name, in the purchase of three pounds per centum consolidated or three pounds per centum reduced bank annuities; and in the mean time, and until the said bank annuities shall be ordered by the said court to be sold for the purposes aforesaid, the dividends and annual produce of the said consolidated or reduced bank annuities shall from time to time be paid by order of the said court to the person or persons who would for the time being have been entitled to the rents and profits of the houses, buildings, lands, tenements, hereditaments, easements, or privileges so hereby directed to be purchased, in case such purchase or settlement were made, 4 G. 4. c. 64. s. 62.

94. Provided, that if any money so agreed or awarded to be paid for any houses, buildings, lands, tenements, hereditaments, easements, or privileges, purchased, taken, or used for the purposes aforesaid, and belonging to any corporation, or to any person or persons under disability or incapacity as aforesaid, shall be less than the sum of two hundred pounds, and shall amount to or exceed the sum of twenty pounds, then and in all such cases the same shall, at the option of the person or persons for the time being entitled to the rents and profits of the houses, buildings, lands, tenements, hereditaments, easements, or privileges so purchased, taken, or used, or of his, her, or their guardian or guardians, committee or committees, in case of infancy or lunacy, to be signified in writing under their respective hands, be paid into the bank of Eng., in the name and with the privity of the said accountant-general of the high court of chancery, and be placed to his account as aforesaid, in order to be applied in manner herein-before [s. 62. pl. 93.] directed; or otherwise the same shall be paid, at the like option, to two trustees, to be nominated by the person or persons making such option, and approved of by the said justices (such nomination and approbation to be signified in writing under the hands of the nominating and approving parties), in order that such principal money, and the dividends arising thereon, may be applied in manner herein-before directed, so far as the case be applicable, without obtaining or being required to obtain the direction or approbation of the said court of chancery, 4 G. 4. c. 64. s. 63.

95. Provided, that where such money so agreed or awarded to be paid as next before mentioned shall be less than twenty pounds, then and in all such cases the same shall be applied to the use of the person or persons who would for the time being have been entitled to the rents and profits of the houses, buildings, lands, tenements, hereditaments, easements, or privileges, so purchased, taken, or used for the purposes of this act, in such manner as the trustees shall think fit; or in case of infancy or lunacy, then to his, her, or their guardian or guardians, committee or committees, to and for the use and benefit of such person or persons so entitled respectively, 4 G. 4. c. 64. s. 64.

96. In case the person or persons to whom any sum or sums of money shall be awarded for the purchase of any houses, buildings, lands, tenements, hereditaments, easements, or privileges, to be purchased by this act, shall refuse to accept the same, or shall not be able to make out a good title to the premises to the satisfaction of the said justices; or in case such person or persons to whom such sum or sums shall be so awarded as aforesaid cannot be found, or if the person or persons entitled to such houses, buildings, lands, tenements, hereditaments, easements, or privileges, be not known or discovered, then and in every such case it shall be lawful to and for the said justices to order the said sum or sums of money so awarded as aforesaid to be paid into the bank of Eng., in the name and with the privity of the accountant-general of the court of chancery, to be placed to his account to the credit of the persons interested in the said houses, buildings, lands, tenements, hereditaments, easements, or privileges (describing them), subject to the order, controul, and disposition of the said court of chancery; which said court of chancery, on the application of any person or persons making claim to such sum and sums of money, or any part thereof, by motion or petition, shall be and is hereby empowered in a summary way of proceeding or otherwise, as to the same court shall seem meet, to order the same to be laid out and invested in the public funds, and to order the distribution thereof, or payment of the dividends thereof, according to the respective estate or estates, title or interest of the person or persons making claim thereunto, and to make such other order in the premises as to the said court shall seem just and reasonable; and the cashier or cashiers of the bank of Eng., who shall receive such sum or sums of money, is and are hereby required to give a receipt for such sum or sums of money, mentioning and specifying for what and for whose use the same is or are received, to such person or persons who shall pay any such sum or sums of money into the bank as aforesaid, 4 G. 4. c. 64. s. 65.

97. Provided, that where any question shall arise touching the title of any person to any money to be paid into the bank of Eng. in the name and with the privity of the accountant-general of the court of chancery, in pursuance of this act, for the purchase of any houses, buildings, lands, tenements, hereditaments, easements, or privileges, or of any estate, right, or interest in any houses, buildings, lands, tenements, hereditaments, easements, or privileges to be purchased in pursuance of this act, or to any bank annuities to be purchased with any such money, or the dividends or interest of any bank annuities, the person or persons who shall have been in possession of such houses, buildings, lands, tenements, hereditaments, easements, or privileges, at the time of such purchase, and all persons claiming under such person or persons, shall be deemed and taken to have been lawfully entitled to such houses, buildings, lands, tenements, hereditaments, easements, or privileges, according to such possession, until the contrary shall be shewn to the satisfaction of the said court of chancery; and the dividends or interest of the said bank annuities to be purchased with such money, and also the capital of such bank annuities, shall be paid, applied, and disposed of accordingly, unless it shall be made appear to the said court that such possession was a wrongful possession, and that some other person or persons was or were lawfully entitled to such houses, buildings, lands, tenements, hereditaments, easements, or privileges, or to some estate or interest therein, 4 G. 4. c. 64. s. 66.

98. Provided also, that where by reason of any disability or incapacity of the person or persons, or corporations entitled to any houses, buildings, lands, tenements, hereditaments, easements, or privileges to be purchased under the authority of this act, the purchase money for the same shall be required to be paid into the courts of chancery, and to be applied in the purchase of other houses, buildings, lands, tenements, hereditaments, easements, or privileges, to be settled to the like uses in pursuance of this act, it shall and may be lawful to and for the said court of chancery to order the expences of such last-mentioned purchases from time to time to be made in pursuance of this act, or so much thereof as the said court shall deem reasonable, to be paid by the said justices, out of any monies to be received for the purposes of this act, who shall from time to time pay such sums of money for such purposes as the said court shall direct, 4 G. 4. c. 64. s. 67.

99. Whereas it may be found expedient in some places, for the purpose of building, enlarging, or rendering more commodious the gaol or house of correction, to fix upon lands or tenements over which rights of common exist; and in such case great difficulties may arise in purchasing and obtaining a conveyance of such commonable lands or tenements under the general powers of the said recited act; be it therefore enacted, That for the purpose of the said recited act and of this act, and of any local act relative to any such gaol, or house of correction, the churchwardens for the time being of the parish wherein any such commonable lands or tenements shall be situate, shall be considered as the persons solely and absolutely entitled to the rights of common of pasture, or other commonable rights to which any such lands or tenements shall be subject; and that the monies for which any such commonable rights shall be purchased shall be paid to such churchwardens, whose receipts shall be an effectual discharge for the same, and the same monies shall be applied by such churchwardens to such general and public purposes within the parish where the lands or tenements so purchased shall be situate, as a vestry of such parish to be convened by such churchwardens, shall direct, 5 G. 4. c. 85. s. 18.

100. For the purpose of receiving the notice required by stat. 4 G. 4. c. 64. to be given to persons interested in houses, buildings, lands, tenements, hereditaments, easements, or privileges contiguous to any gaol or house of correction, and deemed necessary for the purposes of enlarging the same, or rendering it more commodious, the occupier of such houses, buildings, lands, tenements, hereditaments, easements, or privileges, shall be deemed the person interested therein; and that every such occupier, upon receiving any such notice, shall forthwith transmit or deliver the same to any other person interested, under whom he may hold the houses, buildings, lands, tenements, hereditaments, easements, or privileges so deemed necessary, 5 G. 4. c. 85. s. 19.

101. In order to defray the expences of the several matters and things herein-before directed to be done, respecting gaols, houses of correction, and other prisons, and for the support and maintenance of prisoners confined therein, who are entitled by law to such support, and for all other expences necessary to the execution of this act, and not herein-before particularly provided for: it is enacted, That it shall be lawful for the justices, at their general or quarter sessions, to cause such sums as shall be necessary for all or any of those purposes, to be raised on the counties, ridings, divisions, districts, cities, towns, or places, to which this act extends, in the same manner as rates applicable to the building, repairing, or maintenance of such prisons respectively, are now directed to be raised by law, 4 G. 4. c. 64. s. 68.

102. All fines, forfeitures, and penalties imposed by this act, or which shall be imposed by virtue of any rule to be made in pursuance thereof, shall, on conviction of the offender before any one justice, be levied by distress and sale of the offender's goods, by warrant under the hand and seal of such justice, who is hereby authorized to hear and examine witnesses on oath or affirmation, on any complaint, and to determine the same; and all such fines, forfeitures, and penalties, the application whereof is not herein-before directed, shall be paid from time to time to the treasurer of the county, riding, division, district, city, town, or place for the time being, and shall be applied and disposed of in aid of the rate applicable to the purposes of this act, and to or for no other use or purpose whatsoever; and for want of sufficient distress, the offender shall be committed to the common gaol or house of correction, for such term not exceeding six calendar months, nor less than one month, as such justice shall think proper, 4 G. 4. c. 64. s. 69.

103. And for the more easy and speedy conviction of offenders against this act, it is enacted, That the justice before whom any person shall be convicted of any offence against this act shall and may cause the conviction to be drawn up in the following form of words, or in any other form of words to the same effect, as the case shall happen; videlicet,

'Be it remembered, that on — in the year of our Lord — A. B. is convicted before me, C. D., one of H. M.'s justices of the peace for the — of —, for that the said A. B. [specifying the offence and the time and place when and where the same was committed, as the case shall be,] and the said A. B. is for the said offence adjudged by me, the said justice, to forfeit and pay the sum of — or to be imprisoned in — for the space of — [as the case shall be]. Given under my hand and seal, the day and year first above mentioned.'

4 G. 4. c. 64. s. 70.

104. Provided, that if any person shall think himself or herself aggrieved by any conviction of any justice, in pursuance of this act, such person may appeal to the justices of the peace at any quarter sessions of the county, riding, division, district, city, town, or place wherein such conviction shall have taken place, within four calendar months after the cause of such complaint shall have arisen, such appellant first giving or causing to be given ten clear days' notice at least in writing of his or her intention to bring such appeal, and of the matter thereof, to the justice or justices before whom the conviction shall have been had, and to the clerk of the peace for the county, riding, or division, district, city, town, or place, in which such conviction shall have been had, and within two days after such notice entering into recognizance before some justice for such county, riding, or division, district, city, town, or place, with two sufficient sureties, conditioned to try such appeal, and abide the order of, and to pay such costs as shall be awarded by the justices at such session; and the justices at such session, upon due proof of such notice being given as aforesaid, and of the entering into such recognizance, shall hear and finally determine the matter of such appeal in a summary way, and award such costs to the parties appealing or appealed against as they the said justices shall think proper; and the determination of such session shall be final, binding, and conclusive to all intents and purposes, 4 G. 4. c. 64. s. 71.

105. No order made touching any of the matters in this act contained, nor any conviction of any offender against this act, shall be quashed for want of form, or be removed or removable by certiorari, or by any other writ or process whatsoever into any of H. M.'s courts of record at Westminster; and where any distress shall be made for any fine, penalty, or sum of money to be levied by virtue of this act, the distress itself shall not be deemed to be unlawful, nor the party making the same be deemed a trespasser, on account of any defect or want of form in the summons, conviction, warrant of distress, or other proceedings relating thereto; nor shall such party be deemed a trespasser ab initio, on account of any irregularity which shall be afterwards done by the party distraining, but the person aggrieved by such irregularity shall and may recover full satisfaction for the special damage (if any) in an action upon the case; but no plaintiff shall recover in any action for such irregularity as aforesaid, if tender of sufficient amends shall have been made by or on behalf of the party distraining before such action brought, 4 G. 4. c. 64. s. 72.

106. If any suit or action shall be prosecuted against any person for any thing done in pursuance of this act, such person may plead the general issue, and give this act and the special matter in evidence at any trial to be had thereupon, and that the same was done by authority of this act; and if a verdict shall pass for the defendant, or the plaintiff shall become nonsuit, or discontinue his or her action after issue joined, or if upon demurrer or otherwise, judgment shall be given against the plaintiff, the defendant shall recover double costs, and have the like remedy for the same as any defendant hath by law in other cases; and though a verdict shall be given for the plaintiff in any such action, such plaintiff shall not have costs against the defendant, unless the judge before whom the trial shall be shall certify his approbation of the action, and of the verdict obtained thereupon, 4 G. 4. c. 64. s. 73.

107. All matters and things which by this act the sheriff of any county is required or authorized to do and perform, shall, in those districts, cities, towns, liberties, or places where the sheriff hath no jurisdiction, be done and performed by the bailiff or bailiffs, or other like officer or officers, having within their respective districts, cities, towns, and liberties, duties analogous to the duties of the sheriff of a county; and that all matters and things which by this act the treasurer of any county is required or authorized to do and perform, shall, in those places where the county treasurer hath no authority, be done and performed by the officer or officers having and exercising within such places duties analogous to those of a county treasurer; and that all matters and things which by this act the clerk of the peace of any county, riding, or division is required or authorized to do and perform, shall, in those places where the clerk of the peace of the county hath no authority, be done and performed by the town-clerk or other like officer having and exercising within such places duties analogous to those of the clerk of the peace of any county, 4 G. 4. c. 64. s. 74.

108. All actions, suits, and prosecutions, to be commenced against any person for any thing done in pursuance of this act, shall be laid and tried in the county where the facts were committed, and shall be commenced within six months after the fact committed, and not otherwise, 4 G. 4. c. 64. s. 75.

109. Nothing in this act contained shall extend to the royal hospital of Bethlehem and prison of Bridewell, nor to the King's Bench or Fleet prison, or to the prison of the Marshalsea or palace courts, the general penitentiary at Milbank, nor to the penitentiary at Gloucester; nor to any ships or vessels provided in any port or navigable river for the reception and employment of convicts sentenced to transportation; nor to exempt any such convicts from any punishment or discipline to which they were liable by law before the passing of this act, 4 G. 4. c. 64. s. 76.

110. Where any prison is situate on lands of the King's Majesty in right of his royal crown, or of his duchy of Lancaster or Cornwall, such lands, with their appurtenances, shall remain for ever unalienable, so long as they shall be used for the purpose of such prison, 4 G. 4. c. 64. s. 77.

111. It shall be lawful for the justices of the peace, or any two of them, or for other persons having the government or ordering of any gaol or house of correction, in any city, town, borough, port, or liberty, to contract with the justices of the peace, having authority or jurisdiction in and over any gaol or house of correction of the county, riding, or division, wherein or whereto such city, town, borough, port, or liberty is situate or adjacent, or with any two of them, for the support and maintenance, in such last-mentioned gaol or house of correction, of any prisoners committed thereto, from such city, town, borough, port, or liberty; provided, that no such contract be entered into by any justices of the peace of any county, riding, or division, without an order for that purpose being made at some general or quarter sessions, or gaol sessions, having jurisdiction in that behalf, nor by the justices or other persons having the government of the prison of any such city, town, borough, port, or liberty, without an order for that purpose being made at the sessions thereof; and every such contract may either be perpetual, or limited to a certain term of years, as the parties shall mutually agree; and during the existence of such contract, every prisoner who would otherwise be confined in the gaol or house of correction of the city, town, borough, port, or liberty, so contracting, may be lawfully committed or removed to and confined in the gaol or house of correction so receiving him or her under such contract; and all prisoners so confined by contract, whether before or after trial, shall be subject in all matters and things to the same rules and regulations as if they were committed thereto by any of the justices of the county, riding, or division; and if committed before trial, shall be triable and tried in the same manner as if their offences had been committed in a part of the county, riding, or division, not within the city, town, borough, port, or liberty from whence such prisoners shall come; save only, that if the gaol or house of correction so receiving under contract a prisoner committed for trial, shall be situate within two miles of the usual place of trial of the city, town, borough, port, or liberty wherein the offence charged against such prisoner shall be alleged to have been committed, it shall be lawful to try such prisoner in the manner heretofore accustomed, and for the magistrates or other proper officer of such city, town, borough, port, or liberty, to direct the removal of such prisoner for trial, and to do all other acts necessary for such trial, or consequent thereon, 5 G. 4. c. 85. s. 1.

112. The monies to be paid under any such contract as aforesaid shall be raised in the same manner as monies for defraying the expences of the gaol or house of correction for which a substitute shall be provided under such contract; and where such expences are not wholly defrayed from the same fund, and there shall arise a difference of opinion between the parties interested in the several funds applicable to the several purposes of the prison, as to the proportion in which those funds respectively shall contribute to the sum to be paid to the county, riding, or division, for the use of its prison, and such difference shall not be adjusted by agreement between themselves, it shall be lawful for either of such parties to apply to the justices of assize of the last preceding circuit, or of the next succeeding circuit, or to one of such justices, who shall by writing under their or his hands or hand, nominate a barrister at law, not having any interest in the question, to arbitrate between the parties; and such arbitrator may, if he shall see fit, adjourn the hearing from time to time, and require all such further information to be afforded by either of the parties, as shall appear to him meet and necessary; and shall, by his award in writing, determine the proportions in which such parties shall contribute towards the said expences; and his award shall be final and conclusive between the parties; and such arbitrator shall also assess the costs of the arbitration, and shall direct by whom, and out of what fund, the same shall be paid, 5 G. 4. c. 85. s. 2.

113. During the existence of any such contract, if it shall extend to the whole of the prisoners who would otherwise be confined in the gaol or house of correction of the city, town, borough, port, or liberty so contracting, such city, town, borough, port, or liberty, shall not be liable to indictment or impeachment for the non-repair of its gaol or house of correction respectively; and if such contract shall extend to only a certain class or classes of its prisoners, such city, town, borough, port, or liberty shall not be liable to provide the accommodation required to be otherwise provided for the same class or classes of prisoners by the said recited act, or by any other act now in force, 5 G. 4. c. 85. s. 3.

114. If it shall seem fit to the magistrates or superintending officers of any city, town, borough, port, or liberty, that instead of altering or building any gaol or house of correction for their separate use, or contracting under the provisions aforesaid, it would be more advisable to raise a sum or sums of money in aid of building a new or of enlarging a county prison, it shall be lawful for them to agree with the justices of the peace, having authority or jurisdiction in and over any gaol or house of correction of the county, riding, or division wherein or whereto such city, town, borough, port, or liberty is situate or adjacent, or with any two of them, for the payment to such justices, having such authority as aforesaid, of any sum or sums of money to be by them applied in or towards the altering, enlarging, building, rebuilding, repairing, or improving such gaol or house of correction of the county, riding, or division aforesaid: provided, that no such agreement be entered into by any justices of the peace for any county, riding, or division, without an order for that purpose being made at some general or quarter sessions or gaol sessions, having jurisdiction in that behalf, 5 G. 4. c. 85. s. 4. [See 5 G. 4. c. 12. post, pl. 124.]

115. All monies to be paid under any such agreement as last mentioned, shall be raised in the same manner, and subject to the same conditions, as is directed in respect of monies to be raised for the building or rebuilding, repairing or enlarging any gaol or house of correction under the provisions of this act, 5 G. 4. c. 85. s. 5.

116. It shall be lawful for such justices of the peace of any such county, riding, or division, entering into any such agreement as last aforesaid, to stipulate in the same (if they shall see fit so to do) that it shall be lawful for such county, &c., at such time or times as shall be in that behalf provided in such agreement, to repay to the said city, &c. the sum or sums of money which shall have been so paid or advanced in or towards the altering, enlarging, building, rebuilding, repairing, or improving such gaol or house of correction of the county, &c. aforesaid, 5 G. 4. c. 85. s. 6.

117. The chief magistrate of every city, town, borough, port, or liberty now having a gaol or house of correction, in Eng. and Wa., shall, in the month of Oct. next, report to one of H. M.'s principal secretaries of state whether any contract has been made with the county, riding, or division, for the use of its prisons, or any of them, by such city, town, borough, port, or liberty, and to what classes of prisoners such contract, if any, shall extend; and if there be no such contract, whether any steps have been taken towards such contract; and if so, in what state the treaty is, and what obstacles there are to its completion; and the chief magistrate of every such city, town, borough, port, or liberty, where no such contract shall be in existence, shall, in the same month of Oct., transmit to one of H. M.'s principal secretaries of state, a copy of all such rules and regulations as shall be then in force for the government of every such prison, and a return in the form of the schedule to this act annexed, marked (A.), and a statement of the establishment of officers and servants employed therein, specifying the number and description of such officers and servants, the salaries and emoluments of each, and by whom such officers and servants are respectively appointed, and a plan of every such prison, drawn upon a scale of one-sixteenth of an inch to a foot; and the said copies and plans shall be carefully preserved in the office of such secretary of state; and such magistrate shall, in every subsequent month of Oct., until such a contract shall be entered into, transmit to such secretary of state a return in the form of the said schedule, and a copy of all additions to such rules and regulations, or alterations made therein, and a statement of any increase or diminution in such establishment of officers and servants, or in their respective salaries and emoluments, together with plans, on the scale above mentioned, of any additions to the buildings of such prison, or alterations made in the construction thereof, during the preceding year, 5 G. 4. c. 85. s. 7.

118. Whereas it is desirable that more effectual means should be afforded, whereby prisoners discharged from prison should be enabled to return to their place of settlement; it is enacted, That when any prisoner discharged from prison shall be desirous of being supplied with the means of so returning, it shall and may be lawful for any two visiting justices of such prison, upon application from such prisoner, to take the examination in writing upon oath of such prisoner, as to his or her last legal place of settlement; and upon such examination, and such other evidence as the said visiting justices may be able to procure, it shall be lawful for the said visiting justices, if they shall so think fit, to afford to such prisoner the means of returning to his or her place of last legal settlement, in the manner herein-after directed, 5 G. 4. c. 85. s. 22.

119. It shall be lawful for the justices of the peace of each and every county, riding, or division in Eng., in their general or quarter sessions assembled, to cause engraved copper plates or printed forms of passes to be provided, according to the form in schedule (B.) annexed to this act, bearing H. M.'s arms, and sealed with the county seal, or with a seal to be specially provided for that purpose; and the said justices may cause the same to be issued to the keepers of the several prisons within their respective counties, ridings, or divisions, for the use of the visiting justices of each such prison, whenever any prisoner or prisoners discharged from or about to be discharged from such prison shall apply to be furnished with the same; and the said visiting justices shall, if after a due consideration of the circumstances they shall deem it expedient, fill up the blanks in every such pass, and certify the same, and make out a route in the proper column for the purpose, of each such prisoner, and for the child or children, if any, of each such prisoner, specifying the place to which such prisoner and such child or children is or are going, and the time to which the said pass is (except in cases of sickness or unavoidable accident) limited, in order that such prisoner may receive such allowances as are authorized by this act, not exceeding 1½d. per mile for such prisoner, and 1d. per mile for each child, which from being in a state of nurture or without other protection may have been confined in prison with such prisoner, 5 G. 4. c. 85. s. 23.

120. Upon the production of such pass to any overseer of the poor of any place through which such discharged prisoner shall proceed, according to the route specified in such pass, he shall, out of any money in his hands applicable to the relief of the poor, pay such discharged prisoner an allowance not exceeding the rate per mile specified in such pass as aforesaid, for the number of miles to the next city, town, or place to which he or she may be going, and he shall indorse on such pass the money so paid, and take a receipt for the same from the discharged prisoner, signed with his or her hand or mark, 5 G. 4. c. 85. s. 24.

121. The said sums so advanced by any overseer shall, upon production and delivery of such receipt to the treasurer of the county, riding, or division in which the parish or place of such overseer, [so in the act] be repaid to such overseer, for the use of the fund for the relief of the poor of such parish or place, by the said treasurer, 5 G. 4. c. 85. s. 25.

122. Every such discharged prisoner shall, at the last place of his or her receiving any allowance under this act, deliver up such pass to the overseer of the poor advancing such allowance, who shall transmit the same to the keeper of the prison from which such prisoner shall have been discharged; and if there be indorsed upon such pass, or upon the cover thereof, the words "pass of a discharged prisoner," and the said pass be sent without a cover, or in a cover open at the sides, and without any paper or thing inclosed therein, and without any writing other than the matter of such pass and than the superscription upon the same, or upon the cover thereof, such pass shall be charged with the usual rate of postage at the post-office of the town or place from which it shall be so sent, but the amount of the said postage shall be remitted and returned to the keeper of such prison on his producing such pass to the postmaster of the town or place to which such pass shall be sent as aforesaid; provided that such keeper shall have first signed the declaration contained in the schedule to this act annexed, and that such declaration shall have been attested by one of the visiting justices of such prison, in the manner prescribed in the said schedule, 5 G. 4. c. 85. s. 26.

123. Nothing in this act contained shall extend to the royal hospital of Bethlehem and prison of Bridewell, nor to the King's Bench or Fleet prison, nor to the prison of Marshalsea or palace courts, nor to the general penitentiary at Milbank, nor to the general penitentiary at Gloucester, 5 G. 4. c. 85. s. 27.

124. To facilitate in those counties which are divided into ridings or divisions, the execution of an act of the last session of parliament, for consolidating and amending the laws relating to the building, repairing, and regulating of certain gaols and houses of correction in Eng. and Wa., 5 G. 4. c. 12. [PUBLIC CLAUSE, s. 17. AMD. 5 G. 4. c. 85. s. 21.]

125. Whereas by 4 G. 4. c. 64. intituled, An Act for consolidating and amending the laws relating to the building, repairing, and regulating of certain gaols and houses of correction in Eng. and Wa.; it was (amongst other things) enacted [s. 2. pl. 21.], That there should be maintained at the expence of every county in Eng. and Wa., one common gaol, and that the regulations and provisions contained in the said act should extend, in manner therein mentioned, to every such gaol: And whereas in certain counties in Eng. there are distinct commissions of the peace for the several ridings and divisions into which such counties are divided, and distinct courts of sessions of the peace are holden for each of such ridings and divisions respectively, and in such counties there are no courts of general or quarter sessions holden for the whole county at large, in consequence whereof the provisions and regulations of the said act cannot in such counties be carried into execution: For remedy thereof, and in order to extend to such counties all the benefits of the said act; be it enacted, That in every county divided into ridings or divisions, having distinct commissions of the peace, there shall be held from time to time a court of sessions for the gaol of such county, of which court all the justices of the peace of every riding and division of such county shall be members; and any two of such justices shall be able to hold such court; and such court shall possess and exercise all the powers and authorities respecting the common gaol of such county, and all matters relating thereto, which are in and by the said recited act vested in the court of general or quarter sessions of the peace for any other county of Eng.; and the justices of the peace for each of such ridings and divisions are hereby authorized as fully and effectually to perform and execute all the provisions and regulations of the said recited act, with respect to such county gaol, as justices of the peace for the county are in any other county of Eng. authorized to do with respect to the gaol of their respective counties; and the said court of gaol sessions is hereby empowered to transact and do, within the counties so divided, all such matters and things appertaining to the authority of justices of the peace in sessions assembled, with respect to the county gaol, as are in other counties capable of being done by justices of the peace in their general or quarter sessions assembled; and where by the said act any thing is ordered to be done at any general or quarter sessions, or at any adjournment thereof, or at any subsequent general or quarter sessions or adjournment thereof, respecting the county gaols, then such things may be done at such gaol sessions, or at any adjournment thereof, or at one or more subsequent gaol sessions, in such way, and with such public notices as in the said recited act they are ordered or directed to be done by the general or quarter sessions or adjournment thereof, 5 G. 4. c. 12. s. 1.

126. The sheriff of every county so divided into ridings or divisions shall, within fourteen days next after the passing of this act [23d March, 1824], by notice to be published in the London Gazette, and in some of the public newspapers most usually circulated within his county, summon the justices of each of the ridings or divisions into which the same is divided, to meet at some place in or near the county gaol, to be by him specified in such notice, and at a time not exceeding one month after the first publication of such notice, and there to form a court of sessions for the county gaol, for the purpose of carrying into execution the regulations and provisions of the said recited act and of this act; and the said court being so constituted shall proceed to elect a chairman and a clerk; and the said court, and the chairman thereof, shall proceed to execute all those matters and things which were by the said recited act directed to be done by the court of quarter sessions of the peace held at Michaelmas next after the passing thereof, and by the chairman of that court, and to do all such other matters and things, as may be necessary or proper in regard to the county gaol, 5 G. 4. c. 12. s. 2.

127. The clerk of the gaol sessions shall continue in his office until another shall be elected in his stead by the court of gaol sessions, and shall with respect to the said recited act and this act, have and enjoy all the powers vested by the said recited act in the clerk of the peace of any county, 5 G. 4. c. 12. s. 3.

128. The clerk of the gaol sessions shall, on receiving a precept commanding him so to do, signed by any two justices of the peace acting for any of the ridings or divisions of the county, summon the justices to meet in a court of gaol sessions, by a notice to be published at least twice in some of the public newspapers most usually circulated in the county, which notice shall declare the day, hour, and place at which such court is to be held; and also that the said clerk, if the court of gaol sessions shall be dissolved without adjournment, or shall adjourn for a longer time than three calendar months, shall by a like notice, to be issued of his proper authority, without any precept in that behalf, summon a court of gaol sessions to be held within three calendar months next after such dissolution or last adjournment, 5 G. 4. c. 12. s. 4.

129. The sessions for the county gaol shall be held in some place in the gaol, or within one mile thereof, unless there shall be special reasons for the contrary, which shall be expressed in the precept to be directed to the said clerk as aforesaid; and if it shall be held in the gaol, or within such distance thereof as aforesaid, all matters done thereat touching the county gaol shall be legal, though the sessions be held in some place not within the county, 5 G. 4. c. 12. s. 5.

130. The court of gaol sessions shall also elect a treasurer of the monies applicable to the repair of the county gaol, who shall not be the clerk of the said court; and the said treasurer shall receive and pay all monies to be raised for the repair of the county gaol, or to be disbursed by order of the court, and shall give discharges for the monies received, and apply the same as by such court shall be ordered, and shall keep a distinct account of such monies received and paid, and shall from time to time, when called on by the said court, account upon oath, if required, for all monies so by him received, and deliver in all vouchers respecting the same; and the said court shall from time to time appoint such salaries to such clerk and treasurer respectively as they shall think fit, to be paid out of the monies aforesaid; and such treasurer shall give such security for the faithful performance of his duty, as the court of gaol sessions shall direct, 5 G. 4. c. 12. s. 6.

131. Whereas it is expedient, that all the expences incurred respecting any county gaol, where the county is so divided as aforesaid, whether arising out of the provisions of the said recited act or of this act, or otherwise, should be discharged out of the county rates; and it is necessary to fix the proportions in which the several ridings or divisions shall contribute to such expences; and it may also be necessary from time to time to vary the said proportions: be it therefore further enacted, That where in any such county there are, at the time of passing this act, any fixed proportions in which such expences are or have been paid and borne, such proportions shall continue to be acted on, and the contributions shall be paid accordingly, till some alteration shall be made therein by the court of gaol sessions; and that where there are now no such fixed proportions, the said court shall forthwith fix the proportions in which the contribution is to be made; and the said court shall also have power and authority to alter the said proportions from time to time; provided that no such alteration shall be made, unless the intention of making such alteration shall be expressed in the notice whereby the court is summoned, and shall be published for one month at the least before the court shall be held, 5 G. 4. c. 12. s. 7.

132. When the court of gaol sessions shall order an alteration to be made in the proportions in which the ridings or divisions of the county are to contribute towards the expences of the county gaol, or shall negative a proposition for making such alteration, and any riding or division shall be dissatisfied therewith, it shall be lawful for the clerk of the peace of such riding or division, being thereunto authorized by an order of the court of quarter or gaol sessions of such riding or division, to apply to the justices of assize of the last preceding circuit, or of the next succeeding circuit, or to one of such justices, who shall by writing under their or his hands or hand nominate a barrister at law, not having any interest in the question, to arbitrate between the ridings or divisions; and such arbitrators shall summon the several clerks of the peace of the ridings or divisions interested in the matter in dispute to appear before him, at a time to be by him appointed, and there to produce all information touching the matter in dispute; and such arbitrator may, if he shall see fit, adjourn the hearing from time to time, and require all such further information to be afforded by either of the parties as shall appear to him meet and necessary; and shall, by his award in writing, determine the proportions in which such ridings or divisions shall contribute towards the said expences; and his award shall be final and conclusive between the parties for ten years, and until further order shall be made thereon by the court of gaol sessions; and such arbitrators shall also assess the costs of the arbitration, and shall direct by whom and out of what fund the same shall be paid, 5 G. 4. c. 12. s. 8.

133. Whereas by stat. 5 G. 4. c. 12. s. 8. provision is made for settling by arbitration disputes between ridings and divisions, as to the proportions in which they shall contribute to the expence of the county gaol, but by reason of some verbal inaccuracies in the said provision there may be some difficulty in acting thereon: it is enacted and declared, That the clerk of the peace may be authorized to apply to the justices of assize for the nomination of an arbitrator under stat. 5 G. 4. c. 12. by an order of the court, or quarter or general sessions of the riding or division; and that one arbitrator shall be competent to exercise all the powers and authorities given to the arbitrator or arbitrators by the same act; and that such arbitrator shall assess the costs of the arbitration, and direct by whom and out of what fund the same shall be paid, 5 G. 4. c. 85. s. 21.

134. When and so often as the court of gaol sessions shall find it requisite to raise money for the purposes of the said recited act or of this act, they shall make an order accordingly, and their clerk shall forthwith transmit a copy of such order, signed by the chairman, together with the amount of the sum of money to be paid by virtue of it, according to the then existing proportions, by each riding or division, to the treasurers of the several ridings or divisions of the county; which treasurers shall forthwith out of the monies in their hands, or if those monies shall be insufficient, then so soon as sufficient monies shall come to their hands, pay the sum required to the treasurer of the county gaol, and take his receipt for the same, 5 G. 4. c. 12. s. 9.

135. When the monies necessary to be raised for the purposes of the said recited act or of this act shall exceed one half of the ordinary aggregate amount of all the annual assessments for the rates of the several ridings or divisions of any such county, taken on an average of all such rates for the last seven years preceding, the court of gaol sessions may and is hereby authorized to mortgage all the rates of such county, by such instrument, and in such ways and means, and under such provisions of repayment, and with the same power of assignment, as in the said recited act are enacted respecting the mortgage of any county rates therein mentioned, 5 G. 4. c. 12. s. 10.

136. The court of gaol sessions shall and is hereby required to charge all the rates upon the several ridings and divisions of the county, in the same manner and for the same purposes as in and by the said recited act the justices in their general or quarter sessions are authorized and required to charge the rates of any county having one rate for the whole; and all the ways, means, and methods by the said recited act directed and allowed, as to the repayment of monies borrowed and the interest thereof, and the accounts respecting the same, shall be kept and observed by the court of gaol sessions, respecting the monies borrowed on account of the gaol of any county so divided as aforesaid; provided that all the monies to be raised on the several ridings or divisions of any such county, for repaying money borrowed or the interest thereof, shall be raised in the same proportions as other monies for the purposes of the said recited act or of this act shall be raised at the time of such money being so raised, 5 G. 4. c. 12. s. 11.

137. All reports and statements directed by the said recited act to be made to the general or quarter sessions, shall be transmitted on or before the first days of Jan., April, July, and Oct., to the clerk of the gaol sessions, and be by him laid before the court at the sessions, 5 G. 4. c. 12. s. 12.

138. The chairman of the first court of gaol sessions held after the first day of Oct. in each year, shall, within fourteen days after the determination of such sessions, or any adjournment thereof, transmit to one of H. M.'s principal secretaries of state such account of proceedings, and such copies of rules and regulations, as in and by the said act are ordered to be transmitted by the chairman of the Michaelmas quarter sessions, and shall at the same time, or within three months afterwards, transmit such plans as in the said act are mentioned, 5 G. 4. c. 12. s. 13.

139. The return directed to be made annually by the keeper of every prison, in the form contained in the schedule annexed to the said recited act, marked (B.), shall be annually made by the keeper of every gaol of every county so divided as aforesaid, and delivered to the clerk of the gaol sessions of such county, two weeks at least before the first day of Oct. in each year; and that such clerk shall on the said first day of Oct. prepare a general report founded on the report of the visiting justices and that of the chaplain, and on the certificates and reports of the keeper of the said gaol, and on any other report or document respecting the said gaol, and shall lay the same before the next gaol sessions; and such report, when approved by such sessions, shall be signed by the chairman thereof, and shall be by him, together with a copy of the schedule (B.), transmitted to one of H. M.'s principal secretaries of state, for the purposes in the said recited act mentioned, 5 G. 4. c. 12. s. 14.

140. If any matter or thing be done within any county so divided as aforesaid, for which any fine, penalty, or forfeiture is by the said recited act imposed and directed to be paid to the county treasurer, every conviction made in pursuance of the said recited act for such matter or thing, shall be made by one or more justices of the peace of the riding or division in which the offence is committed; and all forfeitures, fines, and penalties thereon accruing, shall be paid to the treasurer of the county gaol for the purposes of this act, 5 G. 4. c. 12. s. 15.

141. In the case of every county so divided as aforesaid, the common gaol of such county shall, for all purposes relative to the jurisdiction of justices of the peace, be deemed to be within and taken as part of each of the ridings and divisions of which such county is composed; and every justice of the peace for each of such ridings and divisions shall have like power and authority to execute all things appertaining to his office therein, as in any part of the riding or division to which his commission specially extends, 5 G. 4. c. 12. s. 16.

142. To enable justices of the peace in Eng., in certain cases, to borrow money on mortgage of the rate of the county, riding, or place, for which such justices shall be then acting, 6 G. 4. c. 40. [See as to applying to the commissioners for issuing exchequer bills for public works for these purposes, 4 G. 4. c. 63. ante, pl. 18.]

143. Whereas by 4 G. 4. c. 64. [ss. 54, 55. ante, pl. 84, 85.] justices of the peace in quarter sessions assembled have in certain cases authority from time to time to borrow and take up, on mortgage of the rate of the county or riding, or of the division of the county, or of the district, city, town, or place for which such quarter sessions are holden, such sum or sums of money as to the said justices shall appear necessary and expedient for carrying into effect the provisions of the said recited act, as far as regards the building or rebuilding, repairing or enlarging the gaol, or the house or houses of correction of the said county, riding, division, district, city, town, or place, in sums not less than fifty pounds, nor exceeding one hundred pounds each, [but see s. 5. of this act, infra, pl. 147.] and to charge the said rate with the interest of the money so borrowed, and with the payment of such further sum as shall ensure the payment of the whole of the sum so borrowed, within fourteen years from the time of borrowing the same: and whereas by 5 G. 4. c. 85. [s. 20. ante, pl. 86.] justices of the peace in quarter sessions assembled are, for the purpose of facilitating the reduction of the rate of interest, in like manner empowered, in the cases therein mentioned, to borrow on mortgage of the said rate any sum or sums of money, not exceeding in the whole the principal sum of money that may then be outstanding on the securities theretofore granted under the provisions of the said recited act, and therewith to discharge the whole or any part of the money for which such securities shall have been given: and whereas by 48 G. 3. c. 96., intituled, An Act for the better care and maintenance of lunatics, being paupers or criminals, in Eng., justices of the peace in quarter sessions assembled have authority, in manner set forth in the said act, [viz. ss. 8, 9. Dig. tit. IDIOT AND LUNATIC, pl. 71, 72.] to borrow and to take up, on mortgage of the county rate, such sums as to them or the major part of them shall appear to be necessary and expedient for the purpose of carrying into effect the provisions of the said recited act: and whereas it may be expedient for the purpose of facilitating the reduction of the rate of interest on money borrowed in like manner, but under the provisions of any act or acts other than the said recited acts or either of them, that the justices of the peace should have power to borrow on mortgage of the said rate any sum or sums of money not exceeding in the whole the principal sum of money that may then be outstanding, on any securities so granted under any such act or acts other than the said recited acts or either of them, and therewith to discharge the whole or any part of the money for which such last-mentioned securities shall have been given: and whereas it may enable justices of the peace, when at any time hereafter they shall treat with any person or persons for the loan of any sum or sums of money to be secured as directed by the said recited acts or either of them, or by any other such act or acts as aforesaid, to contract for such loan or loans upon terms more advantageous to the county, riding, division, district, city, town, or place for which such justices shall be then acting, than at present are likely to be obtained, if such justices have power so as aforesaid to borrow any such sum or sums of money, and therewith to discharge the security or securities held by any person or persons who shall be desirous that such security or securities so held, by him, her, or them, shall be in whole or in part paid off and discharged; it is enacted, That whenever it shall appear to the justices of the peace, assembled at any general or quarter sessions to be holden for any county, riding, division, district, city, town, or place, for which any debt or debts shall have been contracted under the provisions of 4 G. 4. c. 64. and 5 G. 4. c. 85., or of either of them, or of 48 G. 3. c. 96., or of any other act or acts, and which debt or debts shall be then remaining due in whole or in part, that advantage or convenience may arise to such county, riding, division, or place, from paying off the same, or any part thereof, and that whenever any person or persons holding any such security or securities shall wish and desire that the security or securities so held by him, her, or them, shall be paid off and discharged, it shall be lawful for the justices so assembled, if they shall think fit, to borrow on mortgage of the rate of the county, riding, division, district, city, town, or place for which such general or quarter sessions shall be holden, by instrument in the form directed by 4 G. 4. c. 64. [viz. Sch. (C.)], any sum or sums of money not exceeding in the whole the principal sum of money that may then be outstanding on the securities thereto granted, and therewith to pay off and discharge the whole or any part of the money for which such securities shall have been given: provided always, that it shall not be lawful to apply any portion of the money to be borrowed under the provisions of this act, for any purpose other than the payment and discharge of the whole or part of the principal sum then due, on the securities granted as aforesaid: provided also, that the money so to be borrowed, shall be borrowed on such terms and under such conditions as shall in no way interfere with or prevent the full payment and discharge of the money borrowed under the provisions of this act, or of any other act or acts, within fourteen years from the time or times that the security or securities so to be paid off and discharged with the money borrowed under the provisions of this act shall have been so granted as aforesaid; and so that the rate to be raised in such county, &c. shall within fourteen years from the time when the money was originally borrowed, be discharged and released from all securities which shall have been given for the due discharge of such debt, 6 G. 4. c. 40. s. 1.

144. Whenever the justices assembled as aforesaid shall have determined that the whole or any part of the principal sum so outstanding as aforesaid shall be paid off and discharged, they are hereby required to direct that the clerk of the peace shall give notice of such their determination to the person or persons holding such security or securities, as the said justices shall have so determined to be paid off and discharged; and whenever any person or persons shall wish and desire that the security or securities so held by him, her, or them, shall be paid off and discharged, such person or persons shall give to the justices so assembled as aforesaid notice in writing of such his, her, or their wish and desire: provided always, that no such security or securities shall be so paid off and discharged until after the expiration of six months from the day on which such notice or notices shall have been so given, 6 G. 4. c. 40. s. 2.

145. The delivery of such notice of the clerk of the peace at the house or houses, or at the usual place or places of residence of the person or persons holding such security or securities as shall have been determined as aforesaid to be paid off and discharged, shall be taken and deemed to be a good and sufficient service of such notice, 6 G. 4. c. 40. s. 3.

146. All interest payable on any security ordered to be paid off and discharged, shall cease on the day specified in such notice, as being the day on which such security is to be paid off and discharged; provided, that every person upon whom such notice shall have been so served as aforesaid, and every person whose security shall in conformity to his or her wish, notified as aforesaid, have been ordered to be paid off, shall be entitled, upon application made at any time after the expiration of the said six months to the treasurer of the county, by self or attorney, to receive the principal sum for which such security shall have been granted, together with all interest due thereon, 6 G. 4. c. 40. s. 4.

147. Whereas inconvenience and unnecessary expence is occasioned by justices of the peace not being authorized to borrow and take up, on mortgage of the rate of the county or riding, or of any division of the county, or of the district, city, town, or place, such sum or sums as may be required for carrying into effect the provisions of 4 G. 4. c. 64., and 5 G. 4. c. 85., in sums exceeding one hundred pounds each; it is enacted, That so much of the said recited acts as directs that such sum or sums of money so to be borrowed and taken up shall be borrowed and taken up in sums not exceeding one hundred pounds each, be repealed, 6 G. 4. c. 40. s. 5.

5th George IV.*

CERTIFICATE.

‘Whereas by the act of parliament of the fifth George Fourth, cap. , prisoners discharged from prison may, upon application to the visiting justices of such prison, become entitled to certain allowances from the overseers of the poor of any place through which they may pass on their way to the places of their settlement, under authority of a route and certificate of two such visiting magistrates: and whereas — corresponding in appearance, and the account he [or she] gives of himself [or herself] to the description after mentioned, has come before us, two of the visiting justices of the county gaol [or house of correction] at — and is deemed by us to be a fit object to receive the regulated allowances under the said act; this is to certify the same, and to require the overseers of the poor of the places mentioned in the route, to issue to the said discharged prisoner the allowance specified in the said route, as required by the said act of parliament: provided that the discharged prisoner produces the said route himself [or herself] and that the description corresponds with his [or her] appearance, and agrees with the account he [or she] gives of himself [or herself] and the number of children he [or she] has with him [or her]. Given under our hands and seals, this — day of —

{ Seal and Signature of the Magistrate.

This pass to be in force for — days from the date hereof.

N.B.—To prevent frauds, all parish officers are not to give the allowances granted by the aforesaid act under the authority of any other form of pass than this, which is prescribed in the schedule of the act of parliament aforesaid.

Directions for filling up these Passes:

The magistrate is to fill up the description, and to insert in the column marked A. the names of the places through which the discharged prisoner is to travel; and in the column marked B. (in words) the allowance per mile which he (or she) is to receive; and also to write the number of children in words, in the proper column in the third page; and when there are no children, to strike out that part of the form. In case of any mistake the magistrate should make the necessary alteration with a pen, and write his name opposite thereto.

The overseer of the poor will insert in the column marked C. the distance of the place to which he advances the allowance; in that marked D. the sum he gives the discharged prisoner; and in that marked E. will sign his own name, specifying the parish for which he acts. He is also to take before a magistrate any person that presents a pass in which there are alterations other than with the pen, as above directed.

Description of the discharged Prisoner.

[illegible]

Memorandum for the Guidance of the Overseers of the Poor, Treasurers of Counties, and Keepers of Prisons.

Each overseer is to take a receipt from the discharged prisoner, signed with his (or her) name or mark, and he is to be reimbursed the money paid, by the treasurer of the county in which he serves the office of overseer, on giving him a receipt for the same, together with the discharged prisoner's receipt. The overseer who makes the last advance to carry the discharged prisoner to his place of residence, is to send the certificate, route, and pass, to the keeper of the prison from which the prisoner was discharged; and the said keeper shall make and sign a declaration in the form herein next after annexed; which said declaration shall be attested by one visiting justice of the said prison.

Declaration of the Keeper of the Prison.

I — keeper of the county gaol [or keeper of the house of correction or prison] at — in the county of — do declare that this pass hath come to me without cover [or in a cover open at the sides], and without any paper or thing inclosed therein, and without any writing other than the matter of such pass, and than the superscription upon the same or upon the cover thereof.

(Signed) A.B.

I — one of the visiting justices of the said prison do attest, that after due examination I do believe the aforesaid declaration to be true. Dated this — day of —.

HIDES AND SKINS.

(STATUTES repealed.)

1. To repeal so much of an act passed in the 2d year of King James the First [viz. 1 Ja. 1. c. 22.] as prohibits the use of horse hides in making boots and shoes, and for better preventing the damaging of raw hides and skins in the flaying thereof, 39 & 40 G. 3. c. 66., EXPLAINED and AMENDED 46 G. 3. (U. K.) c. 53., both acts EXTENDED and AMENDED 43 G. 3. c. cvi., which last was repealed 48 G. 3. c. lxxi. [Stat. Dig. this title, pl. 8-36.]; all these acts REPEALED, except so far as they repeal other acts, 5 G. 4. c. 57.

(STATUTE in force.)

2. Recital of 48 G. 3. c. 60. s. 7. [Stat. Dig. tit. LEATHER, &c. pl. 32.] and that the penalty thereby imposed was insufficient, it is therefore enacted, That from and after 5th July 1812, if any person using or carrying on the trade or business of tanning of leather by himself or by any other person, shall by himself or by any other person, during the time that he shall so use or carry on the trade or business of tanning, use, exercise, or in any manner carry on the trade or business of a shoemaker, currier, leather-cutter, or other artificer, exercising the cutting or working of leather, the person so offending shall, over and besides the said recited penalty, by the said act imposed, forfeit and lose the further sum of 100*l.*, to be sued for, recovered, levied and mitigated as any fine, penalty or forfeiture, is or may be sued for, recovered, levied or mitigated, by any law of excise, or by action of debt, bill, plaint, or information, in any of H. M.'s courts of record at Westminster, or in the court of exchequer at Edinburgh, and that one moiety thereof shall be to H. M., and the other moiety to him who shall inform, discover, or sue for the same, 52 G. 3. c. 94. s. 7.

3. To repeal the additional duties and drawbacks on leather, granted and allowed by 52 G. 3. c. 94. and 56 G. 3. c. 110., and to grant other duties in lieu thereof, and to secure the duties on leather, 3 G. 4. c. 83.

4. The duties granted by 52 G. 3. c. 94. Sch. (A.) on hides and skins, and the drawbacks on hides and skins granted by 56 G. 3. c. 110. s. 2. repealed, and new drawbacks given, 3 G. 4. c. 83. ss. 1, 2, 3.

5. Drawbacks to be paid and allowed as drawbacks hereby repealed were; and former excise regulations for the due allowance of the same in force, 3 G. 4. c. 83. s. 4.

6. If any tanner, tawer, or dresser of hides and skins in oil, or maker of vellum or parchment, shall remove or conceal any hide or skin, or part or piece of any hide or skin, or any vellum or parchment, with intent to evade the duty of excise chargeable thereon, he shall forfeit 200*l.*, to be sued for, mitigated, recovered, applied, and accounted for as other excise penalties may be, 3 G. 4. c. 83. s. 5.

7. Before any hides or skins, or pieces of hides or skins, or any vellum or parchment, shall be weighed or counted by any officer of excise and charged with duty, or stamped or marked to denote such charge, the

tanner, tawer, or dresser of hides &c. in oil, desirous to have the same charged, &c. shall give notice in writing to the proper officer, specifying the day and hour on which, and the number of hides and skins, parts or pieces of hides or skins, and skins or pieces of vellum or parchment, which he shall desire to be weighed or counted, and charged with, and stamped or marked to denote the charge of duty, and shall deliver every such notice to the proper officer, 24 hours at the least, if the entered premises of such trader where such goods are to be charged are within a market town, and 48 hours at the least if without a market town, before the hour for weighing or counting, and shall, before such weighing or counting shall be begun, place and produce all the hides and skins, parts and pieces of hides and skins, vellum and parchment, specified in such notice to be weighed or counted, and charged with duty, and stamped or marked as aforesaid, in an entered room by themselves, and in which no other hides or skins, or parts or pieces of hides or skins, vellum or parchment, shall then be, and shall from that time continue all such hides, &c. alone in such room, for the space of 24 hours next after the same shall have been charged with duty, or stamped or marked as aforesaid, unless the same shall have been weighed or counted, or be sooner re-weighed or re-counted by a surveyor or supervisor, and shall not, during the time aforesaid, conceal, or remove any such hide or skin, or any such part or piece of any hide or skin, or any such vellum or parchment so weighed or counted, and charged with duty, or stamped or marked, out of such room, or bring into such room any other hide or skin, or part or piece of any other hide or skin, or any other vellum or parchment, upon pain of forfeiting 200*l.*, to be sued for, mitigated, recovered, applied, and accounted for as any other penalty under any law of excise may be, 3 G. 4. c. 83. s. 6.

8. And it shall not be lawful for any currier or other person, not being an entered tanner, to use sumack in currying of any hide or skin, or in the preparation or dressing of any leather, except only for the purpose of colouring leather for making boot-tops or saddles, upon pain of forfeiting 100*l.*, to be recovered as any other penalty under any law of excise may be, together with the forfeiture of all such sumack, hides, skins, and leather, which may be seized by any officer of excise, 3 G. 4. c. 83. s. 7. [See a nearly similar clause, 56 G. 3. c. 110. s. 5. Stat. Dig. tit. LEATHER, &c. pl. 31.]

HOPS.

To prevent the malicious cutting of hop-binds, 6 G. 2. c. 37. s. 6. [Stat. Dig. this tit. pl. 4, 5.], REP. and new punishment awarded, 4 G. 4. c. 46. s. 1. see post, OFFENCE, &c.

HUE AND CRY.

For the following of hue and cry, 27 El. c. 13. [Stat. Dig. this tit. pl. 11.] AMD. 3 G. 2. c. 33. see post, MALICIOUS MISCHIEF.

IDIOT AND LUNATIC.

1. To amend several acts passed for the better care and maintenance of lunatics, being paupers or criminals, in Eng., 5 G. 4. c. 71.

2. Whereas 48 G. 3. c. 96. was passed, intituled, An Act for the better care and maintenance of lunatics, being paupers or criminals, in Eng.: and whereas 51 G. 3. c. 79. was passed, intituled, An Act to amend an act of the 48th year of His present Majesty, for the better care and maintenance of lunatics, being paupers or criminals, in Eng.: and whereas 55 G. 3. c. 46. was passed, intituled, An Act to amend an act passed in the 48th year of the reign of His present Majesty, intituled, 'An Act for the better care and maintenance of lunatics, being paupers or criminals, in Eng.' [See all these acts, Stat. Dig. this title, pl. 59.]: and whereas 56 G. 3. c. 117. [Stat. Dig. this title, pl. 50.] was passed, intituled, An Act to amend an act passed in the 39th and 40th year of the reign of His present Majesty, for the safe custody of insane persons charged with offences: and whereas 59 G. 3. c. 127. [Stat. Dig. this title, pl. 107.] was passed, intituled, An Act for making provision for the better care of pauper lunatics in Eng.: and whereas it is expedient that the said acts should be amended; be it enacted, That no order or determination to be made at any meeting of the visiting justices which shall be held under or by virtue of the said recited acts, or any of them, or this act, shall be made or entered into, unless the major part of the justices present at such meeting shall concur therein, nor unless due notice of such meeting shall have been previously given, according to the provision of the said recited acts, or according to the rules and regulations made by the visiting justices; and that all acts, orders, and proceedings, which by the said recited acts or any of them, or by this act, are directed to be had, made, done, or exercised by or before the said visiting justices, and all the powers and authorities by such acts or any of them, or by this act, vested in them generally, shall and may be had, made, done, and exercised by the major part of such justices present at the respective meetings to be held by virtue of the said recited acts and this act, the whole number present not being less than three; and all acts, orders, and proceedings, had, made, done, or exercised by or before such three visiting justices, shall have the same force and effect, and be binding and conclusive on all parties, to all intents and purposes whatever, and as fully and effectually as if the same were had, made, done, or exercised by or before the major part of all the said visiting justices so appointed, 5 G. 4. c. 71. s. 1.

3. And whereas doubts may arise in cases where two counties may have united, or in cases where the justices of the peace of any county may have united with the subscribers to any institution for the care of lunatics, established by voluntary contribution, for the purpose of erecting a lunatic asylum, whether the number of visiting justices or visitors of such asylum can from time to time be increased; be it further enacted, That it shall be lawful for the number of visiting justices, or visitors of such asylum, to be increased from time to time, notwithstanding the terms of any original agreement between such counties, or between such justices of any county and the subscribers to any such institution, due regard being always had in making such augmentation to the proportion originally established between such visiting justices or visitors as aforesaid; and any such additional number of visiting justices or visitors as may be agreed on shall be appointed in the same manner, and by the same authorities, as vacancies in the number of such visiting justices or visitors may be supplied by any law now in force, 5 G. 4. c. 71. s. 2.

4. In any case in which a lunatic or dangerous idiot, whose settlement, by reason of the lunacy of such person, cannot be ascertained, shall be by the order of two justices confined in any lunatic asylum, it shall be lawful for any two justices acting in and for the county in which such asylum shall be situated, at any time to examine into the legal settlement of such lunatic or dangerous idiot; and if satisfactory evidence can be obtained as to such settlement, it shall be lawful for such justices to adjudge the last legal settlement of such lunatic to be in such parish or place as may on such evidence appear to him to be the place of such legal settlement; and forthwith to make an order on the overseers of the poor of such parish or place to pay such weekly sum to the treasurer of such asylum as shall have been fixed by the visiting justices as a fit rate for the maintenance, medicine, clothing, and care of lunatics confined in such asylum, 5 G. 4. c. 71. s. 3.

5. Provided, that if the overseers of the poor of any parish or place shall feel themselves aggrieved by any such order as aforesaid, it shall be lawful for them to appeal, at the next general quarter sessions of the peace for the county in which such lunatic asylum shall be situated; and the justices at such sessions shall hear and determine the matter of such appeal, as in cases of appeals against orders of removal, and award such costs to either party as to them shall seem just and reasonable; and in case the settlement of any lunatic respecting whom such order shall have been made, shall be then and there determined not to be in the parish or place on whom such order shall have been made, then such costs shall be paid by the treasurer of the county or united counties at whose expence such lunatic asylum shall have been erected, 5 G. 4. c. 71. s. 4.

6. And whereas it is by the said recited acts enacted, that the visiting justices shall from time to time fix a certain weekly rate to be paid for each person confined in every such asylum as is authorized by the said recited acts to be established, which rate may be sufficient to defray the whole expence of the maintenance and care, medicines and clothing requisite for such person, and the salaries of the officers and attendants: and whereas it is by the 48 G. 3. c. 96. ss. 17. 24., and 55 G. 3. c. 46. s. 7. [Stat. Dig. this title, pl. 80. 89. 90.] enacted, That the justices acting for the division of the county where such parish for which any pauper lunatic has been directed and conveyed to such lunatic asylum shall be situated, shall from time to time make order on the overseers of such parish, for the payment of all reasonable charges of conveying such poor person to such asylum, and for the weekly payment to the treasurer thereof of such sums as the visiting justices of such asylum shall have fixed: and whereas it is expedient that better provision should be made for the recovery of such sums; be it therefore further enacted, That if the overseers for the time being of such parish, upon whom such order shall be made, shall for the space of 20 days after due notice of such order refuse or neglect to pay the sums so ordered to be paid, the same shall be recovered by distress and sale of the goods of such overseers so refusing or neglecting, or of any of them, by warrant under the hands and seals of any two justices of any such respective counties, 5 G. 4. c. 71. s. 5.

7. All provisions, directions, clauses, matters, and things whatever, in this act or any of the said recited acts contained, relating to counties, shall extend and be construed to extend to all ridings, divisions, cities, towns, liberties, and places possessing separate jurisdictions; and if relating to parishes, shall extend to all villages, townships, and places maintaining their own poor, as fully and amply as if they were severally and respectively repeated in every such provision, direction, and clause, and with relation to any such matter or thing, 5 G. 4. c. 71. s. 6.

8. For limiting the time within which inquisitions of lunacy, idiotcy, and non compos mentis, may be traversed, and for making other regulations in the proceedings pending a traverse, 6 G. 4. c. 53.

9. Whereas by 2 & 3 Ed. 6. c. 8. s. 6. [Stat. Dig. tit. ESCHEAT, &c. pl. 25.] it was enacted, that if any person should be untruly founden lunatic, idiot, or dead, every person and persons grieved by any such office or inquisition, should and might have his or their traverse to the same immediately, or after, at his or their pleasure, and proceed to trial therein, and have like remedy and advantage as in other cases of traverse upon untrue inquisitions or offices founden: and whereas great inconvenience hath arisen from there being no time limited within which inquisitions or offices finding persons lunatic, idiot, or of unsound mind, must be traversed; and it is expedient that some time should be limited for that purpose: and whereas the care and commitment of the custody of the persons and estates of persons found lunatic, idiot, or of unsound mind, have been usually entrusted, by virtue of the King's sign manual, to the lord chancellor, lord keeper, or lords commissioners for the custody of the great seal of the U. K. and of Ire. respectively; be it therefore enacted, That where any inquisition has, before the passing of this act [22d June 1825], been returned into the high court of chancery, by which any person hath been found lunatic, idiot, or of unsound mind, it shall be lawful for any person desiring to traverse such inquisition, or for any person desiring to oppose such traverse, to present a petition to the lord chancellor, lord keeper, or lords commissioners of the great seal of the U. K. and of Ire. respectively, or other person or persons entrusted as aforesaid, by virtue of the King's sign manual, before the end of Michaelmas term next after the passing of this act, praying that such traverse may be proceeded in and brought to trial; and where any person shall be desirous of traversing any such inquisition as aforesaid, which shall be returned into the said court of chancery after the passing of this act, a petition for that purpose shall be presented to the lord chancellor, lord keeper, or lords commissioners, or other the person or persons entrusted as aforesaid, within three calendar months, to be computed from the day of the return of such inquisition; and the said lord chancellor, &c. is or are hereby directed and required to hear and determine such petition; and shall, in every order to be made upon any such petition as aforesaid, limit a time, not exceeding six calendar months from the date of such order, within which the person desiring to traverse as aforesaid, and all other proper parties, are to proceed to trial of the traverse to which such petition shall relate; and it shall also be lawful for the said lord chancellor, &c. in the case of every such traverse as aforesaid, upon the petition of any such person as aforesaid, to make an order that the person desiring to traverse as aforesaid, not being the party who has upon such inquisition been found lunatic, idiot, or of unsound mind, shall, within three weeks after the date of such order, give sufficient security to one of the masters in ordinary of the said court of chancery, and to the satisfaction of the same master, for all proper parties proceeding to the trial of such traverse as aforesaid, within the time to be for that purpose limited as aforesaid, 6 G. 4. c. 53. s. 1.

10. Every person having or who shall hereafter have right to traverse any such inquisition as aforesaid, who shall not present his or her petition for that purpose to the lord chancellor, &c. within the time herein-before limited, and applicable to his or her case, or who shall refuse or neglect to give such security as aforesaid, or who shall not proceed to the trial of such traverse within such time as shall be in that behalf limited or directed as aforesaid, and the heirs, executors, and administrators of every such person, and all others claiming or to claim by, through, or under him or her, shall be and are hereby absolutely barred of such right of traverse, unless the lord chancellor, &c. shall under the special circumstances of any particular case think fit, upon a petition being presented to him or them for that purpose, to allow such traverse to be had or tried after the time by this act limited; in all which special cases it shall be lawful for the said lord chancellor, &c. to make such orders as to him or them shall seem just, 6 G. 4. c. 53. s. 2.

11. Provided, That it shall be lawful for the said lord chancellor, &c. if he or they shall be dissatisfied with any verdict to be returned upon any such traverse as aforesaid, to order one or more new trial or trials thereon, as to him or them shall seem meet, and as is usual in cases of issues directed by the court of chancery, 6 G. 4. c. 53. s. 3.

12. Provided also, that it shall be lawful for the lord chancellor, &c. from time to time after the return of any such inquisition as aforesaid, and notwithstanding any petition or order which may be depending relating to a traverse of such inquisition, to make such orders relative to the custody and commitment of the person, and the commitment, management and application of the estates and effects of any person who shall or may have been found lunatic, idiot, or of unsound mind, by any such inquisition or inquisitions, as he shall think necessary or proper; and all acts, matters, and things which shall have been done by any person or persons appointed committee or committees of the persons or estates of such persons found or to be found lunatic, idiot, or of unsound mind as aforesaid, or by any other person or persons, shall be and are hereby declared to be as valid and effectual; and such committees and other persons respectively, their heirs, executors, and administrators, are hereby indemnified in respect of such acts, matters and things, from and against all actions, suits and proceedings, damages, costs, charges and expences, to be brought, commenced, had or recovered by the person so found lunatic, idiot, or of unsound mind, his heirs, executors, or administrators, or any other person whomsoever, as fully and effectually as if such inquisition had not been traversable, but no further or otherwise, 6 G. 4. c. 53. s. 4. [As to the transfer of estates, stocks, &c. by trustees, mortgagees of lunatics, &c. see 6 G. 4. c. 74. tit. Courts (Chancery).]

INDEMNITY.

1. To indemnify such persons in the U. K. as have omitted to qualify themselves for offices and employments, and for extending the time limited for those purposes respectively, 6 G. 4. c. 3.

2. Whereas divers persons, who, on account of their offices, places, employments, or professions, or any other cause or occasion, ought to have taken and subscribed the oaths or assurance respectively appointed to be by such persons taken and subscribed in and by 1 G. 1. st. 2. c. 13., [Stat. Dig. tit. OATHS, pl. 66, 68, 70—87. SCOTLAND (Parliament), pl. 21.] intituled, An Act for the further security of H. M.'s person and government, and the succession of the crown in the heirs of the late princess Sophia, being protestants; and for extinguishing the hopes of the pretended prince of Wales, and his open and secret abettors; or to have qualified themselves according to 15 C. 2. st. 2. c. 1. [Stat. Dig. tit. CORPORATIONS, pl. 8.], intituled, An Act for the well-governing and regulating of corporations; or according to 25 C. 2. c. 2., [Stat. Dig. tit. PAPIST, pl. 170—181.] intituled, An Act for preventing the dangers which may happen from popish recusants, by receiving the sacrament of the Lord's Supper, according to the usage of the church of Eng., and making and subscribing the declaration against transubstantiation therein mentioned; or according to 30 C. 2. st. 2., [Stat. Dig. tit. PARLIAMENT, pl. 66—74.] intituled, An Act for the more effectual preserving the King's person and government, by disabling papists from sitting in either house of parliament; or according to 8 G. 1. c. 6., [Stat. Dig. tit. QUAKER, pl. 2.] intituled, An Act for granting the people called quakers such forms of affirmation or declaration as may remove the difficulties which many of them lie under; or according to 9 G. 2. c. 26., [Stat. Dig. tit. OATHS, pl. 66, 68, 71—73, 88, 89.; PAPIST, pl. 166, 176.] intituled, An Act for indemnifying persons who have omitted to qualify themselves for offices within the time limited by law, and for allowing further time for that purpose; and for amending so much of an act passed in the second year of the reign of His present Majesty, as requires persons to qualify themselves for offices before the end of the next term or quarter sessions; and also for enlarging the time limited by law for making and subscribing the declaration against transubstantiation; and for allowing a further time for enrolment of deeds and wills made by papists; and for relief of protestant purchasers, devisees, and lessees; or according to 18 G. 2. c. 20., [Stat. Dig. tit. JUSTICES OF PEACE, pl. 28, 29, 32, 45.] intituled, An Act to amend and render more effectual an act passed in the fifth year of His present Majesty's reign, intituled, 'An Act for the further qualification of justices of the peace;' or according to 6 G. 3. c. 53. [Stat. Dig. tit. OATHS, pl. 66—69.] intituled, An Act for altering the oath of abjuration, and the assurance; and for amending so much of an act made in the seventh year of the reign of Her late Majesty queen Anne, intituled, 'An Act for the improvement of the union of the two kingdoms,' as, after the time therein limited, requires the delivery of certain lists and copies therein mentioned to persons indicted of high treason or misprision of treason; have, through ignorance of the law, absence, or some unavoidable accident, omitted to take and subscribe the oaths and assurance, and make and subscribe the declaration required by law, or otherwise to qualify themselves as aforesaid, within such time and in such manner as in and by the said acts respectively, or by any other act of parliament in that behalf made, is required, whereby they have incurred, or may be in danger of incurring, divers penalties and disabilities: for quieting the minds of H. M.'s subjects, and for preventing any inconvenience that might otherwise happen by means of such omissions, it is enacted, That all and every person or persons who, at or before the passing of this act [9th March 1825.] hath or shall have omitted to take and subscribe the oaths and declarations, or to receive the sacrament of the Lord's Supper, or otherwise to qualify him, her, or themselves, within such time and in such manner as in and by the said acts, or any of them, or by any other act of parliament in that behalf made, is required, and who, after accepting any such office, place, or employment, or undertaking any profession or thing on account of which such qualifications ought to have been had, and is required, before the passing of this act, hath or have taken and subscribed the said oaths, or made the declarations required by law, and also received the sacrament of the Lord's Supper according to the usage of the church of Eng.; or who, on or before the 25th March 1826, shall take and subscribe the oaths, declarations, and assurance respectively, in such cases wherein by law the said oaths declarations, and assurance ought to have been taken and subscribed, in such manner and form, and at or in such place or places, as are appointed in and by 1 G. 1. st. 2. c. 13., or by any other act or acts in that behalf made and provided; and also hath or have received, or shall, on or before the 25th March 1826, receive the sacrament of the Lord's Supper, according to the usage of the church of Eng., in such cases wherein the said sacrament ought to have been received, and hath or ought to have made and subscribed, or shall, on or before the said 25th March 1826, make and subscribe the said declaration against transubstantiation; and also hath or have made and subscribed, or shall, on or before that day make and subscribe the said declaration in the said statute made in 30 C. 2. st. 2., in such cases wherein the said declaration ought to have been made and subscribed, or to take and subscribe the oath directed by 18 G. 2. c. 20., in such cases wherein the said oath ought to have been taken and subscribed, in such manner as by the said act is directed, shall be and are hereby indemnified, and discharged from and against all penalties and disabilities, incurred or to be incurred for or by reason of any omission, previous to passing this act [9th March 1825], of taking or subscribing the said oaths or assurance, or receiving the sacrament, or making or subscribing the said declaration, or taking or subscribing the said oath, according to the above acts or any of them, or any other act or acts; and such person or persons shall be fully and actually recapacitated and restored to the same state as he, she, or they were in before such omission, and shall be deemed to have duly qualified him, her, or themselves according to the above-mentioned acts and every of them; and all elections of, and acts done or to be done by any such person or persons, or by authority derived from him, her, or them, shall be of the same force and validity as the same or any of them would have been if such person or persons respectively had taken the said oaths or assurance, and received the sacrament of the Lord's Supper, and made and subscribed the said declarations, and taken and subscribed the said oath according to the directions of the said acts and every or any of them; and that the qualification of such person or persons qualifying themselves in manner and within the time appointed by this act, shall be to all intents and purposes as effectual as if such person or persons had respectively taken the said oaths and assurance, and received the sacrament, and made and subscribed the said declaration, and taken and subscribed the said oath, within the time and in the manner appointed by the several acts before mentioned, 6 G. 4. c. 3. s. 1.

3. And whereas several persons well affected to H. M.'s government, and to the united church of Eng. and Ire., have, through ignorance of the law, neglected, or been, by sickness or other unavoidable causes, prevented from taking and subscribing the declaration, and from receiving the sacrament of the Lord's Supper, and delivering a certificate thereof, according to the directions of the act 2 Ann. (Ir.), intituled, An Act to prevent the further growth of popery; it is enacted, That all persons who have incurred any penalty or incapacity in the said recited act mentioned, by neglecting to qualify themselves according to the said act, shall be and are hereby indemnified, freed, and discharged from all incapacities, disabilities, penalties, and forfeitures incurred by reason of such omission or neglect as aforesaid; and that no act done by any of them, not yet avoided, shall be questioned or avoided by reason of such omission or neglect, but that all such acts shall be and are hereby declared to be as good and effectual, as if such persons respectively had taken and subscribed the said oath, and received the said sacrament, and delivered the certificate thereof, and made and repeated and subscribed the said declaration, at such time, place, and manner as in the said act is mentioned; any thing in the said act to the contrary notwithstanding: provided always, that such person or persons do and shall take and subscribe the said oaths, and make, repeat, and subscribe the said declaration, in such manner and form, and in such place or places respectively, as are directed and appointed by the said last recited act, on or before the 25th March 1826, 6 G. 4. c. 3. s. 2.

4. And whereas several persons have inadvertently, and without any corrupt or interested motives, acted as trustees in the execution of divers acts of parliament for the making or repairing of divers turnpike roads in Eng. without being possessed of the qualifications required respectively by the several acts of parliament under which such persons were appointed or elected to be trustees, and without having taken and subscribed the oaths or affirmations of their qualifications required by such acts respectively; it is enacted, That all persons who have incurred any penalty or incapacity mentioned in or inflicted by any act or acts for the making or repairing of any turnpike road or roads in Eng., by acting as trustees in the execution of any such act or acts without being possessed of the qualifications required by any such act or acts respectively, or by neglecting to take and subscribe any oath or affirmation required to qualify them as such trustees, according to any such act or acts respectively, are hereby indemnified and discharged from all incapacities, disabilities, penalties, and forfeitures, incurred by reason of such acting, or of such omission or neglect as aforesaid; and no act, matter, or thing, done by any of them in the execution of any such act or acts, and not yet avoided, shall be questioned or avoided by reason of such acting or of such omission or neglect as aforesaid, but that all such acts, matters, and things, shall be and are hereby declared to be as good and effectual, to all intents and purposes whatsoever, as if such persons respectively had been duly qualified to act as such trustees, and had taken and subscribed such oaths or affirmations at such place and in such manner as is required respectively by the several acts under which such persons shall have acted as trustees as aforesaid; any thing in the said acts, or any of them, to the contrary thereof in anywise notwithstanding: provided always, that such person or persons do and shall take and subscribe the oaths or affirmations of qualification required by the respective act or acts under which such person or persons shall act as a trustee or trustees, in such manner and form, and in such place or places respectively, as are directed and appointed by the said acts respectively, before any such person or persons shall act as such trustee or trustees at any time after the expiration of two calendar months next after the passing of this act, 6 G. 4. c. 3. s. 3.

5. This act shall not extend to indemnify any person against whom final judgment shall have been given in any action of debt, bill, plaint, or information in any of H. M.'s courts of record, for any penalty incurred by having neglected to qualify himself within the time limited by law, 3 G. 4. c. 3. s. 4.

6. Nothing in this act shall exempt any justice of peace within G. B. from the penalties to which he is subject for acting as such without being possessed of the qualification required by the laws now in force, 6 G. 4. c. 3. s. 5.

7. And whereas the appointment of divers clerks of the peace, town-clerks, and other public officers, and the admission of divers members and officers of cities, corporations, and borough towns in G. B. and Ire., or the entries of such admissions in the court books, rolls, or records of such cities, corporations, and borough towns, which by several acts of parliament are directed and required to be stamped, may not have been provided, or the same not stamped, or may have been lost or mislaid; it is enacted, That for the relief of such persons whose appointments and admissions, or the entries of whose admissions as aforesaid, may not have been provided, or not duly stamped, or where the same have been lost or mislaid, it shall and may be lawful to and for such persons in G. B. or Ire., on or before the 25th March 1826, to provide appointments and admissions, or entries of admissions as aforesaid, duly stamped; or in case where such appointments, &c. as aforesaid, have been made or provided, but have not been duly stamped, to produce such appointments, &c. to the commissioners of stamps to be duly stamped; which such commissioners are hereby authorized and required to duly stamp, on payment of the duties first payable, or to have been paid on such appointments, admissions, or entries of admissions as aforesaid, without any fine or forfeiture thereon; and in order to denote the said duties, the said commissioners are hereby authorized to use such stamps as shall have been heretofore provided to denote any former duties on stamped vellum, parchment, and paper, or to cause new stamps to be provided for that purpose, and to do all other things necessary for putting this act in execution, in the like and in as full and ample manner as they or the major part of them are authorized to put in execution any former law concerning stamped vellum, &c.; and such persons so providing appointments, &c. as aforesaid, duly stamped, or procuring the same to be duly stamped, in manner aforesaid, are and shall be hereby confirmed and qualified to act as clerk of the peace, town-clerk, or other public officer, or member or members, officer or officers of such cities, corporations, and borough towns respectively, to all intents and purposes; and shall and may hold and enjoy and execute such offices, or any other office or offices into which he or they hath or have been elected, notwithstanding his or their omission, or the omission of any of their predecessors, in such cities, &c. as aforesaid; and shall be indemnified and discharged of and from all incapacities, penalties, and damages by reason of any such omission; and none of his or their acts shall be questioned or avoided by reason of the same, 6 G. 4. c. 3. s. 6.

8. This act shall not extend to restore or entitle any person to any office or employment, benefice, matter or thing soever, already actually avoided by judgment of any of H. M.'s courts of record, or already legally filled up and enjoyed by any other person, but such office, &c. so avoided, or legally filled up and enjoyed, shall remain to the person or persons who now, or at the passing of this act [9th March 1825], shall be legally entitled to the same, as if this act had never been made, 6 G. 4. c. 3. s. 7.

9. In case any action, suit, bill of indictment, or information, shall, after the passing of this act [9th March 1825], be brought, or prosecuted against any person hereby intended to be indemnified, recapacitated, or restored, on account of any forfeiture or disability soever, incurred or to be incurred by any such neglect or omission, such person may plead the general issue, and give this act and the special matter in evidence upon any trial to be had thereupon, 6 G. 4. c. 3. s. 8.

INDICTMENT AND INFORMATION.

1. To amend two acts for removing difficulties in the conviction of offenders stealing property in mines and from corporate bodies, 6 G. 4. c. 56.

2. Whereas 56 G. 3. c. 73. [Stat. Dig. tit. MINES, pl. 25, 26.] was passed, for removing difficulties in the conviction of offenders stealing property in mines: and whereas 1 G. 4. c. 102. [Stat. Dig. tit. INDICTMENT, pl. 10, 11.] was passed, for making general the provisions of the 56 G. 3. c. 73.: and whereas the enactments of the said acts have been found to facilitate the conviction of offenders, and to promote the due administration of justice, without depriving persons accused of any fair or just means of defence; but such acts have been found not to extend to other cases within the same principle, and in which it is fit and expedient that a similar remedy should be applied: it is therefore enacted, That from and after the passing of this act [22d June 1825], the provisions of the said acts, with respect to offenders charged as in the said acts is mentioned, shall be deemed and taken to extend to all cases of offenders charged in any indictment with forgery, or obtaining money by false tokens or pretences, and that in such indictments it shall be sufficient to allege and aver that the act was done with intent to defraud any one or more of any partners, co-adventurers, trustees, commissioners, feoffees, governors, or directors, or any one by name of any body corporate, 6 G. 4. c. 56.

INSOLVENT DEBTORS.

1. To amend an act of the first year of His present Majesty, for the relief of insolvent debtors in Eng. 3 G. 4. c. 123.

2. Whereas 1 G. 4. c. 119. [Stat. Dig. this tit. pl. 22. et seq.] passed, intituled, An Act for the relief of insolvent debtors in Eng., to continue in force until the 1st June 1825.; and it is expedient to amend the same in the manner herein-after mentioned; be it therefore enacted and declared, That it shall and may be lawful for the provisional assignee of the court for relief of insolvent debtors, to take possession himself, or by means of a messenger of the said court, or other person or persons appointed by him, of all the real and personal estate and effects of every such prisoner as shall subscribe such petition, and execute such conveyance and assignment, as in the said recited act mentioned; and if the said court shall so order, to sell or otherwise dispose of such goods, chattels, and personal estate, or any part thereof, and if the court shall so order, of the real estate of such prisoner, according to the provisions of the said recited act, for the purposes of the said recited act, and out of the proceeds of such real or personal estate to defray, in the first place, all such costs and expences of taking possession of or seizing and selling the same, as shall be allowed by the said court, and account for the produce thereof to the said court; and all and every the real or personal estate, money and effects, vested in or possessed by such provisional assignee by virtue of the said recited act or this act, shall not remain in him, if he shall resign or be removed from his office, or in his heirs, executors, or administrators, in case of his death, but shall, in every such case, go to and be vested in his successor in office, 3 G. 4. c. 123. s. 1.

3. It shall be lawful for the provisional assignee to sue in his own name, if the said court shall so order, for the recovery, obtaining and enforcing of any estate, debts, effects, or rights of any such prisoner; and in case of the dismissal of the petition of any such prisoner praying for his discharge, which the said court is hereby empowered to dismiss, whenever it shall seem fit, all the acts done before such dismissal by the said provisional assignee, or other persons acting under his authority, according to the order of the said court, shall be good and valid, 3 G. 4. c. 123. s. 2.

4. And whereas it is enacted by the said recited act [1 G. 4. c. 119. s. 7. Stat. Dig. this tit. pl. 29.] that when the said court shall adjudge any prisoner to be entitled to his discharge, such court shall appoint a proper person or persons to be assignee or assignees of the estate and effects of such prisoner, for the purposes of the said recited act; it is hereby further declared and enacted, That it shall and may be lawful for the said court, as often as it shall see cause, for the better preserving and securing the property of any prisoner, to appoint at any time after the filing of such prisoner's petition, and before the said court shall adjudge him entitled to his discharge, as well as after such adjudication, one or more assignee or assignees of the estate and effects of such prisoner, for the purposes aforesaid; and when such last-mentioned assignee or assignees shall have signified to the said court his or their acceptance of the last-mentioned appointment, every such prisoner's estate, effects, rights, and powers, vested in such provisional assignee as aforesaid, shall immediately be assigned by such provisional assignee to such last-mentioned assignee or assignees, in trust, for the benefit of such last-mentioned assignee or assignees and the rest of the creditors of every such prisoner, in respect of or in proportion to their respective debts, according to the provisions of the said recited act; and the assignee or assignees of every such prisoner, at any time appointed, shall be and is and are hereby empowered to use and exercise all the powers, authorities, rights, and duties, and shall be subject to all the duties, liabilities, and punishments, given or ordained by this or the said recited act with respect to the provisional or other assignee or assignees of any prisoner; and in all cases after assignment by the provisional assignee, all the estate and effects of every such prisoner shall be, to all intents and purposes, as effectually and legally vested by relation in all and every such assignee or assignees, as if the first assignment had been made by such prisoner to him or them; but no act done under or by virtue of such first assignment shall be thereby rendered void or defeated, but shall remain as valid as if no such relation had taken place, 3 G. 4. c. 123. s. 3.

5. From and after the passing of this act [6th Aug. 1822], in all cases in which any assignee or assignees of any insolvent's estates shall wilfully retain in his or their hands, or otherwise employ for his or their own benefit, any sum or sums of money, part of the estates of such insolvent, the said court shall have full power and authority to order such assignee or assignees to be charged in his or their accounts with the estates of such insolvents with such sum or sums of money as shall be equal to the amount of interest computed at a rate not exceeding 20l. per cent. per annum, on all sums of money appearing to the said court to be so retained or employed by him or them, for the time or times during which he or they shall have so retained or employed the same; and the said court shall in pursuance of such order charge such assignee or assignees in their accounts with such sum or sums of money accordingly, 3 G. 4. c. 123. s. 4.

6. The said court or the justices acting under the authority of the said recited act, shall have the same power to examine into all debts in the prisoner's schedule, whether the same shall be therein stated to be admitted or disputed, or to be admitted in part and disputed in part, as is enacted by the said recited act as to the debts stated to be admitted therein; and shall also have power to inquire whether any of such debts have been improperly admitted or improperly disputed by the prisoner with any fraudulent intent, 3 G. 4. c. 123. s. 5.

7. In the adjudication of the said court, that any prisoner is entitled to the benefit of the said act, and the order thereon, it shall not be necessary to specify the several creditors and persons claiming to be creditors of such prisoner, as required by the said recited act, but it shall be sufficient, if the said court shall think fit, to refer in such order to the schedule of such prisoner as specifying such creditors, or persons claiming to be creditors of such prisoner, as to whom the said court shall adjudge the said prisoner to be entitled to the benefit and protection of the act, and to be discharged forthwith; and that in all cases where it shall appear to the said court that any prisoner shall have done or committed any act for which the said court is by the said recited act authorized to order that such prisoner shall not be discharged out of custody by virtue of the said recited act, or receive or be entitled to any protection, until he or she shall have been in custody at the suit of some one or more of the persons who were creditors at the time of petitioning the said court, or had since become creditors in respect of debts then growing due, and from whose claims he or she shall be discharged by the judgment of the said court, for a period or periods not exceeding three years in the whole, the said court may adjudicate thereon in the words of the said recited act, without naming any such one or more creditor or creditors in such adjudication; and thereupon the said insolvent shall under such adjudication be subject and liable to be detained in prison by his or her then detaining creditor or creditors, and to be arrested or charged in custody by any of the other creditors in his or her schedule, until he or she shall have been in custody for such period or periods in the whole as shall be specified in such adjudication, 3 G. 4. c. 123. s. 6.

8. Where it shall have been referred to an officer of the said court, or to any examiner appointed by justices of the peace, by virtue of the said recited act, to investigate the accounts of any prisoner, and to examine into the truth of the schedule of such prisoner, or the matters thereof, it shall be lawful for the said court, if it shall see cause, to order all the fees and expences thereof, paid by any creditor or creditors, to be repaid to him or them out of the first money received by the provisional or other assignee or assignees of such prisoner, from or by his estate or effects; and when it shall have been so referred to any officer or examiner, it shall be lawful for such officer or examiner to order the attendance of such prisoner, or of any prisoner who shall be a material or necessary witness in any matters so referred to such officer or examiner, as often as such officer or examiner shall think fit; and the prisoner mentioned in such order shall be accordingly carried before such officer or examiner, for which such order shall be a sufficient warrant; and the keeper of the prison or his deputy so carrying any prisoner before such officer or examiner, shall receive for the same the sum of ten shillings and no more, to be paid by the person or persons at whose requisition the said reference shall have been had, and such officer or examiner shall and may, under such reference, administer oaths, and accept the solemn affirmation of any person being a quaker, and examine all witnesses and parties upon their oaths or affirmations touching all matters relating thereto; and if any prisoner, or other person taking an oath, or making any such affirmation, under the provisions of this act, shall wilfully forswear and perjure himself or herself in any oath to be taken under this act, or shall make any wilful false affirmation, and shall be lawfully convicted thereof, he or she so offending shall suffer such punishment as by law may be inflicted on persons convicted of wilful and corrupt perjury: provided, that no keeper of any prison shall be required or compelled to carry any prisoner a greater distance than two miles from his prison, to or before such officer or examiner; except that the keepers of prisons in Middlesex or London, and of the prisons of the King's Bench and Marshalsea, and in Horsemonger Lane, and of and in the borough of Southwark in the county of Surrey, shall carry their prisoners before such officer at the office of the said court, or at such other place within the bills of mortality as the said court shall direct, 3 G. 4. c. 123. s. 7.

9. In all cases in which the said court shall order any prisoner to be discharged from custody so soon as such prisoner shall have been in custody during a certain period, or not to be discharged until he shall have been in custody during a certain period, according to the provisions and limitations in the said recited act, the said court may, if it shall see cause, order such prisoner to be confined during any such period within the walls of such prison, and not within any rules or liberties thereof, 3 G. 4. c. 123. s. 8.

10. It shall be lawful to the justices at their general or quarter or adjourned sessions, [to remand to prison any prisoner brought before them, who shall refuse to be sworn, or to answer upon oath all such questions as to the said justices shall appear relevant and proper, or for the purpose of amending his schedule, or for further examination or hearing, and to order him to be brought before them at the same or some subsequent general or quarter or adjourned sessions; and such order shall be a sufficient warrant to the keeper of the prison wherein he shall be in custody, to bring him before the same or such subsequent sessions, according to the direction thereof; and the said justices at session shall certify to the said court the said remand, with the cause thereof; and the said justices shall have such and the same powers of compelling the attendance of witnesses, and of requiring and compelling the production of books, papers, and writings, for the purposes of the said recited act or this act, as now are possessed by any of the superior courts at Westminster; and the clerk of the peace, who is hereby authorized to issue such subpoenas as may be requisite, and in each of which the names of not more than four persons shall be inserted, for each subpoena, shall receive from the person requiring the same the sum of two shillings and sixpence, and no more: provided, that nothing herein contained shall extend to the compelling of the attendance of any witness, unless the party on whose behalf such witness shall be required to attend, shall have previously tendered such allowance for expences for his attendance, as in the judgment of the said court or of the said justices, at the general or quarter or adjourned sessions, shall appear to be reasonable, 3 G. 4. c. 123. s. 9. [REP. as to so much as gives any power to justices in sessions, 5 G. 4. c. 61. s. 1. post, pl. 27.]

11. Where it shall appear to the satisfaction of the said court, that any prisoner in actual custody, or arrested within the counties of Middlesex or Surrey, or the city of London, had, at or immediately before such arrest, his usual place of abode in some other county or place, and had been arrested in the said counties of Middlesex or Surrey, or in the said city of London, it shall and may be lawful for the said court to receive affidavits of any creditor or creditors, or of any other person or persons not resident within the said counties of Middlesex and Surrey, or the city of London, in opposition to the discharge of such prisoner under the said recited act, and, if the said court shall think fit, to permit interrogatories to be filed, for the examination or cross-examination of any person making or joining in such affidavit, and also to stay the discharge of every such prisoner until such interrogatories shall be fully answered, to the satisfaction of the said court, or until the expiration of six weeks from the filing of such interrogatories, 3 G. 4. c. 123. s. 10.

12. No prisoner who shall have petitioned the said court for relief under and by virtue of the said recited act, shall be discharged out of custody as to any action, suit, or process in or by which he or she shall be charged or detained in custody, for any debt or damages which are or shall be admitted by such prisoner in his or her schedule filed in the said court under the said recited act, or which shall be disputed therein only as to the amount of such debt or damages, by or by virtue of any supersedeas, judgment of non-pros, or judgment as in the case of a non-suit, for want of the plaintiff or plaintiffs in such action, suit, or process proceeding therein, 3 G. 4. c. 123. s. 11.

13. And whereas by the provisions in the said act [1 G. 4. c. 119. ss. 4. 25. Stat. Dig. this tit. pl. 26, 47.] any prisoner petitioning for the benefit of the said act must execute a conveyance and assignment of all the estate, right, title, interest, and trust of such prisoner to all the real and personal estate and effects of such prisoner (except as therein excepted), so as to vest all such real and personal estate and effects in the provisional assignee of the said court, and the said court is empowered to order a judgment to be entered up against such prisoner in one of the superior courts at Westminster for the amount of the debts of such prisoner which shall at the time of such order remain due and unpaid, from which such prisoner shall be discharged by the said court; and such prisoner is required to execute a warrant of attorney to authorize the entering up such judgment: and whereas a married woman being a prisoner for debt cannot execute such conveyance or assignment, or such warrant of attorney for the purposes aforesaid, and therefore cannot petition for and obtain a discharge under the said act, without special provision being made for such purposes; be it therefore enacted, That if any married woman being a prisoner within the intent and meaning of the said act, shall petition to be discharged from any debt or debts under the provisions of the said act, it shall be lawful for the said court to receive such petition without requiring such married woman to execute such conveyance or assignment, or such warrant as aforesaid, according to the provisions of the said act; but instead thereof, that the said court shall require such married woman to execute a conveyance and assignment for vesting in such provisional assignee as aforesaid all property, real and personal, to which she may be entitled for her separate use, or over which she shall have any power of disposition, notwithstanding her coverture, or which shall be vested in any trustees or trustee or other persons or person for her benefit, and to deliver up all personal estate and effects of which she shall have the actual possession, except her wearing apparel, bedding, and other such necessities, not exceeding in the whole the sum of 20*l.*, and also all other real and personal estate and effects to which she shall be entitled in any manner whatsoever, in possession, remainder, or reversion, subject only to such right, title, or interest as her husband may have therein; all which acts she is hereby empowered to do without her husband, notwithstanding her coverture, so nevertheless as not to prejudice any rights of her husband in such real and personal estate and effects respectively; and all such estate and effects, real and personal, in possession, reversion, or remainder, shall by such conveyance and assignment so to be executed under the order of the said court, be as effectually vested in such provisional assignee as aforesaid, as the same might have been vested in such assignee by the conveyance or assignment of such woman if she had been sole and unmarried, subject only to the rights of her husband therein as aforesaid; and all provisions in the said act or in this act contained, touching the real and personal estate of any prisoner seeking to be discharged under the authority of the said act, shall apply to such real and personal estate and effects respectively, in the same manner as the same would apply to such personal estate and effects if such woman had been sole and unmarried, subject only to the rights of her husband therein; and such married woman shall also execute a warrant of attorney to confess judgment in one of the superior courts aforesaid, for the amount of the debts remaining unpaid, from which she shall be discharged under the authority of the said act as aforesaid; and such warrant of attorney so executed shall be sufficient authority for entering up judgment against such woman accordingly, notwithstanding her coverture; but such judgment shall not in any manner prejudice or affect the rights of her husband, except that the same shall be deemed and taken to be her debt in case she shall die in the life-time of such husband, to the end that the same may be discharged out of her personal assets in a due course of administration, or out of her real estate, if any she shall have at the time of her death, but without prejudice to any estate or interest of her husband therein as tenant by the curtesy; and in case such woman shall, during the life-time of her husband, become entitled to any property for her separate use, such judgment may be enforced against such separate property, by suit in equity, or otherwise, under the order of the said court, for the purpose of obtaining payment of so much of the debts from which such woman shall have been discharged by such court as shall then remain unpaid; and in case such woman shall survive her said husband, such judgment may be after his death enforced against such woman or her property, real and personal, in such and the same manner and with the same effect as it might have been if she had been sole and unmarried at the time she executed such warrant to confess judgment, and at the time when such judgment shall have been entered up as aforesaid: provided nevertheless, that the discharge of any married woman under the authority of the said act or of this act, shall not operate to discharge her husband from any debt from which his wife shall be so discharged, but such debt, so far as the same shall remain unpaid or unsatisfied, shall be chargeable upon and in force against such husband, as fully, to all intents and purposes, as if his wife had not obtained such discharge, 3 G. 4. c. 123. s. 12.

14. Any prisoner who shall have been or shall be declared entitled to the benefit of the said recited act, and who shall have obtained or shall obtain a discharge under the said act, shall be discharged against every creditor for any sum of money payable at any future time or times, who shall under the said recited act have become entitled to a dividend of the estate of such prisoner in respect to any debt or claim so growing due and payable, and which shall not be due or payable at or before the time of such prisoner obtaining his or her discharge, in like manner, to all intents and purposes, as if such debt or claim were payable presently, and not at a future day, 3 G. 4. c. 123. s. 13.

15. And whereas by the said recited act the said court is authorized in certain cases, upon the application of any creditor of a prisoner, to direct such prisoner after his discharge to be brought again before them, and upon due notice to be given by such creditor, to rehear the matter, and make such further order as to them shall seem fit, in execution of the powers in the said recited act contained; be it further enacted, That where in any such case the insolvent after his discharge shall refuse or neglect to appear before the said court, or before the said justices at their general or quarter or adjourned sessions, when the said court shall direct the matter to be reheard before such justices, who are hereby authorized to rehear the same, and to make such further order as to them shall seem fit, in execution of the powers in the said recited act contained, on the day and at the time specified in any rule of the said court, a copy whereof shall have been duly served on such insolvent, it shall and may be lawful for the said court to order the said insolvent to be apprehended and remanded into custody, in such prison as the said court shall direct, and to issue their warrant accordingly, and to cause him to be brought up for examination as often as to the said court or to the said justices shall seem fit, 3 G. 4. c. 123. s. 14. [REP. 5 G. 4. c. 61. s. 1. post, pl. 27.]

16. If any prisoner shall have been adjudged and ordered by the court to be discharged from custody after a certain period, or not to be discharged out of custody, or receive or be entitled to any protection under the said recited act, until he shall have been in custody at the suit of certain creditor or creditors in such order named, for a certain period therein mentioned, and the said court shall see good and sufficient cause to believe that such adjudication or order has been obtained on false evidence, or otherwise fraudulently obtained or improperly made, it shall and may be lawful for the said court to direct such prisoner to be brought again before them, and upon due notice to be given to the creditor or creditors named in the said order, to rehear the said matter, and set aside the said adjudication and order, if they shall see cause, and to make such further order as to them shall seem fit, in execution of the powers in the said recited act contained, 3 G. 4. c. 123. s. 15.

17. In case any person having been admitted on the files of the said court, to practise therein as an attorney or agent on the behalf of any prisoner in actual custody, shall be by the said court removed from the said files of the said court, and shall after such removal practise in the said court as an attorney or agent, on behalf of any prisoner in actual custody, he shall be deemed and taken to be guilty of a contempt of the said court, and shall be liable to fine as well as imprisonment for the same, as shall every attorney and agent, not admitted on the files of the said court, who shall practise contrary to the provisions of the said recited act or of this act, 3 G. 4. c. 123. s. 16.

18. All affidavits to be used before the said court, or any commissioner thereof, or any justices of the peace, or any officer of the said court, to whom a reference shall be made by the said court or any examiner appointed under the said recited act, shall and may be sworn before the said court or any commissioner thereof, or any commissioner appointed by the said court for the purpose of taking affidavits, or any master extraordinary in chancery, or commissioner for taking affidavits in any of the superior courts of Westminster hall, or in Scot. or Ire., before a magistrate of the county, division, city, town, or place, where the affidavit shall be sworn, 3 G. 4. c. 123. s. 17.

19. In every case where a prisoner shall be or become of unsound mind, and proceedings shall be had under the said recited act for the discharge of such prisoner by the said court, all and every estate, right, title, interest in law and equity, real and personal, power, benefit, and emolument whatsoever, which, if such prisoner were of sound mind, could or ought to be assigned by such prisoner, pursuant to the provisions of the said recited act or this act, shall by force and virtue of the order for the discharge of such prisoner be vested in the provisional assignee of the said court, or in other assignee or assignees appointed by the said court, and named in the said order, as fully and effectually, and in the same manner, and with all and every the same consequences and effects, both in fact and law, to all intents and purposes whatsoever, as if such prisoner had been of sound mind, and had duly conveyed the same to such provisional assignee at the time and in the manner in the said recited act provided; and every assignment hitherto made in such case by the said court is and shall be good and effectual to all intents and purposes; and it shall be lawful for the said court to order judgment to be entered up against such prisoner, in the same manner as if he or she had been of sound mind and had executed a warrant of attorney to authorize the entering up of such judgment, in the manner by the said recited act provided, 3 G. 4. c. 123. s. 18.

20. When any assignment shall be avoided by a commission of bankrupt being issued against any prisoner, no action or suit shall be commenced for any thing done under or by virtue of the said assignment, except to recover any property, estate, money, or effects of the said bankrupt, detained after demand thereof, 3 G. 4. c. 123. s. 19.

21. And whereas it may happen that money may remain in the said court, produced by the estate and effects of insolvent debtors who have taken the benefit of the said recited act, or some other act for the relief of insolvent debtors, which has not been or may not be claimed by the assignees or creditors of such insolvent; be it further enacted, That it shall be lawful for the said court to cause the same, or any part thereof, to be invested in government securities, and to apply the interest and profit arising therefrom towards defraying the expences of the said court: provided, that no such money shall be so invested, until the same shall have been in the hands of the said court for twelve months at the least, 3 G. 4. c. 123. s. 20.

22. And whereas it is intended to erect a building for the said court in or near to Portugal Street, Lincoln's Inn Fields, which will be at a convenient distance from the several prisons in London and Middlesex, and from the prisons of the King's Bench, Marshalsea, Horsemonger Lane, and of the borough of Southwark, in the county of Surrey; be it further enacted, That from and after the same court shall be erected, and ready for the dispatch of business therein, all petitions and other proceedings and matters of all persons confined in the said prisons, shall be heard and determined therein, unless the said court shall at any time see cause to adjourn its sittings to any other place, and shall adjourn accordingly, which it is hereby empowered to do; and that the said keepers of the said several prisons, or their deputies, shall be entitled to receive the sum of three shillings and no more from each prisoner, for carrying him before the said court, on the hearing of the matter of his petition and schedule, 3 G. 4. c. 123. s. 21.

23. In all rules, orders, warrants, and other proceedings of the said court, under the said recited act or this act, or any act for the relief of insolvent debtors, it shall be sufficient to set forth such rule, order, or warrant, or in case of a warrant for the apprehension or detention of any person, for a contempt in disobeying any order or rule of the said court, or for the apprehension or detention of any person for the appearance of such person before the said court, or for the enforcing any rule or order of the said court, it shall be sufficient to set forth such rule or order, and the warrant thereon, and that the insolvent in any order, rule, warrant, or other proceeding mentioned, has been duly discharged under the said recited act or this act, or some other act for the relief of insolvent debtors, if he has been discharged, or if he has not been discharged, that the prisoner has applied by petition to the said court for his or her discharge from confinement according to the provisions of the said acts, without setting forth in any such order, rule, warrant, or other proceeding, the petition, conveyance, or assignment to the provisional assignee, appointment of assignee or assignees, or any assignment whatever, or the schedule, balance sheet, order for hearing, adjudication, order for discharge, or any other rule, order, or proceeding of or in the said court, or any part thereof, except as aforesaid, 3 G. 4. c. 123. s. 22.

24. From and after the expiration of six weeks from the last day of Trinity term until the first day of Nov. in every year during the continuance of the said recited act and this act, the said court shall have full power and authority to regulate and appoint the sittings of the said court at such times as to the commissioners of the said court shall appear fit and necessary for the due administration of justice in the said court; any thing in the said recited act to the contrary thereof in anywise notwithstanding: provided, that no adjournment of the said court shall be at any time for more than six weeks, 3 G. 4. c. 123. s. 23.

25. In every information or indictment against any person, for having, with intent to defraud his creditors, wilfully and fraudulently omitted in his schedule, as finally amended and filed in the said court, at the time of the order for his discharge from actual custody, any effects or property whatsoever, or retained or excepted out of the schedule, as wearing apparel, bedding, working tools, and implements, and other necessaries, more in value than 20*l.*, or against any person for aiding and assisting him to do the same, it shall be sufficient to set forth the substance of the offence charged on the defendant, without setting forth the petition, or conveyance or assignment to the provisional assignee, appointment of assignee or assignees, or any assignment whatever, or balance sheet, order for hearing, adjudication, order for discharge or remand, or any warrant, rule, order, or proceeding of or in the said court, except so much of his schedule as may be necessary for that purpose, 5 G. 4. c. 123. s. 24.

26. To amend certain acts for the relief of insolvent debtors in Eng., 5 G. 4. c. 61. [AMD. by enabling the insolvent debtor's court to dispense until the end of the next session of parliament with the necessity of prisoners residing within the walls in certain cases, 6 G. 4. c. 121. The 5 G. 4. c. 61. to commence and take effect upon 1st Sept. 1824, and to expire with the session of parliament next after 1st June, 1825, id. s. 23. The 6 G. 4. c. 121. to expire with the session of parliament next following the passing thereof, id. s. 3.]

27. Whereas 1 G. 4. c. 119. [Stat. Dig. this title, pl. 22. et seq.], intituled, An Act for the relief of insolvent debtors in Eng., to continue in force until the 1st June, 1825; and a certain other act, 3 G. 4. c. 123., intituled, An Act to amend an act of the first year of His present Majesty, for the relief of insolvent debtors in Eng.; were passed, and it is expedient to alter and amend the same: be it therefore enacted, That so much of the said acts [viz. 1 G. 4. c. 119. ss. 20, 21, 23, 39. Stat. Dig. this title, pl. 42, 43, 45, 61., 3 G. 4. c. 123. ss. 9, 14. ante, pl. 10, 15.], as gives any power, authority, or jurisdiction, or enables the court for relief of insolvent debtors to give or delegate any power, authority, or jurisdiction, to any justices of the peace at their general or general quarter sessions of the peace, or at any adjournment thereof, for any county, riding, city, cinque port, antient town or member, division, liberty, or place, shall be, from and after 1st Sept. 1824, repealed; except as to the justices of the peace at their general or general quarter sessions of the peace, or at some adjournment thereof, for any county, city, liberty, or place in the principality of Wa., 5 G. 4. c. 61. s. 1.

28. Where any prisoner shall be in any county gaol, or other gaol or prison in Eng., except in the counties of Middlesex or Surrey, or in the city of London, or the borough of Southwark, upon any process whatsoever issuing out of H. M.'s superior courts in Westminster hall, or out of any court whatsoever in Eng., then and in such case, upon petition being made to the said court for relief of insolvent debtors by such prisoner, in manner directed by the said recited acts or either of them, and upon such schedule being delivered into the said court as is required by the said recited acts or either of them, it shall be lawful for the said court, and the said court is hereby authorized and required, on the application of such prisoner, to make a rule or order to cause such prisoner to be brought to and to appear at the court house or other place in any assize or other town in the county, or county of a city or town, where such prisoner shall be imprisoned, on such day and at such time as shall be mentioned and specified in such order, not being more than four calendar months after the date of such order; and the expence of conveying such prisoner to any such assize or other town, in every case where the gaol in which such prisoner shall be confined shall not be situate within such assize or other town, not exceeding 1*s.* a mile, shall be paid to the keeper or gaoler, or officer who shall bring such prisoner to such assize or other town, in obedience to such rule or order, out of the estate or effects of such prisoner, if the same shall be sufficient to pay such expence, and if not, then such expence shall be paid by the treasurer of the county, county of a city or town, in which such prisoner shall be imprisoned, as the same shall be directed or ordered by the commissioner before whom such prisoner shall be brought; and the justices of the peace of such county, county of a city or town, are hereby empowered and required to order at their general or general quarter sessions next ensuing the day mentioned in such rule or order, such treasurer to pay the same; and the said court shall cause like notice of every such petition and schedule of such prisoner, and of such rule or order of the court for bringing such prisoner to such assize or other town thereupon, as is required by the said first-mentioned act, as to the matter of petitions heard before the court, 5 G. 4. c. 61. s. 2.

29. On such day so appointed by order of the said court for relief of insolvent debtors, it shall be lawful for any one commissioner of the said court, and he is hereby authorized and required to attend at such court house or other place in such assize or other town, and to proceed on such day, and from day to day if requisite, in hearing the matter of the petitions of any and every such prisoner or prisoners, who shall appear at or be brought to such assize or other town, and to pronounce any such judgment, and to make all such orders, and to give all such directions, and to do all such other matters and things requisite for the discharging or remanding of any and every such prisoner, and for the assignment and application of the estate and effects of every such prisoner; and such commissioner shall have such power to discharge or remand any and every such prisoner, and in all other respects to act and do with respect to any and every such prisoner, and with respect to the petition and schedule of any and every such prisoner, as the said court for the relief of insolvent debtors could or may do under or by virtue of the said recited acts, or either of them; and all judgments, rules, orders, directions, proceedings, acts, matters, and things, for or relating to such prisoner, creditors and assignees, done by such commissioner, shall be as good, valid, and effectual to all intents and purposes, as if such judgments, rules, orders, directions, proceedings, acts, matters, and things had been done by the said court for the relief of insolvent debtors; and the same shall be made a record of the proceedings in such court for the relief of insolvent debtors, and shall be transmitted to such court, signed by such commissioner, to be a record of the said court, and to be kept as such among the records thereof, 5 G. 4. c. 61. s. 3.

30. It shall be lawful for H. M. to appoint one other commissioner, being a barrister at law of ten years' standing at least, in addition to those already appointed, and that three of the said commissioners shall from time to time severally make circuits, and give their attendance respectively at the several assize or other towns at which any prisoner or prisoners shall be ordered to appear in manner aforesaid, so that the circuits shall be three times in each year, if requisite; and during the said circuits, one of the said commissioners shall be attendant and presiding in the said court established by the first-mentioned act; and the time and manner of making such circuits, and the officers necessary to attend the commissioners making the same, shall be regulated in such manner as shall be agreed on between the commissioners of the said court, with the approbation of one of H. M.'s principal secretaries of state for the time being; and it shall be lawful for the lord high treasurer, or lords commissioners of H. M.'s treasury of the U. K. of G. B. and Ire., for the time being, to direct that such sum shall be paid as may appear fit and necessary for defraying the travelling expences of such commissioners and officers in the execution of their duties under this act or the said recited acts, or either of them, 5 G. 4. c. 61. s. 4.

31. In every county, or county of a city or town, the clerk of the peace of the county, or if the court shall think fit, his sufficient deputy, to be approved of by the said court, shall attend on all such occasions, with proper officers, to preserve order in the said court-house or other place, and may act as clerk to the commissioner under this act, to assist him in his performance of his several duties under this act in such county, or county of a city or town; and the said clerk of the peace, or his said deputy, shall, in consideration and recompence of and for his said trouble, be entitled to receive from every such prisoner, in whose case he shall so act, the sum of five shillings and no more, the same to be in lieu of all fees of every nature and kind for the performance of the duties under this act; and such fee shall be paid previous to the bringing up such prisoner before such chief or other commissioner, 5 G. 4. c. 61. s. 5.

32. Provided, that notice of the time and place or places of the attendance of such commissioner in each county, or county of a city or town, shall be given in the London Gazette, and in some public journal or newspaper published in each such county respectively, once in each of the two weeks immediately preceding the time appointed for such attendance, 5 G. 4. c. 61. s. 6.

33. If on the day appointed for the arrival of such commissioner, he shall not have arrived, or shall not attend at such court-house or other place, then and in every such case the court shall be considered as adjourned to the ensuing day, not being a Sunday; and if the ensuing day should be a Sunday, then to the next day, Monday, and so on from day to day, until the arrival of the said commissioner; and that all persons summoned or bound, or having occasion to attend the said court, shall thereupon be bound to attend the same, according to every such adjournment, in the same manner in all respects as if such commissioner had regularly sat, and so adjourned the same; and that such commissioner who shall so arrive, shall proceed to sit and dispatch the business of the said court, in the same manner in all respects as if he had regularly sat, and had himself made such adjournments of the said court, 5 G. 4. c. 61. s. 7.

34. Provided, that such chief or other commissioner, who shall not arrive at any such assize or other town on the day so appointed by the said court in that behalf as aforesaid, shall, without delay, state in writing the reason or cause which prevented him from arriving, and shall send the same forthwith by H. M.'s post, subscribed by himself, to one of H. M.'s principal secretaries of state, 5 G. 4. c. 61. s. 8.

35. And whereas it may sometimes be highly expedient that all the said commissioners should be absent from London, Westminster, and Middlesex, in different cities, towns, and places, at the same time; be it therefore enacted, That on any particular occasion, when the said commissioners shall be of opinion that it would be expedient that all the said commissioners should be absent from London, Westminster, and Middlesex, in different places at the same time, it shall and may be lawful to and for such chief and other commissioners to state such opinion, together with the grounds and reasons thereof, in writing, to one of H. M.'s principal secretaries of state for the time being, and thereupon, if such secretary of state shall approve thereof, and the same shall be notified in writing to such chief and other commissioners by such secretary of state, it shall and may be lawful to and for all the commissioners to be absent from London, Westminster, and Middlesex, at the same time, in such places respectively as shall be so mentioned and allowed, and for that purpose to adjourn the said court for relief of insolvent debtors, for such time as shall be permitted in and by such notification; any thing in the said recited acts, or either of them, to the contrary notwithstanding, 5 G. 4. c. 61. s. 9.

36. The said court, or the said commissioner upon his circuit, shall from time to time, as occasion may require; appoint as many fit persons as the said court or he shall judge sufficient, to be examiners for the purposes of the said recited acts and this act, or any or either of them; and if it shall appear to the said commissioner on his said circuit to be expedient and proper that the accounts of any prisoner, and the matters of the schedule of such prisoner, should be further investigated and examined, then it shall be lawful for such commissioner to adjourn the hearing of the petition of such prisoner, and at the request of any one or more of the creditors, to order and direct that some one of the examiners so appointed shall examine into the matters of the said schedule, and certify his opinion thereon, as directed by such commissioner, of which all parties interested shall take notice; and that such examiner shall and may receive for his trouble the sum of 1*l.*, and no more, for every meeting under such order, to be paid by the person or persons requiring the same, 5 G. 4. c. 61. s. 10.

37. Where an order has issued for the hearing of the matter of the petition and schedule of any prisoner, at an assize or other town, such prisoner shall cause the duplicate of such petition and schedule, and all books, papers, and writings relating thereto, in his or her possession or power, to be lodged with the clerk of the peace of the county, or his said deputy, where he or she shall be in custody, within 10 days after such order issued, or on such earlier day as shall be named in such order, and such prisoner shall be subject to such order as the court shall make to enforce compliance with the directions of this act in this behalf; and that the said clerk of the peace or his said deputy shall, on the reasonable request of such prisoner, or of any creditor or creditors of such prisoner, or his or her attorney, produce and show to such prisoner, creditor or creditors, or his, her, or their attorney, such petition and schedule, and books, papers, and writings of such prisoner, and permit him, her, or them to inspect and examine the same, and may and shall receive the fee of one shilling from each and every creditor, or his, her, or their attorney, at each time of his, her, or their so requesting and having the production thereof, or any of them; and that such clerk of the peace or his said deputy, shall provide for any such creditor or creditors, or his, her, or their attorney, requesting the same, a copy or copies of such petition or schedule, or such part thereof as shall be so required; and that such clerk of the peace, or his said deputy, shall be entitled to receive 4*d.* for every sheet so copied containing 72 words, and no more, unless the same shall be the last or only sheet, in which case he shall be entitled to 4*d.* for such last or only sheet, although it does not contain 72 words; and that every such prisoner shall cause the said duplicate of his schedule, and his said books, writings, and papers, to be brought to and be produced at his hearing, 5 G. 4. c. 61. s. 11.

38. The said recited acts, or either of them, shall not extend to any person in actual custody, who shall not be at the time of filing his petition, and during all the proceedings thereon, in actual custody within the walls of the prison, and not within any rules or liberties thereof; nor to any prisoner who, after his commitment to any prison in any county or place where he or she had, at or lately before his or her arrest, his or her usual place of abode, other than in Middlesex, Surrey, London, or Southwark, aforesaid, shall cause himself to be removed by any writ of habeas corpus, or otherwise, from such respective prison to any other prison, 5 G. 4. c. 61. s. 12.

39. Whereas by 5 G. 4. c. 61. s. 12. [ante, pl. 38.] intituled, An Act to amend certain acts for the relief of insolvent debtors in Eng., it is among other things enacted, that the acts therein recited shall not extend to any person in actual custody who shall not be at the time of filing his petition, and during all the proceedings thereon, in actual custody within the walls of the prison, and not within any rules or liberties thereof: and whereas, in consequence of the present crowded state of the King's Bench prison, it is expedient to relax the said recited provision for some time, and the same inconvenience may happen in the Fleet prison, be it therefore enacted, That it shall be lawful for the court for the relief of insolvent debtors at any time after any petitioner, being a prisoner within the walls of either of the said prisons, shall have obtained from the said court an order for hearing his petition, to grant a dispensation to such petitioner, with the provisions herein-before recited, if the said court shall think fit; provided that no such dispensation shall be granted to any petitioner, unless the court shall be satisfied, by the affidavit of a physician, surgeon, or apothecary, either that the petitioner cannot continue to reside within the walls without injury to his health, or that, for the sake of the health of the prisoners in general, it is necessary that the number of prisoners within the walls of such prison should be reduced, 6 G. 4. c. 121. s. 1.

40. Provided, that if any prisoner having a dispensation to reside without the walls, and within the rules and liberties of either of the said prisons, by virtue of this act, shall without lawful cause go beyond the limits of the said rules and liberties, such prisoner shall ipso facto be deprived of all benefit of any of the acts for the relief of insolvent debtors, 6 G. 4. c. 121. s. 2.

41. Where it shall appear to the satisfaction of the said court or commissioner, that any prisoner arrested within the counties of Middlesex or Surrey, or the city of London, or borough of Southwark, had, at or lately before such arrest, his or her usual place of abode in some county or place other than the said counties of Middlesex or Surrey, or the city of London, or the borough of Southwark, and hath been arrested in the said counties of Middlesex or Surrey, or the city of London, or borough of Southwark; or where any prisoner, having been arrested in any county or place other than Middlesex, Surrey, or the city of London, or borough of Southwark, shall be rendered in discharge of his bail: it shall and may be lawful for the said court or commissioner, upon the request and at the expence of any of his or her creditor or creditors, to order, in any of such cases, such prisoner to be taken to the gaol of the county or place where such prisoner had, at or lately before such arrest or render, his or her usual place of abode, and to be brought for hearing and examination to the assize or other town of the county, or county of the city or town, to the gaol whereof he shall have been so removed; and such expence incurred by such creditor or creditors shall be repaid to him or them by the assignee or assignees of such prisoner, out of the estate, effects, and property of such prisoner, before any dividend shall be made thereof, 5 G. 4. c. 61. s. 13.

42. The filing of the petition of every person in actual custody, who shall be subject to the several statutes concerning bankrupts, or any of them, and who shall apply by petition to the said court for his or her discharge from confinement, according to the provisions of the said recited acts or this act, or any or either of them, shall be accounted and adjudged an act of bankruptcy from the time of filing his said petition: provided, that no commission of bankrupt shall issue against such person upon such act of bankruptcy, after the said court or commissioner shall have ordered such prisoner to be discharged forthwith, or at any future period, or not to be discharged until a certain period, according to the provisions of the said recited acts and this act, or either of them, 5 G. 4. c. 61. s. 14.

43. Where the said court or commissioner shall, after the filing of any prisoner's petition, and before the said court or commissioner adjudge him entitled to his discharge, appoint one or more assignee or assignees of the estate and effects of such prisoner, and where the said court or commissioner shall appoint one or more assignee or assignees of a prisoner of unsound mind, every such assignee or assignees, as well as such assignee or assignees as have hitherto been in such cases appointed by the said court, shall, if the said court or commissioner shall so direct, cause 14 days' notice to be given in the London Gazette, and such one or more newspaper as the said court or commissioner shall order, of the day on which, and place where, a dividend shall be made amongst the creditors of such prisoner, who shall prove their debts before such assignee or assignees, unless such prisoner, or his or her assignee or assignees, or any other creditor of such prisoner, shall object to any such debt, in which case the same shall be examined into by the said court or commissioner, in the manner in the said first recited act mentioned; and every such prisoner shall be thenceforth discharged from the debts of all such creditors who shall accept any such dividend, in the same manner and to the same extent as if the said court or commissioner had declared such prisoner to be entitled to the benefit of the act, and to be discharged out of custody forthwith, and no further or otherwise; and it shall be lawful for the said court or commissioner to make an order accordingly, specifying the debts from which such prisoner shall be so discharged, 5 G. 4. c. 61. s. 15.

44. Whereas 3 G. 4. c. 39. was passed, intituled, "An Act for preventing frauds upon creditors by secret warrants of attorney to confess judgment": and whereas it is expedient to extend the provisions of such act; be it therefore enacted, That the last-mentioned act shall extend to the provisional or other assignee or assignees of every prisoner who shall, after the expiration of twenty-one days next after his execution of such warrant of attorney, or his giving of such cognovit actionem as therein mentioned, apply by petition to the said court for his or her discharge from confinement, according to the provisions of the said recited acts or either of them, as if the last-mentioned act had been expressly herein enacted; and every such warrant of attorney, and judgment and execution thereon, and every such cognovit actionem, and any judgment entered up thereon, and any execution taken out on such judgment, as are declared by the last-mentioned act to be fraudulent and void against the assignees under a commission of bankrupt, shall be deemed equally fraudulent and void against the provisional or other assignee or assignees of such prisoner; and such provisional or other assignee or assignees shall be entitled to recover back and receive, for the use of the creditors of such prisoner, all and every the monies levied or effects seized under or by virtue of any such judgment or execution, 5 G. 4. c. 61. s. 16.

45. If any prisoner who shall file his petition for his discharge under the said recited acts, or either of them, shall before or after his imprisonment, being in insolvent circumstances, voluntarily convey, assign, transfer, charge, deliver, or make over any estate, real or personal, security for money, bond, bill, note, money, property, goods, or effects whatsoever, to any creditor or creditors, every such conveyance, assignment, transfer, charge, delivery, or making over, shall be deemed and is hereby declared to be fraudulent and void, as against the assignee or assignees of the estate of the said prisoner, appointed under the said acts or either of them: provided, that no such conveyance, assignment, transfer, charge, delivery, or making over, shall be so deemed fraudulent or void, unless made within three months before the filing of the said petition, or with the view or intention by the party so conveying, assigning, transferring, charging, delivering, or making over, or filing a petition for his or her discharge under the said acts or either of them, 5 G. 4. c. 61. s. 17.

46. It shall be lawful for the said court, or chief or other commissioner, to order such portion of the salary, pay, emoluments, or pension of any prisoner, being or having been an officer or clerk, or being or having been otherwise employed or engaged in the service of H. M. in the customs or excise, as on communication from the said court or commissioner to the commissioners of the customs or excise, they may respectively consent to, in writing, to be applied in payment of the debts of such person, and for that purpose to be paid to his assignee or assignees; and such portion of the salary, pay, emoluments, or pension, as shall be specified in such order and consent, shall, upon the same being lodged with the officer or person appointed to pay or paying such salary, pay, emoluments, or pension, be paid to the assignee or assignees of such prisoner until the said court shall make order to the contrary, 5 G. 4. c. 61. s. 18. [See s. 22. pl. 50.]

47. In all cases in which a person shall take the benefit of the said acts, or either of them, and such person shall be entitled to any lease or agreement for a lease, and his assignee or assignees shall accept the same and the benefit thereupon, as part of the insolvent's estate and effects, the insolvent shall not be or be deemed to be liable to pay the rent accruing due after such acceptance of the same as aforesaid; and after such acceptance the insolvent shall not be liable to be in any manner sued in respect or by reason of any subsequent non-observance or non-performance of the conditions, covenants, or agreements therein contained: provided, that in all such cases as aforesaid, it shall be lawful for the lessor or person agreeing to make such lease, his heirs, executors, administrators, or assigns, if the assignee or assignees shall decline, upon his or their being required so to do, to determine whether he or they will or will not accept such lease or agreement for a lease, to apply to the said court or commissioner, praying that he or they may either so accept the same, or deliver up the lease or agreement for the lease, and the possession of the premises demised or intended to be demised; and such court or commissioner shall thereupon make such order as in all the circumstances of the case shall seem meet and just, and such order shall be binding on all parties, 5 G. 4. c. 61. s. 19.

48. Wherever any creditor or creditors opposing a prisoner's discharge, shall prove to the satisfaction of the said court or commissioner, that such prisoner, with intent to conceal the state of his affairs, or to defeat the objects of the said recited acts or this act, or either of them, has destroyed, or otherwise wilfully prevented or purposely withheld the production of any books, papers, or writings relating to such of his affairs as are subject to investigation under the said acts or either of them, or shall have kept or caused to be kept false books, or made false entries, or shall have wilfully and fraudulently altered or falsified any such books, papers, or writings, or shall in any respect have been guilty of fraud in discharging or concealing any debt due to or from the said prisoner, or shall have fraudulently made away with, charged, mortgaged, or concealed any part of his or her property, of what kind soever, either before or after his or her said imprisonment, for the purpose of diminishing the sum to be divided among his or her creditors, or of giving an undue preference to any of the said creditors, the said court shall order the taxed costs of the said opposition to be paid to such opposing creditor or creditors, out of the estate and effects of such prisoner, by his assignee or assignees, before any dividend made thereof; and in all other cases of opposition to a prisoner's discharge being substantiated or effectual, it shall be lawful for the said court, or chief or other commissioner, to make a like order, if it shall to them or him seem fit, 5 G. 4. c. 61. s. 20.

49. It shall be lawful for the chief or any one commissioner, to hear and determine out of court, upon summons to the proper parties, all matters and things relating to any prisoner or person discharged by any act for the relief of insolvent debtors, or to his estate, property, and effects, or his assignee or assignees thereof, except the hearing, re-hearing, or any examination of any such prisoner or person discharged; and the order made in any such behalf by such chief or other commissioner shall be of as full force and effect to all intents and purposes as if the same had been made by the said court, unless the same shall upon application to the said court, at the next following sitting thereof, be by the said court altered or rescinded, 5 G. 4. c. 61. s. 21.

50. It shall be lawful for the said court, or chief or other commissioner to order such portion of the salary, pay, emoluments, or pension of any prisoner, being or having been an officer or clerk, or being or having been otherwise employed or engaged in the service of H. M. in any civil office, or of the court of directors of the honourable E. I. C. or any other department whatsoever, as the said court or chief or other commissioner may order in writing, and as upon communication with the chief officer of the department in which such insolvent may be belonging at the time, or in which he may have served, and to which such chief officer shall consent in writing, to be applied in payment of the debts of such person, and for that purpose to be paid to his assignee or assignees; and such portion of the salary, pay, emoluments, or pension, as shall be specified in such order, shall, upon the same being lodged with the officer or person appointed to pay or paying such salary, pay, emoluments, or pension, be paid to the assignee or assignees of such prisoner, until the said court shall make order to the contrary, 5 G. 4. c. 61. s. 22. [See s. 18. pl. 46.]

51. This act shall commence and take effect upon and after the 1st Sept. 1824, and continue in force until 1st June, 1825, and from thence until the end of the then next session of parliament, 5 G. 4. c. 61. s. 23.

INSURANCE.

1. To repeal so much of 6 G. 1. c. 18. [Stat. Dig. tit. INSURANCE, pl. 28.], as restrains any other corporations than those in the act named, and any societies or partnerships, from effecting marine assurances, and lending money on bottomry, 5 G. 4. c. 114. [See further 6 G. 4. c. 91. post, TRADING COMPANIES.]

2. Whereas by 6 G. 1. c. 18. s. 1. intituled, An Act for better securing certain powers and privileges, to be granted by H. M. by two charters, for assurance of ships and merchandize at sea and going to sea, and for lending money upon bottomry; and for restraining several extravagant and unwarrantable practices therein mentioned, H. M. was empowered to incorporate, by two several charters, under the great seal of G. B., two several companies for assurance of ships, goods, and merchandize at sea, or going to sea, and for lending money upon bottomry, by such names as H. M. should think proper; subject nevertheless to redemption and revocation in the manner therein expressed; and that it was further enacted [s. 12. Stat. Dig. this title, pl. 41.], that from and after the granting or making of the said respective charters for erecting the said two corporations, and passing the same under the great seal, for and during the continuance of the same corporations respectively, or either of them, all other corporations or bodies politic before erected or established, or thereafter to be erected or established, and all such societies or partnerships as then were or thereafter should or might be entered into by any person or persons, for assuring ships or merchandize at sea, or for lending any money upon bottomry, should by force and virtue of the said recited act, be restrained from granting, signing, or underwriting any policy or policies of assurance of or upon any ship or ships, goods or merchandizes, at sea or going to sea, and from lending any monies by way of bottomry; and if any corporation or body politic, or persons acting in such society or partnership, other than the two corporations intended to be established by the said recited act, should presume to grant, sign, or underwrite, after 24th June 1820, any such policy or policies, or make any such contract or contracts for assurance of or upon any such ship or ships, goods or merchandizes at sea or going to sea, or take or agree to take any premium or other reward for such policies, every such policy and policies of assurance of or upon any such ship or ships, goods or merchandizes, should be ipso facto void; and every sum and sums so signed or under-written in such policy or policies, should be forfeited and recovered in manner expressed in the said recited act; and that if any corporation or body politic, or persons acting in such society or partnership as aforesaid, other than the two corporations intended to be established by the said recited act, or one of them, should presume to lend, or agree to lend or advance, by themselves or any others on their behalf, after 24th June 1720, any money by way of bottomry as aforesaid, contrary to the said act, the bond or other security for the time should be ipso facto void, and such agreement should be adjudged to be an usurious contract, and the offender therein should suffer as in cases of usury: and whereas pursuant to the said act, H. M., by one charter, bearing date the 22d June 1720, created and established one corporation or body politic, called The Royal Exchange Assurance; and by another charter, bearing the same date, H. M. created and established another corporation or body politic, called The London Assurance; and whereas it is expedient that so much of the said act, as restrains corporations or bodies politic, societies or partnerships, and persons acting in society or partnership, from insuring ships and goods and merchandizes at sea, and from lending money by way of bottomry, should be repealed: it is therefore enacted, That from and after the passing of this act [24th June 1824], so much of the said recited act as restrains any corporation or body politic, society or partnership, or persons acting in any society or partnership, from granting, signing, and underwriting any policy or policies of assurance, or making any contract for assurance, of or upon any ship or ships, or goods or merchandize, at sea or going to sea, or from lending money by way of bottomry, or as makes any such contract void, or declares that the same shall be adjudged usurious, or as imposes any forfeiture or penalty in respect of any such policy of assurance or contract, shall be repealed, 5 G. 4. c. 114. s. 1.

3. Provided, that nothing in this act contained shall extend to affect the rights and privileges of the said corporations of the Royal Exchange Assurance and London Assurance, otherwise than by making it lawful for other corporations and bodies politic, and persons acting in society or partnership, to grant and make such policies of assurance and contracts of bottomry as herein-before mentioned, 5 G. 4. c. 114. s. 2.

JUDGES.

1. To provide for the augmenting the salaries of the master of the rolls and the vice-chancellor of Eng., the chief baron of the court of exchequer, and the puisne judges and barons of the courts in Westminster hall; and to enable H. M. to grant an annuity to such vice-chancellor, and additional annuities to such master of the rolls, chief baron, and puisne judges and barons, on their resignation of their respective offices, 6 G. 4. c. 84. [See as to the salaries of the chiefs of K. B. and C. P., 6 G. 4. cc. 82, 83. ante, tit. COURTS.]

2. Whereas it is expedient that provision should be made for the augmentation of the salaries of the master of the rolls and vice-chancellor of Eng., of the chief baron of the court of exchequer, and of the puisne judges and justices in the courts of K. B. and C. P., and the barons of the coif in the court of exchequer at Westminster; and that the total amount of the annual salaries to be payable to the said chief baron, and puisne judges and barons, should be in lieu of all fees and emoluments whatsoever, receivable by them immediately before the passing of this act: be it enacted, That so much and such parts of 39 G. 3. c. 110. [s. 1. Stat. Dig. this title, pl. 13. et seq.] made among other things for the augmentation of the salaries of the judges of the courts in Westminster hall, as relates to the amount of the sums to be issued in augmentation of the salary of the master of the rolls; and also so much of 49 G. 3. c. 127. [s. 2. Stat. Dig. this title, pl. 5.], made among other things for further augmenting the salaries of certain of the judges of the courts in Westminster hall, as relates to the chief baron of the court of exchequer, and to the puisne judges and justices in the courts of K. B. and C. P., and to the barons of the coif in the court of exchequer, shall be and the same are hereby repealed, 6 G. 4. c. 84. s. 1.

3. From and after the passing of this act [5th July 1825], there shall be issued and paid and payable out of and charged and chargeable upon the consolidated fund of the U. K. of G. B. and Ire. (after paying or reserving sufficient to pay all such sums of money as have been directed by any former act of parliament to be paid out of the same, but with preference to all other payments which shall or may hereafter be charged upon or payable out of the said fund), to the several persons herein-after mentioned, as an augmentation of their respective salaries, so much money as will make up their respective salaries and pecuniary profits belonging to the said respective officers, to the several annual sums herein-after respectively mentioned; (that is to say),

To the master of the rolls of the court of chancery in Eng., such sum as, with the sums now payable to the said master of the rolls in pursuance of 23 G. 3. c. 25. [Stat. Dig. tit. COURTS (Chancery), pl. 44.], among other things for augmenting the income of the office of master or keeper of the rolls, and in pursuance of 1 G. 4. c. 107., intituled, An Act for appropriating to the use of the master of the rolls for the time being the rents of the rolls estate, and the dividends of the funds in the court of chancery arising from the surplus rent of that estate, and with the other fees and emoluments of the said office, will make up the salary of the said office to the annual sum of 7,000*l.* :

To the vice-chancellor of Eng., such sum as, with the sums now payable to the vice-chancellor in pursuance of 53 G. 3. c. 24. [Stat. Dig. tit. Courts (Chancery), pl. 75. et seq.], intituled, An Act to facilitate the administration of justice, will make up the salary of the said office to the amount of 6,000*l.* :

To the chief baron of the court of exchequer, such sum as, with the sums now payable to the said chief baron out of the revenues of H. M.'s civil list, after deducting all land tax, pension duty, and other duties and fees charged thereon, or on the said chief baron in respect of his office, and the costs of all books, rolls, and records by him provided in respect thereof, will make up the salary of the said office to the amount of 7,000*l.* :

To each of the puisne judges and justices of the courts of K. B. and C. P., and to each of the barons of the coif in the court of exchequer, such sum as, with the sums now payable to the said puisne judges, justices, and barons of the coif respectively, out of the revenues of H. M.'s civil list, after deducting all land tax, pension duty, and other duties and fees charged thereon, or on the said judges and barons in respect of their offices, will make up the salaries of the said puisne judges, justices, and barons of the coif respectively, to the amount of 5,500*l.* : 6 G. 4. c. 84. s. 2.

4. The said several sums of money to be issued in pursuance of this act, shall be payable and paid quarterly, free and clear from all taxes and deductions whatsoever, on the 5th Jan., the 5th April, the 5th July, and the 10th Oct. in each year, by equal and even portions; the first payment thereupon to be made on the 5th July 1825; and that if any person having such office of master of the rolls, vice-chancellor, chief baron, puisne judge or justice, or baron of the coif respectively, shall die or resign such office, the executors or administrators of the person so dying, or the person so resigning such office, shall be entitled to such proportionable part of the salary of such offices respectively as according to the rates above-mentioned shall have accrued during the time that such person shall have executed any such office respectively as aforesaid; and that the successor of any such person so dying or resigning shall be entitled to have and receive such salary as shall arise and become due from the death or resignation of his predecessor, in like manner as if his patent had borne date on the day next subsequent to the day of the death or resignation of his predecessor, 6 G. 4. c. 84. s. 3.

5. It shall be lawful for H. M., by any letters patent under the great seal of G. B., to give and grant unto any person who may or shall have executed the office of master of the rolls, or chief baron of the exchequer respectively, and who shall respectively have resigned the same, an annuity or yearly sum of money not exceeding the sum of 450*l.*; and to any person who may or shall have executed the office of a puisne judge or justice of the court of K. B. or C. P., or of a baron of the coif of the court of exchequer, and who shall have resigned the same, an annuity or yearly sum of money not exceeding the sum of 900*l.*; and the said several and respective annuities shall be in addition to and in augmentation of the respective annuities or yearly sums allowed to be given and granted to such persons respectively, under 39 G. 3. c. 110., and under 53 G. 3. c. 24., for enabling H. M. to grant additional annuities to the judges of the courts in Westminster hall, on their resignation of their offices; and in like manner to commence from and after the period when the person to whom any such annuity or yearly sum of money shall be granted as aforesaid shall have resigned his said office, and to continue for and during the natural life of the person to whom the same shall be granted as aforesaid; and every such annuity or yearly sum of money shall be issued and payable out of, and charged and chargeable upon the consolidated fund next in order of payment to, and after paying or reserving sufficient to pay all such sums of money as have been directed by any former act of parliament, and as by this act are herein-before directed to be paid out of the same, but with preference to all other payments whatsoever, and shall be payable and paid quarterly, free and clear from all taxes and deductions whatsoever, by even and equal portions, at the like periods, and together with and in the same manner as the annuities and yearly sums which may be given and granted under the said recited acts, and under and subject to the like rules, regulations, and restrictions (so far as the same are applicable), as are contained and prescribed in the 39 G. 3. c. 110., in relation to the annuities or yearly sums of money therein allowed to be given and granted, 6 G. 4. c. 84. s. 4.

6. It shall be lawful for H. M., by any letters patent under the great seal of G. B., to give and grant unto any person executing the office of vice-chancellor of Eng. for the time being, an annuity or yearly sum of money not exceeding the sum of 3,750*l.*, to commence and take effect immediately from and after the period whenever the person to whom such annuity or yearly sum of money shall be granted shall resign the said office of vice-chancellor, and to continue from thenceforth for and during the natural life of the person to whom the same shall be granted as aforesaid; and such annuity or yearly sum shall be issued and payable out of, and charged and chargeable upon the consolidated fund next in order of payment to and after paying and reserving sufficient to pay all such sums of money as have been directed by any former act of parliament, and as are herein-before directed by this act to be paid out of the same, but with preference to all other payments which shall and may hereafter be charged upon or payable out of the said fund; and such annuity or yearly sum shall from time to time be paid and payable quarterly, free and clear of all taxes and deductions whatsoever, at the four usual days of payment in the year; that is to say, the 5th Jan., the 5th April, the 5th July, and the 10th Oct. in each year, by even and equal portions; the first payment to be made on such of the said days as shall next happen after such resignation as aforesaid of the said office: provided, that it shall be lawful for H. M., in and by such letters patent, to limit the duration and payment of any such annuity, or any part thereof, to such periods of time during the natural life of such person in which he shall not execute any office of profit under H. M., so as such annuity, together with the salary and profits of such other office, shall together not exceed in the whole the said sum of 3,750*l.*: provided also, that no such annuity or yearly sum of money granted to any person having executed the office of vice-chancellor shall be valid, unless such person shall have continued in the said office for the period of 15 years, or shall be afflicted with some permanent infirmity disabling him from the due execution of his office, which shall be distinctly recited in the said grant, 6 G. 4. c. 84. s. 5.

7. No fees or pecuniary profits whatever, other than and except the salaries and receipts permitted by this act, shall from and after the 5th July 1825, be received by or be payable to or to the use of the chief baron, or the puisne judges or justices of the courts of K. B. or C. P., or the barons of the coif of the court of exchequer, in respect of the execution of their said offices respectively, either in their respective courts in Westminster hall, or at their respective chambers, in respect of any business depending in the courts of K. B., C. P., or exchequer: any act or acts of parliament, or any law, usage, or statute to the contrary in anywise notwithstanding; and that from and after the 5th July 1825, the several officers of the chief baron, and of each of the puisne judges, justices, and barons of the coif respectively, and the several other persons who have been heretofore used and accustomed to receive such fees and pecuniary profits for the use of the said chief baron, puisne judges, justices and barons respectively, shall continue to receive the same and the like fees for the public use, 6 G. 4. c. 84. s. 6.

8. And whereas by writ of privy seal granted in the 2d Geo. 3., reciting that a reward of 40*l.* per annum, at the rate of 10*l.* in every term, had long since been assigned to the second judge of the court of K. B., in respect of his labour and trouble in giving the charge to the grand jury, and pronouncing judgment in the said court against malefactors, it was declared, that regular payment should be made of the aforesaid termly allowance of 10*l.* to the said second judge of the said court for the time being, in respect of his pains and service above mentioned; be it enacted and declared, That the said termly allowance of 10*l.*, or reward of 40*l.* per annum, is not intended to be included in the fees and pecuniary profits by this act directed to be received and accounted for and paid to the account of the consolidated fund; but that the said termly allowance of 10*l.*, or reward of 40*l.* per annum, shall continue to be paid to the said second judge of the said court of K. B. after the passing of this act, in addition to all other sums of money which such second judge shall be entitled to receive under or by virtue of this act, or any other act or acts, 6 G. 4. c. 84. s. 7.

9. Such officer of the master of the rolls and of the vice-chancellor respectively for the time being, as they shall respectively appoint, shall, as soon as conveniently may be after the expiration of the half year ending on the 5th Jan. 1826, deliver to the treasury, an account signed by such master of the rolls and vice-chancellor respectively, of the amount of all fees paid to the said master of the rolls, and of all sums of money received by or payable to or to the use of such master of the rolls and vice-chancellor respectively, under or by virtue of the several acts herein-before mentioned (after deducting all fees and taxes paid in respect thereof), between the 5th July 1825, and 5th Jan. 1826; and a like account shall be delivered in like manner, in every succeeding half year ending on the 5th July and 5th Jan. in every year, of all fees paid to the said master of the rolls, and for all sums received by or payable to or to the use of the said master of the rolls and vice-chancellor respectively, in respect of their said offices respectively, under the said recited acts for the preceding half year: and in whatever sums the whole amount which shall have been received or were payable to the said master of the rolls and vice-chancellor respectively, in respect of their said several offices, within the half year preceding the delivery of any such account, shall be less than the clear sum of 7,000*l.* in respect of the said master of the rolls, or of 6,000*l.* in respect of the said vice-chancellor, shall be the sums to be issued for the half year in which the said account shall be delivered, and shall be computed and ascertained so as to make up the whole of their respective salaries and pecuniary profits for such half year, to one half of the amount of the several salaries respectively herein-before mentioned, and such sums shall be issued accordingly, and as if the sums so to be ascertained had been specifically mentioned in this act, 6 G. 4. c. 84. s. 8.

10. Provided, that if any person executing the said offices of master of the rolls or vice-chancellor respectively, shall die, or shall resign such office, the executors or administrators of the person so dying, or the person so resigning the same, shall be entitled to such proportionable part of the clear salary and profits of such offices respectively as aforesaid, as according to the rates above-mentioned shall have accrued during the time that such person shall have executed such office as aforesaid; and the proper officer of the successor of every such person shall on the 5th Jan. or 5th July, as the case may be, which shall be immediately subsequent to every such death or resignation, or as soon after as conveniently may be, deliver in such account as is herein-before required to be delivered, signed by such successor, and also by his predecessor, or the executors or administrators of such predecessor, as the case may be; and such successor and his predecessor, in case of resignation, and the executors or administrators of such predecessor, in case of death, shall be respectively entitled to and shall receive such proportionable part of such sum as upon such account shall be due and payable by virtue of this act as aforesaid; and in case any such person so dying or resigning shall have received, during such part of the half year in which such person shall die or resign, more than a proportionable part of the clear salary of his office, according to the time during which such person shall have executed such office, every such person so resigning, or the executors or administrators of the person so dying, shall pay to the successor of every such person so much as the sums received shall exceed the sums to which such person so dying shall have been entitled according to the provisions of this act, 6 G. 4. c. 84. s. 9.

JURY.

[STATUTES repealed.—See 6 G. 4. c. 50. s. 62. pl. 63.]

STATUTE in force.

1. For consolidating and amending the laws relative to juries and jurors, 6 G. 4. c. 50.

2. Whereas the laws relative to the qualification and summoning of jurors, and the formation of juries in Eng. and Wa., are very numerous and complicated, and it is expedient to consolidate and simplify the same, and to increase the number of persons qualified to serve on juries, and to alter the mode of striking special juries, and in some other respects to amend the said laws; be it therefore enacted, That every man, except as herein-after excepted, between the ages of 21 years and 60 years, residing in any county in Eng., who shall have in his own name or in trust for him, within the same county, 10*l.* by the year above reprises in lands or tenements, whether of freehold, copyhold, or customary tenure, or of ancient demesne, or in rents issuing out of any such lands or tenements, or in such lands, tenements, and rents taken together, in fee simple, fee tail, or for the life of himself or some other person, or who shall have within the same county 20*l.* by the year above reprises, in lands or tenements, held by lease or leases for the absolute term of 21 years, or some longer term, or for any term of years determinable on any life or lives, or who being a householder shall be rated or assessed to the poor rate, or to the inhabited house duty in the county of Middlesex, on a value of not less than 30*l.*, or in any other county on a value of not less than 20*l.*, or who shall occupy a house containing not less than 15 windows, shall be qualified and shall be liable to serve on juries for the trial of all issues joined in any of the king's courts of record at Westminster, and in the superior courts, both civil and criminal, of the three counties palatine, and in all courts of assize, nisi prius, oyer and terminer, and gaol delivery, such issues being respectively triable in the county in which every man so qualified respectively shall reside, and shall also be qualified and liable to serve on grand juries in courts of sessions of the peace and on petty juries, for the trial of all issues joined in such courts of sessions of the peace, and triable in the county, riding, or division in which every man so qualified respectively shall reside; and that every man (except as herein-after excepted) being between the aforesaid ages, residing in any county in Wa., and being there qualified to the extent of three-fifths of any of the foregoing qualifications, shall be qualified and shall be liable to serve on juries for the trial of all issues joined in the courts of great sessions, and on grand juries in courts of sessions of the peace, and on petty juries for the trial of all issues joined in such courts of sessions of the peace, in every county of Wa., in which every man so qualified as last aforesaid respectively shall reside, 6 G. 4. c. 50. s. 1.

3. Provided, that all peers, all judges of the king's courts of record at Westminster, and of the courts of great session in Wa.; all clergymen in holy orders; all priests of the roman catholic faith who shall have duly taken and subscribed the oaths and declarations required by law; all persons who shall teach or preach in any congregation of protestant dissenters; whose place of meeting is duly registered, and who shall follow no secular occupation except that of a schoolmaster, producing a certificate of some justice of the peace of their having taken the oaths, and subscribed the declaration required by law; all serjeants and barristers at law actually practising; all members of the society of doctors of law, and advocates of the civil law, actually practising; all attornies, solicitors, and proctors duly admitted in any court of law or equity, or of ecclesiastical or admiralty jurisdiction, in which attornies, solicitors, and proctors have usually been admitted, actually practising, and having duly taken out their annual certificates; all officers of any such courts actually exercising the duties of their respective offices; all coroners, gaolers, and keepers of houses of correction; all members and licentiates of the royal college of physicians in London actually practising; all surgeons being members of one of the royal colleges of surgeons in London, Edinburgh, or Dublin, and actually practising; all apothecaries certificated by the court of examiners of the apothecaries company, and actually practising; all officers in H. M.'s navy or army on full pay; all pilots licenced by the Trinity-house of Deptford Strond, Kingston-upon-Hull, or Newcastle-upon-Tyne, and all masters of vessels in the buoy and light service employed by either of those corporations, and all pilots licensed by the lord warden of the cinque ports, or under any act of parliament or charter for the regulation of pilots in any other port; all the household servants of H. M.; all officers of customs and excise; all sheriff's officers, high constables, and parish clerks, shall be and are hereby absolutely freed and exempted from being returned, and from serving upon any juries or inquests whatsoever, and shall not be inserted in the lists to be prepared by virtue of this act as herein-after mentioned: provided, that all persons exempt from serving upon juries in any of the courts aforesaid, by virtue of any prescription, charter, grant, or writ, shall continue to have and enjoy such exemption in as ample a manner as before the passing of this act, and shall not be inserted in the lists herein-after mentioned, 6 G. 4. c. 50. s. 2.

4. Provided, that no man, not being a natural born subject of the King, is or shall be qualified to serve on juries or inquests, except only in the cases herein-after expressly provided for; and no man who hath been or shall be attainted of any treason or felony, or convicted of any crime that is infamous, unless he shall have obtained a free pardon, nor any man who is under outlawry or excommunication, is or shall be qualified to serve on juries or inquests in any court, or on any occasion whatsoever, 6 G. 4. c. 50. s. 3.

5. The clerk of the peace in every county, riding, and division in Eng. and Wa., shall within the first week of July in every year, issue and deliver his warrant (in the form set forth in the schedule hereunto annexed, or as near thereto as may be) to the high constables of each hundred, lathe, wapentake, or other like district, by which he shall command them to issue forth their precepts to the churchwardens and overseers of the poor of the several parishes, and to the overseers of the poor of the several townships within their respective constablewicks, requiring them to prepare and make out, before the 1st Sept. then next ensuing, a true list of all men residing within their respective parishes and townships, qualified and liable to serve on juries according to this act as aforesaid, and also to perform and comply with all other the requisitions in the said precepts contained, 6 G. 4. c. 50. s. 4.

6. Every such clerk of the peace shall cause a sufficient number of warrants, precepts, and returns to be printed, according to the several forms set forth in the schedule hereunto annexed, at the expence of the county, riding, or division, and shall annex to every warrant a competent number of precepts and returns, for the use of the respective persons by whom such precepts are to be issued and such returns to be made, 6 G. 4. c. 50. s. 5.

7. Within 14 days after the receipt of such warrant of the clerk of the peace, every high constable shall issue and deliver his precept (in the form set forth in the schedule hereunto annexed, or as near thereto as may be), together with a competent number of the printed forms of returns, to the churchwardens and overseers of the poor of the several parishes, and to the overseers of the poor of the several townships within his constablewick, requiring them by such precept to prepare and make out a true list of all men residing within their respective parishes and townships, qualified and liable to serve as jurors as aforesaid, and to perform and comply with all the requisitions in the said precept contained; provided, that where in any hundred, lathe, wapentake, or other like district, there shall be more than one high constable, in such case the clerk of the peace shall issue and deliver his warrant, together with a competent number of the precepts and returns as aforesaid, to every one of such high constables, each of whom shall be individually liable for the due performance of the several matters commanded in such warrant throughout the whole of such hundred, lathe, wapentake, or other like district, and shall for the non-performance thereof be subject to all and every the penalties by this act imposed upon any high constable; provided also, that where in any parish there shall be no overseers of the poor, other than the churchwardens, such churchwardens shall be deemed and taken to be the churchwardens and overseers of the poor of such parish within the meaning of this act, to all intents and purposes; provided also, that where any parish or township shall extend into more than one hundred, lathe, wapentake, or other like district, either in the same or different counties, such parish or township shall be deemed and taken, for all the purposes of this act, to be within that hundred, lathe, wapentake, or other like district, in which the principal church of such parish or township shall be situate, 6 G. 4. c. 50. s. 6.

8. It shall be lawful for the justices of the peace of any division in Eng. or Wa. at a special petty sessions to be holden for that purpose before the first day of July in any year, to make an order for annexing any extra-parochial place, whenever they shall think it expedient, to any parish or township adjoining thereto, for the purposes of this act, and a copy of such order shall, within five days from the making thereof, be served upon the churchwardens and overseers of such adjoining parish, or upon the overseers of such adjoining township, and such extra-parochial place shall from thence continually be deemed and taken, for all the purposes of this act, to be within and to form an integral part of such parish or township; and the churchwardens and overseers of such parish, and the overseers of such township shall be, and they are hereby respectively authorized and required to make out, according to this act, a true list of all men qualified and liable to serve on juries as aforesaid, residing as well in their own respective parish or township as in the extra-parochial place thereto annexed, and shall from time to time perform and execute within such extra-parochial place for the purposes of this act, but for no other purpose, all and every the same acts, duties, powers, and authorities, as in their own respective parish or township, and shall be as fully liable to the same penalties for the non-performance thereof within such extra-parochial place, as if they had in every instance been mentioned in this act with reference to such extra-parochial place, 6 G. 4. c. 50. s. 7.

9. The churchwardens and overseers of every parish, and the overseers of every township, within the meaning of this act, shall forthwith, after the receipt of such precept from the high constable, prepare and make out in alphabetical order a true list of every man residing within their respective parishes or townships, who shall be qualified and liable to serve on juries as aforesaid, with the christian and surname written at full length, and with the true place of abode, the title, quality, calling, or business, and the nature of the qualification of every such man, in the proper columns of the form of return set forth in the schedule hereunto annexed, 6 G. 4. c. 50. s. 8.

10. The churchwardens and overseers of each parish, and the overseers of each township, having made out according to this act a list of every man qualified and liable to serve on juries as aforesaid, shall, on the three first Sundays in the month of Sept., fix a true copy of such list upon the principal door of every church, chapel, and other public place of religious worship within their respective parishes or townships, having first subjoined to every such copy a notice, stating that all objections to the list will be heard by the justices of the peace at a time and place to be mentioned in such notice, and having also signed their names at the foot of such copy, and shall likewise keep the original list, or a true copy thereof, to be perused by any of the inhabitants of their respective parishes or townships, at any reasonable time during the three first weeks of the month of Sept., without any fee or reward, to the end that notice may be given of men qualified who are omitted, or of men inserted who ought to be omitted out of such list; and the churchwardens and overseers of each parish, and the overseers of each township, are hereby authorized to cause a sufficient number of copies of such lists for the purposes aforesaid, to be printed at the expence of their respective parishes or townships, 6 G. 4. c. 50. s. 9.

11. The justices of the peace in every division in Eng. and Wa. shall hold a special petty sessions for the purposes herein-mentioned, within the last seven days of Sept. in every year, on some day and at some place, of which notice shall be given by their clerk, before the 20th Aug. next preceding, to the high constable and to the churchwardens and overseers of every parish, and to the overseers of every township, within such division; and the churchwardens and overseers of each parish, and the overseers of each township, shall then and there produce the list of men qualified and liable to serve on juries as aforesaid within their respective parishes or townships, by them prepared and made out, as herein-before directed, and shall answer upon oath such questions touching the same as shall be put to them, or any of them, by the justices then present; and if any man not qualified and liable to serve on juries as aforesaid is inserted in any such list, it shall be lawful for the said justices, upon satisfaction from the oath of the party complaining, or other proof, or upon their own knowledge, that he is not qualified and liable to serve on juries, to strike his name out of such list, and also to strike thereout the names of men disabled by lunacy or imbecility of mind, or by deafness, blindness, or other permanent infirmity of body, from serving on juries; and it shall also be lawful for such justices to insert in such list the name of any man omitted therein, and likewise to reform any errors or omissions which shall appear to them to have been committed in respect to the name, place of abode, title, quality, calling, business, or the nature of the qualification of any man included in any such list: provided, that no man's name, if omitted, shall be inserted in such list, nor shall any error or omission in the description of any man in such list be reformed by the said justices, unless upon the application of such men respectively, or unless such men respectively shall have had notice that an application for such purpose would be made to the justices at such petty sessions, or unless the said justices at such sessions, or any two of them, shall cause notice to be given to such men respectively, requiring them to show cause, at some adjournment of such petty sessions to be holden within four days thereafter, why their names should not be inserted in such list, or why any error or omission in the description of such men in such list should not be reformed; and when every such list shall be duly corrected at such sessions, or at such adjournment thereof, it shall be allowed by the justices present, or two of them, at such sessions or such adjournment, who shall sign the same, with their allowance thereof; and the high constable shall receive every list so allowed, and deliver the same to the court of quarter sessions next holden for the county, riding, or division, on the first day of its sitting, at the same time attesting on oath his receipt of every such list from the petty sessions, and that no alteration hath been made therein since his receipt thereof, 6 G. 4. c. 50. s. 10.

12. The respective churchwardens and overseers of every parish, and the overseers of every township, shall, for their assistance in completing the lists, pursuant to the intent of this act (upon request made by them or any of them at any reasonable time between the 1st July and the 1st Oct. in every year to any collector or assessor of taxes, or to any other officer having the custody of any duplicate or tax assessment for such parish or township), have free liberty to inspect any such duplicate or assessment, and take from thence the names of such men qualified to serve on juries, dwelling within their respective parishes or townships, as may appear to them or any of them to be necessary or useful; and every court of petty sessions and justice of the peace shall, upon the like request to any collector or assessor of taxes, or any other officer having the custody of any duplicate or tax assessment, or to any churchwarden or churchwardens, or overseer or overseers, having the custody of any poor rate within their respective divisions, have the like free liberty to inspect and make extracts from any such duplicate, tax assessment, or poor rate, for the purpose of assisting them in the reformation and completion of the jury lists within their respective divisions, 6 G. 4. c. 50. s. 11.

13. The clerk of the peace shall keep the lists, so returned by the high constable to the court of quarter sessions, among the records of the sessions, arranged with every hundred in alphabetical order, and every parish or township within such hundred, likewise in alphabetical order, and shall cause the same to be fairly and truly copied in the same order, in a book to be by him provided for that purpose, at the expence of the county, riding, or division, with proper columns for making the register herein-after directed, and shall deliver the same book to the sheriff of the county or his under-sheriff, within six weeks next after the close of such sessions, which book shall be called "The Jurors' Book for the Year" (inserting the calendar year for which such book is to be in use); and that every sheriff on quitting his office shall deliver the same to the succeeding sheriff; and that every jurors' book so prepared shall be brought into use on the first day of Jan. after it shall be so delivered by the clerk of the peace to the sheriff or his under-sheriff, and shall be used for one year then next following, 6 G. 4. c. 50. s. 12.

14. Every writ of venire facias juratores for the trial of any issue whatsoever, whether civil or criminal, or on any penal statute, in any of the courts in Eng. or Wa. herein-before mentioned, shall direct the sheriff to return twelve good and lawful men of the body of his county, qualified according to law, and the rest of the writ shall proceed in the accustomed form; and that every precept to be issued for the return of jurors before courts of oyer and terminer, gaol delivery, the superior criminal courts of the three counties palatine, and courts of sessions of the peace in Eng. and before the courts of great sessions and sessions of the peace in Wa., shall in like manner direct the sheriff to return a competent number of good and lawful men of the body of his county, qualified according to law, and shall not require the same to be returned from any hundred or hundreds, or from any particular venue within the county, and that the want of hundredors shall be no cause of challenge; any law, custom, or usage to the contrary notwithstanding, 6 G. 4. c. 50. s. 13.

15. Every sheriff, upon the receipt of every such writ of venire facias and precept for the return of jurors, shall return the names of men contained in the jurors' book for the then current year, and no others; and that where process for returning a jury for the trial of any of the issues aforesaid shall be directed to any coroner, elisor, or other minister, he shall have free access to the jurors' book for the current year, and shall in like manner return the names of men contained therein, and no others: provided, that if there shall be no jurors' book in existence for the current year, it shall be lawful to return jurors from the jurors' book for the year preceding, 6 G. 4. c. 50. s. 14.

16. Every sheriff or other minister to whom the return of juries for the trial of issues before any court of assize or nisi prius in any county of Eng., except the counties palatine, may belong, shall, upon his return of every writ of venire facias (unless in causes intended to be tried at bar, or in cases where a special jury shall be struck by order or rule of court), annex a panel to the said writ, containing the names alphabetically arranged, together with the places of abode and additions, of a competent number of jurors named in the jurors' book, and that the names of the same jurors shall be inserted in the panel annexed to every venire facias for the trial of all issues at the same assizes or sessions of nisi prius in each respective county, which number of jurors shall not in any county be less than 48 nor more than 72, unless by the direction of the judges appointed to hold the assizes or sessions of nisi prius in the same county, or one of them, who are and is hereby empowered, by order under their or his hands or hand, to direct a greater or lesser number, and then such number as shall be so directed shall be the number to be returned; and that in the writ of habeas corpora juratorum or distringas, subsequent to such writ of venire facias, it shall not be requisite to insert the names of all the jurors contained in such panel, but it shall be sufficient to insert in the mandatory part of such writs respectively, "the bodies of the several persons in the panel to this writ annexed named," or words of the like import; and to annex to such writs respectively panels containing the same names as were returned in the panel to such venire facias, with their places of abode and additions; and that for making the returns and panels aforesaid, and annexing the same to the respective writs, the ancient legal fee, and no other, shall be taken; and that the men named in such panels, and no others, shall be summoned to serve on juries at the then next court of assizes or sessions of nisi prius for the respective counties named in such writs, 6 G. 4. c. 50. s. 15.

17. If any plaintiff or demandant in any cause which shall be at issue in any of H. M.'s courts of record at Westminster, or any defendant in any action of quare impedit or replevin which shall be so at issue, shall sue out any writ of venire facias, upon which any writ of habeas corpora or distringas with a nisi prius shall issue, in order to the trial of the said issue at the assizes or sessions of nisi prius, and shall not proceed to trial at the first assizes or sessions of nisi prius after the teste of such writ of habeas corpora or distringas, then and in every such case (except when a view by jurors shall be directed, as herein-after mentioned) such plaintiff, demandant, or defendant, whensoever he shall think fit to try the said issue at any other assizes or sessions of nisi prius, shall sue forth a new writ of venire facias commanding the sheriff to return anew twelve good and lawful men of the body of his county, qualified according to law, and the rest of the writ shall proceed in the accustomed manner; which writ being duly returned, a writ of habeas corpora or distringas with a nisi prius shall issue thereupon (for which the same fees shall be paid as in the case of the pluries habeas corpora or distringas with a nisi prius), upon which such plaintiff, demandant, or defendant shall and may proceed to trial as lawfully and effectually to all intents and purposes as if no former writ of venire facias had been prosecuted in that cause, and so toties quoties, as the case shall require; and if any defendant or tenant in any action depending in any of the said courts shall be minded to bring to trial any issue joined against him, where by the practice of the court he may do the same by proviso, he shall or may, of the issuable term next preceding such intended trial to be had at the next assizes or sessions of nisi prius, sue out a new venire facias to the sheriff in the form aforesaid by proviso, and prosecute the same by writ of habeas corpora or distringas with a nisi prius, as lawfully and effectually to all intents and purposes as if no former writ of venire facias had been sued out or returned in that cause, and so toties quoties, as the matter shall require, 6 G. 4. c. 50. s. 16.

18. Every sheriff or other minister to whom the return of juries for the trial of causes in the superior courts of the said counties palatine may belong, shall, 10 days at least before the said courts shall respectively be held, summon a competent number of men, named in the jurors' book, to serve on juries in the said courts, so as such number be not less than 48 nor more than 72, without the direction of the judge or judges of the courts for such counties palatine respectively; and the sheriff or other minister who shall summon such jurors shall return a list containing the names, alphabetically arranged, and the places of abode and additions of the jurors so summoned, on the first day of the court to be held for the said counties palatine respectively; and the jurors so summoned, or a competent number of them, as the judge or judges of such courts respectively shall direct, and no others (unless in cases where a special jury shall be struck), shall be named in every panel to be annexed to every writ of venire facias juratores, habeas corpora juratorum, and distringas, which shall be issued out and returnable for the trial of causes in such courts respectively, 6 G. 4. c. 50. s. 17.

19. Every sheriff or other minister to whom the return of juries for the trial of causes in the court of great sessions in any county of Wa. may belong, shall, at least 10 days before every great sessions, summon a competent number of men named in the jurors' book, so as such number be not less than 48 or more than 72, without the direction of the judge or judges of the great sessions for such county, who is and are hereby empowered, if he or they shall see cause, by rule of court, or by an order of any judge thereof, to be made in vacation, if necessary, to direct a greater or lesser number to be summoned; and that the sheriff or other minister who shall summon such jurors shall return a list containing the names, alphabetically arranged, and the places of abode and additions of the jurors so summoned, at the first court of the second day of every great sessions; and that the jurors so summoned, or a competent number of them, as the judge or judges of such great sessions shall direct, and no others (unless in cases where a special jury shall be struck), shall be named in every panel to be annexed to every writ of venire facias juratores, habeas corpora juratorum, and distringas, which shall be issued out and returnable for the trial of causes at such great sessions, 6 G. 4. c. 50. s. 18.

20. The sheriff or other minister to whom the return of jurors for the trial of causes in any county in Eng. (except the counties palatine) may belong, shall cause to be made out an alphabetical list of the names of all the jurors contained in the panels to the several writs of venire facias annexed as aforesaid, with their respective places of abode and additions; and the sheriff or other minister to whom the return of jurors for the trial of causes in any county palatine, or in any county in Wa., may belong, shall cause to be made out in like manner a list of all the jurors so summoned in such respective counties as aforesaid; and every such sheriff or other minister shall keep such list in the office of his under-sheriff or deputy for seven days at least before the sitting of the next court of assize or nisi prius, or the next court to be holden for any county palatine, or the next court of great sessions in any county in Wa.; and the parties in all causes to be tried at any such court of assize or nisi prius, or court of any county palatine or great sessions, and their respective attornies, shall, on demand, have full liberty to inspect such list, without any fee or reward to be paid for inspection, 6 G. 4. c. 50. s. 19.

21. Provided, That the court of K. B. and all courts of oyer and terminer, gaol delivery, the superior criminal courts of the three counties palatine, and courts of sessions of the peace in Eng., and all courts of great sessions and sessions of the peace in Wa., shall respectively have and exercise the same power and authority as they have heretofore had and exercised in issuing any writ or precept, or in making any award or order, orally or otherwise, for the return of a jury for the trial of any issue before any of such courts respectively, or for the amending or enlarging the panel of jurors returned for the trial of any such issue; and the return to every such writ, precept, award, or order, shall be made in the manner heretofore used and accustomed in such courts respectively, save and except, that the jurors shall be returned from the body of the county, and not from any hundred or hundreds, or from any particular venue within the county, and shall be qualified according to this act, 6 G. 4. c. 50. s. 20.

22. When any person is indicted for high treason or misprision of treason, in any court other than the court of K. B., a list of the petit jury, mentioning the names, profession, and place of abode of the jurors, shall be given at the same time that the copy of the indictment is delivered to the party indicted, which shall be 10 days before the arraignment, and in the presence of two or more credible witnesses; and when any person is indicted for high treason or misprision of treason in the court of K. B., a copy of the indictment shall be delivered within the time and in the manner aforesaid; but the list of the petit jury, made out as aforesaid, may be delivered to the party indicted at any time after the arraignment, so as the same be delivered 10 days before the day of trial: provided, that nothing herein contained shall any ways extend to any indictment for high treason in compassing and imagining the death of the King, or for misprision of such treason, where the overt act or overt acts of such treason alledged in the indictment shall be assassination or killing of the King, or any direct attempt against his life, or any direct attempt against his person, whereby his life may be endangered, or his person may suffer bodily harm; or to any indictment of high treason for counterfeiting H. M.'s coin, the great seal or privy seal, his sign manual or privy signet; or to any indictment of high treason, or to any proceedings thereupon, against any offender who by any act now in force is to be indicted, arraigned, tried, and convicted by such like evidence, and in such manner as is used and allowed against offenders for counterfeiting H. M.'s coin, 6 G. 4. c. 50. s. 21.

23. In any county in which the justices of assize in Eng., or the justices of the superior courts of the said counties palatine, or the judges of the great sessions in any county of Wa., shall think fit so to direct, the sheriff or other minister to whom the return of the venire facias juratores, or other process for the trial of causes at nisi prius, doth belong, shall summon and impanel such number of jurors, not exceeding 144, as such judges or justices respectively shall think fit to direct, to serve indiscriminately on the criminal and civil side; and that where such judges or justices respectively shall so direct, the sheriff or other minister shall divide such jurors equally into two sets, the first of which sets shall attend and serve for so many days at the beginning of each assize or great sessions, as such judges or justices respectively shall, within a reasonable time before the commencement of such assize or great sessions, respectively think fit to direct, and the other of which sets shall attend and serve for the residue of such assize or great sessions: provided, that such sheriff or other minister shall, in the summons to the jurors in each of such sets, specify whether the juror named therein is in the first or second set, and at what time the attendance of such juror will be required; and the sheriff or other minister to whom the return of the venire facias juratores, or other process for the trial of causes at nisi prius, doth belong, shall, upon his return of every such writ or process, annex thereto a panel containing the names, alphabetically arranged, together with the additions and places of abode, of the jurors in each of such sets; and during the attendance and service of the first of such sets, the jury on the civil side shall be drawn from the names of the persons in that set, and during the attendance and service of the second of such sets, from the names of the persons in such second set: provided, that in any case wherein an order for a view shall have been obtained as herein-after mentioned, it shall be lawful for the judge before whom such case is to be tried, and he is hereby required, on the application of the party obtaining such order, to appoint such case to be tried during the attendance and service of that set of jurors in which the viewers, or the major part of them, are included, 6 G. 4. c. 50. s. 22.

24. Where in any case either civil or criminal, or on any penal statute, depending in any of the said courts of record at Westminster or in the counties palatine, or great sessions in Wa., it shall appear to any of the respective courts, or to any judge thereof in vacation, that it will be proper and necessary that some of the jurors who are to try the issues in such case should have the view of the place in question, in order to their better understanding the evidence that may be given upon the trial of such issues, in every such case such court, or any judge thereof in vacation, may order a rule to be drawn up, containing the usual terms, and also requiring, if such court or judge shall so think fit, the party applying for the view to deposit in the hands of the under-sheriff a sum of money to be named in the rule for payment of the expences of the view, and commanding special writs of venire facias, distringas, or habeas corpora, to issue, by which the sheriff or other minister to whom the said writs shall be directed shall be commanded to have six or more of the jurors named in such writs, or in the panels thereto annexed (who shall be mutually consented to by the parties, or, if they cannot agree, shall be nominated by the sheriff or such other minister as aforesaid), at the place in question, some convenient time before the trial, who then and there shall have the place in question shown to them by two persons in the said writs named, to be appointed by the court or judge; and the said sheriff or other minister who is to execute any such writ shall, by a special return upon the same, certify that the view hath been had according to the command of the same, and shall specify the names of the viewers, 6 G. 4. c. 50. s. 25.

25. Where a view shall be allowed in any case, those men who shall have had the view, or such of them as shall appear upon the jury to try the issue, shall be first sworn, and so many only shall be added to the viewers who shall appear, as shall, after all defaulters and challenges allowed, make up a full jury of twelve, 6 G. 4. c. 50. s. 24.

26. The summons of every man to serve on juries, not being special juries, in any of the courts aforesaid, shall be made by the proper officer 10 days at the least before the day on which the juror is to attend, by showing to the man to be summoned, or in case he shall be absent from the usual place of his abode, by leaving with some person there inhabiting, a note in writing, under the hand of the sheriff or other proper officer, containing the substance of such summons; and the summons of every man to serve on special juries in any of the courts aforesaid shall be made by the like persons, and in the like manner as aforesaid, three days at the least before the day on which the special juror is to attend: provided, that this act shall not require any longer time for summoning any jurors in the city of London or county of Mid- dlesex than has been heretofore by law required, nor shall give any longer time for the return of any writ of venire facias, habeas corpora, or distringas, than has been heretofore by law required; but that where there shall not be 10 days between the awarding of such writ and the return thereof, every juror may be summoned, attached or distrained, to appear at the day and time therein mentioned, as he might heretofore have been, 6 G. 4. c. 150. s. 25.

27. The name of each man who shall be summoned and impanelled in any court of assize or nisi prius, or for the trial of issues in the civil courts of the counties palatine or great sessions, with the place of his abode and addition, shall be written on a distinct piece of parchment or card, such pieces of parchment or card being all as nearly as may be of equal size, and shall be delivered unto the associate or prothonotary of such court by the under-sheriff of the county, or the secondary of the city of London, and shall, by direction and care of such associate or prothonotary, be put together in a box to be provided for that purpose, and when any issue shall be brought on to be tried, such associate or prothonotary shall in open court draw out 12 of the said parchments or cards one after another, and if any of the men whose names shall be so drawn shall not appear, or shall be challenged and set aside, then such further number, until 12 men be drawn, who shall appear, and after all just causes of challenge allowed, shall remain as fair and indifferent; and the said 12 men so first drawn and appearing, and approved as indifferent, their names being marked in the panel, and they being sworn, shall be the jury to try the issue, and the names of the men so drawn and sworn shall be kept apart by themselves until such jury shall have given in their verdict, and the same shall be recorded, or until such jury shall, by consent of the parties or by leave of the court, be discharged, and then the same names shall be returned to the box, there to be kept with the other names remaining at that time undrawn, and so toties quoties as long as any issue remains to be tried: provided, that if any issue shall be brought on to be tried in any of the said courts before the jury in any other issue shall have brought in their verdict or been discharged, it shall be lawful for the court to order 12 of the residue of the said parchments or cards, not containing the names of any of the jurors who shall not have so brought in their verdict or been discharged, to be drawn in such manner as is aforesaid, for the trial of the issue which shall be so brought on to be tried: provided also, that where no objection shall be made on behalf of the King or any other party, it shall be lawful for the court to try any issue with the same jury that shall have previously tried or been drawn to try any other issue, without their names being returned to the box and redrawn, or to order the name or names of any man or men on such jury, whom both parties may consent to withdraw, or who may be justly challenged or excused by the court, to be set aside, and another name or other names to be drawn from the box, and to try the issue with the residue of such original jury, and with such man or men whose name or names shall be so drawn, and who shall appear and be approved as indifferent, and so toties quoties as long as any issue remains to be tried, 6 G. 4. c. 50. s. 26.

28. If any man shall be returned as a juror for the trial of any issue in any of the courts herein-before mentioned, who shall not be qualified according to this act, the want of such qualification shall be good cause of challenge, and he shall be discharged upon such challenge, if the court shall be satisfied of the fact; and that if any man returned as a juror for the trial of any such issue shall be qualified in other respects according to this act, the want of freehold shall not on such trial in any case, civil or criminal, be accepted as good cause of challenge, either by the crown or by the party, nor as cause for discharging the man so returned upon his own application; any law, custom, or usage to the contrary notwithstanding; provided, that nothing herein contained shall extend in any wise to any special juror, 6 G. 4. c. 50. s. 27.

29. No challenge shall be taken to any panel of jurors for want of a knight's being returned in such panel, nor any array quashed by reason of any such challenge; any law, custom, or usage to the contrary notwithstanding, 6 G. 4. c. 50. s. 28.

30. In all inquests to be taken before any of the courts herein-before mentioned, wherein the King is a party, howsoever it be, notwithstanding it be alleged by them that sue for the King, that the jurors of those inquests, or some of them, be not indifferent for the King, yet such inquests shall not remain untaken for that cause; but if they that sue for the King will challenge any of those jurors, they shall assign of their challenge a cause certain, and the truth of the same challenge shall be inquired of according to the custom of the court; and it shall be proceeded to the taking of the same inquisitions, as it shall be found, if the challenges be true or not, after the discretion of the court; and that no person arraigned for murder or felony shall be admitted to any peremptory challenge above the number of twenty, 6 G. 4. c. 50. s. 29.

31. It is and shall be lawful for H. M.'s courts of K. B., C. P., and exchequer at Westminster respectively, and for the judges of the said courts of the three counties palatine, and of the courts of great sessions in Wa., upon motion made on behalf of the King, or upon the motion of any prosecutor, relator, plaintiff, or demandant, or of any defendant or tenant, in any case whatsoever, whether civil or criminal, or on any penal statute, excepting only indictments for treason or felony, depending in any of the said courts, and the said courts and judges respectively are hereby authorized, in any of the cases before mentioned, to order and appoint a special jury to be struck before the proper officer of each respective court, for the trial of any issue joined in any of the said cases, and triable by a jury, in such manner as the said courts respectively have usually ordered the same; and every jury so struck shall be the jury returned for the trial of such issue, 6 G. 4. c. 50. s. 30.

32. Every man who shall be described in the jurors' book for any county in Eng. or Wa., or for the county of the city of London, as an esquire or person of higher degree, or as a banker or merchant, shall be qualified and liable to serve on special juries in every such county in Eng. and Wa., and in London respectively; and the sheriff of every county in Eng. and Wa., or his under-sheriff, and the sheriffs of London or their secondary, shall, within 10 days after the delivery of the jurors' book for the current year to either of them, take from such book the names of all men who shall be described therein as esquires or persons of higher degree, or as bankers or merchants, and shall respectively cause the names of all such men to be fairly and truly copied out in alphabetical order, together with their respective places of abode and additions, in a separate list to be subjoined to the jurors' book, which list shall be called "The Special Jurors' List," and shall prefix to every name in such list its proper number, beginning the numbers from the first name, and continuing them in a regular arithmetical series down to the last name, and shall cause the said several numbers to be written upon distinct pieces of parchment or card, being all as nearly as may be of equal size, and after all the said numbers shall have been so written, shall put the same together in a separate drawer or box, and shall there safely keep the same to be used for the purpose herein-after mentioned, 6 G. 4. c. 50. s. 31.

33. Whenever any of the courts or judges above mentioned shall order a special jury to be struck before the proper officer of such court, such officer shall appoint a time and place for the nomination of such special jury; and a copy of the rule of court, and of such officer's appointment, shall be served on the under-sheriff of the county in Eng. or Wa. in which the trial is to be had, or on the secondary of the city of London, if the trial is to be had there, and also on all the parties who have usually been served with the same respectively, in the accustomed manner; and the said officer, at the time and place appointed, being attended by such under-sheriff or secondary, or his agent, who are hereby respectively required to bring with them the jurors' book and such special jurors' list, and all the numbers so written on distinct pieces of parchment or card as aforesaid, shall, in the presence of all the parties in any of the cases aforesaid, and of their attornies (if they respectively choose to attend, or if the said parties or their attornies, all or any of them, do not attend, then in their absence), put all the said numbers into a box, to be by him provided for that purpose, and after having shaken them together shall draw out of the said box 48 of the said numbers, one after another, and shall, as each number is drawn, refer to the corresponding number in the special jurors' list, and read aloud the name designated by such number; and if at the time of so reading any name, either party or his attorney shall object that the man whose name shall have been so referred to is in any manner incapacitated from serving on the said jury, and shall also then and there prove the same to the satisfaction of the said officer, such name shall be set aside, and the said officer shall instead thereof draw out of the said box another number, and shall in like manner refer to the corresponding number in the said list, and read aloud the name designated thereby, which name may be in like manner set aside, and other numbers and names shall in every such case be resorted to, according to the mode of proceeding herein-before described, for the purpose of supplying names in the places of those set aside, until the whole number of 48 names not liable to be set aside shall be completed: and if in any case it shall so happen that the whole number of 48 names cannot be obtained from the special jurors' list, in such case the said officer shall fairly and indifferently take, according to the mode of nomination heretofore pursued in nominating special juries, such a number of names from the general jurors' book, in addition to those already taken from the special jurors' list, as shall be required to make up the full number of 48 names, all and every of which 48 names shall in such case be equally deemed and taken to be those of special jurors; and the said officer shall afterwards make out for each party a list of the 48 names together with their respective places of abode and additions, and after having made out such list, shall return all the numbers so drawn out, together with all the numbers remaining undrawn, to such under-sheriff or secondary, or his agent, to be by such under-sheriff or secondary safely and securely kept for future use; and all the subsequent proceedings for reducing the said list, and all other matters whatsoever relating to special juries, shall remain and continue in force as heretofore, except where the same or any part thereof is expressly altered by this act; and all the fees heretofore payable on the striking of special juries, shall continue to be paid in the accustomed manner, 6 G. 4. c. 50. s. 32.

34. Provided, that nothing herein contained shall be construed to prevent the parties in any cause, or their attornies, from consenting to have a special jury nominated according to the mode used and accustomed before the passing of this act, and upon a consent to that effect, signed by each party or his attorney, being communicated to the proper officer, he is hereby authorized and required to nominate a special jury for the trial of every such cause, according to the mode used and accustomed before the passing of this act: provided also, that nothing herein contained shall be construed to prevent the same special jury, however nominated, from trying any number of causes, so as the parties in every such cause, or their attornies, shall have signified their assent in writing to the nomination of such special jury for the trial of their respective causes: provided, that it shall be lawful for the court, if it shall so think fit, upon the application of any man who shall have served upon one or more special juries at any assizes or sessions of nisi prius, to discharge such man from serving upon any other special jury during the same assizes or sessions of nisi prius, 6 G. 4. c. 50. s. 33.

35. The person or party who shall apply for a special jury, shall pay the fees for striking such jury, and all the expences occasioned by the trial of the cause by the same, and shall not have any further or other allowance for the same, upon taxation of costs, than such person or party would be entitled unto in case the cause had been tried by a common jury; unless the judge before whom the cause is tried shall, immediately after the verdict, certify, under his hand, upon the back of the record, that the same was a cause proper to be tried by a special jury, 6 G. 4. c. 50. s. 34.

36. No juror who shall serve upon any special jury shall be allowed or take for serving on any such jury more than such sum of money as the judge who tries the issue shall think just and reasonable, and which shall not exceed the sum of 1*l.* 1*s.*, except in causes wherein a view is directed, and shall have been had by such juror, 6 G. 4. c. 50. s. 35.

37. Provided, that where any special jury shall be ordered, by any rule in any of the courts aforesaid, to be struck by the proper officer of such court, in any cause arising in any county of a city or town, except the city of London, the sheriff or sheriffs thereof, or the under-sheriff respectively, shall be commanded by such rule to bring or cause to be brought, before the proper officer of such court, the books or lists of persons qualified to serve on juries within the same county of a city or town; and in every such case the jury shall be taken and struck out of such books or lists respectively, in the manner heretofore used and accustomed; any thing in this act to the contrary notwithstanding, 6 G. 4. c. 50. s. 36.

38. Where a full jury shall not appear before any court of assize or nisi prius, or before any of the superior civil courts of the three counties palatine, or before any court of great sessions, or where, after appearance of a full jury, by challenge of any of the parties, the jury is likely to remain untaken for default of jurors, every such court, upon request made for the King by any one thereto authorized or assigned by the court, or on request made by the parties, plaintiff or demandant, defendant or tenant, or their respective attornies, in any action or suit, whether popular or private, shall command the sheriff or other minister, to whom the making of the return shall belong, to name and appoint, as often as need shall require, so many of such other able men of the county then present as shall make up a full jury; and the sheriff or other minister aforesaid shall, at such command of the court, return such men duly qualified as shall be present or can be found to serve on such jury, and shall add and annex their names to the former panel: provided, that where a special jury shall have been struck for the trial of any issue, the talesmen shall be such as shall be impanelled upon the common jury panel to serve at the same court, if a sufficient number of such men can be found; and the King, by any one so authorized or assigned as aforesaid, and all and every the parties aforesaid, shall and may, in each of the cases aforesaid, have their respective challenges to the jurors so added and annexed, and the court shall proceed to the trial of every such issue with those jurors who were before impanelled, together with the talesmen so newly added and annexed, as if all the said jurors had been returned upon the writ or precept awarded to try the issue, 6 G. 4. c. 50. s. 37.

39. If any man having been duly summoned to attend on any kind of jury in any of the courts in Eng. or Wa. herein-before mentioned, shall not attend in pursuance of such summons, or being thrice called shall not answer to his name, or if any such man, or any talesman, after having been called, shall be present but not appear, or after his appearance shall wilfully withdraw himself from the presence of the court, the court shall set such fine upon every such man or talesman so making default (unless some reasonable excuse shall be proved by oath or affidavit), as the court shall think meet: provided, that where any viewer, having been duly summoned to attend on any jury, shall make default as aforesaid, the court is hereby authorized and required to set upon such viewer unless some reasonable excuse shall be proved as aforesaid) a fine to the amount of 10*l.* at the least, and as much more as the court, under the circumstances of the particular case, shall think proper, 6 G. 4. c. 50. s. 38.

40. Every sheriff and other minister, to whom the return of juries shall belong, shall be and is hereby indemnified for impannelling and returning any man named in the jurors' book, although he may not be qualified or liable to serve on juries; and that if any sheriff or other such minister shall wilfully impanel and return any man to serve on any jury before any of the courts in Eng. or Wa. herein-before mentioned (except on the grand jury at any assizes or great sessions), such man's name not being inserted in the jurors' book for the current year, or, if such book has not been delivered, then in the jurors' book last delivered, or if any clerk of assize, associate, prothonotary, clerk of the peace, or other officer of any of the courts aforesaid, shall wilfully record the appearance of any man so summoned and returned, who did not really appear, in every such case the court shall and may, upon examination in a summary way, set such fine upon such sheriff, minister, clerk of assize, associate, prothonotary, clerk of the peace, or other officer offending, as the court shall think meet, 6 G. 4. c. 50. s. 39.

41. The sheriff or his under-sheriff, shall from time to time register alphabetically, in proper columns, to be prepared in the jurors' book for that purpose, the services of such men as shall be summoned and shall attend to serve as jurors on trials, before any court of assize or nisi prius, oyer and terminer, or gaol delivery, or in the said courts of the said counties palatine or great sessions, and also the times of their services; and every man so summoned, and having duly attended or served until discharged by the court shall (upon application by him made to such sheriff or under-sheriff, before he shall depart from the place of trial,) receive a certificate testifying such his service, which certificate the sheriff or under-sheriff is hereby required to give on payment of 1*s.*; provided, that nothing herein contained shall extend to any grand jurors or special jurors, 6 G. 4. c. 50. s. 40.

42. The clerk of the peace, at every sessions of the peace to be holden for any county, riding, or division in Eng. or Wa., shall make out a list of such men as shall be summoned and shall attend to serve on any grand jury or petty jury at such sessions, together with their respective places of abode and additions, and the date of their services, and shall within 20 days after the close of every such sessions, transmit such list to the sheriff or under-sheriff of the county, who is hereby required forthwith to register the names of the men included in such list in the proper columns of the jurors' book for that purpose, together with the date of their services; and every man so summoned, and having duly attended or served until discharged by the court of sessions, shall upon application by him made to such clerk of the peace, before he shall depart from the place where the sessions are holden, receive a certificate, testifying such his service, which certificate the said clerk of the peace is hereby required to give, on payment of 1*s.*, 6 G. 4. c. 50. s. 41.

43. No man shall be returned as a juror to serve at any sessions of nisi prius or of gaol delivery, in the county of Middlesex, who has served as a juror at either of such sessions in the said county, in either of the two terms or vacations next immediately preceding, and has the sheriff's certificate of having so served; and no man shall be returned as a juror to serve on trials before any court of assize, nisi prius, oyer and terminer, or gaol delivery, or any of the said courts of the three counties palatine, or the said great sessions, who has served as a juror at any of such courts within one year before in Wa., or in the counties of Hereford, Cambridge, Huntingdon, or Rutland, or four years before in the county of York, or two years before in any other county, and has the sheriff's certificate of having so served; and no man shall be returned to serve upon any grand jury or petty jury, at any sessions of the peace to be holden for any county, riding, or division in Eng. or Wa. who has served as a juror at any such sessions within one year before in Wa., or in the counties of Hereford, Cambridge, Huntingdon, or Rutland, or two years before in any other county, and has the certificate of the clerk of the peace of having so served; and if any sheriff or other minister shall wilfully transgress in any of the cases aforesaid, the court may and is hereby required, on examination and proof of every such offence in a summary way, to set such fine upon every such offender as the court shall think meet: provided, that nothing herein contained shall extend to grand jurors at the assizes or great sessions, or to special jurors, 6 G. 4. c. 50. s. 42.

44. No sheriff, under-sheriff, coroner, elisor, bailiff, or other officer or person whatsoever, shall, directly or indirectly, take or receive any money or other reward, or promise of money or reward, to excuse any man from serving or from being summoned to serve on juries, or under any such colour or pretence; and that no bailiff or other officer appointed by any sheriff, under-sheriff, coroner, or elisor, to summon juries, shall summon any man to serve thereon, other than those whose names are specified in a warrant or mandate, signed by such sheriff, under-sheriff, coroner, or elisor, and directed to such bailiff or other officer; and if any sheriff, under-sheriff, coroner, elisor, bailiff or other officer, shall wilfully transgress in any of the cases aforesaid, or shall summon any juror, not being a special juror, less than 10 days before the day on which he is to attend, or shall summon any special juror less than three days before the day on which he is to attend, except in the cases herein-before excepted, the court of assize, nisi prius, oyer and terminer, gaol delivery, great sessions, or superior court of the said counties palatine, or court of sessions of the peace, within whose jurisdiction the offence shall have been committed, may and is hereby required, on examination and proof of such offence, in a summary way, to set such a fine upon every person so offending, as the court shall think meet, according to the nature of the offence, 6 G. 4. c. 50. s. 43.

45. If any high constable within the meaning of this act shall, for 14 days after the warrant of the clerk of the peace shall be served on him, or left at his usual place of abode, refuse or neglect to issue and deliver his precept as herein-before directed, to the churchwardens and overseers of any parish, or to the overseers of any township within his constablewick; or shall in like manner refuse or neglect to issue and deliver his precept to the churchwardens and overseers of any parish, or to the overseers of any township, where such parish or township extends into any other hundred, lathe, wapentake, or other like district besides his own, either in the same or a different county, (provided the principal church of such parish or township shall be situate within his own hundred, lathe, wapentake, or other like district), or shall refuse or neglect in any of the foregoing cases to annex to the respective precepts such a number of the forms of return as he shall bona fide deem sufficient, or to deliver such additional number as may be demanded of him by any churchwarden or overseer as aforesaid, (provided he has such additional number in his possession), or in case of his not so having them, shall refuse or neglect to apply forthwith to the clerk of the peace for such additional number, and to deliver the same to the party so demanding within three days after his receipt thereof; or shall on due notice refuse or neglect to attend at any such petty sessions, or such adjournment thereof as aforesaid, or to receive any list or lists there tendered by the justices present, or to deliver the same to the quarter sessions next holden for the county, riding, or division, at the time and in the manner herein-before directed, or shall make any alteration in any such list after his receipt thereof; every such high constable offending in any of the foregoing cases, shall for every such offence forfeit a sum not exceeding 10*l.*, nor less than 40*s.*, at the discretion of the justice before whom he shall be convicted, 6 G. 4. c. 50. s. 44.

46. If any churchwarden or overseer of any parish, or any overseer of any township within the meaning of this act, shall refuse or neglect (unless prevented by sickness) to assist in making out any list required by this act, so that the same shall not be made out at the time and in the manner herein-before directed; or shall wilfully omit out of such list any man whose name ought to be inserted therein, or shall wilfully insert therein the name of any man who ought to be omitted, or shall take any money or other reward for omitting or inserting any man whatsoever, or shall wilfully insert therein a wrong description of the name, place of abode, title, quality, calling, business, or the nature of the qualification of any man; or shall refuse or neglect, in case the number of forms of return delivered by the high constable shall be insufficient, to apply to the high constable for a sufficient number, so that the list may be made out at the time and in the manner herein-before directed; or shall refuse or neglect to fix a copy of such list duly signed, or to subjoin thereto such notice as herein-before required, on the principal door of any church, chapel, or other public place of religious worship within their respective parishes or townships, on any of the Sundays on which the same ought to be so fixed; or shall refuse to allow any inhabitant of their respective parishes or townships to inspect such list, or a true copy thereof, gratis, at any reasonable time during the three weeks herein-before mentioned; or shall, on due notice, refuse or neglect to produce such list at such petty sessions as aforesaid, or to answer on oath such questions touching the same as shall there be put, or to attend at such petty sessions, or any such adjournment thereof as aforesaid; or shall refuse to allow the said petty sessions, or any justice of the peace, upon due request, to inspect or make any extracts from the poor rate of any parish or township within their respective divisions, for the purposes herein-before mentioned, such rate being in the custody of the party so refusing; every such churchwarden or overseer offending in any of the foregoing cases shall, for every such offence, forfeit a sum not exceeding 10*l.* nor less than 40*s.*, at the discretion of the justice before whom he shall be convicted; and the justice before whom such offender shall be convicted of any such offence of wrongful insertion or omission, shall forthwith, in writing under his hand, certify the same to the clerk of the peace of the county, riding, or division in which the man or men so wrongfully omitted or inserted shall reside, and the said clerk of the peace shall cause the list in which such wrongful insertion or omission shall have occurred to be corrected according to such certificate, and shall also give notice thereof to the sheriff or under-sheriff, who shall correct the jurors' book accordingly, 6 G. 4. c. 50. s. 45.

47. If any clerk of the peace shall refuse or neglect to cause a sufficient number, either of warrants, precepts, or forms of return, to be printed in the manner herein-before directed, or shall refuse or neglect to issue and deliver to any high constable within the meaning of this act, the warrant and precepts as herein-before directed, or to annex to the same such a number of the forms of return as he shall bonâ fide deem sufficient, or to deliver to any high constable such additional number thereof as he may apply for within three days after such application; or shall refuse or neglect to provide or prepare a jurors' book within the time or in the manner and form herein-before prescribed, or to deliver the same to the sheriff or under-sheriff of the county within the time herein-before prescribed, or to give notice to the sheriff or under-sheriff of any wrongful insertion or omission, certified to him by any justice of the peace as aforesaid, or to deliver to any man who shall have been summoned and have duly attended or served as a grand juror, or petty juror, at the sessions of the peace, a certificate of such man's service, on his application and payment as aforesaid, or to transmit to the sheriff or under-sheriff a list of the men who shall have been so summoned, and have so attended or served, within the time and in the manner herein-before directed; or if any clerk of any such petty sessions, to be holden as aforesaid, shall refuse or neglect to give due notice thereof to any high constable, or to the churchwardens and overseers of any parish, or to the overseers of any township within such division; or if any sheriff or under-sheriff of a county, shall make or cause to be made any alteration whatsoever in the list of jurors contained in the jurors' book, except in consequence of the conviction of the churchwarden or overseer herein-before provided for; or if any sheriff or under-sheriff of a county, or any sheriff or secondary of London, shall neglect or refuse to provide or prepare a list of special jurors in the manner and within the time herein-before prescribed, or shall wilfully write or cause to be written therein the name of any person not qualified, or shall wilfully omit thereout the name of any person duly qualified as a special juror, or shall neglect or refuse to write or cause to be written the several numbers contained in such list upon distinct pieces of parchment or card, in the manner and within the time herein-before prescribed, or shall subtract or destroy, or by any default or neglect lose, any of the said pieces of parchment or card, or shall neglect or refuse, upon discovery of such loss, to supply the same within five days; or if any sheriff or under-sheriff of a county shall refuse or neglect to prepare, or keep for inspection as aforesaid, a copy of the panel in the cases herein-before provided for, or to register the service of any juror, as herein-before directed, or to deliver to any man who shall have been summoned, and have duly attended or served as a juror at any court of assize, nisi prius, oyer and terminer, or gaol delivery, or in any of the said courts of the three counties palatine or great sessions, a certificate of such man's service, on his application and payment as aforesaid; or shall refuse or neglect, within 10 days after the next succeeding sheriff shall be sworn into or have entered upon office, to deliver over to him, as well all the jurors' books and lists that shall be made or prepared in the year of his sheriffalty, as also all such other like books and lists as were prepared in the sheriffalty of any of his predecessors, within four years then next preceding, and which were delivered over to him by any of his predecessors; every such clerk of the peace, clerk of the petty sessions, sheriff or under-sheriff, sheriff of London or secondary, offending in any of the said cases, shall for every such offence forfeit the sum of 50*l.*, one moiety whereof shall be to the use of H. M., and the other, with full costs, to such person as shall sue for the same, in any of H. M.'s courts of record at Westminster, by action of debt, bill, plaint, or information, wherein no essoign, protection, or wager of law, nor more than one imparlance shall be allowed, 6 G. 4. c. 50. s. 46.

48. Provided, that nothing herein contained shall extend or be construed to extend to deprive any alien indicted or impeached of any felony or misdemeanor, of the right of being tried by a jury de medietate lingue, but that on the prayer of every alien so indicted or impeached, the sheriff or other proper minister shall, by command of the court, return for one half of the jury a competent number of aliens, if so many there be in the town or place where the trial is had, and if not, then so many aliens as shall be found in the same town or place, if any; and that no such alien juror shall be liable to be challenged for want of freehold or of any other qualification required by this act; but every such alien may be challenged for any other cause, in like manner as if he were qualified by this act, 6 G. 4. c. 50. s. 47.

49. No justice of the peace shall be summoned or impannelled as a juror, to serve at any sessions of the peace for the jurisdiction of which he is a justice, 6 G. 4. c. 50. s. 48.

50. The inhabitants of the city and liberty of Westminster shall be and are hereby exempted from serving on any jury at the sessions of the peace for the county of Middlesex, 6 G. 4. c. 50. s. 49.

51. The qualification herein-before required for jurors, and the regulations for procuring lists of persons liable to serve on juries, shall not extend to the jurors or juries in any liberties, franchises, cities, boroughs, or towns corporate not being counties, or in any cities, boroughs, or towns being counties of themselves, which shall respectively possess any jurisdiction, civil or criminal; but that in all such places, the sheriffs, bailiffs, or other ministers having the return of juries, shall prepare their panels in the manner heretofore accustomed: provided, that no man shall be impannelled or returned by the sheriffs of the city of London, as a juror to try any issue joined in H. M.'s courts of record at Westminster, or to serve on any jury at the sessions of oyer and terminer, gaol delivery, or sessions of the peace, to be held for the said city, who shall not be a householder, or the occupier of a shop, warehouse, counting-house, chambers, or office, for the purpose of trade or commerce, within the said city, and have lands, tenements, or personal estate of the value of 100*l.*; and that the lists of men resident in each ward of the city of London, who shall be so qualified as herein mentioned, shall be made out, with the proper quality or addition and the place of abode of each man, by the parties who have heretofore been used and accustomed in each ward to make out the same respectively; and that such shop, warehouse, counting-house, chambers, or office as aforesaid shall, for the purposes of this act, be respectively deemed and taken to be the place of abode of every occupier thereof: provided, that no man shall be impannelled or returned to serve on any jury for the trial of any capital offence in any county, city, or place, who shall not be qualified to serve as a juror in civil causes within the same county, city, or place; and the same matter and cause being alledged by way of challenge, and so found, shall be admitted and taken as a principal challenge; and the person so challenged shall and may be examined, on oath, of the truth of the said matter, 6 G. 4. c. 50. s. 50.

52. Every court of nisi prius, oyer and terminer, gaol delivery, and sessions of the peace held for the city of London, shall and may fine any man duly summoned to attend upon any kind of jury in any of such courts respectively, and making default, or any talesman or viewer making default, in the same manner to all intents and purposes as such respective courts in Eng. and Wa. herein-before mentioned, 6 G. 4. c. 50. s. 51.

53. No man shall be liable to be summoned or impannelled to serve as a juror in any county in Eng. or Wa., or in London, upon any inquest or inquiry to be taken or made by or before any sheriff or coroner, by virtue of any writ of inquiry, or by or before any commissioners appointed under the great seal, or the seal of the court of exchequer, or the seals of the courts of the said counties palatine, or the seals of the courts of great session of Wa., who shall not be duly qualified according to this act to serve as a juror upon trials at nisi prius in such county in Eng. or Wa., or in London respectively: provided, that nothing herein contained shall extend to any inquest to be taken by or before any coroner of a county by virtue of his office, or to any inquest or inquiry to be taken or made by or before any sheriff or coroner of any liberty, franchise, city, borough, or town corporate not being counties, or of any city, borough, or town being respectively counties of themselves, but that the coroners in all counties, when acting otherwise than under a writ of inquiry, and the sheriffs and coroners in all such places as are herein mentioned, shall and may respectively take and make all inquests and inquiries by jurors of the same description, as they have been used and accustomed to do before the passing of this act, 6 G. 4. c. 50. s. 52.

54. If any man having been duly summoned and returned to serve as a juror in any county in Eng. or Wa., or in London, upon any inquest or inquiry before any sheriff or coroner, or before any of the commissioners aforesaid, shall not, after being openly called three times, appear and serve as such juror, every such sheriff, or in his absence the under-sheriff or secondary, and such coroner and commissioners respectively, are hereby authorized and required (unless some reasonable excuse shall be proved on oath or affidavit) to impose such fine upon every man so making default as they shall respectively think fit, not exceeding 5*l.*; and every such sheriff, under-sheriff, secondary, coroner, and commissioners respectively, shall make out and sign a certificate, containing the christian and surname, the residence and trade or calling of every man so making default, together with the amount of the fine imposed, and the cause of such fine, and shall transmit such certificate to the clerk of the peace for the county, riding, or division in which every such defaulter shall reside, on or before the first day of the quarter sessions next ensuing; and every such clerk of the peace is hereby required to copy the fines so certified on the roll on which all fines and forfeitures imposed at such quarter sessions shall be copied; and the same shall be estreated, levied, and applied in like manner, and subject to the like powers, provisions and penalties, in all respects, as if they had been part of the fines imposed at such quarter sessions, 6 G. 4. c. 50. s. 53.

55. Every man duly summoned and returned to serve upon any jury for the trial of any cause or criminal prosecution, to be tried in any court of record holden within the city of London, other than the courts herein-before respectively mentioned, or in any other liberty, franchise, city, borough, or town, who shall not appear and serve on such jury (after being openly called three times, and on proof being made on oath of the man so making default having been duly summoned) shall forfeit and pay for every such his default, such fine, not exceeding 40s. nor less than 20s., as the court shall deem reasonable to impose, unless some just cause for such defaulter's absence shall be made appear by oath or affidavit to the satisfaction of the court; and that if any person on whom such fine shall be imposed shall refuse to pay the same to the person who shall be authorized by the court to receive the same, it shall be lawful for such court then, or at its next sitting, and the same is hereby authorized and required, by order of the court, signed by the proper officer thereof, to cause every such fine to be levied by distress and sale of the goods and chattels of the person on whom such fine shall have been imposed; and the overplus money, if any, which shall remain after payment of such fine, and deducting the reasonable charges of such distress and sale, shall be rendered to the person whose goods and chattels shall have been so distrained and sold; and that every fine which shall be so imposed shall, when received or levied, to be paid by the person who shall receive or levy the same to the proper officer of the liberty, franchise, city, borough, or town in which the court was holden wherein such fine was imposed, to be applied to such uses as issues set on jurors, or other fines set in courts holden within such liberty, franchise, city, borough, or town, are by charter, prescription, or usage applicable, 6 G. 4. c. 50. s. 54.

56. All fines to be imposed under this act by any of the king's courts of record at Westminster, or any of the superior courts, civil or criminal, of the three counties palatine, or by any court of assize, nisi prius, oyer and terminer or gaol delivery, or by any court of sessions of the peace in Eng. or by any court of great sessions or sessions of the peace in Wa., shall be levied and applied in the same manner as any other fines imposed by the same court; and that all other penalties hereby created (for which no other remedy is given) shall, on conviction of the offender before any one justice of the peace within his jurisdiction, be levied (unless such penalty be forthwith paid), by distress and sale of the offender's goods and chattels, by warrant under the hand and seal of such justice, who is hereby authorized to hear and examine witnesses on oath or affirmation on any complaint, and to determine the same, and to mitigate the penalty, if he shall see fit, to the extent of one moiety thereof; and all penalties, the application whereof is not herein-before particularly directed, shall be paid to the complainant; and for want of sufficient distress, the offender shall be committed by warrant under the hand and seal of such justice, to the common gaol or house of correction, for such term not exceeding six calendar months, as such justice shall think proper, unless such penalty be sooner paid, 6 G. 4. c. 50. s. 55.

57. And for the more easy and speedy conviction of offenders against this act, be it further enacted, That the justice before whom any person shall be convicted of any offence against this act shall and may cause the conviction to be drawn up in the following form of words or in any other form to the same effect, as the case shall happen; videlicet, 'Be it remembered, that on — in the year of our Lord — at — A. B. is convicted before me C. D. one of H. M.'s justices of the peace for the — of —, for that he the said A. B. did [specifying the offence, and the time and place where the same was committed, as the case shall be], and the said A. B. is for his said offence adjudged by me the said justice to forfeit and pay the sum of — Given under my hand and seal, the day and year first above-mentioned. 6 G. 4. c. 50. s. 56.

58. No such conviction shall be quashed for want of form, or be removed or removeable by certiorari, or by any other writ or process whatsoever, into any of H. M.'s courts of record at Westminster; and that where any distress shall be made for any penalty to be levied by virtue of this act, the distress itself shall not be deemed to be unlawful, nor the party making the same a trespasser, on account of any defect or want of form in the summons, conviction, warrant of distress, or other proceedings relating thereto, nor shall such party be deemed a trespasser ab initio, on account of any irregularity which shall be afterwards done by him; but the person aggrieved by such irregularity shall and may recover full satisfaction for the special damage (if any) in an action upon the case, first giving notice in writing of the cause of action to the opposite party one calendar month before the commencement of such action; but no plaintiff shall recover in any action for such irregularity, if tender of sufficient amends shall have been made before such action brought, or if a sufficient sum of money shall have been paid into court after such action brought, by or on behalf of the party distraining; 6 G. 4. c. 50. s. 57.

59. If any suit or action shall be prosecuted against any person, for any thing done in pursuance of this act, such person may plead the general issue, and give this act and the special matter in evidence at any trial to be had thereupon; and if a verdict shall pass for the defendant, or the plaintiff shall become nonsuit, or discontinue his or her action after issue joined, or if upon demurrer or otherwise judgment shall be given against the plaintiff, the defendant shall recover double costs, and have the like remedy for the same as any defendant hath by law in other cases; and though a verdict shall be given for the plaintiff in any such action, such plaintiff shall not have costs against the defendant, unless the judge before whom the trial shall be shall certify his approbation of the action, and of the verdict obtained thereupon, 6 G. 4. c. 50. s. 58.

60. All actions, suits, and prosecutions, to be commenced against any person for any thing done in pursuance of this act, shall be laid and tried in the county where the fact was committed, and shall be commenced within six calendar months after the fact committed, and not otherwise; and that notice in writing of such cause of action shall be given to the defendant or defendants, one calendar month at least before the commencement of the action, 6 G. 4. c. 50. s. 59.

61. From and after the passing of this act [22d June 1825], it shall not be lawful either for the King, or any one on his behalf, or for any party or parties, in any case whatsoever, to commence or prosecute any writ of attain against any jury or jurors, for the verdict by them given, or against the party or parties who shall have judgment upon such verdict; and that no inquest shall be taken to inquire of the concealments of other inquests; but that all such attainments and inquests shall henceforth cease, become void, and be utterly abolished; any law, statute, or usage to the contrary notwithstanding, 6 G. 4. c. 50. s. 60.

62. Provided, that notwithstanding any thing herein contained, every person who shall be guilty of the offence of embracery, and every juror who shall wilfully or corruptly consent thereto, shall and may be respectively proceeded against by indictment or information, and be punished by fine and imprisonment, in like manner as every such person and juror might have been before the passing of this act, 6 G. 4. c. 50. s. 61.

63. Those parts of this act which relate to the issuing of warrants and precepts for the return of jury lists, the preparation, production, reformation, and allowance of those lists, the holding of the petty sessions for those purposes, the formation of a jurors' book, and the delivery thereof to the sheriff, and the preparation of a list of special jurors, and of parchments or cards, in the manner herein-before mentioned, shall commence and take effect so soon after the passing of this act [22d June 1825], as the proper periods for doing those things shall occur; and that the rest of this act shall commence and take effect on the 1st Jan. 1826, and that from and after the commencement of the several parts of this act respectively, so much of the provisions made in the 43 H. 3. as relates to exemptions from assizes, juries, and inquests; and so much of 52 H. 3. c. 14. any court or judge now hath, or any practice or form in regard to trials by jury, jury process, juries or jurors, except in those cases only where any such power or authority, practice or form, is repealed or altered by this act, or is or shall be inconsistent with any of the provisions thereof, nor to abridge or affect any privilege of parliament, 6 G. 4. c. 50. s. 64.

SCHEDULE of 6 G. 4. c. 50. [See s. 5. pl. 6.]

Warrant for returning Lists of Jurors.

County of — } To the high constable [or, To — one of the high constables] to wit. } of the hundred [lathe, wapentake, or other like district,] of — within the county aforesaid.

These are to require you, within fourteen days after the receipt hereof, to issue and deliver (in the form hereunto annexed, or as near thereto as may be,) your precepts to the churchwardens and overseers of the poor of the several parishes, and to the overseers of the poor of the several townships within your constablewick, requiring them to make out and return true lists of jurors, and you are at the same time to annex to each precept a sufficient number of the forms of returns left herewith, and if you find, that the number now left with you is not sufficient for all the places in your constablewick, you are to apply to me for more; and you are further required to attend at a petty sessions in the last week of September next, (of which you shall have due notice); and such lists as you shall there receive you are to deliver to the next court of quarter sessions for this county, [riding or division, on the first day of its sitting, and at the same time to make oath of your receipt of such lists, and that no alteration has been made therein since your receipt of them.

If there is any parish within your constablewick that has no overseers of the poor except the churchwardens, you are in such case to treat them as the churchwardens and overseers of such parish, and to direct your precept, together with a sufficient number of forms of return, to them accordingly; and if there is any parish or township which extends into any other constablewick besides your own, you are to treat every such parish or township as within your constablewick, provided the principal church of such parish or township is situated within your constablewick, and you are to issue your precepts with a sufficient number of forms of return accordingly; and these several matters you are in nowise to omit, upon the peril that shall ensue. Given under my hand at — in the said county, the — day of — in the year —

Clerk of the peace, for the said county [riding or division.]

Precept for returning Lists of Jurors. [See s. 6. pl. 7.]

County of — } To the churchwardens and overseers of the poor of the parish to wit. } [or, To the overseers of the poor of the township] of —
of — }

By virtue of a warrant from the clerk of the peace of the said county [riding or division] unto me directed, you are hereby required to make out, before the first day of September next, a true list in writing, in the form hereunto annexed, containing the names of all men, being natural born subjects of the King, between the ages of twenty-one and sixty, residing within your parish [or township], qualified to serve upon juries; that is to say, of every such man who has in his own name or in trust for him, a clear income of ten pounds by the year in lands or tenements, whether of freehold, copyhold, or customary tenure, or of ancient demesne, situate in the said county, or in rents issuing out of any such lands or tenements, or in such lands, tenements, and rents taken together, in fee simple or fee tail, or for his own life, or for the life of any other person; and also of every such man who has a clear income of twenty pounds by the year in lands or tenements situate in the said county, held by lease for the absolute term of twenty-one years, or some longer term, or for any term of years determinable on any life or lives; and also of every such man who is a householder in your parish [or township], and is rated or assessed to the poor rate or to the inhabited house duty on a value of not less than twenty pounds [if in Middlesex thirty pounds], and also of every such man who occupies a house in your parish [or township] containing not less than fifteen windows; and you are required to make out the said list in alphabetical order, and to write the christian and surname of every man at full length, and the place of his abode, his title, quality, calling, or business, and the nature of his qualification, in the proper columns of the forms hereunto annexed, according to the specimens given in such columns for your guidance.

And if you have not a sufficient number of forms, you must apply to me for more; and in order to assist you in making out the list, you are to refer to the poor rate, and you may, if you think proper, apply to any collector or assessor of taxes, or any other officer who has the custody of any house tax, land tax, or other tax assessment for your parish [or township], and take from thence the names of men so qualified: and in making such list you are to omit the names of all peers, all judges, all clergymen, all roman catholic priests who shall have duly taken and subscribed the oaths and declaration required by law; all ministers of any congregation of protestant dissenters whose place of meeting is duly registered, provided they follow no secular occupation except that of a school-master, and produce to you a certificate of some justice of the peace of their having taken the oaths and subscribed the declaration required by law; all serjeants and barristers at law, all members of the society of doctors of law, and all advocates of the civil law, if actually practising, and all attornies, solicitors, and proctors, if actually practising, and having taken out their annual certificates; all officers of the courts of law and equity, and of the admiralty and ecclesiastical courts, if actually exercising the duties of their respective offices; all coroners, all gaolers and keepers of houses of correction; all members and licentiates of the royal college of physicians in London, all members of the royal colleges of surgeons in London, Edinburgh, and Dublin, and apothecaries certificated by the court of examiners of the apothecaries' company, if actually practising as physicians, surgeons, or apothecaries respectively; all officers of the navy and army on full pay; all pilots licensed by the Trinity-house of Deptford Strond, Kingston-upon-Hull, or Newcastle-upon-Tyne, and all masters of vessels in the buoy and light service employed by either of those corporations, and all pilots licensed by the lord warden of the cinque ports, or under any act of parliament or charter for the regulation of pilots in any other port; all the household servants of H. M.; all officers of customs and excise; all sheriff's officers, high constables, and parish clerks; and also all persons exempt by virtue of any prescription, charter, grant, or writ.

And when you have made out such list, you are authorised to order a sufficient number of copies thereof to be printed [the expence of which printing will be allowed you by the parish [or township], and you are required, on the three first Sundays in September next, to fix a copy of such list, signed by you, on the principal door of every church, chapel, or other public place of religious worship within your parish [or township], and also to subjoin to every such copy a notice to the following effect, inserting the time and place, of which you shall be previously informed: "Take notice, that all objections to the foregoing list will be heard by the justices in petty sessions, on the — day of September next, at the hour of — at —;" and you must allow any inhabitant of your parish [or township] to inspect the original list, or a true copy of it, during the three first weeks of September next, gratis; and you are also further required to produce the said list at such petty sessions, and there to answer, on oath, such questions as shall be put to you by H. M.'s justices of the peace there present, touching the said list; and these several matters you are in nowise to omit, upon the peril that may ensue. Given under my hand, at — in the said county, the — day of — in the year —

High Constable.

JUSTICES OF ASSIZE, &c.

1. To enable in certain cases the opening and reading of commissions under which the judges sit upon the circuits after the day appointed for holding assizes, 3 G. 4. c. 10.

2. Whereas it has been deemed necessary that the commissions under which the judges sit upon their circuits should be opened and read at the respective places appointed for holding the assizes, in the presence of one at least of the quorum commissioners therein named, on the very day appointed for holding the assizes, whereby much inconvenience hath arisen, it is enacted, That whenever it shall so happen that such commissions shall not be opened and read in the presence of one of the quorum commissioners at any place specified for holding the assizes on the very day appointed for such purpose, it shall be lawful to open and read the same in the presence of one of the quorum commissioners therein named on the following day, or if such following day be a Sunday, or any other day of public rest, then on the succeeding day; and such opening and reading thereof shall be as effectual to all intents and purposes, as if done on the very day appointed for that purpose, and shall be deemed and taken to be an opening and reading thereof on the day for that purpose appointed; and all records and other proceedings under or relating to any commission which may be opened and read by virtue of this act shall be drawn up, entered, and made out, under the same date and in the same form in all respects as if such commission had been opened and read on the day originally appointed for that purpose; provided that the judges and quorum commissioners are hereby directed and required to have such commissions opened and read on the very days appointed for that purpose, unless the same shall be prevented by pressure of business elsewhere, or by some unforeseen cause or accident, 3 G. 4. c. 10. s. 1.

4. In every case in which it shall so appear that any such commission is opened and read under this act, the quorum commissioner before whom the same shall be so opened and read, shall, under his hand and seal, certify to the lord chancellor, lord keeper, and lords commissioners of the great seal for the time being, that the same was so opened, and the cause of the delay of opening and reading the same, which certificate shall be enrolled in chancery, 3 G. 4. c. 10. s. 2.

JUSTICES OF PEACE.

1. To facilitate summary proceedings before justices of the peace and others, 3 G. 4. c. 23.

2. Whereas great inconveniences often arise in summary proceedings before justices of the peace, deputy lieutenants, and others, from the want of a general form of conviction: be it therefore enacted, That from and after the passing of this act [15th May 1822], in all cases wherein a conviction shall have taken place, and no particular form for the record thereof hath been directed, the justice or justices, deputy lieutenant or deputy lieutenants, or other person or persons duly authorized to proceed summarily therein, and before whom the offender or offenders shall have been convicted, shall and may cause the record of such conviction to be drawn up in the manner and form following, or in any words to the same effect, mutatis mutandis; (that is to say),

‘County [or, as the case may be] Be it remembered, That on the — day of — in the year of our Lord — at — in the county of — A. B. of — in the county of — labourer, [or, as the case may be] personally came before me, [or, before us, &c.] C. D. one [or more, as the case may be] of H. M.’s justices of the peace for the said — and informed me, [or us, &c.] that E. F. of — in the county of — on the — day of — at — in the said — did [here set forth the fact for which the information is laid] contrary to the form of the statute in such case made and provided, whereupon the said E. F. after being duly summoned to answer the said charge, appeared before me [or us, &c.], on the — day of — at — in the said — and having heard the charge contained in the said information, declared he was not guilty of the said offence [or, as the case may happen to be], did not appear before me [or us, &c.], pursuant to the said summons [or, did neglect and refuse to make any defence against the said charge]; whereupon I [or we, &c. or nevertheless I, or we, &c.] the said justice [or justices], did proceed to examine into the truth of the charge contained in the said information, and on the — day of — aforesaid, at the parish of — aforesaid, one credible witness, to wit, A. W. of — in the county of — upon his oath depose and saith [if E. F. be present, say, in the presence of the said E. F.] that, within — months [or, as the case may be] next before the said information was made before me [or us, &c.] the said justice, by the said A. B., to wit, on the — day of — in the year — the said E. F. at — in the said county of — [here state the evidence, and as nearly as possible in the words used by the witness, and if more than one witness be examined, state the evidence given by each] [or, if the defendant confess, instead of stating the evidence say], and the said E. F. acknowledged and voluntarily confessed the same to be true; therefore it manifestly appearing to me [or us, &c.] that he the said E. F. is guilty of the offence charged upon him in the said information, I [or we, &c.] do hereby convict him of the offence aforesaid, and do declare and adjudge, that he the said E. F. hath forfeited the sum of — of lawful money of G. B., for the offence aforesaid, to be distributed [or paid, as the case may be] according to the form of the statute in that case made and provided. Given under my hand [or, our hands, &c.] and seal, the — day of — in the year of our Lord —.’

3 G. 4. c. 23. s. 1.

3. In all cases where two or more justices, deputy lieutenants or others, are authorized and required to hear and determine any complaint, one justice, deputy lieutenant, or such other person shall be competent to receive the original information or complaint, and to issue the summons or warrant requiring the parties to appear before two or more justices of the peace, deputy lieutenants or others, as the case may require; and after examination upon oath into the merits of the said complaint, and the adjudication thereupon, by any such two justices, deputy lieutenants, or other persons, being made, all and every the subsequent proceedings to enforce obedience thereto or otherwise, whether respecting the penalty, fine, imprisonment, costs, or other matter or thing now enacted or to be hereafter enacted, may be enforced by either of the said justices, deputy lieutenants, or other persons, or any other justice of the peace or deputy lieutenant for the same county, riding, or place, in such and the like manner as if done by the same two justices, deputy lieutenants, or other persons, who so heard and adjudged the said complaint; and where the original complaint or information shall be made to any justice or justices of the peace, deputy lieutenant or deputy lieutenants, or other person or persons different from him or them before whom the same shall be heard and determined, the form of conviction shall be made conformable and according to the fact, 3 G. 4. c. 23. s. 2.

4. In all cases where it appears by the conviction that the defendant has appeared and pleaded, and the merits have been tried, and that the defendant has not appealed against the said conviction where an appeal is allowed, or if appealed against, the conviction has been affirmed, such conviction shall not afterwards be set aside or vacated in consequence of any defect of form whatever, but the construction shall be such a fair and liberal construction as will be agreeable to the justice of the case, 3 G. 4. c. 23. s. 3.

5. Nothing herein contained shall extend, or be construed to extend, to that part of the U. K. called Scot., 3 G. 4. c. 23. s. 4.

6. To amend an act passed in the seventh year of the reign of His late Majesty King George the Third, [7 G. 3. c. 21. Stat. Dig. this title, pl. 101.] respecting justices of the quorum in cities and towns corporate, 4 G. 4. c. 27.

7. Whereas 7 G. 3. c. 21. was passed, intituled, An Act to obviate the inconveniences that may arise with respect to the execution of acts of parliament in such cities, boroughs, towns corporate, franchises, or liberties, as have only one justice of peace of the quorum qualified to act within the same, whereby it was enacted, [as in Stat. Dig. this title, pl. 103;] and whereas it is expedient that the provisions of the said act should be extended to such cities and other jurisdictions as have two, or any other limited number of justices of the quorum, qualified to act within the same, be it enacted, That from the passing of this act [23d May 1823], in all cases where the number of justices of the peace for any city, borough, town corporate, franchise, liberty, or other local jurisdiction, is limited, and any one, two, or more of such justices only are of the quorum, all acts, orders, adjudications, warrants, indentures of apprenticeship, or other instruments which shall be made, done, or executed, either in or out of the general quarter sessions, or petty sessions, or any adjournment thereof, by virtue of any charter or grant, or of any act of parliament made or to be made by any two or more justices of the peace acting within the same, though neither of the said justices be of the quorum, shall be valid in law to all intents and purposes, as if the said justices had been of the quorum, any grant, charter, law, or custom to the contrary thereof in anywise notwithstanding, 4 G. 4. c. 27. s. 1.

8. For the more effectual recovery of penalties before justices and magistrates on conviction of offenders; and for facilitating the execution of warrants by constables, 5 G. 4. c. 18.

9. Whereas by several acts, certain penalties and forfeitures are imposed on persons for offences committed against the directions of such acts, which are directed to be recovered before any justice or justices of the peace, or any magistrate or magistrates, within their respective jurisdictions; and on non-payment thereof, such penalties and forfeitures, together with the reasonable costs and charges attending the several convictions, are directed to be levied by distress and sale of the goods and chattels of the offender or offenders, by warrant under the hand and seal of such justice and magistrate respectively: and whereas no power is given to such justices and magistrates, on conviction of such offenders, to detain him, her, or them in custody till return is made to the warrant of distress, for the purpose of ascertaining whether such offenders have any goods and chattels to satisfy such penalties, forfeitures, costs, and charges, whereby such offenders frequently escape any punishment for their offences: for remedy whereof, be it enacted, That from and after the passing of this act [31st March 1824], whenever any penalty or forfeiture is or shall be directed to be recovered before any justice or justices of the peace, or magistrate or magistrates, for any county, riding, soke, city, division, or place, and such justice or justices of the peace, magistrate or magistrates, is or are authorized and empowered, on the conviction of the offender or offenders, in default of payment of such penalty or forfeiture, together with the reasonable costs and charges attending such conviction, to cause the same to be levied by distress and sale of the goods and chattels of the offender or offenders, by warrant or warrants under the hand and seal of such justice or magistrate, or hands and seals of such justices or magistrates, together with the reasonable costs of such distress and sale; and in case upon a valuation being taken of the goods and chattels of the offender or offenders, sufficient distress for the payment of all such penalties and forfeitures and other costs and charges cannot be found, or in case it shall appear to such justice or justices, magistrate or magistrates, either by the confession of the offender or offenders or otherwise, that the offender or offenders has or have not sufficient goods or chattels whereupon the same may be levied, within the jurisdiction of such justice or justices, magistrate or magistrates, no sale shall take place of the goods and chattels of such offender or offenders, but it shall be lawful for such justice or justices, magistrate or magistrates, to commit such offender or offenders to the common gaol or house of correction, for such time and in such manner as in such acts respectively mentioned and directed; then and in every such case it shall be lawful to and for such justice or justices, magistrate or magistrates, at his or their discretion, to order the offender or offenders so convicted to be kept and detained in safe custody until return shall be made to such warrant or warrants of distress, unless such offender or offenders shall give sufficient security, to the satisfaction of such justice or justices, magistrate or magistrates, for his, her, or their appearance before him or them on such day or days as shall be appointed for the return of such warrant or warrants of distress, such day or days not being more than eight days from the time of taking such security; and such security such justice or justices, magistrate or magistrates, is and are hereby empowered to take by way of recognizance or otherwise, as to him or them shall seem right and proper; or in case it shall appear to the satisfaction of such justice or justices, magistrate or magistrates, either by the confession of the offender or offenders or otherwise, that he, she, or they hath not or have not goods or chattels within the jurisdiction of such justice or justices, magistrate or magistrates, sufficient whereon to levy all such penalties and forfeitures, costs and charges, such justice or justices, magistrate or magistrates, may at his or their discretion, without issuing any warrant of distress, commit the offender or offenders for such period of time, and in such and like manner, as if a warrant of distress had been issued and a nulla bona returned thereon, 5 G. 4. c. 18. s. 1.

10. Whereas by some acts certain penalties or sums of money are to be recovered before a justice or justices of the peace, or a magistrate or magistrates, and he or they is and are authorized to issue forth his or their warrant for levying such penalties or sums of money, by distress and sale of the goods and chattels of the offender or defendant; but no further remedy is provided in case no sufficient goods and chattels can be found whereon to levy such penalties or sums of money; for remedy whereof, be it further enacted, That whenever it shall appear to any such justice or justices of the peace, magistrate or magistrates, by whom any penalty or sum of money is adjudged to be paid, upon the return of any such warrant of distress, that no sufficient goods and chattels of the offender or defendant can be found whereon to levy the sum adjudged to be paid, and all costs and charges, within the jurisdiction of such justice or justices, magistrate or magistrates; or in case it shall appear to such justice or justices, magistrate or magistrates, either by the confession of the party or parties, or otherwise, that he, she, or they have not sufficient goods and chattels within the jurisdiction of such justice or justices, magistrate or magistrates, sufficient whereon to levy such sum of money, costs, and charges; such justice or justices, magistrate or magistrates, at his or their discretion, and without issuing any warrant of distress, may proceed in such and the like manner as if a warrant of distress had been issued and a nulla bona returned thereon; and it shall be lawful for such justice or justices, or magistrate or magistrates, to issue forth his or their warrant for committing such offender or defendant to the common gaol, for any term not exceeding three calendar months, unless the sum adjudged to be paid, and all costs and charges of the proceedings, shall be sooner paid: provided, that the amount of such costs and expences shall be specified in such warrant of commitment, 5 G. 4. c. 18. s. 2.

11. In the case of any offender or offenders committed to the common gaol or house of correction for default of payment of such penalty or forfeiture, together with the reasonable costs and charges attending the conviction, if such offender or offenders shall at any time, during the period of his, her, or their imprisonment, pay or cause to be paid to the governor or keeper of the prison, the full amount of such penalty, together with the costs and charges, it shall be lawful for such governor or keeper of such prison, and he or they are hereby required forthwith to discharge such offender or offenders from his or their custody, 5 G. 4. c. 18. s. 3.

12. Whereas cases may occur where the recovery of such penalty or forfeiture by distress and sale of the goods and chattels of the offender or offenders may appear to the justice or justices of the peace, or magistrate or magistrates, for any county, riding, soke, city, division, or place, to be attended with consequences ruinous, or in an especial manner injurious to the offender or offenders and their family or families; be it enacted, That the justice or justices, and magistrate or magistrates aforesaid, shall be empowered, and they are hereby authorized, in all cases and upon all such occasions as to them shall seem fit, and where such consequences are likely to arise, to cause to be withheld the issue of any warrant or warrants of distress, and to commit the offender or offenders aforesaid immediately after conviction, and in default of payment of the penalty or forfeiture, with costs and charges, to the common gaol or house of correction, for such time and in such manner as are in such acts respectively mentioned and directed: provided, that it be by the desire or with the consent in writing of the party or parties upon whose property the penalty or forfeiture is to be levied, 5 G. 4. c. 18. s. 4.

13. Provided, that nothing herein contained shall extend to that part of the U. K. of G. B. and Ire. called Scot., 5 G. 4. c. 18. s. 5.

14. Whereas warrants addressed to constables, headboroughs, tithingmen, borsholders, or other peace-officers of parishes, townships, hamlets, or places, in their characters of and as constables, headboroughs, tithingmen, borsholders, or other peace-officers of such respective parishes, townships, hamlets, or places, cannot be lawfully executed by them out of the precincts thereof respectively, whereby means are afforded to criminals and others of escaping from justice: for remedy whereof, be it further enacted, That it shall be lawful to and for each and every constable, and to and for each and every headborough, tithingman, borsholder, or other peace-officer, for every parish, township, hamlet, or place, to execute any warrant or warrants of any justice or justices of the peace, or of any magistrate or magistrates, within any parish, township, hamlet, or place, situate, lying, or being within that jurisdiction for which such justice or justices, magistrate or magistrates, shall have acted when granting such warrant or warrants, or when backing or indorsing any such warrant or warrants, in such and the like manner as if such warrant or warrants had been addressed to such constable, headborough, tithingman, borsholder, or other peace-officer, specially by his name or names, and notwithstanding the parish, township, hamlet, or place in which such warrant or warrants shall be executed, shall not be the parish, township, hamlet, or place for which he shall be constable, headborough, tithingman, or borsholder, or other peace-officer, provided that the same be within the jurisdiction of the justice or justices, magistrate or magistrates, so granting such warrant or warrants, or within the jurisdiction of the justice or justices, magistrate or magistrates, by whom any such warrant or warrants shall be backed or indorsed, 5 G. 4. c. 18. s. 6.

KING AND ROYAL FAMILY.

1. Concerning the disposition of certain property of H. M. his heirs and successors, 4 G. 4. c. 18. [AMENDING 39 & 40 G. 3. c. 88. Stat. Dig. this tit. pl. 116.]

2. Whereas by 39 & 40 G. 3. c. 88. power was given to His then Majesty, his heirs and successors, to grant, sell, give or devise in manner and form therein mentioned, all and every or any of the manors, messuages, lands, tenements, and hereditaments, purchased or to be purchased by his said then Majesty, his heirs or successors, out of monies issued for the use of his privy purse, or with monies not appropriated to any public service, or which had or should come to H. M., his heirs or successors, by the gift or devise of, or by descent or otherwise from, any ancestors or other person not being king or queen of this realm, unto any person or persons, for any estate or estates, or for any intents or purposes, H. M., his heirs or successors, should think fit; and certain other provisions were enacted touching and concerning such manors, messuages, lands, tenements, and hereditaments: and whereas the powers and provisions of the said act do not extend to manors, messuages, lands, tenements or hereditaments, whereof H. M., his heirs or successors, or any person or persons in trust for him or them, was, were, or may be seized or possessed at the time of his or their accession to the crown of this realm, and which before such accession, he or they might have legally granted, sold, given or devised, and it is reasonable that the said powers and provisions should be extended thereto: it is therefore enacted, That all the powers vested in H. M., his heirs and successors, by the said act, over the manors, messuages, lands, tenements, and hereditaments purchased by him or them, or to be purchased by him or them, or coming to him or them in manner in the said act mentioned, and all other the provisions of the said act concerning the same, shall be extended to, and apply to all manors, messuages, lands, tenements, and hereditaments, whether of freehold or copyhold, or customary or leasehold tenure, whereof H. M., or any other person or persons in trust for him, at the time of his accession to the crown, or whereof his heirs or successors, or any person or persons in trust for them, at the time of their respective accessions to the crown, was, were, or shall be seized and possessed, and which, before such accession, he or they might have legally granted, sold, given, or delivered, 4 G. 4. c. 18.

LABOURERS, SERVANTS, &c. (See COMBINATIONS.)

(STATUTES repealed.)

1. Masons shall not confederate themselves together in chapters and assemblies, 5 H. 6. c. 1. [Stat. Dig. tit. LABOURERS, pl. 2. REP. 5 G. 4. c. 95. s. 1.]

(STATUTES in force.)

2. To enlarge the powers of justices in determining complaints between masters and servants, and between masters, apprentices, artificers, and others, 4 G. 4. c. 34. [See ss. 1, 2. ante, tit. APPRENTICES, pl. 6, 7.]

3. If any servant in husbandry, or any artificer, calico-printer, handicraftsman, miner, collier, keelman, pitman, glassman, potter, labourer, or other person, shall contract with any person or persons whomsoever, to serve him, her, or them for any time or times whatsoever, or in any other manner, and shall not enter into or commence his or her service according to his or her contract (such contract being in writing, and signed by the contracting parties), or having entered into such service shall absent himself or herself from his or her service before the term of his or her contract, whether such contract shall be in writing or not in writing, shall be completed, or neglect to fulfil the same or be guilty of any other misconduct or misdemeanor in the execution thereof, or otherwise respecting the same, then and in every such case it shall be lawful for any justice of peace of the county or place where such servant in husbandry, artificer, &c. or other person, shall have so contracted, or be employed, or be found, and such justice is hereby authorized and empowered, upon complaint thereof made upon oath to him by the person or persons, or any of them, with whom such servant in husbandry, artificer, &c. or other person shall have so contracted, or by his, her, or their steward, manager, or agent, which oath such justice is hereby empowered to administer, to issue his warrant for the apprehending every such servant in husbandry, artificer, &c., or other person, and to examine into the nature of the complaint; and if it shall appear to such justice that any such servant in husbandry, artificer, &c., or other person, shall not have fulfilled such contract, or hath been guilty of any other misconduct or misdemeanor as aforesaid, it shall be lawful for such justice to commit every such person to the house of correction, there to remain and be held to hard labour for a reasonable time, not exceeding three months, and to abate a proportionable part of his or her wages, for and during such period as he or she shall be so confined in the house of correction, or in lieu thereof, to punish the offender by abating the whole or any part of his or her wages, or to discharge such servant in husbandry, artificer, &c. or other person, from his or her contract, service, or employment, which discharge shall be given under the hand and seal of such justice gratis, 4 G. 4. c. 34. s. 3.

4. And whereas it frequently happens that such masters, mistresses, or employers, reside at considerable distances from the parishes or places where their business is carried on, or are occasionally absent for long periods of time, either beyond the seas, or at considerable distances from such parishes or places, and during such residence or occasional absences entrust their business to the management and superintendence of stewards, agents, bailiffs, foremen, or managers, whereby such servants, artificers, &c. or other persons and apprentices, are or may be subjected to great difficulties and hardships, and put to great expence in recovering their wages; be it therefore enacted, That in either of the said cases it shall be lawful to and for any justice or justices of the county or place where such servant in husbandry, artificer, &c. or other person or apprentice shall be employed, upon the complaint of any such servant, artificer, &c. or other person or apprentice, touching or concerning the non-payment of his or her wages, to summon such steward, agent, bailiff, foreman, or manager, to be and appear before him or them at a reasonable time to be named in such summons, and to hear and determine the matter of the complaint in such and the like manner as complaints of the like nature against any master, mistress, or employer are directed to be heard and determined in this and the before-recited acts, and also to make an order for the payment by such steward, agent, bailiff, foreman, or manager, to such servant, artificer, &c., or other person or apprentice, of so much wages as to such justice or justices shall appear to be justly due; provided that the sum in question do not exceed the sum of 10*l.*; and in case of refusal or non-payment of any sum so ordered to be paid by such steward, agent, &c., for the space of 21 days from the date of such order, such justice or justices shall issue forth his or their warrant to levy the same by distress and sale of the goods and chattels of such master, mistress, or employer, rendering the overplus to the owner or owners, or to such steward, agent, &c. for the use of such master, mistress, or employer, after payment of the charges of such distress and sale, 4 G. 4. c. 34. s. 4.

5. Every justice of the peace before whom any complaint shall be made, in pursuance of 20 G. 2. c. 19. or of 51 G. 2. c. 11. [Stat. Dig. tit. LABOURERS, pl. 25.], shall and may order the amount of the wages that shall appear due to any servants in husbandry, artificers, labourers, or other person named in the said acts, or either of them, to be paid to the person entitled thereto, within such period as the said justice or justices shall think proper; and in case of refusal or non-payment thereof, shall and may levy the same by distress and sale, in manner directed by the said first-mentioned act; and every order or determination of such justice or justices made under this act shall be final, any thing in either of the said acts contained to the contrary notwithstanding, 4 G. 4. c. 34. s. 5.

6. Provided, that nothing in this act contained shall extend to impeach or lessen the jurisdiction of the chamberlain of the city of London, or of any other court within the said city, touching apprentices, 4 G. 4. c. 34. s. 6.

7. To consolidate and amend the laws relative to the arbitration of disputes between masters and workmen, 5 G. 4. c. 96.

8. From 21st June 1824, so much of the Irish act 3 G. 2., For the preventing of unlawful combinations of workmen, &c. and for the better payment of their wages, [previously in part REP. by 5 G. 4. c. 95.] as relates to decision of disputes as therein mentioned; and also stat. 39 & 40 G. 3. c. 90. [Stat. Dig. tit. COTTON MANUFACTURES, pl. 9.], also stat. 39 & 40 G. 3. c. 106. [Stat. Dig. tit. CONSPIRACY, pl. 10.], and also stat. 41 G. 3. (U. K.) c. 38. [Stat. Dig. tit. CONSPIRACY, pl. 10.], also stat. 45 G. 3. c. 151., also stat. 44 G. 3. c. 87., and stat. 53 G. 3. c. 75. [Stat. Dig. tit. COTTON MANUFACTURES, pl. 9.], shall be repealed, except so far as they repeal any other act, 5 G. 4. c. 96. s. 1.

9. The following subjects of dispute arising between masters and workmen, or between workmen and those employed by them, in any trade or manufacture in any part of the U. K., may be settled and adjusted in manner hereafter mentioned; that is to say, disagreements respecting the price to be paid for work done, or in the course of being done, whether such disputes shall happen or arise between them respecting the payment of wages as agreed upon, or the hours of work as agreed upon, or any injury or damage done or alleged to have been done to the work, or respecting any delay or supposed delay in finishing the work, or the not finishing the work in a good and workmanlike manner, or according to any contract, or to bad materials; cases where the workmen are to be employed to work any new pattern which shall require them to purchase any new implements of manufacture, or to make any alteration upon the old implements for the working thereof, and the masters and workmen cannot agree upon the compensation to be made to such workmen for in or respect thereof; disputes respecting the length, breadth, or quality of pieces of goods, or in the case of cotton manufacture, the yarn thereof, or the quantity and quality of the wool thereof; disputes respecting wages or compensation to be paid for pieces of goods that are made of any great or extraordinary length; disputes in the cotton manufacture respecting the manufacture of cravats, shawls, policat, romal, and other handkerchiefs, and the number to be contained in one piece of such handkerchiefs; disputes arising out of, for, or touching the particular trade or manufacture, or contracts relative thereto, which cannot be otherwise mutually adjusted and settled; disputes between masters and persons engaged in seizing or ornamenting goods; but nothing in this act contained shall authorize any justice or justices acting as hereinafter mentioned to establish a rate of wages or price of labour or workmanship at which the workmen shall in future be paid, unless with the mutual consent of both master and workmen: provided, that all complaints by any workman as to bad materials shall be made within three weeks of his receiving the same; and all complaints arising from any other cause shall be made within six days after such cause of complaint shall arise, 5 G. 4. c. 96. s. 2.

10. Whenever such subjects of dispute shall arise as aforesaid, it shall be lawful for the master and workman, or either of them, to demand and have an arbitration or reference thereof in manner following: that is to say, where the party complaining and the party complained of shall come before or agree by any writing under their hands to abide by the determination of any justice of the peace or magistrate of any county, riding, division, stewartry, barony, city, burgh, town or place, within which the parties reside, it shall be lawful for such justice, &c. to hear and finally determine, in a summary manner, the matter in dispute between such parties; but if such parties shall not come before or so agree to abide by the determination of such justice, &c. then it shall be lawful for any such justice, &c., and such justice, &c. is hereby required, on complaint made before him, and proof by the examination of the party making such complaint, that application has been made to the person or persons against whom such cause of complaint has arisen, (or his, her, or their agent or agents, if such dispute has arisen with such agent or agents,) to settle such dispute, and that the same has not been settled upon such complaint being made, or where the dispute relates to a bad warp, that such cause of complaint has not been done away within 48 hours after such application, to summon before him such person or persons, or agent or agents, on some day not exceeding three days, exclusive of Sunday, after the making such complaint, giving notice to the person making such complaint of the time and place appointed in such summons for the attendance of such person or persons, agent or agents, as aforesaid; and if at such time and place the person or persons so summoned shall not appear by himself, herself, or themselves, or send some person on his, her, or their behalf, to settle such dispute, or appearing shall not do away such cause of complaint, then and in such case it shall be lawful for such justice, and he is hereby required, at the request of either of such parties, to nominate arbitrators or referees for settling the matters in dispute; and such justice shall then and there at such meeting propose not less than four nor more than six persons, one half of whom shall be master manufacturers, or agents or foremen of some master manufacturer, and the other half of whom shall be workmen in such manufacture; such respective persons residing in or near to the place where such disputes shall have arisen; out of which master manufacturers, agents, or foremen, the master engaged in such dispute, or his agent, shall choose one, and out of which workmen so proposed, the workman or his agent shall choose another, who shall have full power to hear and finally determine such dispute, 5 G. 4. c. 96. s. 5.

11. In case any or either of the persons so proposed by any such justice shall refuse or delay to accept such arbitration, or accepting shall not act therein, within two days after such nomination, the justice shall proceed to name another or other persons of the descriptions aforesaid, in the room of the person so refusing as aforesaid to be arbitrator or arbitrators in the place of any such arbitrator or arbitrators so refusing or delaying to accept, or who shall not act; and in every case of a second nomination the arbitrators shall meet within 24 hours after the application for the same, and at the same place at which the meeting of the referees first named was appointed, or at some other convenient place, as the justice may appoint; and the expence of every such application for the appointment of a second referee shall be borne and defrayed by the party through whose default, or the default of whose referee, such application is rendered necessary; and the justice making such second appointment shall certify the same in the form for that purpose hereafter set forth, or in some other form to the like effect; and in every case where a second arbitrator shall be appointed as aforesaid, and who shall not attend at the same time and place appointed for settling the matters in dispute, it shall be lawful for the other arbitrator, at such time and place, to proceed by himself to the hearing and determining of the same matters in dispute; and in such case the award of such sole arbitrator shall be final and conclusive as to all matters in dispute, submitted to such arbitrator, without being subject to review, appeal, or suspension, 5 G. 4. c. 96. s. 4.

12. The arbitrators or referees being so nominated as aforesaid, the said justice shall thereupon appoint a place of meeting according to the directions of this act, and also a day for the meeting, notice of which nomination, and of the day of meeting, shall thereupon be given by such justice to the persons so nominated arbitrators or referees, and to any party to any such dispute who may not have attended the meeting before such justice as aforesaid; which appointment shall be by such justice certified in the form following, or in some other form to the like effect; that is to say,

‘ I A. B., one of the justices of the peace acting for —, do hereby certify, that C. D. and E. F. are duly nominated referees to settle the matters in difference between G. H. of —, master manufacturer, [or agent or foreman, as the case may be,] and I. K. of —, weaver, [or otherwise, as the case may be,] pursuant to an act passed in the fifth year of the reign of His present Majesty; and that the said referees are hereby directed to meet at —, on —, the — day of —, at — of the clock in the forenoon [or afternoon, as the case may be].
A. B.’

‘ I A. B., one of the justices of the peace acting for —, do hereby certify, that the above-named C. D. and E. F. [or one of them, as the case may be,] having refused or delayed to act in the above-mentioned reference, L. M. and N. O. [or L. M. only, as the case may be,] are [or is] by me duly nominated referees [or referee,] together with the above-named C. D. [or E. F.] to settle the matters in difference between the above-named G. H. and I. K.; and the said C. D. or E. F., together with the said L. M., [or the said L. M. or N. O., as the case may be,] are directed to meet at the place above mentioned, on —, the — day of —, in the year of our Lord —, at — of the clock in the forenoon [or afternoon, as the case may be].
A. B.’

And the persons so appointed as aforesaid shall hear and examine the parties and their witnesses, and determine such dispute within two days after such nomination, exclusive of Sundays; and the determination of such arbitrators shall be final and conclusive, 5 G. 4. c. 96. s. 5.

13. In all cases where complaints are made respecting bad warps or utensils by workmen, the place of meeting of the referees shall be at or as near as may be to the place where the work shall be carrying on; and in all other cases at or as near as may be to the place or places where the work has been given out, 5 G. 4. c. 96. s. 6.

14. If any person so complaining as aforesaid shall not attend, or send some person on his or her behalf, at the time and place appointed by such justice of the peace, for the purpose of naming such persons as aforesaid, such person shall not in such case be entitled to the benefit of this act; and if any person against whom any such complaint shall have been made as aforesaid shall not attend, or send some person on his or her behalf, the justice of the peace shall thereupon nominate a person for him out of such persons so proposed as aforesaid, 5 G. 4. c. 96. s. 7.

15. The said arbitrators and referees shall meet at the time and place fixed by the justice of the peace by whom such referees were appointed, and shall, by inspection of the work in regard to which the dispute may have arisen, by hearing and examining the parties, or any other persons on their behalf, or that attend to give evidence respecting the matters in dispute, upon oath, (which the said arbitrators and referees are hereby empowered to administer,) or otherwise, or by otherwise ascertaining the true state of the case, in such manner as to them shall appear necessary, proceed to determine the matter or matters in dispute referred to them; and the award to be made by them shall be final and conclusive between the parties, without being subject to review or challenge by any court or authority whatsoever, 5 G. 4. c. 96. s. 8.

16. It shall be lawful for any arbitrator or arbitrators, referee or referees, and he or they are hereby authorized and required at the request in writing of any of the parties, to issue his or their summons to any witness or witnesses to appear and give evidence before such arbitrator or arbitrators, referee or referees, at the time and place appointed for hearing and determining any such dispute, and which time and place shall be specified in such summons; and if any person so summoned to appear as a witness as aforesaid shall not appear before such arbitrator or arbitrators, referee or referees, at the time and place specified in such summons, or offer some reasonable excuse for the default, or appearing according to such summons, shall not submit to be examined as a witness, and give his evidence before such arbitrator or arbitrators, referee or referees, touching the matter of such dispute, in every such case it shall be lawful for any one or more of H. M.'s justices of the peace acting in and for the county, stewartry, riding, division, barony, city, burgh, town, or place where such dispute shall have arisen, (proof on oath in the case of any person not appearing according to such summons having been first made before such justice or justices of the due service of such summons on every such person by delivering the same to him, or by leaving the same 24 hours before the time appointed for such person to appear before such arbitrator or arbitrators, referee or referees, at the usual place of abode of such person,) by warrant under the hands of any such justice or justices to commit any such person so making default in appearing, or appearing and refusing to give evidence, to some prison within the jurisdiction of any such justice or justices, there to remain, without bail or mainprize, for any time not exceeding two calendar months, nor less than seven days, or until such person shall submit himself to be examined, and give his evidence before such arbitrator or arbitrators, referee or referees, as aforesaid: provided, that in case such dispute shall be heard and determined before such offender shall submit to be examined, and give evidence as aforesaid, then and in every such case he, she, or they shall be imprisoned the full term of such commitment, 5 G. 4. c. 96. s. 9.

17. In case such arbitrators and referees so appointed cannot agree upon and decide such matter or matters in dispute so referred as aforesaid, or shall not make and sign their award within three days after the date of the order of such justice, certifying their appointment, then they shall, without delay, go before the justice by whom they were appointed, and in case of his absence or indisposition, before any other of H. M.'s justices of the peace acting in and for the county, stewardry, riding, division, barony city, burgh, town, liberty, or place, and residing nearest to the place where the meeting to settle such dispute shall have taken place, and shall state to such justice or justices who may be present, the points in difference between them, which points in difference the said justice or justices shall hear and determine upon the statement of the arbitrators and referees; who shall settle and determine the matter in dispute with all possible dispatch, and in all cases within the space of two days after the expiration of the time hereby allowed to the arbitrators and referees to make and sign their award; and the determination of such justice or justices shall be final and conclusive between the parties so differing as aforesaid, without being subject to review or challenge by any court whatsoever, 5 G. 4. c. 96. s. 10.

18. If either arbitrator or referee shall neglect or refuse to go before such justice of peace in the manner herein directed, it shall be lawful for such justice, after summoning the arbitrators to attend him, to determine the matter or matters in dispute upon the statement and representation of either of the arbitrators who shall come before him, 5 G. 4. c. 96. s. 11.

19. Provided, that no justice of the peace, being also a master manufacturer or agent, shall act as such justice under this act, 5 G. 4. c. 96. s. 12.

20. Provided that as well in all such cases of dispute as aforesaid as in all other cases, if the parties mutually agree that the matter in dispute shall be arbitrated and determined in a different mode to the one hereby prescribed, such agreement shall be valid, and the award and determination thereon final and conclusive between the parties, and the same proceedings of distress, sale, and imprisonment as hereafter mentioned, shall be had towards enforcing such award, (by application to any justice of the peace of the county, stewardry, riding, division, barony, city, town, burgh, or place within which the parties shall reside,) as are by this act prescribed for enforcing awards made under and by virtue of its provisions, 5 G. 4. c. 96. s. 13.

21. Where any work shall have been delivered to any workman by the agent or servant of any master or masters, to be when finished delivered to such agent or servant; and also where two or more persons shall carry on the business of such manufacture as partners, in every such case respectively the like proceedings shall be had and made against such agent, &c., and shall be as effectual as if the same had been had and made against the principal, or all the partners; and all the said persons respectively shall obey the award made thereupon, and all such order or orders as shall be made by the said justice or justices in or respecting the matters in dispute, and shall be subject to the same proceedings and consequences for refusing or delaying to abide by or perform the same, as if the proceedings had been had against the principal, or against all the partners, 5 G. 4. c. 96. s. 14.

22. It shall be lawful in all cases for any master or workman, by writing under his hand, to authorize any person to act for him in submitting to arbitration and attending arbitrators or justices touching the matter of any arbitration, 5 G. 4. c. 96. s. 15.

23. In all cases where any proceeding may be had against a master or masters under this act, or where such proceedings shall have been commenced, and the master or masters shall become or be bankrupt, or any assignment of his or their estate or effects shall have been made under the said bankruptcy, or otherwise by deed or in law, the factor or trustee upon, or the assignee or assignees of such estate or effects shall be liable to the proceedings authorized by this act against the master or masters, as fully as the master or masters was or were before the bankruptcy or assignment; and such proceedings may be commenced or carried on against such factor, trustee, assignee, or assignees, who shall fulfil and abide by the award made thereupon, and all such order or orders as shall be made by the said justice or justices in or respecting the matters in dispute, and shall be subject to the same proceedings and consequences for wilfully refusing or delaying to abide by or perform the same, as if the proceedings had been had against the master or masters before his or their bankruptcy, or the assignment of his or their estate or effects: provided, that all sums of money to be paid in pursuance of such award or orders shall be recoverable only out of the estate or effects of such master or masters, and not out of the proper money of such factor, trustee, assignee, or assignees, 5 G. 4. c. 96. s. 16.

24. Where any married woman, or infant under the age of 21 years, shall have cause of complaint in any of the cases provided for by this act, against any master or masters, his or their agent or servant, or factor or trustee, or assignee or assignees as aforesaid, such complaint may be lodged, and all further proceedings thereupon had, by and in the name of the husband of such married woman, and of the father, or, if dead, of the mother, or if on the death of both parents, of any of the kindred of any such infant, or of the surety or sureties in any indenture of apprenticeship of any such infant, being an apprentice, or of any person nominated by such infant, if he or she shall not have parent, kindred, or surety; and all such proceedings shall be as effectual, valid, and binding, as if such married woman was sole, and such infants were of full age, and pursued by themselves the remedies provided by this act, 5 G. 4. c. 96. s. 17.

25. With every piece of work given out by the manufacturer to a workman to be done, there shall (if both parties are agreed) be delivered a note or ticket, in such form as the said parties shall mutually agree upon; and which said note or ticket, in the event of dispute between the manufacturer and workman, shall be evidence of all matters and things mentioned therein or respecting the same, 5 G. 4. c. 96. s. 18.

26. A duplicate of every such note or ticket shall be made and kept by the master or agent delivering the same, which duplicate shall be evidence of all the matters therein contained, in case the workman shall not produce to the arbitrators, or the said justice, as the case may be, the said note or ticket so delivered to him with the said work, 5 G. 4. c. 96. s. 19.

27. It shall not be allowable to any manufacturer, who shall have received into his possession any article without objection made within 24 hours by himself, or his clerk or foreman, afterwards to make any complaint on account of work so received, 5 G. 4. c. 96. s. 20.

28. If the parties by and between whom the said reference shall take place as aforesaid shall think it expedient, or be desirous to extend the time hereby limited for the making the award or umpirage, it shall be lawful for them to extend the same accordingly by endorsement, according to the form in the schedule hereunto annexed, on the back of the order of the justice of peace, certifying the appointment of the referees, to be signed by both of them in the presence of one credible witness, 5 G. 4. c. 96. s. 21.

29. The award or umpirage to be made upon any reference demanded under this act shall and may be drawn up and written at the foot or upon the back of the said order, certifying the appointment of the referees, according to the form in the schedule hereunto annexed, 5 G. 4. c. 96. s. 22.

30. Upon fulfilment of the award or umpirage, the same shall be acknowledged by the party in whose behalf the same was made, by an acknowledgment at the foot of the said award, in the form of the schedule hereunto annexed, which, with the award, shall thereupon be delivered to the party fulfilling the same, 5 G. 4. c. 96. s. 23.

31. If any party shall refuse or delay to fulfil an award under this act, for the space of two days after the same shall have been reduced into writing, it shall be lawful for any such justice as aforesaid, on the application of the party aggrieved, by warrant under his hand according to the form of the schedule hereunto annexed, or in some other form to the like effect, to cause the sum of money directed to be paid by any such award to be levied by distress and sale of any goods and chattels of the person or persons liable to pay the same, together with all costs and charges attending such distress and sale, such sale to take place within such time, not exceeding five days, as the said justice shall think proper: and the overplus, if any, to arise by such sale, to be rendered to the owners of the goods and chattels distrained; and in case it shall appear by any return to such warrant that no sufficient distress can be readily had, which return may be in the form contained in the schedule hereunto annexed, or in some other form to the like effect, it shall be lawful for any such justice by warrant under his hand, according to the form of the schedule hereunto annexed, or in some other form to the like effect, to commit the person or persons so liable as aforesaid to the common gaol, or some house of correction within his or their jurisdiction, there to remain without bail for any time not exceeding three months, 5 G. 4. c. 96. s. 24.

32. Whereas cases may occur where the recovery of such sum of money by distress and sale of the goods and chattels of the defaulter may appear to the justice or justices of the peace by whom the warrant is to be issued to be attended with consequences ruinous or in an especial manner injurious to the defaulter and his family; to prevent such consequences, be it enacted, That the said justice or justices, in all such cases, shall withhold such warrant, and commit the defaulter to the common gaol or some house of correction within his or their jurisdiction, there to remain without bail for any time not exceeding three months; such commitment to be in the form or to the effect of the form in the schedule to this act annexed, 5 G. 4. c. 96. s. 25.

33. Where any person shall be committed to prison for refusing or delaying to fulfil an award as aforesaid, and such person shall, at any time during the period of his or her imprisonment, pay to the governor or keeper of the prison the full amount of the sum awarded, with all reasonable expences incurred through such refusal or delay, it shall be lawful for such governor or keeper of such prison, and he is hereby required forthwith to discharge such person from his custody, 5 G. 4. c. 96. s. 26.

34. The justice or justices by whom any person or persons shall be committed to prison for not appearing as a witness, or not submitting to be examined, shall cause the warrant or order for such commitment to be drawn up in the form or to the effect set forth in the schedule to this act, [see s. 9. pl. 16.] 5 G. 4. c. 96. s. 27.

35. No appeal or certiorari shall lie against any proceedings under this act; [5 G. 4. c. 96. s. 28.] no proceedings under this act shall be invalid for want of form, 5 G. 4. c. 96. s. 29.

36. The following and no higher fees shall be allowed to be taken for any proceeding under this act; (that is to say,) to the clerk of the justice or justices: for each summons, 2d.; for every oath or affirmation, 3d.; for drawing and entering the order, 4d.; for every warrant, 6d.:—to the constable or other peace-officer: for service of summons or order, 4d.; for executing warrant of distress and sale of goods, 1s.; for custody of goods distrained, per diem, 3d.; for every mile he shall travel, 3d.; for every caption, 6d.: and a table of fees, signed by the clerk to such justice or justices, shall be hung up in every place where any general or quarter session, or petty or other sessions of the peace, shall be held, 5 G. 4. c. 96. s. 30.

37. All costs, time, and expences attending the application to justices, to be made under this act, and of the arbitration pursuant thereon, shall be settled by the arbitrators or arbitrator by whom such dispute shall be settled; and where the same shall be determined by any justice, pursuant to this act, then the costs, time, and expences aforesaid shall be settled by such justice; and where the arbitrators appointed as aforesaid cannot agree as to the costs, time, and expences to be allowed, the same shall be settled by the justice or justices of the peace by whom the said arbitrators were named, and in case of his absence or indisposition, by any justice of peace for the same county, stewardry, riding, division, barony, city, burgh, liberty, town, or place nearest to the place at which the arbitrators met to settle the dispute: provided, that no master manufacturer, his foreman, or agent, shall in any case be allowed for costs, time, or expences, by the said justice or justices, unless it shall appear to him or them that the proceedings of the workmen were vexatious and oppressive, 5 G. 4. c. 96. s. 31.

38. Every agreement, submission, award, ticket, matter, or thing, under and by virtue of this act, or relating to any other mode of arbitration as aforesaid, shall and may be drawn up and written upon unstamped paper, 5 G. 4. c. 96. s. 32.

39. No action shall be brought against any arbitrator, justice of peace, constable, headborough, or other officer, or against any other person or persons whomsoever, for any matter or thing whatsoever done or committed under or by virtue or in the execution of this act, unless such action shall be brought within six calendar months next after the doing or committing of such matter or thing, 5 G. 4. c. 96. s. 33.

40. If any action or suit shall hereafter be commenced or prosecuted against any person or persons for any thing done under, by virtue, or in the execution of this act, such person or persons may plead the general issue, and give this act and the special matter in evidence; and if the plaintiff shall become nonsuited or suffer discontinuance, or forbear further prosecution, or if judgment shall be given for the defendant or defendants, such defendant or defendants shall recover his, her, or their full costs, and for which he, she, or they shall have like remedy as in cases where costs by law are given to defendants, 5 G. 4. c. 96. s. 34.

41. Nothing in this act shall extend to repeal, abridge, annul, or make void any of the clauses, provisions, remedies, or powers contained in any law or statute now in force, and not repealed by this act, 5 G. 4. c. 96. s. 35.

SCHEDULES to which 5 G. 4. c. 96. refers.

Form of the award to be written at the foot or upon the back of the order of the justices of peace certifying the reference. [See ss. 22. 25. pl. 28. 31.]

'We, I. K. and L. M. [name and describe the referees], the referees appointed to settle the matters in dispute between the parties within named [or, I. K. one of the referees so appointed; or, L. M. the other referee appointed having failed to attend; or, I N. O. the justice, as the case may be], do hereby adjudge and determine that [here set forth the determination; to which the referee or referees, or justice, as the case may be, shall subscribe their names].'

'The evidence that you shall give before us the arbitrators appointed by C. D. and E. F. [the parties] to determine the matters in difference between them under and by virtue of an act passed in the fifth year of the reign of King George the Fourth, intituled, An Act to consolidate and amend the laws relative to the arbitration of disputes between masters and workmen, shall be the truth, the whole truth, and nothing but the truth. So help you God.'

Form of commitment of a person summoned as witness before the arbitrators. [See ss. 9. 27. pl. 16. 33.]

'Whereas proof on oath hath been made before me one of H. M.'s justices of the peace for the county [or riding, stewardry, division, city, burgh, liberty, town, or place], of — on this — day of —, that A. B. hath been duly summoned, and hath neglected to appear and give evidence before C. D. and E. F., the arbitrators appointed by and between G. H. and I. K. to determine the matters in dispute between them at —, in the county [or riding, stewardry, division, city, burgh, liberty, town, or place], of —, on the — day of —, under and by virtue of an act made in the fifth year of the reign of His present Majesty, intituled, 'An Act [here set forth the title of this act]'; and the said A. B. being required by me, the said justice, to give evidence before the said arbitrators, and still refusing so to do, therefore I, the said justice, do hereby, in pursuance of the said act, commit the said A. B. to the [describing the prison and the house of correction], there to remain without bail or mainprize for his [or her] offence aforesaid, until he [or she] shall submit himself [or herself] to be examined, and give his [or her] evidence before the said arbitrators, touching the matters referred to them as aforesaid, or shall otherwise be discharged by due course of law: and you the [constable or other peace-officer or officers to whom the warrant is directed] are hereby authorized and required to take into your custody the body of the said A. B. and him [or her] safely to convey to the said prison [or house of correction] and him [or her] there to deliver to the gaoler [or keeper] thereof, who is hereby authorized and required to receive into his custody the body of the said A. B., and him [or her] safely to detain and keep, pursuant to this commitment. Given under my hand, this — day of —, in the year of our Lord —.

Form of warrant of distress. [See s. 24. pl. 30.]

To the Constable of —.

'Whereas — of —, under an award made by —, on the — day of —, in the year of our Lord —, pursuant to an act passed in the fifth year of the reign of His present Majesty, intituled, 'An Act [state the title of this act]', is liable to pay to — of — the sum of —, and also the sum of —, and the said — having refused or neglected to pay the same for the space of two days and upwards subsequent to the making such award, these are therefore to command you to levy the said sum of — by distress and sale of the goods and chattels of the said —, and I do hereby order and direct the goods and chattels so to be distrained to be sold and disposed of within — days, unless the said sum of —, for which such distress shall be made, together with the reasonable charges of taking and keeping such distress, shall be sooner paid; and you are also hereby commanded to certify to me what you shall do by virtue of this my warrant. Given under my hand and seal, at —, the — day of —.'

Form of the constable's return to the warrant of distress. [See s. 24. pl. 30.]

'I, —, constable of —, do hereby certify to —, justice of the peace of —, that I have made diligent search for, but do not know of, nor can find any goods and chattels of —, by distress and sale whereof I may levy the sum of —, pursuant to his warrant for that purpose. Dated the — day of —, in the year of our Lord —. Given under my hand this — day of —, in the year of our Lord —.'

Form of commitment thereupon to the house of correction. [See s. 24. pl. 30.]

County of } To the constable of —, and also to the keeper of the house of correction at —.

'Whereas — of —, under an award made by —, on the — day of —, in the year of our Lord —, pursuant to an act passed in the fifth year of the reign of His present Majesty, intituled, 'An Act [state the title of this act]', became liable to pay to — the sum of —, and also the sum of — for costs, time, and expences, making together the sum of —, and having refused or neglected to pay the same for the space of two days and upwards subsequent to the making of such award, my warrant was, according to the provisions of the said act, duly made and issued for the levying the said sum of — by distress and sale of the goods and chattels of the said —; and whereas it appears by the return of —, constable of —, dated the — day of —, that he hath made diligent search for, but doth not know of nor can find any goods and chattels of the said — by distress and sale whereof the said sum of — may be levied pursuant to my said warrant: these are therefore to command you, the said constable of —, to apprehend the said —, and convey him to the said house of correction at — aforesaid, and deliver him there to the keeper of the said house of correction; and these are also to command you the keeper of the said house of correction to receive him the said — into the said house of correction, and there keep him without bail or mainprize for the space of — months, unless the said sum of —, so ordered to be paid as aforesaid, shall be sooner satisfied, with all reasonable expences. Given under my hand and seal, at —, the — day of —.

Form of commitment where the warrant of distress is withheld.

[See s. 25. pl. 31.]

County of } To the constable of —, and also to the keeper of the house of } correction at —.

‘Whereas — of —, under an award made by —, on the — day of —, in the year of our Lord —, pursuant to an act passed in the fifth year of the reign of His present Majesty, intituled, ‘An Act [state the title of this act],’ became liable to pay to — the sum of —, and also the sum of — for costs, time, and expences, making together the sum of —, which he has refused or neglected to pay for the space of two days and upwards subsequent to the making of such award; and whereas it appears to me that the recovery of such sum and warrant of distress and sale of the goods and chattels of the said — will be attended with consequences ruinous or in an especial manner injurious to the defaulter [and his family, if any], and I have therefore determined to withhold such warrant and to commit the said — to prison, pursuant to the said act: these are therefore to command you, the said constable of —, to apprehend the said —, and convey him to the said house of correction at — aforesaid, and deliver him there to the keeper of the said house of correction; and these are also to command you, the keeper of the said house of correction, to receive him the said — into the said house of correction, and there keep him without bail or mainprize for the space of — months, unless the said sum of —, so ordered to be paid as aforesaid, shall be sooner satisfied, with all reasonable expences. Given under my hand and seal, at —, the — day of —.

42. To repeal the laws relative to artificers going into foreign parts, 5 G. 4. c. 97.

43. Whereas it is expedient that the several laws relative to artificers going into foreign parts should be repealed: be it enacted, That from the 21st June, 1824, stat. 5 G. 1. c. 27. [Stat. Dig. tit. MANUFACTURES, pl. 54.] intituled, An Act to prevent the inconveniences arising from seducing artificers in the manufactures of G. B. into foreign parts; also stat. 25 G. 2. c. 15. ss. 1, 2. [Stat. Dig. tit. MANUFACTURES, pl. 54.] intituled, An Act for the effectual punishing of persons convicted of seducing artificers in the manufactures of G. B. or Ire. out of the dominions of the crown of G. B.; and to prevent the exportation of utensils made use of in the woollen and silk manufactures from G. B. or Ire. into foreign parts; and for the more easy and speedy determination of appeals allowed in certain cases by an act made in the last session of parliament, relating to persons employed in the several manufactures therein mentioned; as relates to contracting with, enticing, persuading, or endeavouring to persuade, solicit, or seduce manufacturers, workmen, and artificers, as therein mentioned; also stat. 22 G. 3. c. 60. ss. 1, 2. [Stat. Dig. tit. MANUFACTURES, pl. 77, 78.] intituled, An Act to prevent the seducing of artificers or workmen employed in printing calicoes, cottons, muslins, and linens, or in making or preparing blocks, plates, or other implements used in that manufactory, to go to parts beyond the seas; and to prohibit the exportation to foreign parts any such blocks, plates, or other implements, as relates to contracting with, enticing, persuading, or endeavouring to seduce or encourage artificers and workmen as therein mentioned; also so much of 25 G. 3. (Ire.) intituled, An Act to prevent the practice of seducing artificers and manufacturers of this kingdom, and of exporting the several tools and utensils made use of in preparing and working up the manufactures thereof, into parts beyond the seas, as relates to contracting with, enticing, persuading, or endeavouring to persuade, solicit, or seduce manufacturers, workmen, or artificers, as therein mentioned; and also stat. 25 G. 3. c. 67. ss. 6, 7. [Stat. Dig. tit. MANUFACTURES, pl. 91, 92.] intituled, An Act to prohibit the exportation to foreign parts of tools and utensils made use of in the iron and steel manufactures of this kingdom; and to prevent the seducing of artificers or workmen employed in those manufactures to go into parts beyond the seas, as relates to contracting with, enticing, persuading, or endeavouring to seduce or encourage artificers or workmen as therein mentioned; also stat. 39 G. 3. c. 56. s. 8. intituled, An Act to explain and amend the laws relative to colliers in that part of G. B. called Scot.; as punishes the seducing or attempting to seduce colliers or others, as therein mentioned; together with every other law, statute, or enactment relative to the same subject, or any of them, and whether in force throughout or in any of the U. K. of G. B. and Ire., shall be and the same are hereby repealed, save and except in as far as the same may have repealed any prior act or enactment, 5 G. 4. c. 97. s. 1.

LAND-TAX.

1. For rectifying the mistakes in the names of the land-tax commissioners, and for appointing additional commissioners, and indemnifying such persons as have acted without due authority in execution of the acts therein recited, 3 G. 4. c. 14. and 4 G. 4. c. 68.

2. Recital of 1 & 2 G. 4. c. 123. [Stat. Dig. this title, pl. 9.] and of 3 G. 4. c. 14. and the annual pension duty act, 3 G. 4. c. 3. and certain persons herein named appointed commissioners for putting the said acts in execution in G. B., as if named in 1 & 2 G. 4. c. 123. and no mistake in the spelling of the christian and surname of any person or of any place mentioned in the said acts, or this act, shall vitiate the appointment of such person to be a commissioner, so that the person or place mentioned be designated therein to common intent and understanding, or to subject any person so designated to any pains or penalty for his acting in execution of the said acts, 3 G. 4. c. 14. s. 1. — 4 G. 4. c. 68. s. 1.

3. Provided, that the several persons appointed by the said acts shall severally have the qualifications by 38 G. 3. c. 5. and 38 G. 3. c. 48. [Stat. Dig. this title, pl. 98—105.] required, and shall be subject to the pains and penalties in the said act contained, 3 G. 4. c. 14. s. 2. — 4 G. 4. c. 68. s. 2.

4. Provided also, that where in any city, liberty, or place, the qualification shall consist of personal estate, it shall be lawful for any person having a personal estate of the value required by the said acts, or either of them, [Stat. Dig. this title, pl. 102.] to act as such commissioner in all cases where such person shall have been taxed, and shall have paid for such personal estate, by and upon the last assessment then made for such city, liberty, or place, by virtue of an act for continuing and granting to H. M. a duty on pensions, offices, and personal estates in Eng., passed before the making of such assessment 5 G. 4. c. 14. s. 3. — 4 G. 4. c. 68. s. 3.

5. And whereas several persons may have acted as commissioners for executing the said acts without having been properly named as commissioners by 1 & 2 G. 4. c. 123. [Stat. Dig. this title, pl. 9.] and 3 G. 4. c. 14., and others named in former acts of parliament to be commissioners may have been omitted in the 1 & 2 G. 4. c. 123. and 3 G. 4. c. 14. and may have acted as aforesaid, before notice of such omission; and whereas it is expedient that such persons should be indemnified for such acting, and that all acts by them done should be confirmed and made valid; be it therefore enacted, That all acts done by any such persons in the execution of the said acts, or of any other acts, to be executed by such commissioners, shall be and are hereby declared to be valid; and that all personal actions and suits, indictment, informations, and all prosecutions and proceedings whatsoever, which have been or shall be prosecuted or commenced against any person or persons for or by reason of such acting, are declared to be void by virtue of this act, and shall be quashed and determined; and if any action or suit shall be prosecuted or commenced against any person or persons for or by reason of such acting, such person or persons may plead the general issue, and give this act and the special matter in evidence, 3 G. 4. c. 14. s. 4. — 4 G. 4. c. 68. s. 4.

6. And whereas by 1 & 2 G. 4. c. 123. s. 4. [Stat. Dig. this title, pl. 10.] it was provided, that no person who should have held the office of inspector, or surveyor of assessed taxes, should, from and after the passing of the said act, be capable of acting as such commissioner, although such person might be named in the said act as such commissioner: be it further enacted, That nothing contained in the hereinbefore recited act shall extend to incapacitate or disqualify any person who shall have held the said office of inspector, or surveyor of assessed taxes, from acting as a commissioner of the land-tax in any other district or division than that in which he shall have executed the said office of inspector, or surveyor of assessed taxes, if such person shall in other respects be duly qualified to act as such commissioner, and shall actually and bonâ fide have resigned the said office of inspector, or surveyor of assessed taxes, and also acted as such commissioner previously to the passing of 1 & 2 G. 4. c. 123., 3 G. 4. c. 14. s. 5. — 4 G. 4. c. 68. s. 5.

7. To provide for the application of monies arising in certain cases of assessments for land-tax in G. B., 6 G. 4. c. 32.

8. Whereas the commissioners acting in the execution of the acts relating to the land-tax have in certain districts, by reason of the frequent changes in the extent and number of buildings and inhabitants, and in the occupation of houses after assessments made upon them, or for other causes, been unable to apportion, assess, and raise the quota or proportion payable by each parish or place for the land-tax, without exceeding the amount of such quota in the aggregate of the assessments made and delivered to the several collectors thereof, whereby an excess beyond the quota has arisen in the collection: And whereas it is therefore expedient to make provision, as well for avoiding as much as possible any such excess in the assessment and collection, as for the application of monies arising therefrom in aid and for the benefit of the parish or place, in the manner herein-after provided; be it therefore enacted, That in every case where the assessment made or to be made and allowed under the provisions of the acts relating to the land-tax, for and upon any city, borough, town, parish, ward, or place, in any district or division in G. B., shall exceed, by the amount of 5*l.* sterling, the quota or proportion payable to H. M. by or for such city, borough, town, parish, ward, or place, under the provisions of the said acts, the respective commissioners acting within and for the districts or divisions within which any such excess of assessment shall be made or arise, shall, and they are hereby authorized and required, on or before the 24th Dec. 1825, for and in respect of the assessments for the year ended on the 25th March, 1825, and in like manner for and in respect of any such assessments made or to be made for any subsequent year or years, on or before the 24th Dec. following the expiration of the year of assessment, yearly to prepare and transmit, or cause to be prepared and transmitted, by their clerk, to the commissioners for the affairs of taxes, or to their secretary for the time being, to be by the said commissioners from time to time laid before the commissioners of H. M.'s treasury of the U. K. of G. B. and Ire. for the time being, for the purposes herein-after expressed, a certificate, fairly written, under the hands of any three or more of the said commissioners acting in the execution of the said acts, in and for the district or division to which any such certificate shall relate, containing the amount of the quota or proportion of land-tax charged on such city, borough, town, parish, ward, or place, and returned in the parchment duplicates of assessment, as required by the said acts, the actual and total amount of any such assessment delivered to the collector or collectors thereof, the city, borough, town, parish, ward or place, and the name or names of such collector or collectors, together with the amount of the sum by which the actual assessment shall in any such case exceed the quota or proportion chargeable on each such city, borough, town, parish, ward, or place, and the amount of such excess (if any) which shall have been collected and received by the several collectors thereof, previously to the transmission of such certificate, as nearly as the same can be made out; and where the whole collection for any year to which such certificate shall apply shall not have been closed, so as to ascertain and include therein the full excess assessed and collected, and to be accounted for under the provisions of this act, the respective commissioners shall, and they are hereby required to include and insert the further amount of such excess in the certificate for the next subsequent year or years within which it shall be collected, distinguishing therein the year or years to which such excess last mentioned shall relate, until the whole of the excess shall have been fully and duly accounted for on each year, under the provisions of this act: provided, and in every case, where any monies arising from any such excess of the collection on the assessments or assessment for any former years or year, shall remain in the hands of any collector or collectors, or of any other person or persons, at the time of the passing of this act, the commissioners of the district in which the same shall have arisen, or any three of them, shall, on or before the said 24th Dec. 1825, in like manner prepare and transmit, or cause to be prepared and transmitted to the said commissioners for the affairs of taxes, or their secretary, a certificate thereof, under their hands, containing the total amount of the sum or balance remaining unappropriated on all former years, with the names and descriptions of the collector or person in whose hands, custody, or power all and every or any part of such monies or balances shall remain, distinguishing the amount in the hands of each such person respectively; and the full amount of such excess, when and as the same shall be collected and arise as aforesaid, and also of all such money arising in former years as aforesaid, shall be paid over by the several collectors thereof, and other persons respectively holding the same, to the several receivers general of the land-tax, 6 G. 4. c. 32. s. 1.

9. It shall and may be lawful for the treasury, and they are hereby authorized and required, on the receipt of any such certificate, to authorize and direct from time to time the net produce and amount of such excess of assessment and collection to be applied to H. M.'s use, in part payment and discharge of any assessment of the land-tax made or to be made on the city, borough, town, parish, ward or place, within which such excess or assessment shall have been raised and collected for any subsequent year or years, in such manner as shall be authorized by the said commissioners of H. M.'s treasury for the time being in that behalf; and the warrant of the commissioners for the affairs of taxes, under the directions of the said commissioners of the treasury, shall be a sufficient power and authority to the several receivers-general receiving the same; and they are hereby respectively required, on the receipt of every such warrant, to apportion, apply, and pay over, or cause to be apportioned, applied, and paid over, any such excess or surplus money, in the manner to be directed by such warrants respectively, 6 G. 4. c. 32. s. 2.

10. And whereas by the said acts relating to the land-tax the commissioners in their several districts are required to sign and seal two duplicates of the assessments made by the several assessors, for each parish, township, or place, in pursuance of the warrants to them directed by the said commissioners in that behalf, and to deliver, or cause to be delivered, one of such duplicates to the several collectors appointed to collect the same, with warrants, after the appeals therefrom shall have been heard and determined by the said commissioners, in pursuance of the notice for that purpose by the said acts provided, and the said collectors are required, upon the application of any person who shall think himself or herself aggrieved or over-rated by any assessment, to permit such person or persons, or their stewards or bailiffs, or other proper representatives, to inspect the said duplicates of assessments, at all reasonable times in the day, without fee or reward for the same: and whereas it is expedient to make further provision for preventing irregularities in the making and collection of future assessments of the land-tax, be it further enacted, That from and after the passing of this act [10th June 1825], the respective commissioners are hereby required to certify or cause to be certified by their clerk, in writing, upon or with the warrant or warrants, or instructions for making the assessment to be delivered to the respective assessors under the provisions of the said acts, the amount of the quota or sum in charge against such parish, township, or place, under the provisions of the said acts, and according to the parchment duplicates thereof, thereby directed to be transmitted to the receiver-general, and to the court of exchequer, distinguishing by such certificate the proportion exonerated from the amount to be raised by assessment for the particular year, and the parish, township, or place respectively, to which any such warrant, precept, or instructions shall relate, 6 G. 4. c. 32. s. 3.

11. Before the duplicates of the said assessments for any year shall be signed and allowed by the respective commissioners, and one part thereof shall be delivered to the collectors for collection in manner aforesaid, the clerk to such commissioners shall and he is hereby required to cause the sums assessed to be duly cast up, and the total amount of such assessment to be inserted at the foot thereof, and where any such assessment shall contain two or more pages, to cause each page to be duly cast up, and the amount inserted at the foot thereof, and carried forward so as to form the total on the last page in any such duplicate; and if in any case the total amount of the sums charged by any such assessment shall exceed the actual amount of the said quota or proportion charged and to be raised in any year, in any parish, township, or place to which the same shall relate, every such clerk shall insert at the foot of the duplicate of assessment a summary relating to every such assessment last aforesaid, according to the form annexed to this act, marked with the letter (A); and if any such clerk shall neglect or refuse to perform the duty hereby required, he shall for every such offence forfeit and pay the penalty of 20*l.*, to be sued for and recovered as any penalty may be sued for and recovered under the said acts, 6 G. 4. c. 32. s. 4.

12. The collector or collectors appointed to collect any such assessment for any parish, township, or place as aforesaid, when required so to do, by the churchwardens and overseers or guardians of the poor, or any two of them, or by any person authorized by the inhabitants of any such parish, township, or place, in vestry assembled, shall deliver to them respectively an account in writing of the sums collected and received by such collector or collectors, for or on account of any such assessment, and of the sums in arrear, and of the sums remaining in his or their hands, and also of the sums paid to the receiver-general; and if any collector shall refuse or neglect so to do, within 14 days after such demand shall be made, he shall forfeit and pay the sum of 20*l.*, to be sued for and recovered in like manner as any penalty may be sued for or recovered under the said acts, 6 G. 4. c. 32. s. 5.

13. The several provisions of this act shall be extended and applied to any assessment on personal estate to be raised under any act or acts passed or to be passed for that purpose, where such assessment shall exceed, by the sum of 5*l.* sterling, the quota or proportion to be raised and paid to H. M.'s use, under any such act or acts, by or for any city, borough, town, parish, ward, or place, 6 G. 4. c. 32. s. 6.

14. To the end that the due application of any monies which shall or may be collected by the several collectors, for any city, borough, town, parish, ward, or place, over and above the quota or proportion by law payable, may be duly secured under the provisions of this act, all and every the powers and provisions contained in the said acts for raising the land-tax, shall and may be practised and put in execution, for the levying, securing, and recovery of the excess or surplus money to be collected by the several collectors or other persons receiving the same, in manner aforesaid, and in aid of such city, borough, town, parish, ward, or place, to all intents as if the assessment including any such excess monies contained no more than the quota or proportion of land-tax payable by such city, borough, town, parish, ward, or place to which the same shall relate, under the provisions of the said acts; and all collectors or other persons wilfully detaining any part or portion of the monies so collected, or misapplying the same, or disobeying or disregarding the warrants herein directed, for payment of such excess of monies, shall be subject to the like process, and to the same penalties and forfeitures as are provided by the said acts, or are otherwise authorized in cases of misapplication or default in accounting for and paying over or withholding the land-tax, 6 G. 4. c. 32. s. 7.

15. And whereas it has been the practice for the commissioners in certain extensive districts to apply some portions of the excess of the land-tax assessments for defraying incidental expences incurred by the said commissioners or by their clerk, in relation to such assessments, for satisfying which the compensation to the clerk, by his poundage on the amount of the quota of the land-tax, has been found inadequate, and it may be reasonable to provide for such expences for the future; be it further enacted, That it shall and may be lawful for the treasury to order and direct the allowance and discharge of such actual expences, or any part thereof, as shall be necessarily incurred by any such commissioners, or by their clerk, in the due execution of the said acts, where such allowance shall appear to the treasury reasonable and proper to be made, over and above the allowance by poundage to any such clerk, for the particular year of assessment to which such expences shall relate, under the authority of the said act: provided such expences shall from time to time be certified to the treasury, by any three of the commissioners, at a general meeting of the commission of the district in which the same shall arise, and the certificate of the commissioners for the affairs of taxes, or any three or more of them, shall be an authority to the receiver-general respectively, to pay such expences, or so much thereof as shall be directed by the treasury to be so allowed, 6 G. 4. c. 32. s. 8.

LEVANT COMPANY.

1. To repeal certain acts relating to the governor and company of merchants of Eng. trading to the Levant seas, and the duties payable to them; and to authorize the transfer and disposal of the possessions and property of the said governor and company for the public service, 6 G. 4. c. 33.

2. Whereas by letters patent bearing date 14th Dec. 5 Ja. 1. did grant to several persons therein named, and to their sons and such others as should thereafter be admitted and made free, that they should be one fellowship, and one body corporate and politic, by the name of "The Governor and Company of Merchants of Eng. trading to the Levant Seas;" and by the same name should have perpetual succession, with certain rights and privileges in the said letters patent specified: and whereas letters patent bearing date 2d April, 13 C. 2. did ratify and confirm the said letters patent of King James the First, and did grant further authorities and privileges to the said governor and company: and whereas by divers acts certain regulations have been made respecting the said company, and the dues and duties payable to the said company, that is to say, the 26 G. 2. c. 18. intituled, An Act for enlarging and regulating the trade into the Levant seas; the 20 G. 3. c. 18., among other things, for the allowing the importation into and exportation from Ire. of such goods as may be imported into or exported from G. B. by the merchants of Eng. trading to the Levant seas; the 43 G. 3. c. 153., to permit the importation into G. B. and Ire. of certain goods, wares, and merchandize in neutral vessels; the 55 G. 3. c. 29., intituled, An Act to regulate the trade between Malta and its dependencies and H. M.'s colonies and plantations in America, and also between Malta and the U. K.; the 57 G. 3. c. 4., intituled, An Act to extend the privileges of the trade of Malta to the port of Gibraltar; and 59 G. 3. c. 110., intituled, An Act to remove doubts respecting the dues payable to the Levant company: and whereas it would be beneficial to the trade of the U. K., and especially to the trade carried on in the Levant seas, that the exclusive rights and privileges of the said governor and company under the said letters patent and acts of parliament should cease and determine: and whereas the said governor and company are willing and desirous to surrender up the said letters patent into H. M.'s hands: be it enacted, That whenever and so soon as any deed or instrument by which the said governor and company shall so surrender up to H. M. the said letters patent, and all rights, powers, and privileges thereby granted or confirmed to the said governor and company, shall be made and executed under the common seal of the said governor and company, and shall be enrolled in H. M.'s high court of chancery, the said several letters patent and grants herein-before recited, and every matter, clause, and thing herein contained, shall be and become, and the same are hereby declared to be and become null and void; and that from and immediately after the enrolment of such deed or instrument, the said governor and company shall cease to be a body politic and corporate, and the said corporation shall be dissolved to all intents, constructions, and purposes whatsoever; and all rights, powers, and privileges by the said letters patent, or by the said several herein-before recited acts, or by any other authority or means granted to or possessed by the said governor and company, shall from thenceforth cease and determine; any thing in the said several letters patent and acts, or any of them, to the contrary in anywise notwithstanding; and the said governor and company shall be and they are hereby divested of and from all land, houses, and buildings, by whatever tenure holden, at any time heretofore purchased, acquired, or holden by the said governor and company, and which are holden, possessed, or claimed by the said governor and company, within the U. K., or at Smyrna or elsewhere, and all such land, houses, buildings, and all right, title, estate, or interest therein or thereto, holden, purchased, acquired, possessed, enjoyed, or claimed by the said governor and company, shall thenceforth be and the same and every of them are and is hereby declared and enacted to be fully and absolutely vested in H. M. his heirs and successors, for ever, 6 G. 4. c. 33. s. 1.

3. And whereas certain grants of money have been from time to time made to the said governor and company of merchants of Eng. trading to the Levant seas, by sundry acts, for the purpose of better enabling them to carry into effect the objects for which they were incorporated: and whereas it is just and expedient that all such property as shall belong to or be at the disposal of the said governor and company under or by virtue of the said letters patent and acts, or any of them respectively, at the time of such their dissolution, should, after the payment of all debts and demands to which the said governor and company may be liable as such corporation, be applied to the public service, in the manner herein-after directed; be it therefore enacted, That from and immediately after the enrolment of any such deed or instrument as aforesaid, whereby the said corporation shall be dissolved in manner directed by this act, all monies in the public funds, and all other monies, goods, chattels, property, and other personal estate and effects whatsoever, in the possession or at the disposal of the said governor and company as such corporation as aforesaid, or to which the said governor and company as such corporation are or shall be entitled, or which shall or may be due to the said governor and company as such corporation, shall be and become vested, and are hereby vested in the treasury of the U. K., and that it shall and may be lawful for the treasury to accept, receive, and recover, and to sell, transfer, and dispose of all such funds, monies, goods, chattels, property, and other personal estate and effects whatsoever, and to apply the produce thereof, in the first place, in and for the payment of all just debts and demands to which the said governor and company are or shall be liable at the dissolution of such corporation, on account of any matter or thing relating to such corporation; and from and after payment of all such debts and demands, it shall be lawful for the treasury to direct, that all the remainder and surplus of the produce of such public funds, monies, goods, chattels, property, and other personal estate as aforesaid shall be paid into the receipt of H. M.'s exchequer at Westminster, and shall be placed to the account of and made part of the consolidated fund of the U. K. of G. B. and Ire., 6 G. 4. c. 33. s. 2.

4. From and immediately after the enrolment in H. M.'s high court of chancery of such deed or instrument as aforesaid, the 26 G. 2. c. 18. and 59 G. 3. c. 110., and all powers for the levying of any duties or dues heretofore payable to the said governor and company, shall be and the same are hereby repealed; and all such duties and dues, and all powers for levying the same, shall cease and determine, except only so far as relates to the payment and recovery of any arrears of duties and dues which shall be payable to the said company at the time of the enrolment of such deed or instrument; and also that from and after such enrolment of such deed or instrument, all and every clause, matter, and thing contained in the 20 G. 3. c. 18. ss. 3, 4., 45 G. 3. c. 153. [both in part previously REP. by 3 G. 4. c. 45. s. 1.] 55 G. 3. c. 29., and 53 G. 3. c. 4., in any way extending or relating to the said governor and company, shall be and the same are from thenceforth hereby repealed; any thing in the said recited acts or any of them, or any other law, usage, or custom to the contrary in anywise notwithstanding, 6 G. 4. c. 33. s. 3.

5. From and immediately after the enrolment of any such deed or instrument as aforesaid, all such rights and duties of jurisdiction and authority over H. M.'s subjects resorting to the ports of the Levant for the purposes of trade or otherwise, as were lawfully exercised and performed, or which the said recited letters patent or acts, or any of them, authorized to be exercised and performed by any consuls or other officers appointed by the said company, or which such consuls or other officers lawfully exercised and performed under and by virtue of any power or authority whatever, shall, from and after the enrolment of such deed or instrument as aforesaid, be and become vested in, and shall be exercised and performed by such consuls and other officers respectively as H. M. may be pleased to appoint, for the protection of the trade of H. M.'s subjects in the ports and places respectively mentioned in the said letters patent and acts, or any or either of them, 6 G. 4. c. 33. s. 4.

6. It shall and may be lawful for the treasury, and they are hereby empowered and authorized to grant reasonable allowances and pensions to such of the officers and servants in Eng. of the said company, and to such other person or persons as, by reason of the dissolution of the said company, may lose and be deprived of their offices, employments, and pensions, and to charge the same upon the consolidated fund of the U. K.; and all such allowances and pensions to be so granted, shall be payable and paid quarterly at the receipt of the exchequer at Westminster, out of the said consolidated fund, free and clear of and from all taxes, charges, and deductions whatsoever; and the treasury shall yearly and every year before the 25th March in each year, if parliament be sitting, and in case parliament shall not be sitting, then within 20 days after the meeting of parliament then next following such 25th March, cause an account and estimate to be laid before parliament of the total amount of such allowances and pensions payable to such officers and servants in Eng. of the said company, and to such other persons as are hereinbefore mentioned, for one year ending 5th Jan. preceding every such 25th March respectively, 6 G. 4. c. 33. s. 5.

LONDON (BREAD).

An act to repeal the acts now in force relating to bread to be sold in the city of London and the liberties thereof, and within the weekly bills of mortality, and 10 miles of the Royal Exchange: and to provide other regulations for the making and sale of bread, and preventing the adulteration of meal, flour, and bread within the limits aforesaid, 5 G. 4. c. cvi. [This being a local, the title of it was deemed sufficient in this place.]

LONDON (SEWERS).

For altering and amending two acts passed in the 11th and 33rd years of His late Majesty King George the Third, [viz. 11 G. 3. c. 29. and 33 G. 3. c. 75.] for consolidating, extending, and rendering more effectual the powers granted by several acts of parliament for making, enlarging, amending, and cleansing the vaults, drains, and sewers within the city of London and liberties thereof, and for paving, cleansing, and lighting the streets, lanes, squares, yards, courts, alleys, passages, and places, and preventing and removing obstructions and annoyances within the same, 4 G. 4. c. cxiv. [This being a local act, it was thought the title would suffice in this place.]

MALICIOUS MISCHIEF.

1. For altering and amending several acts passed in the 1st and 9th years of the reign of King George the First, and in the 41st, 52nd, 56th, and 57th years of the reign of His late Majesty King George the Third, so far as the same relate to the recovery of damages committed by riotous and tumultuous assemblies and unlawful and malicious offenders, 3 G. 4. c. 33.

2. Whereas 27 El. c. 13. [Stat. Dig. tit. HUE AND CRY, pl. 11.] was passed, intituled, An Act for the following of hue and cry: and whereas by one other act, 1 G. 1. c. 5. s. 6. [Stat. Dig. tit. RIOT, pl. 24.] intituled, An Act for preventing tumults and riotous assemblies, and for the more speedy and effectual punishing the rioters, it is enacted, that if any church, chapel, or any building for religious worship, certified and registered as therein directed, or any dwelling-house, barn, stable, or out-house, should be demolished or pulled down, wholly or in part, by any person or persons so unlawfully, riotously, and tumultuously assembled as therein described, such damages should be recovered from the inhabitants of the hundred in which such damages should have been done; and in case such damages should have been done in any city or town that is either a county of itself, or not within any hundred, then such damages should be recovered from the inhabitants of such city or town, by an action to be brought in any of H. M.'s courts of record at Westminster, by the person or persons so damnified, and the same were directed to be raised and levied in manner provided by the said recited act made in the 27th year of the reign of Queen Elizabeth: and whereas by 9 G. 1. c. 22. s. 7., [Stat. Dig. tit. RIOT, pl. 34.] intituled, An Act for the more effectual punishing wicked and evil-disposed persons going armed in disguise, and doing injuries and violence to the persons and properties of H. M.'s subjects, and for the more speedy bringing the offenders to justice, it is enacted, that from and after the 1st June 1723, the inhabitants of every hundred within that part of G. B. called Eng., shall make full satisfaction and amends to all and every the person and persons, their executors and administrators, for the damages they shall have sustained or suffered by the killing or maiming of any cattle, cutting down or destroying any trees, or setting fire to any house, barn, or out-house, hovel, cock, mow, or stack of corn, straw, hay, or wood, which shall be committed or done by any offender or offenders against that act; and that every person and persons who should sustain damages by any of the offences last mentioned, were enabled to sue for and recover such his or their damages, the sum to be recovered not exceeding the sum of 200*l.*, against the inhabitants of the hundred; and if such person or persons should recover in such actions, the damages were directed to be levied and raised by such ways and means and in manner prescribed by the said recited act made in the 27th year of the reign of Queen Elizabeth: and whereas by 41 G. 3. (U. K.) c. 24. [Stat. Dig. tit. MILLS, pl. 6.] intituled, An Act for the indemnifying of persons injured by the forcible pulling down and demolishing of mills, or of works thereunto belonging, by persons unlawfully and riotously assembled, it is enacted, that if any wind saw-mill or other wind-mill, or any water-mill or other mill, or any of the works thereunto belonging, shall be demolished or pulled down, wholly or in part, by any persons unlawfully, riotously, and tumultuously assembled as therein described, then the damages sustained by the person or persons injured or damnified thereby, should be sued for, recovered, levied, raised, and reimbursed in such manner and form, and by such ways and means as are provided, directed, or referred to by the said act made in the first year of the reign of King George the First, in respect to the several descriptions of buildings therein mentioned: and whereas by 52 G. 3. c. 130. s. 25. [Stat. Dig. tit. RIOT, pl. 48.] intituled, An Act for the more effectual punishment of persons destroying the properties of H. M.'s subjects, and enabling the owners of such properties to recover damages for the injury sustained, it is enacted, that if any person or persons unlawfully, riotously, and tumultuously assembled together, to the disturbance of the public peace, shall unlawfully and with force demolish or pull down, or begin to demolish or pull down any erection and building or engine which shall be used or employed in carrying on or conducting of any trade or manufactory, or any branch or department of any trade or manufactory of goods, wares, or merchandize of any kind or description whatsoever, or in which any goods, wares, or merchandize shall be warehoused or deposited, then that the person or persons injured or damnified thereby should recover the value of such erection, building, or engine, and of the machinery belonging thereto, so destroyed, or the damage done thereto, and such value and damage are directed to be recovered, levied, raised, and reimbursed in such manner and by such ways and means as are provided, directed, or referred to by the said act, made in the first year of the reign of King George the First, in respect to the several descriptions of buildings therein mentioned: and whereas by 56 G. 3. c. 125. [Stat. Dig. tit. MINES, pl. 27.] intituled, An Act for the more effectual punishment of persons riotously destroying or damaging buildings, engines, and machinery used in and about collieries and other mines, waggon-ways, bridges, and other works used in conveying and shipping coals and other minerals, and for enabling the owners of such property to recover damages for the injury sustained, it is enacted, that if any person or persons unlawfully, riotously, and tumultuously assembled together, in disturbance of the public peace, shall unlawfully and with force demolish, pull down, destroy or damage, or begin to demolish, pull down, destroy or damage, any fire-engine or other engine erected or to be erected for making, sinking, or working collieries, coal-mines, or other mines, or any bridge, waggon-way, or trunk erected or made, or to be erected or made for conveying coals or other minerals from any colliery, coal-mine, or other mine, to any place, or for shipping the same, or any staith or other erection or building for depositing coals or other minerals, or used in the management or conducting of the business of any such colliery, coal-mine, or other mine, whether the same engines, bridges, waggon-ways, trunks, staiths, erections, and other buildings or works shall be respectively completed and finished, or only begun to be set up, made, and erected, then that the person or persons injured or damnified thereby, shall be entitled to recover the value of the property so destroyed or damaged, and the amount of the damages done; and such value or damage is to be recovered, levied, raised, and reimbursed in such manner and form, and by such ways and means, as are provided, directed, or referred to in the said recited act, made in the first year of the reign of King George the First, in respect of the several descriptions of buildings therein mentioned: and whereas by 57 G. 3. c. 19. [Stat. Dig. tit. ASSEMBLIES, pl. 38.] intituled, An Act for the more effectually preventing seditious meetings and assemblies, it is (amongst other things) enacted, That in every case where any house, shop, or other building whatever, or any part thereof, shall be destroyed, or shall be in any manner damaged or injured, or where any fixtures thereto attached, or any furniture, goods, or commodities whatever, which shall be therein, shall be destroyed, taken away, or damaged, by the act or acts of any riotous or tumultuous assembly of persons, or by the act or acts of any person or persons engaged in or making part of such riotous or tumultuous assembly, the inhabitants of the city or town in which such house, shop, or building shall be situate, if such city or town shall be a county of itself, or is not within any hundred, or otherwise the inhabitants of the hundred in which such damage shall be done, shall be liable to yield full compensation in damages to the person or persons injured or damnified by such destruction, taking away, or damage, and such damages shall and may be demanded, sued for, and recovered by the same means and under the same provisions as are provided in and by the said recited act, passed in the first year of King George the First, with respect to persons injured or damnified by the demolishing or pulling down of any dwelling-house by persons unlawfully, riotously, and tumultuously assembled: and whereas great expences are incurred in recovering a compensation for small damages by proceeding under actions at law, in compliance with the directions of the said recited acts, the costs greatly exceeding, in many instances, the amount of the damages: and whereas for the relief of the inhabitants of the several cities, towns, cinque ports, ancient towns, corporate towns, hundreds, rapes, wapentakes, lathes, ridings, divisions, and liberties in which such mischief may be done by riotous and disorderly persons, or may be done unlawfully and maliciously, it will be attended with great public benefit, that the damages not exceeding a certain amount should be recovered by a shorter and more summary process than as directed by the said recited acts; be it therefore enacted, That from and after the passing of this act [24th May 1822], it shall not be lawful for any person or persons whomsoever in Eng., where the loss, injury, or damage claimed and alleged to have been sustained shall not exceed the sum of 30*l.*, to commence, bring, or prosecute any action or actions at law in any of H. M.'s courts of record, against the inhabitants of the city, town, cinque port, antient town, corporate town, or liberty of any cinque port, hundred, rape, wapentake, lathe, riding, division, or liberty, where such loss, injury, or damage shall have been done or committed, as directed by the said recited acts respectively, for or on account of the loss, injury, or damage sustained by the demolishing, pulling down, destroying, or damaging, wholly or in part, of any church, chapel, or any building for religious worship duly certified and registered, or any dwelling-house, barn, stable, or out-house, by any persons unlawfully, riotously, and tumultuously assembled; or for or on account of any loss, injury, or damage sustained by the demolishing or pulling down, wholly or in part, of any wind saw-mill or other wind-mill, or any water-mill, or other mill, or any of the works thereunto belonging, by any persons unlawfully, riotously, and tumultuously assembled; or for or on account of the loss, injury, or damage sustained by the unlawfully and with force demolishing, or pulling down, or beginning to demolish or pull down any erection and building or engine used or employed in carrying on or conducting of any trade or manufactory, or any branch or department of any trade or manufactory of goods, wares, or merchandizes of any kind or description whatsoever, in which any wares, goods, or merchandize shall be warehoused or deposited, by any person or persons unlawfully, riotously, and tumultuously assembled together, to the disturbance of the public peace; or for or on account of the loss, injury, or damage sustained by the unlawfully and with force demolishing, pulling down, destroying, or damaging any fire-engine or other engine erected or to be erected for the making, sinking, or working collieries, coal-mines, or other mines, or any bridge, waggon-way, or trunk erected or made, or to be erected or made, for conveying coals or other minerals from any colliery, coal-mine, or other mine, to any place, or for shipping the same, or any staith or other erection or building for depositing coals or other minerals, or used in the management or conducting of the business of any such colliery, coal mine, or other mine, by any person or persons unlawfully, riotously, and tumultuously assembled together, in disturbance of the public peace; or for or on account of any house, shop, or other building whatsoever, or any part thereof being destroyed or in any manner damaged or injured, or any fixtures thereto attached, or any furniture, goods, or commodities which shall be therein, being destroyed, taken away, or damaged, by the act or acts of any riotous or tumultuous assembly of persons, or by the act or acts of any person or persons engaged in or making part of such riotous or tumultuous assembly; or for or on account of the loss, injury, or damage sustained by the unlawfully or maliciously killing or maiming of any cattle, cutting down or destroying any trees, setting fire to any house, barn, or out-house, hovel, cock, mow or stack of corn, straw, hay or wood; or for or on account of the loss, injury, or damage sustained by the setting fire to or destroying any ricks, or thrashing machines, by the act or acts of any riotous or tumultuous assembly of persons; but that the amount of such damage or injury shall and may be recovered only by the ways and means herein-after directed, 5 G. 4. c. 53. s. 1.

3. In every case in Eng. where any house, shop, or other building whatever, or any part thereof, shall be destroyed, or shall be in any manner damaged or injured, or where any fixtures thereto attached, or any furniture, goods, or commodities whatsoever which shall be therein, shall be destroyed, taken away or damaged, or any church, chapel, or any building for religious worship, dwelling-house, barn, stable, or out-house, or any such wind saw-mill or other wind-mill, or any water-mill or other mill, or any of the works thereto belonging, or any such erection or building or engine, or any such fire-engine or other engine, erected or to be erected as aforesaid, or any such bridge, waggon-way, or trunk, or any such staith or other erection or building for depositing coals or other minerals as aforesaid, so pulled down, demolished, destroyed, or damaged, wholly or in part; or any such killing or maiming of any cattle, cutting down or destroying any trees, setting fire to any house, barn, or out-house, hovel, cock, mow, or stack of corn, straw, hay, or wood, done or committed, or setting fire to or destroying any ricks or thrashing machines; and where the loss, injury or damage claimed or alleged to have been sustained, shall not exceed in amount the sum of 30*l.*, it shall and may be lawful for the party or parties damnified or injured, and he, she, and they are hereby directed within one calendar month next after such damage or injury shall have been sustained, to give notice in writing in the form in the schedule hereunto annexed, to the high constable of the hundred, rape, wapentake, lathe, riding, division, or liberty, or to the mayor or other chief magistrate of such city, town, or place in which such loss, injury, or damage shall have been suffered or sustained, and where there is no high-constable, to the churchwardens or overseers, or to any two substantial householders not being interested, or left at their respective last or usual places of abode, of such riotous or tumultuous assembly having taken place, and the nature and amount of the loss, injury, or damage sustained, and of his, her, and their intention of calling upon the inhabitants of such city, town, cinque port, ancient town, corporate town, hundred, rape, wapentake, lathe, riding, division, or liberty, to make good such loss, injury, or damage; and the said high-constable, mayor, or other chief magistrate, churchwardens or overseers, or inhabitants, as the case may be, is and are forthwith to give notice in writing thereof to the magistrates residing in or acting for such city, town, hundred, rape, wapentake, lathe, riding, division or liberty, who shall thereupon appoint a special petty session to be holden within 30 days next after the receipt of such notice, of all the magistrates residing in or acting for such city, town, cinque port, ancient town, corporate town, hundred, rape, wapentake, lathe, riding, division or liberty, to hear and determine of any complaint which may be then and there brought before them, for or on account of any such damage or injury having been sustained by or through the means aforesaid; and the party or parties so damnified and injured is and are hereby directed to give notice, or cause a notice in writing, in the form in the schedule hereunto annexed, to be placed on the church or chapel door, or most conspicuous place of the parish, township, or place in which such loss, injury, or damage shall have been sustained, on two successive Sundays next preceding the day of holding of such special petty session, of the intent and purpose for which such special petty session is to be held, 3 G. 4. c. 33. s. 2.

4. Provided, that in case the high-constable, mayor, or other chief magistrate, churchwardens, overseers, or substantial householders as aforesaid, shall neglect or refuse to give such notice as last herein-before directed and required, then it shall and may be lawful to and for the party or parties so damnified to sue such high-constable, mayor, or other chief magistrate, churchwardens, overseers, or substantial householders (as the case may be), for the amount of such damages, by action of debt or on the case, in any of H. M.'s courts of record at Westminster, wherein no essoign, protection, privilege, wager of law, or more than one imparlance shall be allowed, 3 G. 4. c. 33. s. 3.

5. It shall be lawful to and for the justices, or any two of them, at such special petty session, or any adjournment thereof, in Eng., to hear and examine the party or parties aggrieved, and the churchwardens or overseers or inhabitants of the parish, township, or place, and his or their several witnesses, upon oath or affirmation (which oath or affirmation the said justices are hereby authorized and empowered to administer), touching or concerning such riotous and tumultuous assembly, and the damage thereby sustained; and thereupon the said justices, or any two of them, shall, if they find that the complainant or complainants hath or have suffered any loss, injury, or damage by the means aforesaid, make an order or adjudication of the sum or sums of money to be paid to the party or parties aggrieved, together with his, her, or their reasonable costs and charges, and also the costs and charges (if any) of the high-constable, churchwardens, overseers, or inhabitants, to be allowed by such justices, and to direct such sum or sums to be raised in the manner in which it is at present raised, or if not, to direct such order or orders to the treasurer of the county, city, town, hundred, rape, wapentake, lathe, riding, division, or liberty, or where there shall be no treasurer of any such city, town, hundred, rape, wapentake, lathe, riding, division or liberty, then to the treasurer of the county, who, on the receipt of such order or orders, is hereby authorized and required forthwith to pay such sum or sums of money as shall be therein respectively mentioned, to the party or parties to whom he shall be directed to pay the same, and such treasurer shall be allowed the same in passing his accounts; and the justices of the peace, at their then next general or quarter sessions of the peace to be holden for such county, or any adjournment thereof, shall order and direct such sum or sums of money as shall have been paid by such treasurer, under or by virtue of such order or orders, to be raised on the city, town, hundred, rape, wapentake, lathe, riding, division or liberty, in which such damage or injury shall have been sustained, over, above, and in addition to the county rate to be paid by such city, town, hundred, rape, wapentake, lathe, riding, division or liberty, in common with the rest of such county; or where any such city, town, cinque port, ancient town, corporate town, hundred, rape, wapentake, lathe, riding, division, or liberty, shall not be liable to contribute to the general rate for the county, then such sum or sums of money as shall have been paid by such treasurer, shall be raised by such ways and means and in the same manner as county rates are directed to be raised by the 12 G. 2. c. 29. [Stat. Dig. tit. COUNTY RATE, pl. 1.] intituled, An Act for the more easy assessing, collecting, and levying county rates, and shall be forthwith repaid to such treasurer, 3 G. 4. c. 33. s. 4.

6. It shall be lawful to and for any justice or justices of the peace in Eng., at any time or times, to issue a summons under his or their hand and seal, or hands and seals, to any person or persons whomsoever, to attend as a witness or witnesses, and to give evidence, upon oath or affirmation, before such justices assembled at such special petty session, or any adjournment thereof, touching any matter of fact contained in any information or complaint then and there made, whether on the behalf of the party aggrieved, or such churchwardens or overseers, or inhabitants as aforesaid; and which summons such justice or justices as aforesaid are hereby required to grant, if thereunto required; and if such person or persons so summoned as aforesaid, upon being paid or tendered such sum for his, her, or their costs and charges, trouble and attendance, as the said justice or justices shall think reasonable, shall refuse or neglect to appear at the time and place to be for that purpose appointed, without such excuse for such his, her, or their refusal or neglect, as shall be approved by such justice or justices, or appearing shall refuse to be examined on oath or affirmation, or to give evidence before such justices, then and in every such case, every such person shall forfeit for every such offence any sum not exceeding 10*l.*, as in the discretion of such justices shall seem proper; which penalty shall be levied and recovered by distress and sale of the offender's goods and chattels, by warrant under the hand and seal of any justice of the peace, acting in and for such city, town, cinque port, ancient town, corporate town, hundred, rape, wapentake, lathe, riding, division or liberty; which warrant such justice is hereby empowered and required to grant, at the request of the party or parties aggrieved, or such churchwardens or overseers or inhabitants as aforesaid; and the penalty or forfeiture, when recovered, after rendering the overplus (if any) upon demand, to the party or parties whose goods and chattels shall be so distrained and sold, the charges of such distress and sale being first deducted, shall be paid to such churchwardens and overseers of the poor, or inhabitants, for the use and benefit of the poor of the parish, township, or place in which such damage or injury shall have been done; and in case sufficient distress shall not be found, or such penalty or forfeiture shall not be paid forthwith, it shall be lawful to and for such justice, and he is hereby authorized and required, by warrant under his hand and seal, to cause such offender or offenders to be committed to the common gaol or house of correction, there to remain without bail or mainprize for any time not exceeding three calendar months, unless such penalty and forfeiture, and all reasonable charges, shall be sooner fully paid and satisfied, 3 G. 4. c. 33. s. 5.

7. Provided, that in any action or actions hereafter to be brought in Eng. against the inhabitants of any city, town, cinque port, ancient town, corporate town, hundred, rape, wapentake, lathe, riding, division or liberty, under or by virtue of any or either of the before-recited acts of parliament, it shall be lawful for the defendants in such action or actions, by and with the consent and approbation of one or more of the justices of the peace acting in and for the parish, township, or place in which the damages shall be alleged by the plaintiffs in such actions to have been sustained, to suffer judgment to go by default, instead of appearing and defending the same, as directed by the said recited acts; but the plaintiffs in such actions shall nevertheless be required to produce the same proof before the sheriff or other officer taking the inquisition, in establishing his claim, as would be required if such actions had been defended; and that in taxing the costs, no more witnesses shall be allowed for, than the sheriff or other officer shall certify to have been necessary to the support of the plaintiff's case; any thing herein or in the said recited acts contained to the contrary thereof notwithstanding, 3 G. 4. c. 33. s. 6.

8. Provided, that if any person or persons in Eng. shall think himself, herself, or themselves aggrieved by any thing done in pursuance of this act, such person or persons may appeal to the justices of the peace at their then next general quarter session of the peace to be holden for such county, or at any adjournment thereof, the person or persons appealing having first given at least 10 days' notice in writing of such appeal, and of the nature and matter thereof, to the person or persons so appealed against, and within two days after such notice shall have been given having entered into a recognizance before some one justice for such city, town, hundred, rape, wapentake, lathe, riding, division, or liberty, with two sufficient sureties, conditioned to appear and try such appeal, and to abide the order of, and to pay such costs as shall be awarded by the justices at such general quarter session, or any adjournment thereof; and the said justices at such quarter session, upon due proof of such notice in writing being given as aforesaid, and of the entering into such recognizance, shall hear and finally determine the causes and matter of such appeal in a summary way, and award such costs to the party so appealing or appealed against, as they the said justices shall think proper; and the determination of such quarter session shall be final, binding, and conclusive to all intents and purposes, 3 G. 4. c. 33. s. 7.

9. Where any distress shall be made for any sum or sums of money to be levied by virtue of this act, the distress itself shall not be deemed unlawful, nor the party or parties making the same be deemed a trespasser or trespassers, on account of any defect or want of form in the summons, conviction, warrant of distress, or other proceedings relating thereto, nor shall the party or parties distraining be deemed a trespasser or trespassers ab initio on account of any irregularity which shall be afterwards done by the party or parties distraining, but the person or persons aggrieved by such irregularity shall and may recover full satisfaction for the special damages (if any) in an action upon the case; but no plaintiff or plaintiffs shall recover in any such action for such irregularity as aforesaid, if tender of sufficient amends hath been made for or on the behalf of the party distraining before such action brought, 3 G. 4. c. 33. s. 8.

10. All justices of the peace before whom any person shall be convicted of any offence against this act shall and may cause the conviction to be drawn up in the following form of words, or to the like effect :

City or county } ' Be it remembered, that on the — day of — in the — year of — to wit. } of the reign of H. M. — A. B. is convicted before me C. D. one of H. M.'s justices of the peace for the said [county, city, town, cinque port, ancient town, corporate town, hundred, rape, wapentake, lathe, riding, division, or liberty, as the case may be] by virtue of an act made in the 3rd year of the reign of H. M. King George the Fourth, intituled [here set forth the title of the act, and specify the offence, and the time and place when and where the same was committed, as the case may be]. Given under my hand and seal, the day and year aforesaid.'

3 G. 4. c. 33. s. 9.

11. And whereas it is provided by the said recited act, 1 G. 1. c. 5., that all prosecutions for repairing the damages of any church or chapel, or any building for religious worship, or any dwelling-house, barn, stable, or out-house, which shall be demolished or pulled down, in whole or in part, within Scot., by any persons unlawfully, riotously, or tumultuously assembled, should and might be by summary action at the instance of the party aggrieved, his or her heirs or executors, against the county, city, or burgh respectively; and it is expedient that the said provisions should be altered and amended, and farther provisions made for the relief of persons injured or damaged by any unlawful, riotous, or tumultuous assembly in Scot.; be it therefore enacted, That in every case where any damage or injury shall be done to any church, chapel, or building for religious worship, or to any house, shop, or other building whatsoever, or any fixtures attached thereto, or any furniture, goods, or commodities therein, by the act or acts of any unlawful, riotous, or tumultuous assembly of persons, or by the act or acts of any person or persons engaged in or making part of such unlawful, riotous, or tumultuous assembly, the party injured or damaged thereby shall be entitled to recover full compensation for the loss or injury, by summary action against the town-clerk of the city or burgh within which the loss or injury shall have been sustained, or the clerk of supply of the county or stewartry wherein the loss or injury shall have been sustained, if the same shall not have been within any city or burgh; which action shall and may be brought before the justices of the peace acting in execution of 39 & 40 G. 3. c. 46, intituled, An Act for the more easy and expeditious recovery of small debts, and determining small causes in that part of G. B. called Scot., subject to all the provisions of the said act, where the sum claimed shall not exceed 5*l.*, and shall and may be brought before the judge ordinary where the amount claimed shall exceed that sum, 3 G. 4. c. 33. s. 10.

12. It shall be lawful for the pursuer of any such action in Scot., so soon as he or she shall have obtained a final decree therein, to lodge an extract thereof with the clerk of supply of the county or stewartry, or with the town clerk of the city or burgh, as the case may be, and the said clerk of supply, or town-clerk, shall intimate the same forthwith to the convener of the commissioners of supply, or acting chief magistrate respectively, and the said convener or acting chief magistrate is hereby authorized and required to summon a meeting of the commissioners of supply of the county or stewartry, or of the magistrates of the city or burgh, as the case may be, to be holden within six calendar months after receiving intimation as aforesaid, who are hereby authorized and required so to meet, and to make an assessment for the payment of every sum so decreed for, in manner following; that is to say, by the commissioners of supply so assembled, upon the land, according to the valued rent thereof, and upon the houses situated therein, not being within any city or burgh, according to the actual or real rent of such houses, to be paid by the occupiers of such land and houses respectively, so that for every shilling levied in respect of such valued rent, there shall be levied 1*d.* for and in respect of such actual rent of such houses; and in any city or burgh wherein any such assessment shall be required, the same shall be made by the magistrates so assembled upon the actual or real rent of houses within the same, to be paid by the occupier thereof, according to a per-centage to such amount as shall be necessary to pay every such sum so decreed for, 3 G. 4. c. 33. s. 11.

13. It shall be lawful for such magistrate and such commissioners of supply as aforesaid respectively, to add to the amount of every such assessment such sum of poundage as shall be usually paid at the time to the collector of the cess in such county or stewartry, or in such city or burgh, for and in respect of their respective collections; and every assessment so made shall be forthwith collected therefrom, and by means thereof every such claim of damage or injury, according to the amount thereof decerned for as aforesaid, shall be paid by the collector, as soon as conveniently may be, to the person or persons entitled thereto; and if any such assessment shall not be paid by any person liable therein within six days after the same shall have been demanded by such collector, the same shall and may be recovered by a poinding and sale of the goods and effects of the defaulter, upon the warrant of any two justices of the peace of the county or stewartry, or any two of the magistrates of the city or burgh wherein the same may be, upon the oath of the collector, who is hereby authorized, upon such warrant, to cause so much of the goods and effects as may be necessary to be appraised and sold within 10 days after the date of every such warrant; and after paying the amount of such assessment, with the expences attending such poinding and sale, such collector shall account for the overplus, if any be, to the owner or owners of such goods or effects, 3 G. 4. c. 33. s. 12.

14. In case any clerk of supply, town-clerk, convener, chief magistrate, commissioners of supply, or magistrates, or any collector, shall omit or neglect to do what is herein required of such persons respectively, it shall be lawful for any party aggrieved to apply by summary complaint to the court of session, which court is hereby directed, in such case, to do therein as to such court shall seem just, 3 G. 4. c. 33. s. 13.

15. In the case of any such damage or injury done to any church, chapel, or building for religious worship, in Scot., every such compensation shall and may be recovered in the name of the clergyman or minister officiating therein, 3 G. 4. c. 33. s. 14.

16. Every action for any claim of damage under this act in Scot., shall be commenced within one calendar month after the damage shall have been done or injury suffered, otherwise the person claiming such damage shall not be entitled to relief under this act, 3 G. 4. c. 33. s. 15.

17. Nothing in this act contained shall extend or be construed to extend to that part of the U. K. called Ire., 3 G. 4. c. 33. s. 16.

A. B.'

MAN (ISLE OF).

1. To empower the commissioners of H. M.'s treasury to purchase a certain annuity in respect of duties of customs levied in the Isle of Man, and any reserved sovereign rights in the said island, belonging to John duke of Atholl, 6 G. 4. c. 34.

2. Whereas it is expedient to make better provision for the collection, management, and future regulation of the revenues arising in the Isle of Man, so as to assimilate them as much as possible to those of the U. K.: and whereas it would be greatly conducive to that object, if certain rights, titles, and interests reserved to John duke of Atholl, and the heirs-general of the seventh earl of Derby, by 5 G. 3. c. 26. [Stat. Dig. this title, pl. 1.] and also the proportion of the revenues or annuity in lieu thereof, made payable to the same by 45 G. 4. c. 123. [Stat. Dig. this tit. pl. 2.], wherein it is recited, that as the revenues arising from the duties of customs of the said island, before the passing of the 5 G. 3. c. 26. belonged to the ancestors of the said John duke of Atholl, it is just and proper that the annual amount of the further compensation to be given should be regulated from time to time by the produce of the revenues of the said island, were redeemed, for the use of the public, by the purchase thereof at a fair valuation: be it therefore enacted, That it shall be lawful for the treasury of the U. K., on the behalf of H. M., and for the said John duke of Atholl, and for the heir-general for the time being of James the seventh earl of Derby, to treat, contract, and agree for the absolute purchase or sale, or release or surrender of all or any estate, right, title, or interest, which he the said John duke of Atholl, or the heir-general of the seventh earl of Derby, now hath or claims, or can or may have or claim, of, in, or to the said annuity, or any such reserved sovereign rights as aforesaid, as the treasury may deem it expedient for the public interest to purchase, and the said John duke of Atholl, or his heirs, may be inclined to sell, release, or surrender, for such sum of money as shall be a just and fair equivalent for the same, to be settled and ascertained by any arbitrators chosen by the treasury, and the said John duke of Atholl, or the heir-general for the time being of the said seventh earl of Derby respectively, in that behalf; and that upon the execution of any such contract or agreement by or on behalf of the said John duke of Atholl, or the heir-general for the time being of the said James the seventh earl of Derby, or upon executing such other conveyances, assignments, releases, or surrenders, as in such contract shall be agreed on for that purpose, it shall and may be lawful to and for the treasury, and they are hereby empowered, by and out of any monies arising from the consolidated fund of the U. K., to order and direct the payment of such sum of money, from time to time, as shall be so ascertained and settled as aforesaid, as the amount to be paid for such purchase or purchases to the said John duke of Atholl, or the said heir-general for the time being of the said James the seventh earl of Derby, 6 G. 4. c. 54. s. 1.

3. For regulating the trade of the Isle of Man, 3 G. 4. c. 115. [This act recites the 6 G. 4. c. 105., which repealed all custom regulations affecting the Isle of Man, and then enacts new ones.]

MANSLAUGHTER.

1. For the further and more adequate punishment of persons convicted of manslaughter, 3 G. 4. c. 38. s. 1. [See s. 2. tit. SERVANTS, ss. 3, 4. tit. ACCESSORY, pl. 2, 3.]

2. Whereas the punishment of burning in the hand has long been deemed ineffectual and inexpedient, and the other punishments which may by law be inflicted upon persons convicted of the offence of manslaughter are frequently inadequate to the aggravated circumstances of such offence; it is enacted, That from and after the passing of this act [24th June 1822], whenever any person shall be lawfully convicted of the offence of manslaughter, such person shall not be liable to be burned or marked in the hand, or in any part thereof, but such person shall be liable to be transported beyond the seas for the term of his or her natural life, or for any term of years, as the court before which any such person shall be convicted shall adjudge; or shall be liable, in case the said court shall think fit, to be imprisoned only, or to be imprisoned and kept to hard labour, in the common gaol, house of correction, or penitentiary house, for any term not exceeding three years; or shall be liable to such a pecuniary fine, as to the said court, in its discretion, shall seem meet: and such fine or other punishment imposed by virtue of this act shall have the like effects and consequences to the party on whom such fine or other punishment shall be so imposed, with respect to any discharge from the same or other felonies, or any restitution to his or her estates, capacities and credits, as if he or she had continued liable to the former punishment of burning or marking in the hand, and had suffered such former punishment, 3 G. 4. c. 38. s. 1.

MANUFACTURES.

To prevent the inconveniences arising from the seducing artificers in the manufactures of G. B. into foreign parts, 5 G. 1. c. 27. AMD. 23 G. 2. c. 13. ss. 1, 2. [Stat. Dig. tit. MANUFACTURES, pl. 54.] REP. 5 G. 4. c. 97. See LABOURERS.

MARKETS AND FAIRS.

1. The clerk of the market shall carry with him all his weights and measures signed, 16 R. 2. c. 3. REP. 5 G. 4. c. 74. s. 23.

2. For the better ordering and regulating of the office of clerk of the market allowed and confirmed by this statute, 16 C. 1. c. 19. REP. 5 G. 4. c. 74. s. 25. See WEIGHTS, &c.

MARRIAGE.

(STATUTES repealed.)

1. For the better preventing clandestine marriages, 26 G. 2. c. 33. [Stat. Dig. this title, pl. 11—28.] AMD. and in part REP., 3 G. 4. c. 75., in part revived, 4 G. 4. c. 17., and finally REP. in toto, 4 G. 4. c. 76.

2. To regulate the celebration of marriages in Newfoundland, 57 G. 3. c. 51. [Stat. Dig. tit. MARRIAGE, pl. 36—41.] REP. 5 G. 4. c. 68. s. 1. See tit. NEWFOUNDLAND.

3. To repeal certain provisions of 3 G. 4. c. 75., intituled, An Act to amend certain provisions of 26 G. 2. for the better preventing clandes- tine marriages, 4 G. 4. c. 17. [REP. except so far as it repeals any other act, 4 G. 4. c. 76. post, pl. 21.]

(STATUTES in force.)

4. To amend certain provisions of the 26 G. 2. for the better prevention of clandestine marriages, 3 G. 4. c. 75. [REP. as to ss. 8.—26. by 4 G. 4. c. 17.]

5. Whereas it is, amongst other things, provided by 26 G. 2. c. 33. s. 11. that all marriages solemnized by licence after the 26th March 1754, where either of the parties (not being a widower or a widow) shall be under the age of 21 years, which shall be had without the consent of the father of such of the parties so under age (if then living) first had and obtained, or if dead, of the guardian or guardians of the person of the party so under age, lawfully appointed, or one of them, and in case there shall be no such guardian or guardians, then of the mother (if living and unmarried), or if there shall be no mother living and unmarried, then of a guardian or guardians of the person appointed by the court of chancery, shall be absolutely null or void, to all intents and purposes whatsoever: and whereas great evils and injustice have arisen from such provisions; for remedy thereof, be it therefore enacted, That so much of the said statute as is therein-before recited, as far as the same relate to any marriage to be hereafter solemnized, shall be repealed, 3 G. 4. c. 75. s. 1.

6. And that in all cases of marriage had and solemnized by licence before the passing of this act [22d July 1822], without any such consent [as required by 26 G. 2. c. 33. s. 11.], and where the parties shall have continued to live together as husband and wife, till the death of one of them, or till the passing of this act, or shall only have discontinued their cohabitation for the purpose, or during the pending of any proceedings touching the validity of such marriage, such marriage, if not otherwise invalid, shall be deemed to be good and valid to all intents and purposes whatsoever, 3 G. 4. c. 75. s. 2.

7. Provided, that nothing in this act shall extend to render valid any marriage declared invalid by any court of competent jurisdiction, before the passing of this act, nor any marriage where either of the parties shall, at any time afterwards, during the life of the other party, have lawfully intermarried with any other person, 3 G. 4. c. 75. s. 3.

8. Provided, that nothing in this act shall be deemed to render any marriage valid, the invalidity of which has been established before the passing of this act, upon the trial of any issue touching its validity, or touching the legitimacy of any person alleged to be the descendant of the parties to such marriage, 3 G. 4. c. 75. s. 4.

9. Provided also, that nothing in this act shall be taken to render valid any marriage, the validity of which, or legitimacy of any person alleged to be the lawful descendant of the parties married, has been duly brought into question in proceedings in any causes or suits in law or equity in which judgments or decrees or orders of court have been pronounced or made, before the passing of this act, in consequence of, or from the effect of proof in evidence having been made in such causes or suits of the invalidity of such marriage, or the illegitimacy of such descendant, 3 G. 4. c. 75. s. 5.

10. Provided further, that if at any time before the passing of this act, any property, real or personal, has been in any manner possessed, or any title of honour has been in any manner enjoyed by any person whomsoever, upon the ground, or upon the pretence, or under the colour of the invalidity of any marriage, by reason that it was had and solemnized without such consent as aforesaid, then, although no sentence or judgment has been pronounced in any court against the validity of such marriage, the right and interest in such property or title of honour shall in no manner be affected or prejudiced by this act, but shall remain and be the same to all persons, and to all intents and purposes, as if this act had never been made, 3 G. 4. c. 75. s. 6.

11. Provided, that nothing in this act shall extend to affect or call in question any act done before the passing of this act, under the authority of any court, or in the administration of any personal estate or effects, or the execution of any will or testament, or the performance of any trust, 3 G. 4. c. 75. s. 7.

12. To render valid certain marriages, 4 G. 4. c. 5.

13. Whereas by 3 G. 4. c. 75. s. 14. the right of granting licences for the solemnization of marriages was confined to the archbishops of Canterbury and York, and the several other bishops within their respective dioceses, and whereas notwithstanding such enactments, licences for marriages have through error been granted by or in the name of bodies corporate, or persons, their officers or surrogates, other than the said archbishops or bishops, now be it enacted, That all and every marriages and marriage solemnized by virtue or in consequence of a licence granted after the passing of 3 G. 4. c. 75. [viz. 22d July 1822], and before the passing of this act [viz. 7th March 1823], by or in the name of a body corporate or person, his or their officer or surrogate, other than the archbishops of Canterbury and York, according to the rights vested in them respectively, or the several other bishops within their respective dioceses, which body corporate or person, his or their officers and surrogates, before the passing of the said act, were or were deemed to be authorized by law to grant such licences, shall be as good and valid marriages to all intents and purposes whatsoever, as the same would have been if the said enactment restraining the power and authority of granting such licences had not been made, 4 G. 4. c. 5. s. 1.

14. Such bodies corporate and persons as aforesaid, their officers and surrogates, who have granted such licences as aforesaid since the passing of the said act, and their officers and others concerned therein, and such ministers, as have acted under the authority of the same, shall not be or be held to be liable to any pains or penalties or censures, for or on account of the granting or acting under the same, 4 G. 4. c. 5. s. 2.

15. To declare valid certain marriages that have been solemnized at St. Petersburg since the abolition of the British factory there, 4 G. 4. c. 67.

16. Whereas the British factory at St. Petersburg was by the manifesto of the Emperor of Russia declared to be abolished from and after the 20th June, 1807: and whereas divers marriages of subjects of this realm, resident at St. Petersburg, have, since the said 20th June, 1807, been solemnized there by the chaplain of the Russia company in the chapel of the said company, and in private houses, before witnesses, according to the religious ceremonies of the church of Eng.: and whereas it is expedient to declare the validity of such marriages, in order that no doubts or disquietude may hereafter arise thereupon: be it enacted, That all marriages (both or one of the parties thereto being subjects or a subject of this realm) that have, since the 20th June 1807, been solemnized, or that shall hereafter be solemnized at St. Petersburg by the chaplain to the Russia company, or by a minister of the church of Eng. officiating instead of such chaplain, in the chapel of the said Russia company, or in any other place, before witnesses, shall be as good and valid in law, and so deemed in the U. K. of G. B. and Ire., and in the dominions thereunto belonging, as if the same had been solemnized before the abolition of the said factory, 4 G. 4. c. 67.

17. To relieve H. M.'s subjects from all doubt concerning the validity of certain marriages solemnized abroad, 4 G. 4. c. 91.

18. Whereas it is expedient to relieve the minds of all H. M.'s subjects from any doubt concerning the validity of marriages solemnized by a minister of the church of Eng. in the chapel or house of any British ambassador or minister residing within the country to the court of which he is accredited, or in the chapel belonging to any British factory abroad, or in the house of any British subject residing at such factory, as well as from any possibility of doubt concerning the validity of marriages solemnized within the British lines by any chaplain or officer, or other person officiating under the orders of the commanding officer of a British army serving abroad, it is declared and enacted, That all such marriages as aforesaid shall be deemed to be as valid in law as if the same had been solemnized within H. M.'s dominions, with a due observance of all forms required by law, 4 G. 4. c. 91. s. 1.

19. Provided, that nothing in this act contained shall confirm or impair, or anywise affect, or be construed to confirm or to impair, or anywise to affect, the validity in law of any marriages solemnized beyond the seas, except such as have been or shall be solemnized in the places, form, and manner herein specified and recited, 4 G. 4. c. 91. s. 2.

20. For amending the laws respecting the solemnization of marriages in Eng., 4 G. 4. c. 76. [AMD. so as s. 13. by 5 G. 4. c. 32.]

21. Whereas it is expedient to amend the laws respecting the solemnization of marriages in Eng.; be it enacted, That from and after the 1st Nov. 1823, so much of 26 G. 2. c. 33. [Stat. Dig. this tit. pl. 11—28.] intituled, An Act for the better preventing of clandestine marriages, as was in force immediately before the passing of this act; and also 4 G. 4. c. 17. intituled, An Act to repeal certain provisions of an act passed in the third year of His present Majesty, intituled, 'An Act to amend certain provisions of the 26th of George the Second, for the better preventing of clandestine marriages;' shall be and the same are hereby repealed; save and except as to any acts, matters, or things done under the provisions of the said recited acts, or either of them, before the said 1st Nov., as to which the said recited acts shall respectively be of the same force and effect as if this act had not been made; save also and except so far as the said recited acts, or either of them, repeal any former act, or any clause, matter, or thing therein contained, 4 G. 4. c. 76. s. 1.

22. From and after the 1st Nov. 1823, all banns of matrimony shall be published in an audible manner in the parish church, or in some public chapel, in which chapel banns of matrimony may now or may hereafter be lawfully published, of or belonging to such parish or chapelry wherein the persons to be married shall dwell, according to the form of words prescribed by the rubrick prefixed to the office of matrimony in the book of common prayer, upon three Sundays preceding the solemnization of marriage, during the time of morning service, or of evening service (if there shall be no morning service in such church or chapel upon the Sunday upon which such banns shall be so published), immediately after the second lesson; and whensoever it shall happen that the persons to be married shall dwell in divers parishes or chapelries, the banns shall in like manner be published in the church or in any such chapel as aforesaid belonging to such parish or chapelry wherein each of the said persons shall dwell; and that all other the rules prescribed by the said rubrick concerning the publication of banns and the solemnization of matrimony, and not hereby altered, shall be duly observed; and that in all cases where banns shall have been published, the marriage shall be solemnized in one of the parish churches or chapels where such banns shall have been published, and in no other place whatsoever, 4 G. 4. c. 76. s. 2.

23. The bishop of the diocese, with the consent of the patron and the incumbent of the church of the parish in which any public chapel, having a chapelry thereunto annexed, may be situated, or of any chapel situated in an extra-parochial place, signified to him under their hands and seals respectively, may authorize, by writing under his hand and seal, the publication of banns and the solemnization of marriages in such chapel for persons residing within such chapelry or extra-parochial place respectively; and such consent, together with such written authority, shall be registered in the registry of the diocese, 4 G. 4. c. 76. s. 3.

24. Provided, that in every chapel in respect of which such authority shall be given as aforesaid, there shall be placed in some conspicuous part of the interior of such chapel a notice in the words following; "banns may be published and marriages solemnized in this chapel," 4 G. 4. c. 76. s. 4.

25. Provided, that all provisions now in force, or which may hereafter be established by law, relative to providing and keeping marriage registers in any parish churches, shall extend to any chapel in which the publication of banns and solemnization of marriages shall be so authorized as aforesaid, in the same manner as if the same were a parish church; and every thing required by law to be done relative thereto by the churchwardens of any parish church shall be done by the chapelwarden or other officer exercising analogous duties in such chapel, 4 G. 4. c. 76. s. 5.

26. On or before the said 1st Nov., and from time to time afterwards as there shall be occasion, the churchwardens and chapelwardens of churches and chapels wherein marriages are solemnized, shall provide a proper book of substantial paper, marked and ruled respectively in manner directed for the register book of marriages; and the banns shall be published from the said register-book of banns by the officiating minister, and not from loose papers, and after publication shall be signed by the officiating minister, or by some person under his direction, 4 G. 4. c. 76. s. 6.

27. Provided, that no parson, vicar, minister, or curate shall be obliged to publish the banns of matrimony between any persons whatsoever, unless the persons to be married shall, seven days at the least before the time required for the first publication of such banns respectively, deliver or cause to be delivered to such parson, vicar, minister, or curate, a notice in writing, dated on the day on which the same shall be so delivered, of their true christian names and surnames, and of the house or houses of their respective abodes within such parish or chapelry as aforesaid, and of the time during which they have dwelt, inhabited, or lodged in such house or houses respectively, 4 G. 4. c. 76. s. 7.

28. Provided, that no parson, minister, vicar, or curate, solemnizing marriages after the 1st Nov. 1823, between persons both or one of whom shall be under the age of 21 years, after banns published, shall be punishable by ecclesiastical censures for solemnizing such marriages without consent of parents or guardians, unless such parson, minister, vicar, or curate shall have notice of the dissent of such parents or guardians; and in case such parents or guardians, or one of them, shall openly and publicly declare or cause to be declared, in the church or chapel where the banns shall be so published, at the time of such publication, his, her, or their dissent to such marriage, such publication of banns shall be absolutely void, 4 G. 4. c. 76. s. 8.

29. Whenever a marriage shall not be had within three months after the complete publication of banns, no minister shall proceed to the solemnization of the same until the banns shall have been republished on three several Sundays, in the form and manner prescribed in this act, unless by licence duly obtained according to the provisions of this act, 4 G. 4. c. 76. s. 9.

30. No licence of marriage shall, from and after the said 1st Nov. (1823,) be granted by any archbishop, bishop, or other ordinary or person having authority to grant such licences, to solemnize any marriage in any other church or chapel than in the parish church or in some public chapel of or belonging to the parish or chapelry within which the usual place of abode of one of the persons to be married shall have been for the space of 15 days immediately before the granting of such licence, 4 G. 4. c. 76. s. 10.

31. If any caveat be entered against the grant of any licence for a marriage, such caveat being duly signed by or on the behalf of the person who enters the same, together with his place of residence and the ground of objection on which his caveat is founded, no licence shall issue till the said caveat, or a true copy thereof, be transmitted to the judge out of whose office the licence is to issue, and until the judge has certified to the register that he has examined into the matter of the caveat, and is satisfied that it ought not to obstruct the grant of the licence for the said marriage, or until the caveat be withdrawn by the party who entered the same, 4 G. 4. c. 76. s. 11.

32. Provided, that all parishes where there shall be no parish church or chapel belonging thereto, or none wherein divine service shall be usually solemnized every Sunday, and all extra-parochial places whatever, having no public chapel wherein banns may be lawfully published, shall be deemed and taken to belong to any parish or chapelry next adjoining, for the purposes of this act only; and where banns shall be published in any church or chapel of any parish or chapelry adjoining to any such parish or chapelry where there shall be no church or chapel, or none wherein divine service shall be solemnized as aforesaid, or to any extra-parochial place as aforesaid, the parson, vicar, minister, or curate publishing such banns shall, in writing, under his hand, certify the publication thereof in the same manner as if either of the persons to be married had dwelt in such adjoining parish or chapelry, 4 G. 4. c. 76. s. 12.

33. Provided, that if the church of any parish, or chapel of any chapelry, wherein marriages have been usually solemnized, be demolished in order to be rebuilt, or be under repair, and on such account be disused for public service, it shall be lawful for the banns to be proclaimed in a church or chapel of any adjoining parish or chapelry in which banns are usually proclaimed, or in any place within the limits of the parish or chapelry which shall be licensed by the bishop of the diocese for the performance of divine service during the repair or rebuilding of the church as aforesaid; and where no such place shall be so licensed, then, during such period as aforesaid, the marriage may be solemnized in the adjoining church or chapel wherein the banns have been proclaimed; and all marriages heretofore solemnized in other places within the said parishes or chapelries than the said churches or chapels, on account of their being under repair, or taken down in order to be rebuilt, shall not be liable to have their validity questioned on that account, nor shall the ministers who have so solemnized the same be liable to any ecclesiastical censure, or to any other proceeding or penalty whatsoever, 4 G. 4. c. 76. s. 13.

34. Whereas by 4 G. 4. c. 76., intituled, An Act for amending the laws respecting the solemnization of marriages in Eng., it is provided, (by s. 13.) that if the church of any parish, or chapel of any chapelry, wherein marriages have been usually solemnized, be demolished in order to be rebuilt, or be under repair, and on such account be disused for public service, it shall be lawful for the banns to be proclaimed in a church or chapel of any adjoining parish or chapelry in which banns are usually proclaimed, or in any place within the limits of the parish or chapelry which shall be licensed by the bishop of the diocese for the performance of divine service during the repair or rebuilding of the church as aforesaid; but it is not provided that marriages may be solemnized in such places so licensed; and whereas it is further provided, that where no such place shall be so licensed, then during such period as aforesaid the marriage may be solemnized in the adjoining church or chapel wherein the banns have been proclaimed; but it is not provided that marriages may be solemnized by licence in such adjoining church or chapel as aforesaid: and whereas it is provided that all marriages theretofore, but it is not provided that marriages thereafter solemnized in other places within the said parishes or chapelries than the said churches or chapels, on account of their being under repair, or taken down in order to be rebuilt, shall not be liable to have their validity questioned on that account: and whereas it is provided, that the ministers who have so solemnized the same shall not be liable to any ecclesiastical censure, or to any other proceeding or penalty whatsoever; but it is not provided that the ministers who shall thereafter solemnize such marriages shall not be liable to such censure or other proceeding or penalty: and whereas it is expedient that marriages heretofore and hereafter solemnized in such place so licensed as aforesaid, during the repair or rebuilding of any church or chapel, or if no such place shall be so licensed, then in a church or chapel of some adjoining parish or chapelry, whether by banns lawfully proclaimed, or by licence lawfully granted, should not have their validity questioned on account of their being so solemnized: and whereas it is expedient that the ministers who shall have so solemnized the same should not be liable to any ecclesiastical censure, or to any other proceeding whatsoever: therefore be it enacted, That from and after the passing of this act [17th May 1824], all marriages which have been heretofore solemnized or which shall be hereafter solemnized in any place within the limits of such parish or chapelry so licensed as aforesaid for the performance of divine service during the repair or rebuilding of the church of any parish, or chapel of any chapelry, wherein marriages have been usually solemnized, or if no such place shall be so licensed, then in a church or chapel of any adjoining parish or chapelry in which banns are usually proclaimed, whether by banns lawfully published in such church or chapel, or by licence lawfully granted, shall not have their validity questioned on account of their having been so solemnized; nor shall the ministers who have so solemnized the same be liable to any ecclesiastical censure, or to any other proceeding whatsoever, 5 G. 4. c. 32. s. 1.

35. And all licences granted by any archbishop, bishop, or other ordinary or person having authority to grant such licences for the solemnization of marriages in the church of any parish, or chapel of any chapelry wherein marriages have been usually solemnized, shall be deemed and taken to be licences for the solemnization of marriages in any place within the limits of such parish or chapelry which shall be licensed by the bishop of the diocese for the performance of divine service during the repair or rebuilding of any such church or chapel, or if no such place shall be so licensed, then in the church or chapel of any adjoining parish or chapelry wherein marriages have been usually solemnized, 5 G. 4. c. 32. s. 2.

36. All banns of marriage proclaimed, and all marriages solemnized according to the provisions of this act, in any place licensed as aforesaid, within the limits of any parish or chapelry, during the repair or rebuilding of the church or chapel of such parish or chapelry, shall be considered as proclaimed and solemnized in the church or chapel of such parish or chapelry, and shall be so registered accordingly, 5 G. 4. c. 32. s. 3.

37. For avoiding all fraud and collusion in obtaining of licences for marriage, before any such licence be granted, one of the parties shall personally swear before the surrogate or other person having authority to grant the same, that he or she believeth that there is no impediment of kindred or alliance, or of any other lawful cause, nor any suit commenced in any ecclesiastical court, to bar or hinder the proceeding of the said matrimony according to the tenor of the said licence; and that one of the said parties hath, for the space of 15 days immediately preceding such licence, had his or her usual place of abode within the parish or chapelry within which such marriage is to be solemnized; and where either of the parties, not being a widower or widow, shall be under the age of 21 years, that the consent of the person or persons whose consent to such marriage is required under the provisions of this act has been obtained thereto: provided, that if there shall be no such person or persons having authority to give such consent, then upon oath made to that effect by the party requiring such licence, it shall be lawful to grant such licence notwithstanding the want of any such consent, 4 G. 4. c. 76. s. 14.

38. Provided, that it shall not be required of any person applying for any such licence, to give any caution or security, by bond or otherwise, before such licence is granted; any thing in any act or canon to the contrary thereof notwithstanding, 4 G. 4. c. 76. s. 15.

39. The father, if living, of any party under 21 years of age, such parties not being a widower or widow; or if the father shall be dead, the guardian or guardians of the person of the party so under age, lawfully appointed, or one of them; and in case there shall be no such guardian or guardians, then the mother of such party, if unmarried; and if there shall be no mother unmarried, then the guardian or guardians of the person appointed by the court of chancery, if any, or one of them, shall have authority to give consent to the marriage of such party; and such consent is hereby required for the marriage of such party so under age, unless there shall be no person authorized to give such consent, 4 G. 4. c. 76. s. 16.

40. In case the father or fathers of the parties to be married, or of one of them, so under age as aforesaid, shall be non compos mentis, or the guardian or guardians, mother or mothers, or any of them whose consent is made necessary as aforesaid to the marriage of such party or parties, shall be non compos mentis, or in parts beyond the seas, or shall unreasonably or from undue motives refuse or withhold his, her, or their consent to a proper marriage, then it shall be lawful for any person desirous of marrying, in any of the before-mentioned cases, to apply by petition to the lord chancellor, lord keeper, or the lords commissioners of the great seal of G. B. for the time being, master of the rolls, or vice-chancellor of Eng., who is and are respectively hereby empowered to proceed upon such petition in a summary way: and in case the marriage proposed shall upon examination appear to be proper, the said lord chancellor, lord keeper, or lords commissioners of the great seal for the time being, master of the rolls, or vice-chancellor, shall judicially declare the same to be so; and such judicial declaration shall be deemed and taken to be as good and effectual, to all intents and purposes, as if the father, guardian or guardians, or mother of the person so petitioning had consented to such marriage, 4 G. 4. c. 76. s. 17.

41. Provided, that from and after the said first day of Nov. no surrogate hereafter to be deputed by any ecclesiastical judge who hath power to grant licences, shall grant any such licence until he hath taken an oath before the said judge, or before a commissioner appointed by commission under the seal of the said judge, which commission the said judge is hereby authorized to issue, faithfully to execute his office according to law, to the best of his knowledge, and hath given security by his bond in the sum of 100*l.* to the bishop of the diocese for the due and faithful execution of his said office, 4 G. 4. c. 76. s. 18.

42. Whenever a marriage shall not be had within three months after the grant of a licence by any archbishop, bishop, or any ordinary or person having authority to grant such licence, no minister shall proceed to the solemnization of such marriage until a new licence shall have been obtained, unless by banns duly published according to the provisions of this act, 4 G. 4. c. 76. s. 19.

43. Provided, that nothing herein-before contained shall be construed to extend to deprive the archbishop of Canterbury and his successors, and his and their proper officers, of the right which hath hitherto been used in virtue of 25 H. 8. c. 21. [Stat. Dig. tit. DISPENSATION, pl. 7.], intituled, An Act concerning Peter-pence and dispensations, of granting special licences to marry at any convenient time or place, 4 G. 4. c. 76. s. 20.

44. If any person shall, from and after the said first day of Nov., solemnize matrimony in any other place than a church or such public chapel wherein banns may be lawfully published, or at any other time than between the hours of 8 and 12 in the forenoon, unless by special licence from the archbishop of Canterbury, or shall solemnize matrimony without due publication of banns, unless licence of marriage be first had and obtained from some person or persons having authority to grant the same; or if any person, falsely pretending to be in holy orders, shall solemnize matrimony according to the rites of the church of Eng.; every person knowingly and wilfully so offending, and being lawfully convicted thereof, shall be deemed and adjudged to be guilty of felony, and shall be transported for the space of 14 years, according to the laws in force for transportation of felons: provided that all prosecutions for such felony shall be commenced within the space of three years after the offence committed, 4 G. 4. c. 76. s. 21.

45. Provided, that if any persons shall knowingly and wilfully intermarry in any other place than a church, or such public chapel wherein banns may be lawfully published, unless by special licence as aforesaid, or shall knowingly and wilfully intermarry without due publication of banns, or licence from a person or persons having authority to grant the same, first had and obtained, or shall knowingly and wilfully consent to or acquiesce in the solemnization of such marriage by any person not being in holy orders, the marriages of such persons shall be null, and void to all intents and purposes whatsoever, 4 G. 4. c. 76. s. 22.

46. If any valid marriage solemnized by licence shall, after the said first day of Nov. next, be procured by a party to such marriage to be solemnized between persons, one or both of whom shall be under the age of 21 years, not being a widower or widow, contrary to the provisions of this act, by means of such party falsely swearing as to any matter or matters to which such party is herein-before required personally to swear, such party wilfully and knowingly so swearing; or if any valid marriage by banns shall, after the said first day of Nov. next, be procured by a party thereto to be solemnized by banns between persons, one or both of whom shall be under the age of 21 years, not being a widower or widow, such party knowing that such person as aforesaid under the age of 21 years had a parent or guardian then living, and that such marriage was had without the consent of such parent or guardian, and knowing that banns had not been duly published according to the provisions of this act, and having knowingly caused or procured the undue publication of banns, then and in every such case it shall be lawful for H. M.'s attorney-general (or for H. M.'s solicitor-general, in case of the vacancy of the office of attorney-general), by information in the nature of an English bill in the court of chancery or court of exchequer, at the relation of a parent or guardian of the minor, whose consent has not been given to such marriage, and who shall be responsible for any costs incurred in such suit, such parent or guardian previously making oath as is herein-after required, to sue for a forfeiture of all estate, right, title, and interest in any property which hath accrued or shall accrue to the party so offending by force of such marriage; and such court shall have power in such suit to declare such forfeiture, and thereupon to order and direct that all such estate, right, title, and interest in any property as shall then have accrued, or shall thereafter accrue to such offending party, by force of such marriage, shall be secured under the direction of such court for the benefit of the innocent party, or of the issue of the marriage, or of any of them, in such manner as the said court shall think fit, for the purpose of preventing the offending party from deriving any interest in real or personal estate, or pecuniary benefits from such marriage; and if both the parties so contracting marriage shall, in the judgment of the court, be guilty of any such offence as aforesaid, it shall be lawful for the said court to settle and secure such property, or any part thereof, immediately for the benefit of the issue of the marriage, subject to such provisions for the offending parties, by way of maintenance or otherwise, as the said court, under the particular circumstances of the case, shall think reasonable, regard being had to the benefit of the issue of the marriage during the lives of their parents, and of the issue of the parties respectively by any future marriage, or of the parties themselves, in case either of them shall survive the other: provided also, that no such information as aforesaid shall be filed, unless it shall be made out to the satisfaction of the attorney or solicitor-general before he files the same, by oath or oaths sworn before one of the masters in ordinary in chancery, or before one of the barons of the exchequer, and which they are hereby respectively empowered to administer, that the valid marriage to be complained of in such information hath been solemnized in such manner and under such circumstances, as in the judgment of the said attorney or solicitor-general are sufficient to authorize the filing the information under the provisions of this act, and that such marriage has been solemnized without the consent of the party or parties at whose relation such information is proposed to be filed, or of any other parent or guardian of the minor married, to the knowledge or belief of the relator or relators so making oath; and that such relator or relators had not known or discovered that such marriage had been solemnized more than three months previous to his or their application to the attorney or solicitor-general, 4 G. 4. c. 76. s. 23.

47. All agreements, settlements, and deeds, entered into or executed by the parties to any marriage, in consequence of or in relation to which marriage such information as aforesaid shall be filed, or by either of the said parties, before and in contemplation of such marriage, or after such marriage, for the benefit of the parties or either of them, or their issue, so far as the same shall be contrary to or inconsistent with the provisions of such security and settlement as shall be made by or under the direction of such court as aforesaid, under the authority of this act, shall be absolutely void, and have no force or effect, 4 G. 4. c. 76. s. 24.

48. Provided, that any original information to be filed for the purpose of obtaining a declaration of any such forfeiture as aforesaid, shall be filed within one year after the solemnization of the marriage by which such forfeiture shall have been incurred, and shall be prosecuted with due diligence; and in case any person or necessary party to any such information shall abscond, or be or continue out of Eng., it shall be lawful for the court in which such information shall be filed to order such person to appear to such information, and answer the same, within such time as to such court shall seem fit; and to cause such order to be served on such person at any place out of Eng., or to cause such order to be inserted in the London Gazette, and such other British or foreign newspapers as to such court shall seem proper; and in default of such person appearing and answering such information within the time to be limited as aforesaid, to order such information to be taken as confessed by such person, and to proceed to make such decree or order upon such information as such court might have made if such person had appeared to and answered such information: provided, that in case the person at whose relation any such suit shall have been instituted shall die pending such suit, it shall be lawful for the court of chancery, if such court shall see fit, to appoint a proper person or proper persons at whose relation such suit may be continued, 4 G. 4. c. 76. s. 25.

49. Provided, that after the solemnization of any marriage under a publication of banns, it shall not be necessary in support of such marriage to give any proof of the actual dwelling of the parties in the respective parishes or chapelries wherein the banns of matrimony were published; or where the marriage is by licence, it shall not be necessary to give any proof that the usual place of abode of one of the parties, for the space of 15 days as aforesaid, was in the parish or chapelry where the marriage was solemnized; nor shall any evidence in either of the said cases be received to prove the contrary in any suit touching the validity of such marriage, 4 G. 4. c. 76. s. 26.

50. In no case whatsoever shall any suit or proceedings be had in any ecclesiastical court, in order to compel a celebration of any marriage in facie ecclesiæ, by reason of any contract of matrimony whatsoever, whether per verba de presenti, or per verba de futuro, any law or usage to the contrary notwithstanding, 4 G. 4. c. 76. s. 27.

51. And, in order to preserve the evidence of marriages, and to make the proof thereof more certain and easy, and for the direction of ministers in the celebration of marriages and registering thereof, be it enacted, That from and after the 1st Nov. 1823, all marriages shall be solemnized in the presence of two or more credible witnesses, besides the minister who shall celebrate the same; and that immediately after the celebration of every marriage an entry thereof shall be made in the register-book provided and kept for that purpose as by law is now directed, or as shall be hereafter directed; in which entry or register it shall be expressed that the said marriage was celebrated by banns or licence, and if both or either of the parties married by licence be under age, not being a widower or widow, with consent of the parents or guardians, as the case shall be; and such entry shall be signed by the minister with his proper addition, and also by the parties married, and attested by such two witnesses; which entry shall be made in the form or to the effect following; that is to say,

'A. B. of { the } parish, and C. D. of { the } parish, were married in this { church } by { banns, } with consent of { parents, } this — day of — in the year — { chapel } { licence, } { guardians, }

By me J. J. { rector. }
{ vicar. } { curate. }

This marriage was solemnized between us { A. B. }
{ C. D. }

In the presence of { E. F. }
{ G. H. }

4 G. 4. c. 76. s. 28.

52. If any person shall, from and after the said first day of Nov. 1823, with intent to elude the force of this act, knowingly and wilfully insert or cause to be inserted in the register-book of such parish or chapelry as aforesaid any false entry of any matter or thing relating to any marriage; or falsely make, alter, forge, or counterfeit, or cause or procure to be falsely made, altered, forged, or counterfeited, or act or assist in falsely making, altering, forging, or counterfeiting any such entry in such register; or falsely make, alter, forge, or counterfeit, or cause or procure to be falsely made, altered, forged, or counterfeited, or assist in falsely making, altering, forging, or counterfeiting any such licence of marriage as aforesaid; or utter or publish as true any such false, altered, forged, or counterfeited register as aforesaid, or a copy thereof, or any such false, altered, forged, or counterfeited licence of marriage, knowing such register or licence of marriage respectively to be false, altered, forged, or counterfeited; or if any person shall, from and after the said first day of Nov., wilfully destroy, or cause or procure to be destroyed any register-book of marriages, or any part of such register-book, with intent to avoid any marriage, or to subject any person to any of the penalties of this act; every person so offending, and being thereof lawfully convicted, shall be deemed and adjudged guilty of felony, and shall suffer the punishment of transportation for life, according to the laws in force for the transportation of felons, 4 G. 4. c. 76. s. 29.

53. Provided, that this act, or any thing therein contained, shall not extend to the marriages of any of the royal family, 4 G. 4. c. 76. s. 30.

54. Provided likewise, that nothing in this act contained shall extend to any marriages amongst the people called Quakers, or amongst the persons professing the Jewish religion, where both the parties to any such marriage shall be of the people called Quakers, or persons professing the Jewish religion respectively, 4 G. 4. c. 76. s. 31.

55. Two printed copies of this act shall, as soon as conveniently may be after the passing of this act, be provided by H. M.'s printer, and transmitted to the officiating ministers of the several parishes and chapelries in Eng. respectively; one of which copies shall be deposited and kept with the book containing the marriage register of such parish or chapelry, in the chest or box provided for the custody of the same, 4 G. 4. c. 76. s. 32.

56. This act shall extend only to that part of the U. K. called Eng., 4 G. 4. c. 76. s. 33.

57. To render valid marriages solemnized in certain churches and public chapels in which banns have not usually been published, 6 G. 4. c. 92.

58. Whereas since the making of 26 G. 2. c. 33. [REP. 4 G. 4. c. 76. s. 1. ante, pl. 21.] intituled, An Act for the better preventing clandestine marriages, and since the making of 44 G. 3. c. 77. [Stat. Dig. this tit. pl. 33.] intituled, An Act to render valid certain marriages solemnized in certain churches and public chapels in which banns had not usually been published, before or at the time of passing an act made in the 26th year of the reign of His late Majesty King George the Second, intituled 'An Act for better preventing clandestine marriages,' divers churches and chapels have been erected and built within that part of G. B. called Eng., Wa., and the town of Berwick-upon-Tweed, which have been duly consecrated, and divers marriages have been solemnized therein since the passing of the said last-mentioned act; but by reason that in such churches and chapels banns of matrimony had not usually been published before or at the time of passing the said first-mentioned act, nor any authority obtained for solemnizing marriages therein under the provisions of 4 G. 4. c. 76., intituled, An Act for amending the laws respecting the solemnization of marriages in Eng., such marriages have been or may be deemed to be void: be it enacted, That all marriages already solemnized in any church or public chapel in that part of G. B. called Eng. and Wa., and the town of Berwick-upon-Tweed, erected since the making of 26 G. 2. c. 33., and consecrated, shall be as good and valid in law as if such marriages had been solemnized in parish churches or public chapels having chapelries annexed, and wherein banns had usually been published, before or at the time of passing the said first-mentioned act, 6 G. 4. c. 92. s. 1.

59. It shall and may be lawful for marriages to be in future solemnized in all churches and chapels erected since the passing of 26 G. 2. c. 33., and consecrated, in which churches and chapels it has been customary and usual before the passing of this act to solemnize marriages; and all marriages herein-after solemnized therein shall be as good and valid in law as if such marriages had been solemnized in parish churches or public chapels having chapelries annexed, and wherein banns had usually been published before or at the time of passing the said act, 6 G. 4. c. 92. s. 2.

60. The registers of marriages solemnized, or to be solemnized, in the said churches or chapels, which are hereby enacted to be valid in law, or copies thereof, shall be received in all courts of law and equity as evidence of such marriages, in the same manner as the registers of marriages solemnized in parish churches or public chapels in which banns were usually published before or at the time of passing 26 G. 2. c. 33. or copies thereof, are received in evidence: provided nevertheless, that in all such courts the same objections shall be available to the receiving such registers or copies as evidence, as would have been available to receiving the same as evidence if such registers or copies had related to marriages solemnized in such last-mentioned parish churches or public chapels as aforesaid, 6 G. 4. c. 92. s. 3.

61. The registers of all marriages solemnized in any such public chapel where banns had not been usually published before or at the time of passing 26 G. 2. c. 33., which marriages are hereby enacted to be valid in law, shall, within three months after the passing of this act, be removed to the parish church of the parish in which such chapel shall be situated; and in case such chapel shall be situated in an extra-parochial place, then to the parish church next adjoining to such extra-parochial place, to be kept with the marriage registers of such parish, and in like manner as parish registers are directed to be kept by the said act of the 26th year of the reign of His said late Majesty King George the Second, 6 G. 4. c. 92. s. 4.

MILLS.

For indemnifying persons injured by the forcible pulling down and demolishing of mills, &c. 41 G. 3. (U. K.) c. 24. [Stat. Dig. this tit. pl. 6.] AMD. 3 G. 4. c. 33. See ante, MALICIOUS MISCHIEF.

MINES.

For the more effectual punishment of persons notoriously destroying or damaging buildings, engines, and machinery, used in and about collieries and other mines, &c. 56 G. 3. c. 125. [Stat. Dig. this tit. pl. 27.] AMD. 3 G. 4. c. 33. See ante, MALICIOUS MISCHIEF.

MORTGAGES.

1. To repeal an act of His present Majesty for explaining an act made in the 12th year of Queen Anne, to reduce the rate of interest without prejudice to parliamentary securities, and to substitute other provisions in lieu thereof, 3 G. 4. c. 47.

2. The 1 & 2 G. 4. c. 51. [Stat. Dig. this tit. pl. 13.] intituled, An Act to explain an act made in the 14th year of His late Majesty King George the Third, for explaining an act made in the 12th year of Queen Anne, intituled, 'An Act to reduce the rate of interest without prejudice to parliamentary securities,' is hereby repealed; except so far as regards any mortgage or securities executed before [24th June 1822,] the passing of this act, 3 G. 4. c. 47. s. 1.

3. All mortgages and securities which by any of H. M.'s subjects already have been, or after the passing of this act shall be made and executed in G. B. of or concerning any lands, tenements, or hereditaments, slaves, cattle, or other things, lying and being in Ire., or in any of H. M.'s colonies, plantations, or dominions, in the West Indies, or any estate or interest therein to any of H. M.'s subjects, for securing the repayment of the sums of money thereon respectively, really, and bonâ fide advanced and lent, with interest for the same, whether payable in G. B. or in the country, island, plantation or place, where the lands, tenements, hereditaments, slaves, cattle, or other things mentioned and comprised in any such mortgage or security, severally lie or are; and also all conveyances, demises, or other assurances of any lands, tenements, hereditaments, slaves, cattle, or other things lying and being in Ire., or in any of H. M.'s colonies, plantations, or dominions in the West Indies, or any estate or interest therein; and all bonds and covenants which have been or which after the passing of this act, shall be respectively made, executed, or entered into in G. B., to or with any of H. M.'s subjects, either by the person or persons borrowing such sum or sums of money, or by any other person or persons residing in G. B. or elsewhere, whether such conveyances, demises, or other assurances, bonds and covenants, shall be respectively made, executed, or entered into, by way of collateral security for the payment of such interest, or for securing the payment of interest on the sum or sums of money so really and bonâ fide advanced and lent at any higher rate than the rate of interest which such mortgages or other securities respectively, actually bear or carry, or shall bear or carry, or for securing any additional interest over and above the interest which such mortgages or other securities respectively actually bear or carry, or shall bear or carry, and whether such collateral or other securities for such interest, or higher rate of interest, or additional interest, in any of the cases aforesaid, have been or shall be respectively made, executed, or entered into, at the time, or respective times of making and executing such mortgages and other securities, for the sum or sums of money so really and bonâ fide advanced and lent, or at any time subsequent thereto; and whether the same have been or shall be respectively made, executed, or entered into, to or with the person or persons to whom such mortgages and securities have been or shall be originally made, or his, her, or their representatives or trustees, or to any person or persons to whom any transfers or assignments of any such mortgages or other securities have been or shall be made, or his, her, or their representatives or trustees; and all transfers and assignments which have been made, or which after the passing of this act shall be made and executed in G. B., of such mortgages, securities, conveyances, demises, or other assurances, bonds, or covenants respectively as aforesaid, to any of H. M.'s subjects, shall be as good, valid, and effectual, to all intents and purposes whatsoever, as such mortgages, securities, conveyances, demises, or other assurances, bonds, covenants, transfers, or assignments respectively would have been, if the same had been respectively made, executed, or entered into, and the interest secured thereby respectively had been made payable, and the person or persons making, executing, or entering into such conveyances, demises, or other assurances, bonds, or covenants respectively, for securing such interest, or higher or additional interest as aforesaid, had resided in the country, island, plantation, or place where the lands, tenements, hereditaments, slaves, cattle, or other things mentioned and comprised in any such mortgage, security, conveyance, demise, or other assurance, transfer or assignment, severally lie or are; and that none of H. M.'s subjects in G. B. shall be subject or liable to any of the penalties or forfeitures in the 12 Anne, st. 2. c. 16., mentioned by receiving or taking, or having received or taken interest for the money really and bonâ fide advanced or lent, or to be advanced or lent on any such mortgage, security, conveyance, demise, or other assurance, bond, covenant, transfer, or assignment as aforesaid, so as the total amount of the interest so to be received or taken does not exceed the rate of interest allowed by the law of the country, island, plantation, or place, where the lands, tenements, hereditaments, slaves, cattle, or other things comprised in any such mortgage, security, conveyance, demise, or other assurance, transfer or assignment, severally lie or are, the 12 Anne st. 2. c. 16. notwithstanding, 3 G. 4. c. 47.

NATURALIZATION.

1. To alter and amend an act passed in the seventh year of the reign of H. M. King James the First, intituled, An Act that all such as are to be naturalized or restored in blood shall first receive the sacrament of the Lord's Supper, and the oath of allegiance and the oath of supremacy, 6 G. 4. c. 67.

2. Whereas 7 J. 1. c. 2. was passed [Stat. Dig. this tit. pl. 1, 2.] intituled, An Act that all such as are to be naturalized or restored in blood shall first receive the sacrament of the Lord's Supper, and the oath of allegiance and the oath of supremacy: and whereas it is expedient that the said recited act should be altered and amended; be it therefore enacted, That from and after the passing of this act [22d June 1825,], it shall not henceforth be necessary for any person who is to be naturalized or restored in blood to receive the sacrament of the Lord's Supper, as directed by the said act, 6 G. 4. c. 67. s. 1.

3. If it shall appear to the satisfaction of the house of parliament, in which a bill shall originate for restoring any person in blood, that the person intended by such bill to be so restored in blood is unable from sickness or bodily infirmity, or other sufficient cause, to take the oaths of supremacy and of allegiance in the parliament-house, before his or her bill shall be twice read, as directed by the said act, it shall and may be lawful for such house of parliament to receive in lieu thereof sufficient proof, before any such bill shall be twice read, that the said oaths have been taken within one year before a justice of the peace or mayor or other chief magistrate in any county or city or town in G. B. or Ire., or before one of H. M.'s judges or justices in any of H. M.'s courts of judicature in the colonies or foreign possessions of H. M., 6 G. 4. c. 67. s. 2.

NAVIGATION.

(STATUTES repealed.)

1. For the encouragement of navigation and commerce by regulating the importation of goods and merchandize, so far as relates to countries or places from whence, and the ships in which, such importation shall be made, 3 G. 4. c. 45. [REP. 6 G. 4. c. 105. s. 358. See STATUTES.]

2. To amend an act of the last session of parliament, for regulating the trade between H. M.'s possessions in America and the West Indies and other parts of the world, 4 G. 4. c. 2.

3. An act for further regulating the trade of H. M.'s possessions in America and the West Indies, and for the warehousing of goods therein, 6 G. 4. c. 75. [virtually REP. by 6 G. 4. cc. 109. 114.]

4. An act to extend to the island of Mauritius the duties and regulations which relate to the British islands in the West Indies, 6 G. 4. c. 76. [REP. virtually by 6 G. 4. c. 114. s. 44.]

(STATUTES in force.)

5. To repeal certain acts, and parts of acts, relating to the importation of goods and merchandize, 3 G. 4. c. 42.

6. Whereas 12 C. 2. c. 18. was passed, for the encouraging and increasing of shipping and navigation: and whereas by an act passed in the parliament of Ire., in the 27th year of the reign of His late Majesty King George the Third, intituled, An Act for the further increase and encouragement of shipping and navigation, it was enacted, That the said recited act passed in Eng., in the 12th year of the reign of King Charles the Second, and every provision therein contained (so far as the same are not altered or repealed by the said act of the parliament of Ire.), should be of full force and effect within Ire.: and whereas divers acts have been from time to time passed for the further regulation of shipping, navigation, and commerce; and it is expedient that certain of the provisions contained in the said several acts relating to the countries from whence, and the ships in which goods and merchandize shall be imported into any part of the U. K. of G. B. and Ire., should be repealed, in order that other regulations relating to such importation may be declared, consolidated, and comprized in one act passed for that purpose: it is enacted,

12 C. c. 18. s. 3.

7. That from 24th June 1822, so much of the said recited act, 12 C. 2. c. 18. [viz. s. 3.], intituled, An Act for the encouraging and increasing of shipping and navigation, shall be repealed, whereby it is enacted, That no goods or commodities whatsoever, of the growth, production, or manufacture of Asia, Africa, or America, be imported into Eng., Ire., or Wa., the islands of Guernsey or Jersey, or town of Berwick-upon-Tweed, in any other ship or ships, vessel or vessels whatsoever, but in such as do truly and without fraud belong only to the people of Eng. or Ire., dominion of Wa., or town of Berwick-upon-Tweed, or of the lands, islands, plantations, or territories in Asia, Africa, or America, to H. M. belonging, and whereof the master and three-fourths of the mariners at least are English, under the penalty in the said act mentioned, 3 G. 4. c. 42. s. 1.

12 C. 2. c. 18. s. 4.

8. From 24th June 1822, so much of the said recited act, 12 C. 2. c. 18. s. 4., shall be repealed, whereby it is enacted, that no goods or commodities that are of foreign growth, production, or manufacture, and which are to be brought into Eng., Ire., Wa., the islands of Guernsey and Jersey, or town of Berwick-upon-Tweed, in English-built shipping, or other shipping belonging to some of the aforesaid places, and navigated by English mariners, shall be shipped or brought from any other place or places, country or countries, but only from those of the said growth, production, or manufacture, or from those ports where the said goods and commodities can only be or are or usually have been first shipped for transportation, and from none other places or countries, under the penalty in the said act mentioned, 3 G. 4. c. 42. s. 2.

12 C. 2. c. 18. s. 8.

9. From 24th June 1822, so much of the said recited act, 12 C. 2. c. 18. s. 8., shall be repealed, whereby it is enacted, that no goods or commodities of the growth, production, or manufacture of Muscovy, or of any of the countries, dominions, or territories of the great duke or emperor of Muscovy or Russia belonging, as also that no sort of masts, timber, or boards, no foreign salt, pitch, tar, rosin, hemp, or flax, raisins, figs, prunes, olive oils, no sorts of corn or grain, sugar, pot-ashes, wines, vinegar, or spirits called aqua vitæ, or brandy-wine, shall be imported into Eng., Ire., Wa., or town of Berwick-upon-Tweed, in any ship or ships, vessel or vessels whatsoever, but in such as do truly and without fraud belong to the people thereof, or some of them, as the true owners or proprietors thereof, and whereof the master and three-fourths of the mariners at least are English; and that no currants nor commodities of the growth, production, or manufacture of any of the countries, islands, dominions, or territories to the Ottoman or Turkish empire belonging, shall be imported into any of the afore-mentioned places, in any ship or vessel but which is of English-built, and navigated as aforesaid, and no other, except only such foreign ships and vessels as are of the built of that country or place of which the said goods are the growth, production, or manufacture respectively, or of such port where the said goods can only be or most usually are first shipped for transportation, and whereof the master and three-fourths of the mariners at least are of the said country or place, under the penalty in the said act mentioned, 3 G. 4. c. 42. s. 3.

12 C. 2. c. 18. ss. 12. 14.

10. From 24th June 1822, so much and such parts of the said recited act, 12 C. 2. c. 18. [viz. ss. 12. 14.] shall be repealed, as relate to the importation of any of the commodities of the Streights or Levant Seas, or to the importation of all sorts of goods or commodities of the growth, production, or manufacture of the plantations or dominions of Spain or Portugal respectively, from any of the ports of Spain or Portugal, or Western Islands, commonly called Azores, or Madeira or Canary Islands, 3 G. 4. c. 42. s. 4.

27 G. 3. (Irish Act.) c. 23.

11. From 24th June 1822, so much of the herein-before recited act, passed in the parliament of Ire., 27 G. 3. c. 23., intituled, An Act for the further increase and encouragement of shipping and navigation, whereby it is enacted, that the said act passed in the parliament of Eng. in the 12th year of the reign of King Charles the Second, for the encouraging and increasing of shipping and navigation, shall be of full force and effect in Ire., shall be repealed, so far as relates to so much and such parts of the said act of the 12th year of the reign of King Charles the Second, as is and are herein-before recited and repealed; and that so much and such parts of the said recited act of the 12th year of the reign of King Charles the Second, as is or are repealed by this act, shall cease to be in force in Ire. after the passing of this act, 3 G. 4. c. 42. s. 5.

13 and 14 G. 2. c. 11. s. 23.

12. From 24th June 1822, so much of an act of 13 & 14 C. 2. c. 11. [viz. s. 23.], intituled, An Act for preventing frauds and regulating abuses in H. M.'s customs, shall be repealed, whereby it is enacted and declared, that no sort of wines (other than Rhenish), no sort of spicery, grocery, tobacco, pot-ashes, pitch, tar, salt, rosin, deal boards, fir timber, or olive oil, shall be imported from the Netherlands or Germany, upon any pretence whatsoever, in any sort of ships or vessels whatsoever, upon penalty of the loss of all the said goods, as also of the ships and furniture, 3 G. 4. c. 42. s. 6.

13 and 14 C. 2. c. 11. s. 6. in part.

13. From 24th June 1822, so much of the said recited act, 13 & 14 C. 2. c. 11. [viz. s. 6.], shall be repealed, whereby it is enacted, that no foreign-built ship shall enjoy the privilege of a ship belonging to Eng. or Ire., although owned or manned by English (except such ships only as shall be taken at sea by letters of mart or reprisal, and condemnation made in the court of admiralty as lawful prize), but that all such ships shall be deemed as alien ships, 3 G. 4. c. 42. s. 7.

1 A. st. 1. c. 12. s. 112.

14. From 24th June 1822, so much of 1 A. st. i. c. 12. [s. 112.], intituled, An Act for granting an aid to Her M. by divers subsidies, and a land-tax, shall be repealed; whereby it is enacted, that it shall and may be lawful to import from Hamburgh, wines of the growth of Hungary, 3 G. 4. c. 42. s. 8.

6 A. c. 33.

15. From 24th June 1822, the act, 6 A. c. 33., intituled, An Act for the importation of cochineal from any port in Spain, during the present war, and six months longer; and which by 12 A. st. 1. c. 18. s. 3. was made perpetual, shall be repealed, 3 G. 4. c. 42. s. 9.

6 G. 1. c. 14.

16. From 24th June 1822, the 6 G. 1. c. 14., intituled, An Act for prohibiting the importation of raw silk and mohair yarn, of the product or manufacture of Asia, from any ports or places in the Streights or Levant Seas, except such ports and places as are within the dominions of the Grand Signor, shall be repealed, 3 G. 4. c. 42. s. 10.

6 G. 1. c. 15.

17. From 24th June 1822, the 6 G. 1. c. 15., intituled, An Act to repeal so much of the act, intituled, 'An Act for preventing frauds and regulating abuses in H. M.'s customs,' passed in the 13th and 14th years of King Charles the Second, as relates to the prohibiting the importation of deal boards and fir timber from Germany, shall be repealed, 3 G. 4. c. 42. s. 11.

13 G. 1. c. 25. and 7 G. 2. c. 18.

18. From 24th June 1822, the 13 G. 1. c. 25., intituled, An Act for the free importation of cochineal, during the time therein limited; and also the 7 G. 2. c. 18., for the revival of the 13 G. 1. c. 25., and also for the free importation of indigo; and which said last-recited act was, by 1 & 2 G. 4. c. 14. revived and continued until the 25th March 1824, shall be repealed, 3 G. 4. c. 42. s. 12.

6 G. 2. c. 7.

19. From 24th June 1822, the 6 G. 2. c. 7., intituled, An Act for the free importation and exportation of diamonds, pearls, rubies, emeralds, and all other jewels, and precious stones, shall be repealed, 3 G. 4. c. 42. s. 13.

14 G. 2. c. 36. and 23 G. 2. c. 34.

20. From 24th June 1822, the 14 G. 2. c. 36., intituled, An Act for opening a trade to and from Persia, through Russia; and also the 23 G. 2. c. 34., intituled, An Act for permitting raw silk, of the growth or produce of Persia, purchased in Russia, to be imported into this kingdom from any port or place belonging to the empire of Russia, shall be repealed, 3 G. 4. c. 42. s. 14.

25 G. 2. c. 32. s. 1.

21. From 24th June 1822, so much and such part of the 25 G. 2. c. 32. [s. 1.] for the purpose, among other things, of allowing the importation of gum senega from any part of Europe, shall be repealed; whereby it is enacted, that it shall be lawful for any of H. M.'s subjects to import gum senega in British-built ships, navigated according to law, from any port or place in Europe, 3 G. 4. c. 42. s. 15.

6 G. 3. c. 52. s. 20.

22. From 24th June 1822, so much and such part of the 6 G. 3. c. 52. [viz. s. 20.], intituled, An Act for repealing certain duties in the British colonies and plantations, granted by several acts of parliament, and also the duties imposed by an act made in the last session of parliament, upon certain E. I. goods exported from G. B., and for granting other duties instead thereof; and for further encouraging, regulating, and securing several branches of the trade of this kingdom and the British dominions in America, shall be repealed, whereby it is enacted, that it shall and may be lawful to and for any person or persons to import and bring into G. B. in British-built ships or vessels navigated according to law, from any port or place whatsoever, any sort of cotton-wool, 3 G. 4. c. 42. s. 16.

7 G. 3. c. 43. s. 2. in part.

23. From 24th June 1822, so much and such parts of 7 G. 3. c. 43. [viz. s. 2.], for amending and enforcing certain acts for the more effectual preventing the fraudulent importation and wearing of cambrics and French lawns, shall be repealed; whereby it is enacted, that no cambric or French lawn shall be allowed to be imported into the port of London from any parts beyond the seas, except in British ships navigated according to law, 3 G. 4. c. 42. s. 17.

15 G. 3. c. 35.

24. From 24th June 1822, the 15 G. 3. c. 35., intituled, An Act to permit the free importation of raw goat-skins into this kingdom for a limited time, which was made perpetual, 31 G. 3. c. 43. s. 7. shall be repealed, 3 G. 4. c. 42. s. 18.

25. From 24th June 1822, so much of 19 G.3. c.48. [viz. s.1.] made, among other things, for explaining so much of 12 C.2. c.18. as relates to the importation of goods and commodities of the growth or production of Africa, Asia, or America, manufactured in foreign parts, shall be repealed; whereby it is enacted, that the said act of the 12th year of the reign of King Charles the Second shall not extend or be construed to extend to permit any goods or commodities whatever of the growth or production of Africa, Asia, or America, which shall be in any degree manufactured in foreign parts, to be imported into G. B., except and unless the same shall be so manufactured in the country or place of which the goods and commodities are the growth and production, or in the place where such goods and commodities can only be or are at first shipped for transportation, 3 G.4. c.42. s.19.

26. From 24th June 1822, so much of 19 G.3. c.48. [viz. s.2.], shall be repealed; whereby or by construction whereof the importation of oil of cloves, oil of cinnamon, oil of mace, and oil of nutmegs, into G. B., is permitted, 3 G.4. c.42. s.20.

27. From 24th June 1822, the 22 G.3. c.78., intituled, An Act to permit drugs the product of Hungary or Germany, to be imported from the Austrian Netherlands, or any part of Germany, upon payment of the single duty; to allow the importation of Hungary or German wines, and organzined thrown silk, from the Austrian Netherlands, or any part of Germany, into G. B.; and of timber and other goods from any part of Europe, in ships the property of subjects under the same sovereign as the country of which the goods are the growth, produce, or manufacture, shall be repealed, except only so far as relates to organzined thrown silk, 3 G.4. c.42. s.21.

28. From 24th June 1822, so much of the 27 G.3. c.19. [viz. s.10.] intituled, An Act to enforce and render more effectual several acts passed in the 12th year of the reign of King Charles the Second, and other acts made for the increase and encouragement of shipping and navigation, shall be repealed; whereby it is enacted, that any of the goods or commodities enumerated or described in the said act of the 12th year of the reign of King Charles the Second, for encouraging and increasing of shipping and navigation, being the growth, production, or manufacture of Europe, may be imported under the conditions, rules, regulations, and restrictions contained in the said act of the 12th year of the reign of King Charles the Second, and also in certain other acts recited in the said act of 27 G.3. c.19., either in ships and vessels which, before the 1st May 1786, did truly and without fraud wholly belong to H. M.'s dominions, or which are of the built of H. M.'s dominions, and registered respectively according to law, or in ships or vessels, the built of any countries or places in Europe, belonging to or under the dominion of the sovereign or state in Europe of which the said goods or commodities so enumerated or described as aforesaid are the growth, production, or manufacture respectively, or of such ports where the said commodities can only be or are most usually first shipped for transportation, such ships or vessels being navigated with a master and three-fourths of the mariners at the least belonging to such countries or places or ports respectively, and in none other ships or vessels whatever, 3 G.4. c.42. s.22.

29. From 24th June 1822, so much of the 27 G.3. c.19. [viz. s.11.], shall be repealed; whereby it is enacted, that it shall and may be lawful for any person or persons whatever to import or bring from Gibraltar, in any ship or vessel which, before the 1st May 1786, did truly, without fraud, wholly belong to H. M.'s dominions, or are of the built of H. M.'s dominions, navigated and registered according to law, any goods, wares or merchandize, being of the growth or production of the dominions of the emperor of Morocco, and which shall have been imported into Gibraltar directly from any part of the said dominions not lying or being to the southward of the port of Mogadore, in ships or vessels belonging to or of the built of H. M.'s dominions, as before described, navigated and registered according to law, or in ships or vessels belonging to the subjects of the said emperor of Morocco, 3 G.4. c.42. s.25.

30. From 24th June 1822, so much of 30 G.3. c.40. [viz. s.4.], intituled, An Act to explain and amend an act made in the last session of parliament, intituled, 'An Act for repealing the duties on tobacco and snuff, and for granting new duties in lieu thereof', shall be repealed; whereby it is enacted, that no tobacco (except tobacco of the growth, production, or manufacture of the plantations of Spain and Portugal, and also except snuff) shall be imported or brought from foreign parts, either wholly or in part manufactured, or in any state or degree of manufacture, on pain of the forfeitures in the said act mentioned, 3 G.4. c.42. s.24.

31. From 24th June 1822, so much of an act, intituled, An Act for allowing the importation of rape-seed or other seeds used for extracting oil, from any country whatsoever, whenever the price of British middling rape-seed shall be above a certain limit, shall be repealed; whereby it is enacted or provided, that rape-seed, and all other seeds commonly made use of for the purpose of extracting oil therefrom, shall be imported in a British-built ship, owned and navigated according to law: provided always, that nothing herein contained shall extend to allow the importation of any rape-seed, or other such seed, in any ship whatsoever, whenever the prices of middling British rape-seed shall be below the price of 20*l.* per last, 3 G.4. c.42. s.25.

32. From 24th June 1822, so much and such part of 36 G.3. c.113., intituled, An Act for allowing the importation of arrow-root from the British plantations, and also of linseed-cakes and rape-cakes from any foreign country, in British-built ships, owned, navigated, and registered according to law, without payment of duty, shall be repealed; whereby it is enacted or provided, that linseed-cakes, or rape-cakes, shall be imported from any foreign country whatever, in any British ship or vessel, owned, navigated, and registered according to law, 3 G.4. c.42. s.26.

33. From 24th June 1822, so much of 5 G.3. c.30. [viz. ss.1, 2.] made, among other things, for more effectually supplying the export trade of this kingdom to Africa with such coarse printed calicoes and other goods of the product or manufacture of the E. I., or other places beyond the Cape of Good Hope, as are prohibited to be worn and used in G. B., under or by virtue of which the commissioners of H. M.'s treasury are authorized to allow, by licence, certain goods in the said recited act mentioned to be imported into G. B., for the purpose of exportation to Africa, under the conditions and regulations therein stated, shall be repealed, 3 G.4. c.42. s.27.

34. From 24th June 1822, every clause, provision, and regulation, with respect to licences granted by the commissioners of customs for the importation of nutmegs, mace, cloves, and cinnamon, contained in 8 A. c.7. s.13., made, among other things, for granting to Her M. new duties of excise, and upon several imported commodities; or in 6 G.1. c.21. ss.45, 46., intituled, An Act for preventing frauds and abuses in the public revenues of excise, customs, stamp-duties, post-office, and house money; or in 8 G.1. c.18. s.21., made, among other things, for preventing clandestine running of goods, and the danger of infection thereby, shall be repealed, 3 G.4. c.42. s.28.

35. From 24th June 1822, so much and such part of the 43 G.3. c.68. [viz. s.29.], intituled, An Act to repeal the duties of customs payable in G. B., and to grant other duties in lieu thereof, shall be repealed; whereby it is enacted or provided, that tobacco of the growth or production of any of the territories or dominions belonging to the emperor of Russia, or of any of the territories or dominions belonging to the Ottoman or Turkish empire, shall be imported directly from the aforesaid territories or dominions respectively, in British-built ships, owned, navigated, and registered according to law, 3 G.4. c.42. s.29.

36. From 24th June 1822, so much and such parts of two acts, the one 55 G.3. c.29. [viz. ss.10, 11.], intituled, An Act to regulate the trade between Malta and its dependencies, and H. M.'s colonies and plantations in America, and also between Malta and the U. K.; and the other, 57 G.3. c.4., intituled, An Act to extend the privileges of the trade of Malta to the port of Gibraltar, shall be repealed; whereby it is enacted or provided, that goods, wares, or merchandize, being of the growth, produce, and manufacture of any country or place within the Streights or Levant Seas, or any raw silk or mohair yarn, being the growth or production of any place within the dominions of the Grand Seigneur, within the Levant Seas, shall be imported from the island of Malta or the dependencies thereof, or from the port of Gibraltar, in British-built ships, owned, registered, and navigated according to law, and in no other ship or vessel whatever, 3 G.4. c.42. s.30.

37. From 24th June 1822, the 16 G.3. c.37., intituled, An Act to permit the importation of prunes the produce of Germany, shall be repealed, 3 G.4. c.42. s.31.

59 G. 3. c. 74. s. 2.

38. From 24th June, 1822, so much and such parts of 59 G. 3. c. 74. (viz. s. 2.) intituled, An Act to allow the importation of tobacco from the E. I. and other places, and for confining the exportation of tobacco from G. B. and the importation thereof into Ire., to vessels of seventy tons burthen and upwards, shall be repealed; whereby it is enacted, that it shall be lawful for any person or persons to import unmanufactured tobacco from any place whatever, being the place of its growth, in any British ship or vessel, owned, registered, and navigated according to law, or in any ship or vessel of the built of the country or place of which such tobacco is the growth, and whereof the master and three-fourths of the mariners at least are of the said country or place, or in vessels which shall have been lawfully condemned as prize in such country or place, and which shall be navigated as aforesaid, 3 G. 4. c. 42. s. 32.

39. Provided, that nothing in this act shall extend to repeal or in any way affect any forfeiture, fine, pain, penalty or punishment, which may have been incurred for any offence against any of the acts hereby repealed, at any time before the passing of this act, and for or in respect of which any action, suit, indictment, information, or other proceeding may have been brought or prosecuted at any time before the passing of this act, 3 G. 4. c. 42. c. 33.

40. To regulate the trade between H. M.'s possessions in America and the West Indies, and other places in America and the West Indies, 3 G. 4. c. 44. [REP. except so far as it repeals any other act, 6 G. 4. c. 105. s. 359.]

41. Whereas divers acts of parliament have been from time to time passed, for regulating the importation and exportation of certain articles into and from certain territories, islands, and ports, under the dominion of H. M., in America and the West Indies; and it is expedient that the said several acts should be repealed, and other provisions made in lieu thereof: be it therefore enacted, That from and after the passing of this act,

28 G. 3. c. 6.

intituled, An Act for regulating the trade between the subjects of H. M.'s colonies and plantations in North America, and in the West India islands, and the countries belonging to the United States of America, and between H. M.'s said subjects and the foreign islands in the West Indies; also,

28 G. 3. c. 39.

intituled, An Act to allow the importation of rum and other spirits from H. M.'s colonies or plantations in the West Indies, into the province of Quebec, without payment of duty, under certain conditions and restrictions; also,

29 G. 3. c. 16.

intituled, An Act to enable H. M. to authorize, in case of necessity, the importation of bread, flour, Indian corn, and live stock, from any of the territories belonging to the United States of America, in'o the province of Quebec, and all the countries bordering on the gulf of Saint Lawrence, and the islands within the said gulf, and to the coast of Labrador; also,

29 G. 3. c. 56.

intituled, An Act for explaining and amending an act passed in the last session of parliament, intituled 'An Act to regulate the trade between the subjects of H. M.'s said subjects and the foreign islands in the West Indies'; also,

30 G. 3. c. 8.

intituled, An Act to amend two acts made in the 28th year of the reign of His present Majesty, the one intituled 'An Act for regulating the trade between the subjects of H. M.'s colonies and plantations in North America, and in the West India islands, and the countries belonging to the United States of America, and between H. M.'s said subjects and the foreign islands in the West Indies'; and the other intituled, 'An Act to allow the importation of rum or other spirits from H. M.'s colonies or plantations in the West Indies, into the province of Quebec, without payment of duty, under certain conditions and restrictions'; also, intituled, An Act to amend an act made in the 28th year of His present Majesty's reign, for regulating the trade between the subjects of H. M.'s colonies and plantations in North America, and in the West India islands, and the countries belonging to the United States of America, and between H. M.'s said subjects and the foreign islands in the West Indies; and also, an act made in the 27th year of His present Majesty's reign, for allowing the importation and exportation of certain goods, wares, and merchandize in the ports of Kingston, Savannah la Mar, Montego Bay, and Santa Lucia, in the island of Jamaica, in the port of Saint George in the island of Grenada, in the port of Rosea in the island of Dominica, and in the port of Nassau, in the island of New Providence, one of the Bahama Islands, under certain regulations and restrictions; also, intituled, An Act to amend an act passed in the 27th year of His present Majesty's reign, for allowing the importation and exportation of certain goods, wares, and merchandize, in foreign ships, into and from certain ports and places in the West Indies; and for amending so much of an act made in the 32d year of the reign of His present Majesty, as relates to permitting the importation of sugar in the Bahama and Bermuda Islands, in foreign ships; and so much of two acts made in the 28th and 31st years of His present Majesty's reign as prohibits the importation of timber into any island under the dominion of H. M. in the West Indies, from any foreign colony or plantation in the West Indies, or South America; and so much of the said act made in the 28th year of His present Majesty's reign, as prohibits the importation of pitch, tar, and turpentine into Nova Scotia or New Brunswick, from any country belonging to the United States of America; also,

31 G. 3. c. 38.

33 G. 3. c. 50.

44 G. 3. c. 101.

intituled, An Act for permitting, until the first day of Aug. 1807, the exportation of salt from the port of Nassau, in the island of New Providence, the port of Exuma, and the port of Crooked Island, in the Bahama Islands, in ships belonging to the inhabitants of the United States of America, and coming in ballast; also,

45 G. 3. c. 57.

intituled, An Act to consolidate and extend the several laws now in force, for allowing the importation and exportation of certain goods and merchandize into and from certain ports in the West Indies; also,

46 G. 3. c. 72.

intituled, An Act for enabling H. M. to permit the importation and exportation of certain goods and commodities into and from the port of Road Harbour in the island of Tortola; also,

48 G. 3. c. 125.

intituled, An Act to permit the importation of rice, flour, and grain from any foreign colonies on the continent of America, into certain ports in the West Indies, and to allow certain articles to be imported from the United States of America into the British provinces in North America, for the purpose of exportation to the British islands in the West Indies; also,

49 G. 3. c. 22.

intituled, An Act for allowing the importation and exportation of certain goods and commodities into and from the port of Falmouth, in the island of Jamaica; also, intituled, An Act to allow British plantation sugar and coffee, imported into Bermuda, in British ships, to be exported to the territories of the United States of America in foreign ships or vessels, and to permit articles, the production of the said United States, to be imported into the said island in foreign ships or vessels; also,

52 G. 3. c. 79.

52 G. 3. c. 99.

intituled, An Act for allowing certain articles to be imported into the Bahama Islands, and exported therefrom in foreign vessels, and for encouraging the exportation of salt from the said islands; also,

53 G. 3. c. 37.

intituled, An Act to amend an act of the 28th year of His present Majesty, for allowing the importation of rum or other spirits from H. M.'s colonies or plantations in the West Indies into the province of Quebec, without payment of duty; also,

53 G. 3. c. 50.

intituled, An Act for further allowing the importation and exportation of certain articles at the island of Bermuda; also,

54 G. 3. c. 48.

intituled, An Act to revive and make perpetual certain acts for consolidating and extending the several laws in force, for allowing the importation and exportation of certain articles into and from certain ports in the West Indies; also,

57 G. 3. c. 28.

intituled, An Act to extend the powers of two acts, for allowing British plantation sugar and coffee, and other articles, imported into Bermuda in British ships, to be exported to America in foreign vessels, and to permit articles, the produce of America, to be imported into the said islands in foreign ships, to certain other articles; also,

57 G. 3. c. 74.

intituled, An Act to extend several acts, for allowing the importation and

1 G. 4. c. 12.

intituled, An Act to extend several acts for allowing the importation and exportation of certain goods and merchandizes to Morant Bay in the island of Jamaica; also,

1 G. 4. c. 32.

intituled, An Act to permit the importation of coffee from any foreign colony or plantation in America, into the port of Bridge Town in Barbadoes; also,

1 and 2 G. 4. c. 7.

intituled, An Act to make perpetual an act of the 58th year of His late Majesty, to allow the importation, into certain ports in Nova Scotia and New Brunswick, of certain enumerated articles, and the re-exportation thereof from such ports; shall be and the same are hereby repealed, 3 G. 4. c. 44. s. 1.

42. To regulate the trade between H. M.'s possessions in America and the West Indies, and other parts of the world, 3 G. 4. c. 45. [REPE. except so far as it repeals any other act, 6 G. 4. c. 105. s. 360. See as to trade from places within E. I. C.'s charter, 4 G. 4. c. 80. s. 14.]

43. Whereas it is expedient to allow greater freedom of trade and intercourse between the colonies, plantations, and islands belonging to H. M. in America and in the West Indies, and other parts of the world; and to repeal certain acts now in force relating to the trade and intercourse hitherto allowed to be carried on between H. M.'s colonies, plantations, islands, and places in Europe south of Cape Finisterre, and to make further provision for encouraging and extending the same: be it therefore enacted, That so much of intituled, An Act for the encouragement of the Greenland and Eastland trades, and for the better securing the plantation trade, as imposes a duty upon the exportation of sugar, tobacco, cotton wool, indigo, ginger, logwood, fustic, dying wood, and cocoa nuts, from any of H. M.'s plantations in America, Asia, or Africa; also,

51 G. 3. c. 97.

intituled, An Act to regulate the trade between places in Europe south of Cape Finisterre, and certain ports in the British colonies in North America; also, intituled, An Act to permit sugar, coffee, and cocoa, to be exported from H. M.'s colonies and plantations to any port in Europe to the south of Cape Finisterre, and corn to be imported from any such port, and from the coast of Africa into the said colonies and plantations, under licences granted by the collectors and comptrollers of the customs; also, so much of

52 G. 3. c. 98.

55 G. 3. c. 29.

intituled, An Act to regulate the trade between Malta and its dependencies and H. M.'s colonies and plantations in America, and also between Malta, and the U. K. as relates to the trade allowed to be carried on between the island of Malta and the dependencies thereof, and H. M.'s colonies and plantations in America; also, intituled, An Act to extend the privileges of the trade of Malta to the port of Gibraltar; also,

57 G. 3. c. 4.

57 G. 3. c. 98.

intituled, An Act to allow the importation of oranges and lemons from the Azores and the Madeiras into the British colonies in North America, shall be and the same are hereby repealed, save and except as to the recovery of any forfeiture or penalty incurred on or before the passing of this act: provided nevertheless, that all acts expressly repealed by any of the said acts shall be deemed and taken to be and shall remain repealed, 3 G. 4. c. 45. s. 1.

44. For the encouragement of British shipping and navigation, 6 G. 4. c. 109.

45. Whereas 6 G. 4. c. 105. [post, tit. STATUTES], intituled, An Act to repeal the several laws relating to the customs, was passed, in which it is declared, that the laws of the customs have become intricate by reason of the great number of acts relating thereto which have been passed through a long series of years; and that it is therefore highly expedient for the interest of commerce and the ends of justice, and also for affording convenience and facility to all persons who may be subject to the operation of those laws, or who may be authorized to act in the execution thereof, that all the statutes now in force relating to the customs should be repealed, and that the purposes for which they have from time to time been made should be secured by new enactments, exhibiting more perspicuously and compendiously the various provisions contained in them: and whereas the laws relating to the encouragement of British navigation will thereby be repealed, and it is expedient to make provisions in lieu thereof, for the due encouragement of British shipping and British seamen, after such repeal shall have effect; be it therefore enacted, That from and after the 5th Jan. 1826, this act shall come into and be and continue in full force and operation, and shall constitute and be the law of navigation of the British empire, 6 G. 4. c. 109.

46. The several sorts of goods herein-after enumerated, being the produce of Europe; (that is to say,) masts, timber, boards, salt, pitch, tar, tallow, rosin, hemp, flax, currants, raisins, figs, prunes, olive oil, corn or grain, pot-ashes, wine, sugar, vinegar, brandy, and tobacco, shall not be imported into the U. K., to be used therein, except in British ships, or in ships of the country of which the goods are the produce, or in ships of the country from which the goods are imported, 6 G. 4. c. 109. s. 2.

47. Goods, the produce of Asia, Africa, or America, shall not be imported from Europe into the U. K., to be used therein, except the goods herein-after mentioned; (that is to say,)

Goods, the produce of places in Asia or Africa within the straits of Gibraltar, or of the dominions of the emperor of Morocco, imported from places in Europe within the straits of Gibraltar;

Goods, the produce of places within the limits of the E. I. C.'s charter, which (having been imported into Gibraltar or Malta in British ships,) may be imported from Gibraltar or Malta:

Goods taken by way of reprisal by British ships:

Bullion, diamonds, pearls, rubies, emeralds, and other jewels or precious stones, 6 G. 4. c. 109. s. 3.

48. Goods, the produce of Asia, Africa, or America, shall not be imported into the U. K., to be used therein, in foreign ships, unless they be the ships of the country in Asia, Africa, or America, of which the goods are the produce, and from which they are imported, except the goods herein-after mentioned; (that is to say,)

Goods, the produce of the dominions of the Grand Seigneur, in Asia or Africa, which may be imported from his dominions in Europe, in ships of his dominions:

Raw silk and mohair yarn, the produce of Asia, which may be imported from the dominions of the Grand Seigneur in the Levant seas, in ships of his dominions:

Bullion, 6 G. 4. c. 109. s. 4.

49. Provided, that all manufactured goods shall be deemed to be the produce of the country of which they are the manufacture, 6 G. 4. c. 109. s. 5.

50. No goods shall be imported into the U. K. from the islands of Guernsey, Jersey, Alderney, Sark, or Man, except in British ships, 6 G. 4. c. 109. s. 6. [See as to Isle of Man, 6 G. 4. c. 115.]

51. No goods shall be exported from the U. K. to any British possession in Asia, Africa, or America, nor to the islands of Guernsey, Jersey, Alderney, Sark, or Man, except in British ships, 6 G. 4. c. 109. s. 7.

52. No goods shall be carried coastwise, from one part of the U. K. to another, except in British ships, 6 G. 4. c. 109. s. 8.

53. No goods shall be carried from any of the islands of Guernsey, Jersey, Alderney, Sark, or Man, to any other of such islands; nor from one part of any such islands to another part of the same island, except in British ships, 6 G. 4. c. 109. s. 9.

54. No goods shall be carried from any British possession in Asia, Africa, or America, to any other of such possessions, nor from one part of any of such possession to another part of the same, except in British ships, 6 G. 4. c. 109. s. 10. [See c. 114. post. this tit. pl. 67.]

55. No goods shall be imported into any British possession in Asia, Africa, or America, in any foreign ships, unless they be ships of the country of which the goods are the produce, and from which the goods are imported, 6 G. 4. c. 109. s. 11.

56. No ship shall be admitted to be a British ship unless duly registered and navigated as such; and every British registered ship (so long as the registry of such ship shall be in force, or the certificate of such registry retained for the use of such ship), shall be navigated during the whole of every voyage (whether in a cargo or in ballast), in every part of the world, by a master who is a British subject, and by a crew, whereof three-fourths at least are British seamen; and if such ship be employed in a coasting voyage from one part of the U. K. to another, or in a voyage between the U. K. and the islands of Guernsey, Jersey, Alderney, Sark, or Man, or from one of the said islands to another of them, or from one part of either of them to another of the same, or be employed in fishing on the coasts of the U. K. or of any of the said islands, then the whole of the crew shall be British seamen, 6 G. 4. c. 109. s. 12.

57. Provided, that all British-built boats or vessels under 15 tons burthen, wholly owned and navigated by British subjects, although not registered as British ships, shall be admitted to be British vessels, in all navigation in the rivers and upon the coasts of the U. K. or of the British possessions abroad, and not proceeding over sea, except within the limits of the respective colonial governments within which the managing owners of such vessels respectively reside; and that all British-built boats or vessels wholly owned and navigated by British subjects, not exceeding the burthen of 50 tons, and not having a whole or a fixed deck, and being employed solely in fishing on the banks and shores of Newfoundland, and of the parts adjacent, or on the banks and shores of the provinces of Canada, Nova Scotia, or New Brunswick, adjacent to the gulf of St. Lawrence, or on the north of Cape Canso, or of the islands within the same, or in trading coastwise within the said limits, shall be admitted to be British boats or vessels, although not registered, so long as such boats or vessels shall be solely so employed, 6 G. 4. c. 109. s. 13.

58. Provided, that all ships built in the British settlements at Honduras, and owned and navigated as British ships, shall be entitled to the privileges of British registered ships in all direct trade between the U. K. and the said settlements; provided the master shall produce a certificate under the hand of the superintendent of those settlements, that satisfactory proof has been made before him that such ship (describing the same) was built in the said settlements, and is wholly owned by British subjects; provided also, that the time of the clearance of such ship from the said settlements for every voyage shall be endorsed upon such certificate by such superintendent, 6 G. 4. c. 109. s. 14.

59. No ship shall be admitted to be a ship of any particular country, unless she be of the built of such country; or have been made prize of war to such country; or have been forfeited to such country under any law of the same, made for the prevention of the slave trade, and condemned as such prize or forfeiture by a competent court of such country; or be British-built (not having been a prize of war from British subjects to any other foreign country; nor unless she be navigated by a master who is a subject of such foreign country, and by a crew of whom three-fourths at least are subjects of such country; nor unless she be wholly owned by subjects of such country usually residing therein, or under the dominion thereof: provided that the country of every ship shall be deemed to include all places which are under the same dominion as the place to which such ship belongs, 6 G. 4. c. 109. s. 15.

60. No person shall be qualified to be a master of a British ship, or to be a British seaman within the meaning of this act, except the natural-born subjects of H. M., or persons naturalized by any act of parliament, or made denizens by letters of denization; or except persons who have become British subjects by virtue of conquest or cession of some newly-acquired country, and who shall have taken the oath of allegiance to H. M., or the oath of fidelity required by the treaty or capitulation by which such newly-acquired country came into H. M.'s possession; or persons who shall have served on board any of H. M.'s ships of war in time of war for the space of three years: provided, that the natives of places within the limits of the E. I. C.'s charter, although under British dominion, shall not, upon the ground of being such natives, be deemed to be British seamen: provided, that every ship (except ships required to be wholly navigated by British seamen) which shall be navigated by one British seaman, if a British ship, or one seaman of the country of such ship, if a foreign ship, for every 20 tons of the burthen of such ship, shall be deemed to be duly navigated, although the number of other seamen shall exceed one-fourth of the whole crew, 6 G. 4. c. 109. s. 16.

61. Provided, that it shall be lawful for H. M., by his royal proclamation during war, to declare that foreigners, having served two years on board any of H. M.'s ships of war in time of such war, shall be British seamen within the meaning of this act, 6 G. 4. c. 109. s. 17.

62. No British registered ship shall be suffered to depart any port in the U. K., or any British possession in any part of the world (whether with a cargo or in ballast), unless duly navigated: provided, that any British ships, trading between places in America, may be navigated by British negroes; and that ships trading eastward of the Cape of Good Hope, within the limits of the E. I. C.'s charter, may be navigated by Lascars, or other natives of countries within those limits, 6 G. 4. c. 109. s. 18.

63. If any British registered ship shall at any time have, as part of the crew in any part of the world, any foreign seaman not allowed by law, the master or owners of such ship shall for every such foreign seaman forfeit the sum of 10*l.*: provided, that if a due proportion of British seamen cannot be procured in any foreign port, or in any place within the limits of the E. I. C.'s charter, for the navigation of any British ship; or if such proportion be destroyed during the voyage by any unavoidable circumstance, and the master of such ship shall produce a certificate of such facts under the hand of any British consul, or of two known British merchants, if there be no consul at the place where such facts can be ascertained, or from the British governor of any place within the limits of the E. I. C.'s charter; or in the want of such certificate, shall make proof of the truth of such facts to the satisfaction of the collector and controller of the customs of any British port, or of any person authorized in any other part of the world to inquire into the navigation of such ship, the same shall be deemed to be duly navigated, 6 G. 4. c. 109. s. 19.

64. If H. M. shall, at any time by his royal proclamation, declare that the proportion of British seamen necessary to the due navigation of British ships shall be less than the proportion required by this act, every British ship navigated with the proportion of British seamen required by such proclamation shall be deemed to be duly navigated, so long as such proclamation shall remain in force, 6 G. 4. c. 109. s. 20.

65. Provided, that goods of any sort or the produce of any place, not otherwise prohibited than by the law of navigation herein-before contained, may be imported into the U. K. from any place in a British ship, and from any place not being a British possession in a foreign ship of any country, and however navigated, to be warehoused for exportation only, under the provisions of any law in force for the time being, made for the warehousing of goods without payment of duty upon the first entry thereof, 6 G. 4. c. 109. s. 21.

66. If any goods be imported, exported, or carried coastwise, contrary to the law of navigation herein-before contained, all such goods shall be forfeited, and the master of such ship shall forfeit the sum of 100*l.*, 6 G. 4. c. 109. s. 22.

67. To regulate the trade of the British possessions abroad, 6 G. 4. c. 114.

68. Whereas 6 G. 4. c. 105. [post, tit. STATUTES] reciting as in the preamble to 6 G. 4. c. 109. s. 1. [ante, pl. 45.]: be it therefore enacted, That from and after the 5th Jan. 1826, this act shall come into and be and continue in full force and operation, for the regulating of the trade of the British possessions abroad, 6 G. 4. c. 114. s. 1.

69. No goods shall be imported into, nor shall any goods, except the produce of the fisheries in British ships, be exported from, any of the British possessions in America by sea, from or to any place other than the U. K., or some other of such possessions, except into or from the several ports in such possessions, called "Free Ports," enumerated or described in the table following; (that is to say),

6 G. 4. c. 114. s. 2.

70. Provided always, that if H. M. shall deem it expedient to extend the provisions of this act to any port or ports not enumerated in the said table, it shall be lawful for H. M. by order in council to extend the provisions of this act to such port or ports; and from and after the day mentioned in such order in council, all the privileges and advantages of this act, and all the provisions, penalties, and forfeitures therein contained, shall extend and be deemed and construed to extend to any such port or ports respectively, as fully as if the same had been inserted and enumerated in the said table at the time of passing this act: provided also, that nothing herein-before contained shall extend to prohibit the exportation of the produce of the fisheries from any ports or places in any of the said possessions in British ships, nor to prohibit the importation or exportation of goods, into or from any ports or places in Newfoundland or Labrador in British ships, 6 G. 4. c. 114. s. 3.

71. And whereas by the law of navigation foreign ships are permitted to import into any of the British possessions abroad, from the countries to which they belong, goods the produce of those countries, and to export goods from such possessions to be carried to any foreign country whatever: and whereas it is expedient that such permission should be subject to certain conditions; be it therefore enacted, that the privileges thereby granted to foreign ships shall be limited to the ships of those countries which, having colonial possessions, shall grant the like privileges of trading with those possessions to British ships, or which, not having colonial possessions, shall place the commerce and navigation of this country, and of its possessions abroad, upon the footing of the most favoured nation, unless H. M. by his order in council shall in any case deem it expedient to grant the whole or any of such privileges to the ships of any foreign country, although the conditions aforesaid shall not in all respects be fulfilled by such foreign country, 6 G. 4. c. 114. s. 4.

72. Nothing contained in this act, or any other act passed in the present session of parliament, shall extend to repeal or in any way alter or affect 4 G. 4. c. 77. intituled, An Act to authorize H. M., under certain circumstances, to regulate the duties and drawbacks on goods imported or exported in foreign vessels, and to exempt certain foreign vessels from pilotage; nor to repeal or in any way alter or affect 5 G. 4. c. 1. [post, tit. SHIPPING.] among other things, to amend the last-mentioned act, and that all trade and intercourse between the British possessions and all foreign countries shall be subject to the powers granted to H. M. by those acts, 6 G. 4. c. 114. s. 5.

73. Provided, that until the expiration of 10 years, to be computed from the 24th June, 1822, every foreign ship which previous to that day had been engaged in trade between any of the British possessions in America, and other places in America, shall, for the purposes of this act, be deemed to be a ship of the country or place to which she had then belonged, if still belonging thereto; any thing in the law of navigation to the contrary notwithstanding, 6 G. 4. c. 114. s. 6.

74. The several sorts of goods enumerated or described in the table following, denominated "A Table of Prohibitions and Restrictions," are hereby prohibited to be imported or brought, either by sea or by inland carriage or navigation, into the British possessions in America, or into the island of Mauritius, or shall be so imported or brought, only under the restrictions mentioned in such table, according as the several sorts of such goods are set forth therein: (that is to say),

A TABLE OF PROHIBITIONS AND RESTRICTIONS.

Prohibited to be imported.

75. And if any goods shall be imported or brought into any of the British possessions in America, or into the island of Mauritius, contrary to any of the prohibitions or restrictions mentioned in such table in respect of such goods, the same shall be forfeited, 6 G. 4. c. 114. s. 7.

76. All coffee, cocoa nuts, sugar, melasses, and rum (although the same may be of the British plantations) imported into any of the British possessions in America, into which the like goods of foreign production can be legally imported, shall upon subsequent importation from thence into any of the British possessions in America, into which such goods, being of foreign production, cannot be legally imported, or into the island of Mauritius, or into the U. K., be deemed to be of foreign production, and shall be liable, on such importation respectively, to the same duties or the same forfeitures, as articles of the like description, being of foreign production, would be liable to, unless the same shall have been warehoused under the provisions of this act, and exported from the warehouse direct to such other British possession, or to the island of Mauritius, or to the U. K., as the case may be, 6 G. 4. c. 114. s. 8.

77. There shall be raised, levied, collected, and paid unto H. M., the several duties of customs as the same are respectively set forth in figures in the table of duties herein-after contained, upon goods, wares, and merchandize imported or brought into any of H. M.'s possessions in America; (that is to say),

Goods, wares, or merchandize, not being enumerated or described, nor otherwise charged with duty by this act	For every 100 l. of the true and real value thereof	15	0	0

And if any of the goods herein-before mentioned shall be imported through the U. K., (having been warehoused therein, and exported from the warehouse, or the duties thereon, if then paid, having been drawn back), one tenth part of the duties herein imposed shall be remitted in respect of such goods; and if any of the goods herein-before mentioned shall be imported through the U. K. (not from the warehouse), but after all duties of importation for home use thereon shall have been paid thereon in the said U. K. and not drawn back, such goods shall be free of all duties herein imposed, 6 G. 4. c. 114. s. 9.

78. Nothing in this act or in any other act passed in the present session of parliament, shall extend to repeal or abrogate, or in any way to alter or affect 18 G. 3. c. 12. [Stat. Dig. tit. AMERICAN COLONIES, pl. 50.] intituled, An Act for removing all doubts and apprehensions concerning taxation by the parliament of G. B., in any of the colonies, provinces, and plantations in North America and the West Indies, and for repealing so much of an act made in the 7th year of the reign of His present Majesty, as imposes a duty on tea imported from G. B. into any colony or plantation in America, as relates thereto, nor to repeal or in any way alter or affect any act now in force, which was passed prior to the last-mentioned act, and by which any duties in any of the British possessions in America were granted, and still continue payable to the crown; nor to repeal, or in any way alter or affect 31 G. 3. c. 31. [Stat. Dig. tit. CANADA, pl. 1.] intituled, An Act to repeal certain parts of an act passed in the 14th year of H. M.'s reign, intituled 'An Act for making more effectual provisions for the government of the province of Quebec in North America, and to make further provisions for the government of the said province', 6 G. 4. c. 114. s. 10.

79. The duties imposed by any of the acts herein-before mentioned or referred to, passed prior to the 18 G. 3. c. 12. shall be received, accounted for, and applied for the purposes of those acts: provided, that no greater proportion of the duties imposed by this act shall be charged upon any article which is subject also to duty under any of the said acts, or subject also to duty under any colonial law, than the amount, if any, by which the duty charged by this act shall exceed such other duty or duties: provided nevertheless, that the full amount of the duties mentioned in this act, whether on account of such former acts, or on account of such colonial law, or on account of this act, shall be levied and recovered and received under the regulations, and by the means and powers of this act, 6 G. 4. c. 114. s. 11.

80. All sums of money granted or imposed by this act, either as duties, penalties, or forfeitures, in the British possessions in America, shall be deemed and are hereby declared to be sterling money of G. B., and shall be collected, recovered, and paid to the amount of the value which such nominal sums bear in G. B.; and that such monies may be received and taken according to the proportion and value of 5*s.* 6*d.* the ounce in silver; and that all duties shall be paid and received in every part of the British possessions in America, according to British weights and measures in use at the time of passing of this act, [see post, tit. WEIGHTS, &c.] and that in all cases where such duties are imposed according to any specific quantity, or any specific value, the same shall be deemed to apply in the same proportion to any greater or less quantity or value; and that all such duties shall be under the management of the commissioners of the customs, 6 G. 4. c. 114. s. 12.

81. The produce of the duties so received by the means and powers of this act, except such duties as are payable to H. M. under any act passed prior to the 18 G. 3. c. 12. as aforesaid, shall be paid by the collector of the customs, into the hands of the treasurer or receiver-general of the colony, or other proper officer authorized to receive the same, in the colony in which the same shall be levied, to be applied to such uses as shall be directed by the local legislatures of such colonies respectively; and that the produce of such duties so received as aforesaid, in the colonies which have no local legislature, shall and may be applied in such manner as shall be directed by the commissioners of H. M.'s treasury, 6 G. 4. c. 114. s. 13.

82. There shall be allowed, upon the exportation from Newfoundland to Canada of rum or other spirits, being the produce of the British possessions in South America or the West Indies, a drawback of the full duties of customs which shall have been paid upon the importation thereof from any of the said places into Newfoundland, provided proof on oath be made to the satisfaction of the collector and controller of the customs at the port from whence such rum or other spirits shall be so exported, that the full duties on the importation of such rum or other spirits at the said port had been paid, and that a certificate be produced under the hands and seals of the collector and controller of the customs at Quebec, that such rum or other spirits had been duly landed in Canada: provided, that no drawback shall be allowed upon any such rum or other spirits unless the same shall be shipped within one year from the day of the importation of the same, nor unless such drawback shall be duly claimed within one year from the day of such shipment, 6 G. 4. c. 114. s. 14.

83. The master of every ship arriving in any of the British possessions in America, or the island of Mauritius, or the islands of Guernsey, Jersey, Alderney, or Sark, whether laden or in ballast, shall come directly, and before bulk be broken, to the custom-house for the port or district where he arrives, and there make a report upon oath in writing to the collector or controller, or other proper officer, of the arrival and voyage of such ship, stating her name, country, and tonnage, and if British the port of registry, the name and country of the master, the country of the owners, the number of the crew, and how many are of the country of such ship, and whether she be laden or in ballast, and if laden, the marks, numbers, and contents of every package and parcel of goods on board, and where the same was laden, and where and to whom consigned, and where any and what goods, if any, had been unladen during the voyage, as far as any of such particulars can be known to him; and the master shall further answer upon oath all such questions concerning the ship, and the cargo and the crew and the voyage, as shall be demanded of him by such officer; and if any goods be unladen from any ship before such report be made, or if the master fail to make such report, or make an untrue report, or do not truly answer the questions demanded of him, he shall forfeit the sum of 100*l.*; and if any goods be not reported, such goods shall be forfeited, 6 G. 4. c. 114. s. 15.

84. The master of every ship bound from any British possession in America, or the island of Mauritius, or the islands of Guernsey, Jersey, Alderney, or Sark, shall, before any goods be laden therein, deliver to the collector or controller, or other proper officer, an entry outwards under his hand of the destination of such ship, stating her name, country, and tonnage, and if British the port of registry, the name and country of the master, the country of the owners, the number of the crew, and how many are of the country of such ship; and if any goods be laden on board any ship before such entry be made, the master of such ship shall forfeit the sum of 50*l.*; and before such ship depart, the master shall bring and deliver to the collector or controller, or other proper officer, a content in writing under his hand of the goods laden, and the names of the respective shippers and consignees of the goods, with the marks and numbers of the packages or parcels of the same, and shall make oath to the truth of such content as far as any of such particulars can be known to him; and the master of every ship bound from any British possession in America or from the island of Mauritius, or from the islands of Guernsey, Jersey, Alderney, or Sark, (whether in ballast or laden), shall before departure come before the collector or controller, or other proper officer, and answer upon oath all such questions concerning the ship and the cargo, if any, and the crew and the voyage, as shall be demanded of him by such officer; and thereupon the collector and controller or other proper officer, if such ship be laden, shall make out and give to the master a certificate of the clearance of such ship for her intended voyage, containing an account of the total quantities of the several sorts of goods laden therein, or a certificate of her clearance in ballast, as the case may be; and if the ship shall depart without such clearance, or if the master shall deliver a false content, or shall not truly answer the questions demanded of him, he shall forfeit the sum of 100*l.*, 6 G. 4. c. 114. s. 16.

85. Provided, that whenever any ship shall be cleared out from any port in Newfoundland or in any other part of H. M.'s dominions, for the fisheries on the banks or coasts of Newfoundland or Labrador, [see ante, FISHERIES (Newfoundland),] or the dependencies thereof, without having on board any article of traffic (except only such provisions, nets, tackle, and other things as are usually employed in and about the said fishery, and for the conduct and carrying on of the same), the master of any such ship shall be entitled to demand, from the collector or other principal officer of the customs at such port, a certificate under his hand that such ship hath been specially cleared out for the Newfoundland fishery, and such certificate shall be in force for the fishing season of the year in which the same may be granted, and no longer; and upon the first arrival in any port in the said colony of Newfoundland or its dependencies, of any ship having on board any such certificate as aforesaid, a report thereof shall be made by the master of such ship to the principal officer of the customs at such port, and all ships having such certificate which has been so reported, and being actually engaged in the said fishery, or in carrying coastwise to be landed or put on board any other ships engaged in the said fishery, any fish, oil, salt, provisions or other necessaries for the use and purposes thereof, shall be exempt from all obligation to make any entry at or obtain any clearance from any custom-house at Newfoundland, upon arrival at or departure from any of the ports or harbours of the said colony or its dependencies during the continuance of the fishing season for which such certificate may have been granted; and previously to obtaining a clearance at the end of such season for any other voyage at any of such ports, the master of such ship shall deliver up the before-mentioned certificate to the principal officer of the customs of such port: provided, that in case any such ship shall have on board, during the time the same may be engaged in the said fishery, any goods or merchandizes whatsoever, other than fish, seals, oil made of fish or seals, salt, provisions, and other things, being the produce of or usually employed in the said fishery, such ship shall forfeit the said fishing certificate, and shall thenceforth become and be subject and liable to all such and the same rules, restrictions, and regulations as ships in general are subject or liable to, 6 G. 4. c. 114. s. 17.

86. No goods shall be laden, or water-borne, to be laden on board any ship, or unladen from any ship in any of the British possessions in America, or the island of Mauritius, or the islands of Guernsey, Jersey, Alderney, or Sark, until due entry shall have been made of such goods, and warrant granted for the lading or unlading of the same; and that no goods shall be so laden or water-borne, or so unladen, except at some place at which an officer of the customs is appointed to attend the lading and unlading of goods, or at some place for which a sufferance shall be granted by the collector and controller for the lading and unlading of such goods; and that no goods shall be so laden or unladen except in the presence or with the permission in writing of the proper officer: provided, that it shall be lawful for the commissioners of H. M.'s customs to make and appoint such other regulations for the carrying coastwise of any goods, or for the removing of any goods for shipment, as to them shall appear expedient; and that all goods laden, water-borne, or unladen, contrary to the regulations of this act, or contrary to any regulations so made and appointed, shall be forfeited, 6 G. 4. c. 114. s. 18.

87. The person entering any such goods shall deliver to the collector or controller, or other proper officer, a bill of the entry thereof, fairly written in words at length, containing the name of the exporter or importer, and of the ship, and of the master, and of the place to or from which bound, and of the place within the port where the goods are to be laden or unladen, and the particulars of the quality and quantity of the goods, and the packages containing the same, and the marks and numbers on the packages, and such person shall at the same time pay down all duties due upon the goods, and the collector and controller, or other proper officer, shall thereupon grant their warrant for the lading or unlading of such goods, 6 G. 4. c. 114. s. 19.

88. If the importer of any goods shall declare upon oath before the collector or controller, or other proper officer, that he cannot, for want of full information, make perfect entry thereof, it shall be lawful for the collector and controller to receive an entry by bill of sight for the packages or parcels of such goods, by the best description which can be given, and to grant a warrant thereupon, in order that the same may be landed and secured to the satisfaction of the officer of the customs, and at the expence of the importer, and may be seen and examined by such importer, in the presence of the proper officers; and within three days after the goods shall have been so landed, the importer shall make a perfect entry thereof, and pay down all duties due thereon; and in default of such entry, such goods shall be taken to the King's warehouse, and if the importer shall not within one month after such landing, make perfect entry of such goods, and pay the duties due thereon, together with charges of removal and warehouse rent, such goods shall be sold for the payment thereof, and the overplus, if any, shall be paid to the proprietor of the goods, 6 G. 4. c. 114. s. 20.

89. In all cases where the duties imposed by this act upon the importation of articles into H. M.'s possessions in America, or the island of Mauritius are charged, not according to the weight, tale, gauge, or measure, but according to the value thereof, such value shall be ascertained by the declaration of the importer of such articles, or his known agent, in manner and form following; (that is to say),

'I A. B. do hereby declare, that the articles mentioned in the entry, and contained in the packages [here specifying the several packages, and describing the several marks and numbers, as the case may be] are of the value of —

Witness my hand the — day of —

A. B.

'The above declaration, signed the — day of — in the presence of C. D. collector, [or other principal officer.]'

Which declaration shall be written on the bill of entry of such articles, and shall be subscribed with the hand of the importer thereof, or his known agent, in the presence of the collector or other principal officer of the customs at the port of importation; provided that upon view and examination of such articles by the proper officer of the customs, it shall appear to him that the said articles are not valued according to the true price or value thereof, and according to the true intent and meaning of this act, then and in such case the importer, or his known agent, shall be required to declare on oath before the collector or controller what is the invoice price of such articles, and that he verily believes such invoice price is the current value of the articles at the place from whence the said articles were imported; and such invoice price, with the addition of 10*l. per centum* thereon, shall be deemed to be the value of the articles, in lieu of the value so declared by the importer or his known agent, and upon which the duties imposed by this act shall be charged and paid: provided also, that if it shall appear to the collector and controller, or other proper officer, that such articles have been invoiced below the real and true value thereof, at the place from whence the same were imported, or if the invoice price is not known, the articles shall in such case be examined by two competent persons, to be nominated and appointed by the governor or commander-in-chief of the colony, plantation, or island into which the said articles are imported, and such person shall declare on oath before the collector or controller, or other proper officer, what is the true and real value of such articles in such colony, plantation, or island, and the value so declared on the oaths of such persons shall be deemed to be the true and real value of such articles, and upon which the duties imposed by this act shall be charged and paid, 6 G. 4. c. 114. s. 21.

90. If the importer of such articles shall refuse to pay the duties hereby imposed thereon, it shall and may be lawful for the collector or other chief officer of the customs where such articles shall be imported, and he is hereby respectively required to take and secure the same, with the casks or other package thereof, and to cause the same to be publicly sold within the space of 20 days at the most after such refusal made, and at such time and place as such officer shall, by four or more days' public notice, appoint for that purpose, which articles shall be sold to the best bidder; and the money arising from the sale thereof shall be applied in the first place in payment of the said duties, together with the charges that shall have been occasioned by the said sale, and the overplus, if any, shall be paid to such importer or proprietor, or any other person authorized to receive the same, 6 G. 4. c. 114. s. 22.

91. Every importer of any goods shall, within 20 days after the arrival of the importing ship, make due entry inwards of such goods, and land the same; and in default of such entry and landing, it shall be lawful for the officers of the customs to convey such goods to the King's warehouse; and if the duties due upon such goods be not paid within three months after such 20 days shall have expired, together with all charges of removal and warehouse rent, the same shall be sold, and the produce thereof shall be applied first to the payment of freight and charges, next of duties, and the overplus, if any, shall be paid to the proprietor of the goods, 6 G. 4. c. 114. s. 23.

92. No goods shall be imported into any British possession as being imported from the U. K., or from any other British possession (if any advantage attach to such distinction,) unless such goods appear upon the cockets or other proper documents for the same to have been duly cleared outwards at the port of exportation in the U. K., or in such other British possession, nor unless the ground upon which such advantage be claimed be stated in such cocket or document, 6 G. 4. c. 114. s. 24.

93. No entry, nor any warrant for the landing of any goods, or for the taking of any goods out of any warehouse, shall be deemed valid, unless the particulars of the goods and packages in such entry shall correspond with the particulars of the goods and packages purporting to be the same in the report of the ship, or in the certificate or other document, where any is required, by which the importation or entry of such goods is authorized, nor unless the goods shall have been properly described in such entry by the denominations, and with the characters and circumstances, according to which such goods are charged with duty, or may be imported; and any goods taken or delivered out of any ship or out of any warehouse by virtue of any entry or warrant not corresponding or agreeing in all such respects, or not properly describing the same, shall be deemed to be goods landed or taken without due entry thereof, and shall be forfeited, 6 G. 4. c. 114. s. 25.

94. Before any sugar, coffee, cocoa-nuts, spirits, or mahogany shall be shipped for exportation in any British possession in America, or in the island of Mauritius, as being the produce of such possession or of such island, the proprietor of the estate on which such goods were produced, or his known agent, shall make and sign an affidavit in writing before the collector or controller at the port of exportation, or before one of H. M.'s justices of the peace, or other officer duly authorized to administer such oath, residing in or near the place where such estate is situated, declaring that such goods are the produce of such estate; and such affidavit shall set forth the name of the estate, and the description and quantity of the goods, and the packages containing the same, with the marks and numbers thereon, and the name of the person to whose charge at the place of shipment they are to be sent; and if any justice of the peace, or other officer aforesaid, shall subscribe his name to any writing, purporting to be such affidavit, unless the person purporting to make such affidavit shall actually appear before him, and be sworn to the truth of the same, such justice of the peace or officer aforesaid shall forfeit and pay for any such offence the sum of 50*l.*; and the person entering and shipping such goods shall deliver such affidavit to the collector or controller, or other proper officer, and shall make oath before him that the goods which are to be shipped by virtue of such entry are the same as are mentioned in such affidavit; and the master of the ship in which such goods shall be laden shall, before clearance, make oath before the collector or controller, that the goods shipped by virtue of such entry are the same as are mentioned and intended in such affidavit, to the best of his knowledge and belief; and thereupon the collector and controller, or other proper officer, shall sign and give to the master a certificate of production, stating that proof has been made, in manner required by law, that such goods (describing the same) are the produce of such British possession, or of such islands, and setting forth in such certificate the name of the exporter, and of the exporting ship, and of the master thereof, and the destination of the goods; and if any sugar, coffee, cocoa-nuts, or spirits be imported into any British possession in America, or into the island of Mauritius, as being the produce of some other such possession, or of such island, without such certificate of production, the same shall be forfeited; and if any mahogany be so imported, the same shall be deemed to be of foreign production, 6 G. 4. c. 114. s. 26.

95. Before any sugar, coffee, cocoa-nuts, spirits, or mahogany shall be shipped for exportation in any British possession in America, as being the produce of some other such possession, or of the island of Mauritius, or shall be so shipped in the said islands as being the produce of some British possession in America, the person exporting the same shall in the entry outwards state the place of the production, and refer to the entry inwards and landing of such goods, and shall make oath before the collector or controller to the identity of the same; and thereupon, if such goods shall have been duly imported with a certificate of production, within 12 months prior to the shipping for exportation, the collector and controller shall sign and give to the master a certificate of production founded upon and referring to the certificate of production under which such goods had been so imported, and containing the like particulars, together with the date of such importation, 6 G. 4. c. 114. s. 27.

96. And whereas it is expedient to make regulation respecting the inland trade of the British possessions in America; be it therefore enacted, That it shall be lawful to bring or import by land, or by inland navigation, into any of the British possessions in America, from any adjoining foreign country, any goods which might be lawfully imported by sea into such possession from such country, and so to bring or import such goods in the vessels, boats, or carriages of such country, as well as in British vessels, boats, or carriages, 6 G. 4. c. 114. s. 28.

97. No vessel or boat shall be admitted to be a British vessel or boat on any of the inland waters or lakes in America, except such as shall have been built at some place within the British dominions, and shall be wholly owned by British subjects, and shall not have been repaired at any foreign place to a greater extent than in the proportion of 10s. for every ton of such vessel or boat at any one time: provided, that nothing herein-before contained shall extend to prevent the employment of any vessel or boat as a British vessel or boat, on such inland waters or lakes which shall have wholly belonged to British subjects before the passing of this act, and which shall not be repaired as aforesaid in any foreign place after the passing of this act, 6 G. 4. c. 114. s. 29.

98. Provided, that it shall not be lawful so to bring or import any goods, except into some port or place of entry at which a custom-house now is or hereafter may be lawfully established: provided also, that it shall be lawful for the governor, lieutenant-governor, or person administering the government of any of the said possessions respectively, by and with the advice and consent of the executive council thereof for the time being, if any executive council be there established, from time to time to diminish or increase, by proclamation, the number of ports or places of entry, which are or hereafter may be appointed in such province, for the entry of goods brought or imported as aforesaid, 6 G. 4. c. 114. s. 30.

99. The duties imposed by this act shall be ascertained, levied, and recovered, for and upon all goods so brought or imported, in the same manner, and by the same means, and under the same rules, regulations, restrictions, penalties, and forfeitures, as the duties on the like goods imported by sea may and can be ascertained, levied, or recovered, as far as the same are applicable; and if any goods shall be brought or imported contrary hereto, or if any goods so brought or imported shall be removed from the station or place appointed for the examination of such goods by the officers of the customs, before all duties payable thereon shall have been paid or satisfied, such goods shall be forfeited, together with the vessel, boat, or carriage, and the horses or other cattle, in or by which such goods shall have been so imported or brought or so removed, 6 G. 4. c. 114. s. 31.

100. The same tonnage duties shall be paid upon all vessels or boats of the United States of America, importing any goods into either of the provinces of Upper or Lower Canada, as are or may be for the time being payable in the United States of America, on British vessels or boats entering the harbours of the state from whence such goods shall have been imported, 6 G. 4. c. 114. s. 32.

101. And whereas it is expedient to constitute and appoint some of the free ports in America to be free warehousing ports, for all goods which may be legally imported into the said ports respectively; and it is also expedient to empower H. M. to constitute and appoint from time to time any other ports in any of the said British possessions in America to be in like manner free warehousing ports for such goods as may be legally imported into such ports respectively; and it is therefore necessary to make regulations for the appointing of proper warehouses at such ports, and for the lodging and securing of goods therein; be it therefore enacted, That the several ports herein-after mentioned; (that is to say), Kingston in the island of Jamaica, Halifax in Nova Scotia, Quebec in Canada, Saint John's in New Brunswick, and Bridge Town in the island of Barbadoes, shall be free warehousing ports for the purposes of this act; and that it shall be lawful for the several collectors and controllers of the said ports respectively, by notice in writing under their hand, to appoint from time to time such warehouses, at such ports respectively as shall be approved of by them, for the free warehousing and securing of goods therein, for the purposes of this act, and also in such notice to declare what sorts of goods may be so warehoused, and also by like notice to revoke or alter any such appointment or declaration: provided, that every such notice shall be transmitted to the governor of the place and shall be published in such manner as he shall direct, 6 G. 4. c. 114. s. 33.

102. It shall be lawful for the importer of any such goods into the said ports, to warehouse the same in the warehouses so appointed, without payment of any duty on the first entry thereof, subject nevertheless to the rules, regulations, restrictions, and conditions herein-after contained, 6 G. 4. c. 114. s. 34.

103. All goods so warehoused shall be stowed in such parts or divisions of the warehouse, and in such manner as the collector and controller shall direct; and the warehouse shall be locked and secured in such manner, and shall be opened and visited only at such time, and in the presence of such officers, and under such rules and regulations as the collector and controller shall direct; and that all such goods shall, after being landed upon importation, be carried to the warehouse, or shall, after being taken out of the warehouse for exportation, be carried to be shipped, under such rules and regulations as the collector and controller shall direct, 6 G. 4. c. 114. s. 35.

104. Upon the entry of any goods to be warehoused, the importer of such goods, instead of paying down the duties due thereon, shall give bond with two sufficient sureties, to be approved of by the collector or controller, in treble the duties payable on such goods, with condition for the safe depositing of such goods in the warehouse mentioned in such entry, and for the payment of all duties due upon such goods, or for the exportation thereof, according to the first account taken of such goods upon the landing of the same; and with further condition, that no part thereof shall be taken out of such warehouse until cleared from thence upon due entry and payment of duty, or upon due entry for exportation; and with further condition, that the whole of such goods shall be so cleared from such warehouse; and the duties, upon any deficiency of the quantity according to such first account, shall be paid within two years from the date of the first entry thereof; and if after such bond shall have been given, the goods or any part thereof shall be sold or disposed of, so that the original bond shall be no longer interested in or have controul over the same, it shall be lawful for the collector and controller to admit fresh security to be given by the bond of the new proprietor or other person having controul over such goods, with his sufficient sureties, and to cancel the bond given by the original bond of such goods, or to exonerate him to the extent of the fresh security so given, 6 G. 4. c. 114. s. 36.

105. If any goods which have been entered to be warehoused shall not be duly carried and deposited in the warehouse, or shall afterwards be taken out of the warehouse without due entry and clearance, or having been entered and cleared for exportation from the warehouse, shall not be duly carried and shipped, or shall afterwards be re-landed, except with permission of the proper officer of the customs, such goods shall be forfeited, 6 G. 4. c. 114. s. 37.

106. Upon the entry and landing of any goods to be warehoused, the proper officer of the customs shall take a particular account of the same, and shall mark the contents on each package, and shall enter the same in a book to be kept for that purpose; and no goods which have been so warehoused shall be taken or delivered from the warehouse, except upon due entry, and under care of the proper officers for exportation, or upon due entry and payment of duty for home use; and whenever the whole of the goods warehoused under any entry shall be cleared from the warehouse, or whenever further time shall be granted for any such goods to remain warehoused, an account shall be made out of the quantity upon which the duties have been paid, and of the quantity exported, and of the quantity (to be then ascertained) of the goods still remaining in the warehouse, as the case may be, deducting from the whole the quantity contained in any whole packages (if any) which may have been abandoned, for the duties; and if upon such account there shall in either case appear to be any deficiency of the original quantity, the duty payable upon the amount of such deficiency shall then be paid, 6 G. 4. c. 114. s. 38.

107. It shall be lawful for the collector and controller, under such regulations as they shall see fit, to permit moderate samples to be taken of any goods so warehoused without entry, and without payment of duty, except as the same shall eventually become payable, as on a deficiency of the original quantity, 6 G. 4. c. 114. s. 39.

108. It shall be lawful for the collector and controller, under such regulations as they shall see fit, to permit the proprietor or other person having controul over any goods so warehoused, to sort, separate, and pack and repack any such goods, and to make such lawful alterations therein, or arrangements and assortments thereof, as may be necessary for the preservation of such goods, or in order to the sale, shipment, or legal disposal of the same; and also to permit any parts of such goods so separated to be destroyed, but without prejudice to the claim for duty upon the whole original quantity of such goods: provided, that it shall be lawful for any person to abandon any whole packages to the officers of the customs for the duties, without being liable to any duty upon the same, 6 G. 4. c. 114. s. 40.

109. All goods which have been so warehoused shall be duly cleared, either for exportation or for home consumption, within two years from the day of the first entry thereof; and if any such goods be not so cleared it shall be lawful for the collector and controller to cause the same to be sold, and the produce shall be applied, first to the payment of the duties, next of warehouse rent and other charges, and the overplus (if any) shall be paid to the proprietor: provided, that it shall be lawful for the collector and controller to grant further time for any such goods to remain warehoused, if they shall see fit so to do, 6 G. 4. c. 114. s. 41.

110. Upon the entry outwards of any goods to be exported from the warehouse, the person entering the same shall give security by bond, in treble the duties of importation on the quantity of such goods, with two sufficient sureties, to be approved by the collector or controller, that the same shall be landed at the place for which they be entered outwards, or be otherwise accounted for to the satisfaction of the collector and controller, 6 G. 4. c. 114. s. 42.

111. It shall be lawful for H. M. in council from time to time to appoint any port in H. M.'s possessions in America, to be a free warehousing port for the purposes of this act; and every such port so appointed by H. M. shall be a free warehousing port under this act as if appointed by the same, in as full and ample a manner, in all respects, as any of the ports herein-before mentioned are free warehousing ports appointed by this act, 6 G. 4. c. 114. s. 43.

112. And whereas it is expedient that all duties and regulations, relating to importation and exportation into and from H. M.'s islands in the West Indies, should be extended to the island of Mauritius; be it therefore enacted, That all goods, wares, and merchandize, the growth, produce, or manufacture of the island of Mauritius, and all goods, wares, and merchandize which shall have been imported into the said island of Mauritius, and which shall be imported into any part of the U. K. of G. B. and Ire., or into any possessions of H. M., shall be liable, upon such importation into the U. K., or in any such possessions respectively, to the payment of the same duties, and shall be subject to the same regulations as the like goods, wares, and merchandize being of the growth, produce, or manufacture of H. M.'s islands in the West Indies, and imported into the said U. K., or in any such possessions respectively, would on such importation be liable to the payment of or would be subject unto; and that upon the exportation of any goods, wares, or merchandize from the U. K. to the island of Mauritius, such goods, wares, or merchandize shall be liable to the same duties, and shall be entitled to the like drawbacks respectively, as would or ought by law, to be charged or allowed upon the like goods exported from the U. K. to any of H. M.'s islands in the West Indies; and that all goods, wares, and merchandize which shall be imported into or exported from the said island of Mauritius, from or to any place whatever, other than the U. K. of G. B. and Ire., shall, upon such importation or exportation respectively, be liable to the payment of the same duties, and shall be subject to the same regulations, so far as any such regulations can or may be applied, as the like goods, wares, and merchandize would be liable to the payment of, or would be subject to, upon importation or exportation into or from any of H. M.'s islands in the West Indies; and that all ships and vessels whatever, which shall arrive at or depart from the said island of Mauritius, shall be liable to the payment of the same duties, and shall be subject to the same regulations, as such ships or vessels would be liable to the payment of, or would be subject to, if arriving at or departing from any of H. M.'s islands in the West Indies, 6 G. 4. c. 114. s. 44.

113. It shall be lawful for any of the subjects of the King of the Netherlands, being Dutch proprietors, in the colonies of Demerara and Essequibo, and of Berbice, to import in Dutch ships, from the Netherlands into the said colonies, all the usual articles of supply for their estates therein; and also wine imported for the purposes of medicine only, and which shall be liable to a duty of 10s. per ton, and no more; and in case seizure be made of any articles so imported, upon the ground that they are not such supplies, or are for the purpose of trade, the proof to the contrary shall lie on the Dutch proprietor importing the same, and not on the seizing officer: provided, that if sufficient security by bond be given in court to abide the decision of the commissioners of customs upon such seizure, the goods so seized shall be admitted to entry and released, 6 G. 4. c. 114. s. 45.

114. It shall not be lawful for such Dutch proprietors to export the produce of their estates to the U. K., or to any of H. M.'s sugar colonies in America, 6 G. 4. c. 114. s. 46.

115. All subjects of H. M. the King of the Netherlands, resident in His said Majesty's European dominions, who were at the date of the signature of the convention between His late Majesty King George the Third and the King of the Netherlands, dated 12th Aug. 1815, proprietors of estates in the said colonies, and all subjects of His said Majesty, who may hereafter become possessed of estates then belonging to Dutch proprietors therein, and all such proprietors as being then resident in the said colonies and being natives of H. M.'s dominions in the Netherlands, may have declared, within three months after the publication of the aforesaid convention in the said colonies, that they wish to continue to be considered as such, and all subjects of His said Majesty the King of the Netherlands who may be the holders of mortgages of estates in the said colonies made prior to the date of the convention, and who may under the mortgage deeds have the right of exporting from the said colonies to the Netherlands the produce of such estates, shall be deemed Dutch proprietors under the provisions of this act; provided that where both Dutch and British subjects have mortgages upon the same property in the said colonies, the produce to be consigned to the different mortgagees shall be in proportion to the debts respectively due to them, 6 G. 4. c. 114. s. 47.

116. No British merchant-ship or vessel shall sail from any place in the island of Jamaica to any place in the island of Saint Domingo, nor from any place in the island of Saint Domingo to any place in the island of Jamaica, under the penalty of the forfeiture of such ship or vessel, together with her cargo; and that no foreign ship or vessel which shall have come from, or shall in the course of her voyage have touched at any such place in the island of Saint Domingo, shall come into any port or harbour in the island of Jamaica; and if any such ship or vessel, having come into any such port or harbour, shall continue there for 48 hours after notice shall have been given by the officer of the customs to depart therefrom, such ship or vessel shall be forfeited; and if any person shall be landed in the island of Jamaica from on board any ship or vessel which shall have come from or touched at the island of Saint Domingo, except in case of urgent necessity, or unless licence shall have been given by the governor of Jamaica to land such person, such ship shall be forfeited, together with her cargo, 6 G. 4. c. 114. s. 48.

117. All laws, bye-laws, usages or customs at this time, or which hereafter shall be in practice, or endeavoured or pretended to be in force or practice, in any of the British possessions in America, which are in anywise repugnant to this act, or to any act of parliament made or hereafter to be made in the U. K., so far as such act shall relate to and mention the said possessions, are and shall be null and void to all intents and purposes whatsoever, 6 G. 4. c. 114. s. 49.

118. It shall be lawful for the officers of customs to go on board any ship in any port in any British possession in America, and to rummage and search all parts of such ship for prohibited and uncustomed goods, and also to go on board any ship hovering within one league of any of the coasts thereof, and in either case freely to stay on board such ship so long as she shall remain in such port, or within such distance; and if any such ship be bound elsewhere, and shall continue so hovering for the space of 24 hours after the master shall have been required to depart, it shall be lawful for the officer of the customs to bring such ship into port, and to search and examine her cargo, and to examine the master upon oath touching the cargo and voyage, and if there be any goods on board prohibited to be imported into such possession, such ship and her cargo shall be forfeited; and if the master shall not truly answer the questions which shall be demanded of him in such examination, he shall forfeit the sum of 100*l.*, 6 G. 4. c. 114. s. 50.

119. All vessels, boats, and carriages, and all cattle made use of in the removal of any goods liable to forfeiture under this act, shall be forfeited, and every person who shall assist or be otherwise concerned in the unshipping, landing or removal, or in the harbouring of such goods, or into whose hands or possession the same shall knowingly come, shall forfeit the treble value thereof, or the penalty of 100*l.*, at the election of the officers of the customs; and the averment in any information or libel to be exhibited for the recovery of such penalty, that the officer proceeding has elected to sue for the sum mentioned in the information, shall be deemed sufficient proof of such election, without any other or further evidence of such fact, 6 G. 4. c. 114. s. 51.

120. All goods, and all ships, vessels and boats, and all carriages, and all cattle liable to forfeiture under this act, shall and may be seized and secured by any officer of the customs or navy, or by any person employed for that purpose, by or with the concurrence of the commissioners of H. M.'s customs; and every person who shall in any way hinder, oppose, molest, or obstruct any officer of the customs or navy, or any person so employed as aforesaid, in the exercise of his office, or any person acting in his aid or assistance, shall for every such offence forfeit the sum of 200*l.*, 6 G. 4. c. 114. s. 52.

121. Under authority of a writ of assistance granted by the superior or supreme court of justice, or court of vice-admiralty having jurisdiction in the place (who are hereby authorized and required to grant such writ of assistance, upon application made to them for that purpose by the principal officers of H. M.'s customs), it shall be lawful for any officer of the customs, taking with him a peace-officer, to enter any building or other place in the day time, and to search for and seize and secure any goods liable to forfeiture under this act; and in case of necessity, to break open any doors and any chests or other packages for that purpose; and such writ of assistance, when issued, shall be deemed to be in force during the whole of the reign in which the same shall have been granted, and for 12 months from the conclusion of such reign, 6 G. 4. c. 114. s. 53.

122. If any person shall by force or violence assault, resist, oppose, molest, hinder, or obstruct any officer of the customs or navy, or other person employed as aforesaid, in the exercise of his office, or any person acting in his aid or assistance, such person, being thereof convicted, shall be adjudged a felon, and shall be proceeded against as such, and punished at the discretion of the court before whom such person shall be tried, 6 G. 4. c. 114. s. 54.

123. All things which shall be seized as being liable to forfeiture under this act, shall be taken forthwith and delivered into the custody of the collector and controller of the customs at the custom-house next to the place where the same were seized, who shall secure the same by such means and in such manner as shall be provided and directed by the commissioners of H. M.'s customs, 6 G. 4. c. 114. s. 55.

124. All things which shall have been condemned as forfeited under this act shall, under the direction of the collector and controller or other principal officer of the customs at the port where such seizures shall have been secured, be sold by public auction to the best bidder: provided, that it shall be lawful for the commissioners of the customs to direct in what manner the produce of such sale shall be applied, or in lieu of such sale, to direct that any of such things shall be destroyed or shall be reserved for the public service, 6 G. 4. c. 114. s. 56.

125. All penalties and forfeitures which may have been heretofore or may be hereafter incurred, shall and may be prosecuted, sued for, and recovered in any court of record or of vice-admiralty, having jurisdiction in the colony or plantation where the cause of prosecution arises, and in cases where there shall happen to be no such courts, then in any court of record or of vice-admiralty having jurisdiction in some British colony or plantation near to that where the cause of prosecution arises; provided, that in cases where a seizure is made in any other colony than that where the forfeiture accrues, such seizure may be prosecuted in any court of record or of vice-admiralty having jurisdiction either in the colony or plantation where the forfeiture accrues, or in the colony or plantation where the seizure is made, at the election of the seisor or prosecutor; and in cases where there shall happen to be no such courts in either of the last-mentioned colonies or plantations, then in the court of record or of vice-admiralty having jurisdiction in some British colony or plantation near to that where the forfeiture accrues, or to that where the seizure is made, at the election of the seisor or prosecutor, 6 G. 4. c. 114. s. 57.

126. If any goods or any ship or vessel shall be seized as forfeited under this act, or any act hereafter to be made, and detained in any of the British possessions in America, it shall be lawful for the judge or judges of any court having jurisdiction to try and determine such seizures, with the consent of the collector and controller of the customs, to order the delivery thereof on security by bond, with two sufficient sureties, to be first approved by such collector and controller, to answer double the value of the same in case of condemnation; and such bond shall be taken to the use of H. M. in the name of the collector of the customs in whose custody the goods or the ship or vessel may be lodged, and such bond shall be delivered and kept in the joint custody of such collector and his controller, and in case the goods or the ship or vessel shall be condemned, the value thereof shall be paid into the hands of such collector, who shall thereupon, with the consent or privity of his controller, cancel such bond, 6 G. 4. c. 114. s. 58.

127. No suit shall be commenced for the recovery of any penalty or forfeiture under this act, except in the name of some superior officer of the customs or navy, or other person employed as herein-before mentioned, or of H. M.'s advocate or attorney-general for the place where such suit shall be commenced: and if a question shall arise whether any person is an officer of the customs or navy, or such other person as aforesaid, viva voce evidence may be given of such fact, and shall be deemed legal and sufficient evidence, 6 G. 4. c. 114. s. 59.

128. If any goods shall be seized for non-payment of duties or any other cause of forfeiture, and any dispute shall arise whether the duties have been paid for the same, or the same have been lawfully imported, or lawfully laden or exported, the proof thereof shall lie on the owner or claimer of such goods, and not on the officer who shall seize and stop the same, 6 G. 4. c. 114. s. 60.

129. No claim to any thing seized under this act, and returned into any of H. M.'s courts for adjudication, shall be admitted, unless such claim be entered in the name of the owner, with his residence and occupation, nor unless oath to the property in such thing be made by the owner, or by his attorney or agent by whom such claim shall be entered, to the best of his knowledge and belief; and every person making a false oath thereto shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and shall be liable to the pains and penalties to which persons are liable for a misdemeanor, 6 G. 4. c. 114. s. 61.

130. No person shall be admitted to enter a claim to any thing seized in pursuance of this act, and prosecuted in any of the British possessions in America, until sufficient security shall have been given, in the court where such seizure is prosecuted, in a penalty not exceeding 60*l.*, to answer and pay the costs occasioned by such claim; and in default of giving such security, such things shall be adjudged to be forfeited, and shall be condemned, 6 G. 4. c. 114. s. 62.

131. No writ shall be sued out against, nor a copy of any process served upon any officer of the customs or navy, or other person as aforesaid, for any thing done in the exercise of his office, until one calendar month after notice in writing shall have been delivered to him, or left at his usual place of abode, by the attorney or agent to the party who intends to sue out such writ or process; in which notice shall be clearly and explicitly contained the cause of the action, the name and place of abode of the person who is to bring such action, and the name and place of abode of the attorney or agent; and no evidence of the cause of such action shall be produced, except of such as shall be contained in such notice, and no verdict shall be given for the plaintiff, unless he shall prove on the trial that such notice was given; and in default of such proof, the defendant shall receive in such action a verdict and costs, 6 G. 4. c. 114. s. 63.

132. Every such action shall be brought within three calendar months after the cause thereof, and shall be laid and tried in the place or district where the facts were committed, and the defendant may plead the general issue, and give the special matter in evidence; and if the plaintiff shall become nonsuited, or shall discontinue the action, or if upon a verdict or demurrer, judgment shall be given against the plaintiff, the defendant shall receive treble costs, and have such remedy for the same as any defendant can have in other cases where costs are given by law, 6 G. 4. c. 114. s. 64.

133. In case any information or suit shall be brought to trial on account of any seizure made under this act, and a verdict shall be found for the claimant thereof, and the judge or court before whom the cause shall have been tried, shall certify on the record that there was probable cause of seizure, the claimant shall not be entitled to any costs of suit, nor shall the person who made such seizure be liable to any action, indictment, or other suit or prosecution, on account of such seizure; and if any action, indictment, or other suit or prosecution shall be brought to trial against any person on account of such seizure, wherein a verdict shall be given against the defendant, the plaintiff, besides the thing seized, or the value thereof, shall not be entitled to more than 2*d.* damages, nor to any costs of suit, nor shall the defendant in such prosecution be fined more than 1*s.*, 6 G. 4. c. 114. s. 65.

134. It shall be lawful for such officer, within one calendar month after such notice, to tender amends to the party complaining or his agent, and to plead such tender in bar to any action, together with other pleas; and if the jury shall find the amends sufficient, they shall give a verdict for the defendant; and in such case, or in case the plaintiff shall become nonsuited, or shall discontinue his action, or judgment shall be given for the defendant upon demurrer, then such defendant shall be entitled to the like costs as he would have been entitled to in case he had pleaded the general issue only: provided, that it shall be lawful for such defendant, by leave of the court where such action shall be brought, at any time before issue joined, to pay money into court as in other actions, 6 G. 4. c. 114. s. 66.

135. In any such action, if the judge, or court before whom such action shall be tried, shall certify upon the record that the defendant in such action acted upon probable cause, then the plaintiff in such action shall not be entitled to more than 2*d.* damages, nor to any costs of suit, 6 G. 4. c. 114. s. 67.

136. All penalties and forfeitures recovered in any of the British possessions in America under this act, shall be divided, paid, and applied as follows; (that is to say), after deducting the charges of prosecution from the produce thereof, one-third part of the net produce shall be paid into the hands of the collector of H. M.'s customs at the port or place where such penalties or forfeitures shall be recovered for the use of H. M.; one-third part to the governor or commander-in-chief of the said colony or plantation, and the other third part to the person who shall seize, inform, and sue for the same; excepting such seizures as shall be made at sea by the commanders or officers of H. M.'s ships of war, duly authorized to make seizures, one moiety of which seizures and of the penalties and forfeitures recovered thereon, first deducting the charges of prosecution from the gross produce thereof, shall be paid as aforesaid to the collector of H. M.'s customs, to and for the use of H. M.; and the other moiety to him or them who shall seize, inform, and sue for the same, any law, custom or usage to the contrary notwithstanding; subject nevertheless to such distribution of the produce of the seizures so made at sea, as well with regard to the moiety herein-before granted to H. M. as with regard to the other moiety given to the seizer or prosecutor, as H. M. shall think fit to order and direct by any order or orders of council, or by any proclamation or proclamations to be made for that purpose, 6 G. 4. c. 114. s. 68.

137. All actions or suits for the recovery of any of the penalties or forfeitures imposed by this act may be commenced or prosecuted at any time within three years after the offence committed, by reason whereof such penalty or forfeiture shall be incurred; any law, usage or custom to the contrary notwithstanding, 6 G. 4. c. 114. s. 69.

138. No appeal shall be prosecuted from any decree or sentence of any of H. M.'s courts in America, touching any penalty or forfeiture imposed by this act, unless the inhibition shall be applied for and decreed within 12 months from the time when such decree or sentence was pronounced, 6 G. 4. c. 114. s. 70.

139. All persons authorized to make seizures under 5 G. 4. c. 113. [post, tit. SLAVE TRADE], intituled, An Act to amend and consolidate the laws relating to the abolition of the slave trade, shall, in making and prosecuting any such seizures, have the benefit of all the provisions granted to persons authorized to make seizures under this act, 6 G. 4. c. 114. s. 71.

140. All penalties and forfeitures created by the 5 G. 4. c. 113., whether pecuniary or specific, shall (except in cases specially provided for by the said act), go and belong to such persons as are authorized by that act to make seizures, in such shares, and shall and may be sued for and prosecuted, tried, recovered, distributed, and applied in such and the like manner, and by the same ways and means, and subject to the same rules and directions, as any penalties and forfeitures incurred in G. B. and in the British possessions in America respectively now go and belong to, and may be sued, prosecuted, tried, recovered, and distributed respectively in G. B., or in the said possessions, under and by virtue of this act, 6 G. 4. c. 114. s. 72.

141. It shall be lawful for H. M., by and with the advice of his privy council, by any order or orders in council to be issued from time to time, to give such directions and make such regulations touching the trade and commerce to and from any British possessions on or near the continent of Europe, or within the Mediterranean sea, or in Africa, or within the limits of the E. I. C.'s charter (excepting the possessions of the said Co.), as to H. M. in council shall appear most expedient and salutary; and if any goods shall be imported or exported in any manner contrary to any such order of H. M. in council, the same shall be forfeited, together with the ship importing or exporting the same, 6 G. 4. c. 114. s. 73.

142. It shall be lawful for the E. I. C. to trade in and export from any place within the limits of their charter, any goods for the purpose of being carried to some of H. M.'s possessions in America, and so to carry and to import the same into any of such possessions; and also to carry return cargoes from such possessions to any place within the limits of their charter, or to the U. K.; and that it shall be lawful for any of H. M.'s subjects, with the licence in writing granted by or under the authority of the said company, to lade in and export from any of the dominions of the emperor of China any goods, and to lade in and export from any place within the limits of the said Co.'s charter any tea, for the purpose of being carried to some of H. M.'s possessions in America, and also so to carry and to import the same into any of such possessions, 6 G. 4. c. 114. s. 74.

143. It shall be lawful for any person, being the shipper of any sugar, the produce of some British possessions within the limits of the E. I. C.'s charter, to be exported from any place in such possession, to go before the collector or controller, or other chief officer of the customs at such place, or if there be no such officer of the customs, to go before the principal officer of such place, or the judge or commercial resident of the district, and make and sign an affidavit before him, that such sugar was really and bonâ fide the produce of such British possession, to the best of his knowledge and belief; and such officer, judge, or resident, is hereby authorized and required to administer such affidavit, and to grant a certificate thereof, setting forth in such certificate the name of the ship in which the sugar is to be exported, and the destination of the same, 6 G. 4. c. 114. s. 75.

144. Nothing in this act, or in any other act passed in this present session of parliament, shall extend to repeal, or in any way alter or affect 37 G. 3. c. 117. intituled, An Act for regulating the trade to be carried on with the British possessions in India by the ships of nations in amity with H. M.; nor to revoke, alter, or affect any regulations formed under the authority of that act, and which were in force at the time of the commencement of this act, 6 G. 4. c. 114. s. 76.

145. All ships built at any place within the limits of the E. I. C.'s charter, prior to the 1st Jan. 1816, and which then were and have continued ever since to be solely the property of H. M.'s subjects, shall be deemed to be British ships for all the purposes of trade within the said limits, including the Cape of Good Hope; any thing in this act, or in any other act or acts passed in this present session of parliament to the contrary notwithstanding, 6 G. 4. c. 114. s. 77.

146. It shall be lawful for the shipper of any wine, the produce of the Cape of Good Hope, or of its dependencies, which is to be exported from thence, to go before the chief officer of the customs, and make and sign an affidavit before him, that such wine was really and bonâ fide the produce of the Cape of Good Hope, or of its dependencies; and such officer is hereby authorized and required to administer such affidavit, and to grant a certificate thereof, setting forth in such certificate the name of the ship in which the wine is to be exported, and the destination of the same, 6 G. 4. c. 114. s. 78.

147. It shall be lawful for any person who is about to export from any of the islands of Guernsey, Jersey, Alderney, or Sark, to the U. K., or to any of the British possessions in America, any goods of the growth or produce of any of those islands, or any goods manufactured from materials which were the growth or produce thereof, or of the U. K., to go before any magistrate of the island from which the goods are to be exported, and make and sign before him an affidavit that such goods, describing the same, are of such growth or produce, or of such manufacture, and such magistrate shall administer and sign such affidavit; and thereupon the governor, lieutenant-governor, or commander-in-chief of the island from which the goods are to be exported, shall, upon the delivery to him of such affidavit, grant a certificate under his hand of the proof contained in such affidavit, stating the ship in which and the port to which, in the U. K. or in any such possession, the goods are to be exported; and such certificate shall be the proper document to be produced at such ports respectively, in proof that the goods mentioned therein are of the growth, produce, or manufacture of such islands respectively, 6 G. 4. c. 114. s. 79.

148. It shall not be lawful to import into any of the islands of Guernsey, Jersey, Alderney, or Sark, any tea, nor any tobacco, except from the U. K.; and if any tea or any tobacco shall be brought into any of the said islands, from any other place than from the U. K., or not having been duly entered and cleared in the U. K., to be exported to such island, the same shall be forfeited, 6 G. 4. c. 114. s. 80.

149. No brandy, Geneva, or other spirits, except rum of the British plantations, shall be imported into or exported from the islands of Jersey, Guernsey, Alderney, or Sark, or either of them, or removed from any one to any other of the said islands, or coastwise from any one part to any other part of either of the said islands, or shall be shipped, in order to be so removed or carried, or shall be water-borne, for the purpose of being so shipped in any ship, vessel, or boat of less burthen than 100 tons, nor in any cask or package of less size or content than 40 gallons; nor any tobacco or snuff, in any ship, vessel, or boat of less burthen than 100 tons, nor in any cask or package containing less than 450 lbs. weight (save and except any such spirits or loose tobacco as shall be for the use of the seamen belonging to and on board any such ship, vessel, or boat, not exceeding two gallons of the former, and five lbs. weight of the latter for each seaman; and also except such manufactured tobacco or snuff as shall have been duly exported as merchandize from G. B. or Ire.), nor shall any wine be imported into or exported from the said islands of Guernsey, Jersey, Alderney, or Sark, or either of them, or carried from any one of the said islands to any other thereof, or coastwise, from any one part to any other part of the said islands, or be shipped, or water-borne for the purpose of being shipped in any ship, vessel, or boat of less burthen than 60 tons, or in any cask containing less than 20 gallons, or any package containing less than three dozen reputed quart bottles, or six dozen reputed pint bottles, on pain of forfeiture of all such foreign brandy, Geneva, or other spirits, tobacco, snuff, or wine respectively, together with the casks or packages containing the same; and also every such ship, vessel, or boat, together with all the guns, furniture, and ammunition, tackle and apparel thereof, 6 G. 4. c. 114. s. 81.

150. Provided, that nothing herein contained shall extend or be construed to extend to subject to forfeiture or seizure, under any of the provisions of this act, any boat not exceeding the burthen of 10 tons, for having on board at any one time any foreign spirits of the quantity of 10 gallons or under, in casks or packages of less size or content than 40 gallons; or any tobacco, snuff, or tea, not exceeding 50 lbs. weight of each, for the supply of the said island of Sark, such boat having a licence from the proper officer of customs at either of the islands of Guernsey or Jersey, and for the purpose of being employed in carrying commodities for the supply of the said island of Sark, which licence such officer of customs is hereby required to grant, without taking any fee or reward for the same: provided, that every such boat having on board at any one time any greater quantity of spirits than 10 gallons, or any greater quantity of tobacco or snuff than 50 lbs. weight of each of the said articles, unless such greater quantity of spirits, tobacco, or snuff, shall be in casks or packages of the size, content, or weight hereinbefore required, or having on board at any one time any greater quantity of tea than 50 lbs. weight, shall be forfeited, 6 G. 4. c. 114. s. 82.

151. Provided, that nothing herein contained shall extend or be construed to extend to prevent the importation into, or exportation from the said islands of Guernsey, Jersey, Alderney, or Sark, or either of them, of any wine in bottles shipped in cases or casks only, each containing at least three dozen reputed quart bottles, or six dozen reputed pint bottles: provided, that before any such wine in bottle shall be shipped for exportation to or for G. B. or Ire., the master or other person having the charge or command of the ship, vessel, or boat, in or on board of which such wine shall be so intended to be exported, together with one other sufficient surety, shall give bond in the penalty of 40s. per gallon, that the wine so shipped shall (the danger of the seas and enemies excepted) be duly entered and landed at the port or place in G. B. or Ire. to or for which the same shall be declared at the time of giving such bond, (which bond and declaration the proper officer of customs is hereby authorized and empowered to take); and such officer is required so furnish the master, or other person having the charge or command of the ship, vessel, or boat in which any such wine may be, with a certificate specifying the number of such packages as aforesaid, and the quantity of wine contained in each, the date of the bond, and the name of the port or place to or for which the same shall be so declared; and such bond so given as aforesaid shall not be delivered up or cancelled until a certificate under the hand of the proper officer of the customs in G. B. or Ire., of the due landing of the wine mentioned therein, shall be produced to and left with the officer taking the said bond within three months after the date of such bond, 6 G. 4. c. 114. s. 83.

152. Every person who shall be found or discovered to have been on board any vessel or boat liable to forfeiture under any act relating to the revenue of customs, for being found within one league of the islands of Guernsey, Jersey, Alderney, or Sark, having on board or in any manner attached or affixed thereto, or having had on board, or in any manner attached or affixed thereto, or conveying, or having conveyed, in any manner, such goods or other things as subject such vessel or boat to forfeiture, or who shall be found or discovered to have been on board any vessel or boat from which any part of the cargo shall have been thrown overboard during chase, or staved or destroyed, shall forfeit the sum of 100l., 6 G. 4. c. 114. s. 84.

153. It shall not be lawful for any person to re-export, from any of H. M.'s possessions abroad to any foreign place, any coals the produce of the U. K.; and that no such coals shall be shipped at any of such possessions, to be exported to any British place, until the exporter or the master of the exporting vessel shall have given bond, with one sufficient surety in double the value of the coals, that such coals shall not be landed at any foreign place, 6 G. 4. c. 114. s. 85.

NEWFOUNDLAND. (See FISHERY, NEW- FOUNDLAND.)

1. For the better administration of justice in Newfoundland, and for other purposes, 5 G. 4. c. 67. [To be in force for five years from the passing thereof, viz. 17th June 1824. s. 36.]

2. Whereas it is expedient to make further provision for the administration of justice in the colony of Newfoundland; be it therefore enacted, That it shall and may be lawful for H. M., by his charter or letters patent under the great seal, to institute a superior court of judicature in Newfoundland, which shall be called "The Supreme Court of Newfoundland;" and the said court shall be a court of record, and shall have all civil and criminal jurisdiction whatever in Newfoundland, and in all lands, islands, and territories dependant upon the government thereof, as fully and amply, to all intents and purposes, as H. M.'s courts of K. B., C. P., exchequer, and high court of chancery, in that part of G. B. called Eng., have, or any of them hath; and the said supreme court shall also be a court of oyer and terminer and general gaol delivery in and for Newfoundland, and all places within the government thereof; and shall also have jurisdiction in all cases of crimes and misdemeanors committed on the banks of Newfoundland, or any of the seas or islands to which ships or vessels repair from Newfoundland for carrying on the fishery, 5 G. 4. c. 67. s. 1.

3. The said supreme court shall be holden by a chief judge and two assistant judges, being respectively barristers in Eng. or Ire. of at least three years standing, or in some of H. M.'s colonies or plantations, who shall be appointed to such their offices by H. M., his heirs and successors: provided, that it shall be lawful for H. M., his heirs and successors, from time to time as occasion may require, to remove and displace any such chief judge or assistant judge as aforesaid, and in his stead to appoint any other fit and proper person, being a barrister as aforesaid, to be the chief judge or assistant judge of the said court, as the case may be: and provided also, that in case any such chief judge or assistant judge shall be absent from Newfoundland, or die, or resign such his office, or by reason of sickness or otherwise shall become incapable of performing the duties thereof, then and in every such case it shall be lawful for the governor or acting governor of Newfoundland, for the time being, to nominate and appoint some fit and proper person to act as chief judge or assistant judge, as the case may be, in the place or stead of the judge so being absent, dying, resigning his office, or becoming incapable of performing the duties thereof until such judge shall resume the duties of his office, or until a successor shall be appointed by H. M. his heirs and successors; and the said chief judge and assistant judges shall respectively have and exercise such and the like powers and authorities in Newfoundland, and in all places dependant upon the government thereof, as any judge of any of H. M.'s said courts of K. B., C. P., and exchequer, or as the lord high chancellor of G. B., hath or exercises in Eng., 5 G. 4. c. 67. s. 2.

4. All issues of fact which may be joined between the parties in any action at law originally brought before the said supreme court of record, or which may be joined upon any criminal information or prosecution depending in that court, shall be tried at the town of Saint John's in the island of Newfoundland, by a jury of 12 men; and for the purpose of hearing and trying all suits, actions, and all informations, prosecutions, and other proceedings, of what nature or kind soever, which may be brought or commenced in the said supreme court, one or more term or terms, or session or sessions of the said court, shall be held at the town of Saint John's aforesaid, in each year, by the said chief judge and assistant judges, at such times as the governor or acting governor of the said colony shall from time to time, by any proclamation to be by him for that purpose issued, direct and appoint, 5 G. 4. c. 67. s. 3.

5. As often as any information, action, or suit shall be brought or prosecuted before the said supreme court, for the breach or violation of any law relating to the trade or revenue of the British colonies or plantations in America, such information, action, or suit shall be heard and determined by the said court, according to the course of proceeding in similar cases in the courts of vice-admiralty in the said colonies or plantations; and that it shall be lawful for the party or parties feeling aggrieved by the judgment or decree of the said supreme court, in any such case to appeal from such judgment or decree to the high court of admiralty, or to H. M. in council, under such and the like rules and regulations as are observed in appeals from the said courts of vice-admiralty, 5 G. 4. c. 67. s. 4.

6. The said supreme court shall have power to grant administration of the effects of intestates, and the probate of wills; and the effects of deceased persons shall not be administered within the island of Newfoundland, or any island, place, or territory dependant upon the government thereof, unless administration or probate shall have been duly granted by the said supreme court; and in all cases where the executor or executors of any will in Newfoundland, or the dependencies thereof, upon being duly cited, shall refuse or neglect to take out probate as aforesaid; or where the next of kin shall be absent from Newfoundland, and the effects of the deceased shall appear to the said supreme court to be exposed and liable to waste, it shall be lawful for the said supreme court to authorize and empower the registrar or clerk of the said court, or some other fit and proper person, to collect the said effects, and hold, or deposit, or invest the same in such manner and place, or upon such security, and subject to such orders and directions as shall be made by the said supreme court in respect of the custody, control, or disposal of such effects, 5 G. 4. c. 67. s. 5.

7. The said supreme court shall have power and authority to appoint guardians and keepers for infants and their estates, according to the order and course observed in such cases in Eng.; and also to appoint guardians and keepers of the persons and estates of natural fools, and of such as are or shall be deprived of their reason or understanding, so as to be unable to govern themselves and their affairs, which the said supreme court shall have power and authority to enquire of and determine, by inspection of the person, or by such other ways and means as to such supreme court shall seem best for ascertaining the truth, 5 G. 4. c. 67. s. 6.

8. It shall be lawful for the governor or acting governor for the time being of Newfoundland, by any proclamation or proclamations to be by him for that purpose issued, to apportion and divide the said colony into three several districts, and to fix and ascertain the boundaries and limits of every such district, and such boundaries or limits from time to time to alter as occasion may require: provided, that such apportionment of the said colony into such districts as aforesaid, be made in such manner as to such governor or acting governor may appear to be best adapted for enabling the inhabitants of the said colony to resort with ease and convenience to the circuit courts to be therein established as after mentioned, 5 G. 4. c. 67. s. 7.

9. It shall be lawful for H. M., by any such charter or letters patent as aforesaid, to institute circuit courts in each of the three districts in which the said colony may be so divided as aforesaid; and each of the said circuit courts shall be holden once at least in each year by the said chief judge, or by one of the said assistant judges of the said supreme court of Newfoundland, at such times, and at such one or more place or places within each of the said districts, as the governor or acting governor for the time being of Newfoundland shall from time to time direct and appoint, 5 G. 4. c. 67. s. 8.

10. The said circuit courts shall be respectively courts of record, and shall, within the district in which it may be holden, have and exercise all such and the same jurisdiction, powers, and authority, as is hereby vested in the said supreme court of Newfoundland throughout the whole of the said colony; saving and excepting the trying and determining of treasons, or misprisions of treason, and felonies not within the benefit of clergy, and the hearing or determining of any information, suit, or action, for the breach or violation of any act of parliament relating to the trade and revenue of the British colonies in America; all which said crimes and offences, informations, suits, and actions, shall be tried, enquired of, heard, and determined in the said supreme court of Newfoundland, and not elsewhere within the said colony, 5 G. 4. c. 67. s. 9.

11. All crimes and misdemeanors, cognizable in the said circuit courts, and all issues of fact which may be joined between the parties in any civil action, depending in the said circuit courts, shall be enquired of, heard, and determined by the said circuit judge, and a jury of 12 men, according to the rules and course of the law of Eng., as far as the situation and circumstances of the said colony will permit, 5 G. 4. c. 67. s. 10.

12. Provided, that if upon the trial of any crimes or misdemeanors before any of the said circuit courts, 12 good and lawful men shall not appear to form a jury, then and in all such cases such trial shall be had by the circuit judge and three assessors, being justices of the peace in and for the said colony, or for some district thereof; and the said justices shall be nominated from time to time to serve as such assessors as aforesaid by the governor or acting governor for the time being of the said colony, and shall severally be liable to be challenged or objected to upon the special ground of direct interest or affection, to be specified in open court at the time of challenge; and in case of such challenge or objection being allowed by the judge of the said circuit court, the justice of the peace so challenged or objected to shall be succeeded by another such justice of the peace, who shall in like manner be nominated by the governor or acting governor for the time being as aforesaid, and be liable in the same manner to challenge or objection, until three such justices of the peace shall appear duly qualified for the trial of any offender in the said circuit courts respectively; and the said justices of the peace shall thereupon severally take and repeat in open court the same oath as is taken by petit jurors impanelled for the trial of any crime or misdemeanor in a court of record in Eng.; and the judges of the said circuit courts respectively shall, together with the said three assessors, give their verdict upon every such trial in open court; but no person shall be found guilty by any such verdict unless the judge of the said court, and two at the least of his said assessors, shall concur in such verdict; and the proceedings in the said circuit courts respectively shall be under the controul and direction of the respective judges thereof, and all matters of law arising in the course of any trial shall be determined by such judges respectively, 5 G. 4. c. 67. s. 11.

13. Provided, that if upon the trial of any issue or issues of fact joined between the parties in any civil suit or action depending in any of the said circuit courts, 12 good and lawful men shall not appear to form a jury, all such issues of fact shall be tried and decided by the judge of such court alone, and without a jury; and that in all cases where the sum or matter at issue in any such suit or action shall exceed or be of the value of more than 50*l.* sterling British money, the judges of the said courts respectively shall cause the evidence on any such hearing or trial as aforesaid to be taken down in writing by the clerk, or other proper officer, in open court, in the presence of the witnesses respectively giving the same, and the evidence so taken shall be entered upon the proceedings of the said courts respectively, and be of record; and in every case in which any appeal shall be made and allowed under the provisions of this act, from any judgment of the said circuit courts, not founded on the verdict of a jury, copies of all documents and papers which shall have been produced and given in evidence, shall be certified by the said clerk, or other proper officer, as authentic; and also copies of any documents and papers which shall have been produced and tendered in evidence and rejected, shall, if required by the party producing the same, be in like manner authenticated, but marked by such officer as aforesaid as rejected, in order that all such copies may be annexed to the record, as part thereof, in case of appeal, 5 G. 4. c. 67. s. 12.

14. It shall be lawful for the judges of the said circuit courts respectively, on the application of either of the parties, plaintiff or defendant, at or before the trial of any issue of fact joined in any civil suit or action commenced in the said circuit courts respectively, in case such issue is not tried by a jury, to permit the evidence on such trial to be recorded and certified as aforesaid, although the sum or matter at issue may be less in value than 50*l.* sterling, provided it shall be made to appear to such judge that the judgment, decree, order, or sentence, which may be given, made, or pronounced in such suit or action, may be of such importance as to render it proper that an appeal should be permitted: and if, after giving or pronouncing such judgment, decree, or order, the said judge shall be of opinion that such judgment, decree or order is of such importance as to make it proper that an appeal should be permitted, it shall be lawful for the said judge to allow either of the said parties, plaintiff or defendant, to appeal to the supreme court, in like manner, and under and subject to the like rules and regulations, as in and by this act directed in other cases of appeal, 5 G. 4. c. 67. s. 13.

15. It shall be lawful for the plaintiff or plaintiffs, defendant or defendants, against whom any judgment, decree, or order of the said circuit courts respectively shall be given, for or in respect of any sum or matter at issue above or exceeding the value of 50*l.* sterling, to appeal therefrom to the said supreme court, and the party or parties appealing from such judgment, decree, or order, shall, within 14 days from the passing thereof, give notice to the adverse party or parties of such appeal, and within 14 days from and after such judgment, decree or order, enter into sufficient security, to be approved by the judges of the said circuit courts respectively, to satisfy or perform the said judgment, decree, or order, in case the same shall be affirmed, or the appeal dismissed, together with such further costs as shall be awarded thereon; and in all cases of appeal, where notice shall be given and security perfected as aforesaid, execution shall be stayed, and not otherwise; and the said supreme court shall and may enquire into, hear, and decide all questions, whether of law or of fact, arising upon any such appeal, but shall not admit or receive any evidence which was not tendered to the circuit court from which such appeal may be brought on the hearing or trial of any such suit or action therein: provided that the said supreme court shall not reverse, alter, or enquire into any judgment of the said circuit courts, founded on the verdict of a jury, except only for error of law apparent upon the record, 5 G. 4. c. 67. s. 14.

16. As often as any action or suit shall be brought in the supreme court, or in either of the said circuit courts respectively, and it shall be made to appear to the court before which such action or suit may be pending, that such action or suit may be more conveniently heard and determined either in the said supreme court or in some other of the said circuit courts, it shall be lawful for such court to permit and allow such action or suit to be removed to such other court, and such allowance shall be certified by the judge, together with the writ or process and proceedings in such action or suit, to the court into which such action or suit shall be intended to be removed; and thereupon it shall be lawful for such last-mentioned court, and such court is hereby required to proceed in such action or suit in like manner as if the same had been originally commenced and prosecuted in such last-mentioned court, 5 G. 4. c. 67. s. 15.

17. In all actions at law or suits in equity, which shall be brought in the said courts respectively, where the debt or sum demanded shall not be sworn to as herein-after mentioned, the defendant or defendants in such action or suit shall be made to appear to such action or suit by summons, to be issued by the chief judge of the said supreme court, or by the judges of the said circuit courts respectively, and served by the proper officer on the said defendant or defendants personally, or left at his, her, or their usual place of abode; and in all cases where such summons shall be disobeyed, or where the debt, damages, or thing demanded shall exceed 10*l.* sterling money, and shall be sworn to in an affidavit made by the plaintiff or plaintiffs, or his, her, or their lawful attorney, then the said defendant or defendants shall be made to appear by attachment of his, her, or their goods, debts, or effects, or by arrest of the person of the said defendant or defendants; and in case of his, her, or their goods, debts or effects being attached as aforesaid, such goods, debts, or effects, or so much thereof as shall be judged by the said court sufficient to satisfy the debt or damages, shall be held as security for such debt or damages, and shall abide the order, judgment, or decree of the court issuing such attachment, unless the defendant or defendants, or some person on his, her, or their behalf, shall appear and give good and sufficient bail, to be approved by such court, to satisfy such judgment, decree, or order; and where the defendant or defendants has or have been arrested, he, she, or they shall not be discharged out of custody until he, she, or they shall in like manner have given good and sufficient bail, to be approved by such court, to satisfy the judgment, decree, or order of the court in the cause in which such arrest was made; and it shall also be lawful for the said courts respectively, when any such action or suit as aforesaid shall be depending therein, to cause to appear from day to day all parties interested therein, and to examine upon oath any of such parties in case such examination shall appear to the said court necessary for the discovery of the truth, but not otherwise; and thereupon, and after due consideration of all circumstances of the case, to make such order, judgment, or decree therein, and award such damages and costs, as shall be just and equitable; and such order, judgment, or decree shall be enforced by attachment and sale of the goods, debts, and effects, or by arrest of the person or persons against whom such order, judgment, or decree shall be made, and imprisonment of such person or persons until such order, judgment, or decree shall be performed and satisfied, 5 G. 4. c. 67. s. 16.

18. It shall be lawful for H. M., his heirs and successors, by such charter or letters patent as aforesaid, or by any order or orders to be hereafter issued by and with the advice of his or their privy council, to make and prescribe, or to authorize and empower the said supreme court of Newfoundland, under such limitations as H. M. shall deem proper, to make and prescribe such rules and orders touching and concerning the forms and manner of proceeding in the said supreme court and circuit courts respectively, and the practice and pleadings upon all indictments, informations, actions, suits, and other matters to be therein brought; or touching or concerning the appointing of commissioners to take bail, and examine witnesses; the taking examinations of witnesses de bene esse, and allowing the same as evidence; the granting of probates of wills and letters of administration; the proceedings of the sheriff and his deputies, and other ministerial officers; the summoning of assessors for the trial of crimes and misdemeanors in the said circuit courts; the process of the said court, and the mode of executing the same; the impanelling of juries; the admission of barristers, attornies, and solicitors; the fees, poundage, or perquisites to be lawfully demanded by any officer, attorney, or solicitor in the said courts respectively; and all other matters and things whatsoever touching the practice of the said courts, as to H. M., his heirs and successors, shall seem meet for the proper conduct of business in the said courts; and such rules and orders from time to time to alter, amend, or revoke, as to H. M., his heirs and successors, shall seem requisite, 5 G. 4. c. 67. s. 17.

19. And whereas it is expedient to make further provision for the administration of justice on the coast of Labrador; be it further enacted, That so much of 51 G. 3. c. 45. s. 2. [Stat. Dig. this tit., pl. 4.], intituled, An Act for taking away the public use of certain ships rooms, in the town of Saint John's in the island of Newfoundland, and for establishing surrogate courts on the coast of Labrador, and in certain islands adjacent thereto, as relates to the institution of surrogate courts, shall be, and the same is hereby repealed; and that it shall be lawful for the governor or acting governor of Newfoundland for the time being, to institute a court of civil jurisdiction at any such parts or places on the coast of Labrador, or the islands adjacent thereto, which, in and by the said act, 51 G. 3. c. 45., are re-annexed to the government of Newfoundland, as occasion shall require; and such court shall be held by one judge, and shall be a court of record, and shall have jurisdiction, power, and authority to hear and determine all suits and complaints of a civil nature arising within any of the said parts and places on the coast of Labrador, or the islands adjacent thereto; and the said court shall be holden by a judge, who shall be appointed from time to time by the governor or acting governor of Newfoundland, and shall have a clerk and such other ministerial officers as the governor or acting governor shall appoint; and the proceedings of the said court shall be summary, and such forms of process, and such rules of practice and proceeding as shall be settled by the chief judge of the said supreme court, shall be followed by the said court, and no other, 5 G. 4. c. 67. s. 18.

20. It shall be lawful for the plaintiff or plaintiffs, defendant or defendants, against whom any judgment, decree, or order of the said court shall be given, for or in respect of any sum or matter at issue above 50*l.* sterling, or where the matter in dispute shall relate to the title to any lands, tenements, right of fishery, annual rent, or other matter, where, in the judgment of the said court, rights in future may be bound, to appeal therefrom to the said supreme court; and the party or parties appealing from such judgment, decree, or order, shall, within seven days from the passing thereof, give notice to the adverse party or parties of such appeal, and within 14 days from and after such judgment, decree, or order, enter into sufficient security, to be approved by the judge of the said court, or some person to be appointed by him for that purpose in his absence, to satisfy or perform the said judgment, decree, or order, in case the same shall be affirmed, or the appeal dismissed, together with such further costs as shall be awarded thereon; and in all cases of appeal, where notice shall be given and security perfected as aforesaid, execution shall be stayed, and not otherwise, 5 G. 4. c. 67. s. 19.

21. It shall be lawful for H. M., by his said charter or letters patent, to allow any person or persons, feeling aggrieved by any judgment, decree, order, or sentence of the said supreme court, to appeal therefrom to H. M. in council, in such manner, within such time, and under and subject to such rules, regulations, and limitations, as H. M., by such charter or letters patent respectively, shall appoint and direct, 5 G. 4. c. 67. s. 20.

22. The governor or acting governor of Newfoundland, upon the arrival in the said colony of H. M.'s charter or letters patent for the establishment of the said courts by virtue of this act, shall by proclamation notify to the inhabitants of the said colony, the time when the said courts respectively shall be intended to be opened; and as soon as the judges of the said supreme court shall have assumed and entered upon the exercise of their jurisdiction therein, then and from thenceforth so much of the 49 G. 3. c. 27. [Stat. Dig. tit. NEWFOUNDLAND, pl. 3, 4. 6—16.], intituled, An Act for establishing of courts of judicature in the island of Newfoundland, and in the island adjacent; and for re-annexing part of the coast of Labrador, and the islands lying on the said coast, to the government of Newfoundland, as relates to the courts thereby instituted, and respectively called the supreme court of judicature of the island of Newfoundland, and surrogate courts, shall cease to be in force and determine; and every suit, action, complaint, matter, or thing, which shall be depending in such last-mentioned courts respectively, shall and may be proceeded upon in the supreme court instituted under and by virtue of this act, or either of the said circuit courts which shall have jurisdiction within the district or place in Newfoundland where such action or suit respectively was depending; and all proceedings which shall thereafter be had in such action or suit respectively, shall be conducted in like manner as if such action or suit had been originally commenced in one or other of the said courts instituted under this act; and all the records, muniments, and proceedings whatsoever, of and belonging to the said courts instituted under the said recited act respectively, shall, from and immediately after the opening of the said courts respectively instituted under this act, be delivered over and deposited for safe custody in such of the said courts respectively instituted under this act as shall be found most convenient, and all parties concerned shall and may have recourse to the said records and proceedings, as to any other records or proceedings of the said courts respectively, 5 G. 4. c. 67. s. 21.

23. Courts of general and quarter sessions shall be holden at Newfoundland and its dependencies at such times and places as the governor or acting governor of Newfoundland shall by his proclamation appoint; and the said courts of sessions respectively shall have power and authority, in a summary way, to take cognizance of all suits for the payment of debts not exceeding 40*s.*, except the matter in dispute shall relate to the title to any lands or tenements, or to the taking or demanding of any fee of office or annual rent, and to award costs therein; and also to hear and determine all disputes, to any amount, which may arise in Newfoundland concerning the wages of seamen, or fishermen, the supply of bait, the hiring of boats for the fishery, and all disputes arising in Newfoundland aforesaid concerning the curing or drying of fish, where the sum or matter in question does not exceed or is not of the value of more than 5*l.* sterling; and the judgment, determination, or award of the said courts of sessions or justices respectively, in all such cases, shall be final, 5 G. 4. c. 67. s. 22.

24. And whereas it is expedient to make provision for declaring insolvencies in Newfoundland; be it further enacted, That as often as any writ of attachment, or other process for the recovery of any debt or sum due, shall be issued by the said supreme or circuit courts respectively, against any person or persons residing or having a house of trade, or carrying on business in Newfoundland, or any place within the government thereof, and it shall be made to appear to the said court out of which such writ or process shall have issued, at the return thereof, that the person or persons against whom such writ or process hath issued is or are unable to pay 20*s.* in the pound to all his, her, or their creditors, it shall be lawful for such court to cause the person or persons against whom such process shall have issued, together with all his, her, or their creditors, to be summoned by public notice to attend the said court on a certain day, and in the meantime, if it shall appear necessary to the said court, to appoint one or more of the said creditors as provisional trustee or trustees, to discover, collect, and receive the estates and effects of such person or persons so appearing to be insolvent, subject to the orders and directions of the said court; and if after due examination of the person or persons against whom process shall have issued as aforesaid, or his, her, or their lawful agent or agents, or if such person or persons shall abscond, or fail to attend the said court pursuant to summons as aforesaid, it shall be made to appear to the satisfaction of the said court, that such person or persons is or are insolvent, it shall be lawful for the said court to declare such person or persons insolvent accordingly, and immediately to take order for discovering, collecting, and selling the estates, debts, and effects of such insolvent, and distributing the produce thereof amongst all his, her, or their creditors, and for that purpose to authorize any two or more creditors of the said insolvent or insolvents, who shall be chosen by the major part in value of such creditors, or their agents duly authorized in such behalf, whose debts amount respectively to the sum of 20*l.* and upwards, to act as trustees of such insolvent estate; and such court shall from time to time make such orders as it shall deem proper, for better discovering, collecting, realizing, and distributing the estates, debts, and effects of the person or persons so declared insolvent, and, as often as occasion shall require, for vesting the same, or any part thereof, in the public funds or securities in Eng., in the name or names of such person or persons as shall for that purpose be appointed by the said court, until distribution can be made, as hereafter mentioned, 5 G. 4. c. 67. s. 23.

25. If such insolvent person or persons shall make a full and true disclosure, discovery, and surrender of all his, her, or their estates, goods, debts, and effects, and shall conform to the orders and directions of the said judges of the said courts respectively, the same shall and may, with the consent in writing under the hands of one half in number and value of the creditors of such insolvent or insolvents, be certified by the respective judges, under the seal of the said courts respectively; and such certificate may be pleaded, and shall be a bar to every suit or action which may at any time thereafter be brought in any court in the said island or colony of Newfoundland or its dependencies, for any debt or contract for payment of money due or entered into by such person or persons prior to the time of his, her, or their being declared insolvent as aforesaid; and if any person or persons so declared insolvent as aforesaid shall fail to make a true disclosure and discovery of all his, her, or their estate or estates, and effects, or shall otherwise refuse to conform to the orders or directions of the said judges respectively, it shall be lawful for the said judges respectively to cause such person or persons to be arrested and imprisoned until he, she, or they shall make such disclosure and discovery, and in all respects conform to the orders of the said judges respectively, 5 G. 4. c. 67. s. 24.

26. In the distribution to be made of the produce of the estates and effects of every person or persons hereafter declared insolvent in Newfoundland or its dependencies as aforesaid, every creditor for supplies necessary, and furnished bonâ fide for the fishery, during the current season, (that is to say,) at any time after the close of the last preceding season of the fishery, shall be considered as a privileged creditor, and shall first be paid 20*s.* in the pound, so far as the estates and effects of such insolvent person or persons, which may be realized in Newfoundland or its dependencies, will go, and that all other creditors shall be paid equally and rateably: provided that nothing in this act contained shall affect the prior claims of seamen and other servants, actually employed in the catching and taking of fish and oil, upon all fish and oil caught by the hirers or employers of such seamen, fishermen, or servants, or the produce or value thereof; and also provided that menial or domestic servants shall in all cases be paid the balance of their last preceding year's wages, out of the household furniture, goods, and effects of every person so declared insolvent, 5 G. 4. c. 67. s. 25.

27. And whereas it is expedient that the estates and effects of deceased persons which may not be sufficient to pay all their just debts should be distributed according to the manner herein directed concerning the estates and effects of persons declared insolvent; be it further enacted, that as often as any person shall die in Newfoundland, or in any place, or seas, or territory within the government thereof, and the estates and effects of such person shall not be sufficient to pay and satisfy all his or her just debts, it shall be lawful for the said courts respectively, at the petition of the executor or executors, administrator or administrators of such deceased person, or any one or more of his or her creditors, to cause a true statement of the effects and debts of such deceased person to be made in writing by and upon the oath of the said executor or executors, administrator or administrators, and laid before the said courts respectively; and if it shall appear to the court before which such statement shall be laid, that the estate and effects of such deceased person are not sufficient to pay all his or her just debts, it shall be lawful for such court to authorize and empower the executor or executors, administrator or administrators of such deceased persons to collect, sell, and dispose of all the estates and effects of such deceased person, and to distribute the produce thereof amongst his or her creditors, according to the manner of distribution by this act directed in respect of the estates of persons declared insolvent, and always subject to the orders and directions of such court: provided that nothing herein contained shall be construed to affect the right of any creditor having a judgment or special security for his or her debts, 5 G. 4. c. 67. s. 26.

28. And whereas it is expedient that provisions should be made for the registration, within the said colony of Newfoundland, of all deeds, wills, and other assurances, whereby any lands or tenements therein situate may be granted, conveyed, devised, mortgaged, charged, or otherwise affected; be it further enacted, that the chief clerk of the supreme court of Newfoundland shall be also the registrar of deeds within the district or circuit in which the town of St. John's may be situate, and that the chief clerks of each of the circuit courts to be holden in and for the two other districts of the said colony, shall respectively be the registrars of deeds within such other districts or circuits; and in each of the said three districts an office shall be kept by such chief clerk respectively, for the due registration of all such deeds, wills, and other instruments as aforesaid, 5 G. 4. c. 67. s. 27.

29. All deeds, wills, conveyances, and other assurances in writing, of what nature or kind soever, whereby any lands or tenements situate in the said colony, or the dependencies thereof, may be hereafter granted, conveyed, devised, mortgaged, charged, or otherwise affected or intended so to be, shall be registered at the office of registration within the district or circuit in which such lands may be situate; and that all such deeds, conveyances, and other assurances as aforesaid, shall be left for registration at such office within six months next after the execution thereof, by the party or parties from whom any interest may pass, in case such party or parties may, at the time of such execution thereof by him, her, or them, be resident within the said colony or its dependencies, or within 12 months in case such party or parties may at that time be resident elsewhere; and all such wills as aforesaid shall be left for registration at such office 12 months next after the death of the testator or testatrix, 5 G. 4. c. 67. s. 28.

30. Some or one of the parties executing any such deed, conveyance, or other assurance as aforesaid, shall appear before the registrar of deeds, and acknowledge the execution thereof by them, him, or her, or in case none of the parties to any such deed, conveyance, or assurance shall be resident in the said colony, then the same shall be acknowledged before the said registrar of deeds, by some person duly appointed for that purpose as the attorney of such parties; and in that case the execution of every such deed, conveyance, or other assurance, shall be further verified by an affidavit to be sworn before the mayor or other principal magistrate of any city, town, or place in or near to which such parties respectively may be resident; and such affidavit shall also be preserved and registered at the office of the said registrar of deeds, 5 G. 4. c. 67. s. 29.

31. The registrar of deeds shall and he is hereby required to indorse and subscribe, on every such deed, conveyance, or other assurance, a certificate, in which shall be expressed the day or time when the same was so acknowledged before him, and the names of the person or persons by whom such acknowledgment was made, and the time when the same was actually registered, and the volume and page in which the registry thereof is entered; and every such certificate so indorsed or subscribed shall be taken and allowed as evidence of the due registration of any such deed, conveyance, or assurance, 5 G. 4. c. 67. s. 30.

32. The registrar of deeds shall and he is hereby required to enter in a book of registry, to be by him regularly kept for that purpose, a memorial of every deed, conveyance, or assurance which shall be so acknowledged before him; and every such memorial shall contain a statement of the year and day of the month on which such deed, conveyance, or assurance shall bear date, the names and additions of all and every the parties, as well as the names and additions, if any, of the several subscribing witnesses thereto, the descriptions at length of the lands or tenements conveyed or intended to be conveyed, charged, or affected by such deed, conveyance, or assurance, as the same are therein described, and the consideration of every such deed, conveyance, or assurance, as the same may be therein stated; all which memorials shall be entered and recorded in the said book of registry with all convenient dispatch, in the order of time in which the same may have been acknowledged before the said registrar, 5 G. 4. c. 67. s. 31.

33. Every deed, conveyance, or assurance hereafter to be made, whereby any lands or tenements situate in Newfoundland, or the dependencies thereof, shall be granted, conveyed, released, charged, or incumbered, or intended so to be, which shall not be registered within the time and in the manner herein-before mentioned, shall be absolutely null and void to all intents and purposes: provided, that every such deed, conveyance, or assurance shall be deemed and taken to be a registered deed, conveyance, or assurance within the meaning of this act, from the time when the execution thereof shall be acknowledged in manner aforesaid, before such registrar of deeds as aforesaid, 5 G. 4. c. 67. s. 32.

34. The judges of the supreme court of Newfoundland shall be and they are hereby authorized to make any general rules and orders of court for maintaining order and regularity in the mode of taking such acknowledgments, and registering such deeds, wills, conveyances, and other assurances as aforesaid, and for executing the duties of said office of registrar of deeds; provided that such rules and orders be not in anywise repugnant to the provisions of this present act in that behalf, 5 G. 4. c. 67. s. 33.

35. And whereas the justices of the peace in Newfoundland have been used to grant licences for the retail of ale and spirituous liquors, and it is proper to regulate the sums to be demanded upon such licences, and to make provision for the appropriation thereof, and for preventing abuses in the granting of such licences, and in the sale of spirits by unlicensed persons in the said colony; be it therefore enacted, That it shall be lawful for the governor or acting governor of Newfoundland to make, establish, and ordain such rules and ordinances as to him may seem meet, respecting the granting of such licences, and the recalling the same, and the amount of the sums to be demanded and taken for every such licence, and the appropriation of such sums to H. M.'s service in the said colony, and for preventing the retail of ale and spirituous liquors by persons not duly licensed, and to impose such pecuniary fines or other penalties as may be necessary for enforcing obedience to any such rules or ordinances as aforesaid, 5 G. 4. c. 67. s. 34.

36. It shall be lawful for H. M., by charter or letters patent under the great seal, to constitute and erect such persons as to H. M. shall seem meet a body or bodies corporate and politic, for the government of any town or towns situate within the said colony of Newfoundland or its dependencies, and to grant to such body or bodies politic and corporate, power to make bye-laws for regulating the police of any such town or towns, and for the prevention or abatement of nuisances therein, and for the prevention of accidents by fire; and also to grant to any such body or bodies politic and corporate as aforesaid, the power to impose and levy such reasonable and moderate rates and assessments upon the inhabitants and householders in such town or towns, as may be necessary for carrying into effect the several purposes aforesaid, or any of them; and it shall also be lawful for H. M., his heirs and successors, by any order or orders to be made by or with the advice of his or their privy council, to dissolve any such corporation or corporations as aforesaid, upon and subject to such conditions and regulations as may be made in and by any such order or orders in that behalf, 5 G. 4. c. 67. s. 35.

37. To repeal an act passed in the 57th year of the reign of his late Majesty King George the Third, intituled, An Act to regulate the celebration of marriages in Newfoundland; and to make further provisions for the celebration of marriages in the said colony and its dependencies, 5 G. 4. c. 68. [To be in force for five years from the passing thereof, viz. 17th June 1824. s. 10.]

38. Whereas it is expedient that 57 G. 3. c. 51. [Stat. Dig. tit. MARRIAGE, pl. 36—41.] intituled, An Act to regulate the celebration of marriages in Newfoundland, should be repealed, and that further and more effectual provisions should be made for the celebration of marriages in Newfoundland; be it therefore enacted, That from and after 25th March 1825, the said recited act of the 57th year of the reign of His said late Majesty, shall be, and the same is hereby repealed: provided, that all marriages which have taken place at any time before the passing of this act in Newfoundland, and which have not been declared and adjudged to be void or valid by any court of competent jurisdiction, and all marriages which shall take place in Newfoundland previously to the 25th March 1825, shall be and the same are hereby declared to be as good and valid as if the said recited act had not been passed or made; any thing in the said recited act to the contrary notwithstanding, 5 G. 4. c. 68. s. 1.

39. All marriages which may hereafter be had in Newfoundland shall be celebrated by persons in holy orders, except in the cases herein-after specially excepted and provided for, 5 G. 4. c. 68. s. 2.

40. And whereas by reason of the great extent of the said island of Newfoundland, and the want of internal communication between the different parts of the said island during the greater part of the year, difficulties have arisen with respect to the solemnization of marriages in various settlements and stations there, and it is expedient that temporary provision be made for the legal solemnization of marriages in such settlements or stations as aforesaid; be it therefore enacted, That it shall be lawful for one of H. M.'s principal secretaries of state, or for the governor or acting governor for the time being of the colony of Newfoundland, to grant licences or a licence to celebrate marriages within the said colony or its dependencies, to any persons or person who shall employ themselves or himself solely in the duties of a teacher or preacher of religion in the said colony, and who shall not follow or engage in any trade or business, or other profession, occupation or employment, for their or his livelihood, except that of a schoolmaster: provided always, that no such licence shall be granted to any such persons or person, unless they or he shall first have taken the oath, and subscribed the declaration specified in the 52 G. 3. c. 155. [Stat. Dig. tit. NONCONFORMIST, pl. 27.] intituled, An Act to repeal certain acts and amend other acts relating to religious worship and assemblies, and persons teaching or preaching therein, and shall have produced a certificate thereof to H. M.'s said principal secretary of state, or to the governor or acting governor of Newfoundland, or unless such persons or person shall take the said oath, and subscribe the said declaration before the governor or acting governor of the said colony, who is hereby authorized and required to administer such oath, and to tender such declaration to the persons or person requiring to take and make and subscribe the same, 5 G. 4. c. 68. s. 3.

41. It shall be lawful for any person, to whom any such licence as aforesaid shall be granted to celebrate marriages between any persons resident in the said colony of Newfoundland or its dependencies, in any case where, by reason of the difficulty of the internal communication between different parts of the said colony or its dependencies the woman about to be married could not, without inconvenience, repair from her ordinary place of abode, for the purpose of contracting such marriage, to some church or chapel of or belonging to the established church of Eng. wherein divine service is regularly performed; and if any such person as aforesaid shall celebrate any marriage by virtue of any such licence, in any case wherein such inconvenience as aforesaid shall not exist, the person so offending shall become liable to the payment of a fine not less than 10*l.* nor more than 50*l.* British sterling money, and shall forfeit and be deprived of such his licence: provided that every marriage actually celebrated within the said colony, or its dependencies, by any person having any such licence as aforesaid, shall be good and valid to all intents and purposes, and shall not be rendered invalid by reason of any such illegality as aforesaid, on the part of the person celebrating the same, 5 G. 4. c. 68. s. 4.

42. No such person to whom any such licence may be so granted as aforesaid shall celebrate or perform marriages between any persons in Newfoundland except in the presence of two credible witnesses, and if any such person shall celebrate or perform any marriage between any persons in Newfoundland except in the presence of two credible witnesses, he shall incur and become liable to pay a fine of not less than 10*l.* nor more than 50*l.* British sterling money, but the want of such witnesses shall not invalidate the marriage, 5 G. 4. c. 68. s. 5.

43. Every person by whom any marriage shall be celebrated or performed in Newfoundland at any time after the 25th March 1825, shall, under the penalty of 5*l.* British sterling money, within 12 calendar months next following such marriage, deliver or cause to be delivered to the secretary of the governor or acting governor of the island, or to the incumbent or officiating minister of some church or chapel of the established church of Eng., in the towns of St. John's Harbour, Grace in Conception Bay, or Trinity Harbour in Trinity Bay, in the said island, a certificate thereof in writing, subscribed with his own name, and with the names or marks of the parties married, together with the names of two credible witnesses present at such marriage; and every such certificate shall be made in form following; (that is to say),

' Marriage solemnized at — in the island of Newfoundland :

' This is to certify, That A. B. [the man married] of — and C. D. [the woman married] of — were married at — this — in the year of our Lord — by me, —

E. F.

[Clergyman in Holy Orders, or Preacher licensed to celebrate Marriages.]

' This marriage was solemnized between us, { A. B. and C. D.

' In the presence { G. H. of I. K. of } Witnesses present at the of us, said marriage.

5 G. 4. c. 68. s. 6.

44. Whenever any such certificate of marriage as aforesaid shall be delivered to the secretary of the governor, or to the incumbent or officiating minister of any such church or chapel of the established church of Eng. as aforesaid, he shall, within seven days next after the receipt of every such certificate, and upon the payment or tender to him of 1*s.* and no more, enter a true copy thereof in a public book or register of marriages, to be by him kept for that purpose; and such public book or register shall be kept and remain at the office of the said secretary, or at such church or chapel of the established church, and shall be open to the inspection of any person requiring to consult or examine the same, at all convenient hours; and the said secretary, or the said incumbent or officiating minister shall make and deliver to every person who shall demand the same, a true copy of any entry contained in the said public book or register of marriages, attested by him, in the form following; (that is to say),

' A true copy, extracted from the public register of marriages of the secretary's office, or of the church or chapel of — in Newfoundland, by me,

K. L. government secretary, or incumbent, or officiating minister of such church or chapel.'

And the said government secretary, or the said incumbent or officiating minister, shall carefully preserve and file all the original certicates of marriage, so that reference may be had to the same in like manner as to the said register, 5 G. 4. c. 68. s. 7.

45. Any such public book or register of marriages in Newfoundland, or such attested copy of any entry in any such book or register, the hand-writing of the said government secretary, or of the attesting minister being duly proved, shall be deemed and taken to be, and shall for all purposes be received as sufficient evidence of the due celebration of any marriage in Newfoundland, which by such book or register, or by such attested copy, shall appear or purport to have been celebrated; and every such marriage shall, upon the production of such book or register, or of such attested copy, and proof as aforesaid, be deemed to have been duly celebrated, 5 G. 4. c. 68. s. 8.

46. Provided nothing in this act contained relating to marriages in Newfoundland shall extend to any marriages amongst the people called Quakers, or amongst the persons professing the Jewish religion, where both the parties to such marriage shall be Quakers, or persons professing the Jewish religion, 5 G. 4. c. 68. s. 9.

NEW HOLLAND AND NEW SOUTH WALES.

1. For granting certain powers and authorities to a company to be incorporated by charter, to be called "The Australian Agricultural Company," for the cultivation and improvement of waste lands in the colony of New South Wales, and for other purposes relating thereto, 5 G. 4. c. 86.

2. To continue until 1st Jan. 1824 the 59 G. 3. c. 114. [Stat. Dig. this title, pl. 15.] to authorize the imposing and levying other duties on goods imported into the said colony, and to suspend for ten years the payment of duty on the importation of certain goods the produce of New South Wales, 3 G. 4. c. 96. [THE 59 G. 3. c. 114. MADE PERPETUAL, 4 G. 4. c. 96. s. 28.]

3. The 59 G. 3. c. 114. as continued by 1 & 2 G. 4. c. 8. further continued, except so far as the same are hereby altered, until 1st Jan. 1824, 3 G. 4. c. 61. s. 1. and MADE PERPETUAL, 4 G. 4. c. 96. s. 28.

4. From and after the passing of this act [30th July 1822], it shall be lawful for the governor, or other person administering the government of New South Wales for the time being, to impose by any proclamation made, or order or orders issued, in the said colony for that purpose, the several respective rates and duties following; that is to say, upon the importation into the said colony, or any of the settlements or dependencies thereof, or belonging thereto, or under the controul or administration of the governor or person exercising the government of the said colony and its dependencies, of all spirits, the produce and manufacture of the U. K., or rum, the produce of H. M.'s plantations in the West Indies, imported directly from the U. K., a duty not exceeding the amount of 10s., and of all other spirits a duty not exceeding the amount of 15s. upon each gallon of spirits so imported, and so in proportion for any greater or lesser quantity: and upon the importation of all tobacco, a duty not exceeding 4s. for and upon each pound weight so imported into the said colony, and so in proportion for any greater or less quantity; and upon the importation of all goods, wares, and merchandizes, not being the growth, produce, or manufacture of the U. K. of G. B. and Ire., imported directly from some port in the U. K., a duty not exceeding 15l. upon every 100l. in value of the goods, wares, and merchandizes so imported, and so in proportion for any greater or less value, 3 G. 4. c. 96. s. 2.

5. It shall be lawful for the governor, or other person administering the government of New South Wales, by any proclamation, or order or orders, to be by him for that purpose issued, to discontinue or reduce any such duties from time to time as occasion may require, and also from time to time to revive any duties so discontinued or reduced, and again to levy the same: provided, that it shall not be lawful for any governor, or other person administering the government of the said colony, to order the levying or raising of any higher rate of duty than is authorized by this act, 3 G. 4. c. 96. s. 3.

6. It shall be lawful for the governor, or other person for the time being administering the government of the said colony, to make such rules and regulations as to him may seem fit and proper, for the more effectual collection and levying of all or any of the said rates and duties, and for that purpose to impose such reasonable fines and other penalties as may be necessary for enforcing the due and punctual payment thereof; and from time to time to alter or vary any such rules and regulations, or fines or penalties, or make any new or other rules and regulations, or fines or penalties: provided, that the said governor shall transmit true copies, duly authenticated, of all such rules and regulations, fines and penalties, and of all alterations thereafter made therein, to one of H. M.'s principal secretaries of state, for H. M.'s approbation 3 G. 4. c. 96. s. 4.

7. Every governor or other person administering the government of the said colony, who had heretofore received or shall hereafter receive any sum or sums of money arising from any rates and duties which have been or which may hereafter be raised and levied within the said colony, or any of the settlements or dependencies thereof, shall account to H. M. for the same, and for the due application thereof, through the lord high treasurer or commissioners of H. M.'s treasury of the U. K. of G. B. and Ire., in such manner, and at such times, and under such rules and regulations as to the examination and audit of such accounts, as the said lord high treasurer or commissioners of H. M.'s treasury, or any three or more of them, shall order and direct in that behalf, 3 G. 4. c. 96. s. 5.

8. And whereas 59 G. 3. c. 52. was passed, intituled, An Act to repeal the several duties of customs payable in G. B., and to grant other duties in lieu thereof: and whereas, by the said act, a duty of customs of 3d. the pound is granted from the 5th Jan. 1823, until the 5th Jan. 1826; and from and after the 5th Jan. 1826, a duty of customs of 6d. the pound upon sheep or lambs' wool, the produce of, and imported directly from any British colony or territory; and a duty of 3s. the cwt. upon solid vegetable extract from oak bark, or other vegetable substances, to be used for the purpose of tanning leather, and for no other purpose whatsoever; and a duty of 1l. 10s. upon teake wood or other wood, fit for ship building, eight inches square or upwards, the load, containing 50 cubic feet: and whereas, it is expedient to suspend the payment of such duties as to such articles, the growth or produce of New South Wales, and settlements and dependencies thereof, for a limited period: be it therefore enacted, That for the period of 10 years, from and after the 1st Jan. 1823, no higher duty of customs than 1d. per pound shall be charged, or payable, or paid for, or upon the importation into the U. K. of any sheep or lambs' wool, the produce of New South Wales, or any of the settlements or dependencies thereof, and duly certified as such by the proper officers of customs, and imported directly from the said colony; and during such period of 10 years the said duty of customs upon extract from bark shall not be charged or payable, or paid for or upon the importation into the U. K. of any such solid vegetable extract from bark or other vegetable substances, to be used for the purpose of tanning leather, and for no other purpose whatsoever, the produce of the colony, duly certified as such by the proper officer of customs, and imported directly from the said colony; and during the said period of 10 years, the said duty of customs of 1l. 10s. upon teake wood, or other wood fit for ship building, eight inches square or upwards, the load, containing 50 cubic feet, shall not be charged upon the importation into the U. K. of any timber, the growth or produce of the said colony, duly certified as such by the proper officers of customs, and imported directly from the said colony, any thing in the said recited act or acts of parliament relating to the said duties to the contrary notwithstanding, 3 G. 4. c. 96. s. 6.

9. In all cases where by virtue of this act the duties imposed upon the importation of articles into the said colony of New South Wales and its dependencies, are charged not according to the weight, gauge, or measure, but according to the value thereof, such value shall be ascertained by the declaration of the importer or proprietor of such articles, or his known agent or factor, in manner and form following; viz.

'I, A. B., do hereby declare, that the articles mentioned in the entry, and contained in the packages [here specify the several packages, and describe the several marks and numbers, as the case may be], are of the value of —

Witness my hand, the — day of —

A. B.

'The above declaration, signed the — day of — in the presence of

which declaration shall be written on the warrant of entry of such articles, and shall be subscribed with the hand of the importer or proprietor thereof, or his known agent or factor, in the presence of the naval officer, or other principal officer of the customs at the port of importation; provided, that if upon view and examination of such articles by such officer or officers, it shall appear to him or them that the said articles are not valued according to the true price or value thereof, and according to the true intent and meaning of this act, then and in such case the importer or proprietor, or his known agent or factor, shall be required to declare on oath, before the naval officer at the port of importation (which oath he is hereby authorized and required to administer), what is the invoice price of such articles, and that he verily believes such invoice price is the current value of the articles at the place from whence the said articles were imported, and such invoice price, with the addition of 10l. per centum thereon, shall be deemed and taken to be the value of the articles in the said colony and its dependencies, in lieu of the value so declared by the importer or proprietor, or his known agent or factor, and upon which the duties specified in this act shall be charged and paid; provided also, that if it shall appear to the naval officer, or other chief officer of the customs, that such articles have been invoiced below the real and true value thereof, at the place from whence the same was imported, or if the invoice price is not known, the articles shall in such case be examined by two competent persons, to be nominated and appointed by the governor or commander-in-chief of the said colony, and such persons shall declare on oath before the naval officer or chief officer of the customs, what is the true and real value of such articles in the said colony, and the value so declared on the oath of such persons shall be deemed to be the true and real value of such articles, and upon which the duties specified in this act shall be charged and paid, 3 G. 4. c. 96. s. 7.

10. If the importer or proprietor of such articles shall refuse to pay the duties hereby imposed thereon, it shall and may be lawful for the naval officer or other chief officer of the customs where such articles shall be imported, and he is hereby required to take and secure the same, with the casks or other package thereof, and to cause the same to be publicly sold within the space of 20 days at the most after such refusal made, and at such time and place as such officer shall, by four or more days public notice, appoint for that purpose; which articles shall be sold to the best bidder, and the money arising by the sale thereof shall be applied, in the first place, in payment of the said duties, together with the charges that shall have been occasioned by the said sale, and the overplus, if any, shall be paid to such importer or proprietor, or any other person authorized to receive the same, 3 G. 4. c. 96. s. 8.

11. From and after the 1st Jan. 1823, it shall not be lawful to import into any port or place in the colony of New South Wales or its dependencies, any spirits that shall be of a greater strength than seven per centum above hydrometer proof, the strength of the said spirits to be ascertained and determined by such officer or officers as the governor, or the person administering the government, shall appoint, 3 G. 4. c. 96. s. 9.

12. To provide, until the 1st July 1827, and until the end of the next session of parliament, for the better administration of justice in New South Wales and Van Diemen's Land, and for the more effectual government thereof; and for other purposes relating thereto. 4 G. 4. c. 96. [To continue in force until 1st July 1827, and from thence until the end of the then next session, s. 45. AMD. as to s. 19. by 6 G. 4. c. 69. s. 3.]

13. Whereas it is expedient to make further and more effectual provision for the administration of justice in H. M.'s colony and settlements in New South Wales and Van Diemen's Land respectively: be it therefore enacted, That it shall be lawful for H. M., his heirs and successors, by charters or letters patent under the great seal of the U. K. of G. B. and Ire., to erect and establish courts of judicature in New South Wales and Van Diemen's Land respectively, which shall be styled "The Supreme Court of New South Wales," and "The Supreme Court of Van Diemen's Land;" and that each of such courts respectively shall be holden by one judge or chief justice, and shall have such ministerial or other officers as shall be necessary for the administration of justice in the said courts respectively, and for the execution of the judgments, decrees, orders, and process thereof; and the said judges shall from time to time be appointed by H. M., his heirs and successors; and the said ministerial and other officers of the said courts respectively shall from time to time be appointed to and removed from their respective offices in such manner as H. M., his heirs and successors, shall by such charters or letters patent as aforesaid direct; and the said judges shall respectively be entitled to receive such reasonable salaries as H. M., his heirs and successors, shall approve and direct, which salaries shall be in lieu of all fees or other emoluments whatsoever; and it shall be lawful for H. M., his heirs and successors, from time to time as occasion may require, to remove and displace any such judge or chief justice, and in his place and stead to appoint another fit and proper person: provided nevertheless, that if it shall at any time hereafter appear to H. M., his heirs and successors, expedient to augment the number of the judges of either of the courts of judicature aforesaid, then and in that case it shall be lawful for H. M., his heirs and successors, from time to time as occasion may require, by commission under his or their royal sign manual, to augment the number of judges of both or either of the said courts to three, and to grant to such additional judges such reasonable salary or salaries as to H. M., his heirs and successors, shall seem meet, and which shall be in lieu of all fees and emoluments whatever; provided also, that in case of the absence or death of any or either of the judges of the said courts in New South Wales or Van Diemen's Land respectively, or in case of any such disease or infirmity as shall render any such judge permanently incapable of discharging the duties of his office, it shall be lawful for the governor or acting governor of New South Wales to appoint some fit and proper person to act in the place and stead of any judge so being absent, dying, or becoming permanently incapable, until such judge shall return to the execution of his office, or until a successor shall be appointed by H. M., as the case may require; and in the meantime until such judge shall return as aforesaid, or a successor shall be appointed, and shall actually enter on the discharge of his office in the said courts respectively, the person so to be appointed by the governor or acting governor as aforesaid shall have and exercise all the jurisdiction, powers, and authorities belonging to or vested in the judges of the said courts respectively, 4 G. 4. c. 96. s. 1.

14. The said courts respectively shall be courts of record, and shall have cognizance of all pleas, civil, criminal, or mixed, and jurisdiction in all cases whatsoever, as fully and amply in New South Wales and Van Diemen's Land respectively, and all and every the islands and territories which now are or hereafter may be subject to or dependant upon the respective governments thereof, as H. M.'s courts of K. B., C. P., and exchequer at Westminster, or either of them, lawfully have or hath in Eng.; and the said courts respectively shall also be at all times courts of oyer and terminer, and general gaol delivery, in and for New South Wales and Van Diemen's Land, and the dependencies thereof respectively; and the said judges so appointed shall have and exercise such and the like jurisdiction and authority in New South Wales and Van Diemen's Land, and the dependencies thereof respectively, as the judges of the courts of K. B., C. P., and exchequer in Eng., or any of them, lawfully have and exercise, and as shall be necessary for carrying into effect the several jurisdictions, powers, and authorities committed to the said courts respectively, 4 G. 4. c. 96. s. 2.

15. The said supreme courts in New South Wales and Van Diemen's Land respectively shall inquire of, hear, and determine all treasons, piracies, felonies, robberies, murders, conspiracies, and other offences of what nature or kind soever committed or that shall be committed upon the sea, or in any haven, river, creek, or place where the admiral or admirals have power, authority, or jurisdiction, or committed or that shall be committed in the islands of New Zealand, Otaheite, or any other island, country, or place, situate in the Indian or Pacific Oceans, and not subject to H. M., or to any European state or power, by the master or crew of any British ship or vessel, or any of them, or by any British subject sailing in or belonging to, or that shall have sailed in or belonged to and have quitted any British ship or vessel to live in any part of the said islands, countries, or places, or that shall be there living; and that all persons convicted of any of the offences so to be inquired of, heard, and determined in the said courts respectively, shall be subject and liable to and shall suffer all such and the same pains, penalties, and forfeitures as by any law now in force persons convicted of the same respectively would be subject and liable to in case the same were respectively inquired of, tried, heard, determined and adjudged in Eng., 4 G. 4. c. 96. s. 3.

16. All crimes, misdemeanors, and offences cognizable in the said courts respectively, shall be prosecuted by information in the name of H. M.'s attorney general, or other officer duly appointed for such purpose by the governor or acting governor aforesaid, and all issues of fact joined on every such information shall be tried by the respective judges of the said courts, and a jury of seven commissioned officers of H. M.'s sea or land forces, whether on full or half pay; and such jurors shall from time to time be nominated for the purpose aforesaid by the governor or acting governor of New South Wales or Van Diemen's Land respectively for the time being; and the said officers shall severally be liable to be challenged or objected to upon the special ground of direct interest or affection, to be specified in open court at the time of challenge; and in case of such challenge or objection being allowed by the judges of the said respective courts, the officer or officers so challenged or objected to shall be succeeded by another, such officer or officers as aforesaid, who shall in like manner be nominated by the governor or acting governor for the time being as aforesaid, and be liable in the same manner to challenge or objection, until seven officers shall appear duly qualified for the trial of any offender in the said courts respectively, and the said officers shall thereupon severally take and repeat in open court the same oath as is taken by petit jurors impanelled for the trial of any crime or misdemeanor in any court of record in Eng.; and shall return their verdict in open court, by the mouth of the senior officer serving on such jury; and the proceedings of the said court respectively shall be under the controul and direction of the respective judges thereof; and all matters of law arising in the course of trial shall be determined by such judges respectively, and the judgment of the said courts respectively shall be pronounced by them in the manner by law established on the trial of persons indicted in any court of record in Eng.: provided nevertheless, that if at the time of the meeting of the supreme court of Van Diemen's Land there should not be seven commissioned officers of H. M.'s sea or land forces within the distance of 50 miles from the place of holding such court, or in case of the sickness of any such officers, the person administering the government of Van Diemen's Land shall nominate such magistrates of the said island, or of any district or county of the said island, as to him shall seem meet, to act as jurors on the trials of such crimes, misdemeanors, or offences as aforesaid, together with such and so many commissioned officers as aforesaid, as may then be within such distance as aforesaid, and competent to act upon such jury, so as that there may in every case be a complete jury of seven men for the trial of the said crimes, misdemeanors, and offences; and the magistrates so to be appointed by the person administering the government of Van Diemen's Land shall be liable to be challenged or objected to in such and the same manner, and shall, if necessary, be succeeded by some other magistrates to be nominated by the person administering the government of the said island, and shall severally take and repeat such oath as is herein-before directed with respect to the said commissioned officers of H. M.'s sea and land forces, 4 G. 4. c. 96. s. 4.

17. It shall be lawful for H. M., his heirs and successors, by his or their instruction under his or their royal sign manual, at any time hereafter to authorize the governor or acting governor of New South Wales for the time being, to convene a court or courts, as often as occasion may require, for the trial of all crimes and misdemeanors committed within any place or places in New South Wales or Van Diemen's Land, or the dependencies thereof, which by any order in council to be for that purpose issued as after mentioned shall be appointed for the reception for transported felons and other offenders; which court or courts shall be of record, and shall have and exercise all the powers and authorities incident and belonging to a court of record, and shall consist respectively of a judge to be appointed by H. M., his heirs and successors, and such and so many proper persons, not fewer than three, or more than five, as shall be appointed for such purpose by such governor or acting governor, by commission to be duly made and executed under his hand and seal; and such persons shall be sworn in such and the like form, and the verdict of the whole of such persons shall be taken and recorded in such and the like manner, and the proceedings of the said last-mentioned court or courts shall be superintended and the judgments thereof pronounced by the judge or judges presiding at every such trial, according to such and the like law and usage as is herein-before directed with respect to the trials of persons prosecuted before the said supreme courts of judicature of New South Wales and Van Diemen's Land respectively; and in all cases where the offence charged against any person indicted before any such court or courts so to be established in any such place as aforesaid, shall not be punishable with death, the judge or judges of the said court or courts respectively shall, and he and they is and are hereby authorized to adjudge the offender to any corporal punishment not extending to life or limb, as the circumstances of the case may require: provided that the particulars and grounds of every such sentence shall in all cases be made known by the judge or judges of the said last-mentioned court or courts respectively to the governor or acting governor of New South Wales or Van Diemen's Land, as the case may be, for his approbation, 4 G. 4. c. 96. s. 5.

18. In any actions at law to be brought in the said supreme courts of New South Wales and Van Diemen's Land respectively, whenever the parties plaintiff and defendant in any such action shall join issue on any matter of fact, the trial of such issue shall be by the chief judge of the said courts respectively, and by two assessors, being magistrates or justices of the peace in and for the said colony, or some county or district thereof; and the said magistrates shall be nominated from time to time for the purpose aforesaid by the governor or acting governor for the time being of New South Wales and Van Diemen's Land respectively, and shall be liable to challenge upon such and the same grounds as may lawfully be alleged as causes of challenge against any person impanelled as a juror, for the trial of any issue of fact joined between the parties in any action depending in any of H. M.'s courts of record at Westminster, and such challenges shall be made in open court, and decided by the judges of the said supreme courts respectively; and in case any such challenge shall be allowed, another justice of the peace shall be nominated in manner aforesaid in the place of the justice against whom such challenge shall have been so allowed, who may in like manner be challenged, until two justices shall appear competent to act as assessors of the court upon the trial of the said issue; and the said two assessors shall thereupon severally take and repeat in open court such and the same oath as is taken by any juror sworn upon the trial of any issue of fact in any of H. M.'s said courts of record at Westminster, and the judges of the said supreme courts respectively shall, together with the said two assessors, give their verdict upon every such issue as aforesaid; and in case any such judge and assessors cannot agree upon such verdict, the verdict of the major part of them shall be taken, entered, and recorded as the verdict of all: provided always, that if the parties, plaintiff and defendant in any such action, shall be desirous of having any such issue of fact as aforesaid tried by a jury of 12 men, and shall concur in an application for that purpose to the judges of the said supreme courts respectively, then such issue of fact shall be tried by a jury, under the direction of the said judges respectively, 4 G. 4. c. 96. s. 6.

19. No person shall be deemed competent to serve upon any jury as aforesaid, who shall not have and possess a freehold estate of 50 acres or more of cleared land, or a freehold dwelling-house or tenement of the value of 500*l.* sterling or upwards, situate in some part of New South Wales or Van Diemen's Land respectively, 4 G. 4. c. 96. s. 7.

20. It shall be lawful for H. M., his heirs and successors, by any order to be by him or them issued with the advice of his or their privy council, at any time or times hereafter, to cause the trial by jury to be further introduced and applied in such parts of New South Wales and Van Diemen's Land, and their respective dependencies, at such time, in such cases, and with, under, and subject to such rules, modifications, and limitations in respect thereof, as to H. M., his heirs and successors, shall seem meet, and as shall be specified in any such order in council in that behalf, 4 G. 4. c. 96. s. 8.

21. The said supreme courts respectively shall be courts of equity in New South Wales and Van Diemen's Land, and the dependencies thereof respectively, and shall have power and authority to administer justice, and to do, exercise, and perform all such acts, matters, and things necessary for the due execution of such equitable jurisdiction, as the lord high chancellor of G. B. can or lawfully may within Eng., 4 G. 4. c. 96. s. 9.

22. The said supreme courts respectively shall be courts of ecclesiastical jurisdiction, and shall have full power and authority to administer and execute within New South Wales and Van Diemen's Land, and the dependencies thereof respectively, such ecclesiastical jurisdiction and authority as shall be committed to the said supreme courts respectively by H. M.'s said charters or letters patent; provided, that in all cases where the executor or executors of any will, upon being duly cited, shall refuse or neglect to take out probate, or where the next of kin shall be absent, and the effects of the deceased shall appear to the said judges respectively to be exposed and liable to waste, it shall be lawful for the said judges respectively, to authorize and empower the registrar, or other ministerial officer of the said supreme courts respectively, to collect such effects, and hold or deposit or invest the same in such manner and place, or upon such security, and subject to such orders and directions as shall be made, either as applicable to all such cases, or specially in any case, by the said judges, in respect of the custody, controul, or disposal thereof, 4 G. 4. c. 96. s. 10.

23. In all cases where the process of the said supreme courts respectively hath been sued out against any defendant in any plaint or action entered in the said supreme courts respectively, for debt upon specialty, or bill or note under hand, or book debt, upon a concessit solvere, and a non est inventus hath been returned, it shall be lawful for the said supreme courts respectively to issue an attachment, thereby commanding the sheriff or provost-marshal of New South Wales or Van Diemen's Land respectively, or his lawful deputy, to attach the monies, goods, chattels, or debts of any such defendant, in the hands of any person whomsoever, and notwithstanding any such person shall be the wife or attorney of the defendant aforesaid, in whose possession or power such monies, goods, and chattels may be, or from whom such debts may be due, and also to require such person to appear at a day certain of the next term or meeting of the said supreme courts respectively, to show cause why the said monies, goods, chattels, or debts, or so much thereof as will satisfy the debt demanded, should not be delivered to the plaintiff in such action; at which day, if the said person shall confess, or it shall otherwise be made to appear to the satisfaction of the said supreme courts respectively, that the said monies, goods, chattels, or debts do properly belong to the said defendant against whom process hath been returned as aforesaid, and if the said plaintiff, his or her agent or attorney do swear in open court that the debt so demanded is due, and that no part thereof hath been satisfied, and do also give security in double the debt demanded, to restore with treble damages the same, or so much thereof as shall afterwards be disproved, then and in all such cases the plaintiff shall have judgment for the said debt demanded, and execution against the said monies, goods, chattels, and debts so attached; provided, that if the said defendant, or any person as attorney to the said defendant, shall appear, and put in bail to answer the action and satisfy the judgment, then the said attachment shall be dissolved, and proceedings had according to the usual course in the said supreme courts respectively; and if any person as aforesaid, in whose possession or power such money, goods, chattels, or debts shall be so attached, shall dispose of the same or any part thereof before the said debt demanded shall be satisfied, or the said attachment dissolved, then the said person for such his default shall be liable to make satisfaction to the plaintiff, out of his proper estates, and in case no such satisfaction shall be made, shall be liable to be dealt with as for contempt of the said supreme courts respectively, 4 G. 4. c. 96. s. 11.

24. On the trial of every issue of fact joined between the parties in any action at law by this act made cognizable in the said supreme courts, where the sum or matter at issue shall exceed the amount or value of 500*l.* sterling, and where such trial shall not be by a jury, the judges of the said supreme courts respectively shall cause the evidence to be taken down in writing by the clerk or other proper officer of the said supreme courts respectively, and repeated in open court to the witnesses respectively giving the same; and the evidence so taken and repeated shall be entered upon the proceedings of the court, and be of record, and no objection shall be allowed to the competency of witnesses of sufficient age and discretion, except for interest in the event of the trial; and in every case in which any appeal shall be made or allowed under the provisions of this act, copies of all documents and papers which shall have been produced and given in evidence shall be certified by the said clerk, or other proper officer of the court to be appointed for that purpose, as authentic; and also copies of any documents and papers which shall have been produced and tendered in evidence, and rejected, shall, if required by the party producing the same, be in like manner authenticated, but marked by such officer as aforesaid as rejected, in order that all such copies may be annexed to the record as part thereof, in case of appeal, 4 G. 4. c. 96. s. 12.

25. It shall be lawful for the plaintiff or defendant, against whom any judgment, decree, order, or sentence of the said supreme courts respectively shall be given, for or in respect of any sum or matter at issue above the amount or value of 500*l.* sterling, to appeal therefrom to the court of appeals herein-after mentioned; and the party appealing, shall, within 14 days from the passing thereof, give notice to the adverse party of such appeal, and within 28 days from and after such judgment, decree, order, or sentence, enter into sufficient security, to be approved by the judges of the said supreme courts respectively, to satisfy or perform the said judgment, decree, order, or sentence, in case the same shall be affirmed, or the appeal dismissed, together with such further costs as shall be awarded thereon; and in all cases of appeal where notice shall be given and security perfected as aforesaid, execution shall be stayed, and not otherwise, 4 G. 4. c. 96. s. 13.

26. It shall be lawful for the judges of either of the supreme courts aforesaid, on the application of either of the parties, plaintiff or defendant, at or before the hearing or trial of any suit or action commenced in the said supreme courts respectively, to permit an appeal to the said court of appeals from any judgment, decree, order, or sentence of the said supreme courts respectively, although the sum or matter at issue, for or in respect of which such judgment, decree, order, or sentence shall or may be given, made or pronounced, shall not amount to or be of the value of 500*l.* sterling, in case it shall be made to appear to the satisfaction of the said judges of the said supreme courts respectively that such judgment, decree, order, or sentence may be of peculiar importance, or may affect directly or indirectly the decision of any other question of peculiar importance, or involve directly or indirectly any claim, demand, or question to or respecting property, or any civil right, amounting to or of the value of 500*l.* sterling; and in all such cases where the trial shall not be by a jury, the evidence given before the said supreme courts respectively shall be taken down in writing, and repeated to the witnesses giving the same; and such evidence shall be of record, and copies shall be made and authenticated of all documents and papers produced, in such manner as before directed respecting the trial of issues of fact where the sum or matter at issue shall exceed the amount or value of 500*l.* sterling, 4 G. 4. c. 96. s. 14.

27. The governor or acting governor of New South Wales, shall from time to time hold a court, to be called "The Court of Appeals of the Colony of New South Wales," which court shall have power and authority, in all such cases as aforesaid, to receive and hear appeals from the judgments, decrees, orders, and sentences of the supreme courts of New South Wales and Van Diemen's Land respectively, and to affirm, alter, or reverse the said judgments, decrees, orders, or sentences, in whole or in part, or to dismiss the said appeals, with costs or otherwise, as may be just: provided, that the governor or acting governor aforesaid shall be assisted in the hearing or determining of all appeals from the supreme court of Van Diemen's Land by the chief justice of the supreme court of New South Wales: provided also, that the record of every judgment, decree, order, or sentence to be pronounced by the said court of appeals, shall by such court be remitted to the supreme court whence the appeal was brought to be by such supreme court carried into effect according to law: provided also, that upon any appeal to be brought to the said court of appeals from any judgment of either of the said supreme courts, founded upon the verdict of a jury of 12 men, the said court of appeals shall not reverse, alter, or inquire into the said judgment, except only for error of law apparent upon the record, 4 G. 4. c. 96. s. 15.

28. It shall be lawful for H. M., by the said charters or letters patent respectively, to allow any person feeling aggrieved by any judgment, decree, order, or sentence of the said court of appeals, to appeal therefrom to H. M. in council, in such manner, within such time, and under and subject to such rules, regulations, and limitations, as H. M., by any such charters or letters patent respectively, shall appoint and prescribe, 4 G. 4. c. 96. s. 16.

29. It shall be lawful for H. M., his heirs and successors, by his said charters or letters patent, or by any order in council, at any time hereafter to make and prescribe, or to authorize and empower the judges of the said supreme courts in New South Wales and Van Diemen's Land respectively, under such limitations as H. M. shall deem proper, to make and prescribe such rules and orders touching and concerning the time and place of holding the said courts respectively, the forms and manner of proceeding, and the practice and pleadings upon all indictments, informations, actions, suits, and other matters to be therein brought, the appointing of commissioners to take bail and examine witnesses, the taking examinations of witnesses de bene esse, and allowing the same as evidence, the granting of probates of wills and letters of administration, the proceedings of the sheriff, provost-marshal, and other ministerial officers, the process of the said courts, and the mode of executing the same, the impannelling of juries, the admission of attornies, solicitors, and barristers, the fees, poundage, or perquisites to be lawfully demanded by any officer, attorney, or solicitor in the said courts respectively, and all other matters and things whatsoever, as to H. M., his heirs and successors, shall seem meet for the conduct of business in the said courts respectively, and as may be adapted to the circumstances and condition of the said colony; and such rules and orders from time to time to alter, amend, or revoke, as to H. M., his heirs and successors, shall seem requisite; and all rules and orders so to be established by any such order or orders in council as aforesaid shall be of such and the like force and effect as if the same had been inserted in this present act, 4 G. 4. c. 96. s. 17.

30. The governor or acting governor of New South Wales and Van Diemen's Land, and the dependencies thereof respectively, upon the arrival in the said colony of H. M.'s charter or letters patent for the establishment, by virtue of this act, of the supreme courts of New South Wales and Van Diemen's Land respectively, shall by proclamation notify to the inhabitants of the said colony the time when the said courts respectively are to be opened, and the judges thereof respectively are to assume and enter upon the exercise of their jurisdiction therein; and when and so soon as the said courts shall actually have so assumed and entered upon the exercise of such jurisdiction, then and from thenceforth the 27 G. 3. c. 2. [Stat. Dig. tit. NEW HOLLAND, pl. 1. 3. 4. 7.] intituled, An Act to enable H. M. to establish a court of criminal judicature on the eastern coast of New South Wales, and the parts adjacent, shall cease to have effect and determine, and the courts of criminal and civil jurisdiction in New South Wales and its dependencies respectively, instituted by H. M.'s letters patent under the great seal, and bearing date respectively the 2d April, and 4th Feb., 24 & 25 G. 3., shall likewise cease and determine, and every suit or complaint which shall at that time be depending in the said courts respectively shall be proceeded upon in the said supreme courts of New South Wales or Van Diemen's Land respectively, in the same manner as any suit or complaint originally commenced or brought in such courts respectively under this act, and as if such suit or complaint had been originally brought or commenced in such courts respectively; and all the records, muniments, and proceedings whatsoever of and belonging to the said courts of criminal and civil jurisdiction respectively shall, from and immediately after the opening of the supreme courts respectively instituted under this act, be delivered over and deposited for safe custody in the said supreme courts respectively, to which all parties concerned shall and may have recourse as to the other records of the said courts; provided, that until the said supreme courts to be established by virtue of this act shall have actually assumed and entered upon the exercise of their jurisdiction in the said colony, the said courts of criminal and civil jurisdiction now existing within New South Wales and Van Diemen's Land, and the dependencies thereof, shall enjoy and exercise all powers, authorities, and jurisdictions lawfully vested in them by the said several letters patent, as fully and effectually to all intents and purposes as if this act had not been made, 4 G. 4. c. 96. s. 18.

31. Courts of general or quarter sessions shall be holden in New South Wales and Van Diemen's Land, and their dependencies, at such times and places as the governor or acting governor of New South Wales shall by his proclamation appoint; and the said courts of sessions respectively shall have power and authority to take cognizance of all matters and things cognizable in courts of general or quarter sessions in Eng., so far as the circumstances and condition of the said colony shall require and admit; and the said courts shall have power and authority in a summary way to take cognizance of all crimes and misdemeanors not punishable with death, which have been or shall be committed by any felons or other offenders who have been or shall be transported to New South Wales or its dependencies, and whose sentences shall not have expired or been remitted, and also of all crimes and misdemeanors committed by any such felons or offenders on board of any ship or vessel during the voyage to New South Wales or the dependencies thereof, and the same to punish, if such courts shall see fit, by extending the time for which such persons may have been originally transported, or by transportation to such other part of New South Wales, or the dependencies thereof, as may be appointed for the reception of offenders as hereafter mentioned, and as the case may require, and by hard labour for any time not exceeding three years; and also in a like summary way to take cognizance of all complaints made against any such felons or offenders for drunkenness, disobedience of orders, neglect of work, absconding or desertion, abusive language to their, his, or her employers or overseers, insubordination or other turbulent or disorderly conduct, and all such offences to punish by whipping or other corporal punishment not extending to privation of life or member, or by removal to some other part in the said colony or its dependencies, and hard labour, according to the nature and degree of such offences respectively: provided, that a return of all sentences imposed by the said court be made to such governor or acting governor aforesaid, and shall be by him within six months transmitted to one of H. M.'s principal secretaries of state in Eng., 4 G. 4. c. 96. s. 19.

32. All and every the powers and authorities, and jurisdiction which in and by 4 G. 4. c. 96. s. 19. [ante, pl. 31.] intituled, An Act to provide until the 1st July 1827, and until the end of the next sessions of parliament, for the better administration of justice in New South Wales and Van Diemen's Land, and for the more effectual government thereof, and for other purposes relating thereto, are vested in the courts of general and quarter sessions, for the taking cognizance of and punishing all crimes and misdemeanors not punishable with death committed by any felons, or other offenders who have been or shall be transported to New South Wales or its dependencies, and whose sentences have not expired or been remitted, or for taking cognizance of complaints made against any such felons or offenders for drunkenness, disobedience of orders, neglect of work, absconding, or desertion, abusive language to their, his, or her employers or overseers, insubordination, or other turbulent or disorderly conduct, or for punishing such offences or any of them, shall be, and all such powers, authorities, and jurisdiction are and is hereby vested in any one or more justice or justices of the peace in and for the said colony, or in or for any district or county thereof, to be by such justice or justices exercised in a summary way: provided, that no such justice or justices shall exercise any such powers, authorities, or jurisdiction as aforesaid, in any case where any court of general or quarter sessions shall be appointed to be held within one week after the complaint shall be preferred against any such offender, at any place not more than 20 miles distant from the place at which the offence shall be charged to have been committed, 6 G. 4. c. 96. s. 3. [See the rest of the act, TRANSPORTATION.]

33. It shall be lawful for the governor or acting governor of New South Wales from time to time to institute courts of civil jurisdiction, to be called "Courts of Requests," in different parts of New South Wales and Van Diemen's Land, or the dependencies thereof, as occasion shall require, with full power and authority to hear and determine in a summary way all actions, plaints, and suits for the payment or recovery of any debt, damages, or matter not exceeding 10*l.* sterling, except the matter in question shall relate to the title to any lands, tenements, or hereditaments, or to the taking or demanding of any duty payable to the King, or to any fee of office, annual rent, or other such matter, where rights in future may be bound, or to any general right or duty, and to award costs therein; and the determination and award of such courts of requests, in all cases within the jurisdiction thereof, shall be final, and shall be carried into execution by attachment and sale of the goods and effects, or by corporal arrest of the party against whom such determination or award shall be made; and each of the said courts of requests respectively shall be holden by a commissioner to be appointed by the governor or acting governor aforesaid for the time being, with such salary as the said governor or acting governor, with the approbation of H. M., shall think proper to appoint; which salary shall be in lieu of all fees, profits, or emoluments whatever, in respect of the office of such commissioner as aforesaid, 4 G. 4. c. 96. s. 20.

34. The governor or acting governor of New South Wales shall and may, with the assistance of the chief justice of the supreme court of New South Wales, from time to time settle such forms of process, and such rules of practice and proceeding, for the conduct and dispatch of business in the said courts of sessions and requests respectively, and appoint such reasonable fees to be taken as shall seem necessary and proper for expediting the business of the said courts with most convenience and least expence to the parties concerned therein, and such rules and forms shall be followed, and such fees shall be paid accordingly, and no other, 4 G. 4. c. 96. s. 21.

35. Whereas it is expedient to make provision for an equal distribution of the effects of insolvent debtors in New South Wales and Van Diemen's Land, and the dependencies thereof, among their creditors; be it further enacted, That as often as any writ or other process for the recovery of any debt or sum due shall be issued by the supreme courts aforesaid, or either of them, against any person or persons residing or carrying on business in New South Wales or Van Diemen's Land, or any place within the respective dependencies thereof, and it shall be made to appear to the said courts respectively, at the return of such writ or process, that the person against whom the same shall have been issued is unable to pay 20*s.* in the pound to all his or her creditors, it shall be lawful for the judges of the said courts respectively to cause the person against whom the same shall have been issued, together with all his or her creditors, to be summoned by public notice to attend the said court on a certain future day; and in the meantime, if it shall appear necessary to the judges of the said courts respectively, to appoint one or more of the said creditors as provisional trustee or trustees, to discover, collect, and receive the estates and effects of such person so appearing to be insolvent, subject to the orders and directions of the said judges respectively; and if after due examination of the person against whom process shall have been issued as aforesaid, or if such person shall abscond or fail to attend the said courts respectively, pursuant to such summons as aforesaid, it shall be made to appear to the satisfaction of the said judges respectively that such person is insolvent, it shall be lawful for the said courts respectively to declare such person insolvent accordingly, and immediately to take order for discovering, collecting, and selling the estates, debts, and effects of such insolvent, and distributing the produce thereof equally and rateably amongst all his or her creditors, and for that purpose to authorize any two or more creditors of the said insolvent, or any other fit and proper person, to be for that purpose nominated by the said courts respectively, to act as and be trustees for the benefit of the creditors of such insolvent; and the said courts respectively shall from time to time make such orders as shall be just, for better discovering, collecting, selling, and realizing the estates, debts and effects of the person so declared insolvent, and for making a rateable distribution thereof amongst all the creditors of such insolvent, or, if occasion shall require, for vesting the same, or any parts thereof, in the public funds or securities in Eng., until such distribution can be made, 4 G. 4. c. 96. s. 22.

36. If such insolvent shall make a full and true disclosure, discovery, and surrender of all his or her estates, goods, debts and effects, and shall conform to the orders and directions of the said judges of the said supreme courts respectively in respect thereof, the same shall, with the consent in writing under the hands of the major part in number and value of the creditors of such insolvent, be certified by the judges, under the seal of the said courts respectively; and such certificate may be pleaded, and shall be a bar of all suits and complaints for debts and contracts for payment of money due, and entered into by such person prior to the time of his or her being declared insolvent as aforesaid; and if any person so declared insolvent as aforesaid shall fail to make a true disclosure and discovery of all his or her estate and effects, or shall otherwise refuse to conform to the orders or directions of the said judges of the said courts respectively, it shall be lawful for the said courts respectively to cause such person to be arrested and imprisoned until he or she shall make such disclosure and discovery, and in all respects conform to such orders and directions: provided, that no person who shall be declared insolvent as aforesaid a second time shall be entitled to any such certificate, unless his or her estate and effects, when collected and realized, shall be sufficient to pay at least 15*s.* in the pound to all his or her creditors; and that no person who shall be declared insolvent as aforesaid a third time or oftener shall be entitled to any such certificate, 4 G. 4. c. 96. s. 23.

37. And whereas it may be necessary to make laws and ordinances for the welfare and good government of the said colony of New South Wales, and the dependencies thereof, the occasions of which cannot be foreseen, nor without much delay and inconvenience be provided for, without entrusting that authority for a certain time, and under proper restrictions, to persons resident there: and whereas it is not at present expedient to call a legislative assembly in the said colony; be it therefore enacted, that it shall and may be lawful for H. M., his heirs and successors, by warrant under his or their sign manual, to constitute and appoint a council, to consist of such persons resident in the said colony, not exceeding seven nor less than five, as H. M., his heirs and successors, shall be pleased to appoint; and upon the death, removal, or absence of any of the members of the said council, in like manner to constitute and appoint such and so many other person or persons as shall be necessary to supply the vacancy; and the governor or acting governor for the time being of the said colony, with the advice of the council to be appointed as aforesaid, or the major part of them, shall have power and authority to make laws and ordinances for the peace, welfare, and good government of the said colony, such laws and ordinances not being repugnant to this act, or to any charter or letters patent, or order in council which may be issued in pursuance hereof, or to the laws of Eng., but consistent with such laws, so far as the circumstances of the said colony will admit: provided that no law or ordinance shall be passed or made, unless the same shall first by the said governor or acting governor be laid before the said council, at a meeting to be for that purpose convened by a written summons under the hand of such governor or acting governor, to be delivered to or left at the usual place of abode of the members of such council respectively; provided also, that in case all or the major part of the members of the said council shall dissent from any law or ordinance proposed by such governor or acting governor at any such meeting as aforesaid, the members of the said council so dissenting shall enter upon the minutes of such council the grounds and reasons of such their dissent, and in every such case such proposed law or ordinance shall not pass into a law; provided nevertheless, that if it shall appear to the governor or acting governor for the time being of the said colony, that such proposed law or ordinance is essential to the peace and safety thereof, and cannot without extreme injury to the welfare and good government of the said colony be rejected, then and in every such case, if any one or more member or members of the said council shall assent to such proposed law, the said governor shall enter upon the minutes of the council the grounds and reasons of such his opinion; and in every such case, and until the pleasure of H. M., his heirs and successors, shall be made known in the said colony respecting the same, such law or ordinance shall be of full force and effect in the said colony, and the dependencies thereof, any such dissent as aforesaid of majority of the members of the said council notwithstanding, 4 G. 4. c. 96. s. 24.

38. Provided, that in case any rebellion or insurrection shall have actually broken out in the said colony, or if in the judgment of the governor or acting governor thereof for the time being, there shall be good and sufficient cause to apprehend that any such rebellion or insurrection is about forthwith to break out therein, then and in every such case it shall be lawful for such governor or acting governor to promulgate and enforce within the said colony and its dependencies any law or ordinance which may be necessary for suppressing or preventing any such rebellion or insurrection as aforesaid, although every member of the said council should dissent from any such law or ordinance, 4 G. 4. c. 96. s. 25.

39. Provided, that it shall be lawful for H. M., his heirs and successors, by any order to be by him or them issued by and with the advice of his or their privy council, to make and establish any law or ordinance which may have been previously laid before and dissented from by the whole or the major part of the said council, in case such law or ordinance shall appear to H. M., his heirs and successors, to be necessary for the better government of the said colony and its dependencies, 4 G. 4. c. 96. s. 26.

40. Provided, that the said governor and council shall not impose any tax or duty upon any ship or vessel trading with the said colony or the dependencies thereof, or upon any goods, wares, and merchandize imported into or exported from the same, nor any other tax or duty, except only such taxes or duties as it may be necessary to levy for local purposes; and the purposes for which every such tax or duty may be so imposed, and to or towards which the amount thereof is to be appropriated and applied, shall be distinctly and particularly stated in the body of every law or ordinance imposing every such tax or duty, 4 G. 4. c. 96. s. 27.

41. And whereas 59 G. 3. c. 114. [Stat. Dig. this title, pl. 15.] was made, intituled, An Act to stay proceedings against any governor or other person concerned in imposing and levying duties in New South Wales; to continue until the 1st Jan. 1821, certain duties; and to empower the said governor to levy a duty on spirits made in the said colony; and whereas the said act hath been continued from time to time by divers acts of parliament, and was varied and altered by 3 G. 4. c. 96. [ante, pl. 2.], intituled, An Act to continue until the 1st Jan. 1824, an act passed in the 59th year of His late Majesty, relating to imposing and levying duties in New South Wales; to authorize the imposing and levying other duties on goods imported into the said colony; and to suspend for 10 years the payment of duty on the importation of certain goods the produce of New South Wales; and it is expedient that the 59 G. 3. c. 114. should be made perpetual, and that all the powers and authorities thereby or by the 3 G. 4. c. 96. committed to the governor or other person administering the government of New South Wales, should be continued as fully as if this present act had not been made; be it therefore enacted, That the 59 G. 3. c. 114. shall be and the same is hereby made perpetual, and that nothing in this act contained shall extend to repeal, alter, or affect the said last-mentioned act, or the 3 G. 4. c. 96.; any thing herein contained to the contrary notwithstanding, 4 G. 4. c. 96. s. 28.

42. No law or ordinance shall by the said governor or acting governor be laid before the said council for their advice or approbation, or be passed into a law, unless a copy thereof shall have been first laid before the chief justice of the supreme court of New South Wales, and unless such chief justice shall have transmitted to the said governor or acting governor a certificate under the hand of such chief justice, that such proposed law is not repugnant to the laws of Eng., but is consistent with such laws, so far as the circumstances of the said colony will admit, 4 G. 4. c. 96. s. 29.

43. Every law or ordinance so to be made as aforesaid, shall, within six months from the date thereof, be transmitted by the governor or acting governor for the time being of the said colony to one of H. M.'s principal secretaries of state for the time being; and that it shall and may be lawful for H. M., his heirs and successors, from time to time as he or they shall think necessary, to signify, through one of his or their principal secretaries of state, his or their approbation or disallowance of all such laws and ordinances; and that from and immediately after the time when such disallowance shall be published in the said colony, by a proclamation to be for that purpose issued by the said governor or acting governor, all such laws and ordinances shall be null and void; but in case H. M., his heirs and successors, shall not, within the space of three years from the making of such laws and ordinances, signify his or their disapprobation or disallowance thereof as aforesaid, then and in that case all such laws and ordinances shall be valid and effectual, and have full force, 4 G. 4. c. 96. s. 30.

44. Provided, that all laws and ordinances to be made in the said colony, and all orders to be made by H. M., his heirs and successors, with the advice of his and their privy council, in pursuance of this act, shall be laid before both houses of parliament within six weeks at latest next after the commencement of each session, 4 G. 4. c. 96. s. 31.

45. The members for the time being of the said council shall by virtue of such their office be justices of the peace in and for the whole of the said colony of New South Wales and its dependencies, and shall within the said colony take precedence of all persons next after the governor or acting governor thereof, and the judges of the said supreme courts, and the commander-in-chief for the time being of H. M.'s forces within the said colony and its dependencies; and the said members of the council shall, before they enter upon and discharge the duties of such their office, severally take and subscribe, before and in the presence of the governor or acting governor thereof for the time being, an oath in the following words; that is to say,

'I do swear, that I will, to the best of my judgment and ability, faithfully advise and assist the governor or acting governor of the colony of New South Wales and its dependencies, in all such matters as shall be brought under my consideration as a member of the council of the said colony; and I swear, that I will not, directly or indirectly, communicate or reveal to any person or persons, any matter which shall be so brought under my consideration, or which shall become known to me as a member of the said council.

'So help me God.'

4 G. 4. c. 96. s. 32.

46. In case of the death, absence, or permanent incapacity of any member of the said legislative council, the governor or acting governor for the time being of the said colony shall appoint some fit and proper person to act in the place and stead of such person, until the vacancy so created shall be filled up by an appointment to be made by H. M., his heirs and successors, in manner aforesaid, 4 G. 4. c. 96. s. 33.

47. And whereas by 30 G. 3. c. 47. [Stat. Dig. tit. TRANSPORTATION, pl. 18.], intituled, An Act for enabling H. M. to authorize the governor or lieutenant-governor of such places beyond the seas to which felons or other offenders may be transported, to remit the sentences of such offenders, after reciting several orders made by H. M. with the advice of his privy council, whereby H. M. had declared and appointed that the eastern coast of New South Wales and the islands thereunto adjacent, should be the place beyond sea to which certain felons and other offenders should be conveyed and transported, it was enacted, that it should be lawful for H. M., by his commission under the great seal, to authorize the governor or lieutenant-governor for the time being of such place as aforesaid, by any instrument in writing under the seal of the government in which such place should be situated, to remit, either absolutely or conditionally, the whole or any part of the time or term for which any such felons or offenders should have been or should thereafter be respectively conveyed or transported to such place; and it was further enacted, That such governor or lieutenant-governor should, by the first opportunity, transmit to one of H. M.'s principal secretaries of state, duplicates of every instrument as aforesaid, and that the names of such felons or other offenders respectively, which should be contained in such duplicates, should be inserted in the next general pardon which should pass under the great seal of G. B. after the receipt of such duplicates; and whereas in virtue of the said act and of H. M.'s commission under the great seal, the governors of New South Wales for the time being have from time to time remitted the time or term for which divers felons and other offenders have been transported to the said places, but the duplicates of the several instruments, by which such times or terms of transportation were remitted, have not been regularly transmitted to Eng., and the names of the felons, or other offenders respectively therein contained, have not been inserted in any general pardon under the great seal of G. B.; be it further enacted, That all instruments in writing, made in conformity with the said act, or which shall be so made before the 1st Jan. 1824, whereby any governor or lieutenant-governor of New South Wales for the time being, hath remitted or shortened, or may remit or shorten the time or term of transportation of any felons or offenders as aforesaid, shall have and shall be deemed and taken to have had, within New South Wales and its dependencies, from the days of the respective dates of such several instruments, such and the like force and effect in the law, to all intents and purposes, as any general pardon, if passed under the great seal aforesaid, and including the names of such felons or other offenders respectively, could or would have had; and the same instruments, whenever they shall be ratified by H. M., if H. M. shall be pleased to ratify the same, and such ratification shall be notified in writing by one of H. M.'s principal secretaries of state, shall have the same force and effect within this realm, and all other H. M.'s dominions, from the days of the respective dates of such several instruments, or from such other days as shall be expressed in such ratifications respectively, 4 G. 4. c. 96. s. 34.

48. All instruments in writing whereby any governor or acting governor of New South Wales shall hereafter remit or shorten the time or term of transportation of any felons or other offenders, in pursuance of 50 G. 3. c. 47., shall by such governor or acting governor be transmitted to H. M., his heirs and successors, for his and their approbation or allowance; and in case H. M., his heirs and successors, shall, through one of his or their principal secretaries of state, signify his or their approbation or allowance of any such remission or shortening of any such time or term of transportation as aforesaid, then and in such case only, every such instrument so transmitted as aforesaid shall have, and shall be deemed and taken from the date thereof to have had, within New South Wales and the dependencies thereof, but not elsewhere, such and the same effect in the law, as if a general pardon had passed under the great seal aforesaid, on the days of the dates of such instruments respectively, in which the names of such felons or offenders as aforesaid had been included, 4 G. 4. c. 96. s. 35.

49. If any person being in New South Wales, or any of the dependencies thereof, under or by virtue of any sentence of transportation, or order of any court in the U. K. of G. B. and Ire., for any time or term of years not then expired, or not remitted by the governor or acting governor of the said colony, shall be convicted by due course of law in the said colony, or any of the dependencies thereof, of any offence which if committed in Eng. would or might be punishable by transportation; it shall be lawful for the court before which any such offender may be so convicted, to sentence and adjudge him to detention and safe custody in New South Wales, or any of the dependencies thereof, for any term or number of years, not exceeding the term or number of years for which such offender might or could by law be sentenced to transportation, in case he had been convicted of such or the like offence in any court of record in Eng.; and such detention shall take effect, and be computed, not from the date of any such sentence or judgment as aforesaid, but from the time when the term of such original sentence of transportation shall expire; and in case any person who shall be so sentenced to be detained in the said colony or its dependencies, shall be afterwards at large within any part of the U. K. of G. B. and Ire., without lawful cause, before the expiration of the term for which such offender shall have been sentenced to be detained as aforesaid, every such offender being at large as aforesaid, and being thereof lawfully convicted, shall suffer death as in cases of felony without benefit of clergy; and such offender may be tried before the justices of assize, oyer and terminer, great sessions, or gaol delivery for the county, city, liberty, borough, or place, in any part of H. M.'s dominions, where such offender shall be apprehended or taken; and on every such trial, a certificate in writing signed by the judge of the court in New South Wales or its dependencies, whereby such offender was so sentenced to be detained, containing the effect and substance only (omitting the formal part) of the indictment and conviction of such offender, and of the sentence of detention, shall be sufficient proof of the conviction and sentence of every such offender, 4 G. 4. c. 96. s. 36.

50. If any person who may hereafter be transported to New South Wales, or any of the dependencies thereof, under any sentence or order of any court in the U. K. aforesaid, shall be guilty of misbehaviour or disorderly conduct on board of any ship or vessel in which such person shall be so transported, it shall be lawful for the surgeon or principal medical officer for the time being of any such ship or vessel to inflict or cause to be inflicted on the person or persons so offending, such moderate punishment or correction as may be inflicted by law on convicts confined on board vessels in the river Thames by the superintendant or overseer of those vessels: provided that no such punishment or correction shall be so inflicted, unless the master or principal officer for the time being of such ship or vessel shall first signify his approbation thereof in writing under his hand; and every such punishment or correction as aforesaid, together with the particulars of the offence for which the same may be so inflicted, together with such written approbation as aforesaid, shall on the same day, in all cases, be entered by such master or principal officer as aforesaid, upon the log of every such ship or vessel, under a penalty of 50*l.* in case of every refusal or neglect to make such entry, to be recovered by bill, plaint, or information in either of the supreme courts of New South Wales and Van Diemen's Land aforesaid, or in any court of record in Eng.; one half of which penalty shall go to the use of H. M., his heirs and successors, and the other half to the person who may inform or sue for the same, 4 G. 4. c. 96. s. 37.

51. And whereas it may be expedient to appoint certain ports or places in New South Wales, or the dependencies thereof, for the reception of felons and other offenders who may hereafter be sentenced to transportation, or whom it may be necessary to remove from the settlements at present formed in the said colony; and for the better preventing the escape of such felons or other offenders, it is expedient that no trading ship or vessel should be permitted to enter, or touch at, or hold intercourse with any such ports or places; be it further enacted, That it shall be lawful for H. M., his heirs and successors, by any order or orders to be issued by and with the advice of his or their most honourable privy council, from time to time to appoint such ports or places in New South Wales, or any of the dependencies thereof, as shall be deemed proper for the reception and keeping of felons or other offenders; and to prohibit all masters, mariners, and other persons, commanding, navigating, or sailing on board of any ship or vessel, from entering, touching at, or communicating with any such port or place, and for that purpose to establish all such rules and regulations as may be necessary; and for the breach or violation of any such order or orders, rules or regulations, to impose all such penalties and forfeitures as to H. M., his heirs and successors, with the advice of his and their said council, shall seem meet; which penalties and forfeitures shall and may be recovered in the supreme courts of New South Wales and Van Diemen's Land respectively, or in any court of record or vice-admiralty in any part of H. M.'s dominions, 4 G. 4. c. 96. s. 38.

52. Any person who shall in any manner contrive, aid, abet, or assist in the escape, or intended escape, from any part of New South Wales or Van Diemen's Land, or the dependencies thereof, of any person there being under or by virtue of any judgment or sentence of transportation for any term not then expired, or of any judgment or sentence pronounced in any court of competent jurisdiction in the said colony or its dependencies, is, and shall be and be deemed and taken to be guilty of a misdemeanor, and shall incur and be liable to fine not exceeding 500*l.*, or to imprisonment for any time not exceeding two years, or to both, at the discretion of the court before which any such person may be convicted; and such misdemeanor shall and may be tried and inquired of by the supreme courts of New South Wales or of Van Diemen's Land respectively, or by H. M.'s court of K. B. at Westminster, or by any court of record in any of H. M.'s colonies, plantations, or foreign dominions, 4 G. 4. c. 96. s. 39.

53. From and after the 30th June 1824, all the provisions, penalties, clauses, matters, and things contained in 2 G. 2. c. 36. [Stat. Dig. tit. SEAMEN, pl. 29.] intituled, An Act for the regulation and government of seamen in the merchant service, shall be the same and are hereby extended to New South Wales, and the dependencies thereof, 4 G. 4. c. 96. s. 40.

54. It shall be lawful for any artificer, handicraftsman, mechanic, gardener, servant in husbandry, or other labourer, not being under the age of 18 years, by indenture duly executed, and without a stamp, to contract with any person about to proceed to or actually resident in New South Wales, or the dependencies thereof, or with the agent or agents of such person, faithfully to serve or to proceed to and faithfully serve such person in the said colony, or the dependencies thereof, for any period not exceeding the full term of seven years, to be computed from the day of the date of such indenture, 4 G. 4. c. 96. s. 41. [See 4 G. 1. c. 11. s. 5. Stat. Dig. tit. AMERICAN COLONIES, pl. 5., for a similar provision.]

55. It shall be lawful for any person with whom such artificer, handicraftsman, mechanic, gardener, servant in husbandry, or other labourer, shall have so contracted to serve as aforesaid, to maintain an action on the case against any person who shall employ, retain, harbour, or conceal any such artificer, handicraftsman, mechanic, gardener, servant in husbandry, or other labourer, with intent to deprive the employer of any such person of his services or otherwise, with intent to defraud or injure such employer; and in case the plaintiff in any such action shall recover a verdict, he shall, in addition to the damages found by such verdict, recover treble costs, 4 G. 4. c. 96. s. 42.

56. It shall be lawful for the court of sessions, or any two or more justices of the peace in New South Wales, or the dependencies thereof, upon complaint made upon oath, to punish by fine or imprisonment, or both, any wilful violation of the provisions of such indentures as aforesaid by, or any misdemeanor, miscarriage, or ill-behaviour of, such artificer, handicraftsman, mechanic, gardener, servant in husbandry, or other labourer, in such his service or employment as aforesaid, and also to hear and determine all complaints, differences, and disputes which shall happen and arise between any such artificer, handicraftsman, mechanic, gardener, servant in husbandry, or other labourer, and the person whom he shall have so contracted to serve as aforesaid, and to make such order or award in every such case as to such courts of sessions or justices respectively shall seem just, and every such order or award to enforce by execution against the goods, effects, or other property of the party against whom such order or award shall be made, or by arrest of the person, and imprisonment for any time not exceeding three calendar months, 4 G. 4. c. 96. s. 43.

57. Provided, that in case it shall at any time seem fit to H. M., his heirs and successors, to constitute and erect the island of Van Diemen's Land, and any islands, territories, or places thereto adjacent, into a separate colony, independent of the government of New South Wales, it shall and may be lawful for H. M., his heirs and successors, so to do, any thing herein-before to the contrary contained notwithstanding; and in that case it shall be lawful for H. M., his heirs and successors, by any order to be by him or them issued, by and with the advice of his or their privy council, to commit to any person within the said island of Van Diemen's Land, and such islands, territories, or places as aforesaid, such and the like powers, authorities, and jurisdictions, as by virtue of this present act or of any other act of parliament are or may lawfully be committed to any person within the colony of New South Wales and its dependencies, subject nevertheless to all such and the like restrictions, provisos, and declarations as are herein-before made and contained, and thereupon the appeal herein-before granted to the governor of New South Wales and its dependencies, from the judgments, decrees, orders, and sentences of the supreme court of Van Diemen's Land, shall cease and determine; and from and after the making of any such order, all instruments in writing whereby any governor or acting governor of Van Diemen's Land and its dependencies shall remit or shorten the term or time of transportation of any felons or other offenders shall have such and the like force, effect, and virtue in the law, as any such instruments in writing to be made by any governor or acting governor of New South Wales and its dependencies, can or may lawfully have by virtue of the 30 G. 3. c. 47., or of this present act, 4 G. 4. c. 96. s. 44.

OFFENCE AND OFFENDER. (See ACCESSORY; BENEFIT OF CLERGY.)

1. For extending the laws against receivers of stolen goods to receivers of stolen bonds, bank notes, and other securities for money, 3 G. 4. c. 24.
